Plantation Singers Present Fine Concert

Popular Numbers, Jubilee Chants And Plantation Songs Hold Lyceum Crowd Intense

A plantation scene opened the musical program presented by the Jackson Plantation Singers, a quartet of colored vocalists, Monday evening in the college armory. This was the fourth number of the Eighteenth Annual Lyceum Series. The presentation of the old time cotton plantation scene was a colorful picture of darkies singing at their work. Many old favorites such as "My Old Kentucky Home," "Old Black Joe," and "Way Down Yonder in de Cornfield," were given as well as jubilee chants, plantation songs and dances, hymns, and old tribal melodies and spirituals.

The second part of the program included several piano solos, popular numbers including "Chloe" and "My Blue Heaven," and familiar negro spirituals such as "Swing Low, Sweet Chariot," and "Roll, Jordan, Roll." Humorous jingles and diversions were also introduced. Many of the songs have been taken in the crude state and harmonized by the best of modern composers.

The Plantation Singers are noted for their close harmony. Each member of the company has had more than ordinary training being either a high school or a college graduate. All have had valuable experience on the concert stage. They have been training musicians of the colored race, led by Robert Jackson, one of the out-and-an authority on negro folk lore and negro music at its best. He is head of the music department and Dean of Western University of Kansas City Kansas. —A. B.

JOURNALISM STUDENTS TOUR ENGRAVING PLANT

How to reproduce a picture on a copper or a zinc plate will be a process demonstrated before 30 journalism students this afternoon from four to five at the Dakota Photo Engraving company down town.

During the tour of the engraving plant, Thos. L. Bayard, proprietor, and his assistants will point out the steps in the relief processes of engraving and printing. These processes will include line etching, halftones and the methods of mounting plates.

Tours of inspection to down town engraving and printing plants are made regularly each year by students enrolled in journalism courses, according to T. Worden Johnson, instructor of journalism. These tours give the students a better knowledge of the subject of journalism, he adds.

The tour this afternoon is open to others who are not now enrolled in journalism courses.

Kappa Sigma Chi will stage an informal dancing party at the Waldorf hotel Saturday evening of this week. Mr. and Mrs. Fred L. Weeks and Mr. and Mrs. George F. Yott will chaperone the affair.

Committees Are Announced For Engineers' Brawl

Tom Allen May Become Bootlegger According To Manager Percival Peightal

Committees in charge of the various divisions of the annual Engineers' Wild West Brawl have all been appointed by Manager Percival Peightal, with one exception. The date for the brawl is Friday, April 5th.

Mr. Peightal found little difficulty in appointing his assistants until coming to the official bootlegger. Other years the engineers have disregarded the 18th amendment entirely, running the show "wide open", but this year those in charge agreed that their wild west brawl must be modernistic, bringing in a genuine bootlegger and a prohibition officer. Pat Brindle has been appointed prohibition officer. Mr. Peightal pointed out that bids will still be received for the bootleggers job, but the requirements are stiff as each applicant must submit a sample of his goods which must be passed on by representatives of "Good Housekeeping" and "College Humor." The only application in for the position at the present time is one signed by Tommie Allen.

The complete list of committees includes the following: William Rundquist, publicity; Marcus Pederson, concessions; John E. Johnson, Everett Knutson, Don Best, music; Elmer Torkelson, Harvey Groves, Waldo Lossness, patrons; Kenneth Sundberg, and Roger Olson, decorations; Leonard Dobbett, floor manager; Cecil Kingsley, Arthur Johnson and Charles McKinnie, programs; Joseph Laugaunet and Walter Nelson, finance; Lawrence Debing, Robert Carlson, Earl Fentor, and Albert Anderson, lights; William Shine, Lawrence Parsons, Richard Scott and Neal Baldwin, features; Herbert Hendrickson, David Woodward, Amil Lund, Wesley Moore and Leonard Patzwald, clean-up.

PHI OMEGA PI INSPECTOR HERE

Miss Isabelle Fillmore, traveling secretary of Phi Omega Pi sorority arrived here Thursday morning to remain until Saturday evening inspecting Zeta chapter.

