John Bohlig And Madelyn Parrott In Leading Roles

Two Performances, Saturday And Monday, Scheduled For Annual Play

"Romeo and Juliet," Shakespeare's immortal love story, will be presented by the Edwin Booth Dramatic club in the Little Country theatre, Saturday, April 21, and Monday, April 23, at 8 p.m.

The two leading characters of the play were chosen by representative groups of State college students several weeks ago. John Bohlig, the greatest portrayer of love and romance in the history of the Little Country theatre was picked by fifty college co-eds to play the role of Romeo, the most famous lover of the stage. Bohlig has played such romantic parts as Robin Hood, Bill McCallister in "Applesauce," and Young Marlowe in "She Stoops to Conquer." He is a junior in science and literature, president of Alpha Kappa Phi, a member of Blue Key and Scabbard and Blade, and Commissioner of Public Speaking.

Madelyn Parrott, who was chosen by fifty college men, plays the part of the lovely and beautiful Juliet. Miss Parrott is a senior in home economics, and a member of Delta Phi Beta, Phi Kappa Phi and Phi Upsilon Omicron.

Gold Star Band Tour Of State Postponed

Difficulty In Booking Desirable Dates Is Reason For Action; New Date Set

The proposed tour of the state by the Gold Star Band has been temporarily cancelled, according to Dr. C. S. Putnam, director of the organization. The plans called for the band to leave on their trip Monday.

Difficulty in booking desirable dates for the tour was responsible for the postponement of the trip. At present Dr. Putnam is working to perfect plans for a tour the week of May 21 over the same route as proposed before. This will take the band to Valley City, Jamestown, Carrington, Devils Lake, Park River, Grafton, Grand Forks, Hillsboro, and Fargo for concerts in one week's time.

Dr. Putnam was forced to wait until he had the indorsement of the college authorities before he could go ahead with his plans for the tour, and the delay incurred made it impossible to complete a hurried booking of the towns desired. By postponing the trip until the latter part of May, the director feels that sufficient time will be available to complete every detail. The May date is only tentative, however, Dr. Putnam pointed out.

Decorations for the ball will not be as elaborate as formerly but two outstanding features have been arranged. An arch of varicolored streamers will be erected at the ball room entrance and an arrangement of gold-colored letters will form the words, "Junior Prom," and "Class of 1929" which will be placed upon a black background at the rear of the orchestra platform.

COLLEGE SPIRIT DEFINED

There is a great deal to think about in the article by Thomas M. Thompson of Colgate University, published in a recent issue of School and Society:

"Without attempting a dictionary definition of college spirit, I should like to suggest something like the following as expressing that much-talked-of, but little-thought-about, concept. College spirit is that background of ideas, ideals, and attitudes towards one's Alma Mater which is the dominating and directing force behind all one's acts with respect to her. Such a concept of college spirit gives it tangibility, but its greater value lies in the fact that it makes college spirit a guiding and directing force in the college life of the student. At one college which proudly boasts of its spirit in pep meetings, in its college paper, and from the chapel platform, it is the policy of the library not to purchase textbooks for the simple fact that textbooks cannot be kept in the library, and I never heard anyone accusing the janitor of taking them. This same college tried an honor system in examinations for many years, but finally had to give it up because it would not work. The inability of American colleges and universities to maintain an honor system is notorious, and yet doubtless every college which displays such inability is proud of its spirit and does not hesitate to say so.

"If college students would think of college spirit as the directing force behind all their acts in college, possibly many of the acts so common on college campuses would be less common. Possibly an honor system could be made to work; possibly library books would be safe; possibly there would be less petty thieving of coats, caps, books, etc.; possibly it would no longer be considered a display of college spirit for contesting classes to mutilate or destroy college property; possibly questionable fraternity politics would not have so much to do in controlling elections to campus offices; possibly campus bootlegging would be less common; possibly students would be less inclined to litter up the campus with trash or to cut unsightly paths through its beautiful green carpet; possibly students would realize that a genuine college spirit, one worthy the name, and the only one that anyone has a right to be proud of, would demand that the possessor be a gentleman or a lady at all times; for it is college spirit that gives direction to one's college acts."

Just Comment

WISE and OTHERWISE

THE SEASON'S biggest social event will swing into action tonight when the grand march opens the annual Junior Prom which the management promises to be the biggest ever staged at the college. The affair will be held in the Crystal ballroom on Broadway, just off Front street, and the march will be held at 9 o'clock sharp. The programs are being given out at the bookstore, but may be procured at the entrance. If you haven't made up your mind yet, remember it's never too late.

"ROMEO AND JULIET" will be presented by Edwin Booth Dramatic club in the theatre tomorrow and Monday evenings. This promises to be by far the biggest production of the year and the club wishes to impress the importance of the play on the students. Shakespearean productions should be as attractive to the theatrical instinct of the individual as any light comedy if not more so. It is a rare opportunity for the students to witness the production of a classic in a classical way.

