

Artist Delights Student Audience In Song Recital

Ratan Devi, Concert Singer, Is Well Received At Second Lyceum Number

Ratan Devi, noted concert artist, delighted her audience with her Kashmiri folk songs and East Indian ragas in the college armory last evening.

A costume recital of folk songs of the east and west, preceded by a short talk on life in India, especially in relation to its music, made up the program presented by the singer.

Ratan Devi has recently returned to America, bringing with her a few added exquisite songs collected in Andalusia and Hungary. In response to numerous requests she has added old English folk songs to her program. Her success in this country has been unquestioned.

First Appearance Here

Since this was her first appearance in Fargo, Ratan Devi arranged a special program which is her custom where the initial appearance demands a more careful explanation of her work.

Ratan Devi's recital was an enjoyable addition to the students' experience of music. It brought out conclusively the vast differences in Eastern and Western music in such a practical way that the recital was worth any number of textbooks on the subject. The art displayed by the artist, and the character of the melodies combined to make a deep impression on her audience.

It is remarkable indeed the manner in which this English concert artist sings so genuinely the Indian songs without sacrificing or modifying time or tune. As William Butler Yeats writes of Ratan Devi's presentations: "Ratan Devi's singing delighted me. It was though a moment of life had caught fire, an emotion had come to a sudden casual perfection. People have sung like this on the roadside, or at the hearthside, or out of a window. It is no art at all, or it is so much art it is life itself."

3 State Professors Listed In Who's Who

Deans Weeks And Keene, And Professor Christensen Honored

Three State College professors are listed in Who's Who Among North American Authors, volume three, just published by the Los Angeles Golden Syndicate Publishing Company. They are Arland D. Weeks, dean of the school of education; Edward S. Keene, dean of the school of mechanic arts; and Frederick W. Christensen, professor in the school of agriculture.

Dean Weeks deals in his writings chiefly with educational and psychological problems. Dean Keene writes on topics pertaining to the broad field of mechanic arts, and Professor Christensen concerning the science of agriculture. The book gives a list of the works and articles of each man. There 11 North Dakotans listed in the volume.

CERES HALL PARTY TO BE HELD FEB. 3

Residents of Ceres hall dormitory at the North Dakota State College will entertain their friends at an informal dancing party in the hall parlors from 8:30 until 11:30 p. m. Friday, Feb. 3.

The Valentine motif will be used in decorating. Miss Mabel Wenzel is in general charge of the party which is the first of this kind given by the group. Miss Jennie Grant has been placed in charge of refreshments; Miss Gladys Nesset is chairman of the cleanup committee, and Miss Marie Webster will arrange the programs.

FLOWERS BANNED AT 13TH MILITARY BALL

No flowers at the Military Ball is the order given out by John Spielman, ball leader as the date of the annual event draws near. Co-eds who approach the armory with corsages will be asked to leave said bouquet with their coats, according to the authorities in charge of the anti-flower activities. No glaring reason for this action has been released but it is thought that the other proms will adopt the same policy.

Military Ball Opens 1928 Social Program

Organizations Take Up Week-Ends With Annual Parties Until Close of School

From now until the close of the school year, there will scarcely be a weekend that will not be taken up with annual parties of the sororities, fraternities or other organizations connected with the college.

This social program will be opened Friday when the 13th annual Military Ball, sponsored by the Scabbard and Blade, the national military fraternity at the school, will be given. The fraternity colors, red, white and blue, and the regimental flags and other military ideas will be used in the decoration of the dance-hall, and the fraternity insignia, will be used as the base for a series of novel lighting effects.

Spielman Leads

Cadet Lieut. Col. John Spielman, Larimore, N. D., the ball manager, and his partner, Miss Alta Berg, Fargo, will lead the grand march, which will open the formal program of dances and they will be followed by Cadet Major Ronald Millard, Breckenridge, Minn., assistant manager and his guest, Miss Rita Morris, New Rockford, N. D.

