Abrahamson, Adams, Lindgren, McLachlin, Moun and W. Weiser Will Make Trip

Prof. E. J. Thompson announced yesterday morning that Paul Abrahamson, Robert Adam, Gilbert Moun, Victor Lindgren, Harry McLachlin and Wayne Weiser will make up the personnel of the North Dakota State College Fat Stock Judging team that will judge at the International on December 1, 1928.

This announcement has been anxiously awaited for by the students in the school of Agriculture for never before in the history of the school has there been as much competition for the places on the team as during the past year, fourteen men having been out every night this fall preparing for the trip.

The dates for the International are Dec. 1 to Dec. 8 and is held at Chicago, Illinois. The team will leave Fargo by car Friday morning of this week for the University farm at St. Paul where they will work on the University stock for several days. From there they will go over into Wisconsin, then down to Ames, Iowa and into Illinois, stopping at all of the better class of livestock farms enroute for a work-out.

Prof. Thompson, coach of the team, will have a regular class on Monday, Dec. 10, 1928.

Canning Properties To Be Determined

A project to determine the canning properties of small fruits and vegetable varieties that have been developed or originated at the North Dakota Experiment Station has been carried on through out the summer and fall by Miss Constance Leebly, home economics research worker. It has been a cooperative problem with the department of horticulture.

The purpose is to determine if these varieties, all of which have been grown on the college plots, have good canning properties.

The first unit of the project has consisted in running canning tests on each variety of vegetable or fruit in different types of glass jars and tin cans. Several processes, including the pressure cooker, hot water bath, open kettle, and oven method have been used. Altogether the work has involved more than 200 pints of materials.

During the winter term the second unit of the project will be completed when a group of twelve faculty members, including both men and women, will judge and score the results. The outcome of the whole project will influence the further development and cultivation of the varieties.

Another phase of the experiment was making of jams and jellies from varieties of crab apples, plums, native wild currants, high bush cranberries, and ground cherries to deter-

Two Three-Sided Contests Will Be Settled Tomorrow

Election Will Take Place In Registrar's Office From 8 A.M. To 4 P.M.

As announced last week, the vacancies caused in the Student Commission by two members leaving school will be filled to-morrow, Wednesday, November 14, 1928, at an election which will be held in the registrar's office.

The offices which will be voted on are the Commissioner of Social Affairs and the Commissioner of Elections. At two o'clock yesterday afternoon, the dead line, Foss Narum, president of the commission had petitions for the following candidates whose names will appear on the ballot as follows:

For Commissioner of Elections:
Horace McGrath
William McRoberts
Virgil Mike Sullivan

For Commissioner of Social Affairs:
Dorothea Anderson
Hazel Heald
Marion Trowbridge

The two commissioners elected at this election will hold office until the spring election, when an entire new commission will be elected.

Results of the election this week will be announced at the play, "The Rise of Silas Marner," at the Little Country Theatre Wednesday night.

The voting hours are 8 A.M. to 4 P.M. with one hour recess for the noon hour.

Social Commissioner Gives Party Friday

An all college dancing party will be held Friday evening, November 16th in the college armory under the auspices of the Student Commission.

The party will be in charge of the newly elected social commissioner who will be elected Wednesday.

"This party is for college students and faculty members only," stated President Narum in announcing the party. "One member of each couple must be a student of North Dakota State." If this plan does not keep out the outsiders from the college parties, more stringent means will be used in the near future which will very likely inconvenience students as well as outsiders.

The hours for the party will be 8:30 to 11:30.

THE ONE ACT PLAYS FOR THIS EVENING

The Little Country Theatre players are presenting a group of one act plays this evening, Tuesday, November 12th, for the approval of anyone who cares to attend. The first play will start at 7:00 o'clock sharp.

"A Proposal Under Difficulties" which is directed by Esther Douglas is one of the plays. Tony Faber takes the part of Bob Yardsley; Ed Conan, Jack Barlowe; Dorothy Andrews, Emma Nelson; and Jennie, Arlene Burt.

"That's My Hat" is directed by Alice Putney. The nature of the play does not permit the names of the cast to be published.

