Greetings:

We present you this first issue of the official North Dakota State College student publication. As the last few days have created a new life for five hundred of us and renewed a labor for many more, do does this sheet thrill the staff in renewing the journalistic endeavors of their predecessors. Newspaper possibilities are as fascinating as the future. Mere recording of events flavors of diary tediousness; to instigate the betterment of existing institutions, to stimulate thought, to arouse hidden forces in favor of human advancement, to interest, criticize, construct, encourage, teach, and please, such accomplishments build a journalistic success. The staff is determined to succeed, naturally. In the newspaper world especially, wishing for success is fruitless—attempting is the only possible foundation for achievement. This issue is the cornerstone of our structure.

We shall not waste words for the time has come to talk of many things. Events of startling significance to us now have occurred since the close of the spring term. Changes in rules and procedure necessitate consideration. The welcome additions to this student body deserve consideration. To cover all this here is impossible. Attention, then, to a few important observations.

As you know former President J. L. Coulter resigned his position as head of this institution. After accepting an important governmental position he moved with his family to take up permanent residence in Washington, D. C. It would be unfair in this short space to attempt an appreciation of Dr. Coulter's activities while guiding this institution. He did not confine himself to local problems; his influence was and is state and nation wide. A distinguished agricultural authority, he won for North Dakota State College greater recognition. It were idle to regret his departure; in his new work Dr. Coulter is in a better position to serve the great agricultural Northwest. The state, the college, and his many friends join in wishing our ex-president every success.

In the acting president, Dr. J. H. Shepperd, we place every confidence. His long service at this institution is known and appreciated by all, a sentiment which is echoed by the Journal of Education in its issue of Sept. 30, 1929, and which reads as follows: "The appointment of Dr. J. H. Shepperd of the faculty as acting president of the Agricultural College of North Dakota, Fargo, is an important recognition of one of the able, wholesome educators of the state, and an indication of the present day disposition to appreciate home

Sorority Rushing Over Monday Eve.

Parties oriental, Japanese, Indian, Hawaiian, and Chinese in nature and scheme have been given for the incoming flux of freshmen and consequently rushees. The three preferred party dates, afternoon, evening and tea, were drawn by representatives of each of the sororities at the opening of the fall term. The formal rush week of preferred parties will terminate with the teas to be held by each group Sunday from 3:30 to 5:30.

Heretofore, any number of tea invitations could be accepted according to Pan-Hellenic rules, but with new regulations, only two invitations may be accepted by the rushee. Silence will begin at 5:30 p. m. in place of the traditional 7:30 p. m. and will extend through Monday until pledging time.

Homecoming Set For Oct. 19

The annual homecoming celebration will be held October 19 with a football contest between the South Dakota State and the North Dakota State elevens as a climax according to Matt Tindall, recently named Alumni secretary to succeed T. W. Thordarson.

A $10 prize will be given the alumnus or alumnae coming the farthest distance to attend the celebration. As usual the railroads are making a fare and a third price for tickets and the enormous crowds of last year are expected to be surpassed according to Mr. Tindall.

Saalwaechter Ready For Harrier Meet

With a cross country meet definitely scheduled with the University of Minnesota for October 12 there, the Bison harriers are working out daily in preparation for their fourth meeting with the Gopher runners.

Coach Saalwaechter has 18 men working for places on the team which will likely consist of four men. Walt Nelson and the Weiser brothers, Russell and Wayne, the trio who formed the first cross country team and have since won three North Central conference titles, are making determined bids for three of the places but new men are likely to find places open to them, Saalwaechter declared.

The other men are Ray Jordreo and Ches Rhimes, last year veterans, and John Wolla, Alex Robertson, who may make the trip, and George Probstfeld, Clinton Mogen, Earnest Hall, Adolph Engstrom, Earl Steiner, Emil Engstrom, Art Alm, Willard Patterson, George Haley, Edwin Whitmore, and Harold Wales.

Dr. C. S. Putnam, director of the college music department, left last Friday with the American Legion Bugle and Drum Corps for Louisville, Kentucky. He will return this week end. In his absence the Gold Star Band has been under the direction of William Euren, solo trumpet player of the organization.

