Professor Hult Gives Timely
Discussion On 'The Zest
Of The Quest'

Wednesday, May 14, convocation was called for the recognition of four new members elected to the Phi Kappa Phi: Pres. J. H. Shepperd, Miss Ruby Grimes, Prof. John Doerr, and Prof. A. K. Smith. Dr. A. F. Hunsaker, president of the organization, introduced the various speakers and announced the numbers on the program. Other honorary fraternities of the campus were honored at this time: Alpha Phi Omega, 18; Alpha Zeta, 24; Delta Psi Kappa, 12; Rho Chi, 12; Phi Gamma Mu, 18; Phi Upsilon Omicron, 36; and Kappa Tau Delta, 10.

The male quartet, consisting of Bob Olsen, Les Matson, Harold Julsrud, and Lawrence Parsons, gave three selections.

Hult Addresses

Dr. Emanuel Hult, head of the department of Classics at the North Dakota university, addressed for the second time the Phi Kappa Phi fraternity. He was a former professor at the North Dakota State college, and discussed the many faced professors of those days, when a teacher must be a choir director, a band leader, and the chaplain.

"The zest of the quest" was the keynote of Dr. Hult's address. He unrolled the panorama of the last ten years' advance in science, including agriculture, astronomy and the atomic world. He envied the scientist of today who gloried in the zest of the quest in the world of adventure. In reference to Ibsen's "Doll's House" he likened scientific attitude, or zest, to the Nora Helmer attitude: that of awakening each morning anticipating some new wonder. We do not merely accept the universe, we revel in it—Edison revels in it, and accredits the world as being permeated with intelligence. "Mathematics," he stated, "is the supreme triumph of the human mind, finding universal confirmation in science developed on one tiny planet."

Unafraid of Machine Age

Dr. Hult said that he is not afraid of the machine or industrial age. He is a master of classics, and is interested in human nature. He admonished students not to neglect literature and human nature, in their college courses. His whole talk expressed an enthusiasm that comes to him as he views the outlook of today.

In conclusion, Hoyt DeKleine was awarded the $25 prize offered yearly by Dr. Stockwell to the senior most outstanding in scholarship, leadership, and character.

INSPECTION PLANNED TUESDAY, WEDNESDAY

Inspection of the State College Reserve Officers Training Corps will take place Tuesday and Wednesday according to the military department. Inclement weather has forced the entire corps to stay inside so drill is badly needed.

Inspection of the entire battalion including the Gold Star Band will take place on Tuesday morning. Wednesday will be devoted to an inspection of the classes.

The Sergeant Culpepper trophy now in possession of the band will be offered again to the best drilled unit in the corps. The band has had this honor for the last two years.

NOTICE!

There will be a Gamma Tau Sigma meeting in the Bison office today at 4 p. m.

NOTICE!

The student body is invited to the formal reception and dance to be given by the college on Saturday, May 17, at 8:30 in the College Armory in honor of the installation of Phi Kappa Lambda as Beta Beta chapter of Alpha Gamma Delta.

Three Fraternities Hold Spring Formals

Sigma Taus, Sigma Phi Deltas, Kappa Phis Have Parties Tonight

Three fraternities will entertain at their annual spring formals this evening. Alpha Sigma Tau with their party at the Crystal ballroom, Kappa Psi dancing at the Oriental, and Sigma Phi Delta entertaining at the Country club, make up the list.

The Taus will carry out the Spanish theme in their party. The ballroom will be decorated as a Spanish garden including trellises of spring flowers. The lighting effects will be unusual and the decorations committee is planning something distinctly different. The guests of honor include: President and Mrs. J. H. Shepperd; Dean and Mrs. I. W. Smith; Judge and Mrs. Munson; Captain and Mrs. Frank S. Ross; Homer Huntton; and the following SAE guests: George Halliday, Howard Hills, Floyd Warren, Rene Wambach, Albert Birch, and H. Hillstad. John Mund and Walter Lagerberg are in charge of arrangements.

