

Madelyn Parrott Brings Lisbon H. S. In For Day

Students Were Escorted Thru Depts. And Entertained By Arvold

Madelyn Parrott, a member of last year's graduating class from this institution, was instrumental in organizing the pilgrimage of some sixty Lisbon High School students here for a day of sight seeing and entertainment last Saturday.

Arriving from Lisbon about 10 a. m., the girls were taken through the home economics department and the boys through the engineering department. This was followed by a make-up demonstration by members of the Edwin Booth Dramatic club of the college, used in the demonstration.

Luncheon was served in the Lincoln Log cabin, where Dr. John Lee Coulter addressed the students briefly, pointing out the good that can be done in each community through the inhabitants learning to express themselves.

Miss Madelyn Parrott, Fargo, who is teaching expression in the Lisbon school, responded in behalf of the school. Several instructors of the college, members of Edwin Booth dramatic club and members of the budget board of the state, who visited the college Saturday morning, also were guests at luncheon.

Folk dancing, under direction of Miss Dorothy Cole, head of the women's physical education department, took place in the green room, followed by the staging of one act of "The Rise of Silas Lapham" and several scenes from "Peer Gynt," both of which have been staged in the Little Country theater by the Edwin Booth club. Demonstrations included setting the stage and something of the Chinese theater was shown the visitors in the way of books, costumes and programs.

The visitors included members of the expression class and senior English class, the Lisbon high school and entire community being especially interested in dramatics.

Among the visitors were students who have taken part in "The Lucky Break," "Cherry Blossoms," "Pickles," "The Mouse Trap," "Not Quite Such a Goose," "Just a Little Mistake," and "Grandma Pulls the String," produced in Lisbon in the last year.

Those in the party were Geraldine Hickman, Alice Albertson, Cora Brunton, Lola Kruger, Edna Holmgren, Edna Vie, Inez Kuhn, Frances Griggs, Norma Arntson, Georgia Ford, Gladys Johnson, Mildred Grange, Helen Highness, Floyd Oium, Sarle Carlton, Van Lozier, Clifford Smith, Raymond McNally, Lester Bock, Arthur Newman, George Schmidtke, Melvin Iserman, Peter Albertson, Charles Martin, Cleve Cole, Raymond Olson, Steven Yeomen, Alan Overland, Vincent Sullivan, Warren Endersbe, Kenneth Rund, Douglas Vellie, Edward Hollweck, Frances Hirschy, Lucile Kenyon, Ida Berntson, Inez Hoganson, Mildred Iserman, Beatrice Vie, Marie Inderlie, Helen Cullinan, Evelyn Bierver, Eveline Zacharias, Irene Dahl, Emma Dahl, Carlene Code, Gertrude Newman Selma Kval, Frances Schaeffer, Norma Arntson, Dorothy Dann, Mr. and Mrs. G. O. G. Rahn and daughter, Virginia, Miss Parrott, Mrs. W. E. Broen, Mrs. M. E. Bristol, and Miss W. Wade.

THANKSGIVING DINNER FOR HOMESICK STUDENTS

Members of the executive boards of the college Y. M. C. A. and Y. W. C. A. are sponsoring a dinner in the dining hall of the college "Y" for Thanksgiving day, Thursday, November 29, 1928. The dinner is for the students who do not go to their homes on this day.

A unique feature of the dinner will be the fact that the dinner is to be prepared entirely by students.

NEWMAN CLUB WILL MEET TO-NIGHT

Plans for a party to be held before Christmas will be completed at the meeting of the Newman Club this evening at the Knights of Columbus Hall. The meeting will be called to order at 7:30 sharp.

The Right Reverend Bishop O'Reilly who was to speak at this meeting has been called out of town, but will speak at a later meeting.

In the future the Newman Club will have but one initiation a year which will be held in the spring. Any members who are taken in between initiations will take a simple pledge and be initiated in the spring. Frank Hannaher, president of the club adds, "All members are urged to be present and bring as many new members along as possible."

Freshmen Chemists Are Preparing Essays

Writers Will Be Excused From Mid-term Laboratory Examination

Freshmen students are now preparing Chemistry essays for the national and local prize essay contests. The essays are to be submitted to the School of Chemistry for final inspection before February 1st.