A number of military officials in the state and 7th corps area have been invited to attend as guests of honor. These include Maj. Gen. Harry A. Smith, Brig. Gen. A. W. Bjorstad and Col. O. H. Dockery, all of Fort Omaha; Gov. and Mrs. A. G. Sorlie, Bismarck; Adj. Gen. and Mrs. G. A. Fraser, Fargo; Col. W. G. Doane, Grand Forks, and Col. R. S. Ritchie, Valley City. Three representatives of the R. O. T. C. at the University of North Dakota, Grand Forks, have also been extended an invitation to attend.

Other guests of honor are President and Mrs. John Lee Coulter, Dr. and Mrs. C. S. Putnam, Mr. and Mrs. A. H. Parrott, Capt. and Mrs. Frank Anders, Capt. and Mrs. Thomas S. Smith, Capt. and Mrs. W. W. Millard, Capt. J. P. Glandon, Lieut. and Mrs. E. F. Boruski, Lieut. and Mrs. F. S. Ross, Lieut. Col. M. F. Steele and all deans and heads of the departments of the college.

Charity Ball

The second party of a formal nature, of interest to the college students and young people of the city generally, is the Charity ball, sponsored by the PanHellenic association, which will be given in the Crystal ballroom Friday, Feb. 17. Other dates that have been definitely decided are the Alpha Gamma Rho formal, March 24; Engineers ball, April 13; Junior Prom, April 20; Theta Chi formal, April 27; Delta Phi Beta formal, May 19; Delta Psi Kappa formal, May 26; Phi Omega Pi formal, May 5; Kappa Delta formal, May 11, and Phi Upsilon Omicron formal, May 12. Many informal affairs, sponsored by the several organizations, are also to be given during the second semester of the school year.

Mr. John A. Swenson of Aneta, N. D., class of 1906, was a Theta Chi visitor Thursday afternoon, Jan. 19.

Dorothy Volkamer, Sigma Theta, Wins Inter-Sorority Dog Show Prize

More than one thousand farmers and Fargo residents were present Wednesday night at the Sixth Annual Little International Livestock show held under the direction of the Saddle and Sirloin Club in the pavilion at the North Dakota State College and they witnessed a display of student work in fitting and showing livestock that will compare favorably with any in the country, according to authorities present.

Everything was shown from poultry to beef cattle and the students registered in agricultural courses at the college demonstrated to the complete satisfaction of the audience that they can apply the knowledge which they gain in their daily studies. Displays included 25 head of beef cattle, 18 head of dairy cattle, 18 hogs, 21 lambs, 17 horses and 11 chickens, a total of 110 head.

Progress Watched

Some time ago each of the participants was assigned an animal to be fed and cared for by that person in such a manner as to bring it into the best possible condition for show purposes. Judges examined all of the animals when this work started, and the awards were based on the progress made by the student and the ability he showed in displaying the animal to its best advantage. The show is modeled after the International Livestock show at Chicago, of which Prof. J. H. Shepperd of the college is one of the officials, and the agricultural students who are members of the Saddle and Sirloin club are entirely responsible for its administration.

Dr. C. S. Putnam, directing the college band, furnished music throughout the three-hour program and there were several specialty features, among the most popular being vocal solos by Sandy Cranston of Antler, N. D.

Officers of the Saddle and Sirloin club are Clyde Barks, Egeland, president; Byron Bernston, Parshall, vice-president; Paul Abrahamson, Leal, secretary; Craig Montgomery, Harvey, treasurer, and Rudolph Nelson, historian.

The club committee in charge of the show included Craig Montgomery, superintendent; Leroy D. Lillie, Maxbass, assistant superintendent; Ralph K. Welch, Grafton, award; Gustav Geiszler, Ashley, decorations; Henry P. Sullivan, New Salem, catalog and publicity; Hjalti B. Thorfinnson, Mountain, program; Byron Bernston, finance.

Many Fargo residents turned out to witness the dog show, put on by members of the sororities of the college, and the pony show.

