

15th Anniversary Of L. C. Theatre Draws Big Crowd

'Brand', 'Servant In The House,' And 'David Harum' Featured Three Day Festival

By VICTOR LINDGREN

Talks and speeches from professional and college officials, plays given by alumni and Bergen Township Farmers Club, with the final producing of the drama "Brand" by the advanced class in play production, furnished genuine entertainment that was enjoyed by hundreds of people who gathered for the three day celebration commemorating the 15th anniversary of the Little Country Theatre, a foundation stone upon which the country theatre movement has developed with A. G. Arvola as its founder.

The occasion opened with the formal anniversary exercises held Sunday afternoon in which Dr. John Lee Coulter emphasized the timeliness of such a country theatre movement springing as it has in this great scientific era where leisure time is a problem confronting the American people. Walter R. Reed, of Fargo, spoke on "An Ideal in the Land of the Dakotas" the gist of which was "to see the common thing in the uncommon." Judge A. M. Christianson, associate justice of the North Dakota Supreme court, Bismarck, showed in his speech how "the theatre is a social factor in this state." "That to act a character in the way you see the character, in your own way," was brought out by Phyllis Heimark, a student of the college, as an ideal of the Little Country Theatre.

Henrik Ibsen's "Brand", this year's experimental production of the Little Country Theatre, staged Monday evening during the anniversary, offered evidences that the finer dramas may be attempted for entertainment by communities with small stages, and meager staging facilities. Harold Fog, playing Brand, the main character throughout the play, deserves much praise. Amateur ability was supported by native endowment of movement and expression. The remainder of the cast played their roles well. Mabel Wenzel, Raymond Gregerson, Emma Nelson, Harold Peterson, Victor Lindgren, Theodore Laibly, Walter Shamp, Anthony Faber, Ruth Whitney, Leonard Rygg, Kenneth McCullough, Thomas Christenson, Ben Kouba, Dorothy Moffit, Marion Stone, Mrs. Nellie Hicks, Ole Sand, Byron Olson, Kenneth Wyard, and Dan Howell were the supporting cast.

The effects produced by the lighting on the painted scenery were effective and approached the realistic as near as possible. The moving clouds and water waves deserve mention.

The Bergen Township Farmer's Club in presenting "Back to the Farm," a rural comedy in three acts by Merline Shumway, with a cast of real farmers entertaining in a play brought out, in part, the aim of the originator of the Little Country Theatre, "to attempt an interest in good, wholesome drama and original entertainment among people living in the open country and villages. Instead of making the drama a luxury for the classes, its aim is to make it an instrument for the enlightenment and enjoyment of the masses."

"David Harum," a comedy in three acts by Eugene Noyes Westcott, was presented as the climax of drama entertainment with Lynn Huey as "David." The play gave the audience a delightful time. The character "David Harum," banker and horse trader, interpreted by Mr. Huey was full of horse sense that could be applied to serious or humorous incident, and yet back of it all was a wonderful broad minded individual.

A Thespian supper, with more than a hundred members who had taken part in plays, were garbed and made up as unique characters of dramadom, featured the concluding festivities of the observance.

COACH WEST CANCELS "U" HOCKEY GAMES

Coach C. A. West has announced that the University Hockey team would not meet the Bison pucksters in the scheduled two game series. The games were to be held on the college rink Friday and Saturday afternoons. "Too much snow" was given the reason for the cancelling of the games. Coach West stated that the frequent snow storms had covered up the University rink. According to this the fraternity puck chasers must be using snow shoes for skates in playing of the intermural hockey championship which is now under way at the University.

Charter Members Of Guidon Are Initiated

New Members Were Also Taken Into Military Sorority Last Night

Eight of the charter members of Guidon were formally installed by members of Scabbard and Blade in the college armory Sunday morning at 7:30. Guidon received its charter from the college April 25th, but charter members were not installed by Scabbard and Blade until last Sunday making the group a women's auxiliary of Scabbard and Blade, national military fraternity.

Those installed include Rita Morris, Floy Beatty, Betty Sheldon, Alta Berg, Gladys Barton, Florence Fleming, Margaret Ballard and Muriel Clark. A breakfast was served at the Beta rooms following the initiation services.

New Members Initiated

Formal initiation services were held in the Beta rooms last night (Thursday) for sponsors of the various platoons who are not already members of the group.

This organization is affiliated with Guidon auxiliary located at the University of South Dakota, Vermillion, where the movement originated. At present the auxiliary is of local organization but it is expected that it will soon be recognized as the official auxiliary of Scabbard and Blade and thus become a national honorary military sorority.

