Gregorson And Welch To Lead In Spring Play

"If I Were King" To Be Presented May 7th and 8th; Cast Is Chosen

Truly one of the biggest productions ever undertaken at North Dakota State is the manner in which the committee in charge of "If I Were King" characterize the play. The play, which was adapted by Justin Huntly McCarthy from his story of the same name, will be given in the Little Country Theatre two nights, Tuesday and Wednesday, May 7th and 8th.

Raymond Gregorson carries the lead part in the four act romance, that of Francois Villon. Ralph Welch is to play the part of Louis XI. Others in the cast are as follows: Tristan l'Hermitte, Albert Chamberlain; Oliver le Dain, Graham Fuller; Thibaut d'Ausigny, Kenneth Wyard; Noel le Jolys, Joyce Roberts; Regne de Montigny, Anthony Faber; Guy Tabarie, Wayne Herried; Colin de Cayeux, Arthur Knight; Jehan le Loup, Arthur Ziegler; Casin Cholet, Fredrick Nunns; Robin Turgis, Benjamin Kouba; Trois Eschelles, Robert Robertson; Petit Jean, Paul Abrahamson; Toison d'Or, the Burgundian Herald, Tillman Stevens; An astrologer, Jesse Reynolds; Captain of the Watch, Roderick McMillan; Katherine deVauchelles, Emma Nelson; Mother Villon, Jane Eddy; Huguette de Hamel, Harriet Phillips; Johanneton le Belle Heaulmiere, Adelyn McKone; Blanche, Ruth Whitney; Guillemette, Mary Healy; Isabeau, Agnes Weible; Denise, Doris Wilner; The Queen, Alta Berg.

The committee in charge of the play is made up of M. Foss Narum, Graham Fuller, Jesse Reynolds, Harriet Phillips, Amos Wallum and Sidney Stende.

ARCHITECTS CHALLENGE ART DEPT. STUDENTS

The Department of Architecture has issued invitations to the Art Department of the college to compete in their "Spring Sketch Competition", according to Professor H. B. Huntoon, head of that department. The competition calls for a series of six original sketches of a uniform size not smaller than 8 1/2 by 11 inches. The sources and subjects of the series are unlimited and any technique or medium of expression may be used, but originality is stressed. Sketches may be made from photographs of from real life, but not from other sketches. Half of each series is due on Monday, April 15, and the remaining three are due on Monday, April 29 at noon, at which time the contest closes.

Mr. Myrwyn Eaton, frehand instructor in the department of Architecture, is offering two prizes, one of ten dollars and one of five dollars, for first and second places in the competition. The judging will be based on the following points: composition and pictorial value; choice of subject material, its charm and appeal; technique and handling of the sketch medium; balance and uniformity of the series. The judges will be members of the Art Department, Architectural Department, and an individual not connected with the college. They will reserve the right to withhold the prize money if no series justifies the award.

NEWMAN CLUB ELECTS BEN KOUBA PRESIDENT

Ben Kouba and Charles French were reelected president and vice president respectively of the Newman Club at their meeting Tuesday evening. Luella McDunn was elected secretary for the ensuing year to replace Marion Schroeder who graduates in June.

BILLIE EASTGATE TO HEAD YWCA NEXT YEAR

Billie Eastgate, Larimore, was elected president of the Young Women's Christian Association at their annual election of officers held on Wednesday of this week.

Florence James was elected vice-president; and Marjorie Beatty, treasurer, at the same time.

Cadets Promoted And Transferred

Pemble, Adam, Peightal, And Watson Now Majors; Nine Captains Are Named

By order of Major Lathrop a number of cadet officers were promoted in rank and assigned new positions. This order went into effect last week at which time the following men assumed their new positions: Milton L. Pemble promoted to Major; Robert J. Adam to Major; Pervical Peightal to Major; Omer L. Watson to Major; Arthur Anderson to Captain; Don S. Bolley to Captain; Newell W. Clark to Captain; Helmer T. Foss to Captain; Cyril L. Peschel to Captain; Albert Palmerlee to Captain; Thomas Palmerlee to Captain; Heber Waldron to Captain; Curtis Ballard to Captain. Clifford L. Bollman was appointed 2nd Lieutenant at the time the order was issued and assigned to 4th platoon.

