Madelyn Parrott And John Bohlig Are Outstanding

"Romeo and Juliet" Given Great Production By Edwin Booth Dramatic Club

Madelyn Parrott as "Juliet," and John Bohlig as "Romeo" played superb roles in Shakespeare's famous love story presented Saturday and Monday evenings in the Little Country theatre by the Edwin Booth Dramatic club.

The two leading characters who were picked by representative college men and women stood head and shoulders above the others in an excellent portrayal of the Shakespearean drama. That the lovers justified the honor bestowed upon them by the student critics was clearly shown in the outstanding manner in which the two enacted their difficult parts.

Miss Parrott, a newcomer to the Little Country theatre stage, displayed an expression and a gracefulness which would draw forth the envy of professionals. She fitted the part exactly, and the scenes in which she took part were as outstanding individually as the entire play itself. Her lines were so well in hand that it was not necessary for her to sacrifice expression in an attempt to grasp them.

Bohlig Excels Self
Mr. Bohlig, truly the greatest praiser of love and romance in the history of the Little Country theatre, completely excelled himself, and took advantage of his stage experience to give his part an excellent interpretation. The famous balcony scene and the vault scene were outstanding examples of Bohlig's art.

Of the minor characters in the play, Floyd McDunn as the Friar Lawrence, again proved his mastery of character parts, and a marvelous vocal expression had much to do with his strong interpretation. Jerry Martin, as Mercutio, was unique in his part with a biting humor which broke the monotony of the tragedy. Martin's role could not have been enacted more admirably. Emma Nelson, as Juliet's nurse, shows wonderful promise of rising to greater heights in the theatre, and should deserve a more important vehicle in plays to come.

Parsons Shows Experience
George Howell as Capulet enacted his part in an excellent fashion. Evelyn Blakeslee was exceptional in her portrayal of the stately Lady Capulet, and Mary Ellen Parker as the wife of Montague was very well done. Montague, played by Clyde Barks; Prince of Verona, played by Graham Fuller; and Paris, played by Walter Davidson, all difficult parts were admirably executed. The play was strengthened by the acting of Larence Parsons, who took the part of Tybalt, and later of an apothecary. Parsons clearly showed evidence of his stage experience.

Byron Bernstson, servant to Romeo; Carol Anderson, servant to Juliet's nurse, and Victor Lindgren, servant to Capulet were very good.

As a whole the play showed evidence of excellent coaching and directing. The difficult lines found in Shakespearean drama were well in hand and did not seem to inconvenience the cast in any way. The play was directed by Alfred G. Arvold, and coached by Donald Hay.—R. G. H.

All members of the Pep club desiring official keys should report to Foss Narum, president, at once. Mr. Narum must guarantee an order of 25 keys before the keys can be made, and is desirous of obtaining orders from all members at once.

North Dakota State Will Graduate 160 At 34th Annual Commencement

Catholic Students Club To Hold Meeting Tonight

Monseigneur Baker of Valley City will be the speaker at the last regular meeting of the Catholic Students' club which will be held in the Knights of Columbus hall Tuesday at 7:30 p.m. Plans for the party which will be held Friday evening will be completed at the meeting and as this is the last and therefore one of the most important meetings of the year. Every member is requested to be present, according to the president, Frank Hannaher.

150 Couples Attend Junior Prom Friday

Perpetual Calendars Given As Favors At Outstanding Social Event

Perpetual calendars in hammered brass were presented as favors at the Junior Prom of the North Dakota State college held Friday night in the Crystal ballroom and attended by 150 couples.

The ballroom was entered under streamers while at one end of the hall an arrangement of gold colored letters formed the words "Junior Prom." The guests gathered at 8:30 p.m. and informal reception was held preceding the grand march which formally opened the party at 9 p.m. Leading the march were Foss Narum Fargo, and his guest, Miss Hazelle Heal, Liberty Sask. Others in the line were Dr. John Lee Coulter, president of the college, and Mrs. Coulter; Miss Pearl Dinan, dean of women; I. W. Smith, dean of men, and Mrs. Smith; Cyril Peschel, class president, and Miss Ethel McEssy, and John Bohlig, Fargo, assistant prom manager, and Miss Dorothy Norby, Lake Park, Minn.

