MILLER AGAIN ON ALL-CONFERENCE TEAM

GRAY, THOMSEN IN ATTENDANCE AT STUDENT CONGRESS

Noted Educators To Discuss Problems With College Representatives

William Gray, senior at the North Dakota Agricultural college, and president of the Student Commission at the college, and Eric H. Thomsen, general secretary of the college Y.M.C.A. left Wednesday to attend the annual convention of the National Student Federation of America which opens at the University of Michigan, Ann Arbor, this week. Delegates from all parts of the United States are attending.

Delegates To Meet Butterfield

Mr. Thomsen and Mr. Gray expect to return about December 10. They also have an engagement with Kenyon L. Butterfield, president of the Michigan State College, at the close of the Student Congress.

The Federation, which held its first congress at Princeton university last year, has as its platform the attainment of cooperation among American students and their discussion of student problems in common.

National Educators To Speak

National educators who will attend the congress are, Professor Alexander Meiklejohn of the University of Wisconsin, formerly president of Amherst college, Mass.; Dr. Stephen P. Duggan, director of the Institute of International Education, and President Henry Noble MacCracken of Vassar college. They, along with student speakers, will present various phases of the themes, "The Student's Part in Education."

Subcommittees will discuss such college institutions as, curriculum, fraternities, athletics, honor systems, student government, choice and methods of teachers, and others.

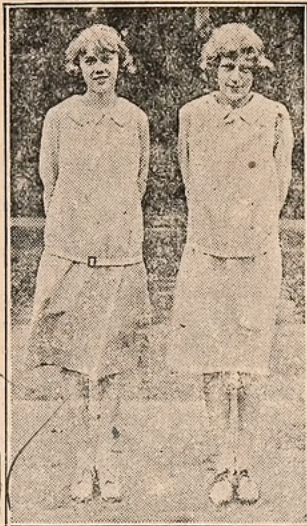

Reports will be made on the many subjects, and relationships with parallel organizations of the Student Federation in European countries will also be consummated.

HOME ECONOMICS CLUB RAISING MEMORIAL FUND

Teher was a meeting of the Home Economics Club at 7:30 p. m. Thursday in Ceres Hall. A social hour was held after the business meeting. Each member brought one penny for each year of her age.

This money goes into the Ellen H. Richards Memorial Fund. Each state is pledged to contribute a certain sum to the fund. North Dakota's quota is $90. The fund is sponsored by the National Home Economics Association. It is in remembrance of Ellen H. Richards the founder and "mother" of Home Economics. By the assistance of this fund the National Home Economics Association supports a school of home economics in Calcutta, India. The Association is endeavoring to make this fund large enough so that the school can be supported from the interest.

DAKOTA GIRLS PLACE HIGH IN CLUB CONTESTS

GRAFTON GIRLS WIN IN NATIONAL EVENT

MABEL GRAVING GETS TWO FIRSTS; JEANETTE RYE THIRD IN CLUB CONTEST

Mabel Graving, a member of the North Dakota Boys and Girls club at Grafton, won two first places at the National club congress being held at Chicago in connection with the International Livestock show, according to a telegram received by H. E. Rilling, State club leader at the extension department of the North Dakota Agricultural college.

Miss Graving won first place in the bread judging and the clothing judging contests against national competition.

Jeanette Rye, also of Grafton, and a teammate of Miss Graving, won third place in the bread judging event.

The splendid showing of the North Dakota girls at the Chicago show was a duplication of former triumphs at Sioux City, Iowa, where Miss Rye won first in the clothing judging contest.

The club girls are members of a state-wide institution. Members of the state clubs hold their annual institute at this college. More than 300 boys and girls club members will arrive here on December 13 for the opening of the four day session of the Institute.

GAMMA TAU SIGMA GIVES NEWS MOVIE

"Around the World with the United Press" is the name of the movie to be shown with complements of Gamma Tau Sigma, journalistic fraternity, for students of the North Dakota State College, at 3 p. m. Friday in room 210 of the agricultural building.

A personal representative of the United Press will be present at that time to explain the workings of the association in its news getting activities. The picture will show just how the news of the world is transferred to all member newspapers and how papers of the foreign countries are managed. The members of all publications staffs on the campus as well as others interested in journalism are invited to attend.

CHRISTMAS KIDDIES' PARTY AT COLLEGE 'Y' SUNDAY, DEC. 12

Students Host To Children At Dinner; Tickets On Sale At Bison Office

About 125 children of the city will be guests of students and faculty members of the college at the annual Kiddies' party being given by the College Y. W. C. A. and Y. M. C. A. at the College Y Sunday evening, December 12.

Students and faculty members will act as hosts to the children whose names have been given to the arrangements committee by a local charitable society.

