Alpha Kappa Phi Sluggers Win Diamond Championship, 6-3

GAMMA RHOS LOSE CROWN AFTER TWO YEARS SUPREMACY

Miller Socks Homer in Third;
Hickerson Stars in Stickwork

Despite the weather man's determined efforts to halt play in the campus league championship game Friday with occasional showers, the Alpha Kappa Phi sluggers defeated the heretofore Alpha Gamma Rho champions, 6 to 3, and wrested from them the coveted "crown of diamonds" for the first time in three years.

A spirited third inning rally, started by Claudie Miller when he poled a home run to deep centerfield with one out and none on the paths, gave the Kappa Phi pill pounders the necessary impetus to garner five more counters and win the ball game. Even the superior Gamma Rho fielding machine could not stop the flow of hits that Ade Wall's nine socked out into the great open spaces. Hermes pitched well, especially in the pinches and helped win his own ball game with a single and a double out of four times at bat.

Hickerson Stars at Bat

Hickerson was the outstanding swat smith for the Gamma Rhos, pounding out three pretty singles and starting his team on their scoring bee in the fifth which resulted in two runs. Mach played a nice game behind the bat, and Hansen's leaping catch of L. Clark's liner in the eighth frame was as pretty a one as has been seen on Daacotah field in years. Tight playing by both Wall and Macvch kept the pathfinders from pilfering bases.

The Rhos started out to leave the dope bucket intact when Mach singled first up in the first frame. Hansen fouled out but Hickerson advanced Mach with a safe blow to left field. Things looked bad for the Kappa Phi team until Johnny Smith gathered in Ranes' long fly and Claudie Miller took Elery Young's offering to retire the side.

OLSEN'S COLLEGIANS TO PLAY AT PETTIBONE

Earl Olson and his "Collegians" have obtained a 12 weeks playing engagement at Pettibone lodge for the summer. They begin their summer work June 18. Elmer Hanson, Hugh McMath, and Earl Olson, all State college students; Lloyd Rawalt and William Euren, Fargo high school students, and Richard Clark, of the University make up the collegiate band.

FIFTY-SIX SENIORS WILL BE GRADUATED FROM HIGH SCHOOL

Minot Superintendent Will Deliver
Commencement
Address

Fifty-six seniors in the Agricultural and Manual Arts high school will be graduated at commencement exercises being held Thursday.

L. A. White, superintendent of schools at Minot, will address the high school graduates at their commencement exercises being given in the Little Country theater at 8 p. m. The exercises will open with the singing of the Yellow and the Green and an invocation.

Following the address by Mr. White P. J. Iverson, supervisor of the local high school, will present the class. Prof. Arland D. Weeks, dean of the school of education, will make the presentation of diplomas.

Class Program at 2:30 P. M.

The high school seniors will formally open graduation activities of the week when they hold their class day program at 2:30 p. m. Thursday in the Little Country theater.

Opening with a music number, the program will be marked by the usual president's address given by William Jaeger. Marion Olafson will narrate the class history. The class prophet is Eva Aasgaard. James McMahon will read the class will and the program will be closed with a music number.

Class officer of the high school group are, William Jaeger, president; Ralph Brandmeyer, vice-president; and Inez Smith, secretary treasurer. Class colors chosen are rose and silver. The motto selected by the seniors is "Not at the top but climbing." The flower chosen for the class is the sweetheart rose.

SWEATERS ARE AWARDED SENIOR GIRL ATHLETES

Monogrammed sweaters were awarded Miss Grace aByliss and Miss Charlotte Blake by the Women's Athletic association of the North Dakota State college at the banquet held at the Commercial club Friday evening.

The awards were made in appreciation of the excellent athletic records made during their college careers. In addition to the sweater presentation numerals and letters were awarded members of the association who had earned them by their work in rifle shooting, bowling, basketball, baseball and tennis.