Features Arranged

Honor guests included President and Mrs. Coulter, Professor and Mrs. P. F. Trowbridge, Professor and Mrs. C. F. Monroe, Dean and Mrs. H. L. Walster, Dean and Mrs. L. L. Carrick, Dean and Mrs. A. D. Weeks, Dean and Mrs. R. M. Dolve, Dean and Mrs. W. F. Sudro, Dean and Mrs. A. E. Minard, Dean and Mrs. I. W. Smith, Mr. and Mrs. A. H. Parrott and Mr. and Mrs. H. W. McArdle and Deans Pearl Dinan and Alba Bales.

Two special features, arranged by Miss Evelyn Blakeslee, chairman of the feature committee, were a chorus and dance number, "The Rainbow Review" and a duet, "The Doll Dance." Appearing in the review were Misses Frances Flaten, Glade Cowels, Marguerite South, Frances Young and Margaret Schranz. Miss Margaret Schranz and Clarence Lampton appeared in the other feature.

Plans Complete For Annual Artists Ball

The Artists' ball, annual spring formal party of the Art club, will be held in the art studio in Science hall from 8:30 to 12 p.m. Saturday.

All decorations, favors, and settings of the dance will be the work of members of the club. Only members of the club who are students in the art department of the college and their guests will attend the party.

Guests of honor will be: President and Mrs. John Lee Coulter, Dean and Mrs. W. F. Sudro, Dean Alba Bales, Dean Pearl Dinan, Professor and Mrs. W. T. Rolfe, Miss Dorothy Cole and Misses Dorothy Hatch and Nancy Elliott, faculty members of the club.

President Coulter To Deliver Address; Class Play Cast Is Chosen; Francis Blair Will Give Baccalaureate Sermon.

Approximately 160 students will receive degrees this spring from the North Dakota State college, it was announced Saturday by college officials, when plans for the 34th annual commencement were made public.

The commencement program will begin Friday, June 8, and continue through Monday, June 11.

Dr. John Lee Coulter, president of the college, will give the commencement address. Francis Blair, state superintendent of public instruction of the state of Illinois, former president of the National Education association, and one of the most widely known educators today, will give the baccalaureate sermon. Other activities will include the class play, class exercises, alumni banquet, ceremonial, business meeting, president's reception, senior swing out and alumni ball, commencement concert and luncheon.

Play To Be Presented

"The Imaginary Invalid," a comedy in three acts, by Moliere, will be presented as the senior class play at 8:15 p.m. Friday, June 8, in the Little Country theater.

The time of the play is the 17th century and the place is a room in a Paris house.

Characters will be as follows: "Argan," the imaginary invalid, Floyd McDunn; "Boline," his second wife, Geraldine Ewald; "Angelique," his daughter by his first wife, Mildred Vold; "Louison," Angelique's younger sister, Margaret Revell; "Beralde," Argan's brother, Clarence Reed; "Cleante," in love with Angelique, Walter Davidson; "Diafoirus," a doctor, Byron Bernston; "Thomas Diafoirus," his son, also a doctor, Lester Thompson; "Monsieur Purgon," a doctor, Craig Montgomery; "Monsieur Fleurant," an apothecary, Peter Kovol; "Monsieur onnefol," a notary, Ralph Sinner; and "Toinette," a maid, Gladys Whitney.

Knute Henning Wins Poster Competition

Drawings To Serve As Advertisements of Annual Exhibit On Wednesday, May 9th.

Knute Henning, Fargo, senior in architecture, was announced winner in the poster sketch competition held by the department preparatory to the exhibition at the May festival May 9.

H. O. Zwerg, Sheboygan, Wis., a freshman, took second place; Robert Stinson, Fargo, third; Allan Meinecke, Fargo, fourth; Phillip Keene, Fargo, fifth and Herman Skaret, Fargo, freshman, sixth.

Ten other posters were also given a place and will be exhibited. They were drawn by Alf Skaret, Fargo; Neal Baldwin, Fargo; Tyler Helland, Nome; John Wolfe, Moorhead; Marlin Hutchinson, Tuttle; William Bowers, Fargo; Donald Best, Fargo; Raymond Wachter, Glen Ulin; Kenneth Sundberg, New Rockford and Heber Waldron, Fargo.

The posters will be placed in prominent places in Fargo shortly and will serve as an advertisement of the annual exhibition, open to the public, at the college at 8 p.m. Wednesday, May 9.

The winning poster was carried out in a colonial effect and was a pen and ink drawing. The second place winner was a comedy sketch, also in pen and ink.

