STUDENT ELECTIONS WILL BE HELD MONDAY

Engineers Carnival Ball Is Being Given In Armory Tonight

ANNUAL PARTY WILL REVIVE WILD WEST DAYS OF PIONEERS

Novel Light Effects Used—
Prizes Offered For Best Costumes

Engineering students in the School of Mechanic Arts will stage their annual Engineer's Ball in the college armory tonight. Given in a spirit of commemoration of pioneers and their days, the ball will have a wild west and carnival setting, stated Otto Jagd, manager of the annual party.

An Early Day Setting

A setting that will abound in the atmosphere of pioneers will be used. Gaming tables and concession stands where the miner, soldier or adventurer for a night, may leave his hard earned nuggets or bills of large denomination will add color.

The orchestra will be canopied in a covered wagon and flanking either side of the armory floor will be the main street of Placerville, Cripple Creek or what not in replica.

Costume Prizes Given

Refreshments and prizes are to be given. A prize will be awarded to each best costumed lady and best costumed man.

Committees in charge have developed several features. Gordon Duff and Elvin Potter in charge of lighting effects, have several surprises in store for guests, they infer.

Assisting Otto Jagd in the management is Jess Brenden. Merle Cuthbertson has charge of decorations and other committee chairmen are: Bill Shine, programs; Bill Brindle, concessions, and Harold Hulett, music.

Earl Olsen and his Collegians will play the dance program. Dancing hours will be from 8 p. m. to 11:30 p. m.

Chaperones for the evening are to be Prof. and Mrs. W. T. Rolfe, Prof. and Mrs. R. M. Dolve and Prof. and Mrs. H. S. Rush.

MAJOR BRENDEN GETS A 'BLACK MARIA' RIDE

The curious individual is easily victimized. Occasionally, he becomes the hero of the day.

Seeing Jess Brenden bundled into a modern version of "Black Maria" to be driven off under the surveillance of Sergeant Andy Quam and a plainclothes man set a Spectrum scandal sleuth busy.

"Why should Brenden be taken to the 'cop station'?" A major in the toils, a member of Delta Pi in good standing, engineer of Homecoming parades, Brenden at a slack time was being caught?

The scandal sleuth asked confidentially of authorities, "What has Brenden done, anyway?"

It is known now that Major Jess Brenden was an eye witness of the Slocum-Snyder car crash Tuesday. The police wanted his testimony and the calendar wanted two days of being April 1.

FRATERNITY BASKETBALL CHAMPIONS

The Alpha Gamma Rho team recently won the fraternity basketball championship. Members of the team are: first row, (left to right) Paul Guertin, Russell Widdifield, Captain John Mach, Merrill Burke, and Elrey Young. Second row: Leo Toussaint, William Frey, and Kenneth McLain.

THOMSEN, Y SECRETARY RETURNS FROM EAST

PROF. SLOCUM IS HURT IN CRASH

PROFESSOR'S AND STUDENT'S CARS COLLIDE—SLOCUM CUT ABOUT FACE

Prof. R. H. Slocum, instructor in civil engineering of the School of Mechanical Arts, was hurt in an auto collision occurring at Eleventh avenue and Thirteenth street, N., Tuesday.

Sam Snyder, driver of the second car, suffered no injury. He is a freshman in the School of Science and Literature at the college.

The accident occurred at 1:05 p. m. Tuesday. Mr. Snyder was driving north on Thirteenth street and Prof. Slocum was going eastward on Eleventh when they crashed at the intersection.

Professor Slocum was knocked unconscious and suffered several bad gashes about the face from flying glass. He was taken at once to St. Luke's hospital where he is convalescing.

ELECTIONS

Monday is election day. At the polls every student will be on an equal basis; has the privilege of choosing his representative in office.

Students seem to have forgotten that voting is a part of their education and duty at college. A parallelism to this is the situation in our states.

The Minnesota legislature is considering a bill that, were it enacted, would fine every vote slacker ten dollars. Then there is the other extreme of going back to the days of landholders' rights—letting only the taxpayer vote.

The privilege of casting ballots is totally lost sight of by students and public. We read about wars, strikes, and varying degrees of political and social cysts, but their relation to the ballot box has only recently been traced. In short, we are not public spirited.

College in this respect as in others is only a laboratory of life. We are living lives here that will be very nearly synonymous with our after-careers. If we do not vote now, we will not vote later. The college man must be the social and civic leader. His self-assertion may ultimately be no larger, no more influential than is the consistency with which his kind votes.

