"The Cotter's Saturday Night," A Musical Play, To Be Given In Armory This Evening

The Scottish Musical Comedy Company of Boston presents in the armory this evening the great musical play "The Cotter's Saturday Night." Fresh triumphs throughout New York and New England, "The Cotter's Saturday Night" is an outstanding feature on the Redpath list.

Based upon Robert Burns' immortal poem of the same name, this notable play was written by John E. Daniels of Boston. The author has caught in his play the very spirit of the Scottish life so vividly described by the Ploughman-Poet. In a quaint old Scotch setting of the eighteenth century, John Anderson, the cotter, his family and some of his friends are shown spending a Saturday evening with songs, stories and laughter. The laird's son, with his youthful love for Jeannie, the cotter's daughter introduces a note of appealing romance.

During the play the following songs are sung:

"John Anderson, My Jo," "Laddie," "Hurrah for the Highlands," "Ye Banks and Braes," "Scots, Wha Hae," "Duncan Grany," "Loch Lomond," "Annie Laurie," "Bonnie Mary," "Of a' the Airts," "Wert Thou in the Cauld Blast," "A Man's a Man for a' That," "The Auld Hoose," "The Lord is My Shepherd," and "Auld Lang Syne."

President and Mrs. Coolidge recently attended a performance in Washington of "The Cotter's Saturday Night" and expressed themselves as greatly pleased. The President received the company at the White House the following day.

Jason Noble Pierce, the President's Washington pastor, after hearing the performance wrote, "I cannot begin to tell you of our appreciation of 'The Cotter's Saturday Night,' and everyone is asking when you are coming back."

The play will start at 8:15 sharp. All students will be admitted free upon the presentation of their registration cards. Single admissions for reserved seats are one dollar and general admission is seventy-five cents.

All battalion sponsors, members of Guidon, and platoon commanders are urged to be out and form with the chaperons who are the members of the military department staff and their wives.

This will be the last hop of the year in the college armory, due to basketball practice.

Flowers Gave Second Request Talk Monday

He Believes Searchers For Ease Will Find Keen Competition Later

"When men avoid rigours that put steel in their frames, they lose courage in their hearts," said Monteville Flowers in a second request lecture before the students of the North Dakota State College at convocation Monday morning.

"The theory of ease which I found in my researches among high school students throughout the country is largely responsible for their choice of vocations."

According to Mr. Flowers, there are three classes of vocations: The producer class, or farmers, the manipulators class, manufacturers, merchants, bankers, and men who take care of our large transportation units, the helpers, clerks, stenographers, bookkeepers, and lastly those engaged in the arts—architects, dancers, musicians, authors. There is a big influx from all the other classes into the last class, evidently because of the apparent ease of the work.

"These young people," said Mr. Flowers, "at that tragic period of life, somewhere between thirty and forty, will find that the competition is too great, and will fall by the wayside. For in those lines, at the present drift, there will be an increase in competition of from forty to fifty percent, and they will find that the seals on their diplomas and their class averages are not exchangeable for food and shelter."

As to what young Americans are thinking about morals and conduct, Mr. Flowers said he found three things. First, that their moral fibre is just as good as that of their parents; second, that they are not responsible for the vices of the age, they merely accept them; and third, that they are highly developed mentally and are fully prepared to criticize the bigotry and intolerance of their elders, where they find it.

"Youth needs to discover what is essential in the past and the present, and to keep what is good of the past, and throw away what is poor in the present. The best thing I can say to youth is—keep your health, work, save, and find peace of mind and of soul."

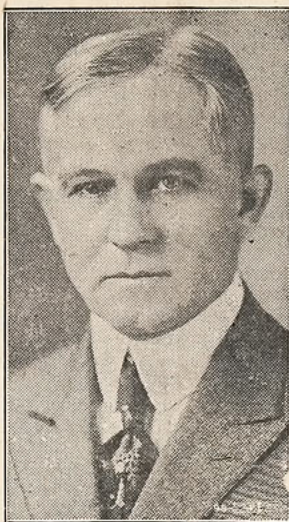

N. D. S. C. RADIO HOUR HAS TIME CHANGED

Friday evening's program over WDAY from North Dakota State College will be on the air at 9 p.m. The program consists of two talks, the first one by Dr. C. I. Nelson, professor of bacteriology, on "The Physiology of Bacteria," and the second one by Orville M. Fuller, assistant farm economist, on "The Agricultural Outlook."

