INTRA-MURAL TRACK MEET TO BE TUESDAY

"Merchant of Venice" Being Staged Saturday at L. C. Theatre

EDWIN BOOTH CLUB OBSERVES BIRTHDAY OF THE DRAMATIST

Shakespearean Exhibit, Club Banquet Part of Annual Exercises

"The Merchant of Venice," Shakespearean drama, will be presented by the Edwin Booth Dramatic club Saturday afternoon and evening at the Little Country theater.

Given in commemoration of the birthday of William Shakespeare, greatest playwright of all time, the "Merchant of Venice" will be one of a series of events to be held tomorrow on the birthday anniversary of the English dramatist.

Two Performances Given

The matinee performance will be given at 3 p. m.; the evening showing will be staged at 8 p. m.

Other events planned by the Dramatic club and Mr. Arvold, head of the public discussions department, are the annual dinner being served at 6 p. m. Members of the Edwin Booth club and several honor guests will attend.

Exhibit, Party Planned

An exhibit of Shakespearean costumes and relics will be on display in the Green room. A party will be held following the evening performance of the play.

Taking the leading feminine roles in "The Merchant of Venice" are Marjory Gulickson as Portia, the heiress and Dorothy Kretschmar playing the part of Narissa, her waiting maid, also an outstanding part.

Shylock is played by Floyd McDunn. The character of the rich and penurious Jew, demanding his "pound of flesh" is perhaps the most famous of Shakespeare's characters in the play.

ARCHITECTS FAVOR PEARLY BUTTONS

The senior's pride as a rich man's opulence will shine forth in a white-vested front.

Given to conceiving naves and naive notions, five seniors in the department of architecture have acquired white satin vests and walking sticks. Whether or not the senior architects would set themselves apart from the campus riff-raff, they at least have the underclass men quite agape.

"APPLE SAUCE" GIVEN AT ENDERLIN TUESDAY

A cast of Little Country Theater players staged the three act comedy "Apple Sauce" at Enderlin Tuesday afternoon and evening. The play was given as a part of dedication services of the new Enderlin community hall. Mr. A. G. Arvold gave the dedication address.

COMMISSION ACTS ON PARKING ISSUE

GRASS, PARKING LAWS MODIFIED—INTRAMURAL TRACK TAKEN UNDER WING

The new student commission of the North Dakota State college held its first regular meeting at the Bison-Spectrum office Tuesday evening. Ralph Hollands, president of the commission, presided.

A set of parking regulations on the campus were passed by the student governing body and will go into effect at once.

"The present commission's policy on the campus trespassing issue," according to Mr. Hollands, "will be that of not allowing students to walk upon the grass in front of buildings nor allowing the making or using of new or forbidden paths."

Another step taken by the commission was the placing of intra-mural track activities under the jurisdiction of the athletic commissioner on a similar basis as are intramural basketball and baseball sports.

Parking and trespassing laws passed at the meeting Tuesday are as follows:

1. No walking on grass directly in front of buildings or on old paths.
2. Parking of cars will be allowed only on the north side of the main drive from the main gate to the dairy building. Cars must be parked parallel.
3. Parallel parking only will be allowed on north side of drive from Ceres hall to chemistry building.
4. Parallel parking of cars will be allowed on the west side of the drive in front of science hall.
5. Perpendicular parking of cars will be allowed in front of the agricultural building and on the south side of the drive.

AXEL STRAND IS ILL WITH BLOOD POISON

Axel Strand of the college janitorial staff has been confined to St. Luke's hospital for the last three weeks with a serious case of blood poisoning brought about by the freezing of one of his feet last winter.

He has charge of janitor work at the administration building. Best known to students for his coffee making proclivities, Mr. Strand and his log cabin coffee have been featured perennially in community programs by Mr. Arvold.

THEY LEAD JUNIOR PROM MARCH

Ronald Millard, manager of the Junior Prom, and his partner Miss Rita Morris will lead the grand march of the Junior Prom being held in the armory tonight.