"The Albany Depot" which is directed by Ruth Boerth, has Owen Bertelson taking the part of Mr. Roberts; Elene Weeks, Mrs. Roberts; Willis Campbell, Tom Christianson; Mrs. Campbell, Alice Putney; Mr. McIlheny, Robert Olson; Mrs. McIlney, Genevieve Boise; Charewoman, Jane Eddy; the cook, Mary Alice Boyle.

The fourth play, "The Piper's Pay," has Ruth Whitney taking the part of Peggy; Grace Swanson, Mabel; Almeda Cosgrove, Freda; Ada Coulter, Mrs. Car; Jane Eddy, Evelyn Evans; Mary Clark, Mary Alice Boyle; and Katy, Billie Eastgate.

SEVENTY WOMEN IN GIRL'S GLEE CLUB

Seventy students are now members of the girls' glee club, according to Miss Adda Blakeslee, director of the organization.

At the annual commencement concert in June the glee club is to sing. The club will broadcast over WDAY several times during the winter and will sing in convocation. Later Miss Blakeslee expects to organize small musical groups, including a trio and quartet. Rehearsals are held at 12:00 on Thursdays.

Dr. Stowe Leaves For Syracuse, N.Y.

Thomas Caniff, N.D.S.C. Graduate Will Replace Dr. Stowe In Chemistry Dept.

Dr. V. Stowe, assistant professor of Inorganic Chemistry, has accepted position as research chemist for the Atmospheric Nitrogen Company located at Syracuse, New York. Dr. Stowe will leave for Syracuse Thursday and will immediately take up his new duties upon arrival in Syracuse.

The Atmospheric Nitrogen Company holds the record as being the largest synthetic nitrogen producing plant in the world. All ammonia is produced by the use of catalytic agents, the nitrogen being taken from the air and the hydrogen is obtained from water gas. The company is now erecting a new plant at Hopewell, Virginia, and it is said that when the new plant is in operation it will produce more ammonia than all other plants combined.

Finding of new catalytic agents and improving the old ones will be Mr. Stowe's chief duties. He will also endeavor to recover gases of chemical value lost in the process. Dr. Stowe's work will be carried on in the research laboratory and in the semi-plant.

Professor Stowe came to this college in 1925 and remained here for the school year. The following year Mr. Stowe was on leave of absence and during that time he received his doctor's degree from the University of Iowa. He returned to this institution in 1927 and since that time has been assistant professor in Inorganic Chemistry.

The vacancy left open by Dr. Stowe's resignation will be filled by Thomas Caniff of Fargo. Mr. Caniff is a graduate of this college having received his bachelor and master of science degrees from the School of Chemistry. Mr. Caniff received his M. S. degree last year.

KAPPA DELTAS WILL ENTERTAIN PLEDGES

Sigma Psi chapter of Kappa Delta will have a dancing party in honor of their pledges, at the Elk's Hall, Saturday evening, November 17th, from 8:30 to 11:30.

Dr. and Mrs. Guy Stone, and Lieutenant and Mrs. Fay Smith will be chaperons.

Margaret Moore is in charge of arrangements, and will be assisted by Dorothy Norby, music; Reta Morris, programs and invitations; and Lillian Flatner, refreshments.

Student Commission Again Offers A Twenty-Five Dollar Reward

Due to the large number of reports prevalent lately of petty thievery around the campus, Foss Narum, president of the Student Commission, has announced that the Student Commission will offer a twenty-five dollar ($25) reward to put a curb to this evil.

The twenty-five dollars will be paid for any information leading to the conviction of any person or persons guilty of stealing coats, hats, gloves or any personal property of the students of North Dakota State College.

Bison Runners Retain North Central Title

Russ Weiser, Ches. Rhimes, Walt Nelson Are Mainstays In Bison Victory

The Bison cross country men under the leadership of Russel Weiser swept to their second consecutive North Central conference cross country title at Brookings Saturday defeating the South Dakota State harries 9 to 4 taking second, third, fourth, and sixth. The Bison and Jackrabbits were the only entrants this year.

Russell Weiser came across the line closely following the winner, McDonald of South Dakota State, who ran a fast race under ideal conditions. Ches. Rhimes, a new comer to cross country this year finished third with Walt Nelson, one of last year's cross country's championship team fourth. Virgil Weiser finished sixth but the place did not count as the two schools agreed to run only three men each.

