Elects Stockwell

At a recent meeting of Phi Kappa Phi they unanimously elected Walter L. Stockwell of Fargo into honorary membership because of his high scholarship, his high standards of citizenship, and his ever increasing interest in matters of educational interest. He has been Grand Secretary and Recorder of the Masonic Grand Bodies of North Dakota since 1911. Along with his duties as secretary he is in charge of the Masonic educational loan fund which keeps him in contact with the college. He is a graduate of the University of Minnesota and was State Superintendent of Public Instruction in North Dakota from 1903 to 1911. Before that time he was superintendent of the Grafton High School.

Annual Banquet

Achievement day will close in the evening with the annual Phi Kappa Phi banquet to be held in the Chamber of Commerce. Members not as yet initiated will appear at 5:45 for initiation and the banquet proper will start at 6:30 p. m.

"THESPIAN DAYS" TO BE PRESENTED TONITE

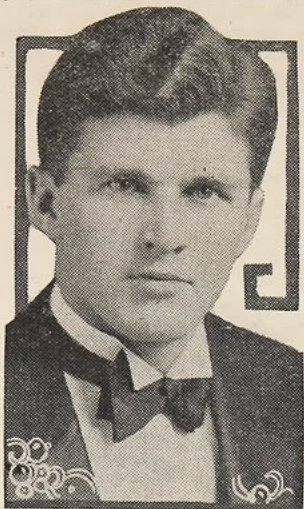

The pageant, "Thespian Days," which was planned by Professor A. G. Arvid as a feature of the May festival but was postponed owing to inclement weather, will be presented at 9 p. m. tonight on the college campus in front of Main building.

A unique theme is used for the pageant, windows of "old Main" serving as pages in the book of memory of the days of the Little Country theater, scenes from various plays presented by them being pictured therein.

KAPPAS RE-ELECT FRANCES ROSS PRES.

Frances Ross, a junior in the school of Home Economics, was re-elected President of Gamma Tau chapter of Kappa Kappa Gamma at a recent meeting. The other officers elected were the following: Delphine Van Houten, secretary; Dorothea Anderson, treasurer; Jane Sudro, corresponding secretary; Alice Putney, registrar; Agnes Weible, sergeant at arms; and Elene Weeks, editor.

Hankinson Wins May Judging Sweepstakes

Hazelton Has High Point Judge And High Point Team In Livestock

Hankinson high school's agricultural team, consisting of Leonard Scheller, Edward Kinn, and Frank Wolfe and coached by Leon Johnson '27, was the high point winner in the entire agricultural judging contest staged in connection with the annual May Festival. Hazelton's team, which was coached by Earl Hendrickson '27, former Spectrum business manager, had the high point man in Gerald Geughnor, and placed first in the livestock judging division. Park River Aggies, coached by "Freddie" Wilson, N.D.S.C. graduate, placed second in the entire contest. The Dairy judging team of Beach placed first entitling them to represent North Dakota at the National Dairy Show this fall.

STATE ALUMNI MET IN NEW YORK APRIL 20

The New York Alumni Association of North Dakota held a banquet at the New York Fraternity Club on April twentieth, according to a letter received recently by Doctor Putnam from Fred Byerly, graduate from North Dakota State in 1927. About twenty of our alumni were present, among them as honor guest, Dr. W. T. Pierce, former dean of chemistry here. The Varsity Serenaders of which Joseph Seigman is director, played the Yellow and the Green, California Fight Song, and others of the familiar songs which served to give the group the North Dakota State atmosphere. The program was as follows:

How We Beat the U—Sid Sorkness, My First Subway Ride—Lucille Thompson, Perspective—Pauline Blake, What a Dean Should Know—Matilda Thompson, Iowa—Frances Blake, Indians—Floyd McDunn, Gold and How to Use It—Fred Byerly, Why I Like the West—Louise Nagel, How I Earned My First Dollar—Walter McKim, How I Spent It—Mrs. McKim, The Stage Entrance and Its Significance—Louis Engerud, (continued)—Mrs. Engerud, The Relation Between Corticothalamic Imbalance and Protopathic Epicritic Predominance—Archie Loudon, The Myth of Morpheus—Charlotte Blake, North Dakota Blizzards—Mary Ball, California—Ruby Oscarson. Ernie Mortenson served as toast master.

