SENIORS PRESENT CLASS PLAY FRIDAY

"BAB," NEW COMEDY, TO OPEN SENIOR CLASS EXERCISES AT LITTLE COUNTRY THEATRE.

"Bab," one of the latest comedies, will be presented by the Senior class on Friday evening at 8:00 o'clock in the Little Country Theatre. The play is a four-act dramatization of novel of the same name by Mary Roberts Rinehart. Edward Childs Carpenter has written the stage version.

Alice Bender, as Bab, and Robert Sanderson, as Carter Brooks, have the leading parts. Jack Knapp, in the guise of James Archibald, plays an important character role.

Members of the Class of '26 comprising the cast are as given below:

Lelia Archibald.....Inez Hanson
Hannah.....Althea Reed
Mrs. Archibald.....Leone Sands
William.....Donald Hay
Carter Brooks.....Robert Sanderson
Bab.....Alice Bender
James Archibald.....Jack Knapp
Jane Raleigh.....Edith Skurdal
Clinton Beresford.....Thomas Caniff
Eddie Perkins.....Stewart Schlipf
Guy Grosvenor.....Eugene Ostman

Scenes represented:

Act I—The morning room at Archibald's country home—an afternoon in May.

Act II—The morning room as in Act I, the next day. (The curtain is lowered for 3 minutes). Scene 2: Night of the same day.

Act III—"Bachelor's Quarters" in the Archibald boathouse, a few minutes to 12 the same night.

Act IV—The boathouse as in Act. III, an afternoon, three weeks later.

ARCHITECTS WEAR KNEESHAW BOWLERS

Work with brush and pencil in the lofty confines of an attic has made the architect eccentric. If you see a student upholding a crazy little cockleshell hat at an angle adjacent to his nose, put him down as an architect.

Rae Kneeshaw, color renderer and tackle in football, started the revolt in headgear. His brother architects are loyal followers.

It's two years since "Long Bill" Spears played end on the Bison eleven. Coach Paul Jones Davis fearing the lancelike gentleman had him banned before the University game. Though Borleske's men hung a smoke screen over Davis' hopes, "Long Bill" left school disappointed. He bequeathed the hat to Kneeshaw that has inspired his mates. Kneeshaw, having set the fashion, does not wear the decrepit old felt.

But a merchant down by the synagogue still does a big business in small felt hats.

FORMER STUDENTS, ALUMNI TO REUNITE AT COMMENCEMENT

MANY EXPECTED TO ATTEND BANQUET; CONSTITUTION TO BE REVISED AT ANNUAL BUSINESS MEETING.

Alumni and former students of the North Dakota Agricultural college will hold their annual reunion at commencement time beginning Friday. Many of the college's former students are expected to attend the business meetings and the banquet, according to T. W. Thordarson, secretary of the Alumni and Former Student association.

The graduates and former students will hold their general business meeting at 2:00 o'clock Saturday. Prior to that, at ten o'clock in the morning, members of the Alumni executive board and advisory council will meet.

Will Revise Constitution.

"Revision and voting on the association's constitution will be one of the important matters transacted at the afternoon session," states Mr. Thordarson.

A delegate from each county alumni club will act as a member of the association advisory council. Alumni and former students from every section of the country are expected to attend.

The alumni ceremonial will be held at 5:30 p. m. Saturday.

Banquet Saturday.

About 300 members are expected to attend the annual banquet being given at 6:00 o'clock in the College Y. M. C. A. At the close of the banquet the alumni and former students will adjourn to the college armory for the closing social occasion of the college year.

Committees in charge of alumni arrangements during commencement week are: Alumni senior ceremonial, Prof. E. H. Jones, chairman, P. J. Olson; alumni banquet, Alice Flaten, chairman, Margaret Keene, Mabel Stewart; tickets, Edgar J. Olsen, chairman; entertainment, C. A. Williams; Alumni ball, Theodore Stou; decorations, O. M. Fuller chairman, M. Adamson and T. W. Thorfinnson.

The President's reception will be followed by the Senior swing out and alumni ball being given in the armory during the evening. President John Lee Coulter, head of the schools, and faculty members will be in the receiving line.

At midnight the alumni will attend the "Pipe of Peace" ceremony on the campus green, traditionally participated in by the Seniors. Commencement exercises during Sunday and Monday will find the alumni also taking part.

FACULTY.

