STUDENTS TO SPEAK ON Y PROBLEMS AT CONVOCATION SOON

Finance Drive for Student Ruled Organization Discussed at Dinner

Plans for the finance drive that members of the College Y. M. C. A. are launching this week were discussed at a dinner held in the Y dining rooms Thursday evening. The drive getting underway this week has as its aim the raising of the students' activities budget of $1931.

Among those present were members of the Student Commission, the Y. M. C. A. Cabinet, the classes of the college, and also representatives of the Y. W. C. A., who had charge of arrangements for the dinner.

Convocation to be Held

The holding of a student convocation early next week for the purpose of allowing students to place the Y situation before their group as a whole was endorsed by Bill Gray, president of the Student commission and other members of the commission present.

In short talks by Secretary Eric Thomsen and Leonard Rygg, Y treasurer, the dire need of funds for the College Association was shown.

Thomsen Shows Y Needs

"When I came here a year ago," said Mr. Thomsen, "The Executive Board was on the verge of closing up the place. Unless, we can obtain funds at this time our hopes for an autonomous student organization are futile. Not only that, but it is not at all unlikely that the Y will cease to function."

"The government and organization of the College Y. M. C. A.," Mr. Thomsen told the students, "is wholly a student proposition. The power to direct the policies and program of the College Y rest entirely in the hands of students. This power has been wrenched loose from the hands of others on the supposition that students were able and willing to support in a spiritual and financial way an organization in which they have complete control. Until the students support the College Y, little aid can be expected from those outside college circles."

The membership drive outlined by Mr. Rygg was that of a standard ten dollar membership fee payable in installments and pledges. The fee, according to Mr. Rygg, entitles one to all privileges such as athletic games, social, dramatic, and other events.

Bill Gray, president of the Student Commission, endorsed the policies of the Y. M. C. A.

"The Student Commission fully approves of Mr. Thomsen's work at the College Y," said Mr. Gray, "And I am sure that every member of the Commission will corroborate me in the statement."

George Newgard, athletic commissioner of the Student Commission gave a short talk, as did Ade Wall, athletic director of the Y.

GAMES TOMORROW

N. D. State vs. S. D. State at Brookings.

South Dakota vs. North Dakota at Vermillion.

Creighton vs. John Carrol at Omaha. Nebraska Wesleyan vs. Peru at University Place.

WALSTER JUDGES CORN AT BARNES COUNTY SHOW

Dean H. L. Walster, head of the School of Agriculture, judged a corn show at the Barnes County Corn and Lamb show held at Valley City October 9.

T. X. Calnain, a graduate of the School of Agriculture in '10, and who is now the Barnes county agent, managed the show.

SPECIAL COURSES OFFERED TEACHERS

CLASSES IN COLLEGE WORK SCHEDULED FROM 4 TO 6 P. M. STARTED FOR PUBLIC SCHOOL INSTRUCTORS.

A group of classes are being organized at the college primarily for the teachers in the public schools and all others who are interested, it was learned today from Dean A. E. Minard, head of the School of Science and Literature.

The courses are to be given from 4 to 6 p. m. on Tuesdays and Thursdays.

Many of the subjects of the college courses have been made available. Professor Kenneth Kuhn will direct a course on the short story. Dr. William Hunter has charge of courses in history 17 and 18. Principles of sociology will be taught by Dr. A. F. Hunsaker. Dr. A. D. Whedon will have charge of a course on forces in heredity and eugenics. Community programs courses will be directed by Prof. A. G. Arvold. I. W. Smith, professor of mathematics will teach elementary statistics.

There must be an enrollment of six students in a class before the subject will be taught. The purpose of the college in offering such courses is to allow instructors to extend their range of college work.

A class directed by Professor Kuhn is already underway and others will be organized next week it is thought.

MOVIES AND DRAMA ON Y PROGRAM THIS YEAR

A series of motion pictures will be shown at the College Y. M. C. A. this winter for the students and faculty, according to Mr. Thomsen, secretary of the college association.

