Military Ball Ticket Sales Show Progress

Alf Skaret Reports that Crystal Ballroom Will Be Army Post

SENIOR CADETS TO FORM SABER ARCH

Many Notables of Military World Are Among Honored Guests

Since the opening of the ticket drive for the Military Ball on January 7th, over one half of the quota had already been filled at noon today according to Victor Madsen, chairman of the sales committee.

The ball will be held at the Crystal Ballroom, January 17th, and will be characterized by many novel features all in keeping with a military affair. The scheme of decorations, according to Lieutenant Alf Skaret head of the committee, will mark the party as one of the outstanding Military Balls given at the college. Sentries, the guard house, rolling kitchens, army cooks, and a bugler combine to transform the Crystal Ballroom into a military post.

The Grand March, led by Cadet Captain Baldwin and Miss Helen Carstenson with Cadet Lieutenant Colonel Parsons and Miss Glade Cowles, honorary Lieutenant Colonel second in line, will pass through an arch of sabers formed by the cadet officers of the Senior class.

Among the guests who will be present at the affair are: Col. D. S. Ritchie, 7th Corps Area, Omaha, Neb.; Col. E. M. Norton, 7th Corps Area, Omaha, Neb.; Col. W. C. Sweeny, Commandant, Fort Snelling, Minn.; Captain Anders, Fargo; Adj. Gen. G. A. Fraser, North Dakota national guard; Lieut. Miller Haskell, Minneapolis, 7th Corps Area, Inspector of Scabbard and Blade, and Governor G. S. Schafer.

Governor Shafer To Speak Here Thursday

State Executive Will Address Farmer-Homemaker Week Guests

Geo. F. Shafer, Governor of North Dakota, will address the North Dakota Farmers and Homemakers Week here Thursday, Jan. 16, according to an announcement made by W. C. Palmer, secretary of the Week.

No special topic has been suggested by Governor Shafer, but it is anticipated by those in charge of the Week that the addresses will be especially adapted to the occasion. He will talk before the beef cattle, Holstein and beekeepers meetings during the day.

Long years of study of local agricultural problems, both economic and social, give Governor Shafer a background from which to draw. He is a North Dakota product, having spent the greater part of his life in McKenzie county.

SIGMA THETA PLEDGES TO ENTERTAIN TONIGHT

Pledges of Sigma Theta sorority will entertain the active chapter at an informal dancing party in the Y. M. C. A. at 8:30 p. m. Friday.

Jean Pote is chairman of the arrangements for the affair and is being assisted by the thirteen pledges. Chaperones for the evening are Dr. and Mrs. W. C. Hunter, Miss Nancy Elliot, Prof. John Doerr, and Mrs. W. F. Hanks. Honored guests will be Dr. and Mrs. R. Bowers and Mr. and Mrs. Chas. M. Pollock. The Vagabonds will play.

UNDERGOES OPERATION
Miss Haries Pasmore, Chicago, senior in the school of Science and Literature, will not return to resume her studies for several weeks, having just undergone an appendicitis operation during the holidays.

Bison Eleven to Play Mich. State, Nov. 8

North Dakota's bison football eleven will journey to East Lansing, Mich., next fall and play the powerful Michigan State college team in their stadium Nov. 8.

Coaching the Spartans is "Sleepy" Jim Crowley, one of the famed four horsemen of Notre Dame. Crowley succeeded Harry Kipke, now coaching at the University of Michigan. His teams so far have shown the marks of the Rockne coaching system.

This is one of the most attractive football games ever scheduled by the North Dakota Agricultural College, Director of Athletics, C. C. Finnegan, declared in announcing the contract with Director R. H. Young of the Michigan college.

Sororities Compete For Dog Show Trophy

Prizes for Second and Third Places Will Be Awarded

Fluffy chow puppies, gigantic danes and Russian wolf hounds will take part in the second annual dog show given in connection with the Little International show here Thursday, Jan. 16, at 8 p. m.

Each year campus sororities have entered one representative together with a registered canine. The college alumni association donates to the first prize winner a silver loving cup engraved with the contestant's name. Second and third places will be given awards, but according to Charles Challey, director of the show, they have not as yet been selected.