Wednesday evening the program will go on the air at 8:30 p.m. Prof. C. B. Waldron will speak on "Science and the Farm Problem." George P. Goodearl, assistant professor of poultry husbandry will tell how to prepare turkeys for Thanksgiving.

F. R. Cook, Scranton, N. Dak., visited with his son Ross at the Gamma Rho house Sunday.

Marion Trowbridge To Lead Charity Ball

Party Will Be Held At Armory This Year, Instead Of Downtown

Saturday, February 2, 1929 was set as the date for the annual Charity Ball at a recent Pan-Hellenic meeting.

The party is an annual affair sponsored by the Pan-Hellenic association, of which Miss Marion Trowbridge is president. It is customary for the president of the association to lead, so Miss Trowbridge was named. Miss Trowbridge is a member of Sigma Theta and Delta Psi Kappa sororities.

No committees have been named up-to-date.

DR. WALSTER IS IN WASHINGTON THIS WEEK

Dr. H. L. Walster, dean of the school of Agriculture, left Saturday afternoon for Washington, D. C. where he is attending two meetings this week. The meeting of The American Society of Agronomists and the meeting of The American Association of Land Grant College and Universities are meeting there at the same time, thus giving educators an opportunity to attend both meetings.

ATTENTION JUNIORS!

The Bison of 1930, handiwork of the Junior Class, is beginning to take form. This is the one big feature of a class and the cooperation of every Junior at North Dakota State is needed to place our own year book at the head of all previous publications. The work of assembling the annual is given to a selected few, but they must rely on the class they represent for material and financial aid.

Remember Juniors, that no organization accomplishes anything unless each member does his part. Stop in at the Bison Office at your earliest convenience and contribute your bit. Boost the Bison of 1930.

J. A. WAHL,
President of Class of 1930.

YWCA Banquet Will Close Membersip Drive

Recognition Services To Be Held For The New Members At The Banquet

The "Y" Board of the college is entertaining the members of the Y. W. C. A. at a dinner Thursday at 6:00 in Ceres Hall, after the recognition services. Miss Skurlock, the national Y. W. C. A. Secretary, will be the guest of honor. Mrs. D. T. Robertson will be the speaker and her subject is "The Ideal Young College Woman." Talks on the various phases of Y. W. C. A. will be given by Mrs. C. A. Williams, Mrs. Tracy Johnson, and Miss Harriet Pearson. Mrs. C. A. Williams also has charge of the music.

In reality, this banquet is the climax of the membership drive which has been in full swing on the campus last week and the first part of this week. Margaret Ballard is general chairman of the drive, and the captains are the members of the cabinets each of whom have chosen two assistants.

Juniors and seniors, as a whole, are responding well to the call for having their individual pictures taken for the classes section in the 1930 Bison, according to Frances Ross, editor of this section of the yearbook.

The necessity for immediate paying of the photo fee and having individual pictures taken at once was emphasized by Miss Ross in speaking of the work to a Spectrum reporter. Some difficulty has come up through the skipping of appointments made with Mr. Scherling, the official photographer, so an appeal against doing this is made to the students.

Additional assistants appointed to aid Miss Ross are Doris Wilner, Tower City; Marvin Huckle, Lidgerwood; Everett Knutson, McCluskey; and Leonard Rygg, Clifford.

