Fall Term Play To Be Presented At L. C. Theatre

Edwin Booth Dramatic Club Will Portray Mountaineer Life In "Sun-Up"

"Sun-Up," a three act play by Lula Vollmer, will be presented, tonight and tomorrow night by the Edwin Booth Dramatic Club. This is the annual fall term play of the club.

The scene of the play is laid in the mountains of western North Carolina at a time just previous to the World War. The backwardness of the mountaineers, their ignorance and lawlessness is brought out in a striking manner. The play has enjoyed an extended run in New York City, London, parts of England and Wales, and in California.

Play Is Powerful

The play is a powerful one bringing out the opposition of the mountain folk to the drafting of men for the war, and their upholding the feud as law.

The Edwin Booth Dramatic Club presents three plays during the year, one each term. Another will be given during the winter term and one in the spring.

Curtain At Eight

The cast which will present the play tonight at eight o'clock in the theatre are: Widow Cagle, Maybelle Game; Rufe Cagle, George Howell; Pap Todd, Henry Presler; Emmy Todd, Phyllis Heimark; Bud Todd, James Moore; Jim Weeks, George Kalka; preacher, Ralph Welsh; stranger, Maurice Washburn; and Bob, Hjalte Thorfinnson.

The cast which will present the play tomorrow evening at eight consists of the following: Widow Cagle, Gladys Whitney; Rufe Cagle, Foss Narum; Pap Todd, Floyd McDunn; Emmy Todd, Ruth Boerth; Bud Todd, Morris Nelson; Jim Weeks, Carl Ash; preacher, Clarence Reed; stranger, Curtis Thompson; and Bob, Donald Lawrence.

Kiddies' Christmas Party December 11

A joint meeting of the Y. M. C. A. and the Y. W. C. A. cabinets was held Sunday afternoon for the purpose of making definite arrangements for the annual Kiddies' Christmas Party, sponsored by these organizations.

The party will be held this year on the evening of Sunday, December 11, at the "Y" building, when over 100 poor and needy children of the city will be brought to the party as guests of college students and given supper, gifts, and an evening of fun.

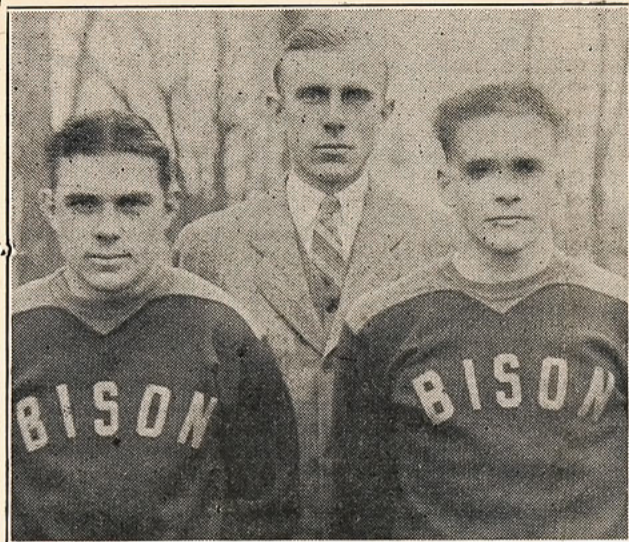

Geraldine Ewald has been named general chairman. Committees assisting her are: dinner, Jennie Grant; serving, Doris Abel; decorations, Victor Wahl; tickets, Hjalte Thorfinnson; amusement, Ronald Millard; registration, Gladys Barton; transportation, Byron Berntson; check room, Leonard Rygg; and clean-up, Carl Ash.

SOCIAL SERVICE DEPT. IS MAKING ANALYSIS

A social analysis of the community of Amenia, North Dakota, is being made for the department of public discussion and social service of the North Dakota State college by Miss Charlotte Blake, instructor.

Miss Blake is spending a month in Amenia which she finds to be a very interesting community. While there she is assisting one of the churches in directing its Christmas program. Her social analysis will be released soon, according to present plans.