NOTICE

During the Kappa-Phi-Gamma Rho game Friday a basketball sweatshirt, which had been given to a senior member of the basketball team by the coach as a reward and as an honor, was taken from the locker rooms. If it is returned immediately to the athletic department's office no questions will be asked.

MANAGER TO GRADUATE

EARL HENDRICKSON

SUMMER SESSION STARTS JUNE 14

COURSE IN HIGH SCHOOL SCIENCE
TEACHING IS SPECIAL FEATURE

The North Dakota State college summer session will begin June 14 according to Alfred H. Parrott, registrar. The courses offered during the six weeks June 14 to July 22 afford an opportunity to regular college students to gain credits which will apply towards graduation.

A special feature of this year's summer school is the offering of courses in methods of teaching science in high schools.

The work of the session is also designed to meet the needs of teachers desiring to obtain or renew certificates under the regulations of the state department of public instruction. All courses offered give college credit, and the teacher who takes summer work secures an amount of credit to apply upon graduation from this or any other college.

Special instructors at the summer school this year include Selmer C. Larson, a graduate student of the University of Wisconsin and assistant to Professor O'Shea who recently conducted a survey of the schools of Mississippi and who has done statistical work in education. Mr. Larson will give courses in "Tests and Measurements in Psychology." Others are T. W. Blair, principal of Roosevelt junior high school, Fargo; and Miss Minnie Jensen, of the Woodrow Wilson school, who will give courses on the primary methods of teaching.

Courses will also be given in the methods of teaching physics, chemistry, biology and the sciences in high schools. State department of public instruction speakers will speak at special convocations throughout the summer.

PHYSICAL ED SORORITY INITIATES TWO SENIORS

Misses Beatrice Sjoquist and Grace Bayliss were formally initiated into Delta Psi Kappa, national physical education sorority, Sunday, June 5, at the home of Evelyn Blakeslee at 5 p. m. Miss Dorothy Cole was in charge of the initiation and was assisted by Charlotte Blake, president; and Evelyn Blakeslee, vice-president.

Miss Gladys Bockwaldt, Mary Klinsmann, and Sarah McRoberts were in charge of the luncheon served following the initiation.

PRESIDENT COULTER WILL GIVE ADDRESS AT COMMENCEMENT

College Alumni Will Hold Annual Meeting On Saturday Afternoon

Commencement exercises to be held at the North Dakota State college during the latter part of this week will mark the graduation of 144 students with master's or bachelor's degrees in science from the seven respective schools of the college.

Dr. John Lee Coulter, president of the college, will deliver the Commencement address for the members of the college graduating class at final class exercises in the college armory at 10:30 a. m., Monday, June 13.

Grounds To Be Dedicated

An outstanding event at the 33rd annual college commencement will be the dedication of the grounds for the men's dormitory to be erected this summer. The dedication will be made at 3 p. m. Saturday. Alumni, faculty members, graduates and friends will meet in front of the main building and march to the site chosen for the new structure on Thirteenth st N, several hundred feet north of the practice house. Alumni of the college will be in charge of the exercises and President Coulter will make the dedication address.

The college graduating class enters its four day program closing four years of undergraduate study for its members by the presentation of the class play, "Orphan Aggie," at 8:15 p. m. Friday at the Little Country theater.

Alumni Will Hold Meeting

Alumni of the college will hold their annual business meeting at 1:30 p. m. Saturday. After the dedication of the dormitory site, the senior class exercises are to be staged in the theater at 4:30 p. m.

The program will open with a music selection by Charlotte Blake, following which the class president, Rae Kneeshaw, will give his address. Rebecca Keene will recite the class history. The traditional presentation of the hatchet to the president of the junior class, George Newgard, then will be made by the senior president. Ruth McCarthy will give the class poem and Mercade Cramer is to read the class prophecy.