The national contest which is conducted by the American Chemical Society offers six prizes of $500.00, six prizes of $300.00, six prizes of $200.00, for the students who write the first, second and third best essays respectively. The essays are confined to one of the following subjects: The Relation of Chemistry to Health and Disease, Relation of Chemistry to the Enrichment of Life, Relation of National Defense, Relation of Chemistry to the Development of an Industry or a Resource of the United States.

Alpha Phi Omega, honorary chemistry fraternity, has donated a silver loving cup for the first prize. The Chemist Club will award the second prize, and the third prize, a set of books dealing with chemistry, will be donated by the School of Chemistry.

Winner's of last years contest were: Virginia Stockton, first place; Adrian Fox, second and Ethel Kraft third honors. Two years ago the two highest awards went to Dan Danielson and Francis Ross.

Approximately ten percent of the essays will be sent to the National committee on prize essays of the American Chemical Society. All essays submitted will figure in the competition in the local contest. The essays are not to exceed 2500 words in length and any student participating will be excused from the regular mid-term laboratory examination during the winter term.

The purpose of the contest is that a better understanding of the relationship between the science and activities of civilization be spread in this important chemical age. To help attain this end Mr. and Mrs. F. P. Garvan of New York City, in memory of their daughter Patricia, made possible the contest which is open to all undergraduate Freshmen college students.

THANKSGIVING VACATION OF FOUR DAYS THIS WEEK

There will be no classes on Thursday, Friday, Saturday and Sunday to allow students who live at not far distant towns to spend Thanksgiving at home.

Classes will assemble Monday morning, December 3rd. At that time there will be exactly twelve days of school and three days of "finals" left of this term of school. Examinations will be held on the 17th, 18th, and 19th of December.

A Spectrum will not be issued Friday.

The Thursday discussion groups of the college "Y" will not meet this week because of Thanksgiving. Watch for announcements concerning the topics for Dec. 6.

Next All-College Will Be Seventh Of December

Admittance Will Be Gained By Presentation Of Registration Cards At Door

The last all college party for this term will be held Friday evening, December 7th, according to Miss Hazel Heald, social commissioner of the Student Commission.

This party is being given by all four college classes under the direction of the Student Commission.

In an effort to make this as near a perfect all college party as possible, Miss Heald says that there will be doorkeepers at all three of the doors. Admittance will be gained upon the presentation of registration cards and anyone apprehended presenting someone else's card will forfeit the card. One member of every couple must be a North Dakota State student or a member of the faculty.

The usual hours will prevail, 8:30 to 11:30 p. m.

1929 Bison Receives Distinguished Rating

Book Edited By Everett Wallum Secures All-American Honor Rating

Word was recently received by Everett J. Wallum, who edited the Bison of 1929, that his book received the All-American rating in a contest recently conducted by the department of Journalism of the Minnesota University.

In the contest the judges picked a first and a second and then named the remaining books in four classes, namely, All-American Honor Rating, First Class Honor Rating, Second Class Honor Rating, Third Class Honor Rating and Fourth Class Honor Rating. The Bison of 1929 fell in the first class named, All-American Honor Rating, securing 896 points out of a possible 1000.

Last year's Bison was of a historic nature and was dedicated Dean Emeritus E. S. Keene, deceased.

The staff for the Bison of 1929 included: Everett J. Wallum, editor-in-chief; Herbert Hansen, associate editor; Madelyn Parrott, administration editor, with Margaret Zimmerman, Doris Boyle, and Ethel McEssy assisting; Gladys Whitney, classes editor with Marion Trowbridge assisting; Ruby Oscarson, Bison Life editor, with E. G. Ferguson, Tekla Askegaard and William Haslam assisting; Dick Hackenberg, sports editor, with Gil Moe, Helen Ballard and Sarah Moore assisting; Amos Wallum, editor of historical data; Allan Meinecke, art editor; Jessie McLachlin, classes editor, with Keith Allen and Jerome Morse assisting; Bernice Emmons, typist; and Ebony Blott, hysterical editor.

