DANIEL VERDER'S BOOK OF LYRICS IS OFF PRESS

That North Dakota State college environment is conducive to the best efforts of poets is proven by Daniel Verder, English instructor at the college, whose "Book of Lyrics" has just appeared on the campus. Several of the poems, Mr. Verder states, were written here during the last school year.

The Thomas Nelson publishing company of New York, a highly reputed house, printed 1500 of the books as a first edition. Attractive in appearance the volume is bound in blue with gold lettering.

ALPHA GAMMA RHOS WILL DEFEND TITLE AGAINST KAPPA PHIS

Campus League Teams Clash On Dacotah Field At 4 P. M.

Duplicating last year's spring sport event, the Alpha Gamma Rho baseball champions will defend their title against the Alpha Kappa Phi sluggers this afternoon at 4 p. m. The game will go nine innings to a decision, providing old Mother Nature doesn't interfere with program.

The Gamma Rho outfit has been practicing regularly and will present a well balanced, and well trained team to the fans this afternoon. The Kappa Phi aggregation, just out of a tight squeeze with the YMCA nine Wednesday, will offer plenty of resistance to the ag pill-pounders in their march to another campus league title.

Thez Alpha Gamma Rho men advanced to the final round of the baseball tournament by easily defeating the Alpha Sigma Tau team by a 19 to 0 total, and then trimming the Kappa Pisis in a five-inning battle 5 to 1. After a hard tussle with the Delta Sigs, the Kappa Phis managed to get around Morrow's pitching enough to garner three runs and win 3 to 1. In the YMCA team the Phis found some tough opposition and after five innings of scoreless ball, managed to eke out a 3 to 2 victory. The Kappa Pisis had previously beaten the Delta Pi men 6 to 5 in a close battle while the YMCA easily punctured the Theta Chi hopes 6 to 1.

And now things stand exactly as they did a year ago with the two rival fraternities facing each other for the championship. It will be a case of determination vs. revenge, and a merry battle. Paul Gertin and Johnny Mach will do the battery work for the Rhos, and Dutch Hermes and Ade Wall will send and receive respectively for the challenging Kappa Phis.

ALPHA SIGMA TAU HAS PARTY TONIGHT

The Alpha Sigma Tau fraternity will give an informal dancing party at the fraternity house on Friday night from 8:30 until 11:30 p. m.

The house will be decorated with spring flowers and John Wandmaker and Chris Haas will be in charge of arrangements. Patrons and Patronesses for the affair will be Capt. W. W. Millard, Judge and Mrs. Leigh J. Monson, and Prof. and Mrs. W. T. Rolfe.

SENIOR PLEDGES

A campaign is under way among the members of the senior class to get a 100 per cent pledging to the customary alumni fund. It is needless to urge the members of the Class of '27 to respond. After four years of residence at the college, the matter is merely a gesture.

The bigger task remaining for the Class of '27 is the support it gives State College after graduation. Too often have graduates faded from the collegiate horizon to never be heard from again. Each senior should realize the potential worth to the college he or she carries away. Graduation from the institution does not mean complete severance of relations with the college. The graduate can promote and protect the interests of our college much more than can the undergraduate. The latter is usually concerned with the scholastic grindstone. If he does see faults, his powers to correct them are decidedly limited.

Annually, there are such holidays as homecoming, May Festival and the many other occasions when college associations may be renewed. There is a bit of personal honor involved. The college has fitted you for a better livelihood; you should respond by doing all to make your Alma Mater a better college.

RECOGNIZING LEADERS

Recognition services held Thursday for honorary organizations should have a great significance to students of State college. The recognition in itself means little. Leaders in the many fields of collegiate endeavor should not require a public recognition of their activities that will come as a result of their particular effort.

But the convocation has much more significance than the honors involved. Human beings do not change radically during their spans of life. Living is very much a growing process. The students who are leaders now should be leaders tomorrow.

The man who coined the phrase "born leader," however was only a crank on the heredity question. Leaders today may be developed as a result of their environments. Were this not so, building colleges would soon become a lost art.

Leadership requires that an individual have knowledge, an understanding of both technical and social problems. A scholar may easily become a leader if he does not supplant the book world for the real one. On the other hand, the socially adept person should balance his diet of personalities and associations with one of scientific and literary study.

Dean Minard in his address on the adventures of knowledge gave many examples of men who used their knowledge to the utmost. Sheer learning is futile unless that knowledge is applied to everyday problems. In such application, the individual becomes as much a leader in his field as is his knowledge superior over that of other individuals.

The recognition of our student leaders need not necessarily be viewed in the light of an honor to those individuals. It should serve as a spur to the man in the crowd. The man who becomes a leader in a particular college activity is adapting himself to his environment and at the same time eliminating handicaps that had previously held him down.