This meet will probably end the season as weather conditions are becoming unfavorable so far north. Coach Saalwaechter said that the season was a great success with next year's schedule the best that has been secured so far since the beginning of the sport at the college. Meets will probably be held with Marquette, Wisconsin, Minnesota, a home meet and the annual conference meet.

New Correspondence Courses Are Offered

Due to the large demand for correspondence courses dealing with agricultural subjects, a number of courses will be added to the present curriculum. T. W. Thordarson director of correspondence courses, stated that over five hundred people, representing every state in the union, Canada, Panama, England, and the Philippines were studying courses at home offered by this college.

The courses are prepared for farmers, farm managers, town dwellers, prospective settlers, and others desiring specific information on the production of farm crops and animals. The courses are made practical and the students are invited to ask questions regarding any problem contained in the lesson.

Line elevators, Railroad companies, and the Banker's Association are assisting the college in acquiring the people with the benefits derived by home study. These companies and groups are interested in agricultural development.

Some of the most popular courses offered are: Poultry, Beekeeping, Fruits, Vegetables and Tree, Forage crops, Dairying, Sheep Husbandry, Swine Husbandry, Beef Cattle, Small Grains, Farm Structures, Farm Management, Farm Marketing, Advanced Dairy Husbandry, Animal Hygiene and sanitation, and Introductory Survey of Scientific Agriculture.

Youth Is Searching For Ease, States Flowers At Convocation Monday

"The youth of today is thinking more broadly than the youth of yesterday," said Monteville Flowers in convocation at the North Dakota State College Monday morning, "and if they are a little cynical their elders are to blame, for they are the true mirror of the times and of the social structure in which we find ourselves."

He said that the young person goes through three stages of mental development; the first, a dream life with a code of ethics all its own, the second, a stage of reality, of facing life as it really is, and the third and last, an all absorbing interest in career, fame and fortune.

Mr. Flowers took two years in which he made a study of what young people were thinking in the schools of our country. In over one hundred high schools in forty states he asked questions concerning the students' ideas of work and vocation, conduct and morals, and citizenship and state.

"In the answers to the questions on work and vocations I found something that surprised me greatly, and that was the theory of ease. They want to know what they can get the most pay for, with the least work, and so I believe that the supposed frivolity of the youth of today is due in a large measure to the public search for ease."

THE ELECTION TO-MORROW

With three candidates bidding for each vacancy on the student commission, to-morrow's election promises to be one of the better class. By that we mean, more than one faction has expressed its idea as to who shall have the jobs, there is considerable competition and very likely the election will draw a good vote.

The last factor in reality is the most important factor in the whole election. We don't care who gets elected to office in this particular instance as all six candidates are capable for the positions they are running for, but we want to see the election as something that the entire student body participates in. When the election is over, we don't want to feel that the results would have been different had the whole school turned out to vote. Let's have the entire vote out, so that it may be said that student government at North Dakota State is a success.

When you go to vote take someone else with you. Talk it up.

GRATIFYING RESULTS

The results of the first day of the drive on securing the pictures for the classes section were exceptionally gratifying to the heads of the Bison.

Four girls made it a point to get down to the Bison office the first thing on Monday morning, before even attending any classes. The Spectrum congratulates you.

GOOD SPORTS

If it were not for the fear of misinterpreting our sister paper to the south, we would be inclined to laugh at its child-play. Taking that paper's kind words of comment seriously, we must understand that the staff of the South Dakota school organ has reached such a state of perfection that it can find nothing better or more worthy than the creation of its members. And the school itself, we are informed, has attained such renown that it may look down in contempt on the activities of all other colleges!

It seems peculiar, nevertheless, that, until our obliging exchange editor brought it to our attention, we had never heard of this paradise-like—and certainly world-famous—university. And the fact that the staff seems curiously reluctant at having its masterpieces quoted appears quite inconsistent with its conceit. —K. G.

UPPERCLASSMEN ARE HAVING PICTURES TAKEN

Twenty-two upperclassmen have paid their three dollar fee for junior-senior classes section in the 1930 Bison and have made appointments to have their pictures taken, according to Frances Ross, classes editor. Each issue of the Spectrum will contain a list of the names turned in by members of the staff.

