BISON AND CADET PUCK TEAMS SPLIT TWO GAME SERIES

Smith's Hockey Men Win First
Game 3-2; Falk Stars
In Cadets' Win

The hockey team representing the North Dakota State College broke even with the fast St. Thomas sextet in a two game series played in Fargo over the week end. In the first game of the series played at the Island Park rink Friday evening the Bison succeeded in downing the Cadets by a 3-2 score. The game was fast and well played through out despite the cold weather.

McDowell, Wambach Score

The Bison went into the lead in the first period when Kenneth McDowell, Bison left wing, put the disc through the net for the first counter. In the second period Lottie Wambach, Bison right wing, and McDowell both succeeded in scoring to give the Bison a 3-0 margin at the end of the second period. In the final period, the Cadets led by their clever captain, Bib Falk, did their best playing. Twice in the last five minutes of play Falk cleverly eluded the defense to work his way near the goal and score.

Falk is Cadet Star

Falk proved to be the real threat for the Cadet offense while Murphy looked good at defense. Lottie Wambach was the bright light on the Bison offense while Rae Kneeshaw played a steady game at defense. Bill McRoberts, the stalwart goalie for the Bisons, played a spectacular game at his position. Time after time he stopped shots which looked like sure goals.

In the second game of the series played at the A. C. rink Saturday afternoon, the Cadets succeeded in annexing a victory over the Bisons by a 4-0 score. Although the Cadets did win by a comfortable margin, the score did not indicate the intensity of the game. It proved to be a battle from the beginning to the end.

Falk again was the life of the cadet offense. It was through his ability to work the puck down the ice that the Cadets won. He put the Cadets in the lead with a goal in the second period. In the third period he scored two more goals himself, and assisted Murphy in scoring one.

Several penalties slowed the game up a bit, but none of these penalties were made because of dirty play. Both teams exhibited a wonderful spirit of sportsmanship.

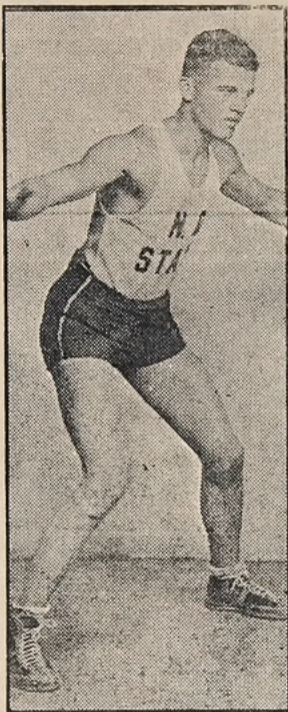

Lottie Wambach was again outstanding for the Bison offense while Captain Severtson and Kneeshaw played a fine defensive game. Had it not been for the work of McRoberts at goal, the score most likely would have been larger. He played the same spectacular game as he had the night before.

1317 ENROLLED AT STATE COLLEGE

MORE THAN TWICE AS MANY MEN AS WOMEN STUDENTS;
FRESHMAN CLASS LARGEST

More than twice as many men are enrolled at the North Dakota Agricultural college as there are co-ed students, it is shown by figures of A. H. Parrott, registrar of the college. There are 730 men students and 326 women students enrolled at the college.

Up to January 15 there was a grand total of 1317 students taking work at State college.

Four-fifths of the total number of students are taking regular college work, or 1056 students of the total 1317. High school work is being taken by 130 students, and vocational and winter short course have respective enrollments of 63 and 68 students.

By schools, the School of Science and Literature leads in numbers with 293 students. The school enrollments ranking in order are: Education, 173; Mechanic Arts, 166; Agricultural, 154; Home Economics, 103; Chemistry, 86; and the School of Pharmacy, 81.

The Freshman class has nearly double the number of students enrolled in any other class. There are 457 freshmen in college, 239 sophomores, 175 juniors, 14g seniors and 24 students doing post-graduate work.

FIVE ONE ACT PLAYS TO BE GIVEN TONIGHT

Edward Pepple's play, "The Girl", will be directed by Dorothy Volkamer.

The one-act play, "The Valiant" is being directed by Robert Sanderson. "All Gummed Up", by Harry Cribble, being directed by Elmer Hanson.

CHARITY BALL WELL ATTENDED FRIDAY EVENING AT ARMORY

Helen Newton, Wilfield Hurt
Lead March—400
Present

Garlands of Florida moss, streamers in black, brown and green, to represent seaweed and painted scenes depicting rocks and shells, formed an effective "under the sea" setting for the annual charity ball, an affair sponsored by the PanHellenic association of the North Dakota State college, given Friday night in the college armory.

