Many Changes In Instruction Staff Made by Coulter

Miss Pearl Dinan Will Succeed Mrs. Cole As Dean Of Women

Changes in the instruction staff of the college have been announced by President John Lee Coulter for the coming year. Other appointments are still before the Board of Administration at Bismarck, according to President Coulter.

Dr. W. T. Pearce, Dean of the School of Chemistry, has been granted a further leave of absence for the coming year. He is now engaged in special research work for one of the leading paint and varnish manufacturers in New York where he is making a special study of the use of linseed oil. Dr. L. L. Carrick will continue to act as dean of the School of Chemistry during Dr. Pearce's absence. Swisher to Yale

Dr. C. L. Swisher, head of the department of Physics, has been granted leave of absence for the coming college year during which time he will be working in a special capacity with the Department of Physics of Yale University and in connection with the Sheffield Scientific Institute. During his absence the Board has approved the appointment of Professor Bloomendal who will act as head of the department. Professor Bloomendal is a graduate of Michigan State College, and has been associated with commercial and industrial as well as educational activities in the East during the past ten years.

Mr. Wollan who acted as instructor in Physics during the past year has returned East for further graduate work and his place will be filled by Mr. Workman, of Ohio.

In the Experiment Station the work in the Department of Agricultural Chemistry has increased so rapidly that an additional full time assistant has been employed in the person of Mr. H. A. Pinckney. Mr. Pinckney has a master's degree from the University of Nebraska.

Remington Leaves
Dr. A. K. Smith who has served as acting assistant professor in the School of Chemistry last year has been employed for the coming year to take the place of Professor Remington who has been granted leave of absence for one year.

A new instructor has been secured for the School of Education in Mr. Glenn Lawritson who will be associated with Dean Weeks and Professor Iverson.

Miss Pearl Dinan, of the Department of English has been appointed Dean of Women to take the place left vacant by the resignation of Mrs. Myrtle Gleason Cole. Miss Dinan is a resident of Fargo, and has been associated with the college for a number of years.

The college dining rooms and cafeteria have been reorganized and will be placed under the management of a young lady especially trained in it. (Continued on page four)

Dates Assigned For Fraternity Rushing

Formal Pledging Will be Held At Six, Friday Evening, October 7.

Exclusive dates for fraternity rushing have been assigned the various groups, according to Professor I. W. Smith, dean of men, and head of the Interfraternity Council. These dates were determined at a meeting of the Council June 6, 1927.

Beginning with Wednesday, September 28, which is given to the Alpha Kappa Phi fraternity, the rushing program will swing into action. The Gamma Rhos have Thursday evening, the Delta Pi group Friday, and Delta Kappa Sigma fraternity Saturday night.

Sigma Taus Monday

Monday the Alpha Sigma Taus will entertain their rushees, the Kappa Psi have exclusive rights to Tuesday prospective pledges and a merry day, and the Theta Chi Wednesday. Thursday, October 6 is open season for prospective pledges and a merry stampee is expected to follow. At six o'clock, the evening of Friday, October 7, pledging will formally take place in the respective houses.

Prof. Smith pointed out that no rushee may room in any fraternity house until after pledging on October 7. Rushees may eat only noon meals at the houses.

Each fraternity has one exclusive night, said Professor Smith, and no other fraternity may entertain rushees on that night.

RANES AND BARNEY HURT IN PRACTICE

Injuries claimed two Bison football players during the week's scrimmages in preparation for the Montana State game at Bozeman Saturday.

Gerald Barney, star guard on last year's team suffered a sprained ankle during a practice session Monday and was unable to go on with the duties assigned him. He attended the skull meetings, however, and watched the Bison work-out on Dacotah field, bolstered by crutches.

Lawrence Ranes, end prospect and last season's reserve, tore a finger nail completely off while catching a pass Tuesday, but resumed practice later in the week with the digit bandaged to the superlative degree.

In spite of injuries, both Barney and Ranes accompanied the team on the Bozeman trip.