COLLEGE COUNCIL APPROVES BUILDING ASSOCIATION MOVE

Plan of $150,000 Dormitory Project Awaits Only Approval of Board

Organization of a dormitory building association at the North Dakota State college to provide funds for the erection of necessary buildings at the institution was approved by the College council Thursday afternoon and authority for such action will be requested from the state board of administration, according to A. H. Parrott, registrar.

The action is taken under the measure passed by the last session of the state legislature approving the organization at state educational institutions of such associations.

Dr. John Lee Coulter, president of the college, presided at the council meeting.

"Since the board of administration favored the bill before the legislature, it is anticipated that there will be no serious objection to this request," stated Mr. Parrott.

President Coulter assisted in framing the bill which ultimately was passed by the legislature.

If the request by the agricultural college is approved, the plan before the council proposes the immediate erection of a $150,000 fireproof structure, capable of housing approximately 200 students.

The first drawings submitted by Keith and Kurke, architects, provide for an up-to-date building of the latest apartment type with three stories and basement.

President Coulter, who during his vacation period last summer devoted most of his time to a study of dormitories.

DR. DeKLEINE GIVES CHILD HEALTH TALK

The address at the education round table for Thursday, April 21, was given by Dr. Wm. DeKleine, director of the Fargo Child Health Demonstration. This is the first of two addresses by Dr. DeKleine on the achievements and experiences of the child health demonstration.

JUNIOR PROM AT ARMORY TONIGHT

"STREET OF DISTORTED ILLUSIONS" TO FORM WIERD NOVEL SETTING

Decorations for the Junior Prom are completed, according to Philip Keene, chairman of the decorations committee. Committee members have been at work the last two evenings preparing the setting to be known as "The Street of Distorted Illusions."

Wierdness and discord will be the keynotes of the formal party decorations. Along each side of the armory floor will be lamp posts of the weeping willow type. Additional lighting effects are to be ceiling and flood lights and a unique moon. Leading up to the moon will be an improvised stairway having many of the precarious angles characteristic of the futurist and cubist art.

A special program is planned for the evening and several feature numbers are to be presented, according to John Wandmaker, in charge of features.

PHARMACY CLUB HAS MEETING THURSDAY

The Pharmacy club met Thursday afternoon in the chemistry building. George Sampson, president of the club presided.

75 MEN IN DACOTAH FIELD EVENTS SEEK ORGANIZATION PRIZE

Pan-Hellenic Group, Gold Star Band To Assist At Greek Games

Seventy-five track men have entered the intramural field and track meet to be run off on Dacotah field at p. m. Tuesday.

All fraternities, the College YMCA and other organizations will compete for the trophy being offered by Coach Leonard T. Saalwaechter.

Marking the formal opening of track competition at State College, the meet will be the first of its type. As with class meets of former years, the intramural meet will come under the jurisdiction of the student athletic commissioner.

Favored with fair weather, athletic officials have planned to make the meet a banner track day. The Gold Star band, directed by "Doc" Putnam, will turn out Tuesday.

Sorority representatives in the Pan-Hellenic league have indicated that sorority members will be on hand Tuesday to see the Greek games.

Bleachers will be in place for the spectators so that events may be conveniently viewed. Rolling of the track and additional work is being done daily to overcome the handicap of the recent rains.

Eligibility rules will require all candidates competing to report to the athletic department by Saturday, stated Coach Saalwaechter yesterday.

The Bison cinder coach has also decided to limit entries in the 100 and 220 yard events. Each organization will be allowed to enter only two men.

The trophy being offered to the winner of the meet is now on display in the Spectrum office. Organizations at a recent meeting decided that the prize will go permanently to the group winning two meets in successive years or in three years.

Fifteen events are being run off. They are: 100 yd dash, 120 yd high (Continued on page four)

NEW YWCA CABINET INSTALLED TUESDAY

Installation services for new cabinet officers of the College YWCA were held Tuesday evening at the College YWCA. Beatrice Sjoquist, president of the old cabinet, presided. Carrie Meers, traveling YWCA secretary, of Chicago, also gave a brief address.

