High Schools Assemble For Contest

Phi Kappa Phi Recognition Is Set For May 14

Each Honor Society Is To Be Represented At Convocation

INITIATION SERVICES HELD IN EVENING

Professor Hult Will Deliver Address During Banquet

The fifth annual recognition services sponsored by the local chapter of Phi Kappa Phi, National Honor Society, will be held in the college auditorium, Wednesday, May 14, at the convocation hour.

Each honor society on the campus will be represented. A brief statement of the purpose of each society will be given followed by the roll call of members elected during the year. Musical numbers will be rendered and the Phi Kappa Phi prizes will be awarded.

Address

The annual Phi Kappa Phi address will be given by Prof. Gotfried Hult of the University of North Dakota.

In the evening at 6 o'clock, initiation services will be held in the chamber of Commerce parlors. These services will be followed by the annual banquet to which all members are invited. Professor Hult will deliver the address of the evening.

Phi Kappa Phi Honor Society differs from other honor societies in that it is all inclusive. Its members are chosen from all the schools represented on the campus; men and women are equally eligible.

The national society was founded at the University of Maine in 1897 by men who saw the need of an honor society founded on broader lines than any then in existence. Since that time chapters have been established in many of the leading colleges and universities of the country. Included among these are Maryland University, Wisconsin University, Iowa State College, and Southern California University. Phi Kappa Phi society is composed of students, faculty, and alumni. The alumni has grown to represent several hundred members located in all parts of the world.

The prime object of the society is to emphasize scholarship and character in the thoughts of college students and to stimulate mental achievement by the prize of membership. Its motto is "The love of learning rules the world."

Following Are Honored

Members are chosen each year from those who rank among the first fifth of the senior class. The following seniors who were chosen to membership this year will be honored at this convocation: Albert Anderson, Carl G. Ash, Margaret Ballard, Reynolds Bishop, Clifford Booke, Bernice Christensen, E. Hoyt DeKleine, Lucille Edlund, Loyal H. Gast, Afton Glorvigen, Garnet Grieve, Ole Grottodden, Hazel Harris, Eunice Hokanson, Harold Julsrud, Dorland Konichek, Joseph Langgaunet, Dorothy Lieb, Letha Mathieson, Kenneth McCullough, Edwin Minard, Alviron Overbye, Robert Rasmussen, Lola Reeves, Frances Ross, Belle Shalit, Archie Solberg, Lily Ann Thorsell, Ilae M. Tucker, Everett Wallum, Russell Weiser, Wayne W. Weiser, and Forrest Willey.

From the nature of the organization the officers are faculty members. The present officers are: President, Dr. A. F. Hunsaker; vice-president, Dean Pearl Dinan; secretary, Prof. E. H. Jones; and historian, Prof. Harriet Pearson.

WARNING!

Students who persist in using campus green for golf, tennis, and baseball and also those who use the PATHS will be hailed into court and tried before the student commission.

Erling Thorson, Com. of Campus.

Bison Snaps Section Largest In History

The Bison Life snapshot section of the 1931 Bison will be the largest ever included in a State college annual, according to Amos Wallum, editor of the book. Thirteen pages will be given to the section as compared to seven pages in the 1928 and 1929 annuals. The 1931 edition will present 117 snapshots, arranged in a very novel way.

The reason given by Mr. Wallum for the increase, is that the usual satire section has been omitted. The contentions of the Bison staff is that the humor section of annuals is somewhat passe. However, in order to make the change a slow one, the editors have placed the snapshots in the back part of the book.

Commission Seeks To Change Budget Of Activity Fees

Would Cut From Publications, Classes To Aid Student Government

The North Dakota State college student commission contends that the student activities fund on the campus can be put to a more desirable end. This is shown by the commission's plan as submitted to the members of the College Council. The purpose of the change, according to the commission, is to place the funds in the hands of the organizations that are receiving an inadequate amount to carry on its activities. This necessitates a decrease for some groups and a decided increase for the others.