BACTERIOLOGY LABORATORY TO BE IN 'AG' WING

Plans for the new wing on the "Ag" building will provide for the entire department of bacteriology on the third floor of the wing. This department will be moved over from the basement of "Science" where it is now located. They will occupy practically the entire floor, as only three small rooms are to be used for other purposes which include an entomology laboratory and an animal room for the animal nutrition department.

Across the East end of the second floor, Dr. H. L. Walster, who is in charge of the plans, has a large agricultural library and reading room. The size of the wing is 48x123 and the library will be 24x43. Adjoining the library a 13x27 grain grading room with north light is planned. The remainder of the floor will be devoted to the offices and laboratory of the experiment station plant breeding and crops departments. If possible a crops exhibit and seminar room will also be located on the second floor.

Practically the entire first floor will be devoted to the offices of the experiment station and extension department, although a dustproof balance room for the soils laboratory and an office and a private laboratory for the soils instructor is planned.

In the basement Dr. Walster plans on a 24x43 agricultural assembly room across the East end of the wing. The rest of the floor will be taken up with offices and laboratory of the horticultural department, a student club room and the office of the director of correspondence courses.

Summing the plans up, Dr. Walster emphasized the fact that these are only tentative and that the board of administration will have to cast their opinion on certain features before definite plans could be made. At this time no place is provided for agricultural engineering in the wing and the board will have to decide whether they are to be permanently located in the wing, Francis Hall, or in the barracks.

A number of college students and Fargo people went to Hendrum Wednesday evening to attend "Pollyana," an all high school play coached by Evelyn Probstfeld, an alumnus of the college.

Miss Legionnaire

HARRIET PHILLIPS

Co-Ed Travels With State Legion Band

Miss Harriet Phillips Will Accompany American Legion Band To Louisville

If a popularity contest with only North Dakota State College girls entered and a nationwide vote was conducted on same, undoubtedly Miss Harriet Phillips would top the list. As Queen of North Dakota's famous American Legion Band, Miss Phillips has made a decided hit not only with the band, but wherever they have played.

Members of the band enthusiastically credit Miss Phillips with the fine receptions given them while enroute to San Antonio, Texas, to the national American Legion convention in October last year. They covered eleven states of the south and middle west as well as points in northern Mexico while on this tour and appeared in 43 cities and towns enroute. She made decided hits at Kansas City, New Orleans and St. Louis.

It was while she was in Loreado, Mexico, that she was the guest of General Escobar, now famous for his part in the present Mexican rebellion, and appeared with the famous Mexico City Police Band which was touring Mexico and the southern part of the United States at that time. Miss Phillips states that General Escobar was a very genial host even though he is now engaged in one of the largest uprisings ever occurring in Mexico.

While at San Antonio Miss Phillips and her band won second place in competition with one hundred and forty bands from all parts of the United States. Many of the bands in this competition were sixty and seventy piece bands, whereas Miss Phillips and her band were only thirty one pieces and the unique part of the organization is the fact that the thirty-one men are from thirty-one different towns in North Dakota with no two men coming from the same town or belonging to the same Legion Post. Miss Phillips was signally honored while at the Convention when she was given the place of honor at the annual banquet of the 90th Division between General John J. Pershing and General Sir Lord Allanby of England.