In honor of Miss Fillmore the chapter is holding a tea at the chapter house Saturday afternoon. Corsages of lily-of-the-valleys, the sorority flower, will be presented to Miss Fillmore as well as Mrs. Fred Olson, deputy, and Mrs. Mary Smith, house-mother. Miss Esther Boyer is in charge.

Saturday evening at 7:00 o'clock the annual founder's day banquet will be held at the Gardner hotel. Appointments will be in blue and white. Miss Doris Wilner is in charge.

CAFETERIA WILL "SERVE" SPECTRUMS

Starting this noon several hundred Spectrums will be delivered to the Ceres Hall cafeteria each Tuesday and Friday noon for those who eat their noon lunches there, as a result of an agreement reached with Miss Ruth Rogers, manager of the cafeteria, and the heads of the Spectrum.

Miss Rogers and Spectrum heads inaugurated the new plan that both departments may better serve their public. Spectrum readers who reside or eat at Ceres Hall are now expected to leave the pile of Spectrums in the old main basement unmolested and secure theirs in Ceres Hall.

Right along this line, Harold Phillips, business manager of the Spectrum pointed out that organizations are taking more than their share of the papers in old main and urged that they use a little more consideration so that a new system of distribution may be avoided.

Senate Provides For "State" Gymnasium

General Budget Amounting To $838,218.18 Also Passes The Senate

Senator A. W. Fowler's bill appropriating $210,000 for a combined auditorium and gymnasium at North Dakota State College, passed the senate Tuesday by a vote of 31 to 18, after it had been voted down by a vote of 24 to 19.

Bills carrying appropriations of $838,218.19 for the State college general budget; $117,773.64 for the extension division of the college and $1,235,107.60 for the state university also passed the Senate on Tuesday. Some time ago the Senate passed the bill appropriating $190,000 for the construction of the wings on the science and agricultural buildings.

President Coulter was in Bismarck on Wednesday and Thursday of this week conferring with members of the house ways and means committee, where action on North Dakota state appropriation bills will undoubtedly take place this week.

O. J. WEISNER LEAVES POULTRY EXTEN. DEPT.

Weiser, extension poultry man for the state of North Dakota for the past three years, has recently resigned and has accepted a position with Pillsbury Feed Co. with North and South Dakota as his territory. Mr. Weiser's resignation took effect March 1st. His resignation required George P. Goodearl, poultry instructor to be at Finley, this state, for an economic conference on Thursday and Friday of this week. Prof. O. A. Barton, head of the department, will go out next week attending the last of the economic conferences.

CHRIS JENSEN WILL LEAVE FOR AMES, IOWA

Frank Moore, '27, recently wrote Prof. O. A. Barton a letter in which he told about four feet of snow at Moscow, Idaho, where he is located. Upon graduation Mr. Moore went to the University of Idaho, going into both teaching and experimental work and working on his Master's degree on the side. He expects to secure his Master's degree in June.

Leonard Rygg, a senior in the School of Agriculture was recently notified that he has received in Fellowship in Horticulture at Oregon State College where he will go this fall to pursue his studies towards a Master's degree in horticulture.

GARDNER TO JOIN KANSAS CITY BLUES

Geryl "Truck" Gardner, former star pitcher of the Campus league, has pitched himself from the college diamond to a try out with the Kansas City Blues, American Association baseball club. Gardner left Wednesday for Kansas City where he will report to the manager of the baseball club. Following a brief stay in Kansas City he will leave for Shreveport, La. where the spring training camp of the Kansas City club is located. The training campaign lasts for a period of six weeks prior to the opening of the American Association of which Kansas City is one of the leading teams.

Prior to Gardner's mound achievements at this college he had pitched in but two contests, these being in high school. Gardner's hurling ability attracted the attention of the Commercial League teams of Fargo and he was immediately signed to pitch for one of the uptown teams. He later acquired statewide fame by winning games from some of the fast traveling teams visiting this state. Gardner plans on returning to college following the termination of the present baseball season. Gardner is a sophomore in the School of Architecture, and is a member of Kappa Tau Delta, honorary architectural fraternity.