The plan as submitted by the commission follows in table form showing the present and proposed appropriations:

	Present	Proposed
Athletics	$2.00	$2.00
Bison	1.25	1.25
The courses	.25	.14
Lecture courses	.43%	.42
Board of public speaking control	.25	.25
Sick benefit	.30	.30
The Spectrum	.50	.48
Student Commission	.01 1/4	.19

The proposed 19 cents for the commission will be divided in the following manner: The band $.07 Women's Senate .04 Student Commission .08

The reason for such disbursement is given in the letter submitted to the members of the council, stating that heretofore the band trips have been financed by tag days in which the students have made the contributions. Often the tag proceeds were not sufficient, and with the new plan the band would have a reserve for this purpose. The four cents for the financing of its activities.

ALPHA SIGMA TAU HONORS PARENTS

Members of Alpha Sigma Tau honored their parents last weekend when they gave a Dads' smoker at the chapter house Saturday evening. About 30 dads attended the affair.

Sunday afternoon the annual Mothers' tea took place. Mrs. Meinicke presided as the sons entertained their mothers from 3 until 5. Several out of town mothers were present at this annual affair.

John Mund and Walt Lagerberg were in charge of all the arrangements.

DELTA SIGS HONOR FATHERS THURSDAY

Last Thursday evening the fathers of Delta Kappa Sigma members were honored by the fraternity and its Mother's Club at a banquet given in the chapter house. Approximately 75 guests were served. Alumni of Sigma Chi fraternity were guests of honor.

Bison Frosh Win Tri-School Meet

North Dakota State Yearlings, scoring 72 1/2 points, won the triangle meet with Fargo and Moorhead high schools last Saturday on Dacotah field. Fargo high placed second with 56 1/2 points with Moorhead gathering 12 points to take third place.

The Bison Cubs won the meet on their strength in the field events winning four firsts, tying once and taking second in another, placing them well ahead of Fargo.

In the track features the Bison first year men broke about even with the Midget runners, all races being heated contests.

The half mile relay proved to be the thriller of the day. The Bison took first place with the Fargo baton bearers finishing only a few inches behind at the tape. McGrath Elected Sig President

Horace McGrath was elected to the presidency of Delta Kappa Sigma, social fraternity, at the fraternity's annual business meeting held in the chapter house on May 3. Mr. McGrath succeeds Richard Scott, whose office terminated last Saturday.

Other officers elected at this meeting are: William Champlin, vice-president; Floyd Veil, secretary; Kenneth Wyard, treasurer; Vern Goodwin, house manager; F. Neil Baldwin, rushing captain; and Robert Olsen, historian.

This election marked a division of the duties of house manager and treasurer, formerly held by one officer.

College Professors Assembled During Science Meeting

Papers Presented By Staff Members Prove Interesting

The North Dakota Academy of Science held its 22nd meeting Friday and Saturday, May 2 and 3, in the Engineering building. This is an association of all the college professors within the state who are interested in science.

Ten papers were presented by the members of the State college staff and ten by the University professors. One paper was presented by a member of the Jamestown college staff. A very interesting paper on the history of the development of the plow was read by Dr. Walster. Professor Householder presented a paper on eclipses in which was shown the mathematical explanation of that sort of phenomenon.

Friday evening the delegates were entertained at a dinner at Ceres hall as guests of the local chapter of the Association of University Professors. Following the dinner, Professor Simpson of the University presented a paper entitled: "The Geological Story of the La Brea Tar Pits." The paper dealt with a peculiar formation near Los Angeles where a number of bones of pre-historic animals have been found, preserved in tar.

The annual meeting next year will be held at the University. Mr. Simpson of the "U" and Dr. Whedon of State college were elected president and vice-president, respectively.