Kappa Tau Delta Honors Alf Skaret, Donald Best

Kappa Tau Delta, honorary architectural fraternity, announces the initiation of Alf Skaret and Donald Best, both of Fargo. The formal initiation was held Sunday morning at 7 o'clock after which a breakfast was served at the Bluebird cafe. Mr. Skaret is a member of Alpha Sigma Tau fraternity, and played a guard position on the Bison football team last fall. Mr. Best is a member of Delta Pi fraternity.

May Festival Plans Nearing Completion

Prizes Will Tempt High School Students In Contests To Be Held Here

A May Festival of interest to every high school student in North Dakota and Western Minnesota is the idea around which plans are being laid for this year's festivities. Three days, May 10, 11, and 12, have been set aside for the gala occasion by the college personnel who are to be hosts to the visitors.

In the industrial contest group a tentative program has been announced by Prof. E. H. Jones, state supervisor of vocational agricultural education, North Dakota State college. The program is as follows: Thursday, May 10: 7:30 a. m. to 4 p. m., stock judging contest; Friday, May 11: 7:30 a. m. to 1 p. m., poultry and crops contest; 2:00 p. m., possible social hour at "Lincoln Log Cabin" in Little Country Theatre to meet Pres. John Lee Coulter, Dr. H. L. Walster, dean of school of agriculture, and other faculty members; 3:00 to 5:00 p. m., possible automobile trip; 6:30 p. m., contestants supper and awarding of prizes.

Prizes To Be Offered

Prizes are to be offered to the winning schools and to the individuals winning first place. Three silk trophy banners, 12 by 18 inches, will be awarded for permanent possession to the three schools winning the first, second and third places in the agricultural judging contests. In addition 24 silk banners of a smaller size will be given to the teams ranking first in the several classes of livestock, corn, and grain judging. The grand prize, a silver-bronze loving cup, known as the North Dakota Agricultural College Trophy, goes to the team securing highest score in the all stock judging event. Individual prizes consisting of medals are to be given to high scorers.

Another phase of the industrial contests will be the exhibits and judging in the home economics division for girls. More complete plans for this part of the May Festival will be announced later.

The preliminaries of the May Festival high school track and field meet will be run off Friday, May 11, 1:30 p.m. The semi-finals and the finals will be run off Saturday, May 12, during the forenoon and afternoon, respectively. There were 23 North Dakota and western Minnesota high schools with 200 track and field athletes represented in the meet last year. Prizes are to be given this year to the winning schools and individuals, according to the plans.

Student Commission Meets

The student commission will hold a meeting in the Green Room of the Little Country theatre this evening at 7:30 sharp, it was announced by Foss Narum, president, today. Members are urged to be prompt.

Bison Marksmen Puncture Targets For Championship

Curtis Ballard Is High Man On State Squad; Ranks Among First In Area

Shooting a high total of 7,620 out of a possible 8,000 points, the Bison indoor rifle team won first place among the teams of the Seventh Corps area entered in the senior division of the National Intercollegiate gallery matches, according to word received Saturday by Captain Thomas S. Smith, commandant.

It is expected that the results of all entrants in the United States will be published within a short time, Captain Smith said. The states of North and South Dakota, Minnesota, Iowa, Kansas, Missouri and Nebraska comprise the Seventh Corps area.

To win from all colleges in the area is in itself no small honor, the commandant declared. "North Dakota State will rank very close to the top of the national standings, since in the past three years the team winning the Seventh Corps area cup also won the national title," he stated. Minnesota won the cup in 1925, and Missouri in 1926 and 1927. Had the Missourians won again this year they would have retained permanent possession of the trophy.

Ballard Is High

Students comprising the area championship team in order of individual standing are: Curtis Ballard, Moorhead; Frank Dvorak, Center; Clarence Reed, Fargo; Glenn Schoessow, Embden; Arthur Johnson, Hurdsfield; Raymond Hack, Fargo; Ronald Millard, Breckenridge; Earl Schoessow, Embden; Thomas Palmerlee, Havana; Morris Barks, Egeland; Jerome Olson, Havana; Wayne Isenberger, La Moure; and Clarence Vogel, Lark.

Curtis Ballard was awarded a medal for being one of the ten best marksmen of all teams entered in the corps area match, his score being 764 out of a possible 800 in all positions.

