Thordarson Says Over One Million Learning By Mail

Night Classes Have Proven Successful Here With 475 Enrolled

FIVE HUNDRED FIFTY ENROLLED THIS YEAR

Correspondence Course Here Gaining International Recognition

"There are over two million people enrolled in adult education courses in the world today. This was the surprising statement made by T. W. Thordarson, who is the director of adult education at North Dakota State. Over one million are taking correspondence work.

In this department there are two divisions, the correspondence, and the night schools. Five years ago correspondence courses were offered by this college for the first time. Over two thousand have taken correspondence work in the five years. Five hundred and fifty were enrolled this year. For the main part courses are offered in practical agriculture. Two courses, Teacher's Agriculture and Teaching Methods and Home Floriculture receive college credit. During the summer it is possible to earn eleven credits toward graduation by this home study.

Recently, Mr. Thordarson received an inquiry from Phillip Rose, editor of the Country Gentleman, asking him to write an article on these courses in home study. Using this material as a basis the magazine plans to write an editorial. Correspondence work at this school has also attracted attention in the international magazine, Hoard's Dairyman, and in the Christian Science Monitor. Students enrolled are for the most part from North Dakota, but there are students in every state in the Union. Inquiries are received almost daily from foreign countries. There are students in South America, Central America, Manchuria, England, Canada, and other countries. The National Agriculture College of Russia has asked for lesson plans and other information that it might establish a similar school in Russia.

Night classes were opened for the first time this year and have proved quite successful. There were four hundred and seventy-five people in Fargo who availed themselves of this opportunity this past winter. Classes offered here are accepted as college credit and a varied enough curriculum is offered so that almost any course of study may be enrolled in.

The recognition that has come to Mr. Thordarson's department in the past five years would seem to prove that Louis Coffmann, president of the University of Minnesota, was right when he said that "Adult education has as much ethical and educational significance as the education of the youth."

Arnold Presents Medals To Debators

At a luncheon in the Lincoln Lob Cabin Prof. A. G. Arnold presented the newly elected members of the Lincoln Debate society with medals in recognition of their participation in intercollegiate debating this last year. The men who received medals are: Mart Vogel, Matt LeFor, Albert Buchli, Lawrence Nilles, Don Lawrence, Donald McKechnie, Chet Wolla, and Joe Paulson.

Officers for the next year were elected as follows: Morris Erickson, president; Chet Wolla, vice-president; and Albert Buchli, secretary-treasurer.

Plans for having debates with the two best debaters from all of England's universities and with a German university were discussed. The club is planning to hold several international debates.

During the history of Princeton university, five members of the faculty have served a half century or more with the institution.

DELTA KAPPA SIGMA PLANS UNIQUE FORMAL

Continuing the program of sorority and fraternity formal parties, Delta Kappa Sigma fraternity will entertain at its annual spring formal tomorrow evening at the Crystal Ballroom. Kenneth Wyard is in charge of arrangements. Many novel features have been arranged for the event, according to the manager. F. Neal Baldwin is in charge of the decorations.

Among the honor guests will be: Prof. Homer B. Huntoon, Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Clapp, Mr. and Mrs. Max Ricker, and Mr. and Mrs. M. Swanton. Honorary members and their wives who will attend the party are: Dr. and Mrs. C. S. Putnam, Mr. and Mrs. A. H. Parrott, Dr. and Mrs. W. C. Hunter, and Dr. and Mrs. L. L. Carrick.

Vernon Pearson, Leon Hagen, John Corrigan, Bartley Cooper, and Bob Selaver, all Sigma Chi members from the University of Minnesota, will be present at the party, as will Pat Arneson, University of North Dakota Sigma Chi.

Included in the group of fraternity alumni members who are expected to be present are: Gene Ostman, New York; Frank Hannaher and Fred Williams, both from Minnesota university; Roy Oliver, Bill Haslam, Robert Bergseth, John Hannaher, Harold Bechtel, Mike Myrdal, Henry Wood, John Lovechek, Harry Blakely, Byron Olson, Dick Hackenberg, and Curtis Sommers.