I'M THE GINK

I'm the gink who thinks that Shakespeare is too deep for me. I shun all Edwin Booth productions that approach the faintest possibility of exacting a minimum degree of thinking. I haven't the slightest idea why I should evade Shakespearean productions, because either I haven't seen any to base my conclusions on or I just have a natural fear of hearing plays that merge a little from the good old American English language. I won't be convinced that it isn't as deep as it sounds, nor will I admit that the famous classics require more acting for a successful production of the play. They're just undesirable as far as I'm concerned, but if I really wanted to learn something and wasn't afraid to exercise my brain out of the classroom I'd be at "Romeo and Juliet" either tomorrow or Monday night.

WITH THE reappearance of favorable weather the cadets are emerging from the armory, the football men will soon be cavorting about the field and the tracksters will be kicking up the cinders in an attempt to make up for the time lost by the wintry blasts which enveloped the campus Wednesday.

PLANS FOR the annual May Festival are being made by the various organizations and departments on the campus and things point to a gala event. The athletic department will sponsor the usual athletics, and the engineers will hold their annual exhibit. Other departments will hold attractions for visiting high school students.

Student Opinion

To the Editor of The Spectrum:
For a number of years it has been a tradition of the Edwin Booth Dramatic club to commemorate the birthday of William Shakespeare, April 23, by presenting one of his plays.

The dramatic club has been criticized by many unthinking students for producing such "stale, uninteresting, difficult stuff" as Shakespeare. But it is through its presentations of Shakespeare that Edwin Booth tries to fill in that sorely neglected phase of education in this college, namely, an appreciation of the great classics, the relics of past generations. The most outstanding of these are, of course, the immortal dramas of Shakespeare.

"Romeo and Juliet" was chosen as our spring term play because it is the most outstanding and widely known to the younger generation. But it is more than that. It is truly a play "unrivalled for beauty, for brilliancy, for the lyric fervor of its love scenes, and for the interest and pathos with which Shakespeare has invested this story of passionate and ill-fated love."

The cast of characters is excellent and well-coached; simple and beautiful settings, and lighting effects have been devised; correct and becoming costumes have been procured; and the department of Public Discussion has co-operated with the club splendidly. In fact everything has been done to make "Romeo and Juliet" the greatest of the Shakespearean productions of Edwin Booth.

By this presentation of the immortal love story, the dramatic club hopes to convince its critics that Shakespeare is living, modern, interesting and full of such power and beauty that nothing modern can equal it.

We wish to thank the students for the excellent support they gave us in "Dr. Jekyll and Mr. Hyde"; and we want to assure them that they will find in "Romeo and Juliet" something just as unusual to Little Country Theatre plays as they found in Stevenson's great classic.

The Edwin Booth Dramatic Club,
Floyd McDunn, President.

"Tribute is Paid Indian Warriors in Address Here" says a Spectrum headline. That's about all we have paid them since we got their land.

And look at all the cheap haircuts the Indians have given us!

And the war paint they gave our co-eds!

The redmen were afraid of a Buffalo Bill, but it must be a myth because everyone knows, ho ho, that only birds have bills.

After a period of hell week, rookies think that Sitting Bull was plenty lucky.

The Indians would hide behind bushes, but they're no worse than House of David followers.

Pocahontas saved John Smith's life, presumably so we could have cough drops.

Indians live in tents, and white men live intense.

We are aping the moccasin men more every day. An Indian would say "How" when greeting a friend. We say "And How"!

Indians ate dogs before we did too.

Things sure do progress. We bought New York for some beads and trinkets, and now Woolworth has stores all over the country.

No one was bald in those days. Everybody had hair-raising experiences.

Indians named various parts of our country, too. Just think if our pioneer gamblers would have beat them to it, Guffawing Minnie or Minnie-haha might have been called Minnie-heh-heh.

Redmen were given a place to live, but even that was with reservations.

They raised lots of corn, but it took the palefaces to show them how to drink it.

Maybe that's why their faces were so pale.

The copper colored natives indulged in war dances, but you can't call our dancing very calm and peaceful either.

However, if we got our "black bottom" from the Indians, we take back all the nice things we said about them.

Our idea of futility is an Indian maiden trying to develop a becoming blush.

No wonder they were red, considering all the clothes they didn't wear.

But, on second thought, our co-eds are still white.

Drawings Announced For Girls' Tennis Meet

First Round May Be Played By April 27

Jayne Sudro To Oppose Georgina Brindle In Opening Match; 18 Co-Eds Enter Competition

Drawings have been made for the girls' tennis tournament and if the courts are in condition the first round will be played by Friday, April 27, according to Georgina Brindle, tennis manager.

Each match will have a referee appointed by the tennis manager, who must be notified by the players a day in advance of each match in order that the referee may be appointed in sufficient time. Scores must be turned into to her immediately after every match.