Gold Star Band Is Best West Of Mississippi River, Says Dispatch

In an official dispatch to Captain Thomas S. Smith, commandant, the Inspecting Board of the Third Army Area, which includes all states west of the Mississippi, stated that "this institution had the best instructed band of any inspected by the Board in the Third Army Area." The unit was inspected for the Gold Star Rating last May.

An unofficial communication to Captain Smith from one of the members of the board requested that congratulations be extended to Dr. C. S. Putnam, director, for the fine showing of his band. "We did not see any band that we rated higher than yours," states the message. "It unquestionably is due to the interest, energy, and initiative of Doctor Putnam."

Band Rated Perfect

The band was given a perfect rating of 100 percent by the Board which inspected the unit in the spring.

Although the Bison Cadets made a higher mark than ever before in their inspection, they failed for the second consecutive time to win the Gold Star. There has been a constant improvement yearly in spite of the loss of the distinguished rating.

The biggest cut in the marks this last year, according to Captain Smith, was in that of facilities, which include armory, etc. The inspecting board slashed seven units out of a possible twenty-seven from the Bison mark. Formerly the board had left this mark intact giving the cadets a full count on their facilities.

Second in Arms

In arms and equipment the unit ranked second only to South Dakota University in the Army Area. In parade and ceremonies appearance and practical problem the cadets made an almost perfect score. The unit missed placing in the distinguished class by three points.

April 1, Captain Smith was notified that no inspection would be held on account of lack of funds in the war department. He immediately discontinued noon drill and let up in the classroom work. A week before Friday, May 20, he was notified that an

Greater Homecoming Plans Are Announced

Bison Griders Meet South Dakota State Team October 15.

The Bison-South Dakota State football game will be the highlight of the 1927 Homecoming and Bison Roundup to be held October 15, according to T. W. Thordarson, alumni secretary, who is in charge of arrangements.

This year's homecoming will be even greater than last year's frolic when the greatest roundup in the history of the school was staged, Mr. Thordarson said. Another Big Bison Barbeque will be held at noon preceding the grid battle. Another large parade with gayly bedecked floats will wind in and out the city's thoroughfares. More than 6,000 are expected to attend.

Bison Barbeque At Noon

Activities will start the evening of Oct. 14 with a pep rally in the armory, followed by a huge bonfire on Dacotah field. The following morning will be long remembered by the float competition in the big parade. At noon comes the butchering of the buffalo which will take up everyone's time until the football game starts at 2:30 p. m.

Cortright's Men Unable to Cope With Heavy Line

Hahn's Passes and Runs Only Effective Weapons Against Cats

A powerful line, and a fast, heavy backfield bearing the colors of Montana State College ripped through the Bison eleven at Bozeman Saturday, and decisively repelled the invasion of the North Dakota team by a 22 to 0 score.

All of the western team's points were gathered in the first half, short dashes off tackle and straight line plunging, coupled with several long jaunts about the ends bringing the count to its fullest extent at the midway mark. In the second half the Bison fought the Bobcats to a showdown but were unable to score.

Hahn Stars

Bobby Hahn was a brilliant player in the face of defeat keeping his team in the running with clever passing and spectacular gains around the Bobcat extremities. Captain Peschel starred on the defense.

The Bobcat type of play was new to the eastern invaders, and the Bison line could not cope with the consistent forward wall of the Montana team. Time and again the charging Cats opened big holes for their backs to crash through for big gains. It was expected before the game that the triumphant team would win by an overwhelming score because of the vastly different types of play. Fate and a powerful line pointed to Montana State.

Bobcats Score

Early in the first half the four Bobcat backs gained steadily, carrying the ball down the field 62 yards in three first downs for a touchdown by Gardner. Later, the fleet Gardner picked a Bison punt out of the air and raced through the entire buffalo aggregation for 63 yards and another counter. A Bison fumble was recovered behind the goal, but the recoverer was brought down before he could get out of the end zone and the safety donated Montana State two points, making the count 15 to 0.

Cashmore plunged over for the third touchdown after two passes Gardner to Chez had put the Bobcats in position to score.

