

Parade M... Leave Campus At 10:45 Sharp

President Coulter and the Board of Administration Will Lead The Parade

The largest, longest and best homecoming parade ever staged in the state of North Dakota will leave the main entrance of North Dakota State promptly at 10:45 tomorrow morning.

President Coulter, with the members of the board of administration and the city commission, will lead the cortege down Broadway and then take a seat in the reviewing stand near the N.P. tracks while the rest of the parade goes by.

The corps of cadets will assemble at 10:00 o'clock in front of the armory, with the band and will march at the adjutant's call to and form on 13th street headed toward the Y.M.C.A. They will follow the official cars as they move away from main at 10:45 sharp.

All of the floats will assemble on the left side of the street directly opposite their number on the curb. All organizations are urged to have a representative at the armory at 7:30 this evening to draw numbers for the positions in the parade.

The American Legion drum and bugle corp will be in the middle of the floats so that their rhythm will not interfere with the cadets up in front or with the alumni band and the University band bringing up the rear.

It is especially requested and required that all floats be returned to the athletic field where they will be photographed and be on exhibit for the visitors of the day who failed to see the parade.

The fourth section of the parade, the cars containing alumni and faculty members, will line up on the road going by the barracks, engineering building, and administration building.

The parade must leave the campus at exactly 10:45 for several reasons, and according to Lieut. Ross, who is in charge of the parade it will wait for no one, so it is up to every organization to be there on time. The streets are being cleared by the police department for this time, the parade must meet the University special, and lastly, Concordia college is to have a homecoming parade on the street following the State College parade.

N. D. A. C. OFFERS RADIO SERIES ON CHILD CARE

The home economics department of child training and parental education at the North Dakota Agricultural college is offering a radio series of talks on child training this fall. What influences are most important in the child's pre-school environment will be considered in these talks which are to be given over WDAY by Dean Alba Bales, head of the school of home economics.

That the child life and development should be the prime objective of home economics training is the opinion of Dean Bales. The early home influences have much to do with character building and setting of standards for fine manhood and womanhood, she believes.

Following is a schedule of the radio talks: Oct. 29—The Nursery Room; Nov. 5—Toys, Good and Bad; Nov. 12—Nurse Maids; Nov. 19—Neighbors, as Assets and Liabilities in Child Training; Nov. 24—The Only Child.

Bison Grads To Speak Before Rally Tonight

Bonfire Built By Frosh Diligence Will Be Enjoyed By All

The initial activities of Homecoming will start off with a bang at 7:15 this evening when the biggest pep rally ever to be staged at the North Dakota State College will receive its first impetus in the College Armory. Doc's band will be on hand and with more pep than ever. Everett Wallum, rooter king, assisted by Cecil Carroll and "Tubby" Bown will be in charge of this gigantic pep demonstration.

The team, under the guidance of Coaches Borleske and Finnegan will enter Casey's Barn at 7:45. Each member of the team will be introduced and Coach Borleske will then give a talk. "Cy" Arnold, Dick Bjornson and other past great Bison athletes will be on hand to give short pep talks.

For the first time since homecoming was inaugurated at the College, the rally will be broadcast through station WDAY through arrangements made by W. C. Palmer, publicity manager.

Immediately following the rally the students will witness a big bonfire. The Froshmen have been unusually diligent this year and have secured enough firewood to make the burning of Chicago look like a bonfire. Yells in abundance will be carried on while the fire is on.

The student body, preceded by Doc's band will tour the downtown district in a body. Snake dances, yells and orderly pep demonstration will be carried on in this district.

Every student enrolled in the college should be on hand for the huge demonstration. Remember the question of the hour—ARE WE GOING TO BEAT THE U? The solution being a big: "ABSOLUTELY!"

MORE BLEACHERS BUILT ON DACOTAH FIELD

Men have been working on the bleachers on Dacotah field this week increasing their capacity. All low ones on the North side East of the main high one are being moved to the East end and high ones are being built all along this side, thus furnishing an extra block of good seats to help accommodate the homecoming crowd.

Catholic Students' Club Goes National

Permission has been granted the Catholic Students' Club of the campus to affiliate with the Newman club, national federation of college Catholic clubs, according to an announcement made today by Frank Hannaher, president of the organization.

This is the third chapter of the federation to be installed in our state. The first club in North Dakota was organized at the University Maintenance of a house and an accredited school of religion are among the activities of this group.

To develop the religious, social, and educational interests of Catholic students is the primary purpose of the Newman Club. In 1915 the organization, which began 35 years ago at the University of Pennsylvania, became a national group. Eighty-seven of these clubs are now located in the United States with their headquarters at Philadelphia.