Tickets at Bison Office

Tickets will be on sale at the Spectrum-Bison office all next week for the dinner to be given at 5:15 p. m. Sunday, according to Rebecca Keene in charge of ticket sales.

Names of the children who are to be guests of the students and faculty members will also be obtainable at the publications office. Marion Trowbridge is assisting Miss Keene in the ticket sales and registration arrangements.

The menu of the Christmas dinner has been planned by a group of girls from the Phi Omicron Upsilon sorority. Beatrice Sjoquist is chairman of the dinner committee; Marion Trowbridge has charge of the presents. Each person acting as host or hostess is asked to bring a small gift for their child guest. Carl Ash is chairman of the College Y committee assisting with the party.

It is also asked by the chairman of the dinner committee that anyone who desires to assist may bring a small glass of jelly, or preserves as a contribution for the Kiddies' party. These may be left at the College Y or place of ticket sales.

A short program, a Christmas tree and gifts will be a part of the party setting.

Constance Melchoir will give a reading and a short play, directed by Harold Fog, which will be a feature of the program.

Transportation for the children is being furnished by the city's street railway company. Those taking children to the party will make reservations for their names and meet them at College Y Sunday evening.

POULTRY JUDGERS ATTEND NATIONAL

FIRST COLLEGE JUDGING TRIO, COACHED BY BARTON, LEAVES FOR CHICAGO DEC. 8

The first poultry judging team ever turned out at the North Dakota Agricultural college, will compete at the National Poultry show which opens at the Coliseum at Chicago on December 11.

Members of the local college team, Frank E. Moore, Medora; Ruben Stende, Ulen, Minn., and Carl G. Ash, St. Vincent, Minn., with Prof. O. A. Barton, coach and head of the college poultry department, will leave for the Chicago show on December 8.

The National poultry contest, in which the team competes, has three competitive divisions. Judging of exhibition poultry, judging birds for production and an examination on the "American Standard of Perfection" make up the divisions. Over $500 in prizes and trophies are being proffered to competitors.

Growth of the poultry department at the North Dakota Agricultural college has been on a steady incline, along with the rapid development of the poultry raising industry in the state, according to Professor Barton.

DELTA KAPPA SIGMA HAS PLEDGE PARTY TONIGHT

Pledges of Delta Kappa Sigma fraternity will be entertained by active members of the fraternity at an informal dancing party being given at the Elks club this evening. The hours of dancing will be from 8 to 11:30 p. m.

Howard Swinney heads the committee in charge of arrangements and is assisted by Oliver Radde, Hugh McMath and Thomas Early.

Patrons and patronesses will be, Mr. and Mrs. A. H. Parrott and Dr. and Mrs. W. C. Hunter.

HASTINGS, ST. THOMAS ADMITTED; BISON MAY PLAY BIG TEN TEAM

Dr. Schalk Elected Conference President; Cortright Gets Four Loop Games

Claudie Miller, elusive Bison halfback and captain of this year's eleven, was unanimously chosen for the left halfback position on the All-Conference team picked by North Central coaches, at their annual meeting in Chicago. The coaches witnessed the Army-Navy game Saturday.

Because of Miller's ability as an open field runner, and on account of the havoc he wrought upon the opposing teams of the conference he was pronounced to be one of the most brilliant performers to ever play on North Central Conference gridirons. Miller, throughout his four years of football has won many games for the Bison by his dashes around ends which often terminated in touchdowns.

South Dakota State College, placing five men on the All-Star eleven, also had a unanimous choice in Kelly, who has starred for the Jackrabbits in all their games.

Two Schools Admitted

The season of 1927 will see the debut of two new members of the conference; Hastings College, of Hastings, Nebraska, and St. Thomas college, of St. Paul. St. Thomas had previously been a member of the conference; and their readmission will make arrangement of schedules for the northern teams much more convenient, as will Hastings for the southern half of the conference. Neither team believes that it will be possible for them to schedule enough games for the coming season to make them eligible to the championship. With the exception of Creighton and the two new entrants, the other colleges were able to schedule enough games for eligibility.

TACOMA, WASH., GIRL FIRST IN DECLAMATORY

Mildred Stiles, Tacoma, Wash., sophomore in the Agricultural and Mechanic Arts high school at the college won first place in the 18th annual high school declamatory contest held at the Little Country theatre Monday evening. Miss Stiles' selection was "Thread Needle Street" by Anne H. DeNell.

W. Longfellow; Stanley Bernston, Parshall, "Woman's Rights" by Artemus Ward; Jordyce Ingberg, Fargo, "At the Baseball Game," Anon; and Clark Fredrickson, Davenport, "The Hazing of Valient," by Hazel Williams.

WE WANT YOUR SUPPORT

Few people on the campus realize the difficulties that arise in the publication of a yearbook. The 1928 Bison is not an exception. The staff members at the present time are hard at work to make it a success but they cannot do it alone.