Main Show More Important Than Sideshows—Clark

Thomas Arkle Clark, Dean Of Men At Illinois "U" Stresses Scholarship Friday

"Scholarship is after all the greatest thing in college," Thomas Arkle Clark, dean of men at the University of Illinois and author of several books on fraternity life, told students of the North Dakota State College at a convocation Friday morning.

"The men and women who barely get through and say that, regardless of merely passing grades they got far more out of college than those who dug in and passed with flying colors, are deceiving themselves. It is the man who takes a subject he dislikes and goes after it with the intention and result of not merely passing it, but of obtaining a high mark in it, who gets the real mind training which is the biggest thing in college, and who in the end gets the most satisfaction out of his college course."

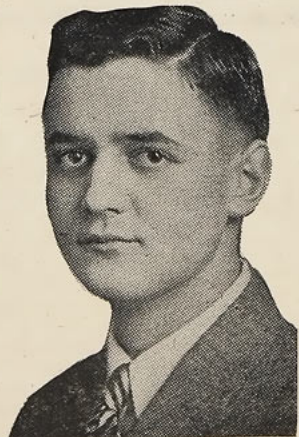

Comparing college life to a circus with many sideshows, Dean Clark went on to say that never in the history of education had there been so many sideshows attached to college life. Journalism, athletic, dramatics, debating, and social activities were never more emphasized than today.

"Far be it from me," said Dean Clark, "to minimize the importance of these sideshows, but remember that the boy who spends all his money on them never gets to the big tent. To me, the most important sideshow of it all is the development of friends, the adjusting yourself to as many personalities as possible, the making of broadening contacts. You who are in college, must realize that your opportunities for friendships are not to be missed, for through them you get a keener comprehension of the meaning of life, and the man who leaves college without having made a friend has missed one of the vital parts of his college career."

Dean Clark reminded his audience that the records of the success of business and professional men after they have left college have, ninety five times out of a hundred, almost exactly duplicated the scholastic records they made in school.

"I want you to remember," he said, "that while you must see the sideshow if you can, be sure that you realize that the circus is the main thing, and that the student who is satisfied with doing only mediocre work has lost the biggest and most important thing in college."

Essay Contest Winner

Dan Howell, the freshman in the School of Science and Literature whose theme on "The Relation of Chemistry to Health and Disease" placed third in the national competition, will receive his $200 prize on Commencement Day.

Senior Ball Queen

Miss Margaret Richardson, Fargo Kappa Kappa Gamma, will lead the Senior Ball at the Crystal Ballroom with Mr. McRoberts, ball manager. M. Foss Narum, class president, and Miss Hazel Heald will be third in the line Friday night.

Theta Chis Observe 25th Anniversary

Alpha Mu Founded May 12, 1904; Theta Chi Entered April 12, 1917

Active and alumni members of Theta Chi fraternity celebrated the 25th anniversary of the founding of the fraternity at North Dakota State college with a banquet at the chapter house at 2 p. m. Sunday. Following the dinner respects were paid to the six charter members, Fred Birch, Harry Porter, Rufus Lee, Roger Browne, Ross Fowler and Bert Corbett, who organized the first Greek letter society, Alpha Mu, at the college May 12, 1904.

On April 12th, 1917 this body became Phi chapter of Theta Chi, national social fraternity. Respects were also paid to Frederick Freeman and Arthur Chase, founders of Theta Chi fraternity.

Clark Frederickson of the active chapter gave a brief review of the fraternity's history. Prof. Kenneth Kuhn spoke for the alumni and Leo May, president of the chapter for the actives. George Hays delivered the farewell address for the outgoing seniors.