ART DEPARTMENT STAGES POSTER CONTEST

Although it is several months until the May Festival, the Art Department has already begun to think about their open house to be held at that time. A problem was issued to the Freshman class recently in the form of a poster to advertise the open house. This problem was an application of lettering principles which they have been studying, their first work with color, and their first use of tempera paint. The fifty-four posters completed were so successful that it was decided to judge them.

The students themselves selected what they considered the ten best posters. The four highest were no. 33, by Ann Brown, no. 34, Lois Minard's, no. 11, Betty Stone's, and no. 4, Agnes Weible's.

The posters were then judged by a committee consisting of Dean Bales of the Home Economics Department, Miss Hatch of the Art Department, Professor Huntoon of the Architectural Department, and Miss Brekke of the Extension Department. This committee gave first award to Ann Brown's poster, no. 33 for its finish and simplicity while expressing everything necessary. Jane Caniff's poster, no. 17, placed second because of its loveliness, originality, simplicity, and clear color. No. 34, submitted by Lois Minard, was given third place because of its originality. Honorable mention was given to Agnes Fogarty, no. 10, Katherine Knerr, no. 9, and Jane Barton, no. 20.

Miss Elliott, who has charge of the class considered the results of the problem so successful considering the fact that it was the class's first work with color and tempera paint, that it was decided to make the problem a

Augsburg Falls At Bison Hands Saturday 41-22

Braus Proves His Potential Ability By Making Good Five Out Of Seven Free Throws

By MILO HOISVEEN

A revamped Bison lineup, which fairly swamped the Augsburg quint in the last of play, easily defeated the Auggies by a 41 to 22 score. Neither team displayed a flashy brand of basketball, but at times the Bison uncorked an excellent pass attack.

Matt Braus, Bison center, played great ball, making six counters from the field and making good five out of seven attempts from the free throw line. For a period Braus was pitted against Rortvedt, Auggie center, who stands six feet six above the sea level. Had Braus ever attained the tip off from this altitude he would have needed a parachute to return to earth.

Augsburg did the pioneer scoring, Conely registering a shot from the center of the floor after receiving the ball from the first tip off. Braus then counted from under the Bison basket, but the speedy Kolesar sunk a pretty side shot to give the Auggies a 4-2 lead. May and Gergen then counted in fast order to put the Bison in the lead. From then on the Bison were never headed, holding an 18-4 lead at the end of the first half.

Braus again started the Bison on a scoring spree and the Bison counted 11 points while the Auggies rung up a pair of free throws. In the final period Johnnie Smith, who had a streak of hard luck shooting, made it 32 to 16 by making a field goal and a free throw. The Bison continued to pile up a lead until stopped by the gun.

The guarding of Johnson, Gergen, and Brady was so close during the final stanza that the Augsburg quint was unable to count from the field. Gergen besides playing a stellar game on the defense showed up nice on the offense.

May and Bliss at forwards gave the speedy guards much to worry over. May made four field goals and counted three of his foul chances. Johnnie Smith also gave a good account of himself while in the contest.

Bobby Hahn was kept on the sideline throughout the contest. Had Bobby been in the game he more than likely would have added greatly to the Bison total. Kolesar was the only Auggie guard that would have given the speedy Hahn any trouble.

Eastgate Appoints Prom Committees

Ada Coulter Will Be Miss Eastgate's Partner At Affair To Be Held February 28th

Miss Billie Eastgate, manager of the Coed Prom which will be held in the college "Y" Thursday evening, February 28th, has chosen Miss Ada Coulter, Park River, as her partner.

Committees named by Miss Eastgate are as follows: entertainment, Luella McDunn and May Borgen; refreshments, Christine Johnson and Eleanor Erickson; tickets, Margaret Ballard, Jane Barton and Dorothy Smith; publicity, Margaret Miller and Virginia Keene; prizes and programs, Florence James and Ada Coulter.

All couples attending the strictly coed affair will be attired in masquerade costumes for which four prizes are being offered. The funniest couple, the most original couple, the most original man (disguised woman) and the most original woman will all receive prizes.

competitive one right from the start next year.

The posters will be on display in the Art Studio of Science Hall all next week.

Flickers Will Arrive Today For Series Via Special Train

NOTICE GIRLS!

A free ticket to and from the "U" will be given the coed selling the largest number of "Send the band to the U" recognition cards next week. A representative from each sorority is requested to meet with Everett Wallum at the Bison office Monday afternoon at 4:30 for the purpose of allotting the tags.

Letich Is Ineligible For Play; Bison Crew Is In Fine Shape For Games

A hot bunch of basket shooters from the University will blow into town this evening on a north wind from Grand Forks. Two hundred rooters or more, with as much enthusiasm for this evening's battle as a Sacco-Vanzetti gathering, are accompanying the team.