Cooperation of the student body is the essential thing that they need. Pictures need to be taken in due time, money has to be raised from sources as yet unknown, hundreds of people have to be dealt with and so on indefinitely.

If you are late with your obligations to the Bison the book suffers. If it is late in the spring don't blame the staff. It is your book and published "To further the interests of the North Dakota State College" so, do your bit today.

CHRISTMAS IS HERE

Christmas season is here. The first warning that the college has of its presence comes with the announcement of the Kiddies' Christmas party being held at the College Y a week from Sunday, December 12. Perhaps the majority of students at the college have and are still on the receiving end of the holiday spirit of gift giving. The Kiddies' party will be one of their big opportunities to play the big hearted parent and give some fairly indigent child of the city a happy Christmas.

There are about 100 children of the city that a charitable society has found will be in need of the company of about 100 college students and faculty members if the spirit of general meriness at Christmas is to come up to their standards.

The December 12 party will furnish a splendid time for the children and particularly for the hosts and hostesses. All a student or faculty member will have to do is to treat his or her guest to a Christmas dinner and present them with a small gift. In return, the staid faculty member and the ribald college student may again be taken back to Boyville or memories of a younger day. The hours from 5:15 p. m. to 8:30 p. m. will be enjoyed, that is obvious. If you wish to take a live representative of Boyville to that Christmas party, you had better hurry. Names of the children and tickets may be obtained at the Spectrum-Bison office, from Rebecca Keene, or Amy Erickson, manager of the party.

Minard Returns From Two National Meetings In East

ENGLISH INSTRUCTORS ATTENDING PHILADELPHIA CONVENTION DICUSS LANGUAGE PROBLEMS

Dean A. E. Minard, head of the School of Science and Literature, returned Monday from the Sixteenth Annual meeting of the National Council of Teachers of English held at the Benjamin Franklin hotel, Philadelphia, on Thursday, Friday and Saturday of last week. Dean Minard also attended the meeting of the Deans of the Land Grant colleges, Washington, D. C., earlier in the week.

Minard is Dakota Delegate

Outstanding educators, representing colleges, normal schools, secondary public and elementary schools were in attendance from all sections of the country. Dean Minard was the lone representative present from North Dakota.

A joint meeting and dinner was also held by the Council members with the English Language Congress of the Sesquicentennial exposition during the Friday sessions.

"A Bureau of Language Research" is an interesting development advocated by John H. Clapp, New York city, according to Dean Minard.

Industries Have Schools

The need of centralizing and coordinating the many schools being operated by large industries has been recognized. Such schools as those maintained by the association of New York city banks, and others of large technical and scientific industries were discussed in their relations to English problems and their associations with colleges.

Simplification of the English language by altering pronunciation and spelling was also discussed. The many variations in vowel and consonant sounds is thought to be a severe handicap to foreigners desirous of learning English, said Dean Minard.

Other prominent speakers were Mayor W. Freeland Kendrick, president of the Sesquicentennial; John H. Finley, editor, New York Times; Hamlin Garland, author of "Main Traveled Roads," and the famous "Middle Boarder" stories.

A Japanese delegate, stated Dean Minard, gave an interesting account of the Land Grant colleges association. The section has not been segregated from the other representative groups.

Any action to do so has been deferred because the matter of having the annual meetings of the Land Grant college and the State University deans called in joint sessions is now before the Executive committees.

Wangen Returns Home Because Of Illness

Henry Wangen, a graduate last year of the school of chemistry, was released from a local hospital last week after being operated upon for appendicitis.

Mr. Wangen, returned from Detroit, Mich., where he has been in the employ of the Acme White Lead Company. He will return there about January 1. Mr. Wangen has been recuperating from his illness at his parents' home in Glyndon, Minn.

E BULLITIONS OF EBONY BLOTT

By Everett Wallum

Because he was told to cut off his long hair, a Russian student gently killed his instructor recently.

If each student with long hair killed an instructor on this campus, school would of a necessity be closed.

It must be remembered that asking a Russian to cut his hair, is just like asking an American to forget all about the fourth of July.

If a Russian would kill his teacher just because he was asked to cut his hair, just imagine what would happen if he were asked to wash his neck!

We assume that the murderer was not punished for this act as it takes months to grow long hair, but only a few minutes to get a new teacher.

Lots of students in this country can stand a few cutting remarks about their fingernails.

Murder probably would result in this college if the Co-eds were asked to let their tresses grow.

Judging from reports, we'll bet the smallest college in Russia is the Barber school.

Harvard and Princeton severed athletic relations. This is the first we knew of Harvard having a football team.

The annual kiddies christmas party will be given soon. As a good supper is in order, a number of lean college men will probably be sending home for their little brother's short pants for the occasion.

The glancing flapper is as much a menace as a glancing bullet.