Officers of the local club comprise Frank Hannaher, president; Ben Kouba, vice president; Marian Schroeder, secretary; Father Dworschak, chaplain; and Cyril Peschel, treasurer. Other members of the group include: Mary Alice Boyle, Harold Chloupek, Edward Conroy, Almeda Cosgrove, Mike Fogarty, Charles French, Margaret Green, Gwen Gregg, Treasure Kuehl, James Long, George Hermes, Luella McDunn, Ethel McEssy, John Molitor, Gerald McNally, Lucille Odenwaller, Lawrence O'Leary, Adolph Pahl, Cyril Peschel, Cyril Rumreich, Marvin Tobias, Don Wardwell, George Ereinc, Lawrence Foreman, Arthur Nicklay, John Klein, Kermit Kaspari, Paul Cook, Joe Van Sickle, Eugene Sinner, Berniece Streit, Alvena Brown, Ellen Hussey, Agnes Fogarty, Lefer and Warburton.

Huntoon Will Require Student Co-Operation

If Carried Out, Scheme Will Far Surpass Any Other School's Decorations

Just before going to press with the Spectrum, Prof. Huntoon of the architectural department told us, "We must have some help to put this across; this hop cut into my plans, but I am sure the student body will turn out to-morrow."

Mr. Huntoon was speaking of the elaborate night illumination and decorations for the North Dakota State campus that he is supervising for homecoming. His plans if carried out in detail will far surpass anything that he has ever seen at any other homecoming celebration. To bring about the desired effect he has secured the co-operation of light plant downtown who have sent four men out here to help with wiring up more transformers and 21 floodlights. They are also loaning the school thousands of colored bulbs and sockets for the scheme. 1500 yards of green and yellow, our colors, and pink and green, the university colors, bunting has been bought for the decoration.

Quoting Professor Huntoon, "Now we must have help to put this across. The whole project must be completed by to-morrow night (Friday) at five o'clock. This is necessary to furnish the right setting for the rally and to welcome the early homecomers. Students should remember that they may work on their float after dark to-morrow night and early the next morning; to-morrow they should report to their respective deans, who are actually in charge, as I am only supervisor, and help with the great lighting and coloring scheme."

MURPHY ADDRESSES WOMEN VOTERS TUES.

"The greatest problem to be faced by the next administration is that of farm relief," M. W. Murphy, Fargo lawyer, told members of the League of Women Voters of the North Dakota State college at their meeting in Ceres Hall Tuesday afternoon.

"Both parties realize that while there is great individual prosperity, one-third of our people are suffering from poverty. During the past eight years the wheat farmer has suffered especially, and in the states of Wisc., South Dakota, North Dakota and Montana the situation has been distressing."

Mr. Murphy said that both candidates were men of fine type, and both had proven themselves eminently worthy in their past experiences. They stand together on one thing: they both favor the protective tariff. On other vital questions of prohibition, waterways, farm relief, and government ownership they differ, as do their parties. He also said that in the event that everyone came out to vote, the best man would surely win.

He explained the method of electing a president, and distributed sample ballots. This was the first meeting of the club this year, and all girls who were present automatically became members.

Borleske's Bison Are Ready For Flickertail Fray

By Defeating Flickertails, Bison Will Be Headed For Conference Championship

By ALAN DOTSON

If history repeats itself and we hope that it will the Bison are due to come out on the long end of the count in their homecoming contest with the University of North Dakota which will be played Saturday at 2, on Dacotah field.

From 1919, when the Bison won over their rivals from Grand Forks by a score of 7 to 6, the Nodaks reigned for five successive years until 1925 when the Bison again won 20 to 7. For the past three years the Nodaks have again been holding the upper hand winning consistently, beating out the Bison 7 to 6 at Dacotah field in 1926 and 13 to 0 on the Memorial field at Grand Forks in 1928.

For the past week the Varsity coaches, Borleske and Finnegan have been drilling their men in the fine points of the game, and polishing up the errors that became outstanding in the St. Thomas contest. The homecoming contest will be the first North Central conference meeting and a win over the University would give the Bison a chance at the title by defeating the Nodaks who have met both South Dakota State and Morningside and been victorious in both games. A more deceptive overhead attack is expected of the Bison as Borleske and Finnegan have been drilling their charges in this department behind closed doors for the past week, getting them in readiness for the game Saturday.