The dining room and parlor of the chapter house was decorated in red and white, the fraternity colors, while red and white carnations ornamented the banquet table.

FINAL BOXING TOURNEY IN ARMORY TONIGHT

Fighting for the championship berths, "Cliff" Bollman will meet Frankie Devorak in the middleweight class and "Rod" McMillan will take on Cy Lonsbrough in the light heavy-weight division. The scraps will start promptly at 8 p. m. in the college armory tonight.

Students will be admitted upon the presentation of their registration cards.

COLLEGE PRESIDENTS SPEAK AT BANQUET

President George W. Nash of Yankton college, Yankton, S. Dak., and President John Lee Coulter were the main speakers at the Fargo College dinner at the Elks' Temple last evening. Dr. Coulter gave his views on the proposed co-operative arrangement between the State college and Fargo college.

Distribution Of 1930 Bison To Be One Feature

Student Commission Meets Tonight To Complete Plans For Gay Cat Day

Members of the Student Commission will meet this evening at 7:30 p. m. in the Engineering building to complete plans for the annual Gay Cat Day to be held on Wednesday, May 22nd.

This is the one day of the year when every student on the campus casts aside his or her duties to frolic together. The detailed program will be made up tonight. The main feature of the day has always been the costumes worn as everything from Spanish cabelleros to the worst type of ragged tramps are seen on the campus.

Bison Ready

The 1930 Bison will be distributed during the latter part of the afternoon providing it is ready and Miss Jessie McLachlin, editor-in-chief of the annual, is confident that it will be ready. She is promising a unique yearbook this year with a surprise in connection for many. The surprise enters in the modernistic theme of the book, as unnamed judges have picked the eight most representative students on the campus to be featured in a special section. Engravers and printers declare that the opening section of the book is the best they have ever had the privilege of working with while the sub-title pages, which were worked out by Miss Florence Flemming and Alf Skaret, surpass any student work ever coming into their offices.

Commission Responsible

Gay Cat Day is entirely in the hands of the Student Commission, it being one of the governing group's major projects. The members of the newly elected board are as follows: Lawrence Parsons, Victor Madsen, Everett Knutson, Frank Carlson, Charles Heilmar, Horace McGrath, Simon Mark, and Miss Grace Reynolds.

Golfers Defeat "U" Squad With Ease

Tennis Competition Postponed Due To Rain; Municipal Golf Course Used

Led by Paul Cook, the Bison golf team scored an impressive, 12-2 victory over the university golfers in a meet held on the Municipal golf course Saturday. Last week the two teams played on even terms the final count being 7 all.

Cook turned in a brilliant performance going around the course in 76. Cook's performance was 11 better than that of his opponent, Larson. Fairhead, Blanchard, Cook, and Boyd all scored victories over their opponents in the twosome. In the foursome Fairhead and Boyd played on even terms with Neirling and McIntyre. Blanchard and Cook turned back Cook and Larson in their matches.

The Nodak-Bison tennis matches had to be postponed due to the rain on Friday. The two teams will probably meet during the coming week.

ACHIEVEMENT DAY

Tomorrow is the one day in the school year set aside for the recognition of achievement along scholarship lines. This is a very fine thing, if for no other reason than to secure a little thought along the lines of scholarship among the student body. A certain percentage believe that scholarship is the only item of importance, others broaden their minds more and demand scholarship and leadership, while the other third contend that leadership and personality are the factors that count and scholarship is nihil.

We are not going to commit ourselves, but admit that there is a big field for thought along these lines. Dean Clark in his address contended that he could prove from statistics worked out of the alumni of the University of Illinois that in 95 percent of the cases, the scholastic record was similar to the record made out in the world. He cited several striking examples. Many presidents of large industries have worked over their pay rolls and enthusiastically contended that the leaders in scholarship while in school are the ones receiving the big pay check.