Sigma Theta First

Showing a chow dog, Dorothy Volkamer of the Sigma Theta sorority was declared the winner and her sorority was awarded a large bronze bison given by the S. C. Alumni association. Other contestants and their sororities were Madelyn Parrott, Phi Upsilon Omicron; Emily Samuelson, Phi Omega Pi; Evelyn Blakeslee, Delta Phi Beta; Margaret Casselman, Phi Kappa Lambda; Fern Carlson, Sigma Theta; Jane Sudro, Delta Phi Beta; Hazel Heald, Kappa Delta, and Helen Carstenson, Phi Omega Pi.

Wesley Bruns, Valley City, won first place in the beef class, showing a Shorthorn steer, and was awarded silver loving cups offered by the state livestock breeders association and the Saddle and Sirloin club. Morris Barks, Egeland, was second, showing an Angus, and received a loving cup offered by the state Aberdeen Angus association. Other placings were L. K. Johnson, Adrian; third; Don Heron, Sykeston, fourth; Mervin Tuntland, Sheyenne, fifth; Hardies Elefson, Stanley, sixth; Hugh Stewart, Gran-

25TH YEAR AT STATE PASSED BY DR. PUTNAM

"Doc" Putnam, music director, pep exponent, and Gold Star Band leader, last week celebrated the twenty-fifth anniversary of his coming to North Dakota State College as an instructor.

Dr. Putnam, who was a doctor of medicine previous to being employed as instructor here, came to the college in 1903 when a fire destroyed his office and all his medical equipment down town. "Doc's" first assignment was to act as instructor in mathematics, but in the spring he transferred his affiliations to the music department.

At the present time Dr. Putnam can look back on his twenty-five years here with pride, for in that time he has brought the Gold Star Band, then obscure, into national prominence.

Declamatory Contest To Be Held Friday

Sixteen Students To Compete For First Prize In Little Country Theatre

Sixteen college students are entered in the annual declamatory contest which will be held in the Little Country Theatre Friday afternoon at 3:30.

A prize will be awarded the person winning first place and honorable mention will be given those placing second and third. Admission for college students who wish to hear the contestants will be ten cents, according to those in charge.

Students who have entered the contest and who will give their selections Friday are: Cecil Carroll, Donald Lawrence, Irving Wood, Helen Tollefson, Lena Schneider, Emona Nelson, Doris Fisher, Earl Hodgson, Glen Hoople, Dorothea Olson, Carol Anderson, Bernhard Benidt, Gladys Seter, Edris Probstfield, Leola Burriil, and Opal Tudal.

Gold Star Band Will Broadcast Wednesday

Doc Putnam and his North Dakota State College Gold Star band will broadcast their second concert of the season from station WDAY Wednesday night at 7:30.

The program includes: March, The Shriners' Parade... deLuca Overture, Le Roi d'Ys... Lalo Novelty number, Toy Soldiers Parade... Ring-Hager Solo for BB-Bass, Deep Bass. Fillmore Gerald McNally Selection from Opera, Lakme... Delibes Italian Fox Trot, Sa-Lu-Ta!... Donaldson Novelty March, On the Mall. Goldman

The overture is from Lalo's opera in three acts—a standard French work and is played from a special arrangement made from the original score by Dr. Putnam. The Toy Soldiers' Parade and Sa-Lu-Ta are also special arrangements of Dr. Putnam for the Gold Star band.

Catholics Organize Student Club Here

A group to be known as the Catholic Students Club has recently been organized on the campus. Officers elected at a meeting Tuesday night are as follows: Floyd McDunn, president; James Moore, vice-president; Elizabeth Fitzgerald, secretary; and Peter Koval, treasurer. Membership in the club is open to all Catholic students on the campus, according to Mr. McDunn.

Meetings will be held in the K. C. Hall down town. Fother Dworschack has been chosen chaplain of the group. A similar organization at the University of North Dakota has lately become a chapter of the National Newman Club, and own their own clubhouse on the campus.

