

Edwin Booth Term Play Is Clever Comedy

Two Casts Will Present The Devil In The Cheese

NOVEMBER 12 AND 13 ARE THE DATES

Desert Island and the Yacht Scenes Are Very Interesting

The Edwin Booth Dramatic club presents The Devil In The Cheese, a fantastic comedy in three acts by Tom Cushing, which will be portrayed by two different casts. The first cast will give the play Tuesday evening, Nov. 12, and the second cast will perform the following evening.

The Devil In The Cheese was one of the most successful Broadway productions of 1926-27. It was produced at the Charles Hopkins theater and continued throughout the year. The story is concerned with an American business man and his family who fall into the clutches of Greek bandits. The daughter, who is in love with an adventurous young man, is on the point of being forced to marry an impossible young man in order to oblige her parents. The father eats a piece of cheese dating from pre-Christian days and is thereby given power to see into his daughter's mind. Most of the play is concerned with a clever dramatization of what the girl thinks. Some of the most delightful scenes take place on board a yacht, and on a desert island. The last act shows the awakening of the father and he gives the right young man a chance to see what he is made of when the entire party seems hopelessly at the mercy of the cruel bandits.

In the cast, the first mentioned characters will act Nov. 12 and the second Nov. 13:

Education Fraternity Requires High Average

Phi Beta Nu, educational fraternity, was organized on the campus last spring. The Education club was discontinued and all members with an average of 82 or above and with certain education requirements were eligible to the new organization. Officers of the fraternity are Hazel Harris, president; Lily Ann Thorsell, vice-president; Lucille Edlund, secretary; and Forrest Willey, treasurer.

Phi Beta Nu is working for Kappa Delta Phi, national honorary education fraternity.

A regular meeting of the fraternity is held once a month in one of the education rooms at the college. An average of 85 or above is required before membership is obtained.

NOTICE!

Student Commission meeting tomorrow noon in the Alumni room.

SOCCER TEAMS PLAN CAMPAIGNS

The girls' soccer teams have been organized. The freshman-senior team is headed by Evelyn South, while Minerva Streed has been elected captain of the sophomore-junior team. Practices are held at 12:30 every noon under the direction of Miss Ballard, physical education instructor, and Georgina Brindle, the soccer manager for the Women's Athletic association. The games to decide the champions will be played next week.

Thirty-five girls have been practicing regularly at noon. Each girl who makes a class team wins 50 points in the Women's Athletic association. One hundred points in the W. A. A. are awarded each girl who is selected for the varsity or all-star soccer team.

Three games will be played between the two teams to decide the champions. Girls will be selected from these teams for the varsity team. Eleven girls constitute a team—five forwards, three halfbacks, two fullbacks, and one goalkeeper.

Wallum Razzes Laxity Of Upper Classmen

"The upper classes of State college are showing the poorest spirit in years," says Amos Wallum, editor of the Bison, in connection with the attitude of the juniors and seniors about getting their pictures taken for the 1931 Bison. "To date," he added, "out of nearly 400 upper classmen, less than 50 have signified their intention of having pictures in the Bison."

Mr. Wallum pointed out that it is impossible to have an optimistic outlook with such a poor showing, and that it is an absolute impossibility to issue a representative yearbook without the co-operation of every member of both classes. He also stated that it is showing very little interest for these classes, both as to themselves and to the publication.

"There is but one remedy to the situation," concluded Mr. Wallum, "and that is for every junior and senior to come to the Bison office, room 120, Science hall, to arrange to have your picture taken. It is absolutely the last date for appointments."

SIGMA TAUS WILL ENTERTAIN PLEDGES

The active chapter of Alpha Sigma Tau fraternity will entertain their pledges with a dancing party tomorrow evening in the college YMCA. Approximately 60 couples are expected to be in attendance.