SENIOR BALL PLANS NEARING COMPLETION

Plans for the annual Senior Ball are rapidly nearing completion, according to Arthur Zeigler, manager of the high point of the social season. The date is Friday, May 23, and the party will undoubtedly be held at the Crystal Ballroom.

Committees have been appointed by the manager and most of them have already taken up their respective duties. They are as follows: Elmer Tarkelson, music; Alf Skaret, decorations; Neal Baldwin, finance; Norman Dahl, programs and favors; Grace Swanson, features; Dorothea Anderson, patrons; Lloyd Clark, refreshments; Henry P. Sullivan, publicity; and Oscar Hanson, floor manager.

Mr. Torkelson, in charge of the music, hopes to be able to announce who will play for the party, in Friday's Spectrum.

GAMMA PHI BETA

Glenna Eferson, Alpha Chi Omega, at the U., was the weekend guest of Helen Stokke at the house.

Mrs. Eubanks was a dinner guest at the sorority house Thursday.

NOTICE!

Elimination election of the May Queen will be held Wednesday, May 14, at the Registrar's office between the hours of 10 and 4:30.

Names of candidates must be in before May 8. All candidates must have completed 6 terms of collegiate work and have a scholastic average of 80.

May Festival Track Events Begin Friday

All High Schools Eligible To Compete; Many Entries Are Received

HORNER-KONICHEK RUN QUARTER MILE

Tennis Tournament Planned As Big Feature Of Prep Gathering

The 23rd annual May Festival and Track meet sponsored by North Dakota State college, with more than 175 prep school athletes entered, will take place Friday and Saturday.

This festival may be the last of its kind held here if the protests of the North Central Association of Colleges and Secondary Schools and the National Federation of High School Athletic associations take intended actions. These groups claim that the high school meets are the mainstays of the college recruiting campaigns.

The track and field meets will start at 1:30 Friday, the semifinals to be run Saturday morning, bringing up the finals Saturday afternoon. The talent this year includes many of the same stars of last year's meet.

All Schools Eligible

All classified high schools in North Dakota are eligible for the contests and many invitations have been extended to neighboring Minnesota schools. The schools expected to send representatives are Fargo, Bismarck, Jamestown, Valley City, Grafton, Anamoose, Mohall, Hillsboro, Bottineau, Model High of Grand Forks, La-Moure, Moorhead, Wahpeton, Hannah, and Casselton.

The Bismarck squad is destined to make things pretty hard for Fargo, last year's winner, who has captured the lion's share of the laurels since the beginning of the event. This team is headed by the elongated basketball star, Ted Meinhover. Meinhover, the 6 foot 7 inch giant, is the record holder of the discus event, tossing out the flat projectile 123 feet 6 inches last spring. He also plans upon entering the javelin throw and shot put events.

Horner-Konichek to Run

Mohall's speed merchant, Little Jack Horner, who showed the way in the 440 yard run last year, is not eligible to compete this year but will run an exhibition race with Dorland Konichek, captain of the State track team and one of the best quarter milers in the Conference. Roy Jordre will also run in this special event.

Cecil Graham, diminutive youth from Anamoose who took second place in the 100 yard and the 220 yard dashes last year, will be back with an attempt to take top honors this spring.

Jack Horner's laurels in the 440 yard race last year seem destined to go to Wally Green, Indian youth from Bismarck. Green placed a close third last year.

Gus Swartz's high jump record of 5 feet 9 1-8 inches seems safe from another season, while Habner whose sensational last year's jump saved the day for Fargo, may come through Thursday.

Fashions Shown In Style Review

A style review featuring the latest spring fashions will be presented Thursday at 4 o'clock in the Little Country theater by the Sophomore class of Home Economics. The review will be the Home Economics' open house, and clothing made in class will be shown, the girls each modeling their own garments. A great number of types and styles will be modeled, including dresses, suits, coats, blouses, and skirts. Honored guests are the May Festival contestants, but all the faculty and students are invited to view these advance fashions of spring. Miss Katherine Knerr is general chairman and assisting her are Marion South, music; Lorissa Sheldon, ushers; Lois Minard, publicity; Ruth Moser, advertising; Helen Carstenson, stage manager; and Maurine McCurdy, properties.