Entries to date are as follows: Alpha Xi Beta, Thelma Nelson, chow dog; Phi Omega Pi, Hazel Redman, chow dog; Sigma Theta, Jean Pote, great dane; Kappa Kappa Gamma, Mary Ricker, Russian wolf hound; Phi Kappa Lambda, Evelyn Gaebe, Russian wolf hound. Kappa Delta sorority has chosen Jeanette Lee as its entry but has not selected the dog to be exhibited.

FOUR MORE SIGS NEWLY ENGAGED

The fever of romance which has raged through the ranks of the Delta Sigs since fall consumed four more victims during Christmas vacation, bringing the toll to about half of the active chapter. Myrdall, N. Baldwin, Law, and Wyard salute Dan Cupid, while the Pop's, Kappa's, and Sigma Theta's await ten pound boxes of delicious chocolates; no, let us say five pound boxes and be easy on the boys.

Four State Gridders Play in New Year Game

Lonsborough, Ordahl, McGrath, and Hiltz See Action in Intersectional Tilt

Four North Dakota State football stars played stellar roles in the intersectional game at Denver, Colo., on New Years day, when the North Central Conference all-stars played the pick of the Rock Mountain conference.

Cy. Lonsborough, the elongated Bison half back, played great ball for his conference team, his work on the secondary defense being especially impressive, and drawing considerable comment from the critics. Ordahl, Bison center, surprised the fans by completely outplaying the his opposing center. Ordahl relieved McMillan, N. D. U. center for about half of the contest. Hiltz and McGrath, end and tackle, respectively, also made creditable showings during their turn at the post.

The game ended with the North Central conference on top of a 13 to 6 score.

Only Four Flunks In Huntoon's Department

"Shows we're going to do the job right," declared Prof. Homer B. Huntoon head of the department of architecture, in commenting on the fact that the 57 students in architecture drew only four "flunk" slips in the fall quarter.

Along with the fact that Kappa Tau Delta, honorary architectural fraternity is second on the organizations honor roll and an architect is among the ten high in the institution makes the versatile architect head wear a pleased smile these days.

Elias Serenaders Convocation Guests

Nature Instruments and Dances of Jugo-Slavia Are Program Features

The Elias Tamburitza Serenaders of Jugo-Slavia will present an unusually attractive program during convocation period Monday morning in the Armory. This feature was secured by Dean Minard, chairman of the convocation programs.

Jugo-Slavia is a little country lying on the Balkan Peninsula, east of Italy, south of Hungary, west of Roumania and Bulgaria, and north of Greece, with a population of about twelve million. It is composed mostly of Serbs, Croats, and Slovenes and is now ruled by the King of Serbia. Much of this territory was included in the Austrian Monarchy until the recent World War gave them their freedom.

The Tamburitza has been the household musical instrument of the Jugo-Slavs for generations. It is something similar to our mandolin or guitar, but has much more sweetness of tone and is especially adapted to orchestra work. It was invented by the shepherds watching their flocks and was later perfected by Mr. Milutin Pl. Farkas.

The Elias Tamburitza Serenaders are natives of Jugo-Slavia and appear in their native costumes, presenting a program of native music, song and story, as well as standard popular and classical numbers of this country.

Charles Elias, manager and director of this company, is an accomplished musician, teacher, and composer. He has studied music both in Europe and this country and will include some of his own compositions on the program.

Martha and Charles Elias, Jr., are the two children of Mr. Elias, both graduates of the high schools of the United States. They are clever young musicians and entertainers and will appear in some of the native dances of their country. Miss Martha plays piano and Charles plays violin, in addition to their native tamburitza.

Nickola Krznarich plays the Berdo, which corresponds to the string bass in American orchestras, as well as a number of other instruments. He has been a student of Mr. Elias for six years and is an accomplished musician and entertainer.

Dog Show Featured At International

The Inter-sorority Dog Show will be a feature of the Little International Live Stock Show to be held Thursday, Jan. 16. A silver loving cup, presented by the Alumni Association, is to be the reward of the winner. The judges are the same as last year, including Dr. Schalk and Dr. Catland.