Kappa Psi party

The Kappa Psis will carry out their decoration in pastel shades with a feature including an electrical replicat of the fraternity pin. Dean and Mrs. W. F. Sudro, Prof. and Mrs. Jongeward, and Prof. W. W. Johnson are among the honored guests. The social committee is headed by Johnny Johnson, assisted by Glenn Roberts, music; James Parkins, hall; James Moore, programs; Dan Baillie, favors; George Birmingham, refreshments; and L. B. Reager, decorations.

Sigma Phi Delta will hold its annual formal party at the Fargo Country club, Friday, May 16. The decorations will be in the fraternity colors which are black and red. Colored lights will be features of the decorations and on either side of the orchestra there will be a miniature castle which is symbolic of the national stronghold. Victor Madsen is chairman of arrangements and will be assisted by Donald Haarman on decorations. The hours of the party will be from 9:30 to 12:30 p. m. with informal dancing from 8:45 to 9:30 p. m. Patrons and patronesses will be: Mr. and Mrs. G. F. Yott, and Mr. and Mrs. F. L. Weeks. Abner Ingebretson alumnus from Minneapolis, Minn., will also be present. The Granadians will play the music for the evening. Following the dancing program a light lunch will be served at the club.

SEVEN O'CLOCKERS SHOULD BE SLEEPY

When you swear to yourself as your alarm clock gets you out for an 8 o'clock, did you ever stop to think how much worse it would be if you were forced to crawl out of bed for 7 o'clock class. That is just what over 50 students on this campus are doing nearly every morning.

If anyone cares to see them as they trudge to school just a little after the sun comes up, they can do so by watching the gate some spring morning. Some are hurrying to a French class that meets four times a week. There are others who have a math. 32 class that meets at this early hour. In order to be wide awake for this college geometry course one should crawl out about 6 o'clock so as not to be caught napping when Professor Householder calls for some obscure theorem.

About 6:45 students start coming in the gate. They walk a little slowly. Ten minutes later the cars start coming and the sleepy drivers pile out and enter the Hall of Science. At 6:57 a dark streak can be seen coming across the campus at breakneck speed. Evidently he is resolved to make his 7 o'clock.

Seniors Launch Ticket Selling Campaign Today

Adolph Pahl Appointed As Assistant To Art Zeigler

Fine Orchestra, Exceptional Favors Mark Prom As Outstanding

Tickets for the annual Senior ball to be held at the Crystal ballroom on Friday, May 23 were placed on sale today by F. Neal Baldwin, finance manager. Mr. Baldwin informs us that a ticket may be secured from any one of the eight leading fraternity seniors, at the Book Store or at the "Y" Dugout. He urges that college folk secure their tickets this weekend as those not sold by Tuesday will be placed on sale down town.

Pahl Assistant Manager

Arthur Zeigler, ball manager, appointed Adolph Pahl as assistant manager this week. Mr. Pahl, a senior chemist from Lidgerwood, this state, and member of Alpha Sigma Tau, Gamma Tau Sigma, and Blue Key fraternities will look after many of the minor details that will go a long way towards making the party a success.

Zeigler Speaks

When cornered yesterday afternoon Mr. Zeigler said: "I have only one fear and that is perhaps the class will lose a little money. Those who take in the party will remember it as I see it, because everything possible is being done to make it a success. Never before has a North Dakota State formal been able to secure a Music Corporation of America orchestra and "Norm" Dahl has secured something entirely new in the way of favors. They were used at the University of New York this winter and the prom management of that school paid the manufacturers some very fine unsolicited compliments. I'll venture to say that the decorations will be worth the price of the ticket alone, for "Alf" Skaret is in charge and he has a real idea he intends to put across."

UNITED STATES CIVIL SERVICE EXAMINATION

The United States Civil Service Commission announces the following open competitive examination:

Applications for poultry geneticist must be on file with the Civil Service Commission at Washington, D. C., not later than June 18, 1930.