The Board of Publications held its first meeting of the school year yesterday noon in the Guest Room of Ceres Hall. Editors and business managers of the two major publications were guests. The Board appropriated a fund to purchase several pieces of new furniture for the news offices.

Student Head Issues Edict On Conflicts

Kenneth Wyard, Acting Sophomore Head, Assisting Parsons

The annual sophomore-freshman conflict, a tradition at North Dakota State College, is scheduled to begin with this edition of The Spectrum by order of Lawrence Parsons, president of the Student Commission, and Kenneth Wyard, acting president of the sophomore class, and will continue up to and through October nineteenth the date of the yearly homecoming celebration.

Up to the present time there have been few demonstrations of rivalry between the two classes. It is expected that active strife will open with the publishing of the set of rules-of-war as drawn up by a committee representing the sophomore class and approved by the Student Commission. In the past the class rivalry has been demonstrated under a like code. The placodes have usually followed traditional lines and violence of any sort has been a rarity. However, spirit runs high each year as the sophs attempt to sooth the previous year's woes by venting their wrath on the unsuspecting newcomer.

Attention is called to the fact that the present hazing period is for sophomore and freshman classes only; the juniors and seniors must keep out of the activities. To be assured that all actions are in keeping with the best traditions and ideals of good sportsmanship, the Student Commission warns that the Commissioner of Judiciary, Everett Knutson, will take steps to punish any persons committing acts not in spirit with the occasion. All such offenders will be tried by the Student Court, a body which will hold special meetings each Saturday afternoon. Complaints may be made to the commission president.

As in the past, the frosh are given the duty of bringing to the gate on Twelfth avenue a sufficient quantity of wood to build a gigantic bonfire for the evening homecoming celebration. The bonfire has always been a regular feature of the day's festivities and old grads as well as upperclassmen consider the event a necessity to a successful reunion.

Another important rule is the requirement that frosh "button" at the commands of the sophomores. By

Ole Sand, Chester Rhines Honored Here

Scholarships based for excellence in character, scholastic record, and activities, were awarded to Ole Sand, senior, of Bird, Norway, and to Chester Rhines, junior, Regan, N. Dak. Mr. Rhines is also a track athlete and a member of the Bison cross country team.

Mechanic Arts School Makes Largest Increase

228 More Students Register Than In 1928 Period According to Parrott

The increase in enrollment at the North Dakota State college of Agriculture and Mechanics Arts has grown by leaps and bounds in the past but the registration figures at the end of the first week of school this year revealed an enrollment far above any of the past, A. H. Parrott, registrar declared.

At the end of the first week a total of 1272 students had been enrolled as compared to 1,044 in the similar period a year ago. All schools of the campus showed increases ranging from seven in the School of Chemistry to 93 in the School of Mechanic Arts with only the A. C. High school showing a decrease of eight students.

The figures released by the registrar show that 522 Freshmen students have registered this fall against a total of 391 the previous year, and like advances were made in the other three classes of the college.

The enrollment for the 1929 fall term by schools shows that the school of Agriculture had an increased enrollment of 46; 151 students registering this fall as compared to 105 in 1928. In other schools, 120 students registered this fall in Chemistry as compared to 113 in 1928. The school of Education showed 43 extras with 193 students enrolled compared to 150 in 1928. The school of Home Economics registered 14 additional students during the first week than in 1928 with a total of 170 while the school of Mechanic Arts enrolled nearly 100 more than in 1928, with 255. The school of Pharmacy showed an increase of 10 registering a total of 94 this fall while the school of Science and Literature registered 232 for an increase of 31.

The 1929 Sophomore class increased its enrollment from 264 in 1928 to 303 while the Juniors increased from 183 to 221 and the Seniors from 120 to 160.

Adopt Orientation Week At College

A new program was worked out by the administration this fall for the purpose of acquainting new students at the North Dakota State college with the institution, the campus and its buildings, the city of Fargo and the vicinity, the college faculty and especially the deans of the schools.