The committee in charge of the arrangements are: Bernie Benidt, chairman, Walt Lagerberg, and Ross Cone. The chaperons include Judge Munson, Lieutenant and Mrs. Ross, and Bob and Mrs. Lowe. Henry Presler and his Vagabonds will furnish the music.

STATE ALUMNI BUYS SHARE OF BUSINESS

Ralph Hollands of the class of '28 has purchased a share in the Moorhead Cleaning company, but he still is connected with W. W. Wallwork, Ford dealer.

Hollands will be remembered by upperclassmen of State as business manager of the Bison and president of the student commission.

AMATEUR REPORTERS WILL COVER BEATS

No matter what happens, it will be a subtle bit of news that fails to attain publicity at the North Dakota State college the next few months.

Seventy-eight would-be journalists, roster of two classes, are scouring the campus daily in an attempt to reach their quota of stories required by T. Worden Johnson, instructor.

What was once an ordinary item is now being sought after in heated competition; what was once a dead issue is now a scoop. Sixteen campus beats have been outlined for the students.

Members of Alpha Xi Beta sorority were surprised early this week to receive the announcement of the marriage of Virginia Wilson, senior in the School of Science and Literature, to Clifford Palmer, Valley City, in Little Falls, Minn., July 20. Mr. and Mrs. Palmer are now at home in Valley City.

Oxford Debators Fail To Understand State No-cut System

It took quite a while to explain the system of no cuts and excuses as employed on this campus to the members of the Oxford University Debating team, but when they comprehended the regulations they showed unfeigned surprise, and, shall we say, amusement.

"But that is bad," said Bernard McKenna, graduate of the University of Dublin and advance student in the classics at the University of Berlin. "I can't quite understand it. That is treating you like school children—not like men and women of standards. In Oxford, of course, there is no rule about attending classes at all, or lecture as they are called there. The main part of a man's education consists in his private reading and study, supervised by a tutor, and in his companionship with his fellow students. Of course I realize that your system here is different, but even at that this compulsion looks as though it would work to the great detriment of the individual student."

William Diplock, who is studying for a career in journalism, was equally as much surprised.

"Surely," he said, "that leaves no room, no opportunity for independent thought and action. This makes of you a herd of sheep, with no chance for individual development. A student is not always up to the mental pressure necessary to the best receptivity of a class, moreover, and should not be required to go when he can not get the best out of it."

Richard Acland, first speaker on the platform and student of political conditions, wanted to know when the students had time to reflect and study, to follow lines in which they were interested, to participate in these outside activities he had heard so much about; the debating, the dramatics, the journalism.

"Surely you realize the worth of these things? Then why do you not make room for them? To us the quiet reflection, the individual reading, the talks with tutors and fellow students, the development along a social and cultural line is fully as important as the tedium of class work."

But, perhaps, we suggested to Mr. Acland, that system is devised for the above average class of students.

"Why, yes," he replied, "but surely that is better than your regulations, which regard only the inferior student. You are fashioning the college for him, who, in the end, will get the least out of it, rather than for the student of higher intelligence, for whom we are led to believe college and universities were established."

Medals Are Offered In Cross Country Meet

The annual N. D. S. C. cross country meet is to be held between halves of the State-Morningside tussle tomorrow afternoon on Dacotah field. This meet is to be held preparatory for the meet at Brookings, S. D., on Nov. 11.

Medals are to be awarded to winners not having competed in previous meets. Among the 18 competing this year five are eligible for these medals. They are: Rines, Jordre, Nelson, and the Weiser brothers.

Robertson, a sophomore, eligible for a medal this year, has been showing up very well as a varsity harrier, according to Leonard Saalwaechter, Bison track mentor.

The run will take place towards the end of the first half and will be continued during the 15-minute rest period. These harriers will take a mild jaunt of four miles, finishing in front of the stands on the north side of Dacotah field.

The annual meet which is to be held at Brookings in November is an invitational affair and will be attended by teams from Iowa, South Dakota, Minnesota, and North Dakota.