Garlands of "seaweed" and green balloons were suspended from the ceiling and from the balcony. Stuffed paper fish swam over the heads of the dancers and frogs disported themselves on a huge rock in one end of the hall.

200 Couples Attend

The party was attended by more than 200 couples, made up of the young people of the college and from the city. A half hour of informal dancing was enjoyed until 9 p. m. when Miss Helen Newton, president of the association, and her escort, Wilfield Hurt, led the guests through the grand march, which formally opened the party. Bathing girls served green frappe and the members of the orchestra, disguised as pirates, dispensed the favors from an oak bound treasure chest. The orchestra played from a sunken ship.

Receiving the guests were: Dr. John Lee Coulter, president of the college, and Mrs. Coulter, and the presidents of the sororities: Miss Helen Newton, Delta Phi Beta; Miss Eva Wilner, Phi Omega Pi; Miss Dorothy Stoudt, Sigma Theta; Miss Mavis Peterson, Phi Kappa Lambda and Miss Eloise McArdle, Kappa Delta and their escorts.

The patrons and patronesses for the affair consist of the patronesses of each sorority and their escorts.

AIRHEART SPEAKS ON JEW OF TODAY

JEW'S GREATEST CONTRIBUTION IS MONOTHEISTIC RELIGION,
SAYS WESLEYAN HEAD

"The Jew is the most misunderstood individual in the world, today. Yet, the time is coming when the brotherhood of man will be a reality," Dr. Walter Lee Airheart of the Wesley college faculty, told an interested group in the Green room, Friday evening.

Dr. Airheart, speaking on "The Jew in the Modern World", cited many instances to show that the evils of ignorance, intolerance, and misunderstanding were giving way to a better relationship of man with his brother.

"Monotheism is the greatest contribution of the Jew to civilization," according to Dr. Airheart.

"Christians often forget that Christ was a Jew. If all could realize that we have a common ancestor and that we have the same ideals, ambitions, and welfare, then a great stride in human affairs will have been made."

An open forum discussion followed Dr. Airheart's lecture. The program was sponsored by the Intercollegiate Menorah Association, national Jewish society.

SCHALK MEETS FORMER STUDENTS AT CORNELL

Dr. Peter Olafson, '25, former student from Mountain, N. D., is now an instructor in general and specific pathology at Cornell University, Ithaca, N. Y., reports Dr. A. F. Schalk, head of the college veterinary department, who met Dr. Olafson during a recent visit at Cornell. Dr. Olafson, doing graduate work at Cornell, after leaving here is reputed to be one of Cornell's foremost scholars.

Dr. Schalk also met Jack Hendrickson, a former student at State College. Mr. Hendrickson at the present time is doing research work in poultry pathology at Farmingdale, Long Island. Mr. Hendrickson also received his master's degree at Cornell.

BISON DROP FIRST GAME TO NODAKS BY CLOSE 25-23 SCORE

Saalwaechter Men in Last Minute Rally Fail to Knot Score

There is no such a being as "Lady Luck" in the Bison camp, but there is a wide variety of black cats for they fairly ran circles about the Bison basketeers in the last few minutes of the game with the University. With the score 25-23 in favor of the Nodaks in the last two minutes the Bison broke up the University stalling game and fairly poured shots at the Nodak basket.

Long shots, short shots, totalling fourteen attempts, rolled about the rim of the hoop and fell from the edge in a disgusting manner as the sound of the gun put an end to the efforts of the Bison to win.

Nodaks Open Scoring

The Nodaks started the scoring when Lee made a free throw, shortly after the opening of the game. The teams battled at an even pace for the next three minutes neither team being able to work the ball under the basket. Hermes dropped in a free throw for the Bison making it an even count.

North Dakota then stepped into the lead when Boyd dribbled under the basket for a short shot after receiving the tip off. Boyd succeeded in scoring another attempt at the State basket. Viegel made the score 7-2 shortly after McPherson has counted for the Bison at the foul line.

Bison Take Lead

Saaly's cagers took time out and came back with an attack which gave them a three point margin over the Nodaks. Hermes started the Bison field scoring on an out-of-bounds play, and dribbled through for the second Bison basket. Hermes received a long pass from Miller and converted it into a basket putting the Bison in the lead. Miller again dribbled deep into the University territory and passed to Hahn who counted with a short shot putting State in a 10-7 lead.

The Flickers after taking time-out, succeeded in tying the count and then surpassing the Bison by a two point lead which they retained until half the score being 17-15.

"ARE YOU WITH ME?"

"Are you with me?" is a universal and timeworn query of college cheer leaders. Never has it been more so the case than at State college. We may as well be frank. The cheering at the University and South Dakota games was "Rotten"; the cheer leading was "More rotten".