Among the upperclassmen who have paid their three dollars to have their pictures in the annual are: Dorothy Lieb, William Frey, Arthur Zeigler, Matt Braus, William Groves, Curtis Sommers, Doris Abel, Ruth McKinnon, Billie Eastgate, Marion Hartley, Richard Scott, Camille Alfred, Victor Lindgren, Glenn Smith, Leonard Everett, Almon Johnson, Elmer Torkelson, Victor Madsen, Agnes Hansen, Lawrence Meldahl, Frances Brummond, Lena Schneider, Dorothy Moffitt, Alta Berg, Archie Solberg, Gudlaug Week, Eunice Hokanson, Byron Olson, Aletha Winn, Russell Weiser, H. Wildermuth, Russell Amidon, Gilbert Mowm, Robert Adam, Jerome Olson, Martin J. Peterson, Ralph Welch, Leonard Rygg, William Baldwin, Hoyt DeKlein, Hal Stefanon, Edris Probstfield, Mary Ellen McLeod, Graham Fuller, Amil Lund, N. E. Hanson, Harry Conroy, Hazel Harris, Edward Conroy, William Ellingson, Teresa Yelle, M. Virginia Wilson, Earl Fenton, Lawrence Dobbert, Mike Sullivan, Agnes Boe, Lola Reeves.

Elizabeth Fitzgerald, Elizabeth McDonald, Helen Stokke and Gerterude Lee spent the week end in Hawley.

Fifty Students From Other Y's At Conference

Hollinger, Student Secretary And "Dad" Elliot, Give Main Talks

"We underestimated our crowd for the meetings and the program as a whole, I feel was very successful," stated Rudolph Otterson, secretary of the local student Y. M. C. A. at the close of the North Dakota Student Conference Sunday evening.

The meetings started Friday evening and continued through Saturday at the Baptist Church downtown. "Dad" Elliot, former student secretary and a national "Y" figure had charge of all the meetings.

Saturday afternoon, Ralph W. Hollinger, the new student secretary for these nine states spoke to the group, telling them that "boys in the European countries are like boys in this country—have similar desires, similar needs, similar demands." Mr. Hollinger was well versed on this topic having been in foreign work for the past few years, and has only had his present position as student secretary of the college "Y's" for two months. During this short period he has visited every school in the nine states that comprise his territory.

"Dad" Elliot, retiring secretary of the "Y", gave his principle talk Friday afternoon likening life to a football game and pointed out the difficulties to be met in the defensive, including dishonesty, lack of control and impurity, and steps to be used in overcoming them by the offensive such as the church, value of worship and prayer.

The conference banquet held at 6:15 Saturday closed the activities for the day. Sunday morning the group met at the City Y. M. C. A. building holding devotions and adjourning the conference at 11:45.

At 5 p.m. Mr. Hollinger came out to the college "Y" and met with the two cabinets preceding an informal tea.

More than fifty students from other schools in North Dakota and northern Minnesota were here for the conference including: Jerome Welber, Irwin Rieste, Merwin Freeberg, Elbert Watkins and Iverson from Jamestown, N. Dak.; Gelbert Stephens, LeRoy Carlson, F. Olson, Neville Theo. Mill, and Otto Reddig of Ellendale, N. Dak.; E. L. Kleckner, Floyd R. Howard, Francis Hanson, Rockley Beck and Virgil Dwinell of Morris, Minn.; Bill Ekstrand, Allen Eynon, Walter Anderson, Ambrose Walsh, Orlando Stobbert, Arthur L. Ringhette, Charles A. Finch, Lloyd Verry, Don Otis, Robert B. Simpson, John Gardsmore, Floyd Jennings, Sig. Peterson, Lloyd Williams, Martland Welch and George Sommers, all from the University of North Dakota; Lyle Sutherland, L. Kelly, B. Berger, A. Bergland, and A. Speis from Valley City Normal; and seven more "Aggies" from Crookston who failed to sign the register.

RARE LIGHTING EFFECTS AT SIGMA TAU PARTY

Lighting effects and decorations in the fraternity colors, rose and gray, featured the party given by the Alpha Sigma Tau Fraternity in honor of their pledges Saturday, November 17th, in the Oriental Ballroom. A large crystal in the dome of the hall featured the special dances. The party which lasted from 8:30 until 11:30 was attended by sixty five couples including alumni members.

