STATE COLLEGE, NORTH DAKOTA FRIDAY, MARCH 7, 1930.

NUMBER 35

1930 BREVITIES

An album of snapshots on each of the nine acts staged in the N. D. S. C. show.

Wherein is given our impressions of the actors and their efforts.

With a few more first place winners as picked by The Forum.

WHAT WE SAW

During each of the three performances. The acts are taken up in the order of appearance. These criticisms are based on the student's viewpoint, and as such, should supplement the numerous other write-ups you have seen.

Kappa Delta

The act of Kappa Delta was awarded second place in the sorority division.

The curtain rises on a spacious scene. foreground is free; the background finds a tier of steps leading back in the center to a large round doorway; the color effects are in silver and black. A coed yell leader is induced to clog with a quartette of friends. Tommy Ottinger, as rooster king, announces the numbers, and puts forth strenuous efforts to get the act across. Then follows a dance number by a trio in cap and gown. A style show succeeds, the participants issuing from the rear entrance to the rhythm of the waltz, "Girl of My Dreams." Francis Wright, the last to enter, gives a waltz interpretation in the center of a v-shaped figure formed by the other actors. Two acrobatic dancers then take the reins, whereupon Marion South proves ability as a blues singer. The KD's soon enter in the garb of football players, and stage a practice and scrimmage. The finale finds the ensemble singing, "Hats." The curtain falls as the headwear is tossed in the air. This skit held the interest throughout; little time was wasted in the difficult changes; Mary Healy was perhaps the best dancer.

Y. M. C. A.

Three tumblers with painted bodies, purple trunks, and light tan tights, hasten through some really difficult feats. The affair is well planned and timed, keeping the audience in continual suspense. The boys performed better the first evening, but were given a good hand Tuesday night. This act was the only one of its kind, and stands out in the mind of the audience.

Alpha Sigma Tau

The stage is set to represent a fire hall. The characters are negroes, dressed in what appeared to be black and white clown suits. A quartette singing a negro spiritual, a clogging trio, and a crap game take up the first few minutes. Burton Kilbourne vocalizes on Lady Luck in a very pleasing manner, and is followed by a well-matched chorus. Harry Seebart stages a dance in a class all by itself. A fire call, set off by the noise of a siren and by weird lighting effects, is succeeded by the finale featuring "Great Day." In total darkness the Taus perform with phosphorous-covered gloves, a remarkable scene. At double time the boys stamp off the stage, singing, and carrying a long fire hose. Tony Faber supplied some good comedy effects. The act was pepped up on the last night, drawing tremendous applause.

Sigma Phi Delta

As the house lights go off we hear the whistle of a cold arctic wind. The scene opens with four, nearly-frozen, explorers squatting around a campfire. We learn that a forced aeroplane landing has placed them out of communication with the world; a rescue party is hoped for. Slow dialogue continues, set off by the laughs won by Reuben Schroeder with his Swedish accent. Presently we notice beautiful lights playing on the rear drape. These increase in intensity, presenting a truly remarkable spectacle. Around these Northern Lights the talk con-

Rifle Team Wins 35 Matches Up To First Of March

Shoot With "U" Falls Nine Points Short of World's Record

The North Dakota State Rifle Team was victorious over all its competitors for the week ending March 1. The team has now won 35 matches with college teams and has lost 7. The team is not shooting for competition this week.

Captain Ross was informed through officials at Washington that the score the team made in the shoulder-to-shoulder shooting at the University two weeks ago, fell short by 9 points to break the existing world's record, set recently by the University of Iowa. The score of the team, however, surpassed the world's record as recorded in the 1929 Intercollegiate Rifery handbook, and it was thought at the time the team had set a new record. The record as it stands has only been surpassed by that of the University of Iowa.

The scores for the week ending March 1 are: N. D. S. C., 10 men of 3666, 5 men 1863; West Virginia, 3566; University of Wisconsin, 3597; Cornell University, 3655; University of Wichita, 3320; University of Vermont, 3444; Davidson College, 3653; North Georgia A. C., 3437; Knox College, 3407; University of Michigan, 3530; Norwich University, 5 men, 1378.

The match with Norwich University was not scheduled and will not count on the intercollegiate rating.