The examination is to fill vacancies occurring in the Bureau of Animal Industry, Department of Agriculture, for duty at Beltsville, Md., and in positions requiring similar qualifications throughout the United States.

The duties are to cooperate with those States desiring cooperation in the standardization of record-of-performance and to conduct investigations for the purpose of determining the relative value of State record-of-performance work and the results secured.

ERLING THORSON,
Com. of Campus.

Pledging Services Completed Last Night; Alumnae Initiated Today

FORMAL RECEPTION DANCE SATURDAY

National Sorority Delegates Here From Several Colleges

Miss Julia Riser, national extension chairman of Alpha Gamma Delta, was in charge of the pledging services held last evening for active and alumnae members of Phi Kappa Lambda. The local chapter will become the Beta Beta chapter of Alpha Gamma Delta sorority.

At 10:30 this morning initiation was held for the following alumnae: Gladys Feenendal, Suzanne Martin, Mary Austin, Ruth Briscoe, Clara Graber, Margaret May, Ruth Otterson, Cleo Peterson, Ella Pickering, Marian Schroeder, and Pauline Sorkness. Alumnae unable to be initiated at this time will become members of Alpha Gamma Delta later.

After a luncheon in the First Baptist church at noon today, initiation for the undergraduate chapter will be held with Miss Riser in charge.

Formal Initiation Tonight

The formal initiation banquet will be held in the Gardner hotel this evening at 7:30. Toasts will be given by Miss Madge Runey, Alpha Gamma Delta alumna from Bismarck; Miss Margaret Hilchie of Winnipeg; Suzanne Martin, president of the Phi Kappa Lambda Alumnae chapter; Miss Margaret Green, president of the active chapter; Mrs. F. Paul Smith of Amenia, and Miss Julia Riser.

Activities on Saturday will begin with a luncheon in the Lincoln Log Cabin, given by the Phi Kappa Lambda alumnae. The local chapter of Kappa Delta will entertain twelve visiting Alpha Gamma Deltas at a buffet supper at 6 p. m. Saturday. At 8:30 the college will entertain at a formal reception and dance in the Armory. In the receiving line will be: Dr. and Mrs. Shepperd, Miss Margaret Green, Miss Julia Riser, Mrs. A. E. Cannon, Miss Pearl Dinan, Miss Margaret Hilchie, Mrs. F. Paul Smith, the presidents of the chapters at Minnesota, Montana, Wisconsin, and Iowa.

Luncheon Sunday

Sunday at 1 p. m. a luncheon will be held for the visiting Alpha Gamma Deltas in the Tea Cup Inn. Miss Helga Restvedt is in charge of arrangements.

The concluding event of the installation will be a tea given at the home of Mrs. Kent Darrow on Sunday afternoon from 3 to 5. Decorations will be red, green, and buff, the sorority colors. Hostesses will be the newly installed Beta Beta chapter with Miss Mae Borgen and Pauline Sorkness in charge. In the receiving line will be Miss Roser, Mrs. Cannon, Miss Green, and Pickering. Mrs. W. W. Fuller, Mrs. A. E. Minard, Mrs. A. W. Williams, and Miss Elvira T. Smith will pour.

Visitors Listed

Out of town Alpha Gamma Deltas are: Coe college, Cedar Rapids, Iowa—Misses Dona Henry, Mabel Schroeder, Elizabeth Funky, and Mrs. Funky; Montana State college, Bozeman, Mont.—Misses Alice Mae Carr, and Florence Lloyd; the University of Wisconsin chapter at Madison, is sending Misses Jane Lane, Mary Marshall, Lorraine Lee, Marion Haugeberg, Frances Fosshage, June Edwards, and Peggy Rockman. Mrs. Carro Lloyd Buchanan Musberger, Jamestown, and Mrs. F. Paul Smith will be visiting alumnae.

The University of Pennsylvania museum recently announced that the largest collection of coffins ever found in one tomb in Egypt has been unearthed by the university's expedition at Maydum. The coffins, all of which contain mummies, range from 2,200 year to 4,000 years old.