Chaperons were Lt. and Mrs. Frank Ross, Mr. and Mrs. T. W. Johnson and Prof. Homer Huntoon. Milton Pemble was in charge of arrangements and Morris Olson's orchestra furnished the music while features were furnished by pupils from the Marie Early Dancing Studio.

Dorothy Olson from the U.N.D. visited with her folks in Fargo over the weekend.

CONGRATULATIONS, NODAKS!

Congratulations to the Nodaks upon their winning of the North Central Conference Football Championship. The University in annexing the conference honors have shown fine spirit, and the team has made an enviable record, by winning all conference games.

The "U" team has had its goal crossed but twice by conference opposition, this being done by the same team. The Nodaks have won national fame by amassing a total of over two hundred points against their opponents, and this may place them in a position to win the national high scoring honors. —M. H.

R. W. HOLLINGER, STUDENT SECRETARY

The week's "Y" activities ended up Sunday evening with a meeting of the two cabinets with Ralph W. Hollinger, student secretary for the central west states of the Y. M. C. A.

Mr. Hollinger is a college student at heart although he was graduated from his Alma Mater a number of years ago and has been in foreign work since that time. While in school Hollinger took part in the school activities, being sports editor on the school paper, and knows campus conditions and problems as they were in his day and in his new work is rapidly acquainting himself with them as they are today. As intimated, this particular work is new for Hollinger, as "Dad" Elliot a nationally known "Y" figure has held his position and only recently resigned.

Anyone who sat in on the cabinet meeting received sort of a surprise, for Mr. Hollinger did not tell the members of the cabinet how to run a Y. M. C. A. organization, but sat back and when asked a question, he usually asked one which would answer the question. In other words he attempted to have the members of the cabinets answer all of their own questions and solve their own problems. His questions merely helped the cabinet members answer their own questions and gave them a feeling of confidence that they could operate their own association without having any "higher-ups" coming around and telling them how.

The meeting with Mr. Hollinger as an interlocutor was a great help to the two local cabinets. They solved their own problems and in the near future the student body may look forward to a bigger and better "Y".

Every effort will be made to secure the interest of the student body as a whole and the Spectrum asks at this point that the student body give the two cabinets more cooperation in the future than they have in the past.

Mr. Hollinger is to be congratulated upon the strategy he used in conducting the meeting and thanked for his assistance.

Just Comment
WISE and OTHERWISE

By Henry Presler

IT APPEARS after looking over the week that we have settled down into the general run of just going to school.

PERHAPS IT is well to note that our first eight weeks of experience has proven that the student body is more than willing to cooperate with the Spectrum staff and has done so to a much greater degree than last year. More students appear to be interested in the college paper. We have been given much welcome assistance by these latter. It all helps to put across our aim of increasing the interest in the newspaper field at this college.

AND SOON we will be ready for basketball.

WHICH BRINGS to mind that it will be impossible to use the armory for Cadet Hops. Many students, realizing this, have indicated their desire of continuing the weekly social event in some other hall. Mr. Ralph Erickson, president of Scabbard and Blade, has indicated that efforts will be made to secure the college "Y" auditorium for the winter season. It all depends on the student body. Do you want the Cadet Hops to continue?

THE BULLETIN board carried a notice of debate team try-outs to be held presently. The Spectrum, according to its policy of encouraging outside activities, was gratified to see that interest in debating had made itself felt and that the college debate season is about to open. As has been pointed out, debating activities in this city have not been encouraged to an extent worthy of the art. Fargo is not a forensic town.

Fargo is an athletic town. The educational institutions of the community give more attention to athletics, and always have had. Some communities, notably in the western part of our state, give almost entire support to forensics.

Admitting the merits of debating, which are obvious but seldom observed let us quote from last year's Spectrum: "To this college is left the task of putting on an extensive debate program of real interesting contests. It would seem that college students would or should be interested in such discussions of live, up-to-date world problems. To us is left the task of giving Fargo a debate education and thus right it from its decidedly lopsided interest. This cannot be done, I (the writer) believe, in less than five years time. Perhaps it will take longer. Only discouragements will greet the first few years of effort. But the benefits to the town and above all the benefits to the participants will repay ten-fold whatever efforts may be made."

