

Saddle-Sirloin To Honor Man From Cooperstown

The Portrait Of Halvor P. Hammer Will Be Hung In "Ag" Hall Of Fame Jan. 18

Halvor P. Hammer, pioneer livestock man primarily interested in the breeding of good horses from Cooperstown, N. Dak., has been selected by the Saddle and Sirloin club as the man whose portrait will be hung in the Hall of Fame at their Annual Portrait Hanging banquet to be held in Ceres hall on Friday evening of this week.

This banquet is in reality the final banquet of the members of the North Dakota Livestock Breeder's Association, but is put on by the members of the Saddle and Sirloin Club and is directed by a committee headed by Robert Adam.

Annually one or more agrarians are picked from the state of North Dakota as outstanding and their portrait is hung in the Saddle and Sirloin Club Hall of Fame. The picture of Sam F. Crabbe, Fargo, was placed in the gallery year before last and the picture of J. E. Eastgate, Larimore, last year. The picture of Mr. Hammer when hung will be the fourteenth member of the group.

Since coming to North Dakota in 1881 Mr. Hammer has been interested in the breeding of purebred Percheron and Belgian horses and Shorthorn Cattle. His career as a horseman has been outstanding having owned some of the best horses in the Northwest, Vonmore, a percheron stallion, weighing 2100, as a three year old won the Grand Championship at Chicago, Ill., and the same in S. Dak., in 1911, and was proclaimed grand champion at the State Fair of N. Dak., each year from 1912 to 1916. Minus, one of the leading Belgian sires on record, won Grand Championship in Manitoba, S. Dak., and Minnesota. Many more outstanding individuals that Mr. Hammer has owned and raised might be listed. Mr. Hammer came to this country from Norway in 1878 where he was born in 1857. He worked for several years on a farm in Dakota County, Minnesota, and then moved to Mayville, N. Dak. Later he took up a claim in Nelson county and farmed it until 1885 at which time he moved to Cooperstown, starting an implement business which he has carried on since that time in connection with his farm interests. His first few years at Cooperstown were spent largely in shipping horses and cattle in and out of the state. For several years he shipped from three to five hundred head of horses into this community and was the first man to have a purebred stallion in Griggs county.

The banquet will start promptly at 6:15 p. m. in order that students may attend it and the Military Ball also which happens to be on the same evening.

Peightal Will Manage Annual Engineers Ball

Annual Engineer's Party Will Be Held On Friday, April 5th

Percival L. Peightal, senior in Civil Engineering, was elected manager of the annual Engineer's Ball, at a recent meeting of the College Engineer's Club. The social function will take place Friday, April 5, 1929.

At this time only two members of the committee have been announced. Wm. Rundquist, senior in Mechanical Engineering, will handle the publicity and Marcus Pederson, senior in Electrical Engineering, will be in charge of the concessions.

The various other committees will be announced in the very near future.

DELTA SIG PREPS TO ENTERTAIN ACTIVES

The pledges of Delta Kappa Sigma fraternity will be hosts to the active chapter and their ladies at an informal dancing party to be held Saturday evening, January 19.

Miles Stricker is in charge of the party and his assistants are: "Tubby" Brown, orchestra; Kenneth Wyard, programs; William Champlin, refreshments. Dr. and Mrs. L. L. Carrick, Dr. and Mrs. W. C. Hunter and Prof. K. L. Bird and Miss Betty Sheldon will chaperone the affair.

Galpin Will Speak At Farmers' Week

Prof. Arvold Induced Him To Come For Neighbor Day Program

Charles J. Galpin, economist in charge of the Division of Farm Population and Rural Life, United States department of agriculture, will be one of the several nationally known speakers who will address the Thirtieth Annual Farmers' and Homemakers' Week, North Dakota State college, Jan. 15-18.

Professor Galpin comes to North Dakota through the invitation of A. G. Arvold, director of the Little Country Theater at the college. He is the chief speaker for the Neighborhood program, Jan. 13, which will be attended by North Dakota people from a score of communities throughout the state.