The first pictures will be a series of beautiful dramatic presentations of Scandinavian classics, stated Mr. Thomsen.

A full program of dramatic productions is also being planned by Mr. Thomsen and his assistants. Harold Fog, a student, will direct casts in the production of two plays each term. The first play to be produced within six weeks is the four act Icelandic drama "Eyvind of the Hills".

Plays presented will be chosen by popular choice, according to Mr. Fog. He has already written and produced the one act play "In Our Garden", which was given at the Little Country theatre last winter.

The Kappa Delta sorority is represented this year by Kappa Deltas from 6 chapters of 6 states including our own. Representatives from other states are: Marion Fry Morgan, Cincinnati University, Ohio; Marion Stone, Coe College, Ia.; Gertrude Walsh, Montana State, Bozeman; Mrs. Beckel, University of Minnesota; Mrs. W. Rolfe, Kansas State Agricultural College.

EIGHT BISON STAFF EDITORS APPOINTED

Several Positions Yet Open: Old Masters Studio Gets Photo Contract

Several department editors of the 1928 Bison staff were elected by the Board of Publications at their first meeting Wednesday afternoon. There are still two or three more division heads to be appointed before the eight divisions of the book will be carried for.

Wallum is Satire Head

Those appointed by the board Wednesday are Everett Wallum, who will assume the role of Associate Editor, and who will, under the famed alias "Ebony Blott" edit the entire satire division; Dorothy Kretzschmar, who will have charge of the Classes section; Becky Keene, as Bison Life editor, in charge of perhaps the largest division of the book; Myron Eagle, as Military Editor; Elery Young, Organizations Editor; and Charles Bowers, creator of the scenic section of the 1927 Bison, as Art Editor. The Greater North Dakota section, a special feature of the 1928 Bison, will be edited by the editor-in-chief, Dick Hackenberg.

The vacancies yet to be filled are Administration Editor, and Athletic Editor. These positions are open to

CLASS ELECTIONS TO BE HELD OCTOBER 21

Class elections will be held on Thursday, October 21, it was decided upon at a meeting of the Student Commission held Tuesday evening in the Bison Spectrum office.

It was also decided to hold a special election later in the year for the revision of the constitution of the Student Commission.

Emery Putnam was chosen to head a committee which will cooperate with the Alumni and Former Student association to arrange plans for Homecoming and Bison Roundup day.

OLSEN IS CORN SHOW JUDGE AT TWO TOWNS

P. J. Olsen, '10, assistant agronomist, in the Experiment Station, was the judge at the Leonard Corn Show on October 12 and at the Enderlin Corn Show October 13. Mr. Olsen gave an address on corn production at each place.

Community programs were given at each place by students of the public discussion department.

PUTNAM, NEW HEAD OF PUBLICATIONS

SOPHOMORE BOARD MEMBER AUTOMATICALLY HOLDS OFFICE FOR TWO YEARS

Emery Putnam, a senior in the school of Science and Literature, was elected President of the Board of Publications at its first meeting Wednesday afternoon. Mr. Putnam is a member of Delta Kappa Sigma social fraternity and Gamma Tau Sigma journalistic fraternity. Wilfred Hurt, also a senior, was elected secretary. Mr. Hurt is a member of Theta Chi social fraternity.

Walter Davidson was elected to represent the Board on the Student Commission. Mr. Davidson is a member of Alpha Gamma Rho.

The Board discussed a proposed amendment to the Constitution of the Student Commission to the effect that the sophomore representative be elected for a term of two years to preserve a continuity of membership. The first meeting of the board this year found an entirely new personnel, not one member of last year's board being on this year's. The problems presented to the board are thus thrust upon new and unexperienced members. The only remedy, it was decided, was to prolong a sophomore's term of office to two years instead of one.

Miss Gladys Feenendall was unanimously elected treasurer of the board for the coming year. The funds of all the publications of the college are to be under her supervision.