Among Our Contemporaries

It is no wonder that the English instructors become discouraged when remarks like this are made—

English Prof.—Tell me one or more things about Milton.

Student—Well, he got married and he wrote Paradise Lost, then his wife died and he wrote Paradise Regained.

—Teachers College Budget.

After sleeping half a semester in Shakespeare class we'd say Shakespeare would have made a heckuva good quarterback, for he planned so many of these long run plays.

—Volante

Billings Polytechnic Institute recently received a gift of $50,000 from a woman in Brookline, Mass., and this donation enabled them to start the building of a new boys' dormitory. Won't someone tell this woman that we need $50,000 too?

Small brother: Dad, what does college bred mean?

Father, speaking from experience: Well, my son, college bred is made of the flower of youth and the dough of old age.

—Jamestown Collegian

The fight is on at the N. D. U., for Miss Dacotah will soon be chosen. To add to the glory of this title, the choice will be made by John Gilbert, the famous screen star.

NORTH DAKOTA AGRICULTURAL COLLEGE

AT THE THEATRES

"Mother Machree" is the talking film which is being shown at the Fargo the first four days of this week. Much of the picturesqueness of old Ireland is brought into the story, John Ford having filmed many of the scenes in the Emerald Isle, pretty coleens and native peasant boys playing bits among the spots of rustic beauty with abbeys and castles as background.

Pola Negri, who hasn't been active for some time, portrays a role especially suited to her in "The Loves of an Actress," which is booked for Friday and Saturday at the Fargo.

"Tempest" with John Barrymore taking the part of Ivan Markov, an aspiring sargeant who steals a kiss from a Romanoff princess, is showing at the State the first three days of this week.

John Gilbert takes the leading role in "The Masks of the Devil," which is showing at the State the last three days of this week. Gilbert takes the part of a romantic hero, and has Theodore Roberts, the grand old man of pictures playing with him. Roberts was forced to leave filmdom two or three years ago because of ill health, but is back again in one of his best character roles.

CORRECTIONS

In Friday's issue of the Spectrum two mistakes occurred that deserve a correction.

In the Alpha Gamma Rho fireplace story, it read, "Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Challey and Leonard Luther." Clyde Challey is not married. It should have read, "Dr. and Mrs. H. L. Walster, Clyde Challey and Leonard Luther."

In reporting the "Rise of Silas Lapham" the reporter omitted the names of two of the members of the cast, namely, Alta Berg and May Sontag.

Ebullitions of Ebony Blott

By Everett Wallum

Seeing that "The Cotter's Saturday Night" is a Scotch play, we hope the Armory will be packed tight in order to give the proper atmosphere.

We're glad it's portraying his Saturday night, because we always did want to see a good old fashioned family bath.

Or maybe Mr. Cotter comes home befogged with Scotch dew is cot without his pay check by Mrs. Cotter, who lays him over the head and then on the cot to sleep it off. This will lend an American tinge to it.

In case Mr. Cotter does get boiled, the play will sure need a supporting cast.

There will, no doubt, be lots of close harmony and many tight situations.

Saturday is one night the Scotchmen always spend at home, but that's all they do spend.

We hope the stage is bolstered so it won't give.

But, then, it would have to give a bunch of Scotchmen.

Scotchmen like anything free. They even wear dresses so that their legs can have free play.

Scotchmen live in the Highlands, because the air feels closer up in the mountains.

Even their national lyre, the bagpipe, is so tight it squeaks.

We must present the porous gas pipe to the wozy freshman who insists that "There's A Wee Dock In Doris" is an ode to small M. D.

The reason Scotchmen are noted as such ferocious fighters is because they will never give any quarter.

And, likewise, the Scotchman makes a good tackler on the football team. He always gets the quarterback.

Our idea of a forlorn figure is a Salvation Army worker in Scotland.

Outside a five and ten cent store, The canny Scotchman stands. And stands, and stands, and stands and stands, And stands, and stands, and stands.