Before going further, there are several outopsies to be held.

"Did the cheerleaders know about the hockey games?"

Where are the Bisonites and Bisonettes cheering clubs that were supposed to exist at this college?

"Is there a Bisonites club?"

If not, "Did the club die a natural or violant death?"

It is strange that the spirit our college body had during last Homecoming should have spent itself. The University our team plyed Saturday was the same we met in football. Defeat in each case is no criterion for comparison or contrast, but spirit is certainly one.

Last omecoming, our faculty caught the spirit. In fact, we are not so sure that they did not set the ball rolling in some committee meeting. Now, as a student body, we've again gone off to sleep—in a trance of supposedly sincere support of our college and its teams. Again, it is not so unlikely that we have been lulled to sleep.

Right now our student body needs a Bisonites cheering club; it needs an honest-to-goodness yell leader or two to jar loose some spirit.

In the writer's belief, the successful cheerleader needs before all else in his repertoire, the ability to get the students back of him. All the mechanics, all the ballet dancing and all the soliloquized handclapping in the world cannot get students' spiritual support. There must be several persons among this student body of 1400 who can crowd up on its "hind legs" to cheer whether the moment calls for or does not call for such action.

FREE SPEECH

An article presented recently by the weekly news magazine, Time, gives an interesting account of collegiate free speech as interpreted at the University of Wisconsin.

John J. Blaine, retiring governor, U. S. Senator-elect, and disciple of the late great, free-speech liberal, Robert M. LaFollette, and Ienn Frank, president of the University of Wisconsin are the principals.

Governor Blaine called a tax catechism issued by one of President Frank's professors: "A hodgepodge of lies, half-truths and misrepresentation."

President Frank replied that the Governors statement implied that the professor should either retract, resign, or be removed.

"As long as I am president of the University," said Dr. Frank. "Complete and unqualified academic freedom will not only be accorded to members of Faculties but will be vigorously defended, regardless of the pressure, the power or the prestige that may accompany any challenge of this inalienable right of scholarship."

As the Time magazine put it, "Friends of Dr. Frank said he made Gavernor Blaine look like a Bourbon monkey."

The incident illustrates the ideal type of leadership American Universities. At the same time mking allowances for the fact, that the Senator is entitled to his own beliefs, the tendency of American politicians to jump at conclusions may be illustrated. Where the professor may have been carefully studying the roots of evil for months; the all-knowing-successful politician passes a snap judgment.

The University beat us by one point in football and two points in basketball this athletic season. We hope it's a case of one, two, three, and out.

***

A local sports writer said that both teams relied on youngsters. The referee wasn't such a youngster.

***

IN THAT POPULAR MAJOR SPORT, "BEARD THE LEGISLATOR", THE UNIVERSITY SEEMS TO BE ABOUT FIFTY POINTS BETTER THAN US.

***

If Lee is a youngster, the Woolworth building is a sod hut.

***

McPherson is a youngster, too, but he doesn't have to climb a chair to turn off the light.

***

Compared with the charity ball staged the night before, the basketball clash was a tame affair.

***

THOSE ATTENDING THE BALL MAY HAVE HAD A GOOD TIME, BUT A LOT OF THEM DIDN'T KEEP IT.

***

The interior of the armory was so thick with dust during the dance that partners had to gargle different shades of garlic to find themselves.

***

IN FACT THE DUST WAS SO THICK YOU COULD DANCE WITH IT IN CASE YOUR PARTNER WAS MISSING.

***

Cramer didn't go to the dance, but he buried himself in a sandhill to get the same atmosphere.

***

Maybe we shouldn't kick up so much dust about a dance, but the men must have been desert shies to withstand the sandstrom.

***

NERO MAY HAVE FIDDLED WHEN THE ROMAN FIRE DEPARTMENT WAS CALLED DOWN-STAIRS, BUT HE HAD NOTHING ON STUDENTS WHO PLAYED CASINO WHILE THE "U" WAS SINKING BASKETS.

***

THE "U" tussle was a good game, the Chicago fire was a good fire, and the murder of Caesar was an excellent murder, but it doesn't help our appetite much.

***

The upstate rooters gave us a yell in which they designated our college as S. C., while our noble yell leader told us to say A. C. Anything to get along.

***

Maybe by S. C. they meant Stop Claudie.

***

Freddie Sorkness very enthusiastically led the "U" in several snappy yells. Only a year ago Freddie said the "U" was some sort of a seminary or street car junction or something.

***

We naturally don't blame Freddie, but it's funny how a change in location tempers the thought.