What a battle this evening's contest will be, as each team and coach are out to win the initial tilt, the first game counting in the conference standings and meaning much in the other contests. Coach Saalwaechter has developed a team which has played and is playing the smartest basketball of the conference. Coach Saalwaechter states that his team is now traveling at a fast clip and that if the team will play the brand of ball they are capable of playing they will defeat the Nodaks.

Frosh Lose First And Tie Second U Game

Tie Could Not Be Played Off As Bison Yearlings Had To Catch A Train

In the two cage contests held between the University Frosh and the Baby Bison, at Grand Forks last week end the Bison dropped the initial fray by a 28 to 22 count. The last game of the series ended in a 28 point tie at the end of the regular period for play. The contest then had to be called off as the Yearlings had to catch a return train.

The first contest was exceedingly ragged, both teams handled the ball poorly throughout the contest. It was largely through the accurate shooting of Secord, Nodak forward, that the Nodaks were able to win from the Bison. Secord counted 4 field goals a few minutes before half time to give the University quint a big advantage at half time.

The next period found the Bison battling gamely to overcome the lead of the rival Yearling crew. Fairhead, Bunt, Nordstrom, Seitz, Goodwin, Johnson, and Thomasson showed up well for the Bison during the engagement. Gillson and Secord were the mainstays in the Nodak lineup.

Saturday evening Bob Lowe had his crew all primed to erase the defeat of the evening before. The Nodak Frosh obtained an early lead over the Bison and at half time held a 14-11 advantage.

Lowe's crew came out from behind in the early minutes of play during the last stanza. Through the work of Johnson and Fairhead the Bison gained a 17 to 15 lead. The lead then shifted back and forth neither team gaining a decisive margin. In the last minute of play the University held a 28-26 advantage, but Fairhead spoiled the Nodak's chances of victory by dribbling in from the center of the floor to knot the score at 28. Johnson, Bison center, had a chance to tuck the game away for the Bison in the last few seconds of play but was fouled in the act of shooting. He was not awarded his two free throws as the gun sounded, and the referee waved the discontinuance of the game.

Fairhead was the big scorer for the Bison, counting five from the field and managing a free throw. The speedy forward also showed up well on the floor. Gillson was high point man for the University Frosh, making half of his team's total. Johnson, Goodwin, and Nordstrom each contributed a pair of field goals to the Frosh total.

The second two game series between the two Frosh teams will take place at the Armory March 1 and 2.

GOV. SCHAFFER SIGNS DORMITORY BILL

Governor George F. Schafer signed the Fowler-Hamilton dormitory bill the forepart of this week and as soon as the Supreme Court declares the bill constitutional work will proceed on the already started men's dormitory. It is anticipated that they will pass on the law sometime before the first of July and work will get under way at that time.

The Saddle and Sirloin Club will nominate officers Tuesday evening in the "Ag" building.

The Nodaks and the Bison are now tied for the second position in the conference the Nodaks having relinquished their hold on ties for first honors with South Dakota State following State's two victories over the Nodaks. Both teams have played the same number of conference games.

Coach Letich's aggregation has not shown the development that has been apparent in the play of the Bison. The Nodaks started out the conference play in fine manner disposing of the Morningside at Grand Forks by a large score. The Bison also defeated the Morningside team but not as decisive as did the Nodaks. South Dakota "U" was next defeated by the Nodaks 30-29 following a Nodak rally in the last few minutes of play. The Bison gave the Southern team a trouncing the next evening.

South Dakota State then defeated the Flickers the following week to lose to the Bison the following evening. The Nodaks also had a narrow squeeze at Morningside, winning from the Maroons by one point. The "U" hit its stride the next night and went wild against South Dakota. State however, put a crimp in the Nodaks, bunting plants and defeated them by an 8 point margin. It appears that the Nodaks have now found their stride and will give the Bison a real tussle this evening.

The Bison so far have been able to defeat every team in the conference and are out to retain this record in the first clash. No conference team has been able to defeat the Bison by over a five point margin, and the two conference tilts which the Bison lost were not decided until the final gun.

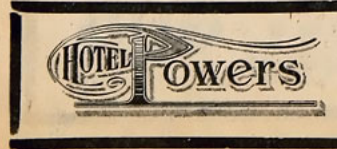

The probable lineups for this evening's game are University: Schave, Brown, forwards; Lee, center; Brown and Eberlee will likely be at the guard positions. Saaly's choice will be: Hahn, Bliss, forwards; May, center; Gergen and Johnson, guards.

DELTA PSI KAPPA INITIATES FOUR SUNDAY

Delta Psi Kappa, woman's honorary physical education fraternity, held formal initiation at 4 o'clock Sunday for the Misses Grace Swanson of Fargo, Dorothy Moffitt of Wyndmere, Gladys Syverud of Buffalo and Inez Lunder of Rothsay, Minn.