F. Ralph Hollands was business manager of the book and had as his assistants, Frank Hannaher, assistant business manager, Harold Phillips, advertising manager, and Adolph Pahl and Ross Donehower, assistants.

ENGINEERS INITIATE TWENTY-NINE MEN

FIVE ONE ACT PLAYS FOR THIS EVENING

The Little Country Theatre Players will present five one-act plays Tuesday evening at 7:00 o'clock sharp in the Little Country Theatre.

Theodore Laibly will direct "Goose Money," by Mrs. Carl Felton, "The Advantages of Being Shy" by Phoebe Hoffman, directed by Leola Burrill; "Old Cronies" by Theyne Smith, directed by Jere Martin; "The Good Woman", by Arnold Bennett, directed by Ruth Whitney; and "The Dust of the Road," directed by Helen Tollefson.

This will be the last group of experimental one-act plays to be given by the Players this term. The public is invited to see these plays and to express their criticisms.

Debate Club Will Hold Class Debates

Try-outs Will Be Held This Afternoon And To-morrow From 2 To 5 p. m.

In an effort to place debating on a par with other sports at North Dakota State, the Lincoln Debate Club is sponsoring a group of inter-class debates, according to Morris Olson, president of the club.

It is planned that the freshmen will debate the juniors and the sophomores, the seniors. The winners will debate each other and the victorious class will be presented with a trophy by the Lincoln Debate Club.

Tryouts To-day
Tryouts are being held to-day and to-morrow (Wednesday) from two to five o'clock in the green room. Mr. Olson urges that anyone at all interested in debate work prepare a five or ten minute talk on one of the subjects and then tryout for his or her respective class team.

Committees have been appointed from each class to look after debate team from each class.

Four Subjects

"Resolved that too many people attend college," "That the modern young woman is unwomanly," "That this house disapproves of patriotism or nationalism", and "That the tyranny of convention is to be deplored," are the four subjects that have been chosen for the debates.

Because of the nature of the subjects, the debates will be judged not upon the amount of facts or material brought up but upon the ability of the various speakers to hold the attention of their audiences.

Defeated Journalists Will Feed Winners

The Journalism class, which is instructed by Mr. T. W. Johnson is now receiving practical experience in journalism work. The class for the past three weeks has been busily engaged in writing articles for the Spectrum.

In order to further the student's interest in the contest Mr. Johnson has divided his class of twenty-one students into groups of seven. Each individual is required to submit a minimum of five stories to the Spectrum. The groups are given two weeks time to complete their articles, thus, the articles being reported by the journalism class will be run in the Spectrum for a period of six weeks.

Fostering further interest placing the contest on a more competitive basis the students in the two groups having the least number of articles have agreed to give a dinner to the winning group.

Pledges of Phi Omega Pi entertained the active chapter at an informal dancing party, Friday evening, Nov. 23 in the Waldorf hotel. A solo dance was a feature of the evening. Chaperones were Professor and Mrs. Dice, Mr. and Mrs. N. R. Olson, and Mrs. Smith.

Blue Key will meet this evening at 6 p.m. in Ceres Hall.

Phi Kappa Phi Confers Honors On Eight Seniors

Students Who Rank In First Fifth Of Class Are Eligible

Eight seniors have been elected to membership in Phi Kappa Phi, national honorary scholastic fraternity according to a statement made by professor E. H. Jones, secretary of the fraternity.

Phi Kappa Phi is an all college honorary society open to honor students of the junior and senior classes who rank scholastically in the upper fifth of their classes during their last two years in college.

Initiation Dec. 5

The seniors who will be initiated into active membership December 5th are: Albert Palmerlee, School of Education, Havana; Floy Beatty, School of Education, Fargo; Thom. Palmerlee, Education, Havana; William Maroney, School of Chemistry, Fargo; Lawrence Debing, School of Chemistry, Lakota; Robert Adam, School of Agriculture, Anamoose; Marvin Huckle, School of Agriculture, Lidgerwood; Elizabeth Sheldon, School of Science and Literature, Fargo.

Several members were initiated into the fraternity last spring and the fraternity expects to name new members sometime during the winter term.