Former graduates of the college will hold the annual alumni ceremonial at 5:30 p. m. and the annual alumni banquet, at which members of the graduating class are guests of honor, will follow at 6 p. m. in Ceres hall. Smoke "Pipe of Peace"

Evening festivities will open with the president's reception at 8 p. m. in the college armory.

The senior "swing out" and alumni ball beginning at 9 p. m. will mark the waning of campus social activities of the class of '27. President John Lee Coulter, deans of the schools and faculty members make up the receiving line.

Closing at 11:30 p. m., the swing out will be succeeded by the midnight gathering of the departing graduates on the college campus for the traditional Pipe of ePace ceremony. The class president, Rae Kneeshaw, (Continued on page four)

AFTERTHOUGHTS

June bugs, brides, and graduates are now in their heyday and with that recurring season comes still another incident. The editor of the Spectrum today hands over his shears and editorial bias to a successor. The task of so doing is one mixed with pleasure and sorrow; doubtlessly, similar reactions may be experienced by readers of the Spectrum.

Editing the newspaper during the last year has brought the writer many rewards—low marks included, there is much satisfaction in having had the chance to record the daily happenings at our college. In assistance, the staff members, with few exceptions, have been munificently generous in lending their names for the masthead. Certainly, the work of Ebony Blott has tided over many an issue that was otherwise drele.

The past is happily past, but in the years to come, the writer looks to the furtherance of our college newspaper. There are many editorial and managerial improvements possible. Let it not be forgotten that the Spectrum is closest of all publications to the student body. Any inherent weaknesses it may have in turn weakens that student attachment.

Issued sixty times each school year, a superlative State college newspaper might exert untold leverage towards making our college, soon to be our Alma Mater, foremost in this region. But the Spectrum must not be smothered. Why, may one ask, does the Bison manager and editor automatically become members of our board of publications upon their issuance of the yearbook while the Spectrum manager and editor are denied that right? Why at the same time must the latter officials share net earnings of their publication with another that expends college funds disproportionately allotted?

There is also the need of a line management in the Spectrum's editorial branch. There have been too many publicity seekers and too few news writers. The lack of suitable staff material, I feel, has been due to the failure to assure a student journalist of a possible accession to the Spectrum editorship. The board's latest appointment indicated that the Spectrum staff had not developed a suitable editor. But on the other hand, what assurance has a Spectrum staff member that he will ever become editor?

The Spectrum cannot continue to operate on a one man or a two man staff. Let the board recognize a managing editor and two or three associate editors with the stipulation that one associate, advancing in due course, will become the editor-in-chief's 'whip', and in turn editor.

Emphatically, the Spectrum editor should have served a year or more on the Spectrum staff and should have graduated directly to his post.

Thus would be offset any whim of an 'eternally green' board whose constitution so naively equates the net earnings of the Spectrum and Bison publications but does not see fit to give retiring Spectrum editors and managers, as it does the 'bigger', Bison officials, a voice in their own business.

Northwest Farm Managers Will Make Tour of N. D.

DAN V. STEPHENS, FORMER CONGRESSMAN, TO BE INCLUDED IN PARTY

The annual summer tour of the Northwest Farm Managers association, which is to be held June 28 to July 4, will attract many of the outstanding farm economists from all parts of the central west, was the announcement here Saturday of Prof. Cap E. Miller, North Dakota State college, secretary of the association.

Among the prominent men who have signified their intention of making the tour, it was reported by Professor Miller, are:

Dan V. Stephens, former congressman, chairman of the agricultural committee of the Nebraska Bankers association, and noted for the development of a very effective method of co-operation in working out more profitable farming methods. DeWitte C. Wing, Chicago representative of the Breeders Gazette. D. Howard Doane of St. Louis, director of a farm management service. M. L. Wilson, Bozeman, Mont., head of the agricultural economics department of the Montana experiment station. Matson Yerkes, professor of farm management extension university of Nebraska. C. M. Yerington of iBlings, Mont., and Evan W. Hall, Miles City, Mont., prominent in farm development work. Prof. John D. Brindley, Ames, Ia., professor of farm economy, Ames college.