Delta Tau Epsilon Social Fraternity Granted Charter

23 Charter Members Form Nucleus Of New Greek Group

The continuous and rapid growth of the student body at North Dakota State college has created a demand for a new fraternal organization, which has led to the founding of Delta Tau Epsilon. This fraternity was granted a charter by the College Council on May 8, 1930, making it the sixth social fraternity on the campus.

The following officers have been chosen to launch the new organization: Joe Lindgren, president; Walter Peterson, vice-president; Wayne Eikenberry, secretary; Orville Isley, treasurer; Frank Forbes, historian; Glenn McCleary, sergeant at arms. A board of directors consisting of David Carlson, Fred W. Piper, and Orville Call will act as an executive council. Two members of the faculty, George P. Goodearl and Wayne R. Wenger, have been elected as honorary members of Delta Tau Epsilon.

The fraternity has drawn its men from all departments of the college—12 men in the school of Agriculture, 4 in Mechanical Engineering, 3 in Civil Engineering, 3 in Science and Literature, and 1 in the school of Education. The class distribution in the organization is 1 senior, 11 juniors, 7 sophomores, and 4 freshmen.

The fraternity is seeking a suitable location and expect to be housed by the opening of school next fall.

The following complete the list of charter members: Robert Kvenmoen, Carl Albrecht, Harold Albrecht, Jack Loos, Eugene Hackle, Norbert Rستمeyer, Laverne Voden, Victor McLeod, Hardies Elefson, Clarence Pederson, Carl Ash, Otto Wolhowe, Elmer Bothen, and Arthur Holen.

ALPHA ZETA ADMITS FOUR TO MEMBERSHIP

Four students were initiated into Dacotah chapter of Alpha Zeta, honorary agricultural fraternity, at services conducted Wednesday evening in the fraternity clubrooms in the Agriculture building. The initiates include Elmer Bothun, McVillie; Wesley Bruns, Oriska; Eugene Huckle, Lidgerwood; and Alvin Lee, Valley City.

Proceeding the initiation services, a luncheon was served in honor of the new members in Ceres hall. Besides the active members, alumni and faculty members of the fraternity were present.

Inspection Finds Nervous Men in Cadence

Lentz Termed Inspector With A Heart; Originator Of System

Cadet Colonel Lawrence Parsons' chest takes on awe-inspiring breadth, and down through the ranks thunders his mighty bass, "Prepare for Inspection-n-n-n-n!" Down around the 7th and 8th platoons, worried eyes squint down greasy bores and breeches, and white handkerchiefs are furtively produced, preparatory to gun-cleaning.

The inspection group sets out, headed by Lieutenant Colonel Lentz, who has privately confessed himself to be the "Inspector with a heart"—although the row upon row of quaking knees and ankles discredit his assertion.

Colonel Lentz is the originator of the Lentz-Cadence system, a system by which the platoons issue their own commands conducive to commandant ability and better enunciation—you've heard them in the mornings that vibrating chorus: "Hun-two-three-four."

The band strikes up the Yellow and the Green, and after the cadet corps had stood throughout the entire song with firmly compressed lips, Colonel Lentz informed them that they had not sung with enough spirit—but so much for that. The corps could well be called "The Grand Army of the Unshaved", that being the principal fault he dwelt upon.

The sponsors, which he inspected very carefully, met with his whole-hearted approval.

May Queen Election Tuesday Morning

Victorious Candidate Presides Over Tuesday Afternoon Entertainment

Students of North Dakota State will consider well before they cast their votes at the final election of the May Queen, to be held at 10 o'clock Assembly on Tuesday, May 27. At 3:30 in the afternoon of the same day the student body will see the Queen they have chosen crowned by Emily Samuelson, Social Commissioner.

As the convocations enter the Armory at 10 a. m. Tuesday, May 27, they will be given ballots upon which they will find the names of the three girls receiving the greatest number of votes at the previous election. These names will not be disclosed before that time. The Queen will be chosen from these three names.

The newly chosen Queen and her attendants will come to the chosen place upon the campus at 3:30 in the afternoon, where she will be crowned with a garland of flowers. She will then ascend to the throne and preside over the afternoon's festivities, according to ancient tradition.