***

IF ALL THE NERVES THAT WERE UNSTRUNG AT THE RECENT BASKETBALL CLASH WERE LAID END TO END, 'TWOULD BE A FUNNY SIGHT.

DELTA SIGS AND SIGMA TAUS TIED AFTER WEEK OF BASKETBALL UPSETS

Play in the Fraternity basketball league has developed into a series of upsets with the lead now being held by the Theta Chi five with two games won.

In the past week the Delta Kappa Sigma quint took a fast game from the Alpha Gamma Rhos by an 18 to 12 score. The Gamma Rho five knocked the Alpha Sigma Taus out of firstplace in trimming them by a 24 to 17 score. The Theta Chi quint won their position in the race by winning the closest battle of the season, 23 to 21 from the Delta Sig men.

Eddie McPherson and Bill Howell did most of the scoring for the Sig team in their two games. Toussaint, with three field goals, and a free toss accounted for seven of the Rhos' 12 points against the Delta Sig team. In the Delta Sig-Theta Chi game, Millard and McRoberts divided scoring honors.

The Sigma Tau loss to the Rhos is largely accounted for in Andrist's failure to net more than one field goal. The Alpha Kappa Phi men remained idle all week. Although they share cellar honors with the Delta Pis, the Engineers are badly mired with three successive defeats.

Standing to date are:

BIRD BANDED BY PROF.
STEVENS RECAPTURED

A Harris sparrow, banded by O. A. Stevens, North Dakota State college, Oct. 22, 1926, was caught by C. E. Gunderson at Astoria, South Dakota, Dec. 17, 1926.

It is unusual for a Harris sparrow to be that far north so late in the fall, according to Mr. Stevens. The Harris sparrow, one studied by Mr. Stevens, as a rule winters in the Great Plains region, somewhere between Kansas and Texas. This bird nests in the interior of Canada, the exact spot not being known to biologists.

Many records have been reported on the recapture of birds. Only recently the "Official Record", United States department of agriculture, Jan. 12 issue, stated a new twelve-year recapture record on a pintail duck. The duck was banded at the mouth of Bear River, Utah, on Sept. 16, 1914, and recaptured at Brawley, Cal., last Oct. 16.

The article in the "Official Record" also mentioned a record on the recapture of a white stork by the Rossiten, Germany, famous European station. The recapture in that case was eleven years after the banding.

Mr. Stevens spends much of his spare hours in the study of birds during the fall and spring of the year. By the trapping and banding method he has been able to make valuable studies of the habits and activities of birds.

STOCK JUDGING
PAVILLION INADEQUATE

The stock judging pavilion is a limiting factor to progress in live stock production and diversified farming in North Dakota, according to Prof. J. H. Shepperd, head of the college animal husbandry department.

In summarizing the use to which the present cramped pavilion is put, Dr. Shepperd pointed out that much of the Children's club work in the state is affected by the Junior show held annually at the pavilion.

Classwork and showing of animals is limited, said Prof. Shepperd. But half of a class of 60 students are able to judge at one time.

Other state-wide organizations, such as the Little International, State Poultry show, Northwestern Farm Manager's Association, State Live Stock Breeder association, and the many Smith-Hughes School Boys' judging teams alike find the present pavilion inadequate, he said.

The senior girls' bowling team is making a runaway race of the class league following their brilliant series Tuesday on the College Y. alleys where they took two games from the Freshman pinbusters.

Junior bowlers captured two games from the sophomore team Wednesday with Gladys Bockwaldt starring for the upperclass team, while Grace Sjordal topped her sophomore teammates with a 121 average

The seniors and sophomores clashed on the alleys Thursday evening with the Blake sisters topping all contestants to give the senior within a short time tied the count. The Bison offense excelled their work of the first half but this was offset by their deterioration in shooting.

Co-Eds an overwhelming victory. Anita Mary Blake with a 142 pin average for the match, topped her sister Charlotte by one point.

The Juniors won their match with the Freshmen Friday. Campus League finals will be played off this week.

With five minutes to play the Nodaks led the Bison 25-22. Miller added a point from the free throw line which closed the scoring of the game. The University then attempted to stall but the Bison succeeded in breaking up this game and secured several shots at the Nodak basket. The Nodaks again attempted to stall. Newgard, McPherson and Hahn brought the fans to their feet in frenzy when Newgard gained possession of the ball and obtained a short shot at the hoop which was followed up by Hahn and McPherson both missing several consecutive attempts, just before the gun sounded.

The work of Claudie Miller eclipsed that of his teammates to some extent as Miller proved a big factor in the fast breaking Bison offensive plays as well as checking several Nodak dashes for the basket. Lee, University center, proved to be high point man for the Flickers securing three field goals and four free throws.