During the past year rifle marksmanship at the college has been in charge of Lieutenant Frank S. Ross, a national marksman of prominence and a former member of the United States Infantry team. For the season just ended matches were fired with some eighty colleges and schools in the United States and Hawaii, the Bison losing but eight of them. About 85 students tried out for the team last fall.

Letters Awarded

Based on aggregate score made during the year, ten minor sport letters are awarded to those having the highest aggregates at the close of the season. Winners of the letters are: Curtis Ballard, Frank Dvorak, Alex Watson, Glenn Schoessow, Ronald Millard, Jerome Olson, Arthur Johnson, Clarence Reed, Morris Barks, and Raymond Hack.

A six-man team participated in the Hearst Trophy match, final results of which have not been received. Gold medals awarded to men comprising the Hearst team were as follows: Jerome Olson, Morris Barks, A. Palmerlee, Arthur Johnson, and Ronald Millard.

A total of 90,000 rounds of ammunition were fired by the male students during the gallery season, and 15,000 rounds by the girls of the college. Rifery is classed as a major sport in the girls physical education department, 35 women participating this year.

The standings of the finalists in the corps area matches are: North Dakota State, 7620; Kansas Aggies, 7592; Missouri, 7587; Kansas, 7510; Iowa, 7501; and Arkansas, 7459. Scores are out of a possible 8,000.

HITTING THE MARK

North Dakota State's minor sports are carrying on where the major sports fell down in the school year of 1927-28. Last fall during a disastrous football season, Coach Leonard Saalwaechter's cross country representatives threw a flaming torch into the darkened athletic area and won the conference championship.

During a mediocre basketball season, Lieutenant Frank S. Ross drilled his Bison rifle team, coached them to an amazing record of seventy-two wins in eighty starts, sent them into sharp-shooting supremacy over the University of North Dakota, and ended the season in a blaze of glory by winning the Seventh Corps Area championship! It was the one redeeming feature of the Bison winter indoor athletic program.

While Lieutenant Ross, prominent nationally as an outstanding shot and a member of the U. S. Infantry rifle team, drilled his men in the stuffy armory range, and gave them his knowledge of the game, he was shooting at a much higher mark than the little white targets at the opposite end of the room. And as the Bison band carried on to victory over the outstanding teams of the nation, teams who have established rifery as a major pastime, teams who have ranges perfected along scientific lines, he came closer to the bulls eye of that mark until it was finally achieved, the corps area title!

What is more, the Bison have an excellent chance of winning the national championship, since for the past three years the winners of the Seventh Corps Area match have also won the national title. To the members of the rifle team and to Lieutenant Ross, The Spectrum, on behalf of the students, wishes to extend its congratulations, and appreciation for bringing another championship to North Dakota State.

VACATION CUM LAUDE

The New York Evening Post presents an interesting sidelight on the value of a college education:

"Whenever a college man applies to me for a job I never inquire about his scholastic standing," recently remarked a business man, himself a university graduate. "What I want to know is how he spent his summer vacations—three months per annum, and before he gets his degree that amounts to a whole year, the most valuable, I think, of his entire collegiate course. Never again will he have a similar opportunity. If he has wasted it, I know something about him; if not he has a record worth showing.

"Here's the record of one boy I've just employed," this man continued. "At the end of his freshman year he went to a citizens military training camp; after sophomore year he worked for six weeks with Dr. Grenfell's mission in Labrador; at the close of his junior year he had six weeks with the Banks fishing fleet; and after graduation he spent July and August with a forestry outfit. All of it was open-air work, putting him in good physical condition and in touch with all sorts and conditions of men. He used only twenty-six of the forty-eight weeks at his disposal, but I don't care what he did with the others. Those twenty-six weeks were what I call 'vacation cum laude'. They gave him an unusual equipment for success and I only wish I could find more young men who possessed it."

WISE and OTHERWISE

THE PURPLE AND GRAY, of St. Thomas college, St. Paul, reprimands The Spectrum very severely for addressing our copies to the Blue and Gray. We are grateful for their calling the error to our attention, but would, at the same time, like to point out that they are addressing their paper to us as "The Spectrum, North Dakota School of Agriculture," whereas their publication would be much more palatable were it addressed to the "North Dakota State College."

MEMBERS OF the Pep Club should see Foss Narum, president of the organization, at once. Foss has a replica of the new Pep Club key, as outstanding a piece of jewelry as has been the official insignia of any organization here in years. Narum must have at least 25 orders for his keys before they can be made. They are being offered at a reasonable price and it is hoped that every member of the club will be able to purchase the emblem.