New cabinet members installed are, Geraldine Ewald, president; Hulda Finstad, secretary and Esther Boyer, treasurer. Chairmen of the various committees are, Gladys Barton, social; Marion Trowbridge, finance; Marie Webster, meetings; Billie Eastgate, publicity; Grace Sjordahl, student friendship; Doris Abel, Ceres hall representative; Ruby Oscarson, music and arrangements; and Margaret Zinn properties and room.

New committees formed are the student friendship and properties and room groups. The missions and church relations committees were discontinued.

DORMITORY PLAN

The action of the College Council in requesting permission to form a dormitory association was an inevitable one.

With a freshman class of more than 400 students entering the college last fall, facilities for housing the students off and on the campus are sadly inadequate. Officials and persons not closely in touch with the college have not been fully aware of conditions here.

The wooden barracks have seen their better days both as class rooms and living quarters. No better proof of this is necessary than experiences of students. On a rainy day, it is nothing unusual for one to come into a barracks classroom and find a study bench for two covered with rain seepage from the roof. In fact, the writer speaks from experience.

These are not the best conditions under which to acquire higher learning, but the "higher-ups" deemed we might stand things for nother two years. Erection of a dormitory will at least assure State College tudents dry sleeping quarters.

A NEW PROCESS

A salient fact brought out by Dr. Devine was the statement that our relations with Mexico were in importance to be placed before those of any other nation, not excepting Great Britain. Mexico to the average American has been virtually a 'dark continent'. We know that much American capital is invested there and that American lives must be protected from banditry. We have scarcely conceived of the Mexicans as a race fit to govern.

Then we are told of a Constitution that departs as much from the conventional as did our Declaration of Independence. In it are contained clauses that our Supreme court have as American measures rejected. Labor has become a powerful force in Mexico or the labor clauses would never have become a part of the Constitution.

Mexico with its hundred years of peonage and banditry may be about to "step out." Ignorance has been the bane of the southern republic for decades. The peon class of Indian and Spanish blood, the autocratic, military caste, and the priesthood have been much apart.

Calles' move to democratize education and eliminate some of the illiteracy and unhealthy conditions of Mexico and its poorer classes has merit. Likewise, the land laws are those that any self-preserving government might make.

Exploiting Mexico by domestic and foreign representatives has been a major sport for the last century.

Neither the church, foreign investor, or dictator has rid Mexico of revolutions, illiteracy and banditry. Isn't it about time that a new process of 'running things' be tried?

Bison To Be Ready For Distribution By May 15

COLOR WORK TO BE USED THROUGHOUT BOOK; ATHLETIC, SATIRE, BISON LIFE, ARE OUTSTANDING SECTIONS

Before another week has passed, the presses will begin to set forth in print the year's record of events at the North Dakota State College in the 1928 Bison, yearbook of the college, according to Richard Hackenberg, editor-in-chief. Borders and color work already are nearing completion and body of the book, printed in black ink, will be run off before May 1, allowing the bindery two weeks in which to get the books ready for distribution by May 15.

The theme of the book is a "greater North Dakota." This will be carried out in the division pages, each of which will contain a tri-color tipon of North Dakota industries, and a border in cadet gray and gold. Borders of the same will be used on the first eight pages of the book.

The opening section will contain the dedication to John Lee Coulter, president of the college, in full color, a feature never before attempted by a Bison staff. A frontispiece, depicting the state's most important agricultural product, wheat, follows the subtitle page. The opening section is followed by the campus scenes. The first of these also is in three colors depicting a flax field, characteristic of North Dakota.

The administration section shows exactly what the different schools are doing for the state. The classes section includes the seniors and juniors, and all the class officers, together with small state scenes. "Bison Life" includes snapshots taken at random and placed on a blue tint. This section takes in publications, the Little Country Theater, music, military, society and occasions, such as homecoming, inspection and the May festival. The athletics section is the most extensive of its kind ever placed in a Bison. The football part of it alone contains nine action scenes, coach, captain, team and 24 individual shots. Basketball presents an article on the year's games, and contains pictures of the coach, captain, captain-elect, team and eight individuals.