A milking contest will be staged between the downtown service clubs on Thursday evening. All service clubs are eligible to enter a contestant.

Arthur Zeigler, manager of the Little International says: "There are more entrants this year than ever before, and contestants are still coming in. This show promises to be the best show ever staged at North Dakota State College."

PROFESSORS DISCUSS CARNEGIE REPORT

College athletics in the light of the Carnegie Foundation report was discussed at a meeting here today of the North Dakota Agricultural College chapter of the American Association of University Professors. Dr. W. C. Hunter, president, presided at the meeting, and talks were given by A. F. Schalk, John E. Doerr, F. C. Householder and C. J. Sunde.

THIS IS MAYBE SIGNIFICANT

FRANCES ROSS TEACHES IN CASSELTON H. SCHOOL

Frances Ross, senior in the school of Home Economics, is practice teaching in Casselton High School this week.

Agriculturists To Furnish Club Rooms

When Dr. H. L. Walster, dean of the school of agriculture, and members of the Saddle and Sirloin Club and all agricultural student organizations on the campus, selected an appropriate name for their club room in the new wing of agricultural hall, they went to the Sioux Indian language and chose "Te pe-wah ka" which in the tongue means "council house."

Te pe-wah-ka, besides serving as a meeting place for the different agricultural organizations and as a student "common room," will be used as a museum and library in which it is proposed to place books, pictures and specimens relating to agriculture and also to the American bison or pe-tay as the Sioux called the animal.

The different agricultural clubs and organizations, among which are Alpha Zeta fraternity, Agricultural Club and Saddle and Sirloin Club, plan to aid in furnishing the Te pe-wah ka. Saddle and Sirloin Club members recently voted to appropriate $150 out of their treasury to be applied toward the purchase of suitable furniture for the room.

Charity Ball Plans Progressing Rapidly

February 28 Is the Date Set by Luella McDunn, Pan-Hellenic President

Great plans are being made by the committee heads in charge of the annual charity ball according to Luella McDunn who is president of the college pan-hellenic council, and will lead the grand march of the evening.

February 28 has been selected as the date for the function which will be held in the Crystal ballroom from 8:30 to 12 p. m.

Committee chairmen have been named by Miss McDunn and will soon have the personnel of their respective groups made out. They are as follows: decorations, Emily Samuelson; music, Katherine Knerr; publicity, Frances Ross; programs and invitations, Hazel Harris; entertainment, Margaret Green; tickets, Margaret Ballard; finances, Ruth Whitney; refreshments, Margaret Moore.

Each year returns from the ticket sales are donated to some worthy charity need. Last year the community chest received the receipts.

HOME WELFARE TO FEATURE WOMEN'S SHORT COURSE

Talks and lectures designed to promote welfare of the home are scheduled to feature the women's short course to be held at the North Dakota Agricultural College, Jan. 15, 16 and 17, it was announced by Alba Bales, dean of home economics and who, with Grace DeLong, state home demonstration leader, is in charge of the program. Discussions will be held in the lecture room of Ceres hall.

A large number of homemakers thruout North Dakota are expected to attend this educational feature which is held annually in conjunction with Farmers and Homemakers Week, this year set for Jan. 14-17, Miss Bales says.

At 9 a. m. Wednesday, Jan. 15, Miss DeLong will outline the purpose of the course, followed by a lecture, "Ways of Preparing and Serving Leafy Vegetables", by Elvira Smith, professor of home economics. A talk by Dorothy Hatch, associate professor of art and design on "Selection, Arrangement and Hanging Pictures" and a discussion of the master farm home-maker movement, led by Miss Bess Rowe, field editor of the "Farmers Wife", completes the morning program.

Julia Brekke, clothing specialist, opens the afternoon classes with the first of a series of demonstrations on music in the home, and will be followed by Dr. B. K. Kilbourne, department of health, Fargo, who will lecture on health laws and how to develop healthier children.

Climaxing the day's events is the Master Farm Homemakers banquet to be given in Ceres hall at 7 p. m. Five North Dakota homemakers will be honored.