Nature Dances Announced by a flourish of trumpets, Mary Healy, Frances Kingsbury and Grace Swanson will present a group of nature dances for the approval of the Queen and the audience.

Girl fencers are to try their skill upon the greensward, and following their contest, four girls and four men, mounted on horses, will pace the stately measures of a quadrille. The girl riders are Billie Eastgate, Elizabeth MacDonald, Helen Stokke and Rae Sunderson. The men are Russel Weiser, Virgil Weiser, William Frey and Theodore Loy.

Following the quadrille twenty-four young men and women will present to the audience an old and lovely custom, the May Pole Dance. This will end the initial program of a kind which the committee hopes will in time grow to be college tradition.

ALPHA PHI OMEGA HOLDS INITIATION FOR MEMBERS

Alpha Phi Omega, honorary chemistry group, announced the initiation of Edgar L. Crewe, Frank Seebart, Harold Lundgren, Clifford Bowmon, and Murray McGregor.

SENIORS EXPECT 100 COUPLES FOR DANCE

Shortly after two bells this evening informal dancing will begin on the S. S. Adventurer which leaves port from the Crystal Ballroom dock carrying over 100 couples made up of members of the class of 1930 and their guests. The Grand March which will formally open the grand cruise starts at three bells with Miss Marion South of Fargo and Arthur Ziegler of Tower City leading. Clifford Booke, president of the class, with guest, Miss Grace Reynolds, and Adolph Pahl, with his guest, Miss Agnes Weible, will be second and third in the line, respectively.

Plans were complete for the trip at the time The Spectrum went to press, according to Commodore Ziegler and Chief Engineer Skaret. First Mate Torkelson will have Phil Sheridan and his Montanans in the fore-castle and the tourists will dance on the promenade deck beneath a false ceiling of Japanese lanterns with occasional stars peeking through. Old man moon will also be on hand, according to Oscar Hanson, boatswain, as no deck party would be complete without one.

The Purser, F. Neal Baldwin, says there are still a few more reservations available for the cruise and those who have not made theirs should do so at once to avoid confusion on the ganckplank and poop-deck this evening.

"Smiling Through" Chosen by Seniors As Dramatic Finale

June 15 Set For Presentation Of Allan Langdon Martin's Three Act Play

Members of the cast for "Smiling Through", the senior class play for 1930, have been named and rehearsals are being held. The play will be given in the Little Country theater Friday evening, June 15.

Students who have been selected to interpret roles in the play are: Carl Ash, as John Carteret; Jesse Reynolds, Dr. Owen Harding; Grace Swanson, Ellen; Emma Nelson, Kathleen Dunganon; Harold Julsrud, Willie Ainsley; Arthur Ziegler, Jeremiah Wayne; Arthur Ziegler, Jeremiah Wayne; and Emma Nelson, Mooneyen Clare. A group of guests includes Lily Ann Thorsell, Billie Eastgate, Luella McDunn, Elsmere Chamberlain, Ben Kouba, and Forrest Willey. In the prologue to the play Lily Ann Thorsell will play the part of Sarah Wayne and Jane Eddy will take the role of Mary Clare.

"Smiling Through" is a play in three acts besides the prologue, and is written by Allan Langdon Martin. The scene of the prologue is outside of a gate. Act one takes place in the Carteret garden in 1914. Act two is the same scene 50 year before, and act three takes place in the garden in 1919.

Campus To Receive 1931 Bison June 4

Amos Wallum, Adolph Pahl Are Managers Of College Yearbook

Climaxing a year of concentrated effort on the part of the editor and business manager and staff assistants the 1931 Bison will make its appearance Wednesday, June 4. One of the finest yearbooks ever put out on the campus is anticipated, with the largest classes section in history and a unique and unprecedented snapshot division included in its pages, and an unusual and as yet unannounced theme.

Amos Wallum, Lakota, junior in the school of Education, edited the yearbook, and Adolph Pahl, Lidgerwood, senior in the school of Chemistry, was business manager. Both are members of Alpha Sigma Tau, social fraternity. Elene Weeks, Fargo, was associate editor, and Floyd Viel of Fargo, associate business manager. Other editors included Dorothea Anderson, Ralph Huff, Anthony Faber, Ed Crewe, Ross Cone, Henry Sullivan, Georgina Brindle, Clayton Reeves, Lawrence Hall, and Arlene Burt.

