

Coulter Predicts New Athletic Era

Gold Star Band To Give Concert At Convocation

Bison March and North Dakota Hymn Will Be Featured Friday Morning

Featuring the new "Bison March" the Gold Star Band of the North Dakota State College will give a convocation concert in the armory Friday morning at 9:40, according to Dr. C. S. Putnam, director.

"The Bison March" was written by Dr. Putnam and will be played in public for the first time Friday morning. The North Dakota Hymn, also composed by the college music director, will make its initial bow to the students at this concert.

New Hymn On Sale

The new hymn which has recently been published was written by James Foley, North Dakota poet, and was set to music by Dr. Putnam. It will be on sale to students in the armory preceding the concert at ten cents the copy which includes words and music.

Friday morning's program includes the "Bison March," by Dr. Putnam, played by the band and the bugle band and drum corps; an overture, "In the Land of the Missions," by Mustol; novelty, "The Doll Dance," by Brown; Suite de Concert, L'Arlesienne, by Bizet, of which the band will play I. Prelude, and IV. LeCarillon; "North Dakota Hymn" by Dr. Putnam; and a novelty "When Day Is Done" by Katscher, including a trumpet solo, by Billy Euren, a saxophone choir, a trombone solo by Alex Murdock, and chimes by Betty Sheldon. The "Yellow and the Green" concludes the convocation.

The Board of Administration will be present at the convocation and each member will be called upon to say a few words. It is the desire of the school officials that every student turn out for the concert that the Board may view the crowded condition of the armory when our entire student body is present, stated Dean A. E. Minard, in charge of the convocation.

Class Play Contest To Be Held Thursday

Four One-Act Productions Will Vie For Supremacy In Annual Joust

The eighth annual inter-class one-act play contest will be held in the Little Country Theatre at the North Dakota State College at 7 p. m. Thursday. At this time, each of the four collegiate classes will compete in presenting the best play of 30 minutes duration.

"It Makes A Difference" which has been chosen by the Freshmen class for the contest will be directed by Maurice Nelson. Taylor Hayes is coaching the sophomore play, "The Last Cache," Marion Stone is the director of "Dawn," the one-act play which the junior class will stage and Gladys Whitney is the coach of the senior cast which will present "Lection."

Last year the class of 1929 won the contest with the playing of "The Passing of Chow Chow." Results of the affair will be announced in the next issue of the paper. Casts for all the plays will be included.

1928 Bison Ties For Third Place In Art Crafts Guild's National Contest

For the first time in the history of North Dakota State College, a year-book has gained national distinction. The 1928 Bison, published in May, tied for third place in the Art Crafts Guild National Contest for college annuals held in Chicago recently, according to word received by Dick Hackenberg, who was editor of the book.

The Bison was entered in Class Two, which includes all schools in the United States with an enrollment between 900 and 2,000. Hundreds of books were entered in this class which enjoyed more competition than any other class of the contest.

The "Drift," of Butler College took first place; The "Rotunda," of Southern Methodist University placed second; and the St. Louis University "Archive" tied the 1928 Bison for third.

A. A. Segal, of the Bureau of Engraving, Inc., of Minneapolis, which company did all the engraving work for the Bison, pointed out the unusual distinction accorded the 1928 year-book. He states that he wouldn't blame the staff of the annual for "throwing away all their hats and caps. Why my hat is even too small for my head today," he concludes.

The 1928 Bison carried a theme of a "Greater North Dakota" and a special section with the same title. F. Ralph Hollands was business manager of the book, being re-elected to the managership of the 1929 Bison this year. The staff of the book was as follows:

Everett Wallum, associate editor; Madelyn Parrott, administration; Dorothy Kretzschmar, classes; Rebecca Keene, Bison Life; Emery Putnam, athletics; Ruby Oscarson, women's athletics; Elrey Young, organizations; and "Ebony Blott," satire. Sub-titles were drawn by Alf Skaret. The business staff included Harry Wold, advertising manager; Marion Egan, assistant business manager; Frank Hannaer, assistant business manager; Eloise Powers, office manager; and Harold Phillips, advertising sales.