First Conquest Brings Harrier Title

Russell Weiser, Coach Leonard Saalwaechter and Walter Nelson

Constant training and hard work is the prescription used by Russell Weiser and Walter Nelson, conference cross country champions, in winning the North Central title at Brookings, South Dakota, Armistice Day. The sport was introduced here by Coach Leonard Saalwaechter a year ago. Weiser and Nelson were among the novices that tried out for the team which was easily defeated by Minnesota in the fall of 1926. Minnesota won again this fall, but not so easily, and the work of these two men warranted their entering the North Central meet for the first time in the history of the school.

Major Griffith Will Speak at Grid Dinner

Banquet in Honor Of Football Squad To Be Held In Ceres Hall Monday

Major John L. Griffith, of Chicago, Commissioner of Athletics for the Big Ten conference, has been secured as the speaker for the annual football banquet at Ceres Hall, Monday, Nov. 28, according to I. J. Cortright, athletic director.

This banquet is given annually for the football team, and a captain for the coming year is elected. Members of the freshman squad and of the Fargo high eleven will be honor guests this year.

Letters To Be Awarded

Letters and numerals will be awarded at the banquet, stated Mr. Cortright, and the 1927 and 1928 captains will be called on for a few words after the latter is elected by the present squad. A limited number of reservations to students and faculty will be disposed of at seventy-five cents per plate, he added.

Dr. Albert Hallenberg, alumni member of the athletic board, will act as toastmaster. Bill Williams, an old letterman will be present and will say a few words.

College Fortunate

In reference to Major Griffith's presence at the dinner, Dr. Schalk, chairman of the athletic board, said, "We are very glad to announce that we were fortunate enough to have Major Griffith with us this year. As many perhaps know, Major Griffith is to college athletics what Commissioner K. M. Landis is to organized baseball, and is recognized as one of the foremost authorities of the nation on college athletics." The college athletic board has been striving to obtain Major Griffith's services for some time, but not until this year were they available.

Major Griffith was wanted by the convocation committee of the college, and the Rotary and Kiwanis Clubs of Fargo to address their groups but a Big Ten meeting in Chicago, December 2, makes it imperative that the Major leave Fargo Monday evening.

Neither Weiser nor Nelson had any track experience in high school, but both settled down to do great things in the hill and dale sport through training and practice. In the conference meet Weiser placed second and Nelson third to collect enough points to win the meet and the championship.

Saalwaechter Surprised

Coach Saalwaechter, who expected great things from the Bison duo, but who was surprised to hear of their championship conquest, made the following statement: "It goes to show that every boy has a chance to make good in athletics. Weiser and Nelson are too light for football, and as they had had little basketball experience, but a desire to earn a letter, they decided to try cross country. Their success should stimulate the sport at the college and I look for a big turnout of harrier material next fall."

Dean Of Illustrators To Criticize Cartoons

James Montgomery Flagg Will Judge Drawings Submitted In Contest

James Montgomery Flagg, dean of American illustrators, has consented to criticize and make personal comments to artists who submit drawings of exceptional merit to The Spectrum and College Humor in their $2,000 art contest. For more than 37 years Flagg's illustrations have appeared in the leading magazines in America. His comments and criticisms, impossible to be obtained in any other way, should be invaluable to the fortunate artists.

Undergraduate artists may submit as many drawings as desired—on any subject—in black and white, before January 15th. Two other famous artists, Arthur William Brown and Gaar Williams, will decide with Flagg on the winning eighty-one drawings.

Three original drawings by these three artists will be presented to the comic magazines or publications on whose staffs the grand prize winners are regular contributors.

Miss Francis Bailey, Home Economics instructor, delivered an address on the place of Home Economics in the college curriculum at the Parent-Teachers Association meeting at Wahpeton.