From a busy life of study and experience in rural life problems Professor Galpin will draw his material for the day he will spend in North Dakota. His experiences have been wide and varied as a review of his life shows. He was graduated from Colgate University in 1885, and studied at Harvard, Clark University and the University of Wisconsin. In 1888 he became professor of history at Kalamazoo (Mich.) College. From 1905 to 1911 he was Baptist University Pastor at the University of Wisconsin. Next, he turned his attention to agricultural economics and was assistant and associate professor of agricultural economics at the University of Wisconsin from 1911 to 1919.

Professor Galpin is the author of several rural life books, including Rural Life, Rural Social Problems, and Empty Churches. He has studied rural problems in Europe in 1896, 1914, and 1926, and was a delegate to Rome to the International Institute of Agriculture. In 1922 the King of Belgium awarded an Agricultural Decoration of First Class to him for his rural life work.

STATE SEED SCHOOL STARTS TODAY AT 9:00

North Dakota's first seed school will open here today, Jan. 15, at 9 a.m. in the armory, with a three-day program of instruction in the most efficient methods of high quality seed production.

At the same time, the hope is to develop an organization for the systematic improvement of seed on a state-wide scale, according to Dr. E. G. Booth, extension agronomist, who is in charge of the school. Most of the 132 delegates who have been invited from 41 counties have already mailed in their acceptances.

"New varieties of seed are bred and selected at enormous cost by our experiment station. The problem, then, is to increase the supply from a few bushels to our annual requirements for the state of twenty million bushels," Dr. Booth declares. "We hope those attending the school will form a nucleus to aid the Agricultural college and the county extension agents in their efforts to improve the seed supply of the farmers of the state."

The Junior Class Meeting to be held this noon at 12:45 will be held in the college armory instead of the Little Country Theatre. All juniors are urged to be present as the manager of the Junior prom will be elected.

Students Now Using Dormitory Basement Daily

What Might Have Been A Men's Dormitory Is Now New Recreational Center

Revived interest in athletic activities will brighten dreary winter days for students at the North Dakota State college, says C. C. "Casey" Finnegan, athletic director at the Bison school. The reason is this:

A little over a year ago, college officials started building a men's dormitory under the regulations of the Hamilton-Schlosser Bill which permitted the construction of college buildings through the issuing of bonds. Hardly had the basement been completed, however, before a Supreme Court decision declared the Bill unconstitutional.

Rather than permit this investment to go to waste, President J. L. Coulter, in conjunction with college athletic officials, decided to roof in the basement and install athletic equipment that would alleviate crowded conditions in the armory. The dormitory gymnasium is now completed with several hundred students visiting the underground field house daily to engage in muscle-building recreation.

Attired in gym suits, students in physical education are now reporting to their new quarters where there is plenty room for action. Robert Lowe, instructor in physical education, has his office in the basement. Track aspirants are working out on a 260 ft. cinder track, under the tutelage of Leonard Saalwaechter. A special heating system dispels the cold and heats the water for twenty showers.

Most interest of all, however, is shown by the students in boxing and wrestling which is being taught by Lt. Fay Smith of the military department. A special ring has been installed along with punching bags and other paraphernalia necessary towards developing the leather pusher. Lieutenant Smith, a boxer of some note himself, is working his charges daily with the view of staging exhibitions later in the season.

If the weather man is late with Spring this year, Finnegan intends to use the dormitory for pre-summer football practice. So with gymnastics, boxing, wrestling, track and football, the uncompleted dormitory will see service after all.

Frosh Defeat Waldorf Players In Exciting Fray

Bob Low's Yarlings succeeded in subduing the Waldorf basketballers, members of the Commercial League, in the curtain raiser, for the Morningside-State game Friday night. The game started slow but increased in interest until in the last few minutes of play it was a real thriller.

Donnie Walsh, diminutive forward, was here, there and everywhere and contributed much to the Baby Bison victory. Walsh kept the Frosh squad in the running with two baskets during the first half. Half time found the Freshmen trailing 14 - 7 in spite of the fact that Lowe had injected practically a new team.

The Frosh came back at half time with renewed vigor and gradually overcame the lead of the downtown crew. With five seconds to go and the count at eighteen all Blair Seitz dribbled in and made the count 20 to 18.

Nordstrom worked well at the guard position for the First Yearmen. Westgate at center displayed much ability in following in shots but had difficulty in connecting with the hoop. Although handicapped by the lack of practice, Paul Bunt worked well with the team. Powers, Waldorf guard, was the outstanding man on his quint.