Stock Judgers Awarded Medals By College Club

J. E. Eastgate, Larimore, Honored At Saddle And Sirloin Banquet Thursday

Two hundred and twenty-five North Dakota Livestock breeders and students from the college attended the Portrait Hanging Banquet at Ceres Hall Thursday evening. The portrait of J. E. Eastgate of Larimore, was placed in the Saddle and Sirloin Club's "Hall of Fame", at that time.

Prof. J. H. Shepperd was toastmaster. A short address of welcome was given by Clyde Barks, president of the Saddle and Sirloin Club, which is an organization of agricultural students who are interested in livestock. This welcome was supplemented by one from Dr. John Lee Coulter, president of the college.

Students Honored

Immediately following the dinner, members of three agricultural college stock judging teams, were awarded gold medals by the Saddle and Sirloin Club for their excellent showings in 1927. In each instance the trainer of the team was given the honor of presenting the awards to his team. A. O. Barton presented the wards to the poultry judging team consisting of Russell Widdifield, Leal; Howard Lewis, Binford, and Lawrence Reiten, Petersburg.

Prof. J. R. Dice presented the awards to the dairy judging team consisting of Clyde Barks, Egeland; Allen Mortenson, Mandan and Russell Widdifield, Leal.

Prof. E. J. Thompson delivered the medals to the fat stock judging team consisting of: Clyde Barks, Clair Southam, Mohall; Merrill Burke, Leal; Graham Fuller, Hamilton; Walter Davidson, Valley City and Leroy Lillie, Maxbass.

Pays Tribute

"I would rather have my picture hanging with those of the veteran livestock producers of North Dakota than to have it placed among any other group in any other place in the world," declared Frank Hyland, who paid a glowing tribute to Mr. Eastgate, following a lifelong acquaintance. Mr. Hyland is one of the best known livestock auctioneers of the northwest, and has had an intimate acquaintance with the livestock producers of the state since pioneer days.

Eastgate's Response

"Frankly, there are times when I like to talk. Tonight is not one of them," said Mr. Eastgate, when asked by Professor Shepperd to respond, as his picture was unveiled.

"No man is self made," said Mr. Eastgate. "I should like to say to the young men who are attending this institution, do not think that the world owes you anything. Think rather what you have received from the world, from its educational institutions, and think what you owe the world and how you can repay it the best you can."

"There is just one thing for a man to do who is honored as I have been tonight. Not to think he is worthy of it but to thank Heaven for it."

Mr. Dinsmore paid a tribute to Professor Shepperd, for his work for more than 20 years as superintendent of the livestock judging contents for college students of the nation held annually at the International Livestock show at Chicago. He said that all of the students who have contested for the high honors at the International, from all parts of the nation and for the past 20 years, have a high regard, a warm personal friendship and deep respect for Professor Shepperd.

Howard Lewis, a student in the School of Agriculture here last term, has accepted a position with the Greater North Dakota Association and will work out of Fargo, covering the various counties in the State, in cooperation with Mr. Hart of the G. N. D. A., giving lectures.

ANOTHER PROBLEM

The North Dakota State College campus is over-run with children, small boys, and sometimes girls, who appear only after dark, and who have no regard for property.

Several reports have come to The Spectrum that a few students who attended the Lettermen's dance after the game Friday night returned to their coats only to find some of their personal articles "missing." In one case a bill fold containing twenty dollars was taken, in other cases less valuable loot rewarded someone's criminal aspirations. Although no knowledge as to who stole these articles is available, the writer is of the opinion that it was an "outside job", and very probably could be traced to our band of juvenile night hawks who roam the campus between seven and midnight, night after night.

Anyone who cares to visit the vicinity of The Spectrum's office in the basement of Old Main during the above hours can usually find enough of the younger generation to start an average sized orphanage. These children have been known to tear notices off the bulletin board, and in many other ways damage college property by marking up walls, plugging up wash bowls, etc.