HORATIO ALGER PUT TO SHAME BY BISON GUARD

Here's where we scoop the American Magazine on a story of the rapid rise of one Alf Skaret from a freshman who knew nothing about football to a varsity guard who knows plenty. Donning the mole-skins in the fall of 1926 was a novel experiment, for Alf had never encompassed his athletic frame in a grid uniform before in his life. But Skaret was here to learn something, especially along the lines of football, and when the smoke cleared away Alf was all decked out with a "1930" which means "A-plus" in frosh activities.

Thursday Alf will finish his first year of varsity football, and all year this youngster has been outstanding in Bison line play. Before he lays away "his yellow and green spangles," as the journalists have it, Skaret should rank among the nation's best guards, which doesn't necessarily make him a National Guardsman.

Blue Key Honors Six Students At Meeting

National Service Fraternity Holds Initiation Services For Student Leaders

Six students were initiated into Blue Key, national honor service fraternity, at a regular meeting held at the Decotah Hotel.

Blue Key is a national fraternity for student leaders having as its object the welfare of the school primarily. It strives to see that nothing which should be done, is left undone. The local chapter was organized here May 4th of this year. Only upperclassmen are eligible.

The six students honored by the chapter are: John Bohlig, Fargo; Cy Peschel, Wahpeton; Vernon Peterson, Fargo; Ronald Millard, Breckenridge, Minn.; Francis Simonitsch, Fargo; Everett Wallum, Lakota; and Byron Berntson, Parshall.

Walter Davidson, Valley City, was elected to membership but was unable to be present at the initiation. His initiation will take place at some future meeting of the group, according to John Spielman, president.

An extensive program for the coming year was outlined at the meeting. During the year the fraternity will agitate several reforms on the campus, stated Mr. Spielman.

The fraternity intends to voice its opinion through the Student Opinion columns of The Spectrum, according to Mr. Spielman, and will advocate a "Hello Day" soon. This will be a day on which everyone on the campus must say "Hello" to everyone else.

H.S. Administration Course To Be Given

During the winter term a course in high school administration and supervision will be given in the School of Education, according to A. D. Weeks, dean. In the requirements for the certification of teachers in North Dakota, Minnesota, and other states, credits in high school administration are accepted or specified for the credentials of administrative officers.

Heretofore this type of instruction has not been so definitely provided for. Among the topics taken up are: legal basis and financial support of secondary education; relation of the high school to elementary school and college; school plant; teaching staff; daily schedule; records and reports; student problems, and other topics of interest to principals and superintendents. Two credits will be given for the satisfactory completion of the course.

Newgard, Fisher Berntson, Close Gridiron Careers

Chicago Eleven Boasts Clever Passing Attack; Coached By Notre Dame Star

Determined to end the season with a victory over the DePaul University eleven on Thanksgiving Day, the North Dakota Bison will leave for Chicago tonight, where the climax of the year for both teams will be fought at the Cub's baseball park.

The Bison, stated Coach Ion Cortright, are in fine condition and will do their best to end the season with a victory. DePaul has been playing good football this year and has lost several hardfought games to some of the best teams in the country. They will be a hard team to beat Thursday.

General Spirit Good

Unfavorable weather has hampered the workouts somewhat but the team has worked hard in preparation for the final struggle. Only a few minor injuries are claimed by some of the squad members and the general spirit is good. With Jug Newgard, Jud Fisher and Byron Berntson playing their last game, the Cortright crew is expected to put up a real battle against the representatives of DePaul.

The Bison will leave tonight for Chicago and will return the latter part of the week. Coach Cortright will remain there to attend the North Central conference coaches meeting.

Complete 28 of 35 Passes

DePaul has had a spotty season but the greatest redeeming feature, from their standpoint, is the fact that they won the Catholic university championship of Chicago by beating Loyola 12-6. The Bison opponents feature a clever passing attack. In a recent game against Niagara university DePaul completed 28 out of 35 pass attempts, which is a feat any team would be glad to boast. Besides their pass attack, they have a good running offensive but are slightly weak defensively. DePaul is coached by Eddie Anderson, who was a star at Notre Dame, playing end on Rockne's eleven.

