

L. C. T. Players To Give 'Brond' February 11th

Harold Fog Will Take Leading Role in Henrik Ibsen's Masterpiece

On February 11th picturesque Norway with its ridge-bound coast, and its ways of the inland habitation of 1765 will move, in a drama form, onto the stage of the Little Country Theatre.

With the advanced class in play production grouped in three divisions the play Brond written around Norwegian people by Henrik Ibsen will be shaped into form for the yearly experimental production in scenery making, costume creation, and practice staging.

Brond is a verse drama depicting in a symbolical form the errors of the Norwegian people, when they stood in stern refute to the beckoning Danes-people who were engaged in a falling struggle with other lands for supremacy.

Harold Fog will play the title role, Brond. Harold studied the Scandinavian literature in the high schools of Denmark. The rest of the cast are Iner, played by Raymond Gergerson; Agnus played by Emman Nelson; a woman, Dorothea Moffet; sexton, Walter Shamp; a man, Ben Kouba; Dean, Anthony Faber; School-master, Theodore Laibly; a mother, Mable Wenzel; and a mob scene, yet to be picked, as well as a few minor characters.

Committee chairman are as follows: business manager, Mabel Wenzel; light committee chairman, Theodore Laibly; costume committee chairman, Ruth Whitney; scene committee chairman, Althea Reed.

Some of the scenes to be painted and stage effects to be devised are little garden by the Parsonage; a great precipice above a stone wall; a mountain scene; a path along the crags with a wild valley beyond; an ancient and tumble down church standing on a knoll and also an avalanche will be manipulated.

Architects Drawings To Be Shown Here

Drawings Will Be Exhibited In Department Monday, Tuesday, And Wednesday

Professor Homer Huntoon, Head of the Department of Architecture, has announced an exhibition of the drawings of the twenty-first Paris Prize competition in the Architectural department this week. The drawings consist of elevation, section and floor plans of a Supreme Court building.

The Paris Prize was inaugurated in 1904 by The Society of Beaux-Arts Architects to permit the selection of a student to pursue the study of architecture in the first class of the Ecole Nationale deBeaux-Arts in Paris, France. There are two preliminary problems. From the entries in the first, five are chosen who take the second preliminary together with those who have previously competed and members of the Beaux Arts having over 8 credits. From the second preliminary, four are chosen and logists. These final competitions go to New York and work alone (in loges.)

The prize is a purse of $3600 for transportation and maintenance during a three year study. Last year the winner was Thomas H. Locrraft of the Catholic University of America at Washington, D. C.

The drawing which arrived here on Wednesday, Jan. 23, will be on exhibition on Jan. 28, 29th and 30th. They are the drawing from the final competition of last year. They have been on a tour of the country since September 12, 1928 and will be returned to Boston on May 22, 1929. They arrive from the University of Washington and will be sent on to the University of Minnesota.

The exhibition is free of charge and will be open to the public at any time during the afternoon or evening with the exception of Friday, according to Professor Huntoon. However, Monday evening is set aside especially for the Fine Arts Clubs of the city, the art club on this campus, and the faculty.

In addition to the Paris Prize exhibition, there will be a showing of the drawings made by the advanced students of the Architectural department of Massachusetts Institute of Technology in Boston. They arrived here this fall through the influence of Professor Huntoon, who is a graduate of that school, and have been used as examples for the students to follow. There will also be a few pieces of the work done in the department here on display. As additional interest, the department will be in operation during the afternoon and evenings to show how the study of architecture is carried on.

"This exhibition will in no way interfere with our spring exhibition", Professor Huntoon announced. "We will have the usual open house during the May Festival, but that we plan to make primarily of interest to high school students, while this is of interest to older students and the people of Fargo."

ROSS WILL PICK RIFLE TEAM SOON

Tryouts for positions on the 1929 Rifle Team started on Wednesday morning of this week and will finish up tomorrow. Lieutenant Ross will then pick this year's team and the names of the members of the team will be announced in Tuesday's Spectrum.

TWO SIGMA TAUS SET UP CIGARS

Cupid has evidently finished the target practice season and decided to get a couple of real bull's eyes according to a story given to the reporter from the Alpha Sigma Tau fraternity. An engagement and a wedding have been the results of "Dan's" recent hunting trip. Roy Landbloom and Homer Allison have been defeated by the little archer. Roy became a married man last Tuesday and a box of cigars were received from Homer Allison the first of the week.