Expect Excellent Tour

L. F. Carey, professor of farm management, university farm, St. Paul. D. P. Shannon, representing the Dakota Farmer. M. J. Holmberg, St. Paul, commissioner of agriculture of Minnesota. Dr. T. E. Dinwoodie, Aberdeen, S. D., representing the Dakota Farmer. Paul C. Newman, Grand Forks, federal agricultural statistician for North Dakota. F. E. Murphy, publisher of the Minneapolis Tribune. Joseph A. Kitchen, Bismarck, secretary of agriculture for North Dakota. Orris W. Roberts, Bismarck, U. S. weather observer for North Dakota.

"We have every reason to expect that this year's tour of the Northwest Farm Managers association will surpass anything we have ever held before, not only in attendance, in the wide interest it will attract and in the extent of the practical farming operations to be studied, but also in the excellent entertainment that will be provided, especially in the closing days of the tour," said Professor Miller.

"From present indication, there will be 100 automobiles or more in the tour. The number in line may vary considerably, as many local people undoubtedly will join for short periods.

"The tour is open to all and all who desire are invited to join with us."

Professor Miller also announced the complete program of the tour as follows:

Tuesday, June 28—Meet at Jamestown at 8 p. m. for opening program and organization for the tour.

In Mandan July 1

Wednesday, June 29—Visit farms in vicinity of Jamestown and Montpelier with evening meeting at some place convenient. W. B. DeNault, R. R. Wolfer, M. M. Cone and Jacob Yeager and other Stutsman county members will constitute local committee.

Thursday, June 30—Continue study of farms in vicinity of Jamestown until about 3 p. m., when the party will leave for Mandan. Arrive Mandan for dinner and lodging.

Friday, July 1—Visit Great Plains experiment station at Mandan and lodge at Mandan the night. Prof. J. H. Shepperd of the North Dakota State College and J. M. Stephens and T. M. Sarvis of the Great Plains station, will act as guides. Farm managers will provide their own program at Mandan, evening of July 1.

Saturday, July 2.—Leave Mandan early for New Salem where a tour of the New Salem Holstein Breeders circuit will be made with Professor Shepperd as guide and spokesman.

Sunday, July 3.—Trip to Medora. Here Carl B. Olsen, proprietor of the Peaceful Valley ranch, will be chief guide, in a tour of the famous badlands. Mr. Olsen will be assisted by W. B. DeWault and M. M. Cone.

Monday, July 4—Celebrate July 4th at Medora.

PROF. D. M. BAVLY GIVES ADDRESS TO ENGINEERS

Prof. D. M. Bavly, of the State college, addressed members of the Fargo Engineers club at a meeting at 6 p. m. Saturday in the Powers hotel, on the subject, "Heat Treatment of Steel." This was the regular June meeting of the club and will be the last until re-opening of regular monthly meetings in October.

By Everett Wallum

Our annual brazen questionnaire, sent to graduating seniors, has been filled out and returned. Read 'em and weep:

"Four years of toil under Arvold," quoth a leather lunged one, "has qualified me to act as a conductor of one of our modern unlimited trains. In the examination for a job, I yelled out 'Wild Rice' so realistically that three newly married couples ducked out of sight."

"I aims to be President of this country," confided another modestly. "In preparation for this goal, I am going to get married so I'll never say anything. Not only that, but I'm going trout fishin' this summer."

A chemistry student said, in elated vein: "Thank hevings I have completed my course. After I have realized my ambition, I'll die happily. I am now equipped to find out what really goes into hot dogs and boarding house hash."

ANOTHER WAS UNDECIDED. "I DON'T KNOW WHETHER TO STAY IN THE UNITED STATES, OR GO BACK TO MY HOME IN MOORHEAD," HE WAILED.