Several faculty members have as yet failed to call for their copy of the Bison of 1927. The staff urges those who have not called for their copy to do so at once.

EMERY PUTNAM.

WILFIELD HURT NAMED PRESIDENT THETA CHIS

Wilfield "Bill" Hurt was elected president of the Theta Chi fraternity at the recent election of new officers. Fred Byerly is vice president, Earl Hendrickson, treasurer, and Gaylen Frosaker, secretary of the fraternity for the coming year.

Officers to retire were Walter Augustine, president; Allen Keltner, vice president; Frank N. Leakey, treasurer and Fred Byerly, secretary.

THE PASSING.

Thirty-two years ago commencement exercises were held at the North Dakota Agricultural College for the first time. But a half dozen graduates received degrees at that time. This year one hundred and twenty-five leave college with their coveted documents.

Unconsciously, they may be asking, what they are to do next. A few will be chemists, others pharmacists, some teachers, some farmers and agricultural experts. Before the month is past, the Class of '26 will be scattered to the remotest corners of the country. Some have already gone to capitalize on the assets accrued while in college.

It is scarcely necessary to say that the Seniors leaving college will be missed. After the four years, firm friendships have been cemented. Achievements of graduating members are not soon to be forgotten. Some have defied the Bison on the athletic field; others have accomplished fame for their school through other means. Those remaining must strive to equal the Class of '26 record.

The graduating class has other duties before it. Its members go out to help their Alma Mater in a new way. Though they may not fully realize it, much of the progress and success of the college hinges on their loyalty.

Though astrology isn't in vogue, members of a graduating class might be likened to stars. As they take up their different duties in the business and academic world, as do the stars some will shine brighter than others. There is danger, however, that the college may lose the gleam of the stars it sends into a nebular world. It is imperative that the newly elected alumni remember one thing: that distance does not govern the brightness of a star's gleam. True, astronomers speak in light years and with pencil and 'scope tell you this star is the more distant; that one the greater. But after all if they couldn't see them they would have nothing to measure or guess at.

So, if your Alma Mater does not see you through your accomplishments, you are extinct. The brighter you shine in your field, the more close you will be to your college and friends. No longer a student, you are no longer dependent on the college; now as an alumnus, you will be able to help your school and in so doing build up the community and things for which it exists.

NOW, FOR FUN.

Another school year has all but been stored away in the archives of time. We pass out gladly laying down our arms, books, copy pencils, etc. Throughout the year, we have served faithfully as foot soldiers, only in rare cases have "ponies" been used. A new era will reign for a few short months.

Many of the faculty will doff the somber academic mien. No longer a standing example for their students, they may frolic and gambol as they see fit, to their soul's content. The serious, almost sorrowful task of turning more than hundred students into world channels is over. It has been not a little task on the students and faculty alike to accomplish this.

A year in college is a tempering process. Coming in often as human putty, the student needs molding. Socializing in some cases, paddling in others, browbeating in still others; but vastly more important, training, fitting for useful work.

It is the Spectrum's privilege to dote over the past year's successes, and to keep the drapes over the failures. From the bigoted standpoint, the paper has seemed to have a success both editorially and in a business sense. With this issue, Paul Revell, formally closes his term as business manager. His successor is Earl Hendrickson, for the past year assistant business manager. It is only by excellent business management that any project can progress. The management of the Spectrum is one fully as great as the editorship. One may constantly whine for news, but ads keep a paper alive. So with a new year ahead of us all, we can proceed to the greatest indulgence, a change of occupation.

A. C. Graduates Step Into Good Positions with Future

SEVEN SCHOOL TURN OUT GRADUATES TO FILL DEMAND FOR TRAINED AND PROFESSIONAL WORKERS EVERYWHERE.

North Dakota Agricultural College is graduating 125 seniors, each trained in one or the other of the seven schools. Though agricultural in name the college boasts the strongest graduate enrollment in the Schools of Education and Pharmacy. Thirty-three will go into educational work; 27 graduate from pharmacy; science and literature claims 19; schools of home economics and agriculture, 15; and the schools of chemistry and mechanic arts, each 8.

Many of these have already accepted positions in their various professions.

In the Schools of Chemistry and Mechanic Arts, and Pharmacy, practically all the graduates already have positions.