Several appointments to the Bison and Spectrum staffs were approved by the board at the opening meeting.

REGISTERING OPENS FOR SHORT COURSES

The first week of registrations for the farm husbandry course show 14 enrolled. Enrollments in the course are expected to be greatly increased, believes Dan Walster, with the completion of work on the farms in the next few weeks.

Registration of freshmen in the School of Agriculture have now reached sixty. This is the largest number of freshmen ever enrolled in the school, according to Dean Walster. The enrollment by classes is as follows, freshman 60, sophomores 22, juniors 15, seniors 18.

The total of 115 students is expected to be increased to about 120 before the close of the fall term.

The pledges of the Kappa Delta Sorority were organized at a meeting held Tuesday. Following are the elected officers:

President Teckla Askegaard
Secretary Patricia Schilla
Treasurer Arlene Burt

BISON JOURNEY TO BUNNIE CAMP FOR THIRD LOOP GAME

Cortright Men Face Veteran Team in South Dakota State Game at Brookings

Coach Cortright with a squad of 23 men left by bus at 9:30 o'clock this morning for Brookings, S. D., where they tangle with Coach West's South Dakota State Bunnies for the Bison's third conference start of the grid season.

23 Make Trip

The men making the trip to Brookings are:

Ends:—Newgard, Tilton, Ranes, McArthur.

Tackles:—Kneeshaw, Sullivan, Wall, Marks, DeSautels.

Guards:—Gray, Blair, Berntson, Barney.

Center:—Fisher, Early.

Backs:—Miller, Mach, Hahn, Hermes, Clasen, Peschel, Hansen, Tronnes.

The Varsity men have been driven strenuously all week by Coach Cortright with emphasis being placed on charging and blocking. Several men injured in the Des Moines game are in fair shape for the Bunnies game. Johnny Mach, veteran quarterback for the Bison, suffered a severe eye injury in Saturday's fray, but is sure to be back at his post in the Bunnies' game. Mach's showing against the Tigers was a big factor in their defeat. Ade Wall, stellar tackle, was on the sidelines for a part of the week with a badly sprained ankle. Kneeshaw and Sullivan, who saw brief service in the Des Moines game, are still in questionable condition with early season leg injuries.

Bunnies Are Veteran Team

A scrimmage against the frosh Tuesday evening gave the Varsity a hard workout. The yearlings showed up well against the heavier and more experienced men. Wednesday evening was spent by Cortright's men in running signals and wrestling the bucking machine.

Cortright has prepared his men for a bitter tussle Saturday. The Bunnies have been one of the Bison's most formidable foes in the North Central conference. The Bison's first opportunity to win from the Bunnies in three successive seasons was lost in their homecoming meeting here last year when West's men put over a field goal in the last few minutes of play to tie the Bison 3 to 3.

West's lineup for Saturday will have few new faces. Eleven lettermen re-

MILO W. BRANDMEYER WEDS MISS NORMA SMITH

Miss Norma Smith, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. O. Smith, 1015 Fifth St N, and Milo W. Brandmeyer, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Brandmeyer, college farm house, were married at the home of the bride's parents at 9 a. m. Thursday. Rev. W. F. Dodge, Church of the Holy Spirit, brother-in-law of the bridegroom, read the services. Miss Stella Nelson attended the bride and Millard Rudd, student in the department of architecture, was Mr. Brandmeyer's attendant.

Mr. Brandmeyer attended the college last year and was a junior at the time of his leaving. Mr. and Mrs. Brandmeyer left for a short wedding trip to Minneapolis; they expect to leave for California later in the month where they will reside.

FOLLOW THE TEAM!

You have a chance to follow the Bison in their "ups" and "downs" against the outh Dakota State tomorrow. The gridgraph in the armory will give the students and public a visual representation of each play. It is the students' privilege to redeem themselves after their puny showing at the Des Moines game. If you yell loud enough and sing lustily enough, who knows but what some telepathic wave will pass through the minds of the players. They will know that you're backing them to win. Be there tomorrow at 2:15 p. m.

