All violators of campus laws will be brought before the court and punishment meted out in accordance with the seriousness of the crime.

Sponsorship of the campus baseball league will be in the hands of George Newgard, commissioner of athletics, it was decided at the meeting.

CONFERENCE TRACK AND FIELD MEET TO CLIMAX ACTIVITIES

EIGHT MINNESOTA AND NORTH DAKOTA COLLEGES AND UNIVERSITIES TO MEET HERE IN CONTESTS MAY 22.

By Dick Hackenberg.

After a strenuous athletic program throughout the fall and winter, replete with exciting gridiron battles and thrilling basketball contests Coach Cortright is determined that the sporting enthusiasm which has reached such a high pitch, will not fall to a lower level.

One of the best sport programs ever set forth during the spring term will keep both athletes and fans busily occupied at Dacotah field until the last of May. Beginning with the Boy Scout field day on May 7, a gala event and fitting opening occasion, students will not lack athletic activities until May 22, when the Bison tracksters will contest seven other rival colleges and universities for honors in the field. The final and closing event will be the North Central conference meet at Sioux City where the Bison will endeavor to end the school year with another championship.

Grid Material Good.

Spring football is well under way, Cortright sending his charges into the heavier work next week. Although there is a distinct lack of juniors, the sophomore and freshman material is excellent, the coach stated. The battered pig skin will be laid aside May 1 and the campus baseball league will begin and continue throughout the month. The diamond is being cleared of weeds to better bring out the clever fielding of the local aspirants to baseball fame.

Thirty-five teams of Boy Scout tracksters will take to the cinders in the opening of the spring program May 7. With about thirty men to a team Dacotah field will look like the battle of the Marne. A huge parade, led by the Gild Star Band will bring the teams from the heart of Fargo to the place of conflict. Some Bison stars of the future may be witnessed in action at this meet since many of the Scouts and seniors in high school are planning to attend North Dakota State next fall.

Interclass Meet May 15.

May 13, 14, 15 brings the High School May Festival. 168 schools have been invited and the contests will be numerous as well as hotly fought. The morning of the fifteenth a college interclass meet will be staged.

The intercollegiate meet here May 22, will find the Bison team pitted against colleges of North Dakota and western Minnesota. The University of North Dakota, Jamestown College, Valley City Teachers, Mayville Teachers, Wahpeton Science, and Moorhead Teachers have already accepted the invitation. Concordia has not replied but it is thought the Cobbers will be on hand to assert their rights to a good track standing. The semi-finals will be run in the morning and the finals in the afternoon. The track is not in very good shape as yet but work will be started on it soon. The bleachers have been moved back, al-

THE STUDENT COMMISSION.

The new student commission which held its initial meeting on Tuesday evening has taken a step in the right direction. If they continue as they have started, their incumbency shall be a memorable one.

The antiquated constitution of this body has outworn its usefulness as applied to present day school life, and the body is utterly unable to function properly under its laws as they now exist.

We have no fault to find with the previous commission's term of office, nor do we have any fault to find with the one preceding them. There has been far too much laxity exercised in the duties of the office to which these people have been entrusted with, in groups still more previous.

The fault lies with the commission which failed to take up the proposal of changing the constitution when the first signs of it were shown to be outlived. The tradition of doing nothing has been handed down from one incumbency to the next, and each succeeding one has neglected to make the necessary changes, through no fault of their own.

The recently retired commission perhaps did more toward changing the constitution than any previous one. Realizing that their term of office was rapidly nearing a close they decided to let the matter go and turn their proposals over to their successors for action. This they did, and their efforts bore fruit at the first meeting which their successors held.

It is the duty of every student to vote at the special election which will be held soon to ballot upon the proposed changes, and thereby bring our government up to present day standards instead of literally trying to exist under "Covered Wagon" day methods of government.

THE GOLD STAR.

The initial spring noon day drill of the local R. O. T. C. unit disclosed that the present corps suffered but little from the lack of training necessitated by poor weather for training activities last fall. The unit looks fully as far advanced as did any of the previous star winners at the same stage of development.

Captain Smith, commandant of the local battalion intimated that the unit this year was as good as any which the college has sponsored, and despite our lack of technical training along the best of military lines we stand ready to agree with him.

Surely the band and drum bugle corps combined into one unit are bound to make a favorable impression upon any board which elects to review the unit.

The matter is now up to Captain Smith and his assistants as much as it is to each individual student. If the commandant were able to force strict military discipline upon the students, there is little reason to believe that they would not acquire a fourth star. Such a situation is utterly impossible, and the matter reverts to each individual student in the corps as to whether he wants another star for the local unit.

It would surely be sad for a number of sophomores, and for all the freshmen, were this year's unit not to receive a distinguished rating. There are juniors and seniors who preceded them who were able to drill as privates and noncommissioned officers and help procure a gold star for the college. The matter is as much up to the freshmen and sophomore privates and non-commissioned officers as it is to the commissioned officers.

The local unit is only what you make it, and every student is boosting and hoping for another distinguished rating.

Will you make the hope true?

The Ox Woman

On an East Indian farm, where the crop is tea, a wooden plow turns up the rich black soil. A woman drives, another woman pulls—and a black ox pulls beside her.

Six hours under a tropical sun, a bowl of cold rice—and six hours more. Then the woman goes to her bed of rushes, and the beast to his mud stall. Tomorrow will be the same.

The American home has many conveniences. But many American women often work as hard as their Oriental sisters. They toil at the washtub, they carry water, they churn by hand—all tasks which electricity can do for them at small cost, in half the time.

The labor-saving possibilities of electricity are constantly becoming more widely recognized. And the social significance of the release of the American woman from physical drudgery, through the increasing use of electricity in and about the home, will appeal instantly to every college man and woman.

The electric light, the electric iron, the vacuum cleaner—the use of electricity on the farm for pumping water, for milking, and for the cream separator—are helping to make life happier. General Electric research and engineering have aided in making these conveniences possible.

A new series of G-E advertisements showing what electricity is doing in many fields will be sent on request. Ask for booklet GEK-18.