A mixer, Freshman breakfasts, and talks by Miss Pearl Dinan and Prof. I. W. Smith, deans of women and men respectively, occupied three days of the orientation period. Dr. Putnam led the first rally of the new students and practices of the institutions and various rulings were explained by A. H. Parrott, registrar. The reason and nature of the various placement tests were explained by the registrar and were then conducted in various buildings of the institution.

The fifth and final day of the newly adopted program was occupied by health and athletic talks given with Athletic Director C. C. Finnegan and Professor Dorothy Cole. The social program and regulations were discussed by Dean Sudro, and Lawrence Parsons, president of the Student Commission, explained student activities and traditions.

Registrar A. H. Parrott was enthusiastic over the manner in which the newly adopted policy was received by the students and the visiting parents.

The women living at the practice house have undertaken the care of a few months old baby as an aid to child study.

Answering the call of Mr. Thordarson, about fifty persons met in the country theatre last evening to discuss the night school courses of study soon to be offered by the extension department.

talent when its value has been genuinely demonstrated as in the case of Dr. J. H. Shepperd."

During the last week the foremost problem before most upper-classmen has been that of "rushing." As of old the harried rushees are drifting around in a misty dream, intoxicated by that which they do not understand. No word now could convince them that the cold dampness of-the-morning-after will soon chill with its neglected studies. Their chances have been lessened of suffering the conventional freshman illusion that college is a beautiful society whirl. The period of formal rushing has been shortened by one week as compared to that of former years. This is certainly a step in the right direction and has been generally commended by all organizations. We predict that within a few years actual registration will be the only requirement for pledging. Too many freshmen get a wrong start under the present system.

A word to those who are not being rushed and believe that fraternity or sorority life holds sufficient attraction to make membership desirable: Don't worry. More students are pledged after the fall scramble than at its conclusion. Sit tight, remembering that many of our campus leaders do not wear fraternity pins.

Although the policies of this paper will be outlined later we cannot omit here our desire to offer to literary enthusiasts the recognition of the editorial page.

Last Saturday's football game was broadcast to the Northwest through station WDAY. The remaining home games will likewise be well advertised by this station. We believe this innovation is desirable. The two chief drawbacks appear to be the possible shrinkage of the gate receipts, and the handicap it places on those attempting to get the student body out to the games. As a starter last week's broadcast was a success, although the modulation was far from perfect.

There are several staff positions vacant. You will note that definite appointments do not appear as yet in the masthead. The Spectrum offers much in the way of recognition to the ambitious, invaluable experience to journalistic enthusiasts, and financial remuneration to those who get to the top. Previous journalistic training is not required of applicants for staff positions; some experience in news writing is desirable but not necessary. Dependability and enthusiasm are the only prerequisites you ought to have among your assets. Promotions will be made on merit only. All will be expected to work, but there should be more enjoyment than labor in the recognition given a constructive hobby and in the friendships to be formed on the campus. Report to the editor or his associate at your earliest convenience and be assured of a welcome.

To those whose inclinations follow the trend of business and who desire to work into a position giving financial returns from a pleasant occupation, let us say that there are excellent opportunities in the business end of The Spectrum. Mr. Ralph Welch states that there is yet room for several more students who wish to enter this particular field. Here is an opportunity!

Begin talking up that Homecoming. It is one of THE events of the school year. We have a larger student body than ever, a good coaching staff, a good team, an alumni head who is making extensive preparations for the celebration. Let's get going, with only a pause to appreciate the work of Mr. T. W. Thorardson, who last year put over the biggest homecoming ever.

13 Degrees Given In Summer Session

Two master of science degrees and eleven bachelor degrees were conferred at the end of the summer session of the North Dakota State college July 19.

Miss Adelaide Phillips and Maude McKee, were granted the master degrees while Virgil Sullivan was given a bachelor's degree in agriculture. Miss Alta Berg, George Hays, Miss Valborg Leifson, Miss Frances Pehrson, and Sam Pitzer were given master degrees in education. Mary Ellen Parker, Agnes Schlanser, and Frances Kapuscinski received home economics bachelor degrees. Herbert Hendrickson was given a bachelors degree in civil engineering while Kenneth Helferty won a degree in Science and Literature.