If you want to see a sick Scotchman, get one to work for his board.

The report that all this propaganda against Santa Claus originated in Scotland is only hearsay.

"A rolling stone gathers no moss," remarked the Scotch lad, as he picked up his marbles.

We are informed that the phrase "A Penny For Your Thoughts" is causing a big mental upheaval in Scotland.

Coyotes Win Bison Conference Final, 26 To 6

South Dakota-State Contest Hard Fought

McGrath Badly Injured In Making Tackle; Pariseau Makes Only Bison Counter

The Bison finished their 1928 North Central conference season Saturday at Vermillion with a 26 to 6 defeat at the hands of the University of South Dakota.

The Bison defeat places them in a tie with the University of South Dakota and Morningside College for third place, each team having won one conference contest.

The Bison met a determined team at Vermillion, one that had everything to gain and nothing to lose, the 1927 North Central Conference Football champions, Montgomery's Coyotes who had yet to win a game when they met the Bison on Inman field. The Bison line, which had undergone such poundings all season was hardly able to stem the rushes of the hard fighting Coyotes and the University's determined thrust found their goal, a conference victory, more tasteful because the team they defeated had been victorious over Morningside who had previously defeated the Coyotes.

The Coyote backfield supported by a hard charging line walked over the forward wall of the Bison for four counters that spelled defeat for the Bison whose only score came on a run by Pariseau. The entire Bison machine hit its stride and carried the ball to the University's goal on the first play in the second half. Pariseau caught the kickoff and behind perfect blocking by his mates was able to run the length of the field.

Horace McGrath, the Bison hard luck star, performed in his usual role at Vermillion Saturday by playing his outstanding game. He started for Borleske but was injured on the first play. McGrath went down on the kickoff and got the runner but tore all the ligaments in his left elbow and broke several blood vessels.

The plucky lad refused to leave the game for some time and on examination nothing more seemed to be the matter. McGrath found that his arm was broken on consulting a doctor on his return to Fargo Sunday night. He was knocked cold shortly after his appearance in the Tommy contest in October.

Football equipment is being turned in this week and preparations are being made for the conquest of the 1929 Basketball championship under the direction of Coach Leonard B. Saalwaechter.

Gamma Tau Sigma, honorary journalistic fraternity will meet Wednesday afternoon at 4 p. m. in Bison Spectrum office.

PESCHEL

BLAIR

RANES

The above trio have completed their football careers at N. D. State at Vermillion Saturday where the Bison lost to the Coyotes. Lawrence Ranes of Lisbon, North Dakota holds down an end position under Borleske, has played for three years and is of the type that Stan likes. Cy Peschel, a Wahpeton product, has been running the team with a great amount of skill in the absence of Pete Gergen. "Cy" has also been giving a good account of himself at halfback when Pete is in the lineup. Johnny Blair is also a North Dakota product, coming from Fargo. Blair has been playing a bang-up game at tackle. Ben Gordner, who was known in the past as the Bottineau Battering ram in the old days when he played fullback. Ben played at end at the beginning of the season and has played tackle the latter half. Captain Baldy Hays of Washington is one of the few out of state men on the Bison squad. "Baldy" is in wing position under Borleske. Ray Basset, whose picture could not be located, has also played his last conference game having played with Wahpeton Science for two years before joining the Bison ranks.

PHYSICAL EDUCATION CONTESTS COMPLETED

The winning teams in soccer and hockey of the physical education classes for women have been determined. The ten o'clock Monday and Wednesday class defeated the three o'clock class in a hard fought soccer game that ended with a two to one tally. In the final contest in hockey the eight o'clock Tuesday and Thursday class defeated the ten o'clock class of the same days in a four to nothing victory.

Ever since school began the classes have been mastering the game and preparing for this contest. Each class was first divided into two groups and a class game was played. The winning team from each class then played until the poorer teams were eliminated. Those in charge say that a very good spirit of good sportsmanship and enthusiasm has been shown throughout the entire contest.