MUSICAL HERALD PRINTS ARTICLE BY DR. PUTNAM

February's issue of the Musical Herald published in the Twin Cities carries an article by Dr. C. S. Putnam, head of the department of music, in which he deals with band and orchestra rehearsals, his suggestions being based on his 25 years of experience.

He states that "the most important feature in the training and exhibiting, for public approval, of a group of musicians, either voice, orchestra, or band, is the rehearsal," and goes on explaining how to conduct the rehearsal.

SENATE SEES CRISIS

For several years officials have declared at different times that the crisis is here as far as registration is concerned. The number of students has increased steadily every year since the war, still North Dakota State has not secured a building since the erection of the Ag building some ten years ago.

This year members of the senate have actually realized the existing conditions here and have agreed that North Dakota State shall have a new physical education building, a dormitory, a wing on the "Ag" building and a wing on science, as well as a small increase in operating expenses.

Our fate now lies in the hands of the members of the house and the governor. Truly we still have a long and 'hard row to hoe', but must admit that we are a bit optimistic as to the results.

Members of the house and the governor have heard our pleas as well as the senate. They realize that our physical education equipment is not near adequate and perhaps a few of them have attempted to attend one of the major basketball games of the season. The department has lost considerable revenue annually by people being turned away from games and others who did not come because they knew the existing conditions. That the fraternity games may be played off they quite often play as late as 12 p.m. in the armory. Students, and parents of the same, have secured contact with members of the legislature who have not witnessed the existing conditions and told them how one takes history in Engineering, journalism in the Dairy Building or Ag. Economics dept., and English in the Barracks.

OUTSIDE READING

According to tradition and a natural human failing, the last portion of each term experiences a frenzied rush for term reports. The library is now feeling the effects of the hundreds of students who are demanding quantities and quantities of books. It has been the practice of the library to hold material in urgent demand on what is known as a "reserve shelf," and to forbid students to take these books out of the building. Sad experience has proven, the librarians tell us, that reserve material will be kept out by selfish persons for an unnecessary length of time, bringing down the justifiable wrath of others.

Under the present plan students must do all outside reading in the library, during the day and in the evening. This is, of course, a distinct disadvantage to those who work afternoons, and to those living at a distance from the campus. The practice of purloining needed books is a natural result and creates a situation handicapping the considerate ones.

One English class, alive to the situation, petitioned the librarians to aid in securing the scarce books for home use and were awarded with very considerate cooperation. Why would it not be possible to allow reserve volumes to be taken out for one night only, with the stipulation that failure to return them the next morning nets a heavy fine? This rule could be enforced by cooperating with the registrar's office. The latter might hold up credits until the fines are paid.

We believe that the practices the students have resorted to in securing reserve books for personal use has placed the librarians under a disadvantage. This proposal should be an aid to them.—H.P.

Student Opinion

Dear Editor:
In answer to Frank's opinion, "We profit by our mistakes."
In answer to the editorial, "Who carried the team off the floor?"
We thank all those concerned for the encouragement.

(Not a fictitious name)

Mr. J. Bull,
East-bound Freight, en route.

Dear Mr. Bull:
Allow me to congratulate you on your choice of a pen-name; yours is the aptest monicker I've ever seen outside of Doris Blake's column of Advice to the Lovelorn. And many thanks for the personal attention—six paragraphs devoted to me and one to freshman chemistry—the most notoriety I've had at one time since I applied for a birth certificate twenty-three years ago.

However, I find little to admire in your sportsmanship. If you feel justified in your cleverly phrased charge of pedantry, why don't you print your name beneath it so that I have a fair chance to reply in kind? Don't you feel a little cheap at hiding your identity behind a fictitious name when you use mine with such abandon? Did you really expect me to answer someone who chose to giggle in the dark? Before you prefer such an indictment you ought to come around and get acquainted so that you can be sure of yourself. (In case you are MISS Bull I might ask for a date so that we can talk things over.)

No, Mr. Bull, you show poor taste; if you wish to print letters containing other people's names, please be courteous enough to append your own.
Very chemically,
Marvin Spielman.