The Montant backfield is hailed by sport critics to be the fastest quartet developed in the western conference in many years. Behind a consistent line they handled the ball without a fumble, moved their formations at top speed, and blocked and tackled with precision. Three of them figured in the punting and all four in the passing attack. Hahn was the only Bison able to elude the swift Bobcat ends. (Continued on page four)

Kitchen's Vote Kills Act To Abolish Required Drill

With the Board of Administration deadlocked over the issue that military science and tactics be made elective instead of required at the university and state college, Joseph A. Kitchen, absent and fifth member of the board, decided in favor of the present status, following a summer session of the group.

The resolution which was introduced by W. T. Church and backed by Miss Bertha Palmer endeavored to make the first two years of military drill elective rather than required. R. B. Murphy, chairman of the board, and F. E. Diehl voted against the resolution and in favor of the status quo. Mr. Kitchen the remaining member of the group was confined to a hospital with a slight operation. The views of both President Thomas F. Kane, of the University, and of President John Lee Coulter, of the state college, expressed in favor of the present conditions, failed to alter the vote. The four members then agreed that Mr. Kitchen, upon recovery from his illness, should cast the deciding ballot.

Dr. C. S. Putnam, director of music, immediately dispatched a letter to Mr. Kitchen in which he pointed out that "We save millions in property and lives from fire by being able to fight fire when it comes. We save millions of lives from disease by building bodily health and being thus prepared to combat disease should it come. We save millions from the ravages of robbers by maintaining police forces. "The R. O. T. C. is a training school for the defense of the nation against arrogant robbery of lands, trade and the lives of the people, and should be maintained to the highest point of efficiency."

A few days later Mr. Kitchen left the hospital and cast his vote against the resolution and in favor of the present conditions, after replying to Dr. Putnam's letter that he "could see no reason why we should make any change in our military training rules."

THE PRODIGIES' RETURN

Again the college machine has started on its uninterrupted course through another college year. Again the students have returned to the campus, now bustling with human life in contrast to the idle summer months. Again the former students are pledging themselves to hard work and little pleasure, and the newcomers, the freshmen, are staring with expectant eyes into the mysteries of a new adventure. It is an annual, and pleasant, scene.

More pains than ever before have been taken to make the campus a pleasing sight to the returning and new students. The roadways have been widened and improved; the buildings have been thoroughly gone over in preparation for the grind; new additions have been made; and new buildings started. All this reflects the steady growth of the institution.

To this improved college, THE SPECTRUM bids the students, new and old, a hearty welcome. You are now a part of the school, of intrinsic value to a collegiate community. We sincerely hope that you will take part in all college activities, a sure way to make your college life a pleasant one.

THE BISON-SPECTRUM OFFICE

All last school year the staffs of the Bison and the Spectrum were continually bothered by students who seemed to have a restroom conception of the Bison-Spectrum Office. The office was used about 25 per cent of the time to put out the Bison and the Spectrum and about 75 per cent as a convenient roosting place between classes for certain members of the student body. This year this practice must stop! It must stop before it strats!

The editors of the two publications did as much as possible last year to keep all students out of the office who did not have business there, but to no avail. As a result the editors were compelled to do most of their work late at night and into the small wee hours of the morning, leaving no time for the pursuance of studies. This year the editors do not intend to sacrifice passing grades, or the passing hours, for that matter, to students who frequent the Bison-Spectrum office without a reason for doing so. The editors welcome students who bring in news, applicants for staff positions, and any who have any business in the office. But the campus lounge-lizards will have to look elsewhere for a restroom. Nothing but business prevails in the Bison-Spectrum office this year.

Furthermore, the faculty has threatened to oust the publications from their office and put it to some other use unless this practice of some of the students is stopped! So unless you have business in the office please KEEP OUT, and we'll have a better brand of newspaper and yearbook because of increased efficiency—and at least two more individuals will be getting better scholastic standings at this institution.

CHEER LEADERS

North Dakota State needs cheer leaders! Last year the lack of good cheer leaders was keenly felt by the students, the athletes, and the records. Sensing this vacancy in the life of the college, one young man stepped forth into the position, mostly because no one else would, and he did his best to fill it. But the students cried ever for a better cheer leader. There were none, or at least no one volunteered. And all year that young man tried his best to expound pep where pep refused to be expounded.