Monday the Nodaks were installed as heavy favorites to conquer the Bison but as the day of the game approached the odds became less but the Bison will go into the game as the under dog and Borleske states that the Bison are going to play heads up ball and that one slip will give the Nodaks the game. However a determined eleven is going to play the University and it will be an eleven that is not given to making mistakes.

There will be practically the same line that held the Wisconsin Varsity for four thrusts with its feet on the goal line at Madison two weeks ago. The backfield that kept the Badgers on their toes playing football will be in the game and such a combination is going to be hard to stop, especially when such an important contest as a homecoming game with the University of North is a stake.

Arvold Depicts Dakotas In Pageant

May Sontag was general chairman for three presentations of the pageant "The Land of The Dakotas" which was given under the direction of A. G. Arvold, Wednesday evening, October 24th, at the Little Country Theatre.

The program was divided into three episodes, the first illustrated the people and was composed of ten Indians hunting, a covered wagon, a sod shanty and a cowboy scene. The last scene of this episode showed the nationalities represented in this state. The second episode dealt with the natural resources of the state, pottery workers and coal miners were shown at their different tasks. Plant and animal life was also depicted.

Development of the state in religion and education furnished the theme for the final episode. Illustrations of the home were also brought out in the closing episode.

The new rooms in the public discussion department recently completed, were then opened. The rooms were decorated in accordance with the festival idea. Square dances were held in the new Log Cabin, and refreshments were served.

TWO THINGS MUST BE DONE

Two things must be done to-day. First every college student must report to his or her dean and help with the decoration of the campus. This work must be all done by five o'clock this evening. You may work on your float after that time. When you have helped complete this lighting and decorating project, you too will feel justly proud of it for it is a venture that no other school has ever attempted. Prof. Huntoon is only in charge as far as the scheme is concerned. You are responsible for the completion of it.

The other thing is: "Get up that spirit." Every student on the campus whether or not he or she has ever intends to attend one again, must attend this one to-night. THIS IS THE RALLY. You'll never regret it, you have no lessons to prepare or no legitimate excuse for not being there, so be there and help get the old spirit up to par.

No football team in the world can defeat us if we can get up that good old North Dakota State spirit. The Flickertails have told us in the past that they feared our spirit more than our teams; and if we can get up the spirit for to-morrow's game they will have two very strong opponents to battle with, in fact two that can not be beaten.

USUAL CLASS ELECTIONS

Class elections were run off yesterday in the usual manner; the usual amount of after-talk is abroad; and as per usual the group with the best machine took the majority of the offices.

Whether or not we should congratulate these politicians is not for us to say. Some believe we should; others contend there should be no politics in class elections.

Taking the side that politics in school elections is all right because it is practically unavoidable, it may be pointed out that all men who secured offices yesterday are really competent for the jobs and it is unlikely that men of even as high a calibre would have been elected had there been no politics.

Of course, as per usual, there were a lot of feelings hurt and even the winners figure they should have got a little more; but it is just fracas like these that keep us interested in life.

WISE and OTHERWISE

By Henry Presler

EVERYTHING SHOULD be all set for the enjoyable week end.

THROUGH THE co-operation of the Forum, the student body, and the alumnae association we seem to have succeeded in arousing the interest of the whole community.

IT'S A good pile of wood that the freshmen have appropriated. Time now to finish moving it behind the armory, the biggest wood pile of all.

SOON THE freshmen will be allowed to wear civilized headgear. Few freshmen have been taught that there is a yellow button on their caps.

BUT IT is our opinion that freshmen hazing as carried on this year has been successful. Congrats sophomores!

DID YOU see that hay rack that some public spirited freshmen used to move that pile of junk?

SINCERE CONGRATULATIONS to those representative students who were elected to Blue Key Fraternity. Watch them succeed!

OUR DAIRY Judging team has returned from a trip to Memphis, Tennessee. Enviably trip, enjoyable, commendable results, good advertisement.

BE COURTEOUS TO our friends from the "U."

MAY WE not be disgraced again by those forgetful ones who insist on leaving the stands before singing the Yellow and the Green. Watch that, everyone!

WE ARE awaiting for the first appearance of the Pep Club.

THE LAST issue of The Spectrum carried a student opinion article on the subject of petty thievery. The student body was up against this problem last year and succeeded to a large extent in eliminating it. Concerted action against these cheap individuals is necessary.

PERHAPS a great share of the offenses are committed by the small boys that play about the campus. Especially at night they are running through the halls and basements of the buildings. We suggest that the janitors on duty at night prohibit the use of our buildings for play and see to it that the boys are kept out. This action helped last year.