Features on the Thursday, Jan. 16, program include talks by Alba Bales, Constance Leeb, Lucille Horton and Nancy Elliott, and a shopping tour thru Fargo. Nursery problems will take up the bulk of the Friday morning program, with Alba Bales and Frances Jones giving talks. At noon, a luncheon will be served.

State Students Show Two Point Gain In Average

Alpha Zeta Has The Highest Group Average of 89.1

BARBER AND JENSON LEAD HONOR ROLL

Alpha Sigma Tau Heads Social Scholastic Fraternities

Showing a gain of nearly two points over the five year average of the college and aided by the excellent standings of the honorary fraternities as well as the social groups on the campus, the general institutional average reached a new high point of 81.6 for the fall quarter.

Leading the honorary fraternities was Alpha Zeta, honorary agriculture fraternity with Alpha Xi Beta, topping the social scholastic sorority list. Sigma Phi Delta headed the social professional fraternity list while Alpha Sigma Tau and Kappa Sigma Chi deadlocked at 82.9.

The general institutional average for all students in all curricula was 81.6. This includes the students enrolled in regular college work, high school and the industrial department. The standing of the regular undergraduate students of collegiate rank was 79.8. The schools of agriculture and education tied for highest place with averages of 80.6.

Tie For High

Louis M. Barber, Bismarck, junior in electrical engineering, and Helen E. Jensen, 1015 Fifth av S, freshman in education, tied for individual honors at the head of the 10 highest list with averages of 95.5. Hartley Eckstrom, 418 Twelfth st N, freshman in chemistry and engineering, and Mrs. Mary Sands, 1024 Fourteenth st N, home economics freshman, tied for third and fourth honors with 94.4. Honors for fifth and sixth place was claimed by E. Hoyt DeKleine, Washington, D. C., senior in science and literature, and Henry Zwerg, Sheboygan, Wis., who both held 94.2 standings.

First Boxing Card To Exhibit Fighters

Cliff Bollman and Frank Dovarak to Resume Hostilities in Opener

The first Boxing program of the current year will make its debut the latter part of this month, according to Lieut. Fay Smith, instructor for the scrappers.

The main event scheduled for the opening classic will be a match between the two middleweight veterans of last season, Cliff Bollman and Dovarak. This pair staged a sizzling four round battle last winter, with Bollman being returned the winner. The battle was fought on even basis until Dovarak delivered a foul blow that cost him the contest. There has been much comment about this contest throughout the year and a large crowd is anticipated for the opening card. Several other attractive bouts are being scheduled, the exact date for the matches has not as yet been definitely determined.

FROSH HOCKEY TEAM TO PLAY DETROIT LAKERS

Choosing Your Room-Mate

Your room-mate will either make or break you during the coming term. He is going to be the most important factor in the keeping of peace, so choose a good one. There are room-mates and room-mates. Because a man comes up to you and says, "Let's room together," don't do it unless you know the fellow. Remember, first, that he is going to be with you for a semester or more.

Try to get a fellow who has the same tastes, and if possible, the same ambitions as you. If you enjoy studying at night try to find out whether your room-mate has studious inclinations. It will get your goat if every time you sit down to study he begins talking, singing, or giving an oriental dance.

Try to get a fellow with the same habits.

Try to get a fellow with the same ideals.

It is best to get a room-mate whom you like to pal around with all the time. DON'T get one whom you must see at night and that's all. Get one who, whenever you go anywhere, will go along, too. Room-mates should be pals, not merely friends.

If you don't like some of the things he does correct him in a decent way. If he doesn't change, remember that you can always leave him; that is the best thing to do.

Finally, remember that there is no disgrace in rooming alone; it is far better to room alone than to get a fellow with whom you can't get along. Get a good room-mate.

Alexander G. Ruthven, president of the University of Michigan, in a recent address, stated "Students can have all the self-government they desire as far as I am concerned." He made one qualification to his statement, however, to the effect that "the students as a whole or in groups must be willing to assume responsibility for their acts."

Livestock Breeders Hold Meetings Here During Next Week

E. M. Harmon, Associate Editor of Successful Farming Will Give Address

In the interest of better agriculture, several hundred members and friends of the North Dakota Livestock Breeders association will meet here for their annual meeting Jan. 16-17. These sessions are to be held in conjunction with the thirty-first annual Farmers and Homemakers Week Jan. 14-17. The plans are to hold the sectional meetings of the breeders association on Thursday and Friday, according to Geo. J. Baker, secretary, and the general meeting of the association Friday afternoon.