HIGH SCHOOL STUDENTS DEBATE HERE SATURDAY

The Agriculture and Mechanic Arts High School, N. D. S. C., the Northwest School and Station, Crookston, and the West Central School will hold their annual triangular debate Saturday, March 8. Clarence Humphrey, Ira Methany, and Norval Nordahl will represent the A. M. A. at Crookston. The West Central School and Station, Morris, Minn., will send their team to Fargo where they will oppose Kenneth Ellingson, Alvin Diehle, and Ruben Wolter.

The question to be debated is "Resolved, that the jury system should be abolished."

TWO HUNDRED COUPLE ATTEND CHARITY BALL

About 200 couples attended the Charity Ball last Friday evening. The grand march was led by Luella McDunn and her partner, Claire Peterson, with Virginia Davis and her partner, Blair Seitz, second in line.

The Crystal Ballroom was decorated to represent a Spanish garden. A section of the floor was fenced off and tables were provided for the guests where refreshments were served.

Among the honored guests were members of Alpha Gamma Delta sorority and the following: President and Mrs. J. H. Shepperd, Dean Alba Bales, Dean and Mrs. L. L. Carrick, Dean Pearl Dinan, Dean and Mrs. R. M. Dolve, Dean and Mrs. A. E. Minard, Dean and Mrs. A. D. Weeks, Dean and Mrs. H. L. Walster, Director and Mrs. P. F. Trowbridge, Director and Mrs. C. E. Munroe, and Dean and Mrs. W. F. Sudro.

The ball was sponsored by the Pan-Hellenic council.

As a campus tradition, Seniors at the University of Indiana will this year again carry canes.

Fraternity Teams Near End Of Race

Sigs and Kappa Phis On Top With Sigma Taus in Second Place

The race for the championship of the inter-fraternity basketball league is nearing the end with only a few games remaining. At the present time Delta Kappa Sigma and Alpha Kappa Phi are in a deadlock for first place, with the Sigma Taus still in the running if the Kappa Phis succeed in upsetting the Sigs.

The Kappa Phi won an impressive victory over the Kappa Phis in a fast contest Wednesday night. The Kappa Phi had a commanding lead throughout, never being in danger. Hermes, stellar Kappa Phi guard, was the outstanding performer of the contest. His work on both the offense and the defense was the shining light for the winners. Hanson's clever ball handling and shooting was also worthy of note. Oscar Hanson and Kirwin were the mainstays for the losers, these two being the only ones to solve the Kappa Phi style of play.

The Delta Kappa Phi won by a forfeit from the Theta Chi aggregation when they failed to have their team there for the opening.

COSMOPOLITAN CLUB

Amid a profusion of colors, in a modernistic setting, the Cosmopolitan club will make merry tonight at a dance in the YMCA lobby. Arthur Knight, chairman of the social committee, and his assistants, June Fredeen and Joe Lindgren, have completed arrangements for the party, probably the last one to be held this year.

The affair will be informal. Chaperons are Prof. and Mrs. T. Worden Johnson, Miss Delphine G. Rosa, Mr. John F. Wychoff, and Prof. and Mrs. F. L. Weeks.

Max Meyer, the Missouri university psychologist, who was suspended last April for one year for his connection with the spreading of sex questionnaires, has confirmed a report that he will return to the university as soon as his year's suspension period is over. He completed his research work at the University of Chili, in South America, last month, and is now traveling through the states and visiting at various colleges and universities.

"Throw away your rabbit's foot and buy an alarm clock," Vice President Charles E. Curtis advises the graduating class of the Pearce School of Business Administration. "There is no secret way to wealthier happiness."

THETA CHI PLEDGES TO ENTERTAIN ACTIVES

Pledges of Theta Chi fraternity will be hosts to the active members at a party to be given in the fraternity home this evening. The rooms will be decorated as a country club and guests will be attired in sports clothes. William Macdonald is in charge of arrangements. Chaperons for the evening will be Dr. and Mrs. A. K. Smith and Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Sackett.

Canadians Seek Government Aid In Rum Question

Manitoba A. C. Are Guests Of State College After Debate

That the Canadian government should manufacture and control the sale of liquor, was the remedy advanced by the Manitoba Agricultural College debaters in upholding the affirmative of the question, "Resolved, that the Canadian Government should adopt stringent measures to prevent rum running into the United States." The debate was held in the Little Country Theater Wednesday evening, March 5.