The Spectrum suggests that immediate steps be taken to keep these young children off the campus, particularly out of the buildings. They have no business here, and perhaps to exile them from the confines of the college would be to eliminate the temptation afforded by the presence of bill folds, which, in itself, is a worthy cause!

SPORTSMANSHIP MINUS

The Bison-Bunny battle that was fought out in the armory Friday night was about as close a contest, and as replete with thrills, as any game which has graced our court in years. As a model basketball game it would have been perfect but for two things, one controllable, the other beyond our control.

In the first place it would have been nice for the Bison to come out ahead instead of the Bunnies; but the students and the new pep club, together with the band, couldn't alter that situation. In the second place, the students, the alumni, and the Fargoans present acquired an intense dislike for the referee because he was "calling 'em close." Jeers, jibes, and other forms of sarcasm filled the atmosphere immediately after ever foul was called on a Bison player. This was a situation that we could control, and in the games to come, MUST control. A close scrutiny of the statistics would show that the Bison had as many chances at the free throw line as the Bunnies had.

North Dakota State has been noted for sportsmanship. Let's not have that reputation dimmed by the loud mouths of a few of us when our team is behind. Save the energy expended in "beefing" and use it to advantage behind a rousing "Yea Bison!" That will help more than any individual cleverness vested in biting sarcasm.

Just Comment

WISE and OTHERWISE

WELL WE got it—the song fest—but only about half of the student-body turned out to take advantage of the opportunity to learn some of the songs. We did not accomplish as much as had been hoped for. Every effort to organize any student body seems to run up against a peculiar inertia, a something that hinders getting ALL of the students actually going—actually doing something.

"DOC" PUTNAM—the man who has helped us, served us, cheered us, worked with and for us, twenty-five long years. A quarter of a century in service! When a couple celebrates their silver anniversary, they get their picture in the paper, a lot of fine presents, and not a little fame. Not entirely so with our "Doc." Perhaps he has not got the hard, black headlines and all the exterior flare-ups. But there are about eleven hundred students around here who would fight to the last ditch for the grand old music teacher. There are thousands of alumni, perhaps some of them in their declining years, who think of him with a mixture of reverence and envy—an envy born of his career of service and the indomitable display of youth that characterizes his work and actions.

It would be hard to put into words the feeling of esteem we have for him. And anyway, he knows he has this loyalty and affection. As he proceeds on his next twenty-five years he will find us right at his calling, many of us with our eyes fixed on his example and endeavoring to imitate it.

I'M THE FELLOW

I'm the fellow who can't afford to buy a prom ticket. I go down town to the dance halls and spend three or four dollars in an evening to amuse myself, but when it comes to a school affair I just can't afford it, that's all. I know I should sacrifice a little of my down town amusement in order to patronize the school social functions, but I don't want to. If I did, I couldn't say that I can't afford the school dance. I may be a Junior, but I can't afford the Junior Prom. I may be a Senior, but really, I can't afford to go to the Senior Ball. I don't even think I'll attend the Military Ball this year, it's so expensive. I might go to an All-College or two, but I doubt it. The Charity Ball is my only hope.

WE ALL appreciated the dance the Lettermen's club put on after the game. The floor was a mass of students, townspeople, and dust. We had a good time even if the tickets did flourish. It has been suggested that if these little parties follow each game all those with "all-college-danceitis" will be more than satisfied. Hooray! Now we're making progress.

Student Opinion

Since attending the rally Friday, and the game likewise, I have wondered if there is not some way that more co-operation between yell leaders and the students could be brought out. One thing which was very noticeable Friday was that the students did not know the yells and songs, especially the latter. If the students do not know their own yells and songs, the yell leaders can not do their best.

I do not know whether this has been suggested before, if so no harm done. But the freshmen comprise the greatest number in any one class, and they do not know the songs and yells. Why not have this put into the hands of the various organizations on the campus that have "rookies" and compel them to learn these yells and songs. We have several fraternities and sororities on the campus that could do this.

I am sure that every one of these organizations would be more than willing to do their all in this matter.
 E. G. FERGUSON.