THE INTRA-MURAL track meet on Dacotah field Saturday will be a hotly-contested affair with the Alpha Kappa Phi fraternity defending their title as campus champions. Last year over 80 men entered the meet and every sorority girl was rooting for their fraternity to win the meet that they might take home the trophy offered to the greek sisterhood who sponsors the winning male organization. This year should bring out more candidates and more rooters.

THE 1929 BISON is all ready for the printer and the entire editorial part of the book is already being set into type. The annual should make its appearance on the campus about May 15 or 20.

I'M THE GUY

I'm the guy who abuses the privileges of the college library. I keep books out until the librarians use up a good sum of money invested in postal cards and stamps, and perhaps a month's valuable time in an effort to regain the book. Perhaps if they charged a good stiff fine for keeping a book over the allotted time or failing to renew it, I'd be more prompt in returning it. But they don't so I take advantage of the situation and ignore all notices. By doing this I'm robbing some one else of the use of the book and perhaps throwing an instructor's program off schedule. But I should worry. I'm having a lot of fun being able to use the book when I please, even if it does inconvenience many others.

tinue them altogether. The one held last Thursday failed to pay for itself and if no improvement is shown this Thursday drastic measures will have to be taken. The students should appreciate the cadet officers' attempts to provide them with excellent entertainment at low price and a record attendance at these functions is about the finest way to do that. The cadet hops are the greatest informal social "breaks" of a monotonous spring term.

THE BIGGEST crowd ever to attend a Junior Prom at North Dakota State turned out Friday evening at the Crystal ballroom in spite of a blinding snowstorm and slush-covered streets. Over 150 couples were present and the ball was acclaimed one of the most successful in many years.

WITH THE annual Gay Cat Day not more than three or four weeks off, judging from last year's date, we still have heard of no action being taken in preparation for the event. If the new commission intends to stage a successful day we would advise them to get busy at once. There are hundreds of things to be planned and the sooner they start the more successful the finish.

Dr. Carrick and Kenneth Keating returned Monday morning from St. Louis where they attended a Chemistry meeting.

Fred Moore of Wahpeton, Dr. Andrews of Carrington, and Gerald Andrews of Des Moines were visitors at the Theta Chi house over the weekend.

Theta Chi Chapter Holds Gala Formal

Balloons and paper streamers in red and white, the fraternity colors, were used to adorn the armory Saturday when the active and alumni members of the Phi chapter of the Theta Chi fraternity and their guests numbering 60 couples, gathered there for the annual cotillion.

The outstanding feature of the decoration was the fraternity emblem, worked out with the balloons and placed in the center of the ballroom ceiling, and upon which the colored spotlights played during the "moonlight" numbers. The balloons formed the false ceiling while a canopy arrangement of streamers decorated the walls and entrance to the ballroom. The favor booths and orchestra platforms were decorated in the red and white and the same color idea was carried out in the favors.

The outstanding dance of the evening was the one in which the women were favored by the men and were presented with the red felt bridge table covers, which bore the Greek letters of the fraternity in white.

Alumni members of the Fargo chapter in attendance were Russell Andrews, Carrington, N. D.; Obert Skrie, Glyndon, Minn.; Robert McArthur, Hancock, Minn.; Gerald Andrews, Des Moines, Iowa; Boyd Carman, Williston; and Roy Simpson, Grand Forks. Representatives from other chapters and the school represented were Roy Maschke, University of Minnesota; Prof. John Doerr, University of Wisconsin; Jack Pentz, Ohio State; Kenneth Kuhn, University of Michigan; Lothian Bergess, Wooster Polytechnical school, and William McRoberts, Dartmouth college.

Phillip Keene was chairman of the general arrangements committee and was assisted by Vernon Peterson, music, Harold Phillips, publicity, and Lothian Bergess, favors.

Courses Influence Students To Choose This College

The types of courses offered at the North Dakota Agricultural college furnished the major inducement for 32 per cent of the present freshmen to choose this college in preference to others.

This college offers a bachelor of science degree in Science and Literature, Agriculture, Architectural Engineering, Architecture, Biology, Chemistry, Civil Engineering, Education, Electrical Engineering, Home Economics, Mechanical Engineering, and Pharmacy.

Special advantages are offered in paint chemistry, physics, botany, mathematics, public speaking and dramatics, economics (agricultural and general), and social and political sciences.