The services were followed by a round table discussion of the constitution of the organization, after which dinner was served. Appointments were in fraternity colors, turquoise blue and old gold. Hostesses were Miss Dorothy Cole, honorary member, Miss Dorothy Hatch and Miss Frances Bailey, patronesses, and Miss Nancy Elliot.

Phi Kappa Lambda announces the formal initiation of Maxine McCulloch, Washburn and Celene Frey, Helena, Mont. Services were held at the chapter rooms at 1108-9 st N., Sunday morning at eight o'clock. A complimentary breakfast followed the initiation services.

FIFTEENTH ANNIVERSARY

By play and tableau and exhibit the Little Country Theatre celebrated the fifteenth anniversary of its birthday the forepart of this week.

There seems to be little doubt about the merit of the work that the Little Country Theatre has performed. The source-place of a wide-spreading effort to bring a fine art to the small town and village. An experimental laboratory of the drama. The school of the most important of human activities—self expression.

The work of the Theatre stretches on far into the future. Its work is one which can never be made too comprehensive. Within the college itself it can perform miracles. It can bring a better understanding of the purpose and worth to the students—bring them into closer contact with the faculty, with their studies, with themselves. It can help to balance the component parts of our educational system—it can, finally, correct a distorted perspective.

WANTED:—A ROOTER KING

On Wednesday morning of next week the student body will meet at a rally and elect their cheer leader for the ensuing year. The fact that we want to bewail this week is that it appears as if there were only two candidates for the position.

Why is the sport of cheer leading so neglected at North Dakota State? The job is not compensationless like some, but gives the one taking part a goodly amount of valuable stage experience and practice in handling crowds, and in most cases winning with the job a certain amount of popularity and prestige. The man who is elected rooter king receives a sweater and letter. Not so bad.

Perhaps we are at fault in not advertising these open positions more, but in case there are any interested shouters around the campus, they should see Rooter King Wallum at once, and he has agreed that any of those who want a bit of practice may work out to-night and to-morrow night at the big games of the year.

Enough's enough and too much is not necessary. Work hard enough at anything and you've got to stop. That's where Coca-Cola comes in. Happily, there's always a cool and cheerful place around the corner from anywhere. Some men "burn up money because they don't pay quite enough to get a good garment; they worry along with suits that don't fit well; don't retain their shape; don't give "mileage". It actually costs more, by the year, to dress that way. We advise: buy Learbury authentically styled college clothes--$35 and $37.50.

Ebullitions of Ebony Blott
By Everett Wallum

There are two crises in our college life: One is the lack of a clean shirt, the other is playing the "U".

Both have to go to the cleaners.

The "U" beat us at football, but they ought to see our legions—(adv. Exp. Sta.)

But we should win in basketball because it takes a weaving style to make a basket.

The Barber College quint is suing the "U" in that they have a Schave on the team.

But they needn't worry. With our guarding system, that's one Schave that won't be free.

There's a Smith on both teams, but they aren't brothers, so you can expect both quints to cough up with their best game.

Some of the University scribes who call us farmers will soon find out where we get our relief.

Our campus statistician announces that if we beat the U, it will beat L. The papers say that the armory will be packed. Now if they'll only ship it.

Matt Braus is so thin that he's been offered contracts by pugilists to offer opposition in shadow boxing.

"I've got a slim chance to get in there tonight," says Matt.

Brady made Phi Kappa Phi, but we won't hold it against him if he plays good tonight.

Sport writers who dope games shouldn't kick when they turn out to be sluggish.

The Nodaks have travelled so much this year that they regard this as a home game.

We hope nothing sad happens like last year when 26 Nodak rooters were found in the Cow barn waiting for the game to start.

Which shows what happens when we brag up the armory.

Just to be traditionally hasty, we eagerly offer the news that the Bison student body breathed a sigh of relief when it was learned that the Nodak students bought return tickets.

"SAALY" GREET'S YOU, NODAKS

Outside of two instances we hope your short stay here will be a pleasant one. I have been asked to give my opinion of the outcome of this series. A coach who would make any prediction regarding such a series of games would either be looking for trouble or else had already found it. Personally I have my own views. However, no one but the team and myself know what these views are. All I can say now is that I hope I am right. Just a word regarding our conduct toward officials. Let us give them our entire support. This officiating is a thankless job at its best. We appreciate your interest and attendance to these games and know that all you do is meant for the good and know that you will cooperate with us in backing up the officials in all their decisions. A great deal of trouble is caused through misunderstanding of the rules by the spectators. The most common misunderstanding is the one regarding the charging dribbler. This year the dribbler must evade contact. In other words the burden of proof is placed upon the dribbler when contact is made. May the best team win.