Of the chemists, Allen Keltner will become an assistant superintendent with the Sewel Paint and Varnish Co., Kansas City; Robert Carlson, a chemist with Jones, Dabney Co. Louisville, Ky.; Thomas Canniff, salesman, St. Paul White Lead & Oil Co., Fargo; Henry Wangen, research chemist, Acme White Lead & Color Works, Detroit, Mich.; Allen Adams, Valentine & Co., New York City; Raymond Fischer, assistant to superintendent, Lucas & Co., Chicago.

From the Mechanic Arts School, Syvert Gunness and Tom Regan go to Westinghouse Mfg. Co., Pittsburg, Pa.; Walter Booth and Norman Jones to General Electric Co., Schnecktady, N. Y.; Wayne Watts and Abner Ingelbretson, Duquense Power Co., Pittsburg; Harold Austin, Pennsylvania Highway Commission, paving inspector, Allentown, Pa.; and Ernest Anderson, scholarship, Iowa State College, Ames.

Of the 13 home economics graduates, eight have already taken positions.

Lyla Mallough takes charge of home economics work in the vocational high school at Beach; Nellie Mae Root, at Mayville; Leone Sands, at Velva; Ida Anderson, at Wahpeton High school; Doris Stewart, Breckenridge, Minn.; Edith Skurdal, at Grafton; Alice Dahlen goes to the Walsh county high school at Park River and Althea Reed has accepted a position at Edgeley.

The School of Agriculture claims the largest variety of positions for its graduates, excepting the School of Science and Literature, which possibly contributes the greatest number to the business world.

Verne Archer is employed with the Armour Packing Plant, West Fargo; Alden Baillie goes as a Smith-Hughes teacher to Westhope high school; Lawrence Ditch, Oakes; Chearles Flemming, Hamilton; Fred Schroeder, Valley City; Theodore Piper, Leonard, will spend the summer farming; William Toussaint, goes to the Minneapolis Tribune as agricultural writer; Frank N. Leakey enters the army as 2nd lieutenant; Lloyd Ryall has a scholarship at Oregon State College, Eugene; Theodore Martell is to be county agent for Grant county.

Of the 27 pharmacists receiving degrees, 23 already have positions. They will be situated as follows: Ernest Nelson, Lakota; Theodore Eyolfson, Park River; Theodore Hagen, Mayville; George Hollicky and Andrew Schoenecker, Cook Drug Co., Fargo; Amasa Converse, Washburn; Wilfred Condie, Jamestown; Arthur Sailer, Christianson Drug Co., Fargo; George Lee, St. Paul, Minn.; Joe Bidden, Northwood; Alvin Pearson, Cooperstown; George Dinyer, Glen Ullen; Theodore Herman, Beulah; Leo Mantell, Milwaukee, Wis.; Carl Peterson, Casselton; and John Rolle, Brinsmade. Helen Zeipen and Anna Torgerson are the only young women to receive pharmacy degrees. Miss Zeipen has accepted a position with a drug company at Sarles.

Matthew Kasuo Hayashi, who graduates, will return to Honolulu, Hawaii to practice his business.

In the School of Science and Literature many have taken positions and in many cases the graduates will take further professional training.

Ernest Stoudt will be a salesman for the Fargo Plumbing & Heating Co.; Cyril Arnold will be basketball and assistant football coach at the college next year; Wallace Thompson and Earl Griffith go into the Marine Corps; others will take teaching and coaching positions.

Of the graduates in the School of Education, Lloyd Hanson will be principal at Hamlet; Albert Mossler, principal, Davenport. Others to teach are Donald Hay, public discussion, college; Glenn Scott, Fargo schools; Arthur Olson, Calvin; Elma Peightal, Barrett, Minn.; Florence Cole, Sternum; Eunice Kingsley, biology assistant, college; Mrs. Zelpha Thull will take graduate work at the University of Indiana.

EBULLITIONS OF EBONY BLOTT

By Ebony Blott—Himself.

The longed for time of the year has finally arrived when junior become seniors and seniors become nonplussed at the thought of having to turn down so many chances for lucrative employment.

Newspaper cartoonists are evidently of the opinion, however, that jobs come to college graduates about as easy as a kind thought comes to a University sports writer.

Sophomores of next year should be well equipped to handle stampeding yearlings. We don't mean that Hoster is sassy when we say that he has a lot of lip, nor that Bobby Hahn is especially observant when we say that he has quite an eye. As for Hunter and Emmerson, this year's sophomores, we can only say that it is a long cane that has no burning.