Membership Drive of Y.W.C.A. Next Week

The annual membership drive of the Young Women's Christian Association at the North Dakota State college will be carried on during the week of Nov. 28-Dec. 2, according to Marion Trowbridge and Jennie Grant, general chairman of the campaign.

Supervision of the drive will be under the direction of ten captains who are members of the Y. W. cabinet. Doris Abel, Esther Boyer, Gladys Barton, Margaret Zimmerman, Marie Webster, Hulda Finstad, Ruby Oscarson, Grace Sjordahl, Billie Eastgate, and Treasure Kuehl will lead the campaign as captains.

A short meeting of the captains and the six members which they will choose on their teams will be held in the Y. M. C. A. library at 4:30 p. m. Monday, Nov. 28.

Following the drive, a dinner will be given the new members by the advisory board.

COLLEGE DIRECTORIES READY FOR STUDENTS

College directories made their appearance on the campus yesterday afternoon at 3:30 p. m. being released from the registrar's office. The directories contain the addresses, schools, and phone numbers of each student at the college.

A GRAND FINALE

Thursday's Thanksgiving clash with DePaul at Chicago will be the last for three Bison gridiron players. It is a queer twist of fate, indeed, that the finish of their careers should come upon a far-off field of battle, away from their fellow-students, away from the "Yea Bison" that, echoing across the arena, has urged Bison teams on to the fray, and away from the stirring tune of the "Yellow and the Green" as they trot out to do battle for their Alma Mater.

It is impossible for us who have never thrilled to the school song or its yells as we faced an opponent on the athletic field to fight for the glorification of our college, to estimate the value of the memories connected with it. But at least we can pay tribute where it is due. No honor is too great for these three athletes who have fought to the limit of their years in college to make others proud of this, their Alma Mater.

AN EXAMPLE

We learn from Coach Saalwaechter that Russell Weiser and Walter Nelson, North Dakota State's champion harriers, had no previous experience in track before coming to the college. In fact they had no athletic experience but the desire to make a letter, to do something big for the school, and for themselves. Through hard work, long practices, and constant training, in one year's time they made themselves supreme in the conference cross country world. Their performance was as great as the example they set.

Too many students here are humn parasites, living off the social life, the classroom, and the joyful listlessness of college life. And many of these students have hit high marks in high school, only to come to college and lie dormant as far as activities are concerned. Any number of opportunities lay open to them to make a name for themselves and the school, and is exemplified by the above example, not only in sports but in every branch of college life. If you possess talent along any line of college activity you are not only committing an injustice to yourself but to North Dakota State if you do not develop it here. This school needs more students who are as willing to give as to receive!

Just Comment
WISE and OTHERWISE

THE FORUM states that chances for a conference basketball championship look slim with only two vets back. The chance may be slim but so was Abe Lincoln, and the Bison have their eye on the pennant.

MISTER BLACK CAT guarding the architects labor temple keeps his night eye open on the world while some of the India-ink and ruler men draw far into the night. An all night job is not uncommon for an architect, they tell us, and the percentage of those who regularly quit at twelve bells is great. An architect evidently works!

THAT UNHEALTHY practice of cutting classes was recently discussed by one of our mathematics professors. It was his preference, he said, to abolish the whole system of keeping actual track of each student's daily attendance. This is not so startling as it appears on the face. Many eastern colleges have abolished attendance records. At Oxford, England, absolutely no track is kept of the students. Theoretically, it appears that such a system is sound. In the first place,