Outlook Bright For '28 Season Says Cortright

Fifteen Lettermen Will Return To Next Year's Aggregation; Frosh Material Good

A new athletic era was predicted by President John Lee Coulter at the annual football banquet held in Ceres Hall last night at which members of the varsity and freshman squads, and the Fargo high school players were honor guests.

Over 150 Bison Boosters, football players, students, and members of the faculty were present. Talks were made by President Coulter, B. C. Tighe, and Coach Cortright.

New Athletic Field Planned

The president outlined tentative plans for the construction of a new athletic field north of the college campus on thirteenth street, and of the building of a new armory within the next few years.

"The proposed site for the new athletic field is the best in this part of the country," said President Coulter, "and will cover a territory equivalent to six city blocks." A site west of the campus on twelfth avenue was considered but rejected on account of the small amount of ground free from poor drainage.

The new athletic field would be a magnificent one providing ample space for the building of a stadium when the size of the school warrants such action.

Armory Will Be Built

Dr. Coulter stated that the college would start a fund toward the building of a new armory to cost approximately $400,000 in the near future. He pointed out that it may be several years before the building would assume realistic proportions.

The banquet opened with singing by the assemblage which closed with the "Yellow and the Green." President Coulter acted as toastmaster in the absence of Coach Cortright who arrived from Chicago during the president's opening talk and was given an ovation by the players and fans.

Dr. Coulter expressed sympathy that Major John L. Griffith, commissioner of athletics for the Big Ten, who was expected to be the speaker of the evening, could not be present because of the death of a member of his family. B. C. Tighe, principal of Fargo high school, was called on to "pinch hit" for the major and his message could not have been improved upon by the Big Ten commissioner himself. Mr. Tighe stressed the points that Major Griffith undoubtedly would have emphasized, since the Major and Mr. Tighe are well acquainted.

1928 Outlook Bright

Coach Cortright was then called on by the President. The director of athletics pointed out the optimistic future for the Bison next year with the return of fifteen lettermen and the appearance of the best sophomore material in the history of the institution. Mr. Cortright remarked on the all-conference selections made at Chicago, and told of the Notre Dame-Southern California game which he witnessed while there.

Members of the varsity team, the frosh squad, and the Fargo high men were introduced to the fans.

NOTICE

All freshman basketball candidates must report in the armory at 7 p. m. tonight. First intensive practice starts. Everybody out!

Leonard Saalwachter, Coach.

Plans Complete For Sigma Theta Bazaar

Project Used By Sorority To Raise Money For Scholarship Loan Fund

All plans have been completed for the annual bazaar and tea which the Sigma Theta sorority of the North Dakota State college will hold at the Gardner hotel on Saturday. This project is used by the sorority members to raise money for the Irene Leimbacher Memorial Fund, which is dispensed as a scholarship loan fund to assist young women at the college to obtain their education. Tea will be served during the afternoon and during the tea hours a musical program will be given in the tea room. The green and red of the holiday season will be used in the decoration of the lobby of the hotel where the bazaar will be staged. Miss Jean Wilson is general chairman and she is being assisted in making the arrangements for the gathering by Mrs. A. H. Leimbacher, a sorority patroness, and Mrs. Mildred Welter, Mrs. Neva Souers and Misses Ardath Calmer, Frances Lamb, Gladys Whitney and Rebecca Keene. The sale is open to the public.

Miss Lamb In Charge Of Tea

Mrs. Welter heads the sales committee and her assistants in securing and marking the articles that will be offered for sale are Miss Kate Eddy and Miss Helen Lindquist. Mrs. Neva Souers and Mrs. Henry D. Brown and Miss Gretchen Weiser are also working on the sales committee. Miss Frances Lamb has charge of the tea arrangements and her assistants are Misses Floy Beatty, Margaret Ballard and Marion Trowbridge. Miss Ardath Calmer has charge of the decorations and she will be assisted in the work by Miss Dorothy Olson and Dorothy Volkamer. The committee on promotion is headed by Miss Guenn Guthrie and her assistants are Miss Gladys Whitney and Miss Rebecca Keene.

PHI KAPPA LAMBDA TO GIVE DANCING PARTY

Active members and pledges of the Phi Kappa Lambda sorority of the North Dakota State college will sponsor a dancing party in the Crystal ball room on Friday, Dec. 9, according to plans that are now being made. The hours will be from 8:30 until 11:30 p. m. and it is expected that about 40 couples will attend. Miss Margaret May is chairman of the general arrangements committee.