COLLEGE HAS OPEN SHOP

Education is often quoted as something that when once acquired is inviolably "yours". The difficulty in becoming educationally enriched in former years lay in the fact that education was only available for the few. It is one of the blessings of our country that education is not only becoming more available but is positively the fashionable thing.

We have a horde of examples of it at our own institution not only in the matter of vital beings, but in the matter of curriculum. Our instructors have volunteered to educate us without heed of union hours. It is indicative of the teacher's broadmindedness. He is the member of perhaps the greatest of professions. Hours enter into his scheme of daily work hardly more than to mark off classes. If the instructor ever forgets that his work is a profession and begins calling it a trade, the price of education will take a desperate climb.

The offering of the new courses such as the classes from 4 to 6 p. m., the correspondence courses and the general expansion of teaching facilities at this college and others throughout the country shows that the American scale of education is rapidly catching up with their scale of living.

A report in the New York Times, by Mildred Adams, educational investigator, shows the growth of educational habits. From 1910 to 1915, 35,000 more men went to college than had the five year period previous. From 1915 to 1920, there was an increase of 70,000. The period of 1920 to 1922 shows a jump of 50,000. But in the two years from 1922 to 1924, 187,000 more students trekked off to college. The number of college women in the same period increased 100,000.

Many will disparage such a growth, and say that the schools of the country are educational marts, huge athletic hippodromes and dragonlike menaces to honest laboring society.

There are those who favor the education aristocracy as against a more liberal standard of education. But is it not better to have a whole people reading and writing English than to have a select few imbibing Greek, a language which they cannot possibly impart to the lower herd?

It is feared, and perhaps rightfully so, that education will take perfectly good tradesmen and laborers from their proper field and rob them of their ability to work at the seemingly lesser tasks. The school teaching science and practice will forestall much of that. As the educational level of the American mass is brought higher, the error will correct itself.

It will be no unusual thing for the tradesman and laborer to have a college degree. They will realize that a diploma or Doctor's degree does not assure them supremacy.

"Education Is Necessity," Students Told By Harper

Evangelist Urges Students to Continue College Work and Not Be "Quitters"

A. K. Harper, evangelist, speaking to the student body at the morning convocation, Tuesday, stressed the importance and necessity for a substantial foundation for life. Problems of today are far more intricate than they were in the past, and together with the keenness of competition, education is a necessity. Mr. Harper advised the students to complete their college work.

Homer Welch, musical director of the gospel team, accompanied by A. W. Brewer, staff captain of the North Dakota division of the Salvation Army, sang at the convocation.

"In past years, one could go through life with little education, but today, education is like our New York skyscrapers, the deeper the foundation, the higher the building", Mr. Harper stated. Thus he compared the receiving of an education to the laying a foundation for a tall building, revealing that the deeper the foundation is laid, the higher the building can be built. In other words, the more energy and earnest efforts spent for gaining an education, the bigger and richer life one may live.

"Even though, there are times when you feel disappointed with your own work, don't quit". He related some of his experiences and observations of other people, pointing out the causes of success or failure, whichever the case might be. "Education pays", he declared, "I would rather be called most anything but a 'quitter'. As Mr. Harper pointed out, one of the most disgraceful things in life is to be a 'quitter' or to go on through life with the viewpoint that other people's pasture is always the greener.

He cautioned, that one should not judge people by their outward appearance. "While you study at school you are laying a foundation upon which later you can build and do the great things in life. One time a fine clean-cut gentleman came into my factory, and asked for a job. At first I thought, by his looks, that he could do most anything, but later have learned that he could do only common manual labor". This, Mr. Harper explained, is a case often found among college students. "Beauty is only skin deep", he said. Then he explained how some of the most popular and flashy students are doomed to failure after graduation unless they become as worthy inside as their outward appearance might suggest. "The more you put into your head, the less you need to put on it", was his statement.