Volkmar Writes For German Magazine

Veterinary Technician Requests Report Of Experiments Found Here

Interest in experiments carried on by veterinary science investigators at the North Dakota agricultural experiment station has prompted a Berlin, Germany, veterinary journal called the Archiv fur wissenschaftliche und praktische Tierheilkunde to publish an article by Fritz Volkmar, technician in the department of veterinary science at the North Dakota institution, on hemorrhagic diathesis due to the poisonous effects of fungi-infected sweet clover.

In an article Mr. Volkmar has reviewed the work of Drs. A. F. Schalk and L. M. Roderick of the North Dakota Agricultural experiment station and of other American and Canadian investigators on this subject. His summary contains the following statements:

A new annual disease, sweet clover poisoning, a disease which up to the present has been observed only in North America is described. The disease presents the picture of a hemorrhagic diathesis. Retardation of blood coagulation, decrease in haemoglobin content and rapid breathing are the principal clinical characteristics. The disease has been found to be caused by the feeding of mouldy hay or silage made with melilotus alba (white sweet clover) and melilotus officinalis (yellow sweet clover). The pathologic physiology of this disease is not yet fully explained.

ENTIRE NATION TO HEAR STATE GOLD STAR BAND

The entire nation will have the opportunity of hearing the Gold Star Band soon when that organization broadcasts over WDAY and the national chain of Columbia broadcasting. This is the first time that Doc Putnam and his boys will be heard outside the local broadcasting radius.

For the past two weeks the band has been heard at work arranging their program. Doc says that he expects the band to be ready by the last of May.

NOTICE!

Students interested in staff positions on the 1932 Bison may hand in their preferences and qualifications to Elene Weeks or Floyd Viel as soon as possible. Positions open are associate editor, classes editor, organizations editor, men's and women's athletics editor, assistant business manager and advertising manager.

WHY?

Was Gamma Tau Sigma overlooked on recognition day?

WE NEED

On this campus a complete reorganization of organizations. Such a trend seems to be gaining headway, if one is to judge by the activities of several. And it is a source of some wonderment to us, that, after a year of repeated efforts in various fields, we view these results; results that did not appear upon the horizon of purpose. Indeed, The Spectrum, like a Phoenix who views its approaching death, stares at the changes wrought during the past and troubled journalistic year. There are perhaps, two changes of great importance: 1) An increased diligence on the part of authorities to improve our college publication; 2) A general awakening, or shall we say evolution, in all branches of organization life.

REVISION is the word of the hour. Constitutions, activities, and what not are being scrutinized with a critical eye. Good enough! A sea of nightmares cloud the brain when viewing the multiplicity of boards, committees, staffs, etc., designed to improve the student life. The duplication of effort is astounding! We cannot believe that our student body needs these burdens, except to satisfy the vanity of membership; and such honor is depreciating in the maze of politics.

Yes, the past year has witnessed this stew pot set over the flame; the fire has been lighted; The Spectrum has been the stirring spoon; the ingredients refuse to mix; things have happened, are happening, will happen. Or, will they happen? Maybe not. Perhaps the year is too near its completion. The sultry months of June, July, and August may sweat the new vigor out of our systems.

Watch and wait. Or perhaps, better yet, look about our neighboring states, at their student bodies, at their organizations. Social science, that naive presentation of the obvious, is badly needed at home, everywhere, but especially on this campus.

It would be a good thing for each organization to publish its accomplishments in The Spectrum before the year closes. Then you students could view the unnecessary conglomeration. Turn on the heat!

NOTICE!

There will be a Gamma Tau Sigma meeting in the Bison office today at 4 p. m.

Wise Guy
vs
The Sceptic

Dear Johana:
I DON'T LIKE ANIMALS. DIogenes, THE CYNIC, DOESN'T AGREE WITH ME. HE SAYS: "WE SHOULD TURN AND LIVE LIKE THE ANIMALS, THEY ARE SO PLACID AND SELF-CONTAINED." BUT EVEN GREAT MEN ARE SOMETIMES WRONG.