Vaudeville Acts Feature Program All College Day

Bernhard Benidt Announces That There Will Be 10 Or 12 Skits

OUTSTANDING VARIETY SEEN

Types Range From Musical To Artistic In Student Exhibition

State college students will get their fill of vaudeville on the morning program of the Annual All College Day, May 27, when 10 or 12 students will put on individual acts, it is announced by Bernhard Benidt, in charge. Every type of act from the musical to the artistic will be presented. Ten performers have been procured up to the present time, and it is expected that two more will be added in order to completely fill the bill.

Mr. Benidt announces the performers and acts in the following order, although there will probably be some added changes before the time of the program. Ralph Stockstad with a Coon act will lead off. After the black face attempt Mary McLane will give an exhibition of clog dancing. Cy Lonsbrough will be on the bill, but he has not announced the type of act that he will present. Herman Wildermuth will give a Hebraic presentation which should deliver a few smiles to the spectators.

As a musical number, Mary Powers will play a few piano selections. Deviating from the usual run of dances, Frances Wright will give the spectators a chance to see an African clog dance. A rope exhibition, also a deviation, will be executed by Ted Loy who has already taken some of the limelight with his fistic prowess. Bob Olsen, who pleased the Brevities crowds, will also appear on the bill, but he, too, has withheld information concerning his act.

Alf Skaret will be present to show the student body just how the architects do their drawings. The additional acts will be announced at a later date, is the promise of Mr. Benidt. The acts on the program will be judged and three beautiful prizes are promised the winners by the Student Commission. Each act will be limited to three minutes each.

Edwin Booth Club Elects New Officers

Election of officers for the Edwin Booth Dramatic club was held at the annual club picnic held at the home of A. G. Arvold, 1110 Broadway, on Tuesday, May 19. The officers who will serve during the coming school year are Clark Fredrickson, president; Elene Weeks, vice-president; Dorothea Olson, secretary and treasurer; Don Lawrence, keeper of the chest; and Claire Newell, publicity manager.

Initiation services were held for three new members, at the Little Country theater, preceding the picnic. Those admitted to membership were Cally Berrigan, Rod McMillan and Don Lawrence.

Mr. Arvold was presented with a steamer rug by the members of the club and members of the public discussion department.

PHI BETA NU HOLDS INITIATION OF FIVE

Phi Beta Nu, honorary education society, announces the initiation of Ethel Renwick, Grace Witherow, Ruth Whitney, Mrs. Henrietta Parkins, and Reynold Freden.

Initiation services were held Wednesday evening in the faculty clubrooms.

Following the initiation officers for the next year were elected. They are: President, Ethel Renwick; vice-president, Ruth Whitney; secretary, Mrs. Henrietta Parkins; and treasurer, Neomi Apland.

THE RUT

Why not accept this fact of "standardized education"? What if the present mobs of college students are ruled by a system of credits? By degrees? By systematic gradations?

Organized, brutalized, standardized, textbook education is here. There has been found no adequate alternative.

Those financial-authors, craving simple and conventional to write about (like the typical magazine magazines), have raised the hue and cry. Appreciate the source of this cry.

Concretely, the situation:

1) Colleges no longer nourish the intellectuals alone; the standard has been lowered to meet the masses.

2) The only way to cope with this phenomena is to standardize education.

3) Weak minds, which would never be significant anyway, will emerge with a "degree", and be lost to the world.

4) Great minds will accept the farce as a man-made set of requisites; they will go through with the program; but while doing so, the real depths will be sounded personally; what college neglects must be acquired individually—for real education.

Say what you will; but, there is no getting away from individualism in this life. Especially in education. Intellectuals are self-made, though haps guided. And after graduation, personal initiative makes or breaks the scientist, professor, or philosopher. There is no substitute for knowledge but individual effort in its direction.

If it was our choice, we would divide our system of colleges into three divisions. At the bottom we would group those for the majority of fools who want activities, society, organizations, etc.; plus a B. A.; plus the hoodoo of "development through associations." These institutions would be for most women students, and a majority of the men students. These colleges would contain every conceivable activity, honor society, etc., and would put the service clubs to shame.