Any girl who wishes to enter the tournament may do so by seeing Miss Brindle before next Wednesday. The drawings for the first round are Jayne Sudro vs. Georgina Brindle, Elsa Simmons vs. Mildred McComb, Mary Klinsmann vs. Aletha Winn, Gladys Seter vs. Margaret Schranz, Ruby Oscarson vs. Mary McGregor, Camille Alfred vs. Virginia Sands, Charlotte Blake vs. Helen Ballard, Mildred Briggs vs. Almehda Cosgrove and Evelyn Blakeslee vs. Clara Murie.

STUDENT COURT

Student court will be held in the Bison-Spectrum office Thursday, April 26, 2 to 4 p.m., according to Everett J. Wallum, Commissioner of Judiciary. All student commission law violators will appear at this time. Offenders will be fined on first offense, according to Mr. Wallum. "Ample time has elapsed between the publishing of the warning and the list of ordinances in The Spectrum and the date set for the court," the commissioner stated.

Insufficient Interest Shown In Track Meet

Alpha Kappa Phi Will Defend Title Against Field Of Campus Organizations.

The second annual intra-mural track meet will be held on Dacotah Field next week end, according to Coach Saalwaechter.

To date the various organizations have not shown sufficient interest and Sally has requested that representatives of each group see him as soon as possible in regard to their entrants in the meet. In order to be eligible to compete, those who have not been out, will have to work out each day until the day of meet.

Last year the Kappa Phi team copped the cup and are out to repeat. The team winning the cup this year will have possession until next year at this time and it should be the goal of each organization to win the trophy. Last year the meet was fairly representative and should be more so this year. It is the first competition of the season and will give Sally a line on what to expect from his squad in later meets. Adverse weather conditions have hampered work for the last part of the week but with the return of good weather, the candidates will again be back in the harness.

Walster Addresses Saddle And Sirloin

"Our First Annual Agricultural Exposition" was the theme of Dr. H. L. Walster's talk at the Saddle and Sirloin meeting held Wednesday evening of this week.

Dr. Walster's talk was of the enthusiastic type, outlining plans and making suggestions that might be carried on during May Festival to advertise the school of agriculture, not only to the many students who will be our guests at that time but also to the people of Fargo.

The club acted on a number of the plans set forth by Dr. Walster and other members of the club, resulting in a plan of exhibits and various forms of entertainment for the evening of May 11th.

One student was appointed to assist each one of the twelve departments in the school of agriculture with their respective exhibits. These students are to help prepare the exhibit, manage it and "ballyhoo" it. Craig Montgomery will have charge of the annual husbandry exhibit; Leonard Rygg, the horticultural exhibit; Lawrence Reiten, the soils exhibit; Glenn Smith, the farm crops exhibit; George Hildre, the agricultural economics exhibit; Gilbert Moun, the entomology exhibit; Merrill Burke, the agricultural education exhibit; Gordon Widdfield, the animal nutrition exhibit; Alfred Peterson, the veterinary science exhibit; Ralph Welch, the dairy husbandry exhibit; Jorgen Birkeland, the bacteriology exhibit; Don Wardwell, the poultry husbandry exhibit; and Clarence Vogel, the agricultural engineering exhibit.

Plans Announced For Dairy-Poultry Special

Plans for operation of a Dairy-Poultry special train to make 90 stops in North Dakota from May 28 to June 30 by the Northern Pacific, Soo Line and Great Northern railways were announced today by C. F. Monroe, director of the Extension division at North Dakota State college.

A tentative schedule has already been worked out and the towns to be visited will be announced a little later. Programs and exhibits will be under the direction of the Extension division.

"During the past two years the Better Beef Special train and the Better Seed Special train have carried to the bulk of the farmers of North Dakota valuable information from the college and from other sources," Mr. Monroe declares. "The programs were well received and the attendance estimates indicate that in each case more than half of the farmers of the state saw the exhibits carried on the trains and received useful information from the programs of talks.

"Through the generous cooperation of the Great Northern, Soo Line and Northern Pacific railways we are again able to put on a similar program this year, with dairying and poultry as the subjects. These railways are bearing the entire expense of operating the train and they will receive no revenue from the train. They are entitled to much credit for their liberal policy regarding this important piece of agricultural development work."

The train will be more elaborate than anything heretofore attempted. It will consist of eleven cars of which nine will be exhibit cars. Three programs will be held daily, morning, afternoon and evening, with about 90 meetings in all, during the five week period. Every section of the state will be covered. Stops will be of three hours duration with an hour of talks and about two hours to inspect the exhibits.

No One Can Know His Eyes' Condition

Without undergoing an examination. No one can tell anything about the eyes merely by looking at them. They must be examined by instruments that detect the slightest deviation from normal. So there is very little use asking anyone if his eyes are normal. He doesn't know. But our examination would tell him. Then we could correct the defects we found.