The organizations section follows athletics and contains clubs, fraternities, and sororities, together with the Student Commission and other campus governing bodies.

Ebony Blott's satire section fills 28 pages. The section is modeled after a daily newspaper. Everett Wallum is the satire editor.

The advertising campaign has been completed successfully, according to F. Ralph Hollands, business manager. Harry Wold, advertising manager of the book, brought the total up to the mark set by Mr. Hollands at the deadline marking the close of the campaign.

DEVINE EXPLAINS MEXICAN SITUATION

CONSTITUTION OF 1917 HAS UNIQUE LABOR CLAUSES; RELIGIOUS FEUD DESCRIBED

A third force, that of organized labor, has entered the struggle for dominance in Mexico, i was shown by Dr. Edward T. Devine, editor of The Survey, in his address on "Mexico Today" at convocation Wednesday morning. With the Catholic church and the army having remained he balancing forces since Mexico's first bolt for independence in 1810, the explanation of Mexico's new constitution of 1917 plainly indicates the presence of his third force.

The Mexicans have written into their code of laws the novel phrases, eight hour day, six day week, no child labor, and lastly, a minimum wage provision. The two latter laws as American measures were rescinded by the United States Supreme court.

The Mexican Federation of Labor, with a membership of 1,500,000, is anything but Bolshevik, stated Dr. Devine. He pointed out that Samuel Gompers, American labor patriarch, organized the Mexican federation seven years before the Russian bugbear was formed. He also added that the Russian consulate, considered a pivot of Russian influence in the Western hemisphere, is shunned in Mexico.

Two issues now paramount in Mexico are the government's enforcement of religious and land laws.

Dr. Devine believed that the church has been discriminated against in Mexico by the passage of harsh measures that will strip it of much influence, politically and educationally. Banning of parochial schools is the chief irritant. To fight the government's action, the priests have "walked out" and boycotts of various types have been declared. By such action they hope to deprive the government of revenue. The Mexicans have carried the boycott so far that the purchase of lottery tickets has stopped.

The misunderstanding that has arisen between Mexico and the United States has been due to Mexico's new land laws. A zone ranging in width from 35 to 60 miles on Mexican boundaries has been closed to foreign ownership, unless the owner foregoes to his native country and recognizes the Mexican authority. Interior Mexico is open on the same basis. All mineral rights of land remain with the Mexican government. American ownership of practically half of foreign holdings there has made for acute interest.

Calles, stated Dr. Devine, is representative of the Revolution of 1910 and its spirit as set forth in the 1917 constitution. Once a school teacher, Calles stresses educational and health legislation for Mexico.

 Rod LaRocque in "GIGOLO" "BLIND ALLEYS"

EBULLITIONS OF EBONY BLOTT

By Everett Wallum

The feature of the Junior Prom tonight will undoubtedly be the "unique setting of distorted scenery." The most distorted piece of scenery, that we have ever seen at a Prom, was a wee freshman attempting to fill out his father's tuxedo.

The armory is transformed into a street setting. The old wreck should have its setting permanently established in someone's wood box.

Prom managers claim that the dancer will see refracted lamp posts, spherical triangles of light, and leaning skyscrapers. If one can see all this for three dollars, there's no use paying twice that much for stuff that makes the imbiber see red only.

PERHAPS THE LEANING SKYSCRAPERS ARE RALPH HOLLANDS AND FOREST WHEDON.

If the architects really have charge of the setting, you will see everything at the prom but the battle of Waterloo with the original cast.

The setting will be so distorted that if you go home tell your father what you saw, he'll probably kick you out for drinking.