REGISTRAR'S OFFICE: The Registrar gathers much information, little money, and less rest. It is he, freshmen, who desires you to answer in writing such questions as these:
1. Name. (If second name begins with X do not sneeze when presenting credits).
2. Why? (Give date and size).
3. Have you parents on both sides, or are you backed by an uncle?
4. Did you bring your High School credits?
5. Then go get them.
6. Do you love to study?
7. Do you study to love?
8. Are you old enough to attend School?
9. So is your old man.
10. Outside of the paddle, what makes you smart?
11. Is your uncle Emil married?
12. If so, when did he die?
13. Have you an impediment in your speech? (If it's Climax, signify with an asterisk).
14. Have you ever been covered with glory?
15. With tar?
16. Have you ever took a plunger in oil? (Channel swimmers not included).
17. Are you an artist?
18. I thought I was too once.
19. Do you smoke Camels, or have you a car.
20. Have you had your iron today?
The Registrar is noted for his ability in remembering by name, all the students in the college. We say this advisedly as there are a number of Russians and Swedes registered. If any freshmen forget their names, and don't care to write home to find out what it is, just ask the Registrar.

BOOK STORE: To best explain the nature of this popular gathering place, I offer the following conversation between purchaser and clerk:
P: Give me some ink, I have some class on my hands.
C: The ink won't take it off.
P: (patiently) I want some ink. My name is Sybyll Steamshovel and we have eight cows and a crystal set.
C: (Politely) Fountain pen?
P: (Forgetting class consciousness) Please put your ears back on the corn. I said "ink".
C: (Smirking fiendishly) Oh, I thought you said "ink".
P: (With a forgiving smile) Of course not dear. I said "ink".
—And so on indefinitely.

Books are not the only staples sold here. In fact such necessities as candy and smoking jackets are sold without government supervision. The clerks all have a smile for you, and if there are any smiles left over at the end of the term, you can get them at a great reduction in price.
The busy periods at the book store are:
1. When you want to buy a book.
2. When you don't want to buy any.

COLLEGE TREASURER: To the freshman taking military training, this department is not unlike a pawnbroker shop. In the treasurers' office, you lay down a deposit for a suit; while at the pawnbroker's, you lay down a suit for a deposit.

ANNUAL Y MIXER
DUE OCTOBER 23

The first major social function of the College Y. M. C. A. will occur on Saturday evening, October 23. The annual "Y" mixer will be held for new and old students alike at that time. Elaborate arrangements for the dancing party and 'get acquainted' night are being made by the various committees. Misses Charlotte Blake and Dorothy Cole, women's athletic director at the college, are heads of committees assisting. Members of the College Y. W. C. A. will also participate. Home coming and Bison Roundup day on November 6 will also mark an active Y week. The annual banquet for the home and visiting football elevens, which Mr. Thomsen inaugurated last year, will be held as one of the events at that time. Misses Helen Curran and Charlotte Blake have charge of the entertainment program. Young women of the Y. W. C. A. will serve the dinner. The funds are to be furnished by the Y. M. C. A.

DOCKERY INSPECTS
BATTALION MONDAY

Lieutenant Colonel A. B. Dockery, in charge of R. O. T. C. work in the Seventh Corps area will inspect the Bison cadet unit at 1:15 p. m. at regular noon day review Monday, it was learned from Captain Thomas S. Smith, battalion commandant. Colonel Dockery is making his regular fall visit of the northern units of his area to determine their progress and eligibility to the federal inspection in the spring. The college battalion has swelled to nearly 500 members at latest reports. Inspection, Monday, will find many of the men without uniforms as clothing supplies at the college have proved insufficient to equip the many freshmen entering. Noon drills are being held daily.