Albert Buchli and Chester Walla upheld the negative against Messrs. Andrew Stewart and John Lancetot, representatives of the Manitoba A. C. Mr. Charles Heilman acted as chairman. The "Yellow and Green" and a selection entitled, "Forward, Agriculture", were sung by a quartette consisting of Erling Thorson, Paul Kassen, John Klein, and Les Madsen, accompanied by Kenneth Blanchard.

The no-decision debate was followed by an open forum and a social hour in the Lincoln Log Cabin.

GOLDEN GLOVE BOUTS POSTPONED FOR WEEK

The Golden Glove boxing tournament is nearing the end, four championship bouts being scheduled for next week's card, which was to be held last night but was definitely postponed until next Friday.

Lieut. Fay Smith, boxing instructor, has made several changes on the card, the most important probably is that Johnny Bond, classy middleweight contender of last year, will make his first bow when he faces Harry Lanz instead of French, who has recently withdrawn from school. Bond is probably one of the cleverest fighters in the middleweight division and it is the opinion that Lanz will have to show some real class if he expects to come out on top. Dutch Pung, the boy who has spilled his two opponents so far with his mighty right hand, will box Johnson, in the place of Phil Robinson, who has just returned to school after being ill. bout is for the championship of the class II. welterweight division.

Bobby Ward, classy lightweight, will box Paul Wohlwend for the class II. championship of this division. Joe Selliken will meet Altenberg for the crown among the class II. light heavies. Charlie Fox will box Allan Porte for the championship of the featherweight division in class I. as previously scheduled.

ALPHA SIGMA TAU WINS BREVITIES SALES CUP

Alpha Sigma Tau was awarded the sales trophy for selling the most tickets for the Bison Brevities. The competition closed last Friday after the managers from 15 organizations competing had checked in their tickets to Victor Madsen, manager of the campaign for Blue Key.

Over 1800 tickets were sold by the campus groups; of these the Sigma Taus sold over 300. Close behind the Taus were the Theta Chis. Glenn Richert who was manager of the Sigma Tau campaign and Stanley Raymond of the Theta Chis had prominent parts in the competition. Walt Lagerberg is credited with having sold the most tickets of any individual.

The trophy is being engraved and will become the property of the Taus as soon as it is completed. Delta Kappa Sigma won the cup last year.

Alpha Kappa Phi, Kappas, Win Cups In Brevities Acts

Kappa Delta and Delta Kappa Sigma Take Seconds in College Revue

Alpha Kappa Phi fraternity and Kappa Kappa Gamma sorority repeated last year's record in the Bison Brevities competition by winning first place in their respective divisions, and will be awarded the silver loving cup offered by Blue Key fraternity to the adjudged best acts of the North Dakota State show.

Second place in the sorority division was awarded to Kappa Delta for their act which was directed by Virginia Davis. Delta Kappa Sigma won second honors in the fraternity competition with their burlesque written and directed by William Shine.

"An Oriental Phantasy", the Alpha Kappa Phi act, directed by William Euren, as well as "Kappa Kappa Gambols", under the guiding hand of Mary Ricker, are described elsewhere in this edition.

Judges of the acts were: Mrs. Ruth Hazeltine, Mr. David Owen, and Mr. Mashek.

Blue Key Selects Six College Men

Shepperd, Doerr, Piper, Presler Ordahl, and Lindgren Named

National Blue Key Service Fraternity announces the election of four North Dakota State men to membership and two faculty men to honorary membership. President J. H. Shepperd and Prof. John Doerr were the faculty men recognized. The following students were honored: Kenneth Piper, of Kappa Psi fraternity; Stafford Ordahl, a Theta Chi member; Joe Lindgren, of Cosmopolitan Club; and Henry Presler, a Delta Kappa Sigma.

These men will be initiated in the near future, it is announced.

Blue Key has chapters in about fifty colleges and universities throughout the country.

WRITER CLUB DECIDES ON NEW SET OF RULES

At a meeting of the Writers' Club held recently at the home of Karl Gerteis, an entirely different change in rules governing the club was effected. Meetings hereafter will be held every three weeks, and the program will be under the direction of a program chairman selected at the previous meeting. Any member who is absent for three consecutive meetings except on account of serious illness or absence from town shall be automatically dropped. It was also decided that the matter of a mimeographed sheet containing the best of the year's work would be considered as a publication in the spring.

The next meeting will be held Sunday evening, March 9, at the home of Aldyth Pinkham. All members are asked to be present in compliance with the new rules now in effect.