Blue Key will meet Thursday at 6:15 in Ceres Hall.

LITTLE INTERNATIONAL

The Seventh Annual Little International Livestock Show is to be held on Thursday evening of this week, January 17th starting at 7:30 p.m. As manager of the show I wish to extend a cordial invitation to the students and faculty of North Dakota State College to attend. The program will be varied and interesting and worth your while to attend. GRAHAM FULLER '29.

Group Pictures For Bison Will Be Taken

Pictures Will Be Taken At Owl Studio Commencing Wed. Evening

The schedule for the taking of pictures for the organizations section of the 1930 Modernistic Bison has been announced by William Haslam, editor of the division.

Wednesday, Jan. 16, is the first date set for the group pictures. Four more groups will be taken care of Thursday of this week, and the remainder of them will be completed during the next week. All indoor pictures will be photographed at the Owl Studio, 113 1/2 Broadway, between 7 and 9 p.m. The time allotted for these pictures is short, so promptness is a necessity. Late members of the groups will not be considered by those in charge of the schedule. Assisting Mr. Haslam in this work are Margaret Casselman, Edris Probstfield, William Rundquist, Robert Adam, and Raymond Gregerson.

Write-ups for the organizations pages are due Friday, Jan. 18. These write-ups include names and classifications of members of the various groups, aims and purposes of clubs—in fact, all written matter which is to appear on the page.

Following is the schedule for the group pictures:

SPECTRUM WANT ADS BRING RESULTS

Miss Harriet Eiden lost her wrist watch last week and advertised same in Friday's issue of the Spectrum. The watch was brought into the office within two hours after the paper was out.

This is not a rare exception as Spectrum want ads are bringing these kinds of results continually. The fee is small, only three cents per word for each two insertions.

Sorority Co-Eds To Show Canines At International

Professors Will Engage In Milking Contest; Cy Lonsborough Will Clown

In an effort to furnish entertainment for all, the management of the 1929 Little International Livestock Show has arranged one new feature, a professor's milking contest, and retained all of the old traditional features, including the one which was just inaugurated last year, the inter-sorority dog show contest.

The committee in charge of the inter-sorority contest reports that all of the organizations are enthusiastic over entering the contest. The winning organization will receive a large silver loving cup and all of the other organizations entering will receive a set of appropriate book ends. At present every organization signified intention of entering, but have not turned in the names of the entrants as they were finally decided upon at the sorority meetings last night in most cases. Each sorority will enter two dogs and show-mistresses. Names already turned in before going to press included the Misses Marjorie Gutting, Olive Osness, Betty Farnham, Elsa Simmons, Luella McDunn, Joyce Peterson, Jessie Smith and Helen Stokke who will all show for their respective organizations.

Won Last Year Showing a chow dog, Dorothy Volkamer of the Sigma Theta sorority took first place at the show last year winning for her sorority the large bronze bison awarded by the S. C. alumni association. The rules of the contest bar this particular chow dog from entering this year.

Clown Act "Cy" Lonsborough has chartered "Jennie", the mule that made him famous on last homecoming day, and will be at the show with her entertaining to the best of his ability.

An amateur trained animal show will be one of the features of the evening. Frank Barker will show a dog, rooster and cat that he has trained.

Entries Larger According to Graham Fuller who is in charge of the show, entries in every department of livestock outnumber those of last year. "Doc" Putnam's Gold Star Band will start the evening's entertainment and play thruout the evening.

Ticket Sales Good For Military Ball

Men In Basic Course Are Asked To Wear Their Uniforms

Ticket sales for the approaching Military Ball are progressing beyond the committee's expectations according to word let out by Captain Ralph Erickson late yesterday afternoon.

Approximately two hundred couples are expected to attend the social function on Friday evening of this week. The same number of tickets are out and some men have returned to the committee for more tickets.

In speaking of the party Mr. Erickson urged that all students in the basic course will not hesitate to wear their uniforms to the affair as they are considered formal attire the same as the advanced course outfit. He said, "This is truly a military party and I wish that everyone present could wear a uniform, regardless of whether or not it is a basic uniform, advanced course uniform or regulation army uniform."