Hilda Dommer became the bride of Roy Landbloom at the Trinity Lutheran Parish in Moorhead. The ceremony was performed by Reverend Sorenson. The couple were attended by Glenn Landbloom, the groom's cousin and Marjorie Landbloom, the groom's sister.

Roy is a member of Alpha Sigma Tau social fraternity and a member of Scabbard and Blade, honorary military Fraternity. He has played varsity hockey for three years and is a member of the Letterman's Club. Roy will graduate this spring from the school of engineering. Mrs. Landbloom lives with her parents in Moorhead and is employed in the office of Herbst.

Homer Allison, now employed as physical director of a Y. M. C. A. in Kansas City became engaged to Evelyn Medhus of Leeds during the Xmas vacation. Miss Medhus attends the University at Grand Forks.

WOMEN'S SENATE WILL ELECT NEW PRESIDENT

A meeting of the Women's Senate has been called for 4 p.m. today by Marion Trowbridge at which time the group will elect a new president and two members at large.

The group will meet in Dean Dinan's office and the following are expected to be present: Gladys Barton, Ethel Jones, Margaret Ballard, Margaret Green, Katherine Knerr, Marion South Elene Weeks and Dorothea Ward.

Pep Club Elects Booke President

46 Members Attended Meeting; Baldwin Elected V. Pres. and Robert Olson, Sec.-Treas.

Clifford Booke, Williston, was elected president of the Pep Club at their meeting in the armory last night. Mr. Booke is a junior in the school of Science and Literature and a member of Alpha Kappa Phi fraternity.

Neal Baldwin and Robert Olson, both members of Delta Kappa Sigma fraternity, were elected vice president and secretary-treasurer, respectively. 46 members attended the meeting. It is planned that the membership will be cut down to 40 or 42. This will be done by the use of a clause in the club's constitution which states that a member shall be dropped upon failure to attend a meeting or game without an excuse and that the student body shall be notified through the columns of the Spectrum, when a man is no longer a member of the club.

Following the election a number of yells were led by Everett J. Wallum, rooster king, and plans for the coming conference games were discussed.

The retiring officers of the club are: M. Foss Narum, president; Everett Wallum, vice president; and Frank Hannaher, secretary-treasurer.

STATE PRESIDENT AD-DRESSES WOMEN VOTERS

Mrs. Si Poppler, of Grand Forks, state president of the North Dakota League of Women Voters, and Mrs. Parks, Minneapolis, secretary of the fifth region, were guests of honor and main speakers at the diner held in the Ceres Hall dining room, Thursday evening, January 24, by the North Dakota State college chapter of the league.

Mrs. Poppler and Mrs. Parks came here in the interest of strengthening and reawakening the League here, and asked especially that the problems confronting the state and national legislative bodies be studied mainly in the next few months, in accordance with the plan of the National League of Women Voters to educate women on political affairs.

Miss Pearl Dinan was a guest of the evening.

HOMEMAKERS CLUBS INCREASE IN NUMBER

With 78 new clubs, the greatest increase was made during the past year in the number of Homemakers clubs in the state than in any year since these organizations were started in 1922, according to Grace DeLong of the North Dakota State college, state home demonstration leader.

At the close of the year there were 243 active Homemakers clubs in 40 counties of the state, an increase of practically on-third. The total membership is 5,199 farm women. The clubs hold monthly programs and the members get systematic instruction in problems of home management. This work is carried on with the cooperation of the county extension agents and the Extension service of the Agricultural college.

Records show that of the 37 clubs organized in 1922, 12 are still operating and nine of this number are undoubtedly among the strongest in the state, according to Miss DeLong.

New Senate Bill Is To Provide For Gymnasium

Bill To Provide For Finishing Of Men's Dormitory Is Also Causing Argument

A bill appropriating $210,000 for a gymnasium and auditorium at North Dakota State college was introduced into the state Senate by Senator A. W. Fowler of Fargo on Tuesday of this week.

This is $160,000 short of the college's request of $370,000 for a combined physical education and auditorium building, which was disallowed by the board. It is the second measure in the senate asking a large appropriation for new buildings not recommended by the budget board, the first one being by Senator W. S. Whitman, Grand Forks for $161,000 to complete the liberal arts building at the University.