POET TAKES OFFENSE AT "BLESSINGS" RHYME

Those who read last Tuesday's Spectrum closely will recall the "Blessings" rhyme carried in "Our Contemporaries" from The Industrial Collegian. One State College girl took offense at the squib and the following is the result of her efforts to square up accounts.

Blessings on thee stalwart son,
With thy manly six foot one—
Bare of leg from ankle up
(Garter stolen by some pup?)
Trousers sweeping up the ground
Pick up street dust by the pound;
Bare of head most any day
Really an immodest way
To display the latest wave.
Bought at sacrifice of shave
Do you think the downy state
Of your lip proves man's estate?
Tho I wish you every joy,
I'm glad I'll never be a boy.

CHAMPIONS PLAYED MAROONS LAST NIGHT

Brookings, S. D., Feb. 27.—The conference championship State College basketball team will make their final bow to the home folks in their game with Morningside here Thursday night. Although the Jackrabbits have the conference flag cinched, they are more than anxious to turn in a win before the home folks in their final game and retain the prestige of having lost only one conference game during the season.

Because of the injury to Herting, scoring ace of the North Central Conference, Coach George Edmonds is not too optimistic over the results of Thursday night's game. In the previous encounter with Morningside at Sioux City, the Jackrabbits emerged with the slim victory of 5 points. In this game Herting was going strong. Edmonds announced today that Herting would be in the starting lineup but his ankle is none too strong and even though he may last the game.

he will hardly be in his usual form. Two of the Jackrabbits, Captain Schaefer and Krug, will play in their final college game against the Maroons. Both have played three years of college basketball and are probably the most versatile pair of basketball players that ever represented the Jackrabbit institution. During Krug's career he has played guard, center and forward, and has done a remarkable job of it. Captain Schaefer started out as a forward in his first two years and this year was shifted to a running guard during most of the season. Thursday night Schaefer will be seen back at his old forward position because the injury to Herting necessitates a shift in the lineup.

John Langford of Cooperstown is a guest at the Theta Chi house this week.

By Everett Wallum

So the legislature is going to see the Bison and Nodaks play. If Dick Holzer referees, they'll learn a few things about law enforcement.

If they're as outspoken to Dick as they are to political opponents, the game will result in a gruelling foul-shooting contest.

They're having the game at the reform school to save transportation in case the lawmakers get too rabid.

As soon as a player starts with the ball, the solons will get their heads together to pass a law against it.

They hate to see anybody running without the stamp of party approval.

Whenever Dick calls a foul, they'll stop the game until he gets the proper injunction.

As the game is played at the reformatory, they won't let the players have any timeouts unless relieved by the state pardon board.

The players' charging will undoubtedly meet with the approval of the legislative fault-finding committee.

And if a player has four personals for charging, he can appeal to the judicial gentlemen. He can file bankruptcy under a state law which exonerates a man who has charged too much.

And when Dick calls a player for holding, several legislators will hang their heads sheepishly. They held a meeting last week.

State prohibition leaders will undoubtedly frown on the practice of tossing up the ball at center on the grounds that it is teaching students to reach for a highball.

Party leaders will have to do some hot cheer leading to keep their ranks from splitting up.

"I refuse to yell for the Bison", one rural legislator is quoted in a pre-game interview, "I have enough trouble calling the cows."

If the legislators really attend, there'll be no trouble inflating the balls.

It isn't going to help Dick Holzer any, as far as vociferous yelling is concerned, by the fact that he hasn't a vote in this state.

"I knew there was a string to it," sniffed a representative as he examined the ball.

We hear that Dick Holzer wanted the game played at the school for deaf and dumb.

But the lawmakers should approve of basket-shooting. Look at all the investigations they kill every year!

Bison And Nodak
Frosh To Meet Here
Tonight And Saturday

Bison And Nodak Varsity Teams
Will Meet At Mandan
Tomorrow Night

Bison followers will be given a chance to dote upon basketball prospects for next season when the Bison Frosh team meets the Nodak first yearmen in a two game series tonight and tomorrow in the Army. Tonights game will take place at 7:30 and the final contest will be played tomorrow afternoon at 3:00.