The Holstein breeders will meet all day Thursday, and among the speakers is E. M. Harmon, associate editor, Successful Farming, Des Moines, Ia. His topic will be "The Breeders Obligation." The horse breeders association of the state has arranged to put on the big hitch, consisting of five, six, eight and twelve horse teams, on Thursday morning. This will be under the supervision of a representative of the Horse Association of America.

Beef Breeders Meet Thursday
The beef breeders meeting will be held Thursday afternoon. Following the general cattle meeting will be held the separate meetings of the Short-horn breeders and the Angus breeders. If the Hereford breeders wish to organize, they may use this same time for their meeting, states Mr. Baker.

The Little International will be held Thursday evening. On Friday morning the Guernsey breeders, sheep breeders and the swine breeders will meet. Speakers of note including C. B. Finley, Guernsey field man for this territory, and Col. E. S. Person, Minot, president of North Dakota Guernsey Breeders club, will be in attendance at these meetings. Dean W. C. Coffey of the University of Minnesota will attend the sheep breeders meetings and assist with the plans for the coming year. At the close of the general swine and sheep meetings the separate breed associations will hold their annual meetings.

The general business meeting of the association will be held about 1 p. m. Friday in the Little Lob Cabin. Dr. J. H. Shepperd, acting president of the college, will welcome the livestock breeders. Among other speakers of the afternoon are Mr. E. M. Harmon, Dean W. C. Coffey and other notable speakers.

Banquet Friday
The joint banquet of the Saddle and Siroin club and the Livestock Breeders association will be held Friday evening. At this banquet the portrait of some outstanding character in North Dakota agriculture will be unveiled. This will later be hung in the Saddle and Siroin club Hall of Fame. A program has been provided for the evening. Sam Crabbe of Fargo is president of the North Dakota Livestock Breeders association. Open rate of fare and one-half for round trip tickets will be given on all North Dakota railroads.

More than $5,000,000 worth of new structures and improvements are under way at Cornell University, Ithaca, New York.

A course in cheerleading is being offered to the students of Marquette University.

ADDITIONAL ASSETS

Special consideration of rural and urban epidemiological problems, sewage disposal, water supplies, infant hygiene, vital statistics, is given by the Department of Bacteriology consisting of Professor Casper Nelson, H. R. Thornton, and Miss D. G. Rosa. to the students enrolled in the 21 courses offered.

Much of the work is carried out in the laboratory located at present in the basement floor of Science and Literature. Lectures and recitations on the material experimented with in the laboratory complete the courses.

Bacteriological research work is available to students accepted as candidates for advanced degrees.

In the Physical Training course at the University of Oklahoma the students are required to walk up the 60 rows of steps in the stadium.

ninth places with 94.1 averages. Gerald Garlid, Cooperstown, science and literature freshman, claimed ninth with 94 and Lois Minard, 1411 Thirteenth st N, sophomore in home economics, was tenth.

"The competition for places on the honor roll was very keen this quarter," said Mr. Parrott. "Never before have the last places on the list required such a high grade. It is interesting to note that Lois Minard secured a place with an average of 93.9, but her brother, Edwin, junior in the school of chemistry, failed to place with an average of 93.8."

Three May Tie

Next below Minard among those who also held high grades in a three-way tie at 93.6 between James Moore, Devils Lake; Edward Comm, 745 First st N, and Archie Solberg, Lakota.

Alpha Zeta, honorary agricultural fraternity, led the list of student organizations with a group standing of 89.1. This was succeeded by Kappa Tau Delta, honorary architectural group, who held an 88.2 average. The other organizations in order of their standing follow: Pi Gamma Mu, 88.1; Phi Beta Nu, 87.8; Rho Chi, 87.6; Alpha Phi Omega, 86; Alpha Xi Beta, 85.9; State College Engineering staff, 85.8; Scabard and Blade, 85.5; American Institute of Electrical Engineers, 85.3; Sigma Phi Delta, 85.2; Student commission, 85.1; Gamma Tau Sigma, 85; Guidon, 85; Saddle and Siroin, 84.9; Y. ### RESOLUTIONS THAT WEREN'T MADE THIS YEAR

FRED HOUSEHOLDER: "From now on, students can stay away from my eight o'clocks until 8:30. A little sleep at the right time does a person good."