Spielman Again Heads 1929 Honor Roll

Marvin Spielman, chemistry, Larimore, who graduated in the spring of 1929, headed the student body with an average grade of 95.4 for the 1929 spring term according to figures released by A. H. Parrott, registrar. Spielman headed the honor roll for several terms during his four years at the North Dakota State college.

Women students again headed the men of the college by 3.6 points while the School of Education topped the lists in their department, with a standing of 83.4.

The fraternity and sorority men and women again topped the non fraternity and non sorority students with averages of 81.8 and 84.2 while Pi Gamma Mu, education club, had a higher scholastic standing than other student organizations, with 90.

Alpha Xi Beta sorority led in the fraternity and sorority competition with an average of 86.2, Kappa Delta, Phi Kappa Lambda and Sigma Theta closely following and Sigma Phi Delta, national engineering fraternity, given the highest fraternity scholastic rating of 84.7.

Others of the first ten in the college student body for the 1929 spring term were Loyal Gast, Agriculture, Beltrami, Minn., 94.6; Ruth Henning, Education, Fargo, 94.6; Hazel Harris, Education, Fargo, 94.3; Laurel Kingsley, Science and Literature, Fargo, 93.5; Letha Mathieson, Education, Fargo, 93.3; Treasure Kuehl, Education, Fargo, 93.2; Amos Van Vorst, Chemistry, Fargo, 93.1; Pauline Yuster, Education, Fargo, 93.1; Lucille Edlund, Education, Fargo, 93.

Where is The Spectrum office?
This question has about five hundred students stumped. The remaining seven hundred or more we have patiently answered, glad of the interest shown in the publication. Yet, perhaps there's more than mere enthusiasm for this sheet behind it all. Ask any upperclassman about the enjoyable bull sessions he had in the old rendezvous formerly located in the basement of Registration. There the Bison and Spectrum staffs held a mutual reign and the student body came in to talk things over. But all that is changed. The new office is in the new wing of Science Hall, and a very imposing room it is. Our address is room 122, Science Hall, and the Bison people are next door in number 120. Come in and settle affairs of state.

Autumn of '79

While Yale and Princeton were battling to a tie at Hoboken, New Jersey, a small group of scientists, directed by Thomas A. Edison, was busy at Menlo Park, only a few miles away. On October 21, their work resulted in the first practical incandescent lamp.

Few realized what fifty years would mean to both electric lighting and football. The handful who watched Yale and Princeton then has grown to tens of thousands to-day. And the lamp that glowed for forty hours in Edison's little laboratory made possible to-day's billions of candle power of electric light. In honor of the pioneer achievement, and of lighting progress, the nation this year observes Light's Golden Jubilee.

Much of this progress in lighting has been the achievement of college-trained men employed by General Electric.

RULES GOVERNING THE CONDUCT OF STUDENTS AND THOSE WHO ATTEND THE NORTH DAKOTA STATE COLLEGE. (Entered in the Postoffice at Fargo, N. D., as second class chatter.)

REGISTRATION

Each date with opposite sex must be registered with custodian of cow barns within three days of said premeditated insanity. Said notation must be made behind barns, out of cows' hearing. Our cows are contented and what they don't know won't hurt 'em. Registration of intelligence is occasionally desired.

ELIGIBILITY

All men are eligible for marriage until they are reduced to bull durham and corn cake. After that they are eligible for free mental examination. Girls who smoke are eligible until they break into conflagration.

FEES

This word is derived from the Norwegian "feeskommadi", denoting shame. Used because students seem ashamed to part with cash. Some Scotch students die from such shame. Believing that the student activity fee should go towards upholstering that which is most active, all co-eds can get free jaw braces.

ACADEMIC UNITS

Credit is given in all schools of the college, but not in the bookstore or postoffice. All students must have a major and a minor. A major makes you eat dirt, a minor uses a shovel.