Though there is no such thing as dope in basketball the Baby Bison are accorded an even chance to win the coming contests. The Nodak quint has considerable advantage over the Bison in size, but it is thought that the Yearlings will be able to overcome this handicap by their speed. At the present the Nodaks hold a verdict over the Bison having defeated them by a 27 to 22 count at Grand Forks three weeks ago. In the second game of the series played at the University, the two teams played to a 28 all tie, the game ending when the Bison had to leave to catch a train.

Preparations for the upstate quint are being made by both Coach Saalwaechter and Lowe. Considerable polish has been added to the Frosh team since playing the University, and it is likewise expected that the Nodak team will also be playing an improved brand of ball.

The Varsity team are scheduled to meet the University quint at Mandan Saturday evening. The game is being played to give the people in the Western part of the state an opportunity to see the teams play. Hahn will be the only Bison who will not make the trip. The Bison captain made arrangements to referee a high school tournament prior to the scheduling of the fifth contest between the Bison and the Nodaks.

Later: Matt Braus will very likely not play in the game Saturday either as his mother died Wednesday morning at 5:30.

JUST right for most people, because it works like a charm with a minimum of manipulating. It's the famous Anso Readyset—the one and only folding camera you can use without focusing, adjusting, or guessing distance.

All you need do is open—aim—shoot. That saves you many precious seconds when you're grabbing snapshots on the fly. And naturally helps you catch easy, life-like pictures before the psychological moment gets away.

Vest Pocket, $7.50; No. 1, $10.50; No. 1A, $13.50. There's no better assurance of value than the Anso name on a camera.

Generating Brain Power

BRAIN power, not horsepower, is the chief operating requirement of the electrical industry.

This requirement must be continuously anticipated to provide leaders for the future. Accordingly, each year, more than 400 picked college graduates come to the General Electric Company for a post-graduate course in electrical science.

With a faculty including inventors and engineers of international distinction, something more than electrical knowledge is imparted to these young men. Here they also find inspiration which prepares them for leadership in this electrical age.

You will see this monogram on the powerful motors of an electric locomotive and on the convenience outlet where you plug in a floor lamp—always and everywhere it is a safe guide to electrical quality and dependability.

FROSH PUCKSTERS LOSE TO MOORHEAD HIGH

Bison Frosh puck chasers dropped a 2 to 1 decision to the Moorhead high school sextet Wednesday afternoon. Weather conditions left the rink in poor shape making good hockey impossible.

The Moorhead icemen outclassed the Yearlings in the defensive department making it difficult for the Bison to obtain shots at the Moorhead net. Several injuries to Frosh players weakened the lineup considerably.

AT THE THEATRES

CANDO TEAM LOSES TO BISON B. B. STARS

Two impressive victories were scored over the Cando Independent basketball team, holders of the state championship, by a team composed of four former Bison basketeers and one University player. In the first contest the college stars scored a 30-26 victory, Hahn making 19 of the college team's 30 points. The second game was won by a 44-23 score, Al Letich, Nodak forward, scoring ten field goals for the collegians.

Five seniors from the two schools comprised the lineup of the college team. They were Captain Hahn, Dutch Hermes, John Brady, and Matt Braus, former members of the Bison team, and Al Letich, former Nodak forward. Fans from Cando and vicinity were impressed by the fast brand of basketball offered by the college team.

PAUSE AND REFRESH YOURSELF

IT WON'T BE LONG NOW. AND THE PAUSE THAT'S COMING MAY NOT BE SO REFRESHING AS SOME OTHERS WE KNOW OF.

The moral is to avoid situations where it is impossible to pause and refresh yourself—because whenever you can't is when you most wish you could. Fortunately, in normal affairs there's always a soda fountain or refreshment stand around the corner from anywhere with plenty of ice-cold Coca-Cola ready. And every day in the year 8 million people stop a minute, refresh themselves with this pure drink of natural flavors and are off again with the zest of a fresh start.