The demand for the newly established agricultural reading room in room 200 of the Agricultural Building has been sufficiently large that it will be open daily from 8-12 a. m. and 1:30-5:30 p. m. Monday to Friday inclusive and Saturday forenoon. There will be an attendant present at all times. This reading room is open to all students pursuing a course in agriculture and it is requested that all agricultural students will use this room as far as possible for reference work and study in order to relieve the over-crowded college library. Florence Early, and Ruth Von Sien, former students at the college and members of the Sigma Theta sorority have been pledged by the Delta Gamma sorority at the University of Minnesota. Miss Von Sien is a senior in the School of Architecture at the University and Miss Early is a junior.

FIRST CADET HOP
STAGED YESTERDAY

About 150 students attended the first cadet hop given at the amory Thursday afternoon from 4:30 p. m. to 6 p. m. by members of the Scabbard and Blade, honorary military fraternity. The music program was furnished by Morris Olson's orchestra. Mesdames Leonard T. Saalwaechter, Ion J. Cortright, and Albert E. Andrews acted as chaperones at the initial cadet hop. Committees were named to take charge of the direction of the hops being held each Thursday at a meeting of Scabbard and Blade men Wednesday afternoon. Captain Elery Young was named chairman of the floor committee; Captain Harold Hullett heads the chaperone committee; Captain Russel Freeman has charge of music arrangements and Lt. Colonel Walter Boerth has charge of finances. "The purpose of the hops," said Lt. Colonel Boerth, "is to better acquaint the students of the college with one another. Funds raised from the student dances will go towards defraying expenses of the Military ball given annually". 1

Miss Walda Rusch, National Inspector of the Kappa Delta sorority, will arrive in Fargo on Wednesday, Oct. 11, for chapter inspection. In her honor, the sorority will entertain the mothers and patronesses of the sorority at an informal party Saturday afternoon from 2:30 to 5:30:

Harry C. Anderson, a student at the college in 1924 and now at Fairview, Mont., was a campus visitor Wednesday. Mr. Anderson stopped here on his return from St. Paul, where he had shipped two carloads of his own feeder cattle. He has completed three years of college work in the School of Agriculture and will return to finish next year.

OPEN HOUSE PROGRAM TO BE AT Y SUNDAYS

Next Sunday, October 17, the first of a series of "Open Houses" to be held throughout the school year will be given at the College Y, it was learned today from Mr. Thomsen, secretary. The Sunday functions will be from 3 to 5 p. m. Tea will be served the collegiate visitors by the Ladies Red Triangle Auxiliary, the president of which is Mrs. F. J. Volkamer. A speaker will also give a short address on a popular subject, later to be followed by students' and faculty discussion at the Sunday open house.

Prof. Walter T. Rolfe, head of the department of architecture at the college, will be the first speaker on October 17.

"On the assumption that everything true or beautiful is essentially religious," believes Mr. Thomsen, "A venture like this opens up innumerable possibilities for a series of very inspiring afternoons of great religious value though they may not necessarily be biblical or theological in theme."

SOPHS HAVE FROSH ON BRICK AND WATER DIET

At the commend, "Splash some more water on there," the verdant green looms up through the brick dust and the Frosh again bends his knees and shoves his brick forth and back in a seemingly hopeless attempt to remove a large '30 from the walk.

The Sophs have resumed the upper hand in the local painting situation and the numerals which appeared so profusely over the weekend are now nearly gone. Reminders have been generously administered to Freshmen who "forgot" their head dress.

Several of the newcomers declare themselves more familiar with the highways and byways within a ten mile radius of the school than with the paths leading to their classes.

Reliable tipsters have it that sentiment is brewing which promises to make Homecoming Day an exciting one.

COLLEGE WOMAN'S CLUB HAS FACULTY RECEPTION

An informal reception for members of the college faculty was given by the College Woman's club at the Practice house Thursday evening. The hours of entertainment were from 8 until 11 p. m. Those who received were, Dr. John Lee Coulter, president of the college, and Mrs. Coulter, Dr. and Mrs. A. F. Schalk, Mr. and Mrs. H. W. McArdle, and Dean Myrtle Gleason Cole.