Why the "Y"?

One thing it's for, is, for you freshmen. (Of course sophomores and upperclassmen always have as many privileges as freshmen). As a freshman, however, you have the greatest opportunity that the "Y" presents. It's a place to get acquainted, it's a place to study, it's a place to take part in athletics, as well as a place of diversion. These four opportunities alone

Bison Rally Falls Short; Bunnies Win 31-30

Timer's Gun Saves State From Defeat

Thundering Herd, Led By Gergen, Trims Jackrabbit Lead To One Point As Game Ends

(By Oliver Radde)

Displaying a determined offense in the second half, the North Dakota Bison all but overcame the lead established by the South Dakota State team but lost by a score of 31 to 30 in one of the most thrilling contests ever witnessed on the armory court.

The representatives of South Dakota State are the best group of courtmen that have upheld the name of that institution for several years. They displayed an offense in the first half of the contest and part of the second period that could not be denied and during this time piled up a lead that was just one point too great for the Bison to overcome. The husky lads from the south opened the game with two pretty shots which gave them a lead that they never relinquished.

Gergen Starts Rally

Near the middle of the second half the Bison realized that they were being overwhelmed and from that point on the game took on a different aspect. It is doubtful if any of the older State college students can remember a more determined rally than the Bison made in the second half. Pete Gergen started the comeback when he stole Cheadle's stuff, took the ball away from him and dribbled in for a close shot. Immediately the rest of the herd took heart while the Jackrabbits apparently went to pieces. This turn of events brought the entire crowd to its feet and the roof of the armory all but left its resting place.

With about six minutes to go, the Bison were six points behind the Bunnies and in four minutes the lead was cut to one single tally as the result of baskets by Bliss and Gergen, and a free throw by McPherson. The fans were in a frenzy as several Bison attempts hit the rim only to roll around the edge and then fall back into a more frenzied mixture of Bison and Bunny players. Pete Gergen took a pass from McPherson to go in for a shot but Pete had hard luck and his attempt was not good.

Bunnies Stall

The Bunnies got the ball and tied it up for the final two minutes. The timer's gun ended one of the hardest fought games ever witnessed on the Bison court.

Coach Edmond's team played a good brand of basketball and will be a big factor in deciding the winner of the conference championship. Cheadle and Engleman were perhaps the outstanding Bunny stars but their good work was made better as a result of excellent teamwork of every Bunny player.

Y Team Tops League; Ramblers Are Second

The Y. M. C. A. team, by virtue of three victories and no defeats, stands at the top of the list in the "Y" basketball league standings. The Ramblers, undefeated, but with only two victories, are close seconds in the race for the championship. These two teams, the only undefeated quints of the loop, seem doomed to fight for the lead when they meet in the near future.

The Tappa Keggs and the Whip-pets are tied for third with two victories and one loss each. The Night Hawks and the Mavericks are deadlocked for fourth place having won one and lost one each. The Farm Husbandry team and the Demons have each scored a victory but have lost two apiece to let them down to fifth. The Farm House and Barracks quints have yet to chalk up a win and are relegated to share the cellar position.

Fargo High Puckmen Beat Baby Bison 4-3

The Fargo high school hockey team took advantage of the lack of co-operation of the Bison frosh to defeat them, 4 to 3, in the first game of the season for the freshmen sextet at the Island park ring Saturday afternoon.

The high school took the offensive in the first period and Lewis and Stefferud each scored a goal while the Bison lacked teamwork enough to put the puck into the net. McGrath scored for the Bison in the second period. The Bison played loosely in the opening minutes of the third period and Lewis and Stefferud each scored again. McGrath came through for another goal and Johnson followed suit as the game ended.

Kappa Psi Courtmen Lead Greek League

Gamma Rhos Doped To Beat Delta Pi Team In Tonight's Fracas; Theta Chi Meets Beta Chi.