For the express benefit of the undergraduates, who blissfully worship the social and mental status of a senior, we have, with the aid of an interpreter, gained interviews with a few of the most prominent seniors. For the sake of the parents of these graduates, who have held so much faith in the brilliance of their sons and daughters on graduating we politely withhold their names.

The first said politely: "Whoopie! Hooray! Wow!! Hurray fer—well, Hurray!"

The next said glibly, with astonishingly clear enunciation: "I am overwhelmed upon such an indyspetic occasion as this. Let me say, however, that were it not for the indignation of indigestion we would not today my friends, have freedom or possibly Sergeant Culpepper. A word in closing as to the outlook of my future: terrible!"

Said one girl mournfully between gurgles of hysteric laughter: "When I started going to college I was keeping company with a cute freshman boy. Now I am finishing and—he is still a cute freshman boy."

Another senior said manfully: "I am to be married next month. I am glad I took four years of military training."

The next was evidently down hearted: "My college career has not been a success. I have finished a course in agriculture and have been offered a job with uncalled for rudeness and uncouthness."

Another one was no less pessimistic "Agriculture is a nice course, but how was I to know that my father was buying a farm? For a graduation present I am getting a plow and a "Big Ben!"

Not all of our graduates present so sombre an aspect, however. Said one: "Shucks, this graduatin' aint so bad. It don't interfere with no formals and you need no belts on them gowns. And the diplomas are written only on one side."

Said another, intelligently: "I don't want youse students to take it too hard, just 'cause I gotta leave. I sure hate to leave Axel and the boys, but remember: no mourning at all, fellas."

The last one interviewed said lengthily: "Graduation? Who's graduatin'?"

SCABBARD AND BLADE OFFICERS INSTALLED

Formal initiation of newly elected officers of Scabbard and Blade, national military fraternity, was made at a banquet given at the Gardner Hotel Sunday evening.

Officers installed at that time were: Leroy Lillie, captain; Russell Freeman, 1st lieutenant; Charles Bowers, 2d lieutenant; and Elery Young, 1st sergeant.

Cadet Col. Frank N. Leakey made a report of his recent trip to the annual convention of the Scabbard and Blade held at Baton Rouge, La.

Honorary members present at the dinner were, Captains Thomas S. Smith Albert E. Andrews and W. W. Millard.

GAMMA TAU SIGMAS INITIATE MEMBERS

Gamma Tau Sigma, professional journalistic fraternity, held formal initiation services for new members at 5:00 o'clock Tuesday afternoon at the Bison-Spectrum office.

Those who became members at that time were Ralph Hollands, Jay Bryant, Richard Hackenberg, Everett Wallum, Earl Hendrickson, Wade Boradman and Wallace Matson.

Charter members of the organization, founded in May of last year, are Eugene Fitzgerald, Paul Revell, Edward Yocum, Bruce Rindlaub, Hugo Thompson, Richard V. Kripe, Emery Putnam, and Byron Hanson.

Honorary members are Tracy W. Johnson, Maynard W. Brown, and Ralph Nafzgar.

BRYANT, HOSTER BUY COUNTRY WEEKLIES

Jay Bryant and Walter Hoster, students in the School of Science and Literature, have recently purchased the Leonard Leader and Abercrombie Enterprise. Mrs. Rose M. Edgeley, of Fargo, former owner, turned the weeklies over to them this week.

Mr. Bryant, a sophomore, is a staff member of both the Spectrum and Bison publications and has been connected with journalism since entering school. His home is at Napoleon.

Walter Hoster, entered from Valley City high school last fall and has been active in journalism and advertising activities at the college.

STUDENTS GO WITH THOMSEN TO GENEVA

Five students with Eric Thomsen, college secretary, will comprise the delegation from this college to the Y. M. C. A. student conference at Lake Geneva, Wis. The party will leave by car Saturday morning.

Leonard Rigg, Adolph Wall, Howard Darling, Donald Grant, and Robert Burns will attend the two weeks' conference.

As one of the leaders, Eric Thomsen will assist in educational and recreational work at Lake Geneva, where students from all sections gather during the summer.

FIVE COUNTIES PLAN TOURS TO A.C. SOON

Arrangements are being made for farmers' tours to the North Dakota Agricultural College this summer from five counties in the state, according to Director G. W. Randlett, of the Extension division.