THE LITTLE INTERNATIONAL

On the front page of this issue there appears a notice and invitation from the Manager of the Little International Livestock Show to the student body of North Dakota State to attend their annual show on Friday evening of this week.

This show affords the populus of the campus which is not a part of the School of Agriculture to actually get a little insight on a small part of the work that is being carried on in the school.

The School of Agriculture is but one of seven equally important schools on this campus. To approximately 20 per cent of the student body it ranks first, but in the minds of the rest, one of the other six schools should be emphasized. Although students taking "Ag" take a little "kidding" from a small few on the campus, they maintain that they still have the "edge" on the rest of them as far as financial reimbursement is concerned upon graduation. Possibly in another twenty years their field will become a little more filled up and only the outstanding ones in each year's class will be able to go out and demand the big check as is the case today as far as members of graduating classes of the other six schools are concerned.

But that is neither here nor there and only tends to stir up a little strife, which an organization must evade, to become a good working machine. Practically everyone is here for the same purpose—to secure an education. We have come to this school because it has a universal appeal, is adapted to training in almost any profession and can give a college education along almost any line as well as any other school in the nation.

The Little International Livestock show is a takeoff on the International Livestock Show held annually at Chicago, Illinois. It affords students in the school of Agriculture an opportunity in work in management in putting on a show of the calibre of this one, for it is no small event, over 1000 students and farmers attending it last year. The primary purpose of the show is to give students an opportunity to care for, fit and show animals. Livestock is taken from the college herds and worked into shape. The man who makes the largest improvement on his particular individual from the time he picks it and shows it takes first place in his division. The Seniors in the school gradually work out of the contesting class and devote their entire time in organizing the project. In closing The Spectrum wishes to assure everyone that they are heartily welcome at the show and it is our belief that you will enjoy the evening.

CLASS DEBATES

Two class debates were held last week in the Seminar room of the Public Discussion department. Besides the judges there was only one witness at the first debate, and but a few more at the second debate. The following is a Spectrum reporter's editorial on the attendance:

"The discussion as to the ancestry of man still continues, but a student of the activities that most inspire the collegian would undoubtedly become an ardent Darwinian."

"He would compare the student interest in football with the interest in some intellectual activity—say debating. Then he would become philosophical. The recent interclass debates illustrate the point. We forget the name of the audience just now—but he was there—loyal to the last."

"Apparently, we must end up with a criticism of educational methods since it would be insulting to suggest that the students are to blame. Our criticism is this: Our school system has made thinking so distasteful through making the students use their heads from five to ten minutes a day, that they, totally fatigued, must resort to physical recreation to recuperate."

Our Honor Organizations

Scabbard and Blade

Scabbard and Blade, National Honorary Military Fraternity, was founded at the University of Wisconsin in the fall of 1904. The chapter established at North Dakota State College was granted a charter on May 2, 1922. There are seventy-one active chapters with ten alumni posts. The organization is modeled upon that of the United States Army, the various chapters being designated "companies" organized into regiments in the order of their establishment. The local organization is Company M of Regiment Three.

Scabbard and Blade was founded with the purpose of uniting in closer relationship the military departments of American universities and colleges, to develop the essential qualities of good and efficient officers, and to promote good fellowship among the cadet officers.

Officers of Scabbard and Blade are Ralph Erickson, Captain; Benjamin Gorder, First Lieutenant; Charles McKinnie, Second Lieutenant; and George Hermes, First Sergeant. The other members are Roy Landbloom, Cecil Kingsley, John Bohlig, Virgil Sullivan, and Omer Watson.

FINNEGAN SPEAKS AT M. H. S. CONVOCATION

C. C. Finnegan, athletic director, was the outstanding speaker at a convocation held at the Moorhead high school auditorium recently for the awarding of letters to the high school football team. Mr. Finnegan addressed the assembly on the subject "Sportmanship." Letters were awarded to fourteen members of the 1928 squad.

TIFFANY MALE QUARTET IS WELL RECEIVED

The Tiffany Male Quartet sent out by the Extension Department of the University of Minnesota presented one of the best received convocations of the year in the armory Friday morning.