Y. W. C. A. Holds Recognition Services

About one hundred thirty-five girls were received into membership of the Y. W. C. A. last Thursday evening. Recognition services for new members were held at 5:30 P. M. in the Ceres Hall gymnasium. The girls met in the Ceres Hall parlors and marched in double file upstairs. Here the services were read and the Cabinet officers introduced themselves. Members of the advisory board were also present. The program closed with the candlelight service and recessional "Follow the Gleam."

Dinner was then served to the group in the Ceres Hall dining room directly following the services. Short speeches were made by Mrs. C. A. Williams, Miss Harriet Pearson, Mrs. T. Worden Johnson and Mrs. C. F. Williams. Something of the work for the year was outlined for the girls and an insight into what social work they could do was given them. An opportunity was given the girls to sign up for work in which they are especially interested. Three major events are in the program for this year; the annual Christmas kiddie party, the coed prom, and the May festival breakfast. Besides these, social work at the orphans home, Florence Crittendon home, and country poor farm is urged by directors.

The Y. W. C. A. at North Dakota State College fills a big place in the college life of the young women, by giving them a chance to serve others and so develop admirable traits of character in themselves. "You give, but you get back much more than you give," says Mrs. Johnson in speaking of the social service work.

SIXTY COUPLES AT KAPPA PHI PARTY

Approximately sixty couples were present at the Alpha Kappa Phi fraternity party which was held in the college "Y" on Saturday evening, November 24.

Guests of honor included Dean and Mrs. Minard, Dean and Mrs. Sudro, and Dr. and Mrs. A. F. Schalk. Chaperones for the occasion were Mr. and Mrs. George C. Mayoue and Mr. and Mrs. Albert Severson.

The committee in charge of the party was made up of Jake Wahl, Carl Thordson, and Gunder Christian-son.

DEBATE TRYOUTS

Every so often we hear someone "crabbing" because there are no debates or enough interest in debating at North Dakota State.

This week the Lincoln Debate Club is offering everyone on the campus an opportunity to try out for a debate. A team will be picked from each class and providing enough turn out for the tryouts the debates without a doubt will be very interesting.

This is a good move for it will very likely uncover several more good debaters that the department of Public Discussion may use in their inter-collegiate debates. It will also afford some who have not been able to take part in debates in the past or who believe they are able to debate but haven't had the training, to secure a little training at this time.

The Lincoln Debate Club is to be complimented on their step towards the advancement of debate work here.

Now all that remains for a successful series of inter-class debates is a good turn out at the try-outs. If you can't come out yourself, try and encourage some of your friends to take part in the contest.

CONGRATULATIONS MISS PARROTT!

When Miss Parrott conceived of the idea of bringing her students up here to her Alma Mater for a day she struck a real one. The day's program was a success and surely every student for whom it was has a warm spot in his heart now for North Dakota State.

Not only is it good advertising for our school, but it may induce several students out of that class of sixty to attend some institution of higher learning who hadn't intended to before the trip.

Getting back to the advertising scheme though, we don't know how much assistance Miss Parrott secured from other sources, but as we see it this scheme is one that the school might use more extensively.

Why could not there be a committee composed of the deans, the president, the registrar, the alumni secretary and several members of the student commission and perfect a plan whereby next spring they could have a similar program as the one Saturday, every Saturday inviting some N. D. S. C. graduate to bring his students in for the day? We say next spring because we will soon be snowed in and also the spring is a little more appropriate time to do the advertising as then is the time that the prospective student is picking his or her school.

CLASS CUTS

With the approach of the end of the term more and more students are becoming the dismayed recipients of little white and yellow slips bearing words of warning or summons for reported negligence in attending classes. The students are reacting with varying degrees of amiability.

Now we wonder considerably about this queer system of developing self-reliance and responsibility in college students. According to the rules, more or less in force, a student having more than eight cuts is summoned by the disciplinary committee to either prove his ability at alibi-creation or be expelled. This is undoubtedly an excellent system, but just what it is for is beyond our understanding.

There is no law that requires one to attend college. The students are going because they so desire—either they want the education, the atmosphere of collegiate training, or the social benefits and leisure. In this school the majority are looking for career-training, and a great many are earning their own way. But whatever his true reason for attending college may be, the student must pass the prescribed course or get out.