Diogenes advocated a return to nature, to the simplicity displayed by a herd of cows. I have been thinking about creatures during the past interim. For several years it has been my custom to spend part of the week with a farmer, a tiller of the soil, and a stock raiser. By the experimental method I have investigated animal psychology, and am convinced that their I. Q. puts the Binet test to shame. For instance:

Domesticated bovines. Though observations made in Colorado on the Jersey variety may be inaccurate my notes describe them as "harmless, self-contained, demure." Excerpt from notes: "- - - mice, barking dogs, poke with sharp stick, fail to alter somber depths of blinking eyes."

EXPERIMENT NO. I.
"Shot at bovines with slingshot. Time: 6 a. m. Pebbles bounce off bodies causing minor skin abrasions. Bovines continue to poke along, gazing at sun with perfect understanding. Diogenes was wrong about cattle."

Medium sized ruminant quadrupeds. Excerpt from notes: "- - - bleat at muddy water, stars, Cadillac, mouth organs; lament their fate."

EXPERIMENT NO. II.
"Placed highly seasoned straw on other side of railroad track. Time: 10:57 p. m. Oriental Limited comes by. Bellringer runs under train to get on other side. (Note: Why does a chicken cross the road?) Herd follows. Dining car well supplied."

Diogenes was wrong about sheep. Chanticleers. Excerpt from notes: "- - - croak at hand feeding them, at intelligent guinea fowl patrolling the barnyard."

EXPERIMENT NO. III.
"Arose at 3:55 a. m. Moved feed pans to better spot. Sat on soap box watching effect on chanticleers until 8:02 p. m. From 4 a. m. blareing, bombastic, billowing, bandying, these bouncing bugles burned like bandbox with self-acclaim, and became billious with general criticism."

Doggone Diogenes! The only excuse for his love of animals is animal crackers, and Aunt Sammy wasn't alive to tell his wife how to bake them.

I trust my experiments will be enlightening. They will be published in July by the Literary Digest. I know—I'm the wise guy.

Michael.

P. S. Don't call me Mike.

Dear Mike:

Diogenes would have done better to strive to become Aristotle's ideal man. What kind of a person? Read on: "He is open in his dislikes and preferences; he talks and acts frankly, because of his contempt for men and things. He is never fired with admiration, since there is nothing great in his eyes. He cannot live in complaisance with others, except it be a friend; complaisance is the characteristic of a slave. He never feels malice, and always forgets and passes over injuries. He is not fond of talking. It is no concern of his that he should be praised, or that others should be blamed. He does not speak evil of others, even of his enemies, unless it be to themselves. His carriage is sedate, his voice deep, his speech measured; he is not given to hurry, for he is concerned about only a few things; he is not prone to vehemence for he thinks nothing very important. A shrill voice and hasty steps come to a man through care. He bears the accidents of life with dignity and grace, making the best of his circumstances, like a skillful general who marshals his limited forces with all the strategy of war. He is his own best friend, and takes delight in privacy whereas the man of no virtue or ability is his own worst enemy and is afraid of solitude.

There's a life insurance agent here, so will continue this later.

Johana.

STUDENT OPINION

Fellow students, you ought to be ashamed of yourselves. Your conduct during the Phi Kappa Phi convocation last Wednesday was nothing short of a disgrace, an outrageous disgrace to the whole college. Such restlessness and disturbance and noise is not expected of college students. If you cannot be quiet and pay attention while an address is being, stay away from the exercises, for there are some persons who are interested, and out of respect for them, to say nothing of self-respect, you owe it to them to be silent. Ethics and self-discipline are to be cultivated in college, if ever.