Called "points" because under this system students get stuck with a lot of work. Those who have never gotten over 75 have got about as much chance as Kennie McCullough has being bouncer over at the fat men's club. All the honor goes to the faculty for thinking up such a scheme after they got through college. This rule means that wild telegrams will be sent soon saying "I passed with a 75 but it doesn't mean anything".

Members of the yearling squad, which looks in some respects equal to the one which so strongly opposed the Flickertails last year are anxious for the fray and several men are well known on the football field for their prowess. The men on the squad are:

William McDonald, Mandan; Art Schalk, Fargo; Ed Jessen, Fargo; Don McEssy, Fargo; Morris Ellingson, Mohall; Walter Schoenfelder, Aberdeen; Farmer Schroeder, Grand Forks; David Tang, Cooperstown; Robert Paris, Bismarck; Clarence Orness, Valley City; William Wagner, Moorhead; Howard Karcher, Cavalier;

To Superior,
Wis. Saturday

The North Dakota State Varsity fresh from a hard scrimmage with the Haskell Indians Wednesday began their journey to Superior, Wis., where they will meet the Superior Normal school, a tough opponent from last year's schedule.

The Bison, 22 in number, victors over Concordia college, Moorhead, 13 to 7, were in the best of spirits as they left accompanied by Coaches Charles (Casey) Finnegan and Bob Lowe. The work of the line in the Haskell practice especially pleased Finnegan whose backs are exhibiting skill in their work.

Smith Acts As Boxing Instructor

Lt. Fay Smith, instructor in boxing and wrestling for the past year, acted as one of the two instructors at the National Police School in connection with the Camp Perry, Ohio, rifle matches held during August and September.

About 150 men from police departments of the United States, Hawaii, Porto Rico, and Canadian Northwest Mounted police attended the school. Lt. Smith had charge of the hand to hand fighting school under which boxing, wrestling and Jiu Jitsu was taught.

At the completion of the rootball classes will be organized under Lt. Smith in boxing and wrestling. A meet has been scheduled with the University of North Dakota in boxing and wrestling competition will be confined to the campus.

Locate YWCA Rooms in YMCA

Y. W. C. A. women under the supervision of Mrs. T. Worden Johnson, new Y. W. C. A. secretary, have undertaken the Big Sister scheme of acquainting newcomers with the campus life and regulations.

During the freshman orientation week, all trains were met by cabinet members wearing badges bearing the words, Little Sister—Ask Me. The auxiliary board served a breakfast to all new girls and special mixers were planned to welcome students and enabled them to meet each other and the upper classmen. Four hundred freshmen were entertained at supper on Sunday during the first week.

The Y. W. C. A. rooms, located in the Y. M. C. A. building and entered by the southeast door, are open at all hours for the use of all campus women. A new telephone has been installed for convenience. Mrs. Johnson will be there certain hours of the day to aid and give out material on the organization.

Cabinet meetings are being planned by Billie Eastgate, president of the cabinet, and will be open to anyone desiring to attend.

Shepperd Asks Aid Of Students In Enforcing Orders

Requesting the cooperation of all students on the campus with regard to enforcing traffic laws and local rules for regulating parking on the campus, Dean J. H. Shepperd, acting president, made a plea for the safety of the intersections at a general convocation held Tuesday morning, in the armory.

Dean Shepperd also spoke of the value of traditions in relation to college life, and illustrated his talk with descriptions of college life in England.

A. H. Parrott, registrar, explained the new honor point system which is given in detail in the rule book, and also stressed the fact that no cuts would be allowed this year, absences from classes requiring excuses which shall be valid only as passed upon by an excusing committee which will meet each Wednesday afternoon and Saturday morning during the school year. Persons wishing excuses shall present them for approval to the committee before these meetings.

The new policy of parallel parking on all campus thoroughfares with the exceptions of the space in front of the Main building and in front of the armory was announced by Lawrence Parsons, president of the student commission.

Music was provided by the Gold Star Band under the direction of William Euren, Dr. Putnam being out of town. Dean Minard presided.