I'M THE BOLSHEVIK

I'm the Bolshevik who thinks he's radical. I take economic and social science just so I can sit in class and argue everybody's viewpoint. I sympathize with Sacco Vanzetti's followers just because everyone else is against them. I'm for capital punishment because no one in class will champion it. I'm for socialism and communism because it's been proven a failure. I just like to argue, so I disagree with everyone, assume radical viewpoints, and startle my classmates with my wild ideas. Down in my heart I know I'm wrong but I won't admit it. It would hurt my prestige as a radical if I did. I know some of the students can see through my shallow disguise and they smile whenever they see me because, I suppose, it is funny. But I terrorize most of them and it's lots of fun. All I need is a red flag and a good reason why I am this way.

the student pays a tuition fee and if he knows the value of money at all, he will be on hand to get his dollar's worth. Secondly, it is impossible to cut very many classes and get the work. A student who is sick has to untangle red tape to get excused or be called before a discipline board. The average college student will make up his work of his own accord, and, if this is done, why should a discipline board worry about cuts? Thirdly, if a student can cut eight classes in a three hour course and get a good average why keep a check on him? If he flunks, that is his own fault, he is out his own money, and that is not an outsider's or a college professor's worry. In other words, if a student is not here for college work he will cut classes and flunk out—good riddance.

On the other hand there are always a few students who don't quite know how to manage their own studies. It is to save these well-meaning but somewhat unadjusted individuals that the system is employed in most colleges. If it aids a few, the system is justifiable. If the system merely destroys the opportunity to train one's self to manage his own school work, it is not justifiable. What do you think?

TONIGHT IS the first night that will see both a sun-down and a "Sun-Up." The dramatic gang have two casts vieing with each other. We understand that critic judges are to pick the best cast and the best individual performers. Both performances should be contests besides plays.

"HELLO"

Did you ever stop to think that the friends you make in college are the friends that will carry through your whole natural life. Yes, you may make friends after you leave College but they will never be the staunch kind that stick with you. Business friends are those that know you because of some business transaction but college friends are ones that you have lived with for four years and there is that something there in your comradeship that you will never find again.

When you pass an acquaintance on the campus does it cost anything to say "Hello." Lets try it and see what results can be obtained. It will make just that many friends for you that you did not or would not have had before.

Seven In One

Seven schools are located in one college. That is the situation at the North Dakota Agricultural College. Other schools will be added in the future as they are needed.

The School of Mechanic Arts, the School of Science and Literature, the School of Agriculture, the School of Chemistry, the School of Pharmacy, the School of Home Economics, and the School of Education comprise the divisions within the college.

Within the seven schools are various departments. Architecture and Architectural Engineering, Civil Engineering, Electrical Engineering, and Mechanical Engineering comprise the School of Mechanic Arts. Other schools have their divisions in a similar manner.

Those seven schools in one college are housed on a campus containing nineteen major buildings.

The State College Engineer, quarterly publication by the students of the school of engineering, North Dakota State college, made its first appearance of the year on the college campus during the past week.

The publication is carried on entirely by students in engineering and allied courses and is devoted in its entirety to news of progress made in engineering circles, work being done at the college in the school of engineering and of positions being held by alumni of the school.

Olson Is Editor

Carl L. Olson, Sanborn, a senior in the school of engineering, is editor of the magazine and William Rundquist of Fargo is serving as business manager. Staff members include Edgar Barron, Fargo; Merle Cuthberston, Wheatland; Philip Keene, Fargo; Percival Peightal, Coleharbor; Lawrence, Debing, Lakota; Vernon Peterson, Fargo; Alex Dickie, Fargo; Marlin Hutchinson, Tuttle; Bert Johnson, Fargo; Marcus Pederson, Loma; Albert Gudmestad, Valley City; Edward Cochran, Drayton; Lawrence Mel-dahl, Valley City; Howard Darling, Fargo; and Francis Simonitsch, Fargo.

Numerous Articles Included

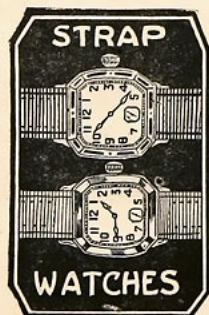

Articles included in the November issue of the engineering magazine are "The Emmet Mercury Vapor Process," Walter Booth; "Civilizing Waters," Dr. Casper I. Nelson, and "The Largest Locomotive in the World," C. D. Wagoner.

