Colonel Lentz Inspects Cadet Corps All Day

Review And Parade Completed This Morning; Platoon Sponsors Present

HEARST TROPHY GIVEN TO STATE RIFLE TEAM

Company, Platoon Drill Will Follow Inspection This Afternoon

Beginning at 8 o'clock today the Corps of Cadets has been receiving their annual inspection by the War Department, represented by Lieutenant Colonel Bernard Lentz, 3rd Infantry. The inspection will continue today and tomorrow morning, after which Colonel Lentz will proceed to Grand Forks to inspect the unit at the university.

Review at 8 O'Clock

The corps was formed promptly at 8 o'clock for the review and parade which was held on the parade grounds just west of the library. After the inspecting officer, accompanied by Dr. Shepperd and the platoon sponsors had walked around the corps, the college was presented with the William Randolph Hearst Trophy, which was won by the college rifle team during the current season. Dr. Shepperd received the trophy in the name of the college. The members of the rifle team were presented with individual medals. They will leave for Washington, D. C., shortly as a reward for their achievement.

Following the presentation of the Hearst Trophy, the corps was marched in review by Cadet Colonel Lawrence Parsons and then formed for inspection. Colonel inspected the entire battalion including Doc Putnam's Gold Star Band and passed many favorable comments on the general appearance of the cadet corps, both officers and men. He was well pleased with the appearance of the band which has always made a fine showing in past years.

Drill Follows Inspection

Company and platoon drill followed the general inspection. Physical drill by a company selected at random by the inspecting officer gave a very satisfactory performance, drilling by the cadence system, of which, it is of interest to note, Colonel Lentz is the author. Tent pitching by a platoon followed the physical drill and a war strength platoon then went through the mechanics of extended order drill.

This afternoon, both advanced classes will be examined. This examination will include all subjects covered during the school year in both classes. Tomorrow morning the regular classes of the basic course will be examined at the army.

Colonel Lentz called on the president immediately after his arrival Monday afternoon.

Former Student Sails For Europe

Burt Oederkirk, former student at North Dakota State college and now assistant sales manager of the Babson Manufacturing Company, Chicago, sailed from New York for Europe and Arabia May 13 to help Henry Babson of the Babson firm to purchase a string of Arabian horses. "Would greatly appreciate your suggestions," Mr. Oederkirk telegraphed to Dr. J. H. Shepperd, president of State college, who has acted as friend and counselor. Mr. Oederkirk expects to make the trip in six weeks time.

Previous experience with livestock has been received by Mr. Oederkirk through his work with the New Salem Breeding circuit, New Salem, N. D., and as associate professor of dairy husbandry at Iowa State college, Ames, Iowa.

Burt Oederkirk is the son of Daniel S. Oederkirk, 1311 Thirteenth st n., Fargo.

SCHOLARSHIPS TO BE AWARDED THURSDAY

On Thursday of this week the Fargo Masonic lodge will present two $100 scholarships to a Junior and Sophomore man at North Dakota State college. These awards are to be based on need and scholarship and are given annually.

Gay Cat Day Will Be Renamed During May Queen Choice

Three Women Will Appear On Ballot For Final Election

When the entire student body of North Dakota State college assembles next Tuesday morning for their all-college convocation and selection of the May Queen, they will also be asked to suggest a name for the day formally known as Gay Cat day.

Leonard Luther, in charge of the program and representing the Student Commission, stated that there would be a space left at the bottom of the May Queen ballots for suggestions for a name of the all-college day. It is hoped by this method to gain a suitable name for next year. Several objections have arisen over the name, Gay Cat day, so it was decided to find a new name, according to the commission head.

Three women students were nominated during the election held last week for that purpose. From the seven candidates entered, the three high will be given places on the ballot. During the program next Tuesday, the students will pick their May Queen, who will preside over the elaborate celebration planned for the afternoon. The six defeated candidates will act as ladies in waiting to the Queen of May.

The following women are candidates: Dorothy Lieb, Ceres Hall club; Katherine Knerr, Kappa Kappa Gamma; Grace Reynolds, Phi Omega Pi; Gertrude Almos, Alpha Gamma Delta; Thelma Nelson, Alpha Xi Beta; Marion South, Kappa Delta; and Margaret Ballard, Gamma Phi Beta.

S. D. State Senior Prom Will Be Held On June 6

Brookings, S. D., May 20.—The annual Senior ball at State college is to be held June 6, according to Gordon Lyon, Canton, class president.

Committees Lyon has appointed are: Music, Milton Knight, Spain, and Ronald Cartier, Marshall, Minn.; decorations, Evelyn Kurth, Clark; Arvold Thompson, Redfield; Ruth Spurling and Betty Lucas, Pierre. Dwight McNamara and Mavis McComb, Brookings, and Leonard Pasek, Academy, are to handle refreshments, while arrangements concerning patrons and patronesses are in charge of Albert Pugsley, Bookings, and Elmer Parks, Sutherland, Iowa. Max Everett, Brookings; Kenneth Schmidt, Salem; and Virgil Nosland, Timber Lake, are to direct the lighting effects. Programs and advertising will be supervised by Alfred Ely, DeSmet; Albert Evenson, Brookings, and Floyd Billington, Twin Brooks.