Their program was a well varied one, consisting of old songs, popular numbers, medleys, semi-classical, and comedy numbers. They were appreciated not only from a musical standpoint, but because they were highly entertaining, the audience sometimes breaking into an applause before the piece was ended. Some of the best-liked numbers were "Ready for the River," "Mary had a Little Lamb," "I think I'll get wed in the Summer-time," "Swing Along," and "Humoresque", in which the pianist played the song of that name while each of the three other men sang a different song at the same time presenting humor and harmony together.—A. FARGO'S GREATEST SHOE VALUES

BENJAMIN HARRISON sat in the White House Chair at Washington when North Dakota Agricultural College selected its site, built its first building, and moved in. That was just 38 years ago, or 1890.

Since then the voters elected Grover Cleveland (second term), William McKinley, Theodore Roosevelt, William Howard Taft, Thomas Woodrow Wilson, Warren G. Harding, Calvin Coolidge, and Herbert Hoover, president-elect.

With each succeeding president of the United States the country has made progress. And likewise the college with each succeeding year has progressed.

Neighborhood Day today. Now we men will have to watch out for those who'll want to borrow our sugar.

In this lurid era, it's "Love thy neighbors as thy self."

We're disappointed to learn that there's going to be a round table discussion. We had hoped they would talk on the square.

And there's going to be music "played on rare instruments." The instruments may be rare, but the audience will be well done.

A Scotch singer has been secured to create the atmosphere of a tight family circle.

He's going to sing Scotch airs. Air doesn't cost anything.

Which reminds us that there aren't any Scotch heirs.

"You're the cream in my coffee," lustily sang the Highlander, as he hauled out the chalk.

And there's going to be a demonstration of Indian magic. We hope it's none of this lightning haircut stuff.

The happy hunting grounds people are searching for today are grounds for divorce.

The chief speaker is Mr. Galpin, who came gal'pin all the way from Washington, D. C.

To quote the Spectrum: "the discussion will be hemmed around kindred subjects." Hemmed is right, and haw'd too, probably.

Children will give declamations with such titles as: "The soiled bib", "Mud Pies I have ate," "What the Woodshed Means to Me," and "When I almost Reached Mother's Skirts."

Some of the rare instruments to be played probably will include a shoe horn, a news organ, an ear drum, a lute-fisk, and soup.

What we can't understand is that the Scotchman is going to sing while the rest are eating.

The thrifty Scotch father of hungry children plays sad music so the tots will get a lump in their throats.

We wish to take these means of acknowledging a celluloid test tube received by us from a select group of creative chemists. The only thing it has tested so far is our temper.

Now if they'll only make us some C2 H5 OH, all will be forgiven. A-a-rumph! Cough, cough.

Bison Defeat Morningside 38 To 21 On Friday

Men Leave Tomorrow
For Conference Trip

Hahn Stars For Bison While
Crippan Plays Good Game
For Morningside

Shooting baskets seems as easy for Cecil Bliss as the shooting of blind robins would have been for Buffalo Bill. The Bison forward connected with the hoop eight times aiding his team mates in piling up the score to a 38 to 21 victory over Morningside college in the armory Friday night of last week.

Saalwaechters crew played a great brand of basketball in order to down the Morningside quint by the one sided score. The floorwork of Bobby Hahn featured the game. The flashy forward showed uncanny ability in pulling out of pinches and many of his passes resulted in baskets. Leo May, center, played great defensive ball intercepting many of the Maroon passes and was responsible for the fast manner in which the Bison broke for the basket following his passes.

Morningside registered the first field goal but this was quickly tied when a Bison made a nice shot from the side. Bliss then counted on a pass received from May, giving the Bison the lead which they never relinquished to their fighting opponents. Near the close of the opening stanza the Saalymen had gained a 18 to 8 advantage, but by half time a determined Maroon attack had whittled the lead down to 18 - 14.

The verbal attack which Saaly handed out to his men at half time took great effort for the Bison quint uncocked a great rally following the half. The white shirted crew piled up a 32 to 18 lead in twelve minutes. During this period the guarding of Gilly Johnson and Johnny Brady was so close the Iowa men were unable to score. When the Maroons attempted shots Johnson would get the rebound and by the use of an accurate hook pass sent the ball sizzling into the hands of a teammate.

In the final eight minutes of play the Maroon quint out scored the Bison through the effort of Crippen and Strong, the later counting on a long shot. The visiting team made seven points while the Bison collected six.