NOTICE

All college students who are not members of a social fraternity or sorority meet at 7 o'clock Monday evening in the YMCA gym, for the purpose of completing the work of organization, etc. Let us make this the strongest and most influential organization on the campus. Everyone out to this meeting!

Joe Paulson.

FULLBACK MAY'S LOSS HURTS BISON PROSPECTS

Bison football prospects received a severe reverse in the game with the University, when Leo May, State's powerful fullback and punter of extraordinary ability, was removed from the game with a badly injured shoulder.

The injury occurred first on about the third play of the game, when Leo was blocking. It was a painful injury, for all the ligaments in the right shoulder were torn, but he stayed in the game until the half was over, during which time the member was thrown out of joint twice more.

The physician does not give much encouragement, but Leo says he will be back in the game in a week or two, and in the meantime he'll be on hand for practice sessions to keep posted on the new plays, and keep in as good shape as possible.

Foreigners Think America Is Heaven

Morris Olson Talks About Ants and Grasshoppers

And they didn't wear monocles. We listened attentively to the words pronounced by Mr. Richard Acland, first speaker, and have been wondering ever since about his exclamation, that in the minds of foreigners "America was a heaven, and the only way to improve conditions is to increase the cash value of the Golden Gates."

We next discovered Morris Olson on the platform talking about Egyptian grasshoppers and American ants and wondered what it was all about. The journalist of the Oxford trio, Kenneth Diplock, walked up next and, between times out for snuff, told us that we are sitting on volcanic prosperity, whatever that may mean, except as the Englishman said, "burnt trousers." After the other Morris had completed his questionnaire to the opposing group, we were almost jolted out of our seats, already in the aisle, by the lad from his "mither" country, Mharles McKenna, with the booming shamrock brogue. Americans got in the last word in the main speeches of the evening with the arrival of Karl Gerteis on the platform with his list of statistical proof.

Concluding the discussion which in the terms of one of the contestants, "was a lot of hot air," there was a short rebuttal period allotted to Morris Olson and Kenneth Diplock, in order that the loosened ends might be sewed up again. And then we drank their health—in coffee.

Mid-Term Reports Submitted Tomorrow

In order that the progress being made by students at North Dakota State college may be ascertained, mid-term reports will be submitted to the registrar by Saturday of this week, according to Registrar A. H. Parrott.

These reports from the instructors will include statements of the grade of work being done by the students in each of their courses during the first six weeks of the term.

According to the registrar, the reports will also be given to the dean of the school in which the student is enrolled. By the latter part of the week the deans will have these records and the students may then consult their advisors and determine the progress which has been made in their class work and the improvements to be made.

NEWMAN CLUB PLEDGES NEW MEMBERS

The Newman club held the second of their bi-monthly meetings Tuesday evening, Oct. 29, 1929. The meeting was held at the K. of C. hall. Father Dworsek, the chaplain, gave the principal address of the evening. He outlined the purposes of the club. He also urged the present members to get out and see the other Catholic students and ask them to come to the meetings and join the club. After the meeting, the ladies furnished a delightful lunch of individual pumpkin pies, topped with whipped cream, and coffee. The new students who were pledged are: Charles Solga, Walterine Barry, Marie Snelgrove, Donald Haaman, Jack Simoni, Don Nichols, Mary Healy, Francis Rondorf, Fred Sanvagean, Hugh Boise, Rose Haskin, Blandie Herda, and James Long.

GAMMA PHI BETA

We hail the acceptance of Sigma Theta sorority into the international brotherhood of Gamma Phi Beta as the premier event of the first six weeks of school, and, when the last day of judgment rolls around, the entrance of this sorority, we foretell, will be remembered among the three stars of the year. It is undoubtedly one of the greatest accomplishments since the founding of this institution. Not only is it a definite compliment to the members of Sigma Theta, their alumnae and sponsors, who have striven long towards this goal, but the granting of the charter is also a recognition that North Dakota State College is steadily rising in the educational world.