A DEBATE OR TWO

The Spectrum will welcome all student opinion, especially that relative to the (Women's Senate?) proposed plan which secures (what verb shall we use?) for that body a portion of the Student Activities fee. The only requisites are that such articles be typewritten, double spaced, and handed before the deadlines. Failure to comply with these rules prompts this paper to reject or print same at its leisure. For our part we are determined to have done with this controversy with this issue.

(For future reference see following paragraphs numbered)

May 1, 1930.

To the Student Body:

1. In view of the fact that the Women's Senate on this campus was misrepresented in the last issue of The Spectrum, I wish to set forth some facts concerning the Women's Senate.

2. In the first place, the Women's Senate is not an honorary organization. It is the governing body of the Women's League, the membership of which is made up of all the women students matriculated in this college. It corresponds to similar organizations on various college campuses, many of which are supported by an apportionment from the activity fee paid by all women of the college.

3. As a matter of fact the Women's Senate is asking for a much smaller amount than is allotted to the Women's League at the University of North Dakota. There, 25 cents of each term's activity fee paid by women goes to the Women's League, and 25 cents of each term's activity fee paid by men goes to the men's council. Here, the plan as presented to the college council, requested an apportionment of 5 cents of each student's activity fee to be allotted to the Women's League. This plan was the result of several conferences with members of the Student Commission and members of the faculty.

The letter sent to the college council was signed by the President of the Student Commission, and the Women's Senate has no reason to believe the Student Commission has had a change of heart. The original request was for an allotment of women's fees only.

4. The Women's Senate does not feel it is asking a present when it is asking for a small allotment of the fees paid by women.

5. This plan is not original on the campus.

Grace E. Swanson,
President of Women's Senate.

Let us go over this contribution and pick out the several inconsistencies.

1. The burden of proof lies with the Women's Senate. It was a duty to put this proposition before the student body and all campus organizations. Its frequent change of front, as pointed out in the Friday's issue gave rise to so many conflicting rumors that no one was quite sure which to accept, a fact which was pointed out in the issue referred to above.

2. The first sentence involves a mere technicality. The second is explanatory.

CONTRADICTION. The third sentence refers to "similar organizations on various college campuses, many of which are supported by an apportionment from the activity fee paid by ALL WOMEN of the college." This is inconsistent with the last sentence of paragraph three which says, in so many words, that our Women's Senate is asking for money apportioned from the fees of BOTH women AND MEN!

3. The first sentence begs the question. The second refers to the University of North Dakota whose plan cannot be compared with the one under discussion inasmuch as N. D. S. C. boasts no men's council. In this connection, we understand that our organization attempts to substitute the Student Commission for the male unit. It is well known that their great, and about only, project is the staging of all-college parties, which really need as many coeds as men.

GLARING CONTRADICTION. The third sentence contains another plan. The money is now to be given to the Women's League! Puzzle—Women's League, Women's Senate, or Senior Staff? Is there any difference? The next sentence is historical.

Regarding the Student Commission. We have the greatest respect for this body; the matter at hand does not involve personalities. But it is well known that the Student Commission is the product of political machines, rather isolated from the whole student body. Moreover, the existing government was not installed after running on a ticket supporting the measure under discussion. Naturally, this body needs money; we should like to see them obtain more funds provided the source is not an additional grant from the Student Activities fee, and provided the Commission were empowered to make use of the money after obtaining it.