ATTENDS BREVITIES

John Howard, director of the 1930 Flickertail Follies of the University of North Dakota, and Joseph Mader, Jr., instructor in journalism, were guests at an informal supper given by Prof. Homer Huntoon and Everett Wallum, director and manager of the Bison Brevities, and members of the Blue Key following the performance Monday evening. The affair was held in the Powers hotel.

Mrs. Gooden, employment secretary, has on file letters from some local and national companies who are seeking contact with our graduates. One company writes: "We will be in a position to place several junior engineers in our Tropical organization in June. If any of your civil engineering seniors are interested, we will be glad to receive their applications."

A SETTLED FACT
Yes, the Brevities are here to stay. Without a doubt the show as managed by Messrs. Huntoon and Wallum exceeded last year's production, and in the minds of the student body and the townspeople the Brevities are now a permanent feature of North Dakota State's annual program.

Ebullitions of Ebony Blott

Now that the architecture department has adequately taken care of Fargo 38 years from now, we might just as well take a glimpse at the college in 1968. Here's a few collegiate excerpts from a Fargo diary:

MARCH 7, 1968
Holding that the North Dakota Agricultural college library lacks capacity for handling students and a growing number of books, Mrs. Ethel McVeety, librarian, hurled a challenge of intimidating note at the board of administration today. Pursuant to remarks that the building was large enough she also hurled a few volumes of Tennyson - - -

Forgetful Fargoans who take correspondence courses to recoup their lost memory would perhaps do better to interview A. H. Parrott, genial North Dakota Agricultural College registrar. In all the years of his service, he has never failed to recognize a student's face. "If you saw the beezers that I have to look at, I don't see how you could forget 'em," he explains.

How to raise poultry on the roof of your own home, at the same time making sure that the birds will be prime for the fall market, is the subject of a correspondence course devised by T. W. Thordarson, director of correspondence instruction at the North Dakota Agricultural college. "By cross breeding, I now have a type of hen that has long claws when hatched. The claws gradually disappear and just at the time of year when the meat is most tender, the talons have so disappeared that the bird falls off the roof, getting killed," Thordarson stated. He also pointed out that barber chairs could surround the house for those who wanted egg shampoos.

Rumors that A. G. Arvold, founder of the Little Country Theater at the North Dakota Agricultural college, has mysteriously disappeared were proved unfounded today. It developed that Mr. Arvold acquired a cold a week ago and has not been able to talk above a whisper.

Definite action in securing a permanent president for the North Dakota Agricultural college will be taken next week, the state board of administration announced. Reports that J. H. Shepperd, acting president for the past 38 years, would be named head of the institution has been given wide credence.

The enrollment at the University of Michigan for the second semester is 8,889 students.

Student Judging Contest Running This Afternoon

Short Course And Ag Students Participating In Contest

The annual student judging contest is being held from 8 a. m. on through the day. All agricultural students and those in farm husbandry and short course work will be participants. The contest is sponsored by the Saddle and Sirlain club at the college in order to give the students opportunity to get experience in stock judging to exhibit at the International Livestock show at Chicago in the fall. Carl Ash, St. Vincent, Minn., is in charge of the show and is being assisted by Wayne Weiser.

Five classes of livestock, two rings of each, will be judged by the entrants. Classes include horses, beef cattle, dairy cattle, hogs and sheep. Each participant will give his reasons for placing the rings as he does to one of the judges, including W. W. Brown, Amenia, beef cattle; George Baker, animal husbandry department at the college, horses; Harry Marsden, Hendrum, Minn., hogs; William Guy, Amenia, N. D., sheep; and Prof. J. R. Dice, dairy department, dairy cattle. Two minutes will be given the students to judge and fifty percent will be on placings and fifty percent on reasons.

Squad leaders for the affair include Donald Lawrence, sheep; Alvin Lee, Valley City, beef cattle; Arthur Zeigler, Fingal, dairy cattle; and Leonard Luther, Mandan, hogs.

The winner will receive the Saddle and Sirlain medal awarded each year to the winner of the contest.

From 100 to 180 cases are treated daily by students in the college of dentistry at Ohio State.