All the work that is taken at the North Dakota Agricultural college is fully credited by the North Central Association of colleges and secondary schools, and also the Regents of New York.

Interfraternity track meet Saturday. If these Greeks can run as fast as they can give away fraternity pins there should be some records broken.

A pie eating contest would be more appropriate for some of the entrants.

More girls would take up track, but the sudden change to heavy clothes would probably be a shock to their system.

They call them cindermen, because they are always in the public eye.

Women are better on the discuss than on the discus.

We hand out the apple cores this week to the fellow who said the Highland Fling was a dive off a cliff.

And the unassuming person who suggested that a relay is a consistent hen wasn't so smart either.

There must have been a lot of good high jumpers before prohibition. Some of those fellows sure could clear the bar.

We'll have to arrest those mile runners for walking on a campus path.

We hope everyone will have to go to the track meet, so some of our bookworms can find out that a pole vault isn't a foreign bank.

"Well, I guess I'm roped in," sighed the cow as the lariat whistled thru the air.

Throwing the shot is practical for the fellow who intends to get married. He'll be able to dispose of his wife's biscuits.

The fellow who spears food in a boarding house should be barred from javelin throw as a professional.

The only way we could get some of these fraternity athletes to move would be to enter them in a checker match or a bee judging contest.

The pole vaulter, who jumps with the use of a stick, had nothing on us when we went swimming without our mother's permission.

Ralph Hollands could take a stroll and do the high hurdles.

They ought to hold a swimming race for the benefit of the campus petters. Some of them have a nice stroke.

And a boat race for the paddling sophomores.

And the hundred yard dash for the man who stutters.

If these organization athletes really want to shine in track, they had better wear silk uniforms.

PLAY CAST HONORED AT SHAKESPEAREAN DINNER

Complimentary to the cast of "Romeo and Juliet," presented at the Little Country Theatre Saturday evening and repeated Monday evening, the Edwin Booth Dramatic club entertained at a Shakespearean banquet in the Log Cabin, Saturday. The appointments and menu were in keeping with Shakespeare's time. Covers were laid for 35. Miss Alta Berg had charge of the arrangements.

CATHOLIC STUDENTS TO DANCE FRIDAY EVENING

Mesrs. and Mmes. T. F. Powers and John Hannaher and Miss Frances Lamb will be patrons and patronesses at an informal dancing party at the Knights of Columbus hall on Friday. The party is sponsored by the members of the Catholic Students club.

47 Trackmen To Compete In Meet Saturday

Organizations Will Vie For Supremacy

Meets Scheduled With Jamestown, Valley City, and University of North Dakota.

Forty-seven track candidates, many of whom give promise of developing into formidable performers, are competing for positions on the North Dakota State college track squad under the direction of Coach Leonard T. Saalwaechter.

Inclement weather the past week handicapped the outdoor training considerably but Saalwaechter expects to have his entire squad hitting a hard pace throughout the next week.

Six meets are on the Bison program this spring, the first of which is booked for next Saturday, the annual intramural meet for the campus championship.

The outstanding performers in this tourney will be asked to join the varsity squad, and Saalwaechter believes that he will have a squad of more than 50 to select from in preparing for the triangle meet at Valley City on May 4.

Jamestown college and the Valley City State Teachers will compete in the triangle affair with the Bison, while on May 9 the Valley City Teachers will invade Fargo for a dual meet.

On May 18 the North Dakota university freshmen will meet the Bison frosh in Fargo while on the following day the two varsity clubs will clash at Grand Forks. The outstanding performers in these meets will then be entered in the North Central conference championship meet at Sioux City on May 25 and 26.

The following, including freshmen, have reported to date:

Cy Peschel, Wahpeton, sprints; Jake Wahl, Denhoff, weights; William Frey, Leonard, distance; Joe Blakeslee, Fargo, pole vault; John Molitor, Brinsmade, middle distance; Horace McGrath, Fargo, weights; Herman Zeissler, Golden Valley, jumps; David Aitkin, Fairdale, sprints; Maurice Washburn, Rugby, distance; Vernon Smith, Twin Valley, Minn., distance; Clifford Bollman, Fargo, hurdles.