FOUR LOOP CONTESTS SCHEDULED FOR 1928

Four conference games have been scheduled by Coach Ion Cortright for the 1928 football season, at the athletic directors meeting in Chicago Saturday and Sunday.

South Dakota University will meet the Bison on Dacotah Field here on October 13. The annual clash with the University of North Dakota is scheduled for October 27, and this day will no doubt be the annual Bison Round-Up and Homecoming. On November 3, the Bison meet the Morningside college team at Sioux City, Iowa; and the annual joust with the South Dakota Jackrabbits will be held at Brookings, November 10. Four non-conference games, not yet booked, will complete the schedule.

Community Program To Be Given Tonight

Twelve Members Will Feature Typical Entertainment In Theatre

Announcement of twelve numbers to feature the typical community program to be presented in the North Dakota State college Little Country Theatre tonight, at 7:30 p. m., was made yesterday by A. G. Arvold. The entire program is arranged and managed by students.

The program, in order of presentation, consists of: Music, by Arthur Walde's orchestra; talk on the "Neighborhood," by Everett Wallum; community singing, led by Inez Lunder; display of rugs, exhibited by Dorothy Burton; violin solo, by Marian South; an athletic exhibit which consists of a dance by Harriet Phillips, and parallel bars, by Elmer Gray; "how to break a swimming hold," by Homer Allison, and a rifle drill by Evelyn Blakeslee, Olive Osness, Edythe Smith, and Virginia Sands.

One Act Play Listed

A talk, illustrated by slides, will be given by Carl Ash; a trio, consisting of Alviron Overbye with a mandolin, Adolph Ekerberg, harmonica, and Lawrence Hokanson, violin; demonstration of turkey carving, by P. F. Trowbridge; cello solo, by Ruby Oscarson, one-act play "Danger," casting Luella McDunn, Norris Olson, Carl Ash, and Peter Kovol.

A number by the orchestra closes the program, after which a social hour and refreshments will be enjoyed in the Lincoln Log Cabin.

NOTICE

Rifle practice starts Thursday at 1:30 p. m. Everybody out! Lieutenant Ross, Coach.

Gergen Leads Herd To Turkey Day Win

Newgard, Berntson, Fisher, End Football Careers in Blaze Of Glory

Displaying a tight defense which sent the vaunted DePaul passing attack into the depths of despair, the North Dakota Bison scored a 21 to 6 victory over the Chicago eleven at the windy city Thanksgiving Day.

Led by Pete Gergen, who scored the first touchdown of the game by terminating an uninterrupted march down the field, and the second by intercepting a pass behind the Bison goal and dashing 100 yards for the score, the Thundering Herd piled up enough points in the first half to clinch the game.

Newgard Scores

The third Bison counter came in the second period when Jug Newgard, playing his last game, intercepted a DePaul pass and raced sixty yards across the Chicagoan's goal line. DePaul scored late in the final period after a determined journey to the Bison five-yard line.

Newgard, Fisher, and Berntson, senior members of the team, celebrated their final appearance in yellow and green uniforms by making it a gala day. Berntson paved the way for the first touchdown by blocking a DePaul punt on their own ten-yard line, Newgard's sensational dash after intercepting a pass was a fitting and proper farewell, and Fisher's strong game at center was also outstanding.

Gergen Plunges Through

The Bison made their first touchdown on a well earned series of line drives down the field, Gergen counting the last yard to the DePaul goal. With the score 7 to 0 against them the Chicago team passed and plunged their way to the Bison goal line where they met stubborn resistance in the buffalo line. McInerney elected to pass over the line to one of his mates, but the ball fell into the hands of Pete Gergen, Bison fullback, who dashed the entire length of the field for another touchdown. So surprised were the DePaul players at this turn of events that Gergen was entirely unmolested during his journey. When the first quarter came to a close the score was 14 to 0 for the Bison, and Gergen had scored every point, having dropped-kicked twice for extra points.

In the second quarter, DePaul again opened up their passing attack. Newgard in covering an enemy flankman intercepted another pass and sprinted 60-yards for the final Bison tally. Guertin kicked goal.