According to an announcement made by K. A. Fitch, manager for Miss Phillips and her band, they will appear in Fargo during the Spring Show Week, April 20 to 27th, as well as at the state convention of the American Legion in Minot. From there they will begin their annual tour to the National Convention at Louisville, Kentucky. Enroute to and from this convention Miss Phillips and the band will appear in cities in the states of Michigan, Illinois, Indiana, Ohio, West

Y.M.C.A. ELECTS "JOE" LINDGREN PRESIDENT

Joseph Lindgren, Park River, was elected president of the Young Men's Christian Association at their election held Tuesday of this week. "Joe" is a Junior in the School of Agriculture.

Jesse A. Reynolds, Van Hook, and Martin Altenberg, New Salem, were elected secretary and treasurer, respectively, at the same time.

Dr. Noyes To Speak On Chemical Future

Former Ill. University Chemist To Speak At Convocation Wednesday, April 17

"America's Opportunity in Chemistry" will be discussed by Dr. W. A. Noyes, former head of the School of Chemistry at the University of Illinois, at convocation Wednesday morning, April 17th.

Dr. Noyes is making a national speaking tour thruout the middle west and west in the interests of chemistry. Students will recall Dr. Gerald Wendt of Penn. State who spoke here last year on a similar mission.

Wednesday afternoon at 4:30 Dr. Noyes will speak on "The Electronic Interpretation of Oxidation and Reduction" in room 26 of the Chemistry building. The lecture is designed to be of interest to members of the experiment station staff, faculty members of the school as a whole and the School of Chemistry as well as students of chemistry.

"Religion and Authority" will be discussed at length by Dr. Noyes on Wednesday evening before a meeting of the American Association of University Professors at 6:30 p. m. in Ceres Hall dining room.

ALL OF JUNIOR PROM COMMITTEES WORKING

Keith Allen, who was recently appointed in charge of the music for the Junior Prom to be held Friday night of next week announces that he has secured the Red Jackets for the occasion.

Ralph Welch, who was appointed by Everett Knutson, manager of the Junior affair, to select and purchase the favors for the occasion believes that the favors are the most unique given in years and will meet with the approval of every young lady present.

Arlene Burt is in charge of the programs for the affair but when asked regarding the nature of the memos, she replied, "I have nothing to say for publication." And how she smiled.

LONG PROBLEM IN DESIGN ANNOUNCED

Professor Homer B. Huntoon of the Department of Architecture has recently announced that an aquarium will be the subject of the current long problem in design open to members of the Junior class. Prizes of ten dollars and five dollars are offered for the two best series of sketches and studies showing the most logical and interesting development, step by step, throughout the entire study of the aquarium project leading up to the final rendition. The object of the competition is to obtain studies, sketches, and drawings that will enable the department to show laymen just how the problem is studied and results arrived at. The preliminary sketches will be mounted and exhibited along with the final drawings.

Narum Secures The Orpheum For Production

Group Rehearsals To Be In "Y"; Group Managers Will Meet Sunday

May 1st and 2nd have finally been agreed upon as the dates for initial edition of Bison Brevities, North Dakota State's own vaudeville review to be given at the Orpheum theatre.

The show bids fair to rival any show of its type in the state according to M. Foss Narum, production manager. Because of his vaudeville, chautauqua, band and orchestra experience, Mr. Elmer O. Hanson has been appointed director of the production. He will assist with the various acts, attend rehearsals and generally round out the various acts.

A meeting of the group managers will be held in the Y. M. C. A. building Sunday at 1:00 p.m. Through the courtesy of Secretary Otterson, the "Y" has been secured for the supervised rehearsals.

Reviewing the ten sparkling spicy, acts one cannot help but know the show will be the success that Blue Key, who is sponsoring the show, predicts for it.

Led by Billie Eurenne the Kappa Phi's bluster forth gloriously in a band review. Stuttering saxophones, fuming brass and stampeding percussion, with incidental hoofing by the boys produces a riot of rhythm you cannot miss.

OUR WHITE ELEPHANT

Many heads, and big ones at that, have been shaken around the campus for many years when asked questions like "What is the purpose of the college 'Y'?" "How might it be operated to better use the advantages and the fine building?" "How can it reach more students?" Up to date nothing more has been discovered. Fraternity men pass the buck to the non-fraternity men and vice-versa.