So the fact that the authorities still find it necessary to treat us as a group of high school students reflects peculiarly upon the college. The curious-minded are wont to inquire: Are your college classes so dull and so non-essential in the making of a passing mark that the faculty, realizing this, must inflict drastic attendance rules upon the knowing student in order to keep the college from looking like a correspondence school? —K. G.

NOTICE

There are certain activities that are most active on the eve of a holiday. The Student Commission wishes to again announce that the reward for information leading to the conviction of anyone dealing in thievery on the campus is still in effect.

WISE and OTHERWISE

By Henry Presler

IT SEEMS to be settled definitely that an attempt will be made to continue the weekly hop throughout the winter term, according to present reports. The college "Y" has been secured for the purpose. The only change in the past schedule is that the hops will probably be held on Friday afternoons rather than on Thursday afternoons. As was said before the whole matter rests on the will of the student body. If you want these dances to go on be sure to be present at the first one ever to be held in the "Y". This will be a week from this coming Friday.

NO SCHOOL on Thursday or Friday and consequently no Spectrum on Friday of this week.

THE PRESIDENT of the Lincoln Debate Club tells us that a number of real live subjects have been chosen for the coming contests.

CONGRATULATIONS NODAKS! Five men on the all-conference team!

SNAPSHOTS CONTINUE to come in. Every fraternity and sorority, honorary organization, club, etc., is as yet not fully represented. It is hoped that members of these organizations will see the advantage of being represented in the annual and will make efforts to send in pictures of its members, their activities, their house (if any) and of any other interests. Pictures are also needed for the satire section so photographers, get busy!

HEADLINE IN New York Times: Raccoon Coat Season Opens.

ONLY ABOUT two more weeks until final exams.

AT THE THEATRES

"Uncle Tom's Cabin," Harriet Beecher Stowe's famous novel of slavery days, which at one time or another on the legitimate stage has provided a part for most of the famous actresses and actors of the day, has been put into picture by Carl Laemmle and is being shown at the Fargo Theatre the first four days of this week.

"Two Lovers" with Esther Ralston and Vilma Banky starring, is showing at the State the first half of this week.

Esther Ralston is featured in "The Sawdust Paradise," which will be shown at the Fargo on Friday and Saturday in conjunction with a vaudeville program. This is a story of a dyed in the woll ballyhoo girl who travels with a cheap traveling street carnival.

Richard Dix will appear at the State the last three days of this week in "Moran of the Marines." Dix is playing opposite Ruth Elder, who became famous when she almost flew across the ocean last year in an attempt to be the first woman to cross the pond by air. The story is a dramatic tale of a private in the marines and his subsequent conquest of the general's daughter.

Miss Scurlock, speaker at the "Y" tea, was a dinner guest at the Phi Omega Pi house Sunday.

BOARD OF PUBLICATIONS

The Board of Publications will meet tomorrow afternoon (Wednesday, Nov. 28, 1928) at 4 p. m. in the registrar's office for the purpose of electing officers for the ensuing year and taking up the necessary business.

BUSINESS MANAGER OF SPECTRUM ILL

Harold Phillips, business manager of the Spectrum, is confined to his bed at home this week following an attack of appendicitis Sunday.

In conversing with Mr. Phillips, we find that he is very desirous of securing the assistance of several freshmen who believe they can sell ads and who have a desire to become a business manager of a student publication. Anyone interested may report at the Spectrum office at their earliest convenience and they will be set to work.

BENJAMIN HARRISON sat in the White House Chair at Washington when North Dakota Agricultural College selected its site, built its first building, and moved in. That was just 38 years ago, or 1890.

Since then the voters elected Grover Cleveland (second term), William McKinley, Theodore Roosevelt, William Howard Taft, Thomas Woodrow Wilson, Warren G. Harding, Calvin Coolidge, and Herbert Hoover, president-elect.

With each succeeding president of the United States the country has made progress. And likewise the college with each succeeding year has progressed.

In this spirit of Thanksgiving, we, the students at North Dakota State College, are thankful for:

Our fraternities, so that we may be clothed.

Our co-ed, whose permanent wave and blush enlivens a dreary winter.

And whose gum-chewing has made possible the Chicago Cubs.