FRESHMAN BASKETBALL

Freshman basketball, according to Coach Saalwaechter, is now in full swing, but the turnout is not what it was expected to be. This is no doubt due to the fact that many of the freshman football men, having won a numeral, would rather not come out for basketball since they will receive no second numeral for their labors.

Many of these men have decided not to come out for the freshman team that they may play on the fraternity teams when the interfraternity league starts. In doing this they are sacrificing one year of coaching under Mr. Saalwaechter and will be just that far behind the others when they become eligible for varsity competition. Coach Saalwaechter expressed the desire for all freshmen to come out now and then if they feel like dropping out to enter the interfraternity competition later in the season they would still have some of the fundamentals drilled into them, which will help them a great deal next year.

Every fraternity on the campus should encourage their freshmen to pursue the plan Coach Saalwaechter has laid out, since it will be of equal benefit to the college and the respective fraternities to have representatives on the varsity team who have had a year's coaching during their freshman year under Coach Saalwaechter.

UNDESIRABLE DECORATIONS

Some time ago The Spectrum advocated that soccer be played somewhere else other than on the campus green east of the library. Now that the soccer season is over, no more advocating can consistently be done on that score, but we would like to go on record as advocating the removal of the soccer goal posts which still "decorate" said east campus. At the present time it looks like the frozen-up remnants of an athletic field. Soccer should not have been played there in the first place, the posts should never have been erected there in the second place, and the whole sport should be confined to Dacotah Field which is THE place to be used for such activities.

We don't need soccer posts during the winter and by taking them down we can improve the looks of the east campus even under a blanket of snow. And it wouldn't be a bad idea to forget to put them up there again in the spring either.

1. A chemistry student? He's the sulphur dioxide egg with the unshaven mug. He carries a filthy old pipe in his mouth which he smokes in the lab from eight to five-thirty. This flat-head is the brainiest man in the school. He knows all about math and molecules. He only wears out three pencils in figuring out the circumference of your hat band when y equals the size of your shoes. His bad habits are: writing formulae all over the walls, and mixing chemicals in an effort to make a worse odor than that produced by his neighbor's mixture. His pockets are full of weights, thistle tubes and evaporating dishes as additions to his private lab. He thinks he will manage the Duco Paint factory on graduation.

2. A S. & L. student?—"S. & L." stands for Socialistic and Leisurely, and denotes that special grinder that just goes to college. A S. & L. student may be distinguished by his sleepy eyes, his prosperous looking clothes, perpetual cigarette, and his car. He is found at all hops, college social functions, and is a pest around the Spectrum office. He thinks he's Barrymore and Joesting all in one. His habits are captivating; he regularly bums a ret, drags a Jane to a jig, forgets to study, gets nineties, and leaves this school in his sopho-

I'M THE CHEAT

I'm the cheat who always finds you about a half hour before class time and copies down your work to hand in. I know it isn't fair to you or to my instructor but I must get it in to keep from getting a poor mark. I usually do get poor marks in my exams on account of all my copying but my daily average is high and I manage to get through. I go out nights and have a dandy time because I know I'll find someone in my class who stayed at home and worked the lesson out. I can always copy their work. This saves me lots of time, although my fellow students don't think much of me or my methods. But I should worry. Just so I manage to get through. It doesn't make any difference to me whether I learn anything or not.

more or junior year and goes to Northwestern. His first morning class is at nine or ten o'clock.

NOTE—How to commit suicide in the Science building—whisper that Mr. Minard is not the best dean on the campus.

3. An architect?—Distinguished on the campus by his ragged, slouch hat and his dirty hands. You rarely see this bird as he hibernates in the architect's building and emerges only to eat and sleep. His emerging hours are at noon, at six bells, and at two o'clock in the morning. He re-enters the cage with a fresh bottle of ink at 6:30 a. m. If the visitor desires to see the rare specimen at night he should stand outside the building and await his chance. The architectural building is the one all lit up all night, and from whose windows gashouse harmony continually flows. This later characteristic has made it a congregating place for music lovers who are fond of sitting outside and drinking in the ambrosial melody. A bill is before the board to move the "U's" stadium down here for the music lovers to sit in but—end of page two.