This last statement is of utmost significance. We have heard that citizens in the western part of the state, members of the state legislature, and people who would otherwise like to have us be strictly an agricultural group, that these groups, we say, have been criticizing this institution for placing so much importance on educational departments other than agriculture. Not only have we heard the distant murmurings, but we have read statements of men who openly criticized N. D. S. C. for this "misplacement of emphasis;" the front page of the Fargo Forum recently carried such an article. It is apparent that this condemnation is unfounded, and that the people who persist in raising the cry are ignorant of the true state of affairs. They are grossly ignorant of conditions here. The entrance of Gamma Phi Beta should be conclusive proof that the School of Agriculture is not the only department on the campus, and that a vast number of students are enrolled in arts courses and are winning for State College a recognition that is without the scope of an institution of the type our "knockers" should like to encourage. Let us hope that they sit up and take notice, at least that they investigate matters and avoid being ridiculous.

Students Opinion

Now that the new cut system is established, the attention of the faculty should be called to the fact that this school is in dire need of more progressive reform in the shape of a committee whose duty it shall be to put on the overshoes and look after the noses of those students who themselves cannot be depended upon to meet the responsibility. Strange, isn't it, that this hoary group, old in wisdom, inspired with the dignity of higher learning, zealous in securing for their young the intellectual growth which comes with the trying out of new strength should so long have neglected what is so obviously the next move? We cannot believe that its eyes will be closed to this urgent need for long.

(Signed) Helen Rainville.

We wish to commend the generosity of the student body in sending its cheer leader to the University. It was really touching to see how those poor boys enjoyed the game. Too bad they had to be interrupted occasionally to go through a few slow motion calisthenics. We hope they didn't overdo.

No one could reasonably ask for a better student representation than N. D. S. C. sent to the University last Saturday. It took the best efforts of the world's worst cheer leaders to keep the mob silent and calmly twiddling its thumbs. Where, oh where—on North Dakota's prairies—could college boys be found who showed less personality and pep than our rooter kings exhibited a tlast Saturday's game?

With an outlook towards the future, we think that Art Cayou should be isolated before the partial paralysis, which seems to have our "cheer leaders" in its thrall, has time to set in!

"The Romance of Silk," a moving picture film, was presented in room 210 of the Agricultural building on Thursday and Friday afternoons of last week, for students in textile classes at the State college. It was through the courtesy of the O. J. deLendrecie store of Fargo that Miss Adelaide Laurie, textile instructor at the college, secured the film, which was put out by the Belding Heminway company, silk manufacturers.

There seems to be nothing left but to join the cut squabble parade.

—Bison Cuts Due Now—
The entire college is throbbing with "cut-cut-cut-", but nobody seems to lay an egg.

—Bison Cuts Due Now—
ALL WE ASK IS THAT WE CAN BE ANONYMOUS, LIKE THE DISCIPLINE BOARD, WHEN WE ARE CAUGHT IN CLASS WITHOUT OUR LESSON.

—Bison Cuts Due Now—
Keeping their identity secret would be O. K., if they would treat our marks the same when they send the reports home to our dear parents.

—Bison Cuts Due Now—
The discipline board ought to feel honored. Nobody seems to care who we are.

—Bison Cuts Due Now—
REFUSAL OF THE PHARMACISTS' PETITION FOR LENIENCY WAS A BITTER PILL TO SWALLOW.

—Bison Cuts Due Now—
Which is retaliation in some form or other.

—Bison Cuts Due Now—
And the board remained incognito for fear they'd have to get a prescription filled some time.

—Bison Cuts Due Now—
TO EVEN INSINUATE THAT IT WILL BE POSSIBLE TO TAKE TWO POINTS OFF THEIR MARK IS A COMPLIMENT TO SOME OF THE FRESHMEN.

—Bison Cuts Due Now—
We wonder what would happen if a board member failed to attend one of those meetings.