The second grouping would contain vocational colleges. To such institutions would come the vast minority.

The last classification should contain colleges devoted to knowledge for knowledge. One out of every thousand students might be eligible.

To classify the applicants is needed a comprehensive set of tests. The first, which would count about 20%, may consist of an intelligence test; secondly, a character analysis, valued at 80%.

So now we have settled one of the biggest problems confronting the brainy educational leaders of the country.

ALL COLLEGE DAY

Tuesday will be the big day of the spring term. At that time everybody in college will get together for one grand day. Much credit for the preparation of the venture goes to Leonard Luther and the student commission. This commission has shown their true colors and have done as much in a term as any of the other commissions did in a whole year. Student government is getting so that it means something.

The day will not be a success, however, unless everybody does their share to make it truly an ALL COLLEGE DAY. It is a matter of costuming, let everybody costume. If it comes to giving stunts, everybody can help.

Remember that Tuesday is the big day and the bigger we make it the better it will be in years to come.

PENNSYLVANIA HOTEL SCENE OF BANQUET

Group Commends N. D. Board Of Administration At Meeting

Ruby Oscarson, a graduate of the class of 1928 at North Dakota State college, was elected president of the New York chapter of the A. C. Alumni and Former Students association at the annual spring meeting and banquet held at the Pennsylvania hotel, Saturday, May 17, according to word received by M. E. Tindall, association secretary, today. Miss Oscarson, who is a student in the graduate school of Columbia university, succeeds Ernest Mortenson, '25. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. S. E. Oscarson, 826 Tenth st. N., Fargo, and a member of Phi Omega Pi sorority.

Commend Administration A resolution commending the North Dakota state board of Administration for their selection of Dr. John H. Shepperd as president of the college was adopted. The New York chapter endorsement of President Shepperd is the second expression from an A. C. alumni group, the first expression of approval being voiced by members of the Twin City Bison Booster club at their annual spring meeting April 14.

Large Number Attend A large number of A. C. graduates and former students residing in the greater New York area attended the banquet which was featured by a program of short talks, college songs and the reading of a letter from the association's secretary which carried a report of activities at the college during the past year. Don S. Bolley, '29, chemist with the National Lead Company, Brooklyn, N. Y., and Lothian M. Burgess, '29, chemist in the research laboratory of the Pilot Manufacturing Company, Arlington, N. J., were named a committee to make arrangements for the next banquet which will be held this fall. The New York Alumni Chapter is the oldest and largest unit of the A. C. Alumni association outside of the state of North Dakota. It has a roll of approximately 100 members and meets on call of the president which is usually two or three times a year.

CLASS EXCUSED TODAY FOR SHRINER PAGEANT

Classes will be excused this afternoon to permit the students of the college to view the Covered Wagon Pageant sponsored by the Shriners. Several hundred of the college students have prominent parts in the epic of the west that relives the days of covered wagons, and cowboys. A. G. Arvold, head of the department of public speaking, has an important part in the directing of the event. It is estimated that the affair is costing very close to $7,000.

MYRNA OTTINGER IS DELTA PSI KAPPA HEAD

Myrna Ottinger was elected president of Delta Psi Kappa, honorary physical education society, at a meeting of the organization in Miss Cole's office Wednesday evening.

Other officers who were named, are: Velva Rudd, secretary; Minerva Streed, treasurer; Grace Reynolds, chaplain; Bernice Streit, Foil editor.

Initiation will be held for Minerva Streed and Bernice Streit Sunday at 4 p. m. and the newly elected officers will be initiated at the same meeting.

Baseball Season Gets Off To Good Start This Tuesday Afternoon

Kappa Phi Lead Division A With Sigs Heading Division B

The baseball season has finally gotten off to a good start and this week's play finds the Kappa Phis at the top in division A with two wins and no losses. Leading division B are the Delta Sigs who have won two games and lost none.

In the only contest which was played Tuesday the Gamma Rhos defeated the Kappa Sigma Chis 2 to 1. Tuntland, pitching for the winners, allowed but two hits. The other game, between the Theta Chis and the Kappa Psis, which was scheduled for Tuesday, was postponed.