Student Opinion

To the Editor of The Spectrum:
 In the stream of human life that flows through the world you find no two men exactly alike. You do find, however, that people are divided into classes. Abraham Lincoln said that all men were created equal. We believe this but on the other hand all men are not equal after living their life or even part of it. Some men develop their character and are looked upon as the ideal by everyone while others degenerate themselves. They degenerate even their very soul so that it schivels up to nothing. The most contemptible cur that the world knows is the common thief. The man who will take the coat off his brothers back when his brother is needy. The one who will take a pair of gloves from some other boy who perhaps is working his way through college. What can you do with a pup of a human being who does such things? Would tying him or her in stocks as they did in colonial days be severe enough? Letting them exist out in the open where everyone passing could look at them and say "there is a thief! We would suggest that anyone caught stealing be given punishment to the full extent of the law. We have never tolerated thieves on our campus. We respect it and intend to keep it free from such contemptible individuals that take property from their fellow men. A thief once caught is marked for the rest of his life. People all hear about it and what is more if a man will steal once he is likely to steal again and murder will out.

BLUE KEY.

Seven In One

Seven schools are located in one college. That is the situation at the North Dakota Agricultural College. Other schools will be added in the future as they are needed.

The School of Mechanic Arts, the School of Science and Literature, the School of Agriculture, the School of Chemistry, the School of Pharmacy, the School of Home Economics, and the School of Education comprise the divisions within the college.

Within the seven schools are various departments. Architecture and Architectural Engineering, Civil Engineering, Electrical Engineering, and Mechanical Engineering comprise the School of Mechanic Arts. Other schools have their divisions in a similar manner.

Those seven schools in one college are housed on a campus containing nineteen major buildings.

Ebullitions of Ebony Blott

By Everett Wallum

That football trip to Chicago was a total flop. Not a player got shot during the stay there.

It's almost as bad as going to Reno without getting a divorce.

They aren't satisfied in Chicago with shooting only their own citizens. Now they've declared war on England.

These Chicagoans sure must be strong for puzzles the way they're always riddling each other with bullets.

It has almost reached the point where a man can tell how many times he's been married by counting his gunshot wounds.

Murder is getting so common that when a Chicago housewife hears of her husband's death, she just tells the cook to fry one egg less for breakfast. She then resumes her reading.

The burglar robs the bootlegger, the bootlegger poisons the bandit, and the bandit shoots them both. Lot of fun.

The bandit's usual query is "Have you had your lead today?"

It's funny how they'll shoot ten cents worth of lead in a guy for a nickel.

They rarely shoot a policeman. They never find any.

The gunmen would undoubtedly use gas on their victims, but they hate to copy the politicians.

When an honest husband leaves home in the morning to go to work, he kisses his wife goodbye and tells her he hopes she will get along on the insurance.

And the wife replies that what the deuce will she do with money as she has to go uptown, too, this afternoon.

The only persons whose life is safe in Chicago are those who have committed murder.

Chicago is one place where most men would like to bring their mothers-in-law.

In an automobile, at least, the mother-in-law is the back seat of every trouble.

In Chicago, the fourth of July is a day of rest.

The thugs have a high aim in life—they're trying to shoot pilots in an airplane.

One accomplishment though, Chicago has developed a real permanent wave—the crime wave.

They should be good basketball players, the way they shoot baskets—bread baskets.

They're so blood thirsty they even slice prunes, shoot dice, and kill the bottle.

All the people aren't masked in in Chicago. It's just bandages.

Four Bison Named on Third All-Conference Grid Team

Newgard, Sullivan, Berntson and Guertin Chosen By Loop Coaches Yesterday

Four Bison football men were awarded places on the third All-Conference selection of the loop coaches of the North Central circuit yesterday.

Jug Newgard, Mike Sullivan, and Byron Berntson make up the mythical left side of the third string line while Polly Guertin cavorts in the backfield.

Four members of the Creighton university football team, three each from South Dakota university and South Dakota State college and one from Morningside of Sioux City were accorded positions on the all North Central conference team.

Eight Creighton players were honored on the three teams selected, three being placed on the second squad and one on the third. South Dakota university placed six, getting three on the second team while South Dakota State was accorded seven positions three being on the second team and one on the third.