Reprints from other engineering journals and an alumni section complete the magazine.

NOTICE TO STUDENTS

Students are requested to do their Christmas mailing early at the State College Station postoffice by John Pannebaker, postmaster. Since Christmas falls on Sunday this year all mail should reach its destination in time for delivery Saturday. Christmas greeting cards should be mailed by December 15, or earlier, and they will not be delivered until two or three days before Christmas, the postmark to bear date of delivery. Students are asked to co-operate with Mr. Pannebaker in this matter and thus relieve congestion in the college postoffice.

As Initial Practices Start

Captain McPherson, Bobby Hahn
Must Bear Brunt of Campaign
According To Dope

Bison rooters will have to look to Captain George McPherson, and speedy Bobby Hahn to keep the Thundering Herd in the running during the 1928 North Central Conference race, if present conditions mean anything. Coach Saalwaechter needs a stalwart pair of guards, and an equally stalwart forward in case George Hermes fails to round into shape for the grind.

The graduation of Claudie Miller, and the close of Jug Newgard's court activities last year has left a big gap in the Bison ranks, and Solly's second year as coach here finds him faced with a bigger problem than during his initial season. "Dutch" Hermes was as outstanding a forward last year as one could hope to find and was counted on to rise to even greater heights this season with his year of valuable experience behind him. A football injury has made it doubtful whether Dutch will be able to start the season or not.

Guard Material Good

Some excellent guard material in the persons of Al Hermes, Cy Peschel, Don McArthur, Vern Hickerson, Pete Gergen, and Polly Guertin will need a great deal of experience in collegiate play before they can be expected to deliver. Baldy Hays and Cecil Bliss look like the men to fill Dutch Hermes' shoes in case the latter fails to appear. Hays is also nursing a leg injury however, and may not be in shape for some time.

Both Hermes and Hays are optimistic over joining the Bison herd in time to round into shape for the season, but Coach Saalwaechter is not so joyful at the prospects. Providing that the two players do return, the problem will present itself whether it would be wise for them to play and chance the reoccurrence of the injury this season, or to hold them out until there is no doubt as to the fact that the injury has healed.

McPherson Outstanding

Captain McPherson, on whose shoulders rests a heavy responsibility on account of the lack of material, is expected to develop into the North Central loop's greatest center. Matt Braus is out for McPherson's position and will serve as an understudy to the Bison leader.

The team needs all the experience it can get and Solly is attempting to arrange a trip through Iowa and Illinois during the holiday season or shortly after. The conference campaign will start early in January, it is expected.

Conference schedules will not be completed until the meeting of the conference athletic directors to be held in Chicago Saturday. The Bison are almost sure of home and home games with North Dakota, South Dakota, South Dakota State, and Creighton.

STATE COLLEGE REPRESENTATIVES WILL VISIT COLLEGES AND FARMS EN ROUTE.

North Dakota will be represented in the International livestock show at Chicago, Nov. 26 to 29, by two judging teams from the North Dakota State college. Six members of the college team and Prof. E. J. Thompson left recently for the judging classic by car so that it will be possible to make a number of stops along the way. They expect to spend about two weeks on the road to Chicago, visiting the Iowa and Minnesota Agricultural college, as well as a good many better class dairy farms.