THERE WILL BE A FALSE CEILING OF GROTESQUE CHARACTERS, THEY SAY. THIS IS PROBABLY JUST THE CARPENTERS FIXING THE LEAKS IN THE ARMORY ROOF.

The setting is of such a nature that if your garter unfastens you can blush modestly and say, "heh heh it's part of the setting, heh heh."

And if a co-ed can not come to the aid of a gleaming pair of nostrils she can hurriedly chatter: "Just a part of the setting, doncha know. A lighthouse on the mute prairies. Isn't that distorted? Who ever heard of a lighthouse on the prairie? Heh, heh."

If the girl objects to being held tight while dancing, just say that you were scared one Hallowe'en and your fear of these grotesque figures just makes you want to cling to something.

If this scenery is really distorted, the men's socks will at last be in their element.

WE NEVER WERE IN FAVOR OF FAN "UNDER THE SEAS" SETTING. THE MEN FEEL LIKE FISH, ANYHOW.

Some of our professors, who distort our exam papers so nicely with the red ink, could do wonders with a little thing like distorted scenery.

WE DON'T CARE WHAT THE COLOR EFFECT IS, JUST SO SOMEBODY ISN'T TALKING A BLUE STREAK.

The lighting effect, we hope, will be better than the lighting effect from our campus politician's cigars.

The bouncer at the ball assures us that the lighting effect will be especially striking to those refusing to pay.

The only thing that won't be distorted at the Prom will be the three dollars entrance fee. You can't change that.

WELL HERE'S HOPING THAT, IF YOU GET A RENTED "TUX," IT WON'T HAVE TOO BIG A RENT IN IT.

SCENE FROM EDWIN BOOTH PLAY SATURDAY

Marjory Gulickson as Portia, the heiress in the Shakespearean play, "The Merchant of Venice," and Dorothy Kretschmar, as Narissa, her maid, have leading parts in the Edwin Booth production being given Saturday.

LYCEUM NUMBER WILL BE TUESDAY

WALKER WHITESIDE TO APPEAR IN "THE ARABIAN," COMPLETING ANNUAL STAGE SERIES

Walker Whiteside, noted dramatic star, will present Gordon Keen's melodrama "The Arabian" in the college armory, Tuesday, April 26, as the 6th number of the college lyceum course.

Mr. Whiteside, known especially for his interpretations of oriental characters, has played stellar roles in a great number of dramas and a great variety of nationalities. Some of his popular reproductions are: "We are King," "The Melting Pot," and "The Hindu."

In March, 1926 Mr. Whiteside made the production of "The Arabian," which scored a hit, and was presented in metropolitan centers during the balance of the year.

The setting at the opening of the drama is in Cairo and later shifts to an oasis in the distant desert, where an English expedition is held up and compelled to comply with the terms of a noted bandit. The bandit, Abd el Rey, is portrayed by Mr. Whiteside.

Romance vies with adventure and it is said that there are thrills enough for a dozen melodramas. Miss Camelia Campbell will head the superb New York cast.

ZIMPEL ADDRESSES WOMEN'S CLUB

Prof. Max Zimpel, Frankfurt, Germany, instructor in the modern languages department at the college addressed members of the women's club at the college Thursday. The club met at 3 p. m. in Ceres hall.

"The German Woman" was subject upon which the exchange professor at the college spoke.

Mrs. John Lee Coulter, and Mrs. A. F. Schalk presided at the social gathering later. Other committee members were, Mrs. O. O. Churchill, chairman, Mmes. F. L. Weeks, E. H. Jones, A. K. Smith, George Mayoue, E. J. Thompson, C. L. Swisher, A. G. Arvold, A. F. Hunsaker, W. C. Palmer and Misses Pauline Reynolds, Grace DeLong, Elna Miller, Emma DuBetz and Constance Miller.

PHI OMEGA PI HOLDS EASTERN STAR SERVICE

Members of the Phi Omega Pi sorority held their floral affiliation services for the Mecca chapter of the order of Eastern Star at the Masonic temple Thursday evening.