A month or so ago a nearby college paper belittled a Phi Beta Kappa election by counting the number in the list that the writer had heard of on the campus. This can hardly be done, in a list of Phi Kappa Phi elections as with the possible exception of five out of twenty-six, everyone has taken a lead part in some campus activity. We congratulate Phi Kappa Phi on their selections and congratulate those to be honored at the recognition services.

There is one bad feature connected with attempted scholarship. That is the person who must secure better than a 90 by fair means or foul. In our minds this would make a fine field of work for the honor societies to take up. Guard your society jealously lest some "cribber" enter.

Open Houses Feature Of May Festivities

Arlene Burt, Spectrum Reporter, Gives Them The "Once Over"

Of course the first place that called our attention was the Open House of the clothing department, being that the outstanding event was a style review in Ceres Hall parlors. Some very clever sport dresses were modeled by the freshmen girls and street and afternoon dresses by the sophomores. They were even more exciting when you knew they made them themselves. The climax was the modeling of millinery by the upper classes.

Another part of that open house was the textile exhibit and the display of other freshmen work. We saw the most adorable P.J.'s and some cute smocks.

Next we visited the "Engine House." Lots of surveying implements built for tall men—we had to climb on a chair to even see through one. The mystery ball standing in mid-air above some machinery. Willing Willie, the mechanical man who answered all questions. The stop signal that worked at the sound of a horn. Boards being sawed in two by paper. The Boulder Dam of the Grand Canyon in miniature even to the coloring of the rock. Swimming ducks. The ever-thirsty jar. G. I. N.—the breath of Dilworth, a unique broadcasting station answering more questions. A demonstration of lights from 600 B.C. to the present. A candle burning in water. A bar of iron floating in air. And in between times lots of machinery that didn't mean a thing to us, a poor feminine cub reporter. (Mostly poor.)

The chemistry building with the Chemistry and Pharmacy open houses. Sugar burned by a liquid—awfully smelly. We learned what paint was made of. The original "fire-water" bursting into flame as it poured from a faucet. Multi-colored plants made from chemicals.

Pharmacists looking like dentists in their white coats. Mixers and grinders for making pills 'n things. Window decorations. We didn't know pill-makers were artists but they seem to be very versatile. They even make cosmetics—lip sticks, bath salts, creams, tooth paste—everything. They are show card artists too. The First Aid Department. And drugs found in North Dakota. Biologicals (whatever they are) and circus lemonade! (It looked like water but it tasted better than the "firewater" down stairs.)

The Ark-ee-tex exhibit. Large drawings of buildings from early architecture to the present. How did they get them way up there? The fountain. They must be engineers too.

THE END OF A PERFECT EVENING A LUNCH AT VIRGINIA CAFE
Private Booths
(Across from N. P. Depot)

Gorgeous drawings. Water color paintings. Charcoal sketches.

The art department. Climb way up to the attic of Science Hall. Worth it. The modernistic furniture. They don't look so much like boxes when you get used to them. Tooled purses. Batik wall hangings and evening scarfs. Metal work. Soap sculpturing. Masks. Block prints on scarfs and dresses, and christmas cards and Ex Libris. (What is the plural of that anyway?) Costume plates. Dolls in historic costumes. Tea from a brass samovar. Feel better now.

Art club will hold a meeting Thursday evening in the studio. This meeting is very important.

Mary Hassel and Margaret Ballard attended the A. T. O. house party this week end at Bemidji.

Diamonds More Precious Than Nature Can Yield---

Once upon a time there lived a certain man out on the African veldt. He had a perpetual grinch. He railed at the sun and he wailed for the rain. And all the while he grappled with starvation, his little sons played marbles with pretty stones in the yard. He later was the original owner of the Kimberley diamond mines, richer than fabled Golconda.

There's a second Kimberley at your very door. In it you can mine knowledge which is more precious than the diamonds of the African veldt. There you can obtain a "priceless" college education at low cost. Even though the expenses are small the training is of the best.