WHICH BRINGS to mind the large number of complaints which members of the student body have made against allowing high school (other than N. D. S. C.) students, and those other than members of this institution, to attend our dances. Will not the door-keepers refuse them admittance? If the former knew how welcome they were we should not have the jams at our parties, making a better time for the rest of us.

WE EXPECTED that the Student Opinion article on freshmen hazing would raise a howl among the sophomores. Indeed, it was thought that the "Freshman Jeer" was almost to good to print. The article appeared to be a well written satire which sought to establish nothing very definite. But it is nearly all over for a while anyway.

Among Our Contemporaries

Good news! The Dakota Student states that the tickets for the game Saturday are selling fast on the University campus.

Davis, appeared as faculty advisor of the Scotchman staff. Mr. Davis was an instructor in the School of Education during the school year 1926-1927.

If you never comb your hair,

If your marks are only fair;
And you never seem to care

The homecoming at the University on October 20 was one of the most successful celebrations ever held on that campus. Three thousand alumni returned for the day to take part in the festivities. A crowd estimated at thousand five hundred people football game. The prizes were very elaborate and the prizes for the best sorority and fraternity floats were awarded to the Delta Zeta and the Tau Sigma Rho.

The Industrial Collegian says "State Students Shant Shave", which means that the men are abandoning the razor for two weeks before Hobo Day so that they will be in true hobo style that day. Oh, what a group of beauties they must be!

Ebullitions of Ebony Blott
By Everett Wallum

Judging from our pre-homecoming entertainment, the alumni association is resorting to sox appeal.

The Spectrum states that the college "mike" will be brought over to the pep rally tonight. Sullivan says they'll have to catch him first.

University partisans are preparing a "victory banquet" for after Saturday's game. They're something like the persons who expect to find a bungalow in a cottage stew.

A lot of students are restless to get a glimpse of Jack West. Most of us have never seen any jack west of the Mississippi.

The freshman who stated that a barbeque is a barber's pool tournament is going to be disillusioned tomorrow.

If all the schools eat their college symbols, we hope none of our University friends invite us down for their homecoming.

One nice thing about being called "cow college" is that there's no bull about the school anyway.

If we can get some of the visiting University students to eat some of the Bison, they'll have more brains in their stomachs than they have in their heads.

All the fraternities are going to keep open house. A few individuals will probably be in some obscure room opening on a full house.

A thoughtful homecoming committee is serving cigars at the barbecue tomorrow so some of the old grads can get on to the ropes.

They're serving apples too, and our hearts will be with them to the core.

The first homecomer just dropped in, but he "forgosh wash school" he "gradshuated from". Well, hic, hic, hurray, anyway.

Now, if the weather is nice, and if Sarge ceases his relentless chasing, we'll be able to watch the game tomorrow.

They call those homecoming parade exhibitions floats probably because they are 99-44-100 per cent pure flops.

The worstest float I ever did see Was that big loan You floated from me.

One of our humorous—I mean witty alumnus, in a state of homecoming exuberation, sank into a deep stupor yesterday and, when he awoke, the following was committed:

The time has come to rally, Bison; YoYu and you against the U. To raise your cheers and help the boys To fight it through.

We'll watch our Gilbert Moe them down, Hope and trust that all our plays Leave them in a helpless stupor And a Hays.

And if they should bring their spirit Down with them that day, Then we shall have to let our Alf Skaret all away.

Then amidst the Blair of trumpets That shall herald the affray, Remember that if Pete don't score Then Leo May.

Well, as the chiropractor said: "This is the end of the column."

Bison Are Ready For Flickertail Fray

(Continued from page one) the athletic department who will start it is expected that Hiltz and Raney will be at the wing positions; Sullivan and Blair holding down the tackle posts; Moe and Barney will be in the guards positions and Ordahl at center will complete the line. Pete Gergen will be back in the quarter position after a weeks absence, Cy Peschel and Joe Blakeslee will be his running mates with Leo May at full.

The Nodak's will likely lineup as follows: Berg and A. Smith at ends; Showers and V. Smith at tackles; Wood and Mjogdalen at guards; and McMillan at center. The backfield will be composed of Knauf or Shave at quarterback; Jarrett, Allen, Lux and Boyd at halves; and Thoreson at full.

Later:—Latest reports from the Nodak camp state that Knauf will be out of the game because of a knee injury received in the game with South Dakota State last Saturday. Coach Jack West is grooming up Paul Boyd to take on the kicking duties as Knauf previously did the Nodak toe work. Cy Kahl will more than likely be one of the Nodak backs in the regular lineup.