This year something has to be done about it,—and it has to be done before the football season is far under way. We've got to have a cheer leader—or cheer leaders, if the supply is great enough—and we've got to have him or them NOW! If any man or woman on this campus, regardless of whether you are Freshman, or Senior, have the faintest conception of cheer-leading, for the school's sake, try out for it. And then when the basketball season opens, let the student body at one of the important games publicly choose their rooster king. And here's hoping he's an underclassman, so we won't have to worry about cheerleaders for some time to come!

Just Comment WISE and OTHERWISE

A MOVE TO ABOLISH the R. O. T. C. required training plan at the university and state college would prove fatal to the spirit at both institutions. A good majority of all male students at both schools are enrolled in R. O. T. C. work. In it they learn the value of cooperation, teamwork, school spirit, striving with a fellow student toward a common goal. It is invaluable in the life of the college. The whole school reflects it. The college with military drill as a compulsory feature has a zest and pep which cannot be found at private institutions where drill is taken as a matter of course. We wish to heartily thank Mr. Joseph A. Kitchen with the deepest gratitude for voting as he did in the matter, and upholding, as a result, the prestige which the university and state college have gained.

THE SPECTRUM, ON BEHALF OF THE STUDENTS also wishes to thank President John Lee Coulter, Dr. C. S. Putnam and Ralph Hollands, president of the Student Commission, for exerting their influence in bringing about the desired result.

WE SINCERELY HOPE that the students like the SPECTRUM's new dress. Several outstanding changes have been made in the paper in order to bring it up to the modern methods of newspaper makeup. The editorial staff would be glad to hear or receive comments on the new features.

THE PUBLIC OPINION column of the SPECTRUM is open for business. Student opinion on all constructive issues is desired. We cannot urge the students to express their opinions in their paper to too great a degree. If the paper expresses opinions opposite to your belief in the editorial columns, let's hear your side of it. If you think something ought to be done, or ought not to be done, just write down your attitude and sent it in. We'll be glad to aid your cause in this column. Remember it must be signed by you.

I'M THE GUY

I'm the guy that is always hanging around the Bison-Spectrum Office. Of course, I know that I haven't any business there, since I don't belong to either staff, but I like to hang around and bother everybody anyway. Whenever the Bison editor has a nice pile of pictures on his desk, I dote on going in the Bison when it comes out next spring. I'm not supposed to know but I don't care. I never get the pictures rearranged the way I found them, but the editor can do that again. Very often, I use the typewriters in the office to copy my themes or lessons. Some of the staff members have to wait until I'm through, and it often results in the late publication of the Spectrum, but why should I care? Better late than never! I'm a terrible bore. Whenever I want to meet my friends any where, I just say, "I'll see you in the Bison-Spectrum Office." It's true that the Office should be a place of business only, but I and my friends see to it that it isn't. What do we care?

STUDENTS INTERESTED in Journalism should apply for staff positions on the SPECTRUM and Bison at once. The sooner you apply the better your chances for promotion later on. The publication staffs need good workers, not applicants who plan on getting their name on the mast head and then slumping. The SPECTRUM staff will be handled on a system of points in regard to promotion this year and the highest two or three students at the end of the year will be recommended to the Board of Publications for the Editorship.

Ebullitions of Ebony Blott

By Everett Wallum

Opening day of school is right. Phi Kappa Phi's open books, freshmen open their mouths in blank wonder, and father opens the pocketbook.

And the usual number of roustabouts open the pot for the fall term of draw poker.

The difference between the opening day and the closing day of school is about one thousand dollars.

The reopening of classes comes as a godsend to a couple hundred students who can now catch up in sleep lost during the summer rest period.

Incoming students will please remember that no individual is bigger than the school—since Rae Kneeshaw graduated last spring.

To save returning students the trouble of seeing for themselves, we wish to announce that there is really no one standing in back of the Armory holding it up.

One of the "big guns" of the campus is back again this year. He's still shooting off his mouth.