TRACK

State College has a track coach. Since the last big snow, students should have come out of the hibernative state. Track is the one sport that has been sadly neglected here. Inclement weather has always been the stock alibi. The coaches have been content to take matters easily and potential trackmen were lost for lack of development.

Coach Saalwaechter is making a bid for freshmen and sophomore material particularly. The Bison should be able to take a few points and ultimately become a contender in the Conference meets. We have been onlookers from the beginning.

Given fair material, a coach can make even a showing on a track course. But how is he to jockey out a win without even entries to place his hopes on. Field events should strike the fancy of many native sons in our college. There isn't a corporal's guard out for the heavy roles.

Students are not to be entirely blamed for the situation. Track as baseball has withered here as a collegiate sport. They are sports fully as constructive if not moreso than the court and grid sports. You have versatility in track, you have it in your individual self. It is the individual against the individual in the cinder sport. And it is the individual, a coach must work with. All isn't in the winning, but there's a lot in trying.

MUD-SLINGING

Nature is slowly healing the college's wounds. If the governor had seen fit to provide us with housing and street wear—we wouldn't have to conceive ourselves as puddle jumpers. Fortunately the sun is drying the campus thoroughfares. We can soon walk about without the fear that a crocodile lurks in the depths of this mud wallow or that.

Gridmen to Begin Spring Work with Revised Rules

PASSING RULES MORE LIBERAL
—HUDDLE AND SHIFT COME INTO DISFAVOR.

At a recent meeting held by leading grid coaches of the country some important changes were made which will become effective in the coming season. The majority of the fans and coaches are of the opinion that the changes are beneficial to the game, believes Coach Cortright football Coach at the college.

One of the most important changes to be made was the slowing up of shift plays which have been attacked by many of the coaches for the past two seasons. A pause of one second will be made necessary after the shift has been made before the ball can be put into play. A team or player offending this rule will be penalized fifteen yards.

Pass Rules Changed

The grounding or the fumbling of a backward pass will no longer be regarded as a fumble but will receive the same consideration as a grounded forward pass. This ruling applies to all backward passes with the exception of the first pass from the center.

A ruling making the conversion of a fumbled punt into a touchdown impossible was also made. If a team receiving a kick in the form of a punt should fumble, and should the opposing team make the recovery they will be unable to advance the ball for extra yardage. The ball will be put into action by the recovering team at the point where the recovery was made.

Pow Wows Banned

A limit of time was also placed on the huddle system. The teams using the huddle system will now be allowed only fifteen seconds for assembly thus eliminating the "ladies aid conference" resulting from the huddle system.

The goal post will be moved back ten yards from the play avoiding any accidents which may result from collision with the posts. The change of the goal post will not have much bearing on the game only making the kicking of field goals more difficult.

EBULLITIONS OF EBONY BLOTT

By Everett Wallum

Now that Gil Moe has picked the all-college "Y" team, we can resume our studies.

A "Y" team is right. All the other players are saying: "Y was picked?"

ELECTION DAY. MONDAY. THIS IS THE LAST SANCTIONED PUGILISTIC ENCOUNTER OF THE SEASON.

We think there will be less stuffing of the ballots than stuffing of the unsuspecting voters.

Candidates are already handing out lots of smiles, few cigars, and no gum.

Engaged girls can safely put X's before any handsome candidate's name without fear of detection.

An X used to mean a kiss or a bottle of Johnny Walker. Now it means a smile, and sometimes a stogie.

The Engineers use the Wild West theme in their annual ball. Why don't they have a Chicago setting which would make it real boisterous.

THEY HOLD IT ON APRIL FOOL'S DAY SO THAT THE CUSTOMERS WILL HAVE NO COMEBACK.

They used to hold on to a string attached to a pocket book for deception in the old days. Now they hang on to the pocketbook and let the string out on the walk.

WHAT WOULD ANYONE WANT WITH A POCKETBOOK ANYWAY

If you want to get by big with your Prof. just pull his chair from under him as he sits down. Then say April Fool and tell the folks you were going home anyhow.

If you want to get a rise out of your female instructor, place a mouse by her desk.

Heaven help the Rodent!

Get the April Fool spirit. Call up your girl and tell her April Fool, you can't come. This will bring a big laugh out of the telephone operator, and will probably be a big relief to the girl.

IF YOU SEE A PLUG HAT ON THE SIDEWALK WITH A BRICK UNDER IT, IT MAY BE A FRESHMAN.