Assisting on the entertainment and refreshment committees were: Mmes. P. F. Trowbridge, and J. H. Shepperd and Misses Alba Bales, and Minnie Anderson. Mmes. E. H. Jones, W. A. Wilson, O. O. Churchill, Sydney Hooper, George E. Miller, Kenneth Kuhn, G. G. Gardner, D. Griswold, R. C. Miller, T. W. Thordarson and Misses Pearl Dinan, Mathilda Thompson, Ruby Grime, Minerva Williams and Viola Borderud were the hostesses of the evening.

Bison Journey To Bunnie Camp

ported to him at initial practice this fall and 10 of last year's reserves and 14 members of the Bunnies yearling squad of last year reported. The 11 lettermen on the squad are playing their third or final year of football.

Injuries have also debilitated the Bunnies squad, but prospects for West's casualties to fit for the Bison game are good. Simonson and Murray were hurt in the Nebraska game Saturday. Captain Kelley, will possibly be unable to play as well.

Such Bunnie stars as, Clyde "Buck" Starbeck, all conference center; George Seeley, and Rosholt, all conference guard for the last two years; Frank Kelley, Tyndall, all conference half-back in 1924; Bob Eggers, Malmer, ends; Simonson, Ekern, tackles; Popowski and Murray, guards; Schweinfurt, Carlisle, Parmeter, Schweinfurt, Carlisle, Parmeter, Welch backs are in the State lineup.

The strength of the southern half of the North Central circuit this year was shown by the Nebraska Wesleyan 3 to 3 draw with West's seasoned Bunnies. Coach Dow's Nebraskan Coyotes practically duplicated the South Dakota State tactics in their Bison meeting last year. Starbeck, playing at left half for the Bunnies, kicked from placement early in the first period for the Bunnies center; but Wiberg, star Nebraskan half, duplicated Welch's tactics in the Bison Homecoming by dropping back in the last minutes to tie the Rabbits via the field goal route.

Eight Bison Staff
Editors Appointed

Juniors preferably, but the Bison officials will accept the applications of Seniors or Sophomores. All freshman members of the staff will be retained as assistants, as will some sophomores and juniors.

Assistants Named

Assistants who have applied and have been assigned temporarily to positions are: Art—May Kierke, Alex Coutlee, and Alf Skaret; Administration—Doris Wilner, Marie Webster, and Esther Bayer; Bison Life—Shannon McNeese, Herbert Hanson, Lillian Pearson, L. M. Burgess, Don Grant; Athletics—Milo Hoisveen; Classes—Esther Douglas; Organizations—Galen Frosaker. These assistants will all be used on the staff but may be shifted to different departments as the book progresses.

Positions as Assistant Business Manager, Advertising Manager, and assistants, are yet to be filed, according to Ralph Hollands, Business Manager of the annual. Any one interested in this work may apply to him within the next week.

The photography contract was recently let to the Old Masters Studio, of this city, and bids for the printing of the book will be called for within a few days. The engraving work will be done by the Bureau of Engraving, Inc., of Minneapolis, Minnesota, who created the prize-winning Gopher of 1927, of the University of Minnesota. Mr. A. A. Segal, Manager of the College Department, is giving the 1928 Bison his personal supervision.

VERDEN JOINS ENGLISH INSTRUCTION STAFF

Daniel H. Verder, a graduate of Trinity college, Conn., has joined the teaching staff of the English department of the School of Science and Literature, according to Dean A. E. Minard.

D. H. Verder, graduated from Trinity college, also holds a master's degree from Harvard university. He is a member of Phi Beta Kappa. Besides his collegiate and teaching work, Mr. Verder has written for New York newspapers and magazines.

The addition of a fifth member to the English department was found necessary, said Dean Minard, because of the very large enrollment of freshmen.