The Fowler-Hamilton dormitory bill which when passed will allow the completion of the unfinished dormitory, has caused considerable argumentation around the capital this week. Some of the senators are afraid some graft might enter in and another one believes that although no financial output is required on the part of the state, the "moral responsibility" will be too great.

Two other bills are before the senate concerning North Dakota State. The first is a bill carrying a budget of $829,618.19 for maintenance, which includes $25,000 for an addition to the power plant, $50,000 for additional power plant equipment and $19,000 for an addition to the library. The second bill is for $190,000 for construction of new wings on the agricultural and science buildings.

SPECIAL FEATURES FOR 'ARKITEK' PARTY TO-NITE

A typical "east side" dinner will be served at individual tables in the architectural department this evening at 7:15 p.m. to the members of the department and their guests.

The tables are arranged around a hollow square where the various features secured for the occasion will take place. Besides several surprise features, the Misses Evelyn Blakeslee and Harriet Phillips will give a dance and the architects' quartet will sing, with F. Neal Baldwin rendering a few solos.

Everyone will wear costumes to the frolic.

Chaperones for the party include Mr. and Mrs. Robert Lowe, Dean and Mrs. R. M. Dolve and Prof. H. B. Huntoon and Miss Dorothy Cole.

FINNEGAN SWITCHES UNIVERSITY DATES

The University of North Dakota will play down here first instead of the Bison journeying up there first as the schedule indicates. The University will meet the Bison here on the 15th and 16th of February and the Bison will play them at Grand Forks on the 22nd and 23rd.

GOOD ADVERTISING

Another form of good school advertising has been passing out from W. D. A. Y. recently. The Theta Chi fraternity broadcasted their fraternity songs a week ago tonight and the Kappa Psi broadcasted theirs last night.

While the Theta Chi boys were broadcasting songs a phone call from the Kappa Sigma Chi house threw a huge question mark on the festivities. It was a request for "Sweetheart of Sigma Chi."

CALL IT A SESSION

Our attention was drawn this week to a sign that appeared on the bulletin board out in front of main the fore part of the week. It read, "Convocation at 4 p.m., Y. M. C. A.," etc.

The sign was unofficial in the first place and did not belong on the board, but that was pardonable due to the occasion. The grieved are certain members of the faculty who had classes at 4 p.m. that day and their students used the alibi that "seeing as how there was convocation, all classes were excused."

There will always be these alibi creators, but members of the faculty urge that more consideration and thought be given signs before being posted and if another occasion like this one arises that it be called a SESSION instead of a CONVOCATION.

We are wondering how many of the class-cutters attended the so-called convocation.

AFTERTHOUGHTS

Some three weeks ago the editor-in-chief and business manager of the Spectrum made a trip to Sioux City, Iowa to attend the meeting of the North Central Press Association.

Upon returning we found our work piled up to such an extent that no comments on the trip were made. The trip was truly an educational and enjoyable one for both the editor and business manager. The outstanding feature of the meeting was, undoubtedly, the round table discussions. Al Russell from the Creightonian led the editors in their discussion and Gerald Beebe, Morningside, led the business managers in their discussion. It was found that in most cases the troubles of one were the troubles of all. Discussion was devoted largely to ways and means of organizing a good staff and to keep them interested in their work. The problem was not solved by any means, but a number of very good suggestions were dropped. Incidentally, in talking over our troubles, we discovered one editor and business manager whose weekly pecuniary insults were less than ours.

Talks were given by various prominent men in Sioux City journalistic circles. They all had information of some benefit to the students journalist. One of the more amusing talks, was the address of welcome delivered by the president of Morningside college, Dr. Mossman. He attempted to sell us the state of Iowa and closed by telling how unfortunate us North Dakotans were, due to the fact that our state did not border on Iowa as all of the other delegate's states did.

Student journalists from Morningside college, Lyle Strom, Harold Johnson, Gerald Beebe and Miss Peterson were responsible for the success of the convention. All the arrangements were in their hands and they certainly put the convention over in fine manner. We appreciate it, Morningside.

Am ng Our Contemporaries

The coeds at the "U" must be very obedient for only 122 campuses were given out last semester. A few of the very good ones managed to receive their full quota—that of four campuses. With the beginning of a new semester so near, the coeds may soon start a new record which will undoubtedly equal that of last semester.