—Bison Cuts Due Now—
It must be remembered in all fairness that this no-cut system is a boon to those students who fail to get enough sleep.

—Bison Cuts Due Now—
IT ISN'T SO MUCH THE CUTTING OF CLASSES AS THE CUTTING UP AFTER THEM THAT REALLY COUNTS.

—Bison Cuts Due Now—
"Anyway," says the campus Beau Brummel, "there's a lot of class to this no-cut system."

—Bison Cuts Due Now—
The no-cut idea seems also to have applied to the prices in the Bookstore.

—Bison Cuts Due Now—
WE SUPPOSE THERE'LL BE A LOT OF NOISE WHEN CASEY'S BABY CUTS A TOOTH.

—Bison Cuts Due Now—
Consequences of cutting a class are tame compared with "cutting" a classy coed.

—Bison Cuts Due Now—
Telegrams like this will soon be sent: "Dear Dad: Cut two classes stop am now at barber college."

—Bison Cuts Due Now—
WELL, ANYWAY, WE CAN STILL CUT OURSELVES A PIECE OF CAKE!

Remainder of Squad Is In Perfect Condition For Game

Local fans of Fargo, Moorhead and vicinity will be given their last opportunity to witness the Bison of 1929 in action. They make their last home start of the season next Saturday, having as their opponents on Dacotah field the Morningside Maroons of Sioux City, Iowa.

This game will be of particular interest to followers of the Bison, for if they are able to polish off the Maroons and South Dakota university in succession, they will gain a tie for second position in the final conference rating.

After the customary layoff of one day, the Bison started intensive drills Tuesday for the coming game, but they will be without the services of two regulars—Leo May, the crashing fullback; and Oscar Hanson, tackle; who were injured in the annual affray with the Flickertails at Grand Forks.

Leo May was pretty seriously hurt in the second quarter of the Nodak clash. He received a dislocated shoulder but he continued for some time in the game. It is now feared that he will be absent from the lineup for a week or two.

Oscar Hanson, the other regular injured, received a fracture of a small bone in his foot, which seems to be causing him no little trouble.

The rest of the squad is in perfect condition and ready to get that tie for second place by downing Morningside and the South Dakota University Coyotes.

Basketball Candidates
Report to Saalwaechter

Thirty Varsity and Fresh basketball candidates reported Monday to Coach L. T. Saalwaechter for their initial workout of the season. Fundamentals and loosening up exercises were stressed in the preliminary drill.

Gilly Johnson and Cecil Bliss were the only members of last year's Varsity squad to appear. Gergen, the Bison captain, Leo May, and Johnny Smith are the only other Varsity men expected to report after the current football season is over.

The several promising sophomores who are expected to bolster the Varsity ranks are: Eric Nordstrom, Vern Goodwin, Leal Thomasson, Blair Sietz, and Carl Hanson.

Among the freshmen candidates to appear which give promise of making a strong Baby Bison five are: Gus Schwartz, Viv McKay, Ed Jessen, Bob Weir, Donald Arthur, and Clarence Daley.

A meeting of the classes section of the annual was held yesterday noon to facilitate registration of classes for appointments for photographs at the Owl studio. Dorothea Anderson, editor, and Ben Kouba, Joyce Peterson, Frank Munn and Alice Putney were present.

Now, as an aid to air navigation comes the magneto compass, a product of General Electric research, which gives pilots a navigating instrument of extraordinary accuracy. Meanwhile, two other General Electric contributions to aviation have been developed—the electric gasoline gauge and the radio echo altimeter. The ordinary altimeter shows only height above sea level. The radio echo altimeter warns the pilot of his actual distance above ground or water by flashing green, yellow, and red lights on the instrument board.

Every year hundreds of college-trained men and women enter the employment of General Electric. Research, similar to that which developed "eyes" for blind flying, is one of the many fields of endeavor in which they play an important part.