The partial list up-to-date includes: Carmen Kingsley, Edith Jensen, Thelma Nelson, Marjorie Gutting, Laurel Kingsley, William Haslam, Marie Webster, Hazel Heald, Mary Ellen Parker, Ethel Jones, Lily Ann Thorsell, Alice Putney, Loyal Gast, Harry McLachlin, Genevieve Boise, Ruth Henning, Esther Douglas, Elmer Torkelson, and Jayne Sudro.

PHARMACISTS TAKE THEIR FRESHMEN INTO CAMP

Initiation services were held for some thirty-five freshmen pharmacists in the chemistry building last Thursday evening.

The ceremonies were in charge of Ted Maier, president of the club with "Chuck" Holiday assisting. The new members include: V. Malmquist, Mary Milloy, Evelyn Gaege, Dorothy Warburton, Harold Bugge, Doris Sommers, ern Cross, James Moore, Bradley Dooley, C. Pangburn, Henry Winch, Monroe Abbott, Kenneth Reardon, Ted Lutz, Glenn Roberts, John Langford, Albert Linburg, Carl Villen, James Smillie, Clay Williams, N. LeVer, Okla Johnson, Arthur Mullen, Hugo Vendt, Harold E. Peterson, George Birmingham, Simon Mark, Carl Miller, Earl Hjort, Russell Paulon, Kenneth Richards, Harold Thompson, Jackson Viedler and Carl Marshall.

PEMBLE WANTS TO GET IN RACE ALSO

Just before going to press with the Spectrum last evening, Milton Pemble's campaign manager called up the Spectrum's down town office and demanded that his name be listed among the candidates for the commissioner of elections job.

Whether or not Pemble's name will be on the ballot is a question as his petition was not in at the set time, but regardless, he will very likely be in the race using stickers as his vehicle.

Seniors Approve Diploma Changes

New Diplomas To Be Awarded To June Graduates If College Council Approves

With 65 members present, a meeting of the senior class was called to order by Foss Narum, president, at 12:45 Monday, November 5, in the Little Country Theatre.

The subject under discussion was the changing of the style of diplomas. A representative from the diploma manufacturers talked to the assembled group.

The style of diploma used at the present time is of the large type that is framed and hung on the wall. The plan is to change the present type to a small diploma about 6 by 8 inches. The new diploma will be bound in a morroco leather cover with a genuine sheepskin diploma inside. This change involves some complications. The Registrar will have to move that the College Council approve of the diploma improvements and they will have to pass on the action.

The large diploma used at the present time is used almost exclusively for professional degrees. After presentation the diploma is framed and hung in the owner's office. The large diploma is almost a tradition at this school but in this particular case tradition will have to give way to improvements. Colleges and Universities throughout the entire country have adopted this new style of diploma and North Dakota State will do so upon the approval of the college council, made up of the various deans of the schools.

We see by the papers that Hoover got a landslide. We hope he wasn't hurt.

But politicians have gotta learn to stay away from these fool riding devices.

Smith must have got a water slide—at least he was connected with some wet movement.

Al wasn't really so wet. Our New York correspondent states that he bought a new derby on the installment plan and that there is still some dew on it, that's all.

Herbie Hoover's running mate, Charles Curtis, is part indian—which probably explains what made the Democrats see red.

Religion didn't play much of a part in the campaign, judging from all the cussing going on in the voting booths.

After examining the ballots after the election, we note that Madame X is still popular with the office seekers.

This custom of putting a cross after the favorite candidate created a small turmoil in Chicago when a conscientious voter refused to vote more than once. "I have never made a cross re-mark in my life," sobbed he.

After playing in a sea of mud against Morningside a while back, the Bison football team knows what it's like to run for office.

We make haste in presenting the political plum to the fellow who stated that Washington at Valley Forge was a blacksmith.

We hope Commander Byrd and his adventurous henchmen get to the poles in time to vote.

Evidently the tammany tiger wasn't a poll cat.

During the election, Al Smith said that he wanted to be left alone and, after surveying the vote, we come to the conclusion that he got his wish.