George Hays, Elkton, S. D., pole vault and jumps; Kenyon Kilbourne, Fargo, distance; Walter Nelson, Bucyrus, distance; Robert Aldrich, Hankinson, middle distance; Harold Chloupek, Dilworth, Minn., distance; Owen Bertelson, Fargo, middle distance; Dell Wade, Fargo, distance; Harold Dickinson, Dilworth, Minn., high jump and broad jump; Clarence Vogel, Lark, distance; John Holman, Deering, middle distance; Earl Fenton, Wright, Minn., distance.

Robert Olson, Fargo, jumps; Robert Adam, Fargo, distance; Carroll Anderson, Warwick, distance; Neal Baldwin, Fargo, middle distance; Clarence Shepherd, Fargo, javelin; Laverne McDonald, Fargo, distance; Lloyd

Trophy Will Be Awarded Winners Of Relay Race

A trophy will be awarded to the team winning the 880-yard relay in the intra-mural meet Saturday independent of the team trophy which will be awarded to the team winning the meet, Coach Leonard Saalwaechter announced today. The relay will be held independent of the rest of the meet this year, he stated. He also said that the sorority girls would draw for the fraternities they will back in the meet, and the athletic department will award a trophy to the sorority who sponsors the winning fraternity. At present the Delta Phi Betas hold the cup having sponsored the winning Alpha Kappa Phi team last year.

Clark, Mohall, distance; Richard Askerman, Montpelier, distance; Alfred Schultz, Martin, distance; Roy Jordre, Oberson, middle distance; Leonard Wollan, Colfax, distance; Mahlin Hutchison, Tuttle, sprints.

William McRoberts, Wayne, Neb., hurdles; Kenneth Sundberg, New Rockford, middle distance; Clarence Lochren, Harvey, distance; Chester Rhines, Regan, distance; John Klein, Richardton, distance; Leo May, Aberdeen, S. D., weights; Mike Haverlock, Zenith, distance; Russell Weiser, Hazelton, distance; Ole Sand, Biri, Norway, distance; Maurice Brown, Fargo, sprints; Enoch Sorenson, LeRoy, distance and Wesley Hanelt, Fargo, distance.

Bison Cleats Tear Up Practice Field

Borleske Well Pleased With His Band of Football Candidates; Special Drills Planned.

The cleats of the North Dakota State college football candidates will more than tear up the turf on the upper Thirteenth street field this week under the special drills which Coach Stanley Borleske has on his spring football program.

Weather during the past week has not been very conducive to carrying out the spring football program in full, but Stan is satisfied with the progress shown in the early sessions. He recently announced that the squad was as a whole fully as good as the troupes he tutored during the years of 1919 to 1925, when he was athletic director at the college.

Up until last Saturday Coach Borleske was giving his squad some of the very first A, B, C's of football, that of dodging, sprinting, passing, kicking, starting, and handling the ball. Saturday he divided the squad started a little specialty work for a short time. This week he intends to continue the special work even to a greater degree and believes that much may be accomplished in this manner. The ends and backs will work together in a band, and the linemen from tackle to tackle will see action in another section.

The candidates for line looked good in practice last Saturday and loom up big but are lacking in speed. Coach Borleske has given extra attention to this necessary factor to any winning football club and has been drilling the giant linemen in proper starting, and blocking in order to give more impetus to their drive.

There is excellent spirit among the ranks of spring gridders and they have already shown much fight. The spirit of the spring squad together with the manner in which they have acquired the knack of the fundamentals has prompted many fans to look for a creditable showing with the hard schedule which is in order next fall.

At the centers post Cod Ordahl, Cliff Bollman, and Alf Skaret have been performing very nicely. King

Williams, a big boy who showed up well on the freshman team last fall has not been able to report for practice yet. King showed much promise as a center. Jess Sleight, Mike Sullivan, and Johnny Blair look good at tackles. Walter Shamp, Leonard Friberg, and Gilly Johnson, graduates from the freshman squad are three husby boys who are candidates for the tackle post. Gilly Johnson also looks like a probable end or backfieldman. Lawrence DeSautel, tackle and guard last fall may be shifted to guard.

Coach Borleske has two sets of ends in Captain George Hays and Ed Babcock, Ranes, Clark and Brady. Borleske has a wealth of quarterbacks in Cy Peschel, Pete Gergen, Ray Bassett, Johnny Smith, and Elmer Pariseau. Some of these may be shifted to half along with Vern Hickerson, George Hermes, Polly Guertin, and Joe Blakeslee. Leo May and Ben Gorder promise to capably fill the fullback position. Big Ben could be easily shifted to a tackle post in case that position is weak.