I could be hissed and ridiculed for the sharp and pointed expression of my opinion. But come what may, you deserve this reproach; you have brought it upon yourselves. Dr. Hult gave a type of address rarely heard at this institution. To even have captured some of his great enthusiasm and live imagination would not have harmed any of you. Sometimes we are so engrossed and selfish in our little affairs at hand that we lose all conception of the whole, the romance and grandeur of all. If you fall into that class, remember when you hear the next convocation speaker that there may be some who are interested in the message.

TAKE THAT

Phi Kappa Phi seems to think that it is an almighty body of some nature or other that can discriminately pick the honor societies that it feels inclined to select for its convocation recognition. Evidently you have to have a drag to be mentioned, but I cannot see why the authorities in charge of the society's activities could not go over the last of eligible honorary groups a little more carefully. Evidently Gamma Tau Sigma, Phi Beta Nu, and Scabbard and Blade are not honorary organizations. Nothing makes people more aggravated and disgusted with anything than when someone does something and does it half-heartedly. These above organizations must not have representatives in Phi Kappa Phi and that is probably the reason that they were not mentioned.

Another thing that has been bothering me is the fact that a man who was not at all representative on the campus be given an award for leadership, scholarship, and ability to succeed. Nearly everyone on this campus knows that Blue Key stands for service and leadership. This does not necessarily mean that everyone outside of this organization is lacking in these respects, but it does mean that if he is at all outstanding he will be chosen.

Anyone can study and be a brilliant scholar and spend most of his time in a laboratory, but it takes a real man with ability and sterling qualities to be a scholar and also a leader, outstanding on the campus, and willing to work and help wherever possible.

BOOK REVIEW

VOCATIONAL EDUCATION IN AGRICULTURE. International Labor Office, Geneva, 1929. Studies and Reports Series K (Agriculture) No. 9, 224 p. World Peace Foundation, Boston, American Agents.

The dwindling proportion of population engaged in agriculture in all nations has kindled a world-wide interest in farming methods which will produce more yield with less manpower, coupled with a realization that the training and education of that man-power is of primary importance. The International Labor Office has accordingly prepared a study of Vocational Education in Agriculture in 32 countries of Europe, Latin America and Canada, Asia and the Antipodes in order that governments, educators and farmers may take stock and make comparisons. The study presents an almost infinite variety, not only in the educational standards, resources and technique of the countries reported on, but also in differences of climates, soils, traditions and commodities produced.

The first part of the report is an orderly analysis of the world situation on this subject, methods of organization, problems of administration, limits of instruction, relations to general rural education, to the small farmer and to the wage-paid worker. The second part reviews the situation in each of the countries studied.

While this report is a valuable addition to the literature of pedagogical progress, it is edited from the point of view of applied sociology in which the effect of the economic welfare of the peoples has received primary consideration.

Cook May Enter Collegiate Tourney

State Captain Playing Well During Spring

Bison Quartet Matches Strokes With University Men Saturday

AMATEUR CHAMPION QUALIFIES WITH 76

Fairhead, Faber Qualify With 83 And 86 For 18 Holes

Paul Cook, captain of the State college golf team and North Dakota amateur champion, may enter the annual national intercollegiate golf tournament to be held at the Oakmont course near Pittsburgh June 23 to 28, according to announcement made by C. C. Finnegan.

Cook has been playing true to form in his early rounds this spring. His followers here at North Dakota State are sure that he will have a good chance to gain the title honors at Oakmont. He will be pitted against some of the best golfers in the country.

Arrangements for sending Cook to the collegiate tournament are expected to be well under way by next week.

Golf Team Picked

A fourth member has not yet been selected for the team which is to meet the University here Saturday. The match is scheduled to be played at the Edgewood course.

It was Paul Cook who led the Bison golfers who turned in their qualifying scores Wednesday. Cook's card is but another example of his club wielding ability. George Fairhead and Tony Faber followed Cook with scores of 83 and 86, respectively. These three are assured of positions on the team. The fourth member is to be selected from Bob Olson, Cy Lonsbrough, Eric Nordstrom, Kenneth Blanchard, and Ed Crewe.