Athletic Program Of State College Has Many Sports

More Than 600 Students Are Entered In Organized Competition

NEW GYMNASIUM TO AID

Golf and Tennis Will Become Prominent on State Sport Calendar

"Athletics for all" seems to be the slogan at North Dakota State when one reviews the extensive program of intramural and interscholastic activities available for every student. At the present time there are more than 600 male students participating in some form of athletics. With the completion of the auditorium in 1931 it is expected that even greater attention can be given to sports, and to the effort to give Bison students sound bodies as well as keen minds. At the present time physical education is compulsory for all freshmen.

Finnegan Makes Statement
"The greater emphasis on physical training and exercise is in line with the changing times everywhere," Mr. Finnegan pointed out. "Business men realize its value to themselves and their employees. The shorter working day and week gives more time for play and focuses attention on the importance of the right kind of recreation."

Physical education is not a mere routine of calisthenics, a monotonous round of "arms overhead" or "full knee bend", "one, two, one, two," at North Dakota State. Regulated play and friendly athletic competition that bring mental refreshment are in the new order of things.

"Every normal youth has a natural liking for one or more kinds of play," Mr. Finnegan said. "That is the reason that there are more than 160 men participating in our intramural basketball program which is now at its height. In the two leagues of eight teams each there is keen rivalry for supremacy and the awards such as cups or appropriate emblems that go to the winning groups."

Varied Sports
The interest in other forms of sport is evidenced by a glance at the class enrollments; more than 160 men in boxing, 38 in tumbling, 30 in hockey, 19 in wrestling, and a large number are expected to take to the courts and the links when weather permits play in tennis and golf.

Greater interest than ever before in golf is anticipated by Mr. Finnegan because of the presence in school of Paul Cook, sophomore, and state champion. Cook's remarkable performances last summer have given a great impetus to the game which was added to the physical education program for the first time last year.

Basketball
Organization of an intramural baseball league in a few weeks will open a new field of play to those now

ATHLETIC DIRECTOR

Casey Finnegan

Since the arrival of Casey Finnegan in the fall of 1928, the athletic program of North Dakota State has grown by leaps and bounds until now nearly every man in the college engages in some kind of sport.

enrolled in the indoor games. The expanding and varied program has now reached a stage where "Athletics for all" is more than a slogan at North Dakota State College. It is nearing a reality.

The greater physical education program began last year under Mr. Finnegan's direction, has exceeded the most ardent expectations, in the opinion of college authorities. From 8 a. m. to 11 p. m. every school day now finds groups of students genuinely enjoying and whole-heartedly taking part in some game or contest in the armory. Crowded quarters is the only factor that now worries the instructors. It is not uncommon while a basketball class is in progress to see boxers working out in the corners while track men are circling the borders of the court.

New Gymnasium
Even though the men's dormitory should be completed this year the loss of the present facilities available in the basement of that building will be more than made up for by the larger space available in the basement of the new gymnasium, which is to be completed this summer," Mr. Finnegan pointed out. "The new gymnasium basement will give our athletic plant a space almost twice that of the men's dormitory basement and will permit a further expansion in several classes of intramural sports."

According to a recent report from the Yale bureau of appointments, about $50,000 was saved by 57 wives of Yale graduate and professional students while their husbands were going to school.

Illinois State estimates the annual loss of $1,000,000,000 to farm crops caused by weeds.

Prep Tournament Scheduled Tonight In State Armory

Midgets Are Pre-Tourney Favorites; Finnegan Is Manager

The annual District high school basketball tournament, under the management of North Dakota State College, will get under way tonight when the Fargo high school Midgets will clash with Hunter at 7:30. Tower City drew a bye and will meet the winner of the Fargo-Hunter game Saturday morning at 10 o'clock. Hillsboro and Hope will meet in the second game tonight, the winner being scheduled to meet Casselton at 11 o'clock Saturday morning. Casselton also drew a bye in the first round. The championship will be decided when the winners of the semi-finals clash Saturday night at 8:30. The losers in the semi-final games will play it off for third place in the game preceding the championship tilt.

Fargo has been installed as a favorite in the pre-tournament dope but there is plenty of competition and it would not be at all surprising to see the highly touted Midgets ousted from the running. Each team will be limited to eight men and these names will have to be submitted to the officials before the tournament opens.

C. C. Finnegan, athletic director, will be the manager of the tournament; Frank Munn and Earl Bute will be floor officials, while the elimination committee consists of J. H. Bricker, Fargo; Supt. L. Lantz, Casselton; and Supt. G. O. Lindgren, Hope.