The difference between Will Rogers and his political opponents is that Will gets paid for being funny.

In the electoral college yell, the rooster king asks of his student body: "What kind of a deal do we give the public?" "Raw, raw, raw."

We note by the paper that a veteran voter got deaf three months ago and was unable to hear the various campaign speeches. Some people have all the luck!

The trouble with the political pie is that the speakers have too much crust.

We feel rather sorry for the poor miscreant who was so crooked he couldn't even vote a straight ticket.

And the Scotchman who was so tight he didn't give a darn who won.

Bison Lose 27 To 6 At South Dakota State

Cy Peschel Brings
Bison Touchdown

Bunnies Outweighed Bison Ten
Pounds Per Man In Game
Saturday

The Bison lost their second conference game Saturday losing to the powerful South Dakota State eleven 27 to 6 under ideal football conditions, at Brookings. The Bison played a losing game throughout the second half when the breaks of the game piled up the heavy lead of the Jackrabbits.

Playing the South Dakota eleven to a standstill in the first half although the Bunnies had scored a touchdown to lead 6-0 as the half ended, the Bison went into the game in the second half with a determination to win, but the unlimited number of substitutes that Coach Cy Kaspar sent in soon wore the Bison efforts down and the Bunnies swept over the Bison for three touchdowns.

The Bunnies presented a large team outweighing the Bison nearly 12 pounds to the man and near the end of the game the smallest man on the South Dakota eleven was larger than Oscar Hanson, the Bison fullback.

The Bunnies played headsup ball to win and their game featured runs by Englemann and punts by Schaefer. Englemann ran 52 yards for a touchdown on a wide end run, his speed preventing the Bison tacklers to gain on him after he had passed the line of scrimmage. Cy Peschel brought the Bison their lone touchdown on a fake play in which Bassett pretended to kick but passed the ball back to Peschel who ran the end for 75 yards.

The Conference race was decided Saturday when the U of North Dakota defeated the U of South Dakota 6 to 0 at Vermillion giving them four victories in conference contests. South Dakota State finished second with three wins. The University of South Dakota is in the cellar with three straight defeats and the Bison rest in third with one victory and two defeats. Morningside tied with the Bison. This Saturday the Bison will meet the U of South Dakota in its final conference game at Vermillion.

CUB REPORTER WRITES
UP THE "U" GAME

(Late as usual)

Judging from the way people went through the gate, all speed records fell by the wayside, and I almost did too. I guess every Thomas, Richard, and Harrison who had spent one term here came back for homecoming. One of the bims from the "U" saw the cute lil' flag what I bought from "Cec" and stuck her tongue out at me with Old World grace. One (or even two) would think that nobody—but she wasn't nobody. She was better looking than Venus and didn't have her arms broke off either. But jeeze, her glare kept me sunburned for a week.

Well, I got my seat at last and everybody was yelling. First somebody would strike another player and he would strike an attitude. Everybody would yell some more. Then a couple of men would run over with a couple of sticks with a string tied between them and white things on it. All the while the "U" subs on the other side kept running up and down so they could say they were too tired to play against our men if the coach asked 'em to. It must have been the scrub team anyway, cuz they were always running out with a pail of water to the team.

Pretty soon it was the end of the half and I was as frigid as a step-mother's embrace. The teams all came back again after a while and we began having all kinds of luck—with the exception of good luck. Everybody seemed mad enough to smash a precedent. Then Doc's band played "The Yellow and the Green" and I knew it was all over. I asked a fellow who beat, and if looks could slay, I would of fell deceased at his feet. But finally becoming ungruff, he told me. Alas, ah me, and alack-a-day. It was the "U!"

Bud Galehouse had as his Saturday visitors his parents and uncle and aunt, who motored here from Garlington, North Dakota.

A business education is a practical education that prepares one for every-day living. During the summer months Professor Severinson does post-graduate work at the University of North Dakota where he graduated and received his B. A. degree in 1924. It was while at the University that he was honored by the Phi Delta Kappa, a national educational fraternity, of which he is a member. At Williston, N. D. he was principle of the Junior High School and instructor of Social Science. His home town is Reynolds, N. D.