4. We do not quite understand this paragraph.

5. Regarding this plan, and realizing that the underlying purpose of the Women's Senate has many fine points, we suggest the following:

The Spectrum does not wish to appear intolerant of the efforts of our coed organization, realizing that it is prompted by very high ideals, and that its work is sincere and ambitious for betterment. THE ONLY QUESTION IS ONE OF METHOD. We believe that the Women's Senate should not be given portions of the budgets allotted to other campus organizations, which make full use of their appropriations. We believe that women's work on the campus should be advanced. The logical way to solve this difficulty seems to be this:

Centralize all women's activity in the College Y. W. C. A. which has a yearly appropriation of about $850 allotted from the Community Chest. Avoid repetition of effort; build up one loyal organization. The college Christian associations have been on the outside too long.

Coeds, does not the case of Mrs. Eubanks show your factionalism? Why not cooperate?

Note: There will probably be many technical difficulties to this suggestion, which when surmounted, will leave the way open for real coed pioneering, and thus avoid the many impending difficulties which darken the horizon of the other plan.

TO THE STUDENT BODY:

1. An article was written for the May 2 issue of The Spectrum in answer to an editorial in The Spectrum of April 29. Though we were assured that this article would appear in Friday's Spectrum it did not, for some reason or other. This is not the first time that material offered for "Student Opinion Column" by the women students has been omitted.

2. We are told that the Editor of The Spectrum, not the Board of Publications is opposing the "method" by which Women's Senate is attempting to secure a small allotment of the fees. It is true that a small amount of the money which would go to the Student Commission and the Women's Senate would be taken from the Bison and Spectrum—5 cents, from the two publications combined. It may be interesting to know that each student on the campus now pays annually $1.50 to the Spectrum alone. The revision of fees would mean a cut of only 2 cents for the Spectrum.

3. If the Spectrum thinks that the Student Commission and Women's Senate should obtain money by an increase in activity fees, the Women's Senate will take issue with it. The Student Activity Fees are already too high; the tendency should be in the other direction.

4. In my article of Friday, I set forth some facts concerning the Women's Senate.

5. In the first place, the Women's Senate is not an honorary organization. It is the governing body of the Women's League, the membership of which is made up of all the women students matriculated in this college. It corresponds to similar organizations of various campuses, many of which are supported by an apportionment from the activity fee paid by all women of the college.

6. As a matter of fact the Women's Senate is asking for a much smaller amount than is allotted to Women's League at the University of North Dakota. There, 50 cents of each term's activity fee paid by women goes to the Women's League, and 50 cents of each term's activity fee paid by men goes to the men's council. Here, the plan as presented to the college council requested an apportionment of 5 cents of each student's activity fee to be allotted to the Women's League. This plan was the result of several conferences with members of the Student Commission and members of the faculty. The letter sent to the college council was signed by the President of the Student Commission, and the Women's Senate has no reason to believe that the Student Commission has had a change of heart.

7. The Women's Senate does not feel it is asking a present when it is asking for a small allotment of the fees.

8. This plan is not original on this campus.

Grace Swanson,
President of Women's Senate.

Let us resume operations upon this latest opinion.

Punters Dominate Bison Grid Squad

Finnegan, Lowe Would Trade For Excellent Quarter

May To Be Assisted By At Least Six Booters

UNIVERSITY SWAP DISCOUNTANCED

Entire Backfield Capable Of Running From Kick Formation

By Jack Stewart
If the football business had a trade journal, readers no doubt might see the following advertising from the camp of the North Dakota Bison:

WANTED TO EXCHANGE—
Punters (3 or 4) for quarterbacks, forward passers, or virtually anything you have. Write or wire, Charles C. Finnegan, North Dakota State college, Fargo.

Yesterday afternoon Mr. Finnegan sat before his college athletic desk, tapping a long finger thereon, as he smoked and talked to Bob Lowe, his football assistant, and Lieut. Fay Smith, another member of the staff. They had just finished a successful spring drill and some of the highlights were being discussed.

A Novel Thought
"You know," said Mr. Finnegan, "I wish the North Central conference operated on a basis similar to that used by the big leagues in baseball."