Last year the association had a fraternity man at the head and he received practically no cooperation. This coming year a non-fraternity man will lead the organization. It will get a great thing now if a few more non-fraternity men will give him their support. If they do, undoubtedly something may be accomplished by the group, but it must be remembered that no one man can solve the whole problem and the situation is a challenge to every student of North Dakota State.

One man suggested that all non-fraternity men join the group, bind themselves together and work with two objectives in mind. The first to make a bigger and better Y and secondly take a hand in North Dakota State politics.

The Spectrum at this time congratulates Joseph Lindgren on his election as president and wishes him success in his new field of work.

THE DIRTY SHIRT BRIGADE

Complaints are being heard this week from freshmen and sophomore cadets regarding the "full dress every day order." Apparently the department has forgotten they issued but one shirt to each cadet last fall.

One freshman amusingly sizes up the situation as follows: "Our Military Department's conscience must surely be uneasy. And the local Board of Health should hear of the department's crime. Violating the principles of their own lectures on personal hygiene, taking cruel advantage of even the collegiate's not very precise regard for immaculate raiment, our militarists have decreed that we shall wear the same shirt to drill five days a week for the next month. There shall no time for washing in all this month—laundries do not give same-day service. And we are assured that a cut in military will be recorded against us if we do not appear with the prescribed shirt. Indeed, there is every likelihood that by the end of this month we will no longer appear to be cadet soldiers of our United States, but the black-shirted cohorts of Mussolini."

Among Our Contemporaries

The Howard University basketball cagers are called the "Bisons."

Maybe this clipping from an exchange paper will be informative to some people—

"Girls' Glee Club Sing" (headline). Isn't that surprising? Often wondered what a glee club was for.

"Wiser Wifeless Last Man's Club" is the official title of the recently organized bachelor's club, organized on the campus of the University of Minnesota to protect its members from the wiles of the weaker sex.

The University of Wisconsin has installed a super-sensitive microbalance which is sensitive enough to measure the weight of an idea. This addition to the department makes the efficiency unsurpassed elsewhere in the United States.

At last we know why college students are as they are. A number of women deans held a convention in Cleveland recently and have, apparently, decided what is "The Trouble Among College Students". Here's why, the deans say:

1. No one ever wants to go to bed.
2. Once in bed, no one ever wants to get up.
3. Youth does not admire old age.
4. No girl knows how to behave with boy friends.

There may be "Trouble Among College Students", but as long as a convention of deans can advance no more comprehensive analysis than the foregoing, it is hard to see a solution for the problem.

Ebullitions of Ebony Blott

By Everett Wallum

When the carload of bricks arrived at the site of the new Kappa Phi house, observers were at a loss to discover whether they were building or having hell week.

Poss Narum supervised the digging of the basement so he can "get in on the ground floor."

The building is springing up, but not too fast for the boys. Some of them wanted to wait until leap year.

One of the workmen fell in the concrete, and he was so mortified!

The fraternity made Cliff Booke proxy, so they could have lots of chapters in the organization.

A luxuriant mustache prevents observers from determining whether it is an open Booke or not.

"I am bound to do well", says Mr. Booke. Anyway, he's a type.

The boys have turned down the suggestion to fix the sleeping quarters like a class room so the roomers can relax fully.

INTERMISSION

"There's my sugar standing in the rain," remarked the restaurant diner after he put a big lump in his coffee.

Just because fraternities have paddles is no sign they are all wet.

We are contracting for all the dirt from the basement excavations for use in this column.

Building progress is coming to a head, which probably means that the contractors are working with concrete already.

A garage will be built as soon as the raffle business warrants it.

Phi Kappa Phi doesn't need a home. We've got a library now.

If the Alpha Kappa Phi's want a unique fireplace, they can start a fire in it.