A Bachelor of Science degree is offered in Agriculture, Science and Literature, Home Economics, Architectural Engineering, Architecture, Biology, Chemistry, Civil Engineering, Education, Electrical Engineering, Mechanical Engineering, and Pharmacy.

Special work may be taken in paint chemistry, physics, botany, mathematics, public speaking, and dramatics, economics (agricultural and general), and social and political sciences.

THE NESTOR BILLIARDS - BOWLING - SMOKES LUNCH - SOFT DRINKS

Ebullitions of Ebony Blott

By Everett Wallam

Seniors in the School of Agriculture planted a tree last Friday. Which shows what education can do for a fellow.

Now they'll have something to climb when they battle life after graduation.

The tree was dedicated to the class of 1929, so we imagine it was a crab-apple. Don't shoot!

But, judging from the way seniors are longing to graduate, maybe it was a pine.

They can plant all the trees they want, but the little children get them in the end.

We know a Chemist who planted a pint.

"I'll twig your nose," said the tree, as the boy reached for the bird's nest.

The sap that gushes through the tree's pulsing veins will be a fit memorial to future graduating classes.

Maybe the sapling will grow up to be some future President's cane. Which reminds us that the class of '29 has raised enough cane already.

This welcome addition of bark doesn't necessarily mean that the school is going to the dogs.

It is, however, in keeping with the College's policy of branching out.

They should have planted a weeping willow so they wouldn't have to water the thing.

All the seniors autoraphed the new shovel, and then they proceeded to drag their names in the dust.

Negroes should make good farmers. They can make two blades flash where none flashed before.

There's enough cut-throat business in agriculture now though.

Some students objected to tree planting because it sponsored shady projects on the campus.

The tree is something like an old maid's telephone. It gets a ring once a year.

Mothers of active and alumni members of Phi Kappa Lambda sorority were honored at a tea, Sunday, at the home of Mrs. A. E. Minard, 1411 - 13 street N. Miss Pearl Dinan and Mrs. A. M. Williams presided at the tea table. Refreshments and decorations were carried out in a pink and white color scheme. Special music numbers were given during the afternoon by Misses Mildred Grant, Maxine McCulloch, and Maurine McCurdy. Mae Borgen was in charge of general arrangements. Pink roses were presented the guests.

Fargo Noses Out Bismarck By Half A Point

Schwartz Of Bismarck Sets New High Record

L. Knauf Of Moorhead Secures High Point Honors; Meinhover Makes Discus Record

Fargo high school captured the annual May Festival track and field meet, which was held at the college Friday and Saturday, by nosing out Bismarck 33-32½. Fargo High's win Saturday was the ninth consecutive time this honor has been won by the Central high.

Three records were shattered in Saturday's competition. A new javelin record was set by Orness of Valley City who tossed the spear 157 feet. The discus throw was bettered by Ted Meinhover, Bismarck sophomore. Bismarck high was also credited with another record when A. Schwartz of Bismarck cleared the bar at 5 feet 9½ inches for a new altitude mark in the high jump.

Lawrence Knauf was awarded the trophy for gaining the highest number of points of any entry. Knauf placed first in the 100 and 220 yard dashes, placed second in the 440 yard dash, and gained fourth in the broad jump to bring his total aggregate to 14 points. Knauf was also largely responsible for the Moorhead victory in the 880 yard relay.

Fargo high in winning the championship counted strong in the middle distance run and the broad, high jumps, and pole vault. Bismarck counted five first places to gain 25 of their 32½ points. BUSINESS EDUCATION
A business education is a practical education that prepares one for every-day living. It gives the training necessary for entrance into the business world where the demand for trained workers is much greater than the supply. The business world pays a salary twelve months out of the year with two weeks' vacation on full pay. Hon. W. T. Harris, Ex-Commissioner of Education, said, "Without a thorough and practical commercial education, a man is like a ship at sea without a compass or rudder."
Take your course in business training in an accredited school. Call or write for particulars.