The North Dakota State students will be admitted for 35 cents, while the general admission will be 50 cents.

COLLEGE Y AND CITY Y TO HOLD TOURNAMENT

A series of elimination contests are being conducted at the college Y, according to Joe Lindgren, president. The best performers in checkers, chess, pool, bowling, swimming, wrestling, boxing, and basketball will take part in the downtown meet. All interested see Mr. Lindgren.

tinues, until the drone of a plane announces the rescue party. In the vivid light the party hails the ship, the cook waves his coffee pot, and the audience applauds.

Kappa Kappa Gamma

This act won first place in the sorority division.

A set of books holds the center of the stage. At each extremity are two brown skinned girls in green costume and turbin, resting in statue effect to represent bookends. Six coeds issue from the books to dance in chorus. On their retirement Mary Ricker, director of the act, glides to the center of the stage to give her interpretation of "I Think You're Wonderful." As a blues singer Miss Ricker is a knockout, and should be adjudged the best of the entire show. As the strains of Japanese Sunset are heard the live bookends take the spotlight in an impressive, Oriental dance. Miss Ricker and Miss Weible now come to the foreground to sing "Just An Hour Of Love With You", as accompaniment to a dance by five graceful girls dressed in pink gowns. Harries Pasmore leads as soloist. The finale finds all taking part in a chorus. This act was good at the matinee, better Monday night, and excellent the last night.

Alpha Kappa Phi

Awarded first place in fraternity competition.

An Oriental Fantasy. To do justice to this act requires more space than is available. Exceptional musical talent supplies a male chorus of eleven coolies, a mandarin dreamer—Don Brasseur, the best male voice of the Brevities—and a snappy twelve piece band. All music is on the Oriental theme, and is arranged by William Euren who now has the distinction of managing and directing two winning acts. The costumes and stage setting are excellent. Green and blue lighting effects continue the scheme. The outstanding features, if any can be separated, are Brasseur's solo work, Cy Lonsbrough and his comedy skits, Lloyd Rawalt's piano solos, Billy playing six horns, and the trumpet quartette. The finale featuring "Chinatown" wound up an act which left the audience bubbling with praise.

Phi Omega Pi

In our opinion this was one of the outstanding acts. The scene represented a kitchenette, and the characters were grocery boys, cooks, vegetables, ice men, etc. A chorus of waitresses dressed in green, pink, and yellow open this presentation dancing to "In a Kitchenette." The girls perform very nicely and are succeeded by a clogging trio. The best singing group of the entire show take the stage to entertain with a take-off on "I'm Following You." Have you heard the Biltmore trio as record for Brunswick? Grace Swanson does her usual good work, this time in a bug dance. The ensemble winds up the show in a perfectly executed finale. The climax comes as the curtain falls; a chorus and dance pep up the proceedings to the point where, amid much enthusiasm, up turned stools exhibit the sorority name. A very good act, one affording comedy and talent.

Delta Kappa Sigma

Winner of second place in fraternity division.

The Trial of Mary Blugan was the cleverest act of the list. Written by William Shine, director, this comedy, farce presents a well connected progression of laughs which carries the audience along with the enthusiasm displayed by the Sigs. Sixteen "boneheads" make up a court scene including a jury, judge, bailiff, attorney, etc. The outstanding comedy work came from the Cop, Harold Ebersviller; the Plumbers, Dick Scott and Art Cayou; the Detective, Malve McKone. Frank and Ira Clark deserve distinction as the best clogging team appearing. The trio sang "My Gal Sal" and "Happy Days" with a vengeance, while Earl Welch, as Mary Blugan, did excellent work in his interpretation of a Broadway flapper. The finale found a chorus of male voices and the clogging team crashing through to a second place win.

Gamma Phi Beta

A good act constructed around the advertising theme. The first few minutes feature a vocal duet assisted by a chorus of six bellboys. Smith Brothers Cough Drops next appear in a song and dance. Florence Fleming takes things in her own hands with her work in the dance of the fire demon. The Spectrum judges Miss Fleming the best dancer of the entire performance. Rhoda Marr, as the feature of Time To Retire, sang Go To Bed in an impressive manner. A chorus of pajama-clad beauties then trip onto the stage to present a lovely flashlight scene. The finale finds the entire chorus in song. The Gamma Phi presented an act of originality. It was carefully worked out and presented, a fitting close to the show.