SENIOR CLASS PLANS 100 PER CENT PLEDGE

A committee of seniors has opened a campaign to get every member of the Class of '27 to subscribe to the annual pledges made by outgoing classes. It is the class' plan to make their subscriptions 100 per cent representative, stated Rae Kneeshaw, president of the seniors.

EBULLITIONS OF EBONY BLOTT

By Everett Wallum

F. Ralph Hollands, whose dynamic aggressiveness was instrumental in bringing about more stringent campus parking laws, was arrested the other day for speeding.

He may be the president of the Student Commission at college, but he looked like a dare devil scowflaw to the blue-coated motorcycle cop.

He was immediately hauled up before the judge, when he was accused of chugging down the thoroughfare at twenty-nine miles per hour, central standard time.

If Ralph's Fantastic Fanny can go twenty-nine miles per hour, we're going to get a pair of roller skates and race Sig Haugdahl next summer.

THE CAR HASN'T GONE FIFTEEN MILES ALL YEAR.

They must have added Ralph's height to the mileage.

When confronted with the charge, Ralph's neck rippled with gulp after gulp. The campus chieftan at last felt the iron arm of the law.

The stern Judge, who has had years of experience with desperate criminals, asked the culprit the reason for his breakneck speed. Pale, wan Ralph, tears welling up in his starry eyes, pleaded hunger as his reason for speeding home.

If Ralph sped home every time he was hungry, he'd never get out to school.

The Judge sneezed audibly at Hollands' excuse. "You look hungry," he gibed bitingly.

"But," said Ralph, "I-I am—"

"Five dollars," broke in the Judge gently, and six feet of North Dakota State College student commission swooned.

RALPH COULD HAVE GOTTEN BY CHEAPER IF HE WOULD HAVE GIVEN THE JUDGE THE CAR.

The plea of hunger might have worked if he'd been caught taking a piece of pie or a turnip.

Now what will the student commission do when a campus law violator pleads emptiness in the bread basket?

The real reason for a lot of this law breaking is emptiness in the head.

RALPH'S ENGINE IS MISSING. MUST BE ANOTHER CASE OF ROBIN' HOOD.

After this, Ralph is more apt to be caught feeding than speeding.

IT'S ALL RIGHT TO SPEED IN A CAR, JUST SO IT ISN'T DONE IN THE BACK SEAT.

Now that Ralph has taken up speeding, "Slim" Lindbergh had better look to his laurels.

He may not be able to cross the Atlantic, but he can sure cross a mean ballot.

BISON, VIKINGS TIE IN CINDER MEET, 65-65

The Bison and Valley City Teachers College tracksters tied 65-65 in the third and final meeting of the year, on Dacotah field Friday.

The hopes of the Bison went glimmering when the Viking relay men captured the event which in the two previous meets had gone to the Bison, but the performance of Clasen, who made a jump of 20 feet and 3 inches to win first in the broad jump, enabled the Bison to tie the count.

Clasen won the individual honors with four first places. Clasen won his points in the javelin throw, 120 yard high hurdles, broad jump, and in the 220 yard low hurdles. Zeissler was second in scoring with firsts in the pole vault and high jump, and a second place in the broad jump which brought his total to 13 points. Velzy, Viking distance man, nosed Peschel out of third place, having a total of 11½ points to his credit.

Peschel, Bison dashman, beat out Miller to take the leading role in the 100 and 220 yard dashes. Acting as anchor man in the baton classic, Peschel overcame much of the lead established by the Viking team and was but a short distance from overtaking the Viking runner at the tape.

This Pen Must Stay in Perfect Order or we make it good without charge

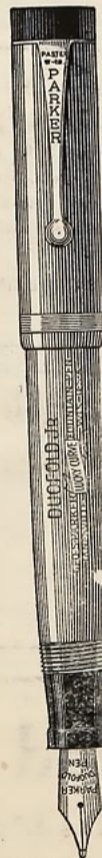

The custom of sending Gifts to Graduates has now been extended by general accord to include those in the lower classes who have manifested sufficient industry to pass their final exams.

To know what to give, one needs but observe the students' own expressions of preference for the Parker Duofold Pen and Pencil.

To have earned the favor of the younger generation is our reward for serving it with studied personal interest. We have lifted the frowns from student brows [among others] by giving the world a writing pair that are inspirations to work with and beauties to possess.

All those in favor of owning, or giving the finest — whether for Graduation, Birthday or Wedding Gifts, or for prizes at Bridge or Golf — will signify by stepping in to the nearest Parker pen counter. The first thing to look for is the imprint, "Geo. S. Parker," on the barrels. Then nobody will be disappointed.