Geraldine Ewald, as worthy matron presided at the services. Frank I. Temple, worthy patron of the sorority was present at the formal services.

LETTERMEN HOLD PARTY TOMORROW

The North Dakota State Lettermen Club dinner dance will be held Saturday at the Powers Hotel. Dinner will be served at 6:30 and informal dancing will constitute the form of diversion for the evening. This banquet is held annually for the lettermen of the college. Ade Wall is chairman of the committee in charge and he will be assisted by George Newgard and Carl Hansen.

FASHIONS DESIGNED FOR "BOYISH TYPES"

That the greater part of the present fashions for women are designed for the "boyish type" and are not becoming to everyone without adjustments, is the contention of Miss Dorothy Hatch, home economics department, North Dakota State college.

The thin and the tall person may properly dress to disguise the figure to look well in the styles of the season by selecting a dress with fullness in tucks, gathers, shirrings or double material, states Miss Hatch. Horizontal lines, such as tucks and bias folds, would be good, or a two-piece dress with a repeat of the height by a long tie or a row of buttons or a box pleat may be good also. A medium-sized pattern material is good for this build.

In making selections for the too-stout-for-her-height type, designs should be chosen that have a concentration of decoration or lines toward the center of the costume to keep the attention away from the silhouette. A vertical arrangement of the decoration is usually best. The woman of such proportions will do well to avoid large pattern material, bright colors, and sharp contrasts in color if she truly wishes to appear her best.

We all look better in some colors than in others, states Miss Hatch, but sometimes we like a color so well that we wear it regardless of the effect it has on the skin and the hair. Try different colors near the face while standing before a mirror, urges the clothing expert, and then decide which one darkens the skin and which one does not.

Dear Torg;

Ben so busy that I've feigit to tell you of the social affairs that hev ben going on. They pute on Peer Gynt and so niver saw so many gude looking wimmens and Peer, he was there two. I am talking to Mr. Arvold to see if he wont be so kind as to put it on at Fort Ransom so you and the old Settlers can give a look.

Thin one of the fraternities put on a wow of a party in the Armory but dey were reel narro minded about it, wouldnt let any of us other fellows in. They said that Stephens was throwing (throwing means putting it on big) the shin-dig and if what I saw was true he certainly can decorate. the Army looked lots bettern the time thet travalling troope plaid Uncle Toms Cabeen in the Town hall.

Me & Walt Clasen has formed a Mopupist Unoin. He helps Bill Ben-shoof trim the ladys and wid me and a cuple more teling Flaten how to sel close and shirts, I think we can incorporate (Dats one of the neu words I jest earned). Bills shop is next to Elmers an there both next to the Fargo Theater so you kant miss us when Im not at home.

As ever,

Torg.

P. S. You ought to see the new "Scanties" thet Flaten's jest got in. Stripped running pants that will look grand on Hayes when he is pole waulting up in the air. They are so good looking thet it is to bad they have to be wurn on the insides. Are you seeding yet and how is the stock.

The general plan of the dormitory system to be utilized upon the completion of the building will be a division of the 200 students into six groups of 35 students each. A supervisor, to be an instructor in the college, will be placed in charge of each group.

Rapid growth of the agricultural college since 1921 has left the institution with no facilities to care for students from out in the state. Practically all such students at the college are now housed in private homes. A few students still live in the wooden barracks built during the war. This building has been taken over for classrooms and only about 50 students now stay there.

Be Sure to Buy Good Clothes

What you invest in a suit determines what you will get out of it. There are always stores which chirp "cheap! cheap!" for there are people who actually think price is everything.

They forget that "how long it wears" is better measure of economy than "how cheap it was." You can be sure of getting good wear, good looks and comfort in any suit you choose here.

SOME HAVE OCCASIONAL EYESTRAIN

Others are never free from it. Both classes should get our attention. Nothing can hinder a person in the performance of his daily duties more than eye strain. No matter how strong he may be, the strain is sure to have an effect upon him. Every victim of eye strain would be better in every way for receiving our services.