Many events of a social and academic nature are to be held on the college campus during the next three weeks.

Stanford university plans to enlarge its football stadium so that it will accommodate 184,000 persons if engineering surveys being made at present prove it to be a feasible proposition. This will give the Pacific coast institution one of the largest bowls in the country. The present seating capacity is 89,000.

Clifford Booze, Grace Reynolds Are Second In Grand March Line

GRAND PRIZE IS SURPRISE FEATURE

Adolph Pahl, Agnes Weible Third In Line During Senior Prom

Nothing is being left undone for the annual Senior Ball this Friday evening in the Crystal Ballroom, according to the various committee heads. The Grand March is slated to start at 9:30 sharp with Miss Marion South and Arthur Ziegler, ball manager, leading. Clifford Booze, president of the class of 1930, will be second in line in the grand march. He has selected Miss Grace Reynolds, Phi Omega Pi from Westhope, this state, as his partner. She is a junior in the School of Education and was social commissioner for the 1929-30 school year.

The third couple in the grand march will be the assistant ball manager Adolph Pahl, with his partner, Miss Agnes Weible of Fargo. Miss Weible is the retiring president of Kappa Kappa Gamma and a junior in the School of Home Economics.

Those who haven't already secured their tickets are urged to do so at once by F. Neal Baldwin, finance manager, so that a checkup may be made and the correct number sold to downtown patrons. That one cannot afford to miss this high light of the social season seems to be the unanimous opinion of every one of the leaders. Phil Sheridan and his Montanans, a Music Corporation of America orchestra has been secured to play for the event.

One Grand Prize

Favors, the same as presented at the leading New York University formal this year, will be given out during the eighth dance. Some lucky young lady is to receive a grand prize during the presentation, according to Norman Dahl, committee head. In money this grand prize is worth ten times the ordinary favors. The scheme is known as the lottery method, something entirely new for North Dakota State. A drawing will undoubtedly be made to choose the lucky lady.

Guests of Honor

Guests of honor include: Governor and Mrs. George F. Shafer, Dr. and Mrs. J. H. Shepperd, Deans and Mmes. A. E. Minard, H. L. Walster, L. L. Carrick, A. D. Weeks, R. M. Dolve, I. W. Smith, W. F. Sudro, Deans Pearl Dinan and Alba Bales, Prof. and Mrs. A. H. Parrott and Prof. and Mrs. H. W. McArdle.

Frosh-Sophomore Clash Features All College Day

Second Year Men Given Edge To Win According To Lloyd Clark

VICTORS AWARDED BRONZE BISON

Tug Of War, Baseball Game, Song Contest Listed Among Activities

Two hundred fifty Sophomores and Freshmen will clash in a number of contests Tuesday, May 27, the annual All College day, to settle the question of which of the two classes is supreme. The experienced Sophomores are given an edge to win by Lloyd Clark of the Student Commission, who is in charge of the arrangements.

Rod McMillan will be in charge of the second year men and he predicts a decided victory for this aggregation. "We will all be out there tearing up the sod, and we can't help but win," is the way that McMillan puts his forecast. Art Cayou, the president of the Frosh claims that, "once the frosh are organized, the Sophomores won't have a chance." He also states, "the Freshmen will be so strong that the Sophomores will have to call on the two upper classes for aid before the day is over. This is the last chance for the Frosh to taste the greatly desired revenge for the inconvenience created by the two yearlings last fall, and we are surely going to take advantage of all opportunities."

The traditional bronze bison is to be awarded to the class that shows its supremacy, and it will take many contests to determine the winner. Lloyd Clark and James Moore are making the plans that will take care of all the Freshman-Sophomore hostilities. The feature contest is the three pole rush which will require 100 performers competing. Each pole will be topped by two flags, one for each class. The winning group must necessarily take down two flags of the opponents. As added rules to the contest, the players of either side caught slugging an opponent will be forced to run the gauntlet composed of the members of the other team.

Tugs of war and a baseball game will also be contests to interest during the day, as will the annual song contest between the two lower classes.

Geology Class Makes Field Trip

The class in general Geology under the direction of Prof. John Doerr, head of the geology department, spent the weekend on a tour to Ortonville, Minn., and Milbank, S. D. The chief interest of the trip was the study of the outcrops of granite rocks and the granite quarries. These rocks are of Archean age, the oldest formation in the world. They furnished ample and striking evidence of erosion by glacier. The group also visited the monument plant at Ortonville. Topographical features, such as ridges and valleys, resulting from glacial Lake Agassiz were also objects of study.

Miss Thompson and Miss Elliot accompanied the group of 49 students. Two large busses were the means of transportation. On the homeward journey Sunday afternoon, the party drove along the east shore of Big Stone Lake, which is 35 miles long. All new knowledge regarding the character and conduct of the personnel was left behind.