"We found out this spring, for instance, that we have seven exceptionally fine punters for our team. Now, I always respect the value of punting and I have always believed in having plenty of reserve punting strength but if you can tell me how seven kickers can be used on one team I'll eat this cigar."

West Might Trade
"Wouldn't it be wonderful if we could trade a couple of our good kickers for another passer or a quarterback? Look at the North Dakota U". All they have in the punting line is Jarrett. Wouldn't Jack West like to trade some of his other boys to obtain a help-mate for the Red Head?"

Mr. Finnegan paused to flick his cigar. Messrs. Lowe and Smith were plainly interested and they gave the athletic director rapt attention as he continued:

"We might even get Jarrett if - - - But Mr. Lowe interrupted, "- - - if he broke a leg."

Bison Kickers Best
"Well, anyway," Mr. Finnegan smilingly returned, "we have the best kicking corps in the conference by far, and probably the greatest collection of punters North Dakota has ever seen. Look 'em over—Leo May, Joe Blakeslee, George Fairhead, Vern Goodwin, Cy Lonsbrough, Paul Bunt, and Sam Westgate. Isn't that a collection for any man's team?"

The preponderance of punting talent is one of the strangest and at the same time one of the strongest things about the Bison football team for 1930 as it shapes up at this time.

May Will Have Help
Last year May handled most of the booting to very good advantage. But May is not a dangerous runner from punt formation and with him in the kicker's position the opposition knows quite definitely not to look for anything but a punt. Now Finnegan feels that Blakeslee, Westgate, Lonsbrough, and Bunt can all run very effectively from kick formation and their ability to share some of May's responsibility will add deception to the Bison attack.

Fairhead and Goodwin, both bothered by leg injuries, were not present for work this spring, but last fall they proved to be exceptional at rocketing the leather to far-away places. Fairhead is master of them all at the quick kick in Finnegan's opinion, and he believes that Goodwin may be able to secure more distance than any of the others.

BROADSIDES

We stepped into the Armory the other day and immediately thought that we had walked into the world's most torrid earthquake, but upon inquiring, what's what and why? we found that the whole rumpus was caused by Mr. Saalwaechter's son, Leonard, our only track mentor, moaning the weather conditions.

The first thing Saaly did was to sing that tender little ballad entitled, "It may be raining violets to anybody else, but it's raining rain to me."

WE MUST TAKE THIS SPACE TO SYMPATHIZE WITH SAALY.

At least he must admit, that the weather is good "duck hunting."

There is even a law against that.

Getting back to the point, Saaly has enough good material to win many a meet if the weather would only permit the boys to get into condition.

AT LEAST THERE WOULD HAVE BEEN ONE NICE DAY IF IT HADN'T BEEN FOR THE ECLIPSE.

The athletic department has announced that our tennis team has a match with the City Club.

WE HOPE NOBODY GETS SPIKED!

"Mushy" Callahan, the brick-topped youth with the terrible punch, assures us that he has his racket all oiled up for the fracas.

We believe that a match with Georgina Brindle and Mushy would draw quite a crowd.

GEORGINA CLAIMS THAT SHE LIKES RED HAIR NO MATTER WHAT COLOR IT IS.

If those two ever got together, there certainly would be a racket.

They'd probably have to take it to the courts.

WE'VE ALSO LEARNED THAT JACK STEWART IS FROM HENCEFORTH AND NOW ON, GOING TO CAUSE THE SHEKELS TO ROLL INTO CASEY'S CAMP.

Now that we can't cry about a new Physical building, maybe we can get Jack to build us a Stadium.

Well, anybody that can sell 960 season tickets all alone, is certainly welcome to park his feet in Casey's office—and that's for sure.

Bison Tennis Spud Beaten by City Stars

Callahan-Gronvold Win Only Match By Downing Doubles Team

The Bison Tennis squad was decisively beaten Saturday afternoon on the Island Park Courts by a textet of players representing the Fargo Tennis club. The score was 8 to 1.