It is said that 12th avenue will someday be fraternity row. We've had fraternity rows for years.

Maybe this is the strong frame we heard so much about.

We can freely predict that the house will not be finished in Ebony.

E. BLOTT DINES WITH PRACTICE HOUSE GIRLS

"They'll probably be puttin' stuff in my food, but I guess I'll go anyway," is the manner in which Ebony Blott responded to the invitation of the Practice House girls when invited to be their dinner guest Wednesday evening. The invitation was the result of the column Blott wrote a week ago today, wise-cracking about the young ladies in the model house. Evidently the biscuits couldn't have been so very bad as we still see him about the campus.

Judging from his column today, he will very likely be a Sunday dinner guest at the Alpha Kappa Phi home.

National Rifle Championship Prospects Good

Fistic Tournament Draws Fine Crowd

Friberg and "Tiny" Law Box Five Rounds; Decision Goes To Friberg

By MILO HOISVEEN

As a result of the accurate shooting accomplished by the Bison rifle team during the past week, the chances for capturing the National and Hearst trophies are even brighter than they were last year when Lieutenant Ross's men coveted the national honors.

Fire has been completed in the shooting for both trophies with the Bison total above that of last year. In the national competition fired a year ago the rifle team made a score of 7622 compared to a total of 7677 points made in the four stages fired this year. The aces of last year's team had a margin of 14 points over their nearest rival.

The members of the rifle squad are: Frank Dvorak, Vern Smith, Walt Barthelomew, A. Palmerlee, T. Palmerlee, J. Olson, Al Lee, Curtis Ballard, Bothun, Morris Barks, G. Schoessow, E. Schoessow, Ray Bassett, K. Piper, and Art Johnson. The team is captained by Arthur Johnson and is under the management of Curtis Ballard.

During the winter the Bison gunmen shot a total of 62 matches, winning 52 and losing 10 to make an average of .838. The average made by the team ranks among the highest in the intercollegiate competition.

Lieutenant Ross's aces completed firing for the Hearst trophy Wednesday afternoon, making a total which should rank well up with the strongest competitors. The squad was divided into three teams, the first team scoring 879, the second 857, and the third 816 points, making a total average of 831.

Participants in the first team were: Watson, Ballard, Johnson, Schoessow, and Dvorak. Second team: Olson, Barks, Bassett, Palmerlee, and Bothun. Third team: Piper, T. Palmerlee, Vern Smith, E. Schoessow, and Lee.

Boxing Tournament
Bison fight fans were given their last opportunity to watch their favorites perform, Wednesday night, when the final and championship card was staged. The elimination tournament resulted in the crowning of Len Friberg, heavyweight champion, Frank Dvorak, middleweight, Vern Skjonsby, welterweight, John Molitor, lightweight, and Charles Fox, featherweight.

The middleweight championship melee, which was the final and main bout, gave the fans plenty of thrills. Both Karges and Dvorak repeatedly brought punches out of the basement and landed the same. The two boxers on several occasions stood toe to toe and slugged it out. For three rounds the middleweight crown rested evenly on the heads of both boxers, but in the final round Dvorak was able to gain enough points to win the judges' verdict, and consequently the title.

John Molitor annexed the lightweight championship in the curtain raiser by winning a decision over Pinkham. Molitor was conceded the last three rounds of the setto, the first round being classed as a draw.

It took five rounds of vicious fighting to decide the heavyweight championship which was fought between Friberg and Law. The two heavies had each gained two rounds at the end of the fourth chapter and it was necessary to fight another round to award the title. In the final stanza Friberg was able to peck out a slight margin which was sufficient to gain him the title.

The welterweight title was awarded to Vern Skjonsby as his Frank Haley was unable to make the weight required in the welterweight division. The two boxers put on an exhibition though, fighting at their respective weights. Haley copped the first two rounds with little trouble but a strong comeback by the champ in the closing rounds placed the boxers on even terms.