The College of St. Thomas is again recognized as an accredited school. This recognition was established during the Christmas holidays by the University of Minnesota.

Did you know that in Australia the coeds attending college are separated from the men students by a bar or rail, and the students are given no opportunity to have joint affairs?

Nearly thirty per cent of the "U" of South Dakota students live in sorority houses. This means that there are 108 women living in the sorority houses and 211 men living in the fraternity houses. The total number of houses is 16.

Found in an exchange paper—
An Indian was given two years and eight months in jail for biting his squaw's nose off to make her unattractive. A rather snooty trick, we call it. That not only makes her unattractive but "noseating" as well."

Ebullitions of Ebony Blott
By Everett Wallum

We're sorry we didn't attend the Co-ed dog contest. We always did enjoy these fur coat displays.

It is significant that a Scotch Collie got first prize. Even their dogs.

A POLICE DOG GOT FOURTH. AND WE THOUGHT THE POLICE NEVER CAME FORTH.

He was relegated to fourth place because of big feet.

A Dachslund was entered, and he will have passed the judge's stand next Tuesday

First prize was a loving cup. Well, the co-eds have to have something around that's loving.

AT SIGHT OF THE IMPRESSIVE DISPLAY, SIX LONELY CAMPUS "COONSKINS" LEAPED LOYALLY INTO THE ARENA.

One pooch was barred because of fighting tendencies. He licked his chops.

As the pigs were displayed, they gave the old co-ed yell often heard at basketball games.

No wonder they had the co-eds take care of the dogs. They have a peculiar affinity for the hot ones.

AND SOME OF THE HEAVIER WIMMEN, WHEN DANCING, SURE LIKE TO COME IN CONTACT WITH THE MEN'S "DOGS."

Which raises corns that produces hogs that supplies togs for "dogs," and so the cycle goes.

So the Profs had to milk. Well, well, Well.

One milker got going good, but the well went dry.

DR. SCHALK WON THE CONTEST WHICH ONLY PROVE THAT YOU MUST HAVE CHALK TO TURN OUT MILK NOW DAYS.

Either that or Mr. Schalk has a lot of "pull" on the campus.

The loser probably felt so small he will hereafter enter the condensed milking contest.

ONE PROF WAS TOLD TO MILK A SHORTHORN, BUT HE DEMURRED INSISTING THAT THEM HORNS ARE TWO UNRESPONSIVE.

It is thought that the winner of the milking contest will be given a life membership to the Mu Mu Mu fraternity.

And if he refuses to join, he will be cowed into it.

Well we can now close, resting assured that this is our first column without any bull in it.

Bison Play S. D. U. Here Tomorrow Evening

S. D. State Defeats Bison, 26 To 21

S. Dak. "U" Will Have Strong Lineup On Floor For Tomorrow's Game

South Dakota University netmen will meet the Bison in the College Armory tomorrow evening at 8 p.m. This will be South Dakota's second game on their northern invasion, as they will meet the University of North Dakota at Grand Forks this evening.

Up to date South Dakota has been unable to break into the winning column, having lost to South Dakota State and the Bison. The Redmen are anxious to gain a victory and are out to win from one of the Dakota teams.

Since returning from the trip Coach Saalwaechter has had his team busily engaged in preparation for the Saturday evening game, and the building up of the quint for the remaining conference games. The Bison mentor stated that his team will have to play their best brand of basketball in order to win from the Coyotes. Had the Bison played the same brand of basketball against Morningside and South Dakota State as they exhibited in defeating South Dakota U 29-17, they would have defeated both teams.

Lose to S. D. State
After a desperate battle with the Bison, South Dakota State was able to maintain their hold on first place in the conference title race. The Jackrabbits gained an 8 to 1 lead in the first few minutes of play and the Bison were never quite able to overcome this majority, the game ending in a 26 to 21 victory for State.

Following the Bunnies early rally the Bison kept pace with their fast riving opponents and at half time the score was 16-9. Nicholson, State forward, did much of the scoring for his team during the initial period.

The second half opened with play extremely intense, many fouls being called on both teams. In this stanza the Bison started a rally which fell short by a point in overcoming the Southern team's lead. The Jackrabbits were able to quell any further rallying on the part of the game and it ended with State holding a comfortable lead.