Tentative dates for Nelson and Ramsey counties are Thursday and Friday, June 17 and 18; Walsh and Pembina counties, Thursday and Friday, July 1 and 2; and Cass county, Friday, July 9.

Arrangements for the tour from Nelson and Ramsey counties are being made by County Agents H. M. Oefstos of Lakota and U. S. Ebner of Devils Lake. The Walsh and Pembina event is in charge of County Agents E. G. Parizek of Cavalier and E. J. Taintor of Park River. Arrangements for Cass county day at the college are being made by County Agent E. A. Calhoun, and Dr. H. C. Vestal, assistant county agent.

The Cass county trip will be by auto while special trains will probably be run by the railways for the other two tours. Indications are that trips to the college will be arranged from several additional counties, according to information received by Mr. Randlett.

Mrs. Della Willien of Boston, Mass., was an honor guest at a theatre party given by the active members of the Kappa Delta sorority Friday evening. Mrs. Willien is an alumna member of the sorority.

Final examinations will be held on Thursday, Friday and Saturday of this week. The schedule, as given out by Mr. Parrott, calls for examinations of 8:00 o'clock classes Thursday morning; 9:00 o'clock sections in the afternoon. 10:00 and 11:00 o'clock sections meet Thursday with the 1:15 and 2:05 sections meeting Saturday morning and afternoon. Examinations for minor subjects not recited on the early part of the week will be held the latter half of the period allotted for major subject tests.

Katherine Wheeler spent the week end with Geraldine McNally at the Phi Upsilon Omicron house.

Mabel Shafer was a guest of Lillian Heald for the week end.

Doris Stewart went to Gilby with the Trowbridge family for the week end.

The active and alumni members of Phi Omega Phi will entertain at a miscellaneous shower for Hulda Skjelset. Mildred Sheldon, Lillian Jensen, Violet Erickson, and Edna Mae Johnson on Tuesday. On Wednesday evening the seniors of the organization will be initiated into the alumni chapter and a buffet supper will be served. These affairs will be held at the chapter house.

Charles Wells and Walter McKimm were visitors at the Kappa Phi house during the week end.

Gregory Moore visited at the Delta Sig house this week end. He is principal of the schools at Barnesville.

Walter Hoster, Jay Bryant, Clarence Bryant, Egil Wefald, and Art Schmitts, spent the week end at the lake.

Esther Boyer and Katherine McKee were dinner guests at the Phi Omega Pi house on Sunday.

Bernice Cramer and Marian Sorlie went to Buxton for the week end.

Mrs. F. O. Olson, 1026 7th St. N., entertained the active members of Phi Omega Pi at her home at dinner on Monday evening.

Galen Frosaker, Russell Freeman, and Vernon Peterson, will attend the National Guard camp at Devils Lake. Ronald Millard, Frank Leakey, and Lester Thompson will go to Fort Snelling for the R. O. T. C. camp.

Allan Keltner has accepted a position with the Sewell Paint and Varnish company at Kansas City.

The Delta Pi annual picnic was held at the tourist camp on Sunday afternoon.

Donald Peet, Bill Hurt, Lizandro Guerra and Earl Griffith will live at the Theta Chi house for the summer months.

MANGELS TO DENVER FOR CHEMISTS MEET

C. E. Mangels, cereal chemist at the Experimental station, left Saturday to attend the 12th annual convention of the American Association of Cereal Chemists being held June 7 to 11 at Denver, Colo. Mr. Mangels will present a paper on the "Variation of Diastatic Activity of Wheat Flour Due to Variety and Climate."

R. W. T. Pearce, Dean of the School of Chemistry, returned recently from the semi-annual meeting of the American Chemical Society at Madison, Wis. Dr. Pearce reports about 500 chemists attending of which about 120 were in the paint and varnish industries. He had charge of the first day's session and gave a paper on the "Study of Granulation in Gloss Oils."

Several graduates of the college were present among which were Walter McKimm, who is a chemical manufacturer in Linton, N. J.; Kenneth Clark, Louisville, Ky.; Louis Croal, Denver, Colo.; and Henry Nelson, Grand Rapids, Mich. The chemists meet again in September at Philadelphia.

SIGMA THETA ACTIVES AT BRIDGE BREAKFAST

Active members of Sigma Theta were entertained at a bridge breakfast at the home of Miss Dorothy Hatch and Miss Dorothy Cole. The appointments were carried out in gold and white, the sorority colors, and yellow and white daisies were used on the tables.