The Bison were able to snatch but one match from the City, that being a doubles match, when Fred Gronvold and Chuck Callahan defeated the City's No. 1 doubles team, Chuck Phillips and C. P. Tenneson, by scores of 7-5; 7-5. In the singles, Phil Woledge defeated Gronvold, 6-3, 6-3; Phillips defeated Faber, 6-3, 6-1; Tenneson downed Knight, 6-4, 6-3; Weist won from Callahan, 6-4, 6-2; Christianson beat Adams, 6-2, 6-3; and John Woledge outpointed Bolmeier, 6-4, 6-3.

The State college boys showed a dire need of practice which they will have to get before the Conference and University of North Dakota matches roll around.

Casey Finnegan, athletic director, has arranged an attractive schedule for the team this year, which is as follows:

- May 8—Valley City Teachers—there.
- May 14—Valley City Teachers—here.
- May 17—U. N. D.—here.
- May 24—U. N. D.—there.
- May 30-31—North Central Conference meet, Brookings, S. D.

Relay Men Look Good Says Saaly

Wollan, Robertson Expected To Do Big Things This Year

"The relay men looked better than I expected," is the way Coach L. T. Saalwaechter expressed his feelings about the showing his team made in the Dakota Relays at Sioux Falls, Friday and Saturday.

The Bison were entered in five events capturing first in the pole vault only, while they took third in the 100 yard dash, second in the medley distance run, second in the mile relay and fourth in the 880 yard relay.

The performance of Joe Blakeslee in grabbing first honors in the pole vault for the second straight year, is to be commended. This year he was forced to vault into a strong wind but despite this handicap he cleared the bar at 11 feet 11 1/4 inches.

Ole Sand was somewhat of a disappointment in the 100 yard dash, being able only to capture third place, but this was not so bad considering the handicaps presented by inclement weather this spring.

According to Saaly the 880 yard relay presented the best chance for victory, but lack of practice in passing the baton slowed up their race considerably. The distance medley brought to light exceptional ability in two men, Robertson and Wollan, who both ran surprisingly well, a great deal may be expected from these two runners in the future.

Judging Contests Feature During 23rd Annual College May Festival

Saddle and Sirloin Club Sponsors Ag. Events

Agricultural judging contests feature inter-high school contests at the North Dakota State college at the 23rd annual May Festival, May 7 to 10, inclusive, it was announced by Lysness G. Lloyd, Fessenden, chairman of the committee from the Saddle and Sirloin club, sponsor of the stock, crop and poultry judging contests.

More than 1,000 high school students from North Dakota and western Minnesota will participate in these, and in the literary, athletic and home economics contests.

The agricultural judging contests will be Thursday and Friday, stock judged Thursday and poultry and crops Friday, unless inclement weather Thursday reverses the program.

Edward H. Jones, professor at the college, is state supervisor of agricultural education in the 44 Smith-Hughes high schools in North Dakota. Each school will send three delegates and every school including agriculture in the curriculum is expected to send a delegation.

Loving Cup for First

The agricultural college loving cup will be awarded to the team ranking highest in the judging of the college livestock and the Saddle and Sirloin traveling trophy will be given to the individual scoring highest. The latter must be won twice in succession before it becomes permanent property.

The cup was awarded to Harvey, in 1923; Noltmier Consolidated school, Valley City, in 1924; Benson County Agricultural school, Maddock, in 1925; Towner high school, in 1926; Walsh County Agricultural school, Park River, in 1927 and 1928; and Hankinson high school, in 1929.

In addition to the first prizes, medals and banners are awarded.

MONSON'S
LUGGAGE

WRITERS!

At last we are getting a few results in the quest for Student Opinion and literary effort. Several unsolicited poems have found their way into the office, and have received publication. Student Opinion, too, has been prevalent of late, and, since the editor has been instructed as to his right to reject some as incompatible with the policies of this paper, not all of it has appeared in printed form. Nevertheless we welcome these contributions at all times.