The Flickentail golfers who are to oppose the Bison will probably include Robert Adams, Ray Larson, Bill McIntyre, and William Hatelid.

Here and There

Taxi day, a custom of the University of Southern California, is held every year to raise scholarship funds. Each coed on the campus who is the owner of a car is pressed into service, transporting students and faculty to and from the campus. The fare is from 10 to 25 cents, anywhere on the campus. The taxis are decorated with large placards and the drivers wear uniforms.

The janitors at the University of California are kicking because students slide down the banister instead of using the stairs. The harassed caretakers complain that consequently the banisters are always in a state of debility. They also vow that if their no-sliding-down the banister campaign prove successful they start a no-cigaret-ashes on the floor campaign. Their success in either case is problematical.

All but three of the fraternities and sororities at Stanford belong to a student cooperative purchasing association which buys all food and furnishings at wholesale and sells to the houses at reduced prices.

BROADSIDES

Now that the baseball season is on we suppose that Pete Gergen will again become an active member of the Gamma Rhos.

THE ATHLETIC DEPT. WILL HAVE TO INSTALL FLOOD LIGHTS SO THE BOYS CAN PLAY ALL NIGHT TO CATCH UP ON THE SCHEDULE.

We saw Matt Braus, Sigma Taus' elongated basket tosser, out throwing the pill the other night.

IF SOMEBODY WOULD PRESENT HIM WITH A FEW SHEETS OF FLY PAPER OR A BUSHEL BASKET HE MIGHT BE A SECOND BUNKER HILL JR.

It looks as though the Theta Chis have the best bat boy in the league in Cod Ordahl.

WE HOPE THAT HIS SOCIAL OBLIGATIONS WON'T INTERFERE WITH HIS DUTY.

Casey Finnegan has ordered the bags to be brought in after the game.

THIS PRECAUTION WAS TAKEN UPON THE RUMOR THAT BOB LOWE HOLDS THE BASE STEALING RECORD OF THE ONE EYED LEAGUE.

Information wanted as to the whereabouts of John "Sleepy" Smith. He has not been seen in his favorite chair in the Athletic office for two days.

If John does not turn up within 8 hours, Gergen who has second choice will be awarded the place of honor.

SAALY AND THE BOYS ARE LEAVING FOR SOUTH DAKOTA STATE TO RUN A TRACK MEET AGAINST ENGLEMANN.

When Englemann is in a race all the rest of the men are running for second place.

BILL HILTS, BOWBELLS CHAMPION, AND BOB LOWE, KENMARE'S OWN, WILL STAGE ANOTHER HOT CONTEST IN THE ATHLETIC OFFICE DURING THE NEXT CONVENTION.

Bob won the last by a slight margin, but agreed to give Bill a return bout due to the fact that Bill was handicapped by a sore tongue.

SERGEANT COW-PEPPER HAS BEEN TRYING TO EXPLAIN HIS HIGH CLOTHING BILL TO THE GOVERNMENT OFFICIALS FOR A MONTH.

All the trouble lies in the fact that Walt Shamp, tiny Bison tackle, has just drawn a new uniform.

THE BIGGEST EVENT OF THE SEASON WILL TAKE PLACE NEXT WEEK WHEN PAUL COOK AND CASEY FINNEGAN CROSS CLUBS WITH GEORGE FAIRHEAD AND BOB LOWE.

College May Buy Floodlights For Night Football

Commercial Concerns To Show Wares On Field Night Of May 27

DAVIS ELKINS TO OPEN SCHEDULE

Fair Ground Idea Abandoned; Dacotah Field To Be In Condition

Night football at North Dakota State college draws one step nearer reality next week with the announcement by Director of Athletics C. C. (Casey) Finnegan that representatives of several commercial concerns will demonstrate their wares on the night of May 27 at Dacotah field. Athletic board officials at the Bison school have decided on this method in an effort to obtain the very best flood light equipment for the inauguration of the night football schedule this fall. The innovation together with the finest home schedule in the history of the school is expected to attract record crowds to the Fargo field.