KENNETH McCULLOUGH: "Never again shall I bruise fair maids' cheeks with wiry whiskers."

ELENE WEEKS: "RELIGION, PROHIBITION, INTELLECTUALISM, AND SUBDUED EMOTIONS OF THE CROCODILE ARE OFF MY CONVERSATIONAL LIST FROM THIS DAY HENCE. MY MIND HAS TURNED TO BEAUTIFUL THOUGHTS OF POLLYWOGS, SANTA CLUZ AND CHOCALUT CAKE."

LEONARD SAALWAECHTER: "I resolve to watch every basketball game in which my men play with a calm and unruffled mind. Tense moments of play will find me reflecting upon transcendentalism in literature, and after the game, I'll buy a paper to see how it came out."

ETHEL M'VEETY: "Students from now on can take any book out they want and keep them forever if desirable. Here, we've been yipping about lack of room. Humph! And we've never thought of this way out before."

SERGEANT CULPEPPER: "ALL ARM YPANTS WILL HAVE BELL BOTTOMS FROM NOW ON. THE CLOTHES WILL BE CUT BIG TO LEAVE PLENTY ROOM FOR GROWTH. I DON'T KNOW ABOUT THE CAP THOUGH."

GERTRUDE LEE: "I'll never chew another stick of gum as long as I live. 'Oh death where is thy sting?'"

DOC PUTNAM: "My boys are going to play nothing but 'Here's to You, North Dakota U' after this. We want to keep that sweet feeling of brotherhood between us and our gorgeous Nodaks."

WEISER BROTHERS: "EVERY PLACE WE GO, WE'RE GONNA RIDE. WE WON'T BUDGE FROM THE HOUSE UNLESS THERE'S A BUGGY OUTSIDE."

PRESIDENT SHEPPERD: "Who cares if school keeps or not? You're a likely looking bunch of chaps, so I'll just sell the college and divvy up with you all."

LIEUTENANT ROSS: "I'm tired of seeing the boys hitting the bulls-eye every time. From now on, I'm going to hand out medals to the fellow who gets the furthest away from it."

DR. NICHOLS: "THIS YEAR, I'M GIVING EACH OF MY PATIENTS A BOX OF APPLES."

DR. SCHALK: "I'm never going fishing again. It hurts my arms when I stretch 'em out."

AT THE THEATERS

Next week the Fargo theater will show an all-talking, all color picture entitled "Sally", starring Marion Miller and Joe Brown. This is an adaptation from the famous stage play which played in New York City several years ago. This picture will be shown at the local theater as its first appearance in the United States.

Bison Preparing For Tangle With Coyotes Saturday

Many Misses Mar Success of Hoiday Jaunt, Says Sally

REGULAR LINEUP TO BE USED AGAINST S. D.

Team Hopes to Hit Fine Stride Reached in Montana Game

"Misses don't count. The biggest score still decides the winner in basketball contests just as in any other competitive sport."

Thus in brief is the way Coach Leonard Saalwaechter summed up the holiday trip of the North Dakota State college quint in which they met five opponents and as many defeats. Marquette, DePaul, Loyola, Tabala Temple and St. Thomas took the measure of the North Dakota aggregation in the order named.

"Excepting Loyola which has a powerful and smooth working team, we should have won all contests," Saalwaechter declared on his return home to point his men for the opening North Central conference battle with South Dakota university here Saturday night. "Failure to sink the numerous shots we had in these games accounts for four defeats. We averaged two and three to one chances at the hoop but our aim was bad."

The Bison mentor has charged the defets of the trip up to experience and confidently expects his charges will display as good a brand of basketball, if not better than the showing made against Montana U., Dec. 26. All of the men who made the trip have returned in good condition for a flying start in the Conference race.