Yet, one is forced to admit that literary achievement on this campus is in a state of coma. What does exist is extremely modest, so it seems. The Writer's Club seems adverse to taking advantage of the columns of this paper. Oh, well, let us hope that some time, somewhere, some of our budding artists will burst into print with the splendor of big black headlines. Even if The Spectrum has not initiated their works, such fame will be gratifying.

Perhaps we have a Vachael Lindsay in our midst. Who knows?

Sigma Phi Delta Has Distinguished Guests

The following engineers were dinner guests at the Sigma Phi Delta house on Saturday: C. E. Skinner, assistant director of engineering of the Westinghouse company of Pittsburgh; William Skinner, director of railways, Northern States Power company of Minneapolis; Lewis C. Topping, plant engineer of the Northern States Power company of Fargo; Abner Ingebretson, connected with the Northern States Power company of Minneapolis; and Mr. Myron, traveling representative of the Westinghouse company for North Dakota.

C. E. Skinner recently returned from a six months' trip to the Orient, where he represented his company and allied companies at the World Power conference which was held at Tokio, Japan. He gave some interesting incidents, which were of particular interest to the fellows who have secured positions with Westinghouse, of his travels in the Orient and of his 40 years of experience with the Westinghouse company.

On Sunday, C. E. Skinner and William Skinner, and Mr. Ingebretson, who is an alumni of Epsilon chapter, were entertained at dinner.

Wise Guy vs The Sceptic

Dear Michael:

In a recent letter you harbor a hatred for modern music. Allow me to set you right.

There are, I believe, two chief reasons why modern music is not appreciated by the majority of the American public. The first reason is simply that the new art has been subjected to the genuine abuse of the press, which has sought to ridicule it; to the abuse of classical artists who do not appreciate its untold possibilities; to the mistreatment by the thousands of mediocre "jazz" orchestras whose musicians lack a sense of its real beauty. The second reason is that until lately very few have tried to express the loveliness of modern music.

This latter thought has influenced modern composers who feel deeply the true qualities of the new art which was born on the crest of the war-time fervor. Its simplicity and rhythm are the foundations of artistic appreciation itself. The brilliance and color that are created through proper composing have seldom been surpassed, even in the great musical masterpieces of the past. Excitement and warmth, tending towards brutality, dominate its expression. Its power of violently affecting any listener, no matter how unresponsive musically, is demonstrated on every hand. This tremendous vitality, founded on these several characteristics, is just beginning to be understood.

Some magazine writers have called it the expression of this new age, and the new music has come to mean to most people something hard, eccentric, common, trashy. None of these ideas seem correct. The day of jazz is over. Today's music reflects a new era of appreciation, a feeling that it typifies the beauties of melody stripped of their burdens of age and reflection. In other words, it is classicism without ponderance of experience. It is passionet and optimistic, appreciated by youth in all its forms, and by the older thinkers in the intricate creations.

Music inspires. Modern music merely stimulates new and different sensations. Though it can never possess the unlimited freedom or heavy reflection of works like Massenet's "Meditation from Thais", works that picture individual passions, individual personalities, it does call forth unheard of ideas, inspirations, and sensibilities. It allows a vast field of appreciation and is tremendously interesting. To grasp the significance of the new art takes as much training and inborn ability as were required by the old masters of their students.

I will grant that there are limitations. Modern music cannot lift one out of himself to another world of emotion, like the effect of classicism. But it forces its listener to live vigorously in the present. Moreover, modern music is seldom perfect in construction. Yet, there has been but one perfect life.

Johana.

Dear Johana:

I still contend that the best is the ideal. I am an idealist, and a wise guy. The most beautiful creations raise man above his natural classification with the brutes. Why not strive for the best?

Michael.