Now that the "U" beat Marquette, we are ready for the snowless winter, the galloping weevil, and a good five-cent cigar.

Claudie Miller lost a minute and a half of football play in his four college years. To bad we lost those two touchdowns.

Poe may have written the poem "Bells," but we acted the thing out.

Birds of a feather may flock together, but they go on different hats.

We would probably become incensed over the football article stating that the "U" should have beaten us this year 20 to 6 if we didn't notice that someone from Grand Forks wrote it.

If the Nodaks played two touchdowns better than we did, Santa Claus is an evil force in this community and should be cast out of our social life.

Two South Dakota colleges refuse to debate on prohibition. It is kind of a wet subject.

ARNOLD, THOMPSON ON MARINE ELEVEN

FORMER BISON QUINT AND GRID STARS PLAY IN EAST WITH QUANTICO TEAM

Cy Arnold and Wallace "Wad" Thompson, erstwhile grid stars of Quantico Marine Corps eleven, and former members of Bison grid and basketball teams, have returned to school—to visit.

Have 30 Days Leave

Wad Thompson former Bison stars have been playing regularly on the Marine eleven during the past season.

Cy Has Tough Luck

Cy Arnold cinched the quarterback job on the Leathernicks' outfit and was scheduled, according to Thompson to play in the President's Cup match gam at Washington D. C., Nov. 20 but was injured on the 13th while playing in the University of Detroit game. One commissioned officer is allowed in the President's game; Cy had been elected to call signals, but played in the Detroit fracas long enough to get a strained ankle.

Thompson held down an end job on the heavy Marines team; which Wad reports is a much livelier job than the one at center.

Thirteen games with three defeats was the record of the Marine travelers. Five games in 15 days with stops at Buffalo, Washington, Cincinnatti, Bethlehem, Pa., Providence, R. I. Cleveland, St. Louis, Dayton, O., and Durham, N. H., was the itinerary of the Quantico team.

Arnold arrived home from Dayton, Ohio, Monday, after his team had dropped a narrow 7 to 2 game with Dayton university. Thompson came in from St. Louis Saturday where he was furloughed home after cracking a knee in the Washington university game there Thanksgiving day.

Cy and Wad plan to put in their basketball season with the Bison five as they will be unable to play after their return to Philadelphia the first of the year. They are visiting at the college and Alpha Kappa Phi fraternity while home.

BALES RETURNS FROM WASHINGTON MEETING

KAPPA TAU DELTA GIVES PRIZE PLAQUE

Kappa Tau Delta, honorary architectural fraternity of the North Dakota Agricultural college, is staging a contest for upperclassmen in the department for which a large silver plaque is to be awarded to the winner in annual competition.

The subject presented by the students competing will be a 12 hour sketch problem. Judges have not been chosen as yet by Prof. Walter T. Rolfe, head of the department of architecture.

ARNOLD, GIVING LECTURE SERIES, RETURNS DEC. 10

Prof. A. G. Arvold, head of dramatic work and the department of public discussion at the college, who is conducting a series of lectures on phases of his work at the Recreation and Playground Association of America college in New York city, will re-about December 10. Mr. Arvold is nationally know in his particular field of work.

A former student of the North Dakota Agricultural college is now attending the Association college in New York. Ben Rumpeltes, who graduated last year from the local college, is the lone North Dakota representative. He received a scholarship, as did 48 other representatives along with several foreign students.

Four millions of the best man-power of Europe perished in the Napoleonic conquests. Military conquest is non-creative, while industry is always creative.

In the last ten years one American manufacturer—the General Electric Company—has created machines having a man-power forty times as great as that of all the lives lost in the Napoleonic wars.

In the years to come, when the college men and women of today are at the helm of industry and of the home, it will be realized more and more that human energy is too valuable to be wasted where electricity can do the work better at lower cost.

The laboratories and shops of industry are the sources of many of the enduring attainments of our times. In the General Electric organization is an army of 75,000 persons, co-operating to make electricity do more and better work for humanity.

MISSISSIPPI MAN ASKS ABOUT DAKOTA

Interest in a "Greater North Dakota" was shown to exist in as distant a place as Stonesville, Miss., by a letter sent to the editor of the Bison of 1928, yearbook of the college which is edited by Richard Hackenberg and managed by Ralph Hollands. The student editors received an inquiry from W. E. Ayres, assistant director in charge of the Delta Branch Experiment station at Stonesville. The Gulf State experiment station manager expressed much interest in the theme of this year's annual which will visualize a greater North Dakota.

Are Your Eyes 100% Efficient?
We do not mean with diseased eyes, but with eyes that are imperfect in size or shape. Nothing and no one can CURE such a condition, but fortunately can OVERCOME it. We do that by placing glasses before the abnormal eyes, causing them to function normally, or as nearly as possible. That's a duty we perform daily.