The big hearted member of the class said vigorously: "During my stay here, I have been told that I owe a lot to my professors. Not wishing to be in debt, I am going to an undertaking school, and when I graduate, I'll return and let my Profs take it out in trade."

"SO THIS IS COMMENCEMENT!" SIGHED THE CLASS NUMBBRAIN. I WISH I HAD A SELF-STARTER."

"I bet my mother is proud," cried one jubilantly. "She told me I should finish school if it took me thirty years. It's only taken me twenty-nine."

"I've been here so long that I'm going to stay right here and start a barber shop on the campus," said another, with an evil gleam in his eyes. "I can only pray that some of my instructors, who cut my marks down to the bone, will come in for a shave."

ONE STUDENT WAS HYSTERICAL: "TELL ME IT AIN'T TRUE," SHE WAILED, AS SHE WAS CARRIED OFF TO BE DIAGNOSED, "THEY CAN'T TURN ME OUT AFTER ALL THESE YEARS. IT AIN'T TRUE. SIC TEMPER TENANTS. E PLEURISY UNUM."

From a pharmacy graduate: "I only hope I pass the State oard exam. Last year a fellow put an extra drop of coca-cola syrup in the 6 oz. glass."

"Ain't it nice?" came back a science and lit graduate. "I ain't sorry none, nohow, that I madered in English."

AN ARCHITECT STATED: "I WENT TO WINNIPEG THIS YEAR. ME FOR A POST GRADUATE COURSE."

"I'm going to stay right on the campus, and fix the professors' bicycles, the co-eds' roller skates, and the boys' cigar lighters," said an engineering grad.

"AW, I'M NOT GRADUATIN," SAID ONE NONCHALANTLY. THEY SAID THAT LAST YEAR, TOO. I GUESS I'M WHAT THEY CALL AN IDLE ROOMER."

These Seniors Being Graduated From High School

scored their two remaining runs. Steedsman walked, and went to second on Peschel's sacrifice. Hermes scored him with a double and came in himself when Wall singled. A deperate last-inning rally was made by the former title-holders in the ninth when Gergen and Mach walked, the former scoring when Carl Hansen's long fly to center was muffed by Miller. Hickerson, the last out, popped to L. Clark.

bench in one-two-three order. The fans settled down to watch a ball game in which runs were runs and hits were few. In the second inning four ag men advanced to the plate and one died on first. One Kappa Phi got to first on an error and was rapidly erased from same by a speedy play, Hickerson to Gergen to Young. Don Clark singled but Bliss flew out to Gergen.

With the score no score at all and the Gamma Rho team disposed of, the Kappa Phi men started out to win a championship without delay. L. Clark first up, popped weakly to Guertin and took his place with the spectators. Then Claudie Miller advanced to the plate, watched two good ones sail by, and planted the next one somewhere in the near future. Ranes took Machs advice to "Go West, young man, go West" and headed for the track. Miller came back where he started from about a half-second sooner than the ball did and the Phis led by run. Guertin didn't trust Steedsman, next up, and issued a one-way pass to first. Peschel singled to left an dwent to second on Thorfinnson's error, Steedsman stopping short on third. Hermes single scored both players and ceased the batting activities of the inning.

Phis Score Again

The new champs scored again in the fourth when Don Clark walked and came home on Bliss' double. In the fifth the Rhos brought in two runs when Widdifield was hit by Hermes,

To know what to give, one needs but observe the students' own expressions of preference for the Parker Duofold Pen and Pencil.

To have earned the favor of the younger generation is our reward for serving it with studied personal interest. We have lifted the frowns from student brows [among others] by giving the world a writing pair that are inspirations to work with and beauties to possess.

All those in favor of owning, or giving the finest — whether for Graduation, Birthday or Wedding Gifts, or for prizes at Bridge or Golf—will signify by stepping in to the nearest Parker pen counter.