COUNTERWISE
Activities vs. Scholarship. An age-old controversy, which is well settled in our mind. Yes, we have it from observation and experience, mostly from observation.

The road to great place is pointed out by Luck, and its destination is the Void. As Sir Francis B. says in his incomparable English, "The rising unto place is laborious, and by pains men come to greater pains; and it is sometimes base, and by indignities men come to dignities. The standing is slippery, and the regress is either a downfall or at least an eclipse."

We have seen freshmen arrive in nascent splendor, pledge fraternity, whirled into this and that activity, meet the right mand and lead a prom, or come out of a typhoon holding a campus office. Up-up-up—the climb; or the elevator.

To be explicit, how much of "service" on this campus is really service; and how much of it is palaver? One can look at all our campus "lights" and not be blinded by heroic rays of self-abnegation. So-called "campus leaders" generally get their own reward. Be careful! We can think of but two students who deserve the wreath and both of them refrain from "working their way."

Service! The recent S. Opinion should do well to define service, that is, directly. He hints the magic of keys, pins, and badges as progenies of the wonderful lamp of Aladdin. Cum grano salis.

No. They are not the service students who make our college great. We have seen too many of such fantasies fade away into the great cold world to be forgotten in a year. Death is approaching. We can feel our feeble life chilled by the hot blasts of the oncoming editors. And what a futility. To labor in the vain attempt to give this thing called "service" and to give up the priceless offerings of college—long hours in the laboratory, delights of personal study, the exciting quest for knowledge for knowledge-sake, the feeling at finding one's mind reaching out—clutching the lives and thoughts of brilliant men! And they, perhaps, to contribute to such epochs!

In the disillusionment of this thing called service—we can only look with envy at those few individuals who chose the right road. How fortunate they are! Profit by them; it is not too late.

Profit by the example of he who so nearly exemplifies light of North Dakota State: E. Hoyt DeKleine.

Kappa Phis, Sigs Win Season Opener

Hanson Pitches No Hit, No Run Game Against Student League

In the opening game of the season Hanson pitched the Kappa Phis to a no hit no run victory over the Student League on Monday afternoon.

The contest was marked by loose fielding, probably the result of the long stretch of rainy weather. With the aid of four errors, five walks and 12 hits the winners were able to garner their 19 runs which is quite a total for a five inning game.

Hanson and Schalk were the batteries for the Kappa Phis and Kollman and Rosen performed in the same capacity for the Student League.

Sigs Beat YMCA
An indicated by the score the second game played on Monday afternoon was much more interesting to watch. The Delta Sigs emerged with a 3 to 1 win from the YMCA team.

All of the scoring was done in the sixth inning. Quinnel opened the inning for the losers by reaching first base as the result of a missed third strike. He stole second and scored on Golden's single. In the last half of the frame the Sigs scored three runs on two hits, two errors and a walk.

Goodwin pitched for the Sigs. McLachlin caught. Messener and Dvorak was the battery for the Student League.

STATE TWOSOMES SHOW SUPREMACY

Singles Matches Sharply Contested; Paul Turns In Fine 75

Led by their captain, Paul Cook, four Bison golfers drove, approached, and putted their way to victory over their upstate rivals from the University of North Dakota, on the Fargo Country club course, Saturday. The final score revealed the State men on the long end of the 11-6 score.

The Bison marked up half of their totals in each of the two events, scoring five in the morning best ball foursomes to one for the Nodaks. In the afternoon singles the Nodaks outscored the Bison club wielders by a single point, 6 to 5.

Cook, holder of the state amateur championship, turned in the best cards for the day. He had 35-40-75 for his afternoon round after coming through with 38-38 in the morning for 77 and a gross of 152.

Split on Singles
The two teams split even in the singles matches. Cook won both his first and second rounds from Ray Larson scoring a 5 and 3 victory on the 18 holes, amassing a total of three points. Fairhead found the going rather tough when he crossed clubs with Bill McIntyre. George took the first nine but finished the lower nine even up giving him two points because of his 1 up lead at the end of the match. Eddie Lane held a six hole lead on Tony Faber at the end of the upper nine; Faber took the most holes on the lower nine but was unable to overcome Lane's advantage and lost the 18, 2 and 1. Lonsbrough lost to Moore 4 and 3.

Lonsbrough and Cook scored three points for the Bison in the best ball foursomes, defeating Moore and Larson, 4 and 3. Fairhead and Faber added the other two points by winning from Lane and McIntyre, 3 and 2. The Nodaks annexed a single point in this match.

The university aggregate:
Morning Round
Larson, 39-42-81. Moore, 46-45-91. McIntyre, 45-48-93. Lane, 47-49-96.
Afternoon Round

in the Pause that refreshes

So many unhappy things can happen to increase that old inferiority complex. Deans and Doctors, Mid-years and Finals, all dedicated to the cause of making life a burden. Coca-Cola was made for times like these. Here's a drink that will quickly invest you with some of its life and sparkle. Give you exceeding joy in its tingling, delicious taste. And leave you with that cool after-sense of refreshment in which a righteous megalomania may wax fat and prosper.