Night Schedule

The night schedule will be opened by the most colorful college team in eastern circles, Davis and Elkins of West Virginia. This contest on Sept. 27 will also be North Dakota's first big intersectional football battle.

With every indication that North Dakota State and North Dakota "U" will be two of the strongest teams in the North Central conference race this year the Homecoming struggle between these traditional rivals is expected to set a new mark in attendance totals. This will be the only daylight game on the Bison schedule.

Contract Announced Soon

Awarding of the lighting contract will be made as soon as possible after the tests next week, Mr. Finnegan declared, in order that installation may be completed and several tests made in early season practice games under the electric beams. Athletic officials and a board of experts will view the demonstration.

Work calculated to put Dacotah field in A1 condition by next September was started this week. Low places on the gridiron are being filled in and all bare spots sodded. Fans will welcome the announcement that additional stands are to be constructed which will give State college one of the largest seating plants in the northwest. The stands will be placed at the back and ends thereby adding greatly to the comfort of spectators. The announcement of the improvement program at the college field follows a decision by college authorities to abandon a proposal to use the state fair grounds at Fargo this year. Estimates furnished by engineers on the cost of creating a first class playing field at the fair grounds was found impractical.

Bison Track Team Goes To Brookings

Varsity-Freshman Dual Meet Postponed On Account Of Weather

The Bison track team left this morning for Brookings, S. D., where they will compete with 12 colleges at the invitation meet sponsored by South Dakota State college. This will be their first real test of the season.

Because of inclement weather conditions the varsity-fresh meet planned by Saalwaechter had to be postponed. It is probable that the contest will be staged next Tuesday. Although the athletes have had little chance to show their stuff, Saaly has picked 10 men to represent the college in the southern meet.

Ole Sand will be the Bison sprint representative. Thomasson will compete in the sprints, high jump and javelin. Roy Jordre and Dorland Konichek will run in the middle distance events and with Clarence Lockrem and Rod McMillan will carry the Bison batons in the one mile relay race. The mile and two mile routes will find Leonard Wollan and Alex Robertson upholding the State college colors. As usual Joe Blakeslee will compete in the pole vault and Leo May in the weight events.

War Philosophy Is Now Obsolete

"Because they all seem as young to us as we seem to them, we fail to see much difference between the so-called new generation and the newest," says Jesse Lynch Williams, asking "What Next," in the May College Humor. "But the boys and girls now in college, or just out, who have quietly come into their majority without the advertisement of a great war—they see it and feel it and wonder how we can miss it."

"Why put us in a class with that bunch of dead ones who will call themselves the new generation?" an undergraduate recently asked. "There is nothing new about the noisy post-war crowd. Their dope is all old stuff. Nobody takes they seriously any more, except themselves." He seemed amused by the quaint folk-ways of the early 20's, the archaic slang, the queer costumes and customs, the loud insistence upon being the first and only generation to discover truth and sex, freedom and—futility.

"Oh, she's one of those old-fashioned girls who get tight at parties," a debutant of 19 remarked the other day, upon a prettily painted antique who must have been nearly 27. "She still thinks it's the thing to be vulgar. We don't go in for that any more. Then ran it out. Ordinary people have taken it up."

"The novelty of bad manners, it seems, has worn off for those who inherit breeding and good taste. Total depravity is no longer such a blessed luxury. In some circles, a loss.

"Make no mistake about the new bunch. They are not going back to bunk. They are just as keen about Truth as their elder brothers and sisters. More so. But they are beginning to see that Truth includes beauty as well as Bunk. They want all sorts of facts, not just one sort. They will face and accept the grim kind with the rest, but they don't reveal so much in grimness now. They are essentially a healthier, more normal brood because they have come to their intellectual birth in peace times, not in the abnormal conditions of war and its aftermath. In the case of their predecessors, the natural exuberance of youth was perverted through no fault of its own into a sickly sense of futility. But even the philosophy of futility is futile when health returns, when the effects of a long drunk wear off."