Lonsbrough and McMillan were scheduled to vie for lightweight weight title, but the bout was postponed as McMillan was sick with the flu. The two lightweight title aspirants will probably meet in a bout to be held in the near future. Molitor and Ed Bennett of the Fargo Y. M. C. A. put on a three round exhibition bout which was well received by the fans.

Charles Fox and Marvin Spielman treated the fans to a pretty bit of boxing and hitting in the featherweight championship clash. Spielman took the honors in the first round but the speedy Fox traveled a little faster than his opponent in the last three periods.

Miss Ruth Glasier was a dinner guest at the Alpha Xi Beta house on Thursday evening.

Mr. Skjonsby, Hickson, has been visiting his son Verne at the Sigma Tau house this week.

Russel and Wayne Weiser and Arthur Ziegler made a trip to Hazelton, this state, by auto Wednesday. Wayne and "Art" returned the next day, leaving "Rus" at home to help put in the crop.

Genevieve Boise who has been in Bismarck working in the legislature during the session, has returned to Fargo to finish her work at college. She has as her guest Miss Katherine Bodenstab of Bismarck.

Alpha Xi Beta initiated five girls last Sunday afternoon at five o'clock at services held at the chapter house. Following the ceremony the group enjoyed a dinner at the Tea Cup Inn, where covers were laid for thirty-two. The initiates were presented with wrist corsages of sweet peas, the sorority flower. Those initiated were: Ethel Renwick, Fargo; Viola Seaburg, Ovidia Carstens, Dilworth; Norma Cavett, Lisbon; and Marjorie Gotting, Tolna.

Pupils of Mrs. Tarbell and Miss Adda Blakeslee, instructors in piano and voice at the college, appeared in an informal recital last night at the home of Mrs. Tarbell, 1130 11th St. N. After the program refreshments were served. Those who took part in the program were Florence James, Marjorie Beatty, Mabel Fjug, Agnes this act something never before seen on a Fargo stage.

Hanson, Leola Burrell, Verna Johnson, Daisy Renz, Alice Warne, Edris Probstfield, Rose Howard and Walter Nelson.

From the Delta Sig house, Horace McGrath uncorks a bundle of smart ones in a general gag act guaranteed to bring heart gurgles. Then there is a Clark boy that knows his hoofing. Who said Houdini was dead?

The Delta Phi Betas in their big-hearted way, generously lead you to a gal's dormitory for fifteen minutes of song and dance. Evelyn Blakeslee directs the review and it is bound to go hard on the stove and coal business when this curtain goes up.

The Kappa Psi's led by Dan Baillie, entertain with two pianos, a hooper, and a singing duo,—and of course you've heard the Kappa Psi Sweetheart.

Under Miss Emma Nelson's direction the Kappa Deltas take you to Chicago. Keerful, or you'll fall just like I did! From the Silver Slipper Cabaret comes song and dance which pleases mightily. An' don't forget,—you're in Chicago now.

The Kappa Sigma Chis led by Erling Thorson bring out the best in strong man presentations. Fooyey! He bends horseshoes, breaks nails and lifts humans with his hair!

Under the spell of a Carolina moon the Phi Omega Pi's weave their spell of moonlit melody. Lots of nice atmosphere for the romantic. Then there's a modern chorus, too—ver' nice. Miss Doris Wilner, their director, has pleasingly blended the old and the new.

You'll all be kids again when you watch the dolls from the Sigma Theta house perform. Led by Miss Florence Flemming, mamma dolls, cats, and jack-in-the-boxes all come to life to make up an act you won't forget.

Under the direction of Mr. Fredrickson the burly Theta Chi's present artful drama, reproducing the most approved methods of running or ruining, (I don't just remember which) a Fraternity meeting.

Dr. C. D. "Buck" Thompson, N. D. S. C. '19, osteopathic physician, announces to N. D. State College students that he has opened his office at 107 1/2 Bdwy. Suite 6, for the practice of Osteopathy.