Crippen was by far the most outstanding man on the Morningside team. Besides playing a nice game at guard he showed considerable ability in advancing the ball. Strong also played well for the visitors.

To Go On Trip

The Bison leave Wednesday on a trip which will carry them through the lower part of the North Central Conference. According to the dope the first game of the trip will be the hardest battle, this will be Thursday evening when the Bison meet the strong South Dakota State quint.

South Dakota State has played one conference game this being with South Dakota U., and the decision went to the State by a 30 to 13 count. The Bison will not be handicapped by the size of the floor as they have been in the past years for the Bunnies now have a new gym having a regulation size floor. The State has practically the same team which netted out two victories over the Bison last season, but at the present the Bison look much better than the team last year.

Following the game with South Dakota State the team will entrain for Vermillion where they will meet the South Dakota University Redmen. Saturday night will find the Bison again opposed to the Morningside team this time at Sioux City, Iowa.

Conference Games

The Morningside team moved to Grand Forks following their game here Friday and were defeated by the Flikertails 39-14.

Thursday evening South Dakota State scored a 30-13 victory over their rivals South Dakota University.

BUSINESS EDUCATION

A business education is a practical education that prepares one for every-day living. It gives the training necessary for entrance into the business world where the demand for trained workers is much greater than the supply. The business world pays a salary twelve months out of the year with two weeks' vacation on full pay.

Hon. W. T. Harris, Ex-Commissioner of Education, said, "Without a thorough and practical commercial education, a man is like a ship at sea without a compass or rudder."

Take your course in business training in an accredited school. Call or write for particulars.

Hockey Team Loses
To Wisconsin Sixes

Captain Johnson, McRoberts and McDowell Are Suffering
From Injuries

Pat Purcell's crippled Bison hockey team met and were defeated by the fast Marquette sextet at Milwaukee Monday evening. The Marquette crew raced the Bison six for a twelve to nine victory. Johnny Johnson was greatly handicapped by a foot injury received in the Fort Snelling fray. McRoberts received a cut above the right eye in the Minnesota contest and McDowell was suffering from injuries.

After a two day rest the Bison journeyed to Madison where they played the initial game of a two game series with Wisconsin. The rest proved to be a great stimulant for Purcell's skaters for the Bison opened up with a vicious attack and scored twice in the first two periods while Wisconsin was unable to drive the pill by McRoberts.

The Wisconsin pill pounders opened the third period with a comeback which gave them a 3 to 2 advantage before the period closed. Johnson had to be withdrawn from the Bison lineup because of injuries shortly after er the final period was underway. Up to this time the Bison center had caused the Wisconsin backstops much worry. The last Wisconsin score came near the close of the game and gave the Badgers a 4 to 2 victory.

McRoberts proved to be the star of the game. The goalie made 43 stops compared to 12 by the goalies of the Wisconsin team.

The second and final game resulted in a 8 to 4 victory for Wisconsin. both teams resorted to offensive hockey and as a result the score was large. The teams were kept at top speed throughout the contest because of the ten below zero weather in which the contest was played.

The flashy Johnny Johnson was the scoring ace for the Bison. He was closely followed by Ken McDowell.

For all three contests Coach Purcell choose the same lineup. The lineup was as follows: Johnson, center; McDowell and McGrath at the wing positions, McLaughlin and Landbloom defense, and Bill McRoberts, goalie.

DR. NELSON SPEAKS BEFORE ENGINEER'S CLUB

Dr. C. I. Nelson, head of the department of Bacteriology, addressed the members of the College Engineer's Club at a meeting held last Thursday evening.

Dr. Nelson's address was in nature of a review of 50 years of sanitary engineering. Remarkable were the features he pointed out in the progress especially in the last 30 years, which deal with the decrease of the death rate due to typhoid germs in a city's source of water supply.

Beginning with conditions in this country and in London about 1830, when the town pump surrounded by a hog wallow served as the civic center where drinking water was secured, he related the various stages of improvement down to the present time when filtered and chlorinated water, free from disease germs constitute the nations water supply.

The meeting concluded with a brief business session after which lunch was served. These meetings are held in the interests of engineering and members of the college faculty and students are cordially invited to attend.