So don't kick it. Just walk up to it and say hello. If it is a Freshman, it won't answer. If it answers, it's a brick.

We kind of shy from this Wild West atmosphere at the Engineer's Ball. Jesse James did his best in the Wild West.

But we warn the Engineers. Just a few days ago, a bunch of rustlers was captured near Bismarck.

We are told that the American Farmer's dollar is worth eighty cents. Sounds like a pretty good investment to us.

AND THE SMITH-HUGHES DOLLAR IS WORTH $3.34. THESE COMBINES ALWAYS RAISE THE PRICE OF THINGS.

If your dollar is worth anything, it will have cents enough to stay in your pocket.

We don't know much about the value of money, but we do know that a Scotchman's dollar isn't worth trying to get.

After taking a taxi, we discovered that our dollar was worth a lurch, two convulsions, a haughty glare, and two blocks.

SEED PLOTS URGED FOR SMALL GRAINS

Each farmer who expects to grow to grow seed for sale as seed should take steps this spring to sell such seeds under the Certification act, Senate bill 114 passed by the last legislature, according to H. L. Bolley, of the North Dakota Agricultural college, state seed commissioner.

"The first and most important of these steps is to start with as pure a variety of the kind of grain to be grown as is possible to procure," Mr. Bolley says. "Sow this selected seed on a clean area of land where no grain of the same kind, but of different variety, can volunteer. This field should be looked upon as the seed plot. Field crop inspectors will be sent to all those who apply for the same before July 1.

ELEPHANTS

The elephant is man's most intelligent helper. But—consider this interesting comparison:

An elephant is much larger than the electric motor of a "yarder" or logging machine. The "yarder" has the power of twenty elephants; it handles clusters of logs; it works dependably, twenty-four hours at a stretch, if necessary.

Twenty elephants would eat daily 10,000 pounds of green food, which a corps of attendants must gather. A motor "eats" nothing but electricity, supplied at the throw of a switch.

Power used in the modern industrial world is applied through electric motors—tireless "iron elephants" that are relegating antiquated machines to museums, along with such oldtime household articles as wash-tubs and ordinary irons—and stuffed elephants.

Two million elephants could not do the work now being done by General Electric motors. Whatever the work to be done, whether it needs the power of an elephant or the force of a man's arm, there is a General Electric motor that will do it faithfully for a lifetime at a cost of a few cents an hour.

Dear Brother Torg:

Us live wires is beginning to talk about Gay Cat day. They call it that becas thatss the day we put on the dog.

Gay Cat day is an aual event every year at the A. C. College. We all dress a little worse than usual and get a little rougher than we durst most other times, and we take the day off for a well earned holiday and have a pairaid and a big bunfire and lots of exciting things.

Ime going to be the knockout of this occasion becas Ime just going to dress natcherel like I did on the farm, Torg and I act so funny annyway I think I'll be the ssensashun of Gay Cat day.

Flaten doesn't make a spechalty of costumming Gay Catters becas most of his stuff is too nifty for such a rough occasion, but hes promised to give me a loud pair of sox and a flashy necktie to complete my outfit.

Speaking of these drills which the ROTC has don't forget what I told you that means, (Rough on Tender Collegians). I had to have my uniform padded on the shoulder to keep from getting spavined with that rifle. Honest, Torg I never saw a little piece of machinery gain weight so fast as that thing does on the drill field.

How's the spring market? Ime needing some mazulix.

P. S. Forgot to tell you who sponsors the best company—nice gal named Ibbig Powers, watch me parade by her.

Those to be awarded letters and their averages for the Hearst Trophy match are: Albert Bjorge, 108; Ronald Millard 102; Clarence Reed, 86; Leroy Lillie, 81; Raymond Hack, 81; Arthur Johnson, 75; Curtis Ballard, 72; Gerald Barney, 71; Loren Plath, 69; and Reubne Halvorson, 68.

Ronald Millard finished in first place for the season's shooting. Albert Bjorge and Leroy Lillie placed second and third. The winner of first place receives a green ribbon with three stars and the others the same except with two and one stars.

Salad was served at Mary Klinsmann's, and finally the guests were taken to the chapter house where desert was served.

Too Many People Guess About Their Eyes

In fact we believe most folks do that. It seems they try to make themselves believe they have normal sight rather than submit to an examination to learn the true condition of their eyes. Such an attitude is decidedly unwise. Why not give your eyes the consideration they deserve. Glad to be of service to you.