Our politicians, who have made turning off the radio a keen pleasure.

The cigarette lighter, which has made this a nation of thumb athletes and has glorified the match.

The soap box, without the politician would have no platform. And without which we could not classify the Army.

The collegiate flivver, which has made walking popular.

The skunk, which has made running popular.

The mustache, which has given man a stiff upper lip and woman a sensitive one.

Governor O'Flaherty, who did not issue a Thanksgiving Proclamation.

Our butcher, who is so modest that that he charges only thirty cents a pound for his thumb.

Our tower clock, so we can tell what time it isn't.

Our dog coats, which don't have to be muzzled.

Kenneth McCullough, so we can stoop to something small.

Mufflers, which is cheap necking.

Our classes, so we can sleep.

The weather... It doesn't cost anything.

The Postoffice. It's a great game.

Thanksgiving, so we can cram without taking an exam.

Our parents, so we can eat. Thank God!

Turkey... It's so high we can't eat it, but we can still talk it.

You will soon need a warm sweater. Get yours now. We carry the best.

Four State Men Are Named All Conference

Barney, Ordahl, May, Hilt On Second Team

Nodaks Land Five, S. D. State Four On Purcell's All Conference Honorary Eleven

Gerald Barney, Stafford Ordahl, Bill Hilt, and Leo May were accorded places on the second all North Central conference football team by J. A. Purcell who recently selected the annual Fargo Forum conference eleven.

The conference which will be finished this week when South Dakota State meets Morningside was one of the most successful in the history of the conference. The University of North Dakota winning its first football championship since the organization of the conference. North Dakota State and South Dakota University finished last while the loser of the South Dakota State - Morningside clash will join them there and the winner will finish in second place.

In selecting the Bison quartet, Purcell says: "Ordahl outplayed every center he was sent against in this section with the exception of Stuart McMillan, crack University performer. McMillan gave Ordahl a miserable afternoon here on Oct. 27 proving himself superior to the stalwart performer from Grafton.

"George Barney has been accorded a position on the second team at a guard post where he has been playing with the Bison for three years. He was an efficient performer in every contest but lacked the fire and dash so necessary to an outstanding star.

"Bill Hilt, Agricultural college sophomore, lacked the speed to be as good as the other three ends. He was a punishing blocker, however, and made few mistakes and was a step behind Ordahl as the most valuable man in the Bison forward wall.

"Leo May, giant Aberdeen sophomore fullback on the Bison eleven has been placed on the second team. May was one of the outstanding kickers of the conference while his offensive play showed a decided lack of polish. He is a big, strong fellow who should develop into one of the best of the conference ever boasted.

Five Nodaks, Four Bunnies, one from South Dakota University, and the eleventh from Morningside form the first team; while the second team is composed of four Bison, three Bunnies, two Coyotes and two Nodaks.

State Players Are From North Dakota

A North Dakota school represented by a North Dakota team is the boast of the North Dakota State College after a survey of the home towns of the State Varsity.

The city of Fargo leads the remainder of the state in furnishing football material to the college giving the 1928 squad six men namely: Joe Blakeslee, Eddie Babcock, Horace McGrath, sophomores, and Gil Moe, Alf Skaret, and Johnny Blair. The vicinity of Fargo is responsible for one more, Gerald Barney of Casselton. Grafton has been a source of supply for the State College in the past and has given three athletes who have accomplished much this fall; they are Chief Pariseau, Cod Ordahl, and DeSautel.

Peter Gergen, the state quarterback is from Park River. Bill Hilt claims Bobbells as his home town; Ranes resides in Lisbon; Ben Gorder lives at Bottineau; and King Williams comes from Mandan. George (Dutch) Hermes, Cy Peschel, and Ray Basset are from the vicinity of Wahpeton. These conclude the list of North Dakota men that are on the 1928 Bison squad.

Men from out of the state are Captain Baldy Hays of Elkton, South Dakota, Mike Sullivan of Bemidji, Minnesota, Oscar Hanson of Hancock, Minnesota, Leo May of Aberdeen, South Dakota, and Lennie Freeburg of New Rockford, Illinois.

Agnes Hanson has returned to school after spending the past week at her home in Valley City due to the death of her brother, Anthony Hanson.