Kappa Phis Good

The hard hitting Kappa Phi aggregation scored their second consecutive shutout of the season when they swamped the Sigma Taus 9 to 0 in Wednesday's first game. In the second game of the day Earl Schoessow allowed the Delta Sigs exactly no hits, but his Sigma Phi Deltas lost by the score of 1 to 0. Consequently another one of those games goes down in baseball history.

No Hit Games

Speaking of no hit games, Thursday's play brought another one, this time it was somewhat more logical. Gast of the Kappa Sigma Chis did not give the Student League a hit when his team defeated them 4 to 1. Conroy gave the Kappa Sigma Chis only one hit. It seems too bad, but the second game was not a no hit contest. At least it was a shutout. As the result of four hits and five errors the Y team won from the Kappa Psis 5 to 0.

Of the seven games played to date four have been shutouts. There has been 38 errors and 40 hits. Johnny Smith leads the batters with an average of .571.

Following are the standings of the two divisions:

Division A:	W	L	Pct.
Kappa Phi	2	0	1.000
Gamma Rho	1	0	1.000
Kappa Sigma Chi	1	1	.500
Sigma Tau	0	1	.000
Student League	0	2	.000
Division B:	W	L	Pct.
Delta Sig	2	0	1.000
YMCA	1	1	.500
Theta Chi	0	0	.000
Kappa Psi	0	1	.000
Sigma Phi Delta	0	1	.000

State Tennis Finals On All College Day

Athletic Board To Award Plaque To Winner At Dance

The finals of the North Dakota State tennis championship will be played in the afternoon of All College day, according to Casey Finnegan, director of athletics. The athletic board has secured a beautiful plaque that will be presented to the winner at the dance Tuesday evening.

All matches in the tournament must be completed by Tuesday. With 16 men entered the field looks exceptionally strong. The first round matches are scheduled as follows: Stan Raymond vs Felix Adams; Henry Zwerg vs Gronvild; Max Hughes vs Cliff Bollman; Myron Wurdeman vs Art Knight; McDonald vs Albrecht; Beehan vs Schwartz; and Charles Callahan vs John Webb. These matches must be completed by Saturday noon.

The second bracket matches must be completed by Sunday evening at 8 o'clock. The semi-finals must be played by Tuesday noon. The finals will be completed Tuesday afternoon. All matches that are not completed on schedule will be defaulted.

Results

First round: Tony Faber defeated Clarence Swallers; 10-8, 7-5.

MATERIALS ARRIVING FOR NEW DORMITORY

Materials are arriving every day for the construction of the new boys' dormitory on the North Dakota State campus. Men are now at work on the old foundation getting it in shape for brick laying which is expected to begin in the near future. The building is being financed by bonds floated by a college board and retired by the earning of the building.

Seventeen Trackmen To Meet University

Bison Out For Third Title In Three Years; Prospects Good In Distances

Coach Leonard Saalwaechter and 17 members of the Bison track team will leave early Saturday morning for Grand Forks, where they will defend their state track championship. The meet will be held in Memorial Stadium at 2:30 p. m. Saturday, and will be a dual encounter between the two schools.

Prior to Coach Saalwaechter's taking charge of this sport at State college a track victory over the university was unknown, but Bison victories in this field are now not only common, but more or less to be expected. Of the three teams Saaly has placed in competition since his arrival, two have succeeded in defeating the Nodaks. A win this year would make the third consecutive state championship.

After putting the team through a hard workout Wednesday night, the Bison mentor seemed well pleased, and did not hesitate to say that North Dakota State will be represented by a large squad which will be able to make a creditable showing in any competition.

Prospects are especially bright in the sprints and middle distances with chances of counting heavily in the other events.

The following men will make the trip: Captain Dorland Konichek, Ole Sand, Joe Blakeslee, Roy Jordre, Bob Allison, Red McMillan, Leo May, Leonard Wollen, Jack Grohnke, Alex Robertson, Clarence Lockrem, Walter Nelson, Dolson Hill, Bill Hiltz, Leo Thomasson, and Bob Freeman.