Following are the men who make up the team: Walter Davidson, Valley City; Clair Southam, Mohall; Clyde Barks, Fargo; Merrill Burke, Leal; Graham Fuller, Hamilton, and Leroy Lillie from Maxbass, N. D. Three men are to be entered in the stock judging contest against 25 other college

ENGINEERS CLUB HOLDS INITIATION THURSDAY

At a meeting of the Engineers Club Thursday night, thirty-eight new members were initiated. The new men are, Robert Gray, John Hagen, Robert Carlson, Melvin Aune, Adolph Jensen, George Probstfield, Roland Hunter, Herman Johnson, Clinton Faucett, Lawrence Ellson, Theodore Lagerburg, Melvin Johnson, Walter Peterson, Loyal Nerdahl, Ralph Stockstad, R. E. Gelnett, Elmer Torkelson, Albert Anderson, Joseph angaunet, Harold Dickinson, Vernon Dickinson, Victor McLeod, Le Roy Hoff, J. E. Lindstrom, R. Deyoe, R. W. McKean, Vernon Anderson, H. Haufstatter, R. E. Landbloom, Richard Askerman, Hjalmer J. Johnson, Harvey Groves, Herman D. Wildermuth, Kenneth Mc Dowell, Tom Allen, Herbert Hendrickson, Verl Wyman, and Wesley Hanks.

After initiation services a meeting was called to order by President F. J. Simonitsch. Carl Olson addressed the new men and gave an outline of the program for the year. At this time refreshments were served. Plans are being made for another class to be taken into the organization soon. The next regular meeting will be held Thursday night, December 1st.

Captain Smith Issues Official Hockey Call

SKATERS URGED TO TRY FOR TEAM; TRIPS DURING SEASON PLANNED; VETERANS RETURN

Since winter has tightened its grip upon us, hockey games will once more be the scene of attraction. The call for candidates for the 1927-28 Bison hockey team has been officially issued by Captain Thomas S. Smith, coach of the local college sextet. All those who wish to try out for positions on the team meet at the N. D. club room in the armory this afternoon at four o'clock. Lockers will be assigned and equipment will be given out. It is very probable that some good trips will be taken outside the state this year and for this reason Captain Smith would like to get all of the available material possible. Anyone who can skate is welcome to come over and try out for the team.

Prospects are exceptionally bright for a good team this year. All of the members of last year's crack team are back in school already, with the exception of Severston, Wambach, Martin, and Hagen, and it is possible that some of these men might be back before the season gets under way. Active practice will begin as soon as the rink is completed. Work was begun on the boards last Friday and if everyone comes out this afternoon it can be completed. As soon as the boards are put up the rink will be flooded so practice can begin right away. Every hockey player be over for the meeting this afternoon at four o'clock.

MINNEAPOLIS JOURNAL HONORS FOOTBALL MEN

Students of State College will be interested to know that the Minneapolis Journal is running a picture of the Bison football squad in their magazine section Sunday, November 27, according to word received at the Spectrum Office from the Journal authorities. It would be well worth while for students here to get a copy of this paper Sunday and to clip the picture of the team, since distinction of this sort comes to a chosen few of the nation's athletic teams.

THEATRE PLAYERS WILL PRESENT "HUNKEY DORY"

The Little Country Theatre players will present "Hunkey Dory," a play in three acts by MacDonald Watson, at the Little Country Theatre, Wednesday evening, December 6th, at eight o'clock.

The cast is made up of the following people: Alec, Meyer Rutz; Jenny, Margaret Richardson; Peter MacGuffie, Byron Bernston; Mrs. MacFayden, Doris Boyle; David Low, Arthur Anderson; Hunkey Dory, Marvin Huckle; Polly, Alta Berg.

Student Federation Meets at Nebraska

The National Student Federation of America will meet December first, second, and third, at the University of Nebraska, at Lincoln, according to word received from Gordon Hedges, Secretary of the Federation. The meeting will include Student Council members from all colleges in the United States who have student government. Problems of student government and the status of the student in college are most likely subjects to be discussed.

While there the delegates will be the guests of the military department at their Annual Military Ball besides partaking in numerous other social affairs.

One or two delegates will be sent from the local Student Commission to attend the conference this year, according to F. Ralph Hollands, president of the Commission.

NOTICE

Fraternity representatives are requested to meet in the Lettermen's Club Room in the armory Wednesday, November 30 at 4 p. m. to discuss inter-fraternity basketball schedules for the coming season.