Leo May, husky center, was easily the star of the Bison quint. The big center played a floor game which was one of the outstanding features of the game besides managing five points for the Bison. Bobby Hahn topped the scoring list gaining seven points, six of them from field goals.

The scoring did by State was chiefly done by Nicholson and Herting. Nicholson counted 15 points while Herting as good for 10.

Fraternity Basketball Gets Under Way

Delta Sigs, Kappa Phis, Theta Chis And Kappa Psis Win Games

By MILO HOISVEEN

Play in the fraternity league started Tuesday with as many thrills as the season finals have to offer. In the initial contest the Kappa Phis and the Sigma Phi Deltas put on a thrilling game which necessitated an overtime period to decide the contest. In the extra session the Phis managed a basket to win the contest 20 to 18.

The Engineers set the pace most of the way but were finally overhauled by the Kappa Phis shortly before the gun sounded making the score 18 all. It was not until a few seconds before the end of the extra period that the Phis were able to win the contest.

Madsen, Sigma Phi Delt forward was the star for his quint making four field goals. Carlson at guard also worked well for the Engineers. Lloyd Clark and Wall were outstanding on the Kappa Phi team.

Following this game the Kappa Psi basketballers last years champions, defeated the Kappa Sigma Chi netmen by a 19 to 10 count. The Kappa Sigs kept the champions plenty busy during the first half playing them even the half ending with both teams at the ten mark.

In the closing stanza the guarding of the champs proved to be much more effective than in the first half and they held their opponents scoreless while caging nine points.

Eric Tonn topped off the scoring honors for his team caging four field goals. O. Hanson also showed up well on the quint. Jordre, Kappa Sig center, was the most effective point scorer on his team. Jordre chalked up seven of his team's total.

It was found necessary to change the schedule from two evenings of fraternity play to three nights. The games scheduled for Thursday were then played on Wednesday.

The Delta Sigs and the Gamma Rhos put on the thriller of the evening, playing a game which also took five minutes of extra play to decide the winner. The Sigs emerged from the extra session with a 22 to 21 victory.

Neither team at any point of the game led the other by more than three points, the lead trading hands several times during the contest. The score at the end of the period of regular play was knotted at 20. Baldwin scored the winning goal in the extra session and was nearly tied by McKinnon who scored one out of two gift shots.

Wednesday's final was won by the Theta Chis who netted out a win from the Sigma Tau hoopmen. The Theta Chis were never headed by the Sigma Taus but their opponents came dangerously near during the first stanza. The half found the Theta Chis leading 9 to 7.

Gardner, Theta Chi forward, opened up the half with two baskets in succession to put his team safely in the lead. The Theta Chis brought their total to 21 while the Taus registered 14.

Gardner and Basset were the Theta Chis' big scoring duo, Gardner making 12 points. Konicsek, Sigma Tau center, made 9 of his team's total and played a nice floor game.

Argentine Farms Contain Many Leguas

Even though the bulk of the Argentine lands are used for ranching, one hardly ever sees a farm containing less than one or two leguas, according to Americo Dominguez of Estacion Gaviotas, Argentina, who is a student in the School of Agriculture at the North Dakota State College. A legua is equal to about three and a half sentions. As in North Dakota, wheat is the chief grain crop. The ranches, which are located farther south, are more important than the farms. Usually they range from 50 to 100 sections and are devoted mainly to the industry of sheep raising. Some of the larger ranches are divided into smaller sections each having supervisors. One ranch, near to that of the Dominguez family, has an area of 100 leguas, served by eight railroad stations. Mr. Dominguez' father operates a sheep ranch containing 15 leguas. It takes two days to ride around it on horseback.

The railroads are especially anxious to see this part more densely settled, and to encourage this have extended their rails and laid water pipes on the largest ranches.

After finishing his studies Mr. Dominguez intends to return to Argentina where a position dealing with dairying is awaiting him.

AT THE THEATRES

Lon Chaney, the star of all make-up artists, heads the cast in "West of Zanzibar" which is showing at the State the last three days of this week.

In conjunction with the five-act vaudeville program at the Fargo on Friday and Saturday, they will show "A Lady of Chance," presenting Norma Shearer in the role of a good bad girl, a gold digger, who is a telephone operator by trade, but a far more interesting lady by avocation.