BUSINESS EDUCATION
A business education is a practical education that prepares one for every-day living. It gives the training necessary for entrance into the business world where the demand for trained workers is much greater than the supply. The business world pays a salary twelve months out of the year with two weeks' vacation on full pay.
Hon. W. T. Harris, Ex-Commissioner of Education, said, "Without a thorough and practical commercial education, a man is like a ship at sea without a compass or rudder."

BLUE KEY WILL HEAR DEBATE TO-NITE

Members of the Public Discussion 10 class will give a debate before Blue Key this evening at 6 P.M.

The question to be debated is Resolved, that Land Grant Colleges should place equal stress on the practical and cultural aspects of education. The affirmative will be upheld by Foss Narum and Douglas Somerville and the negative by Edmund Burke and Harold Peterson.

The debate is to be conducted under the Oregon Plan, which resembles the procedure in a court trial. The procedure is as follows:

- 1—The first speaker for the affirmative gives the entire case for his side.
- 2—The first negative speaker does the same for his side.
- 3—The first affirmative speaker returns to the platform and is cross questioned about his case by the second negative speaker.
- 4—First negative speaker returns and is cross questioned by the second affirmative speaker.

5—Second negative speaker gives refutation and summary for his side.

6—Second affirmative speaker gives similar refutation and summary for his side.

MOUNTED BISON HEAD IN MAIN BUILDING

In the main building of the North Dakota State College there is enclosed a mounted bison head, an object of curiosity to the many visitors of the college. This head, which typifies the spirit of the school, has a short but interesting history.

This particular member of a once mighty horde roamed for years in the beautiful wilds of the Yellow Stone National Park. The bison, now almost extinct, claimed the plains of Minnesota and the Dakotas for its home in the days of the early settlers and the Indians. In fact, the bison was the chief food supply of these people.

This mammoth beast was purchased this year to celebrate the annual barbecue, one of homecoming's outstanding events, for who could imagine a real North Dakota State College homecoming without those savory bison steaks and hamburgers?

When the barbeque was over the head was mounted and placed in the case in the main building where it is now a daily reminder of one of the season's biggest celebrations.

BARRACKS CLUB MET THURSDAY

A meeting was held in the barracks Thursday evening to decide whether there should be a regular initiation of the new members of the barracks club. It has been customary in this club as in most other clubs to initiate the new members; therefore the old members called this meeting to decide whether this custom would be followed this year.

A vote of all the members present was taken and it was decided to have the regular initiation Thursday, Dec. 6. A motion was also made and carried that the president appoint a committee of the old members to arrange a program for this event. At the conclusion of the program a hot lunch will be served to all.

THETA CHI PLEDGES ARE DANCE HOSTS

LAKE GENEVA TEA AT "Y" SUNDAY

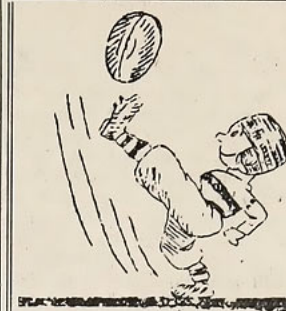

At the Geneva tea held Sunday afternoon in the Y. M. C. A. building members of both the Y. M. and Y. W. who have attended camp at Geneva were present and talked on the phases that were particularly significant to them. Those who spoke were Miss Harriet Pearson, Marvin and Eugene Huckle, Glen Smith, Florence James and Ethel Jones. Miss Pearson contrasted the camp now with what it was when she attended as a student delegate from this college.

Miss Stella Scurlock, traveling secretary for this district, was also a speaker for the day. Miss Scurlock was here two weeks with Dr. Jamieson. She le day. Much of her time yeste. was spent in conference with cabinet members of the two societies.

After the meeting tea was served.

For the most part these firms are typical of the group whose financial aid means so much to the success of innumerable Bison projects.

They are members of the Bison Boosters, an organization that backs our athletic program every year.

They advertise in the Bison, the yearbook of the college, and aid in making the book a success.

They back school programs, the Baby Bison Bible, the Homecoming Program, etc. In a hundred might succeed in various enterprises such as the annual Homecoming event.