North Dakota university and State college were left out in the cold as far as landing men on the select team was concerned. North Dakota university has to be satisfied with placing Lewy Lee at left tackle on the second team. Stuart MacMillan at center, Willis Shepard at right end and Paul Boyd at fullback on the third team.

None of the Bison players placed as high as the second team but the left side of the mythical third eleven is comprised of George Newgard at end, Mike Sullivan at tackle, and Polly Guertin gets the left halfback position.

The complete selections, as announced by the coaches, follow:

First Team

- LE—Somers, Creighton.
- LT—Maillard, Creighton.
- LG—Canaglia, Creighton.

Bison Athlete Is Making Enviably Record Coaching

Spav McQuillan, '16, Football Mentor at Stetson, Piles Up Lists of Wins

Herbert R. (Spav) McQuillan, North Dakota Bison star athlete from 1912 to 1916, is making an enviable record as a college coach in the south.

McQuillan is coaching the Stetson university Hatters of Deland, Fla., and his team conquered the Center college Praying Colonels, 26 to 0, Saturday. Center was heralded nation wide because of its victory over Harvard several years ago.

McQuillan's home is at Rochester, Minn. Before taking over the athletic reins at Stetson in 1923, he coached the Lakeland high school football team for three years. His proteges won the state championship in his final season there.

Saturday's victory was not the first notable one which McQuillan's team has scored this season. In the opening contest of the year his charges defeated the Auburn Tigers, 6 to 0.

the first defeat which Auburn suffered on its home gridiron in 19 years.

The Hatters represent a university of 500 students, and they played the part of victorious underdogs by defeating the mighty Auburn eleven representing 2,000 students.

Football followers of Florida placed McQuillan upon a lofty pedestal for his sensational achievement affecting such an upset. Locally, he and his squad were accorded the most mammoth celebration ever staged in Stetson's history of 42 years after the defeat of Auburn. The keys of the city were turned over to him.

Phi Kappa Phi Holds Fall Meeting Tonight

Eight Seniors To Be Initiated Into Membership By Local Chapter of Fraternity

The fall term meeting of the North Dakota State chapter of Phi Kappa Phi will be held tonight in the library of the college Y. M. C. A., according to Harriet Pearson, chairman of the program committee.

Eight senior candidates will be initiated at this meeting. They are: Peter Kovol, Edith Thorsell, Ella Kapaum, John Johnson, Lauretta Nilles, Lillian Opfer, Frank Sitko, and Clyde Barks. Following the initiation there will be a program of musical numbers and an address by the Reverend Patrick Ramsbottom on the subject: "Preserving an element of the savage in the thorough education of man."

Officers of the local chapter of Phi Kappa Phi, recently elected to serve for this year, are as follows: President, J. R. Rice; Vice-president, A. F. Hunsaker; Secretary-treasurer, E. H. Jones; and Historian, Harriet Pearson.

Student Opinion

To the Editor of the Spectrum:

Last Tuesday night the Edwin Booth Dramatic Club presented its annual fall term play. The play was one that has enjoyed, just recently, long runs in New York and London and it was played at the Little Country Theatre by a cast of well-coached students who have made for themselves a reputation in college dramatic work.

Now we say that we are proud because our campus is the home of the internationally known Little Country Theatre, and that Mr. Arvold, its founder and a world authority on community plays and play production, is a member of our faculty staff.

However, it seems that we only say that we are proud and do not mean what we say by expressing our appreciation with actions.

For instance, last Tuesday night about one hundred students and downtown people were present at the play. Does that sound like loyalty to Mr. Arvold, or does it appear that we appreciate the sincere efforts of our fellow students, and are willing to back them?

No doubt many of the students have never acquainted themselves with the high class work that the Little Country Theatre is doing through its dramatic organizations.

I would suggest that we have some morning, as our convocation program, this fall term play sponsored by the Edwin Booth Dramatic Club, so that the students can get better acquainted with the world famous Little Country Theatre and its work.

I am sure this convocation would go far toward inculcating a spirit of loyalty to campus activities, and perhaps it would be the beginning of a "Sun-Up" for our college.

PETER P. KOVOL.