In games last week the Gamma Rho took their first win of the season from the Kappa Phi team 20 to 8. A three-way tie was the result of the Delta Sig-Theta Chi affair which resulted in a win for the Theta Chi five 13 to 10. The Beta Chi forfeited to the Delta Pi for the Engineer's first win of the season. The Kappa Psi easily defeated the Sigma Taus 18 to 12 in their contest.

Delta Sigs Win

The last year's champs, Gamma Rho, went down to defeat before a fast traveling Theta Chi five in the outstanding struggle of the week. A free throw in the overtime period gave the Theta Chi quint a claim on second place, 13 to 12. The Delta Sigs sent the Kappa Phi another notch down the ladder into a tie with the Delta Pi, and Gamma Rhos, 15-13.

Our Predictions

In the games tonight the Gamma Rhos should easily dispose of the Delta Pi quint, and the second game which brings together the Beta Chi and Theta Chi should be about the same with the latter team out in front at the end of the activities. Wednesday night the Delta Sigs and Sigma Taus clash and the winner will hold on to the second place berth with Theta Chi for a week. The Kappa Psi should take the Kappa Phi according to their past record but the Phi team is about due for a win. Thursday brings together the Theta Chi and Delta Pi in which the former should win easily. The Gamma Rhos conclude the weeks activities by meeting the Beta Chis in a sure win, on the dope sheet, for the former.

Mr. and Mrs. Sydness, Mr. and Mrs. Baldwin, Dorothy Adams and Francis Ross were dinner guests at the Theta Chi house, Sunday, January 22.

Student Opinion

In the January 12th issue of The Spectrum of last year we find an interesting account of the seventeenth annual concert given by the Gold Star Band for the Tri-State Farm Congress. That means that for seventeen years our band has been on the program of this meeting. Of the twenty-five years that Doc Putnam has been heer the last seventeen he has directed the band in this concert. The members of the congress have looked forward to this concert and have thoroughly enjoyed it judging from the comments. Why then wasn't the band scheduled for this program this year? The sentiment is that this organization is one of the best advertisers that the college has. We fear that there was a little slip up on the arrangements for the congress this year. When a thing has been done for seventeen years it becomes one of our traditions. We regret very much an incident of this kind and suggest to the directors of the congress that they think a little more and weigh relative values before arranging the next congress.

John Bohlig Is Named Ass't Prom Manager

John Bohlig, junior in the School of Science and Literature, has been named assistant manager of the Junior Prom by Foss Narum, leader of the ball. Mr. Bohlig is a member of Alpha Kappa Phi, Blue Key, and Scabbard and Blade fraternities.

Mr. Bohlig was runner-up in the prom elections, being defeated by Mr. Narum by a close vote.

Four committee heads were announced by the prom leader today. They are: Richard Hackenberg, publicity; Marion Trowbridge, patrons and patronesses; Harold Phillips, tickets; and Evelyn Blakeslee, features. Other chairmen will be announced later, according to Mr. Narum.

Schalk Will Speak At Bismarck Show

Bismarck, N. D., Jan. 21.—Dr. A. F. Schalk, head of the veterinary department of the North Dakota State College, will be one of the principal speakers on the program of the Slope Poultry Association luncheon Thursday, A. R. Miesen, temporary chairman of the association has announced.

The luncheon will be a feature of the Missouri Slope Poultry show to be held on Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday.

Crates to house 1,000 birds have been ordered for the display and all other arrangements for a record entry list made.

Dr. Schalk, an authority on turkeys and poultry diseases, will conduct a question box as a feature of his address.

UNDERGRADUATE DEGREE IS NEEDED, SAYS WEEKS

The current number of School and Society contains an article by Dean Weeks. In this it is proposed that a special credential, or a certificate of collegiate status, might be provided for students who do not feel the need of completing a full four year course but who would greatly profit by a period of college attendance, such as adults who desire special work and high school graduates who will not enter professions. Some sort of college credential analogous to a degree, it is argued, would be appropriate to dignify the status of bona fide students whose purpose could be satisfied with less than four years of attendance.