Saalwaechter has given his men to understand that five good teams are entered in the race this season for the N. C. I. basketball title and that there are no easy numbers on the schedule. "To land any place near the top means we have got to play the brand of ball exhibited in the Montana game," Saalwaechter pronounced.

As yet the Bison coach has given no indication of revamping his usual lineup. Bliss and Goodwin will carry on at center with May, Fairhead, Nordstrom, Smith and Seitz ready for duty at the forward position. Captain

Pete Gergen and Gilly Johnson no doubt will be first choices at the guard posts, with Blakeslee and Thomasson ready to relieve them if necessary. After a promising display of basket shooting in the early season games, May, Bliss and Goodwin suffered a bad relapse while on the road. These usually dependable shots even had difficulty in ringing up free throws and several of the road games put the Bison in a hole by their weakness in this department alone. No doubt Saalwaechter will devote considerable time to practice from the free throw line this week.

South Dakota U., the Bison's first Conference opponent, started impressively this week with a win over Morningside. On Friday they will meet North Dakota U. at Grand Forks, which may give the local fans some measure of the relative strength of the three teams after the game here Saturday night.

Coed law seniors of the University Colorado have formed a social organization, "The Bar Maid", and have adopted the hitherto masculine custom of carry canes.

Varsity football at the University of Minnesota earned $400,000 last season which sum is used to support other sports that are not self-supporting.

The administration council at the University of Denver has ruled that fraternities at that institution make a scholastic average equal to that of the nonfraternity men.

At Duke University, two deputies padlocked the rooms of 14 fraternity houses which were located on the campus. The offense that the groups committed was that their rent was becoming past due.

NORTH DAKOTA HOMEMAKERS TO BE HONORED GUESTS

A large delegation of people of the Northwest are expected to attend the third annual Master Farm Homemakers Recognition banquet to be held at the North Dakota Agricultural College Wednesday, Jan. 15, it was announced by Miss Grace DeLong, state home demonstration leader. At that time five North Dakota women will be honored.

Five North Dakota women were selected last year and honored at a banquet which was attended by more than 300 North Dakotans. The women are Mrs. George Rasmussen, Barnes county; Mrs. Eli Taillon, Cavalier county; Mrs. F. B. Brokaw, Dickey county; Mrs. E. B. Wollan, Walsh county, and Mrs. George Pilgrim of Cass county.

The purpose of the Master Farm Homemakers recognition is to pay tribute and honor to the North Homemakers who have been an aid and an inspiration to their homes and to their communities.

Cooperating with the "Farmer Wife", St. Paul, Miss DeLong, and Dean Alba Bales of the school of home economics, are making final preparations for the banquet. Announcement of the North Dakota women to be honored will not be made until a few days preceding the banquet which is to be held in conjunction with the Farmers and Homemakers Week at the College, Jan. 14 to 17, inclusive.

YESTERDAY, the rumble, creak, and plod of cart and oxen. To-day and to-morrow the zoom of airplanes. Faster production. Faster consumption. Faster communication.

Significant of electricity's part in the modern speeding-up process is the fact that during the last seven years, consumption of electric power increased three and one-half times as fast as population.

General Electric and its subsidiaries have developed and built much of the larger apparatus that generates this power as well as the apparatus which utilizes it in industry and in the home.

The college-trained men who come every year to General Electric take a responsible part in the planning, production, and distribution of electric products, and at the same time receive further technical or business training.

SCHOLAR AND ATHLETE

Alf Skaret

Skaret Is Student As Well As Athlete

Makes 87 Average in Architecture While Playing Football

Not many architects here at the State College have much time to compete in athletics, or other extra-curricular activities. They have tried it, but have always met with scholastic difficulties because of the extra burden.

Alf Skaret has proven to be an especially for the great game he played against South Dakota State in the Homecoming battle. Skaret was a strong contender for an all-conference position, and if the team had won one or two more games in the loop competition, his chances would have been very good for winning the honor. As it was, he was placed in the coaches second all-conference team, and earned an average of 87 in his school work for the fall term.

Alf is also an active member in Kappa Tau Delta, honorary architectural fraternity, an Alpha Sigma Tau, social fraternity.