Years ago, the opening day of school meant a tearful parting from the old folks, woolen flannels, two and a quarter hours of advice, and a staunch promise to pay off the mortgage on the old homestead.

While today it means a hurried good-bye, a plentiful and gaudy wardrobe, a campus chug-chug, an avid thirst for pool and dancing, and a mortgage on the old homestead.

The overhead expenses of going to school won't mean a thing to a number of hatless and capless students this year.

Doctor Putnam is back again this year. Which means that old man gloom and madame poor spirit will have to take their medicine.

If the adage, "an apple a day keeps the Doctor away," is true, we hope the students will continue to imbibe prunes for many years to come.

Doc, a real M. D., has proven that that a note in the ear is worth more than a pill in the stomach.

He could even inspire enthusiasm in a correspondence school.

"Sarge" Culpepper is back too, which means that Freshmen will learn that the first syllable in fundamentals has no relationship with the fundamentals of military instruction.

We don't have too much faith in this "what's in a name?" stuff, but the vocabulary of Culpepper burns.

The student, who cutely insists that he would rather get an education than study, will please sneeze out his brains as he leaves.

Well, the library's back, Ceres hall's back and the Armory's back is almost broken with age.

The Engineer's are back too, listlessly waiting for the day to dawn when they can blow their whistle.

The roads on the campus are widened. This will undoubtedly be a great convenience for Volstead defiant homecomers.

We don't care what they widen, just so they don't widen the gap between matriculation and graduation.

One nice thing about the terms of a school year is that there is no greater penalty for a second offence.

Maybe we should call this column the "Spinal Column" because it gets on your nerves.

About this time, several students are discovering that it's easier to make history than to study it.

Just because the college is offering courses in religion is no sign this institution is old-fashioned.

The early bird at the fraternity house gets the fur coat.

Some students are registering in Science and Literature, and others have a definite aim in life.

Students, who have to walk a mile to school, are the first ones to ask for a Camel.

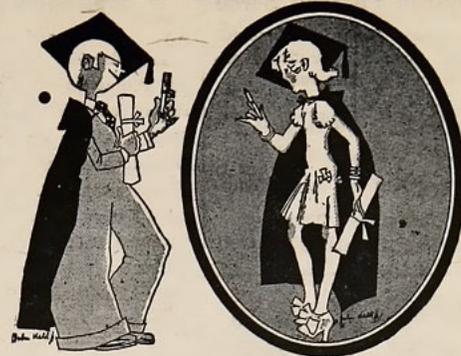

Loyal students will carry only Buffalo nickels—and spend those on Bull Durham.

The tightest man we know is the fellow who went to Indiana University so he could show his patriotism by carrying only Lincoln pennies.

College is a four round bout. Let's hope none of us get counted out before the fourth stanza is up. The best game is to outpoint the instructors.

inspection would take place on that date. On the Monday before inspection, the unit was reviewed by Major-General Poore, Gay Cat Day came on Wednesday, and the inspection Friday. This left no time for preparation, especially in the advanced course. As a result the unit fell down on their theoretical work.

The custom of sending Gifts to Graduates has now been extended by general accord to include those in the lower classes who have manifested sufficient industry to pass their final exams.

To know what to give, one needs but observe the students' own expressions of preference for the Parker Duofold Pen and Pencil.

To have earned the favor of the younger generation is our reward for serving it with studied personal interest. We have lifted the frowns from student brows [among others] by giving the world a writing pair that are inspirations to work with and beauties to possess.

All those in favor of owning, or giving the finest — whether for Graduation, Birthday or Wedding Gifts, or for prizes at Bridge or Golf—will signify by stepping in to the nearest Parker pen counter. Less burning of the midnight oil!

HERE'S a good business proposition! Invest in a Remington Portable and reap dividends in the form of bigger and better rest at night.

Much faster than writing by hand, this little Remington enables you to finish your long reports or theses—not fall asleep trying to finish them. Not only that, but think how much neater and more business-like they look when typewritten!

Examine the Remington Portable. It is the smallest, lightest, most compact and most dependable portable with standard keyboard. (Carrying case only 4 inches high. Weighs 8 1/2 pounds, net.)

Monthly payments.