Members of the winning hockey team are: Emily Sameulson, Blanche Fletcher, Ruby Steedsman, Vivian Malmberg, Helen Ballard, Lillian Wangness, Francis Webster, Elene Weeks, Mildred Grant and Agnes Mitchell. Members of the successful soccer team were Marvel Ulrich, Lois Julian, Ruth de Kleinhans, Ethel Dahl, Gwen Lollis, Alice Erdahl, Grace Soper, Gladys Syverude, Katherine Knerr and Velva Rud.

Edith Byerly spent the week-end visiting friends in Grand Forks.

SIXTEEN GIRLS MAKE VARSITY SOCCER TEAM

Sixteen girls have been placed on the varsity soccer team as a result of merit in the recent contest conducted in the physical education department, as well as interest in the work evidenced by regular attendance at the noon soccer practices. These girls will be given school letters as a reward for their attainment and will be awarded one hundred points toward Women's Athletic Association. They are: Camille Alfred, Helen Ballard, Georgina Brindle, Inez Carlson, Ruth de Kleinhans, Rose Mary Frost, Eleanor Geisler, Frances Hedner, Bernice Hurmence, Katherine Knerr, Dorothy Moffet, Sarah Moore, Lucille Odenwaller, Lorissa Sheldon, Minerva Streed and Aletha Winn.

STUDENT DIRECTORY READY THIS WEEK

The student directory that we have all been waiting for so patiently will be out sometime this week according to Mr. Parrott. It has been delayed two weeks because some of the page proofs were lost and had to be done over. In addition to the information about students the directory will contain this year all the college songs and yells.

You will soon need a warm sweater. Get yours now. We carry the best.

A business education is a practical education that prepares one for every-day living. It gives the training necessary for entrance into the business world where the demand for trained workers is much greater than the supply. The business world pays a salary twelve months out of the year with two weeks' vacation on full pay.

Hon. W. T. Harris, Ex-Commissioner of Education, said, "Without a thorough and practical commercial education, a man is like a ship at sea without a compass or rudder."

ART CLUB PARTY

A very unique artists' supper was given in the studio of Science Hall Thursday evening by the Art Club. The place vividly portrayed a modern garret studio in Greenwich village, even to the easels used for coat racks. Futuristic treatment was used in the decoration of the table. Whole un-cut loaves of rye and French bread placed on the table gave a truly Bohemian touch, with soap, cheese, sausage, pretzels, salad and pie carrying out the idea.

After the supper, prizes were awarded to the best sculpturing rendered in chewing gum, and dancing was the diversion for the rest of the evening.

Guests at the affair were the Misses Frances Bailey, Dorothy Cole, and Mae Kelly, Mr. and Mrs. C. F. Munroe, Mr. and Mrs. R. Otterson, Professor H. B. Huntoon, and Mr. J. A. Shaw.

Marion Schaefer had general charge of arrangements, with Dorothy Lieb as head of the refreshment committee, and Ethel Smith, entertainment.

Tennis Fans To Meet Thurs., November 22

Realizing the truth of the old saying that "The Early Bird Catches the Worm", and acting accordingly, a group of tennis fans on the campus are forming a new North Dakota State College Tennis Club Nov. 22 at 12 A.M. in the Little Country Theatre. Fred Gronvold has called the meeting of all those interested in tennis, and he will take charge of the pre-season training. It is planned, however, that actual practice will not begin indoors until the first of April.

The showing made by the team last year and the fact that new men are becoming eligible warrants a winning aggregation next spring. Considerable agitation is up for the girls to have part in the dual meets with the University and colleges in North Dakota. This and other subjects will be discussed at the first meeting. The remodeling of the tennis courts is going to encourage playing of both the experienced and novices, is the opinion of those in charge. Three inches of fine clay has been laid on the courts adjacent to Main Building and this will speed up play considerably. Richard Kraft has charge of these improvements.

Rulings, in all colleges and universities in the Dakotas, provide for letters to be given to tennis players who have met and defeated an opposing player in the North Central Conference or any other inter-collegiate tournament.
