LIGHT VOTE CAST IN ANNUAL STUDENT ELECTIONS FRIDAY

OVERWHELMING MAJORITY CAST IN FAVOR OF CHANGING NAME OF INSTITUTION — McPHERSON HIGH.

William Gray, of Park Rapids, Minn., was accorded 205 votes, 77 more than the combined total of his two opponents, Dorothy Stoudt and Walter Boerth, in the race for president of the student commission at the annual election held Friday.

Miss Stoudt, running on "stickers" because of her failure to file early enough to have her name placed on the ballot, polled 52 votes, 25 less than Walter Boerth who was accorded a total of 76.

The remainder of the student officers named follow:

- Commissioner of Public Speaking: Fred S. Byerly.
- Commissioner of Judiciary: Emery T. Putnam
- Commissioner of Athletics: George Newgard.
- Commissioner of Campus: Clyde Challey.
- Commissioner of Elections: Claude Miller.
- Commissioner of Social Affairs: Bernice Cramer.
- Commissioner of Finances: Elery Young.

Board of Athletic Control:

- Hans Tronnes.
- George McPherson.
- John Mach.

Board of Public Speaking Control:

- Dorothy Kretschmar.
- Jorgen Birkeland.
- Board of Publications:
- Walter Hoster (Sophomore).
- Walter Davidson (Junior).
- Philip Keene (Junior).
- Wilfield Burt (Senior).

Polling in favor of changing the name of the institution from "North Agricultural College" to "North Dakota State College of Agriculture and Mechanic Arts," resulted in an overwhelming victory for the affirmative, students voting in favor of a change in name, while but three dissenting votes were cast.

George McPherson, one of three candidates for a place on the Board of Athletic Control, was given the largest vote of those with competition, 217 ballots being cast for him. The closest contest of the election developed in the race for Commissioner of Finances, Elery Young being returned winner over Eugene Fitzgerald, 107 to 99. All other winning candidates were returned victoriously by fair large majorities.

A light vote was cast in the election, less than 25 per cent of the total enrollment voting. Registration showed 339 students casting ballots.

PUBLIC DISCUSSION CLASS BANQUET IN LOG CABIN.

About twenty members were present at a banquet of the class in public discussion held yesterday at 5:00 in the afternoon in the Lincoln Log Cabin. The banquet was planned in the fashion of a fruit grower's convention. Orange colors predominated in the decoration scheme. Each member of Prof. Arvold's class gave a toast as enhancement of the occasion. Leone Sands acted as toastmistress and Fred Byerly as toastmaster.

ADOLPH WALL ELECTED VICE PRESIDENT—J. R. DICE AGAIN NAMED FACULTY REPRESENTATIVE.

J. R. Dice was reelected as faculty representative, and will continue in his present capacity on the Y Cabinet.

ENGINEERS TO HOLD ANNUAL BALL MARCH 26

The Annual Engineers' ball sponsored by the American Association of Engineers at the college will be held in the armory, Saturday evening, March 26, according to W. B. Booth, manager of the function.

This year's dance will be in the nature of a carnival of western setting. As in other years, costumes of color and oddish will be in evidence. Prizes are to be awarded by the judges to the best costumed couple.

The various committees in charge are working diligently to make the ball a success. Features to be added this year are novel lighting arrangements, a grand march and special dance numbers: Not to be lacking in 'local color,' roulette wheels, will spin at the bar, with its 'beer on tap' sign, beaming, will round out the engineers' dance of the year.

125 COUPLES ATTEND KAPPA DELTA PARTY

125 couples attended the dance sponsored by the members of the Kappa Delta sorority held in the Armory Saturday evening.

Irish songs by Harry Th. Davidson and the Kappa Delta waltz during which time the members of the sorority sang the Kappa Delta songs were the main features of the party.

Decorations for the affair were in green and white, the sorority colors and also in keeping with the St. Patrick's season. Dancing was enjoyed from 8:30 to 11:30.

Messrs. and Mdms. E. J. Moore, I. J. Cortright, C. S. Putnam, Albert Birch, H. W. McArdle, E. H. Jones, H. L. Bolley, and W. S. Sudro were the patrons and patronesses.

FINAL CAMPUS LOOP TILTS TO BE PLAYED IN ARMORY TONIGHT

KAPPA PHIS CAN CINCH TITLE BY WIN OVER TAPPA KEGGS TONIGHT—TAUS AND SIGS TO BATTLE FOR SECOND PLACE.

Alpha Kappa Phi cagers, Campus Basketball league leaders, cinched a tie for leadership of the loop by virtue of their 19 to 10 win over the Chemistry club five Friday afternoon on the Armory floor, the loop leaders staging a rally in the third period in which they scored 12 points.

The loop leaders play their final tilt of the season on the Armory floor at 7 o'clock this evening, facing the strong Tappa Keggs five, who were put out of the running on Thursday.

In the second tilt the Sigma Taus and Delta Sigs face each other, the winner going into a tie with the Gamma Rho quint for second place.

The fast moving Theta Chis added another win to their string of consecutive victories by mowing down the Chemistry Club aggregation 20 to 9, Saturday morning.

Meyers with a quartette of field goals in the first period led the scoring.

In Friday's tilt the Chemists held a lead over the fraternity men for a long period in the first half. The Chemists led, 3 to 2, at the end of the first quarter, and a basket in the next quarter tied up the contest at the end of the half, 4 to 4.

Olson put the leaders in front with a basket soon after the third period opened, and Grieve tied it up again with a short basket to knot the count, 6 to 6. Two baskets by Fitzgerald put the fraternity men in front again. A duo of field goals by Wall and Hermes gave them a 16 to 6 lead at the end of the third period.

The Chemists scored two field goals in the remaining play, while Hermes' basket and a free throw by Wall gave them the contest, 19 to 10.

DELTA KAPPA SIGMA HOLD ANNUAL BANQUET TONIGHT

Members of the Delta Kappa Sigma fraternity will attend the annual Founder's Day Banquet of the fraternity at the Powers Hotel at six o'clock this evening.

About fifteen alumni members of the organization are expected to be present, a number of whom are scheduled for addresses. Dr. C. S. Putnam, Dr. L. L. Carrick, A. H. Parrott, and Dr. C. W. Hunter, honorary members of the organization, will also give short addresses.

Howard Swinney, chairman of the committee in charge of arrangements, has made extensive plans for the affair and several feature numbers have been arranged.

Carlton Lindquist will act as toastmaster.

Delta Kappa Sigma was formed by nine members of the college on March 16, 192, and obtained their present home on Eleventh Avenue North in 1923.

ALPHA GAMMA RHO INSTALLS NEW OFFICERS

Thirty-five members of Epsilon chapter of Alpha Gamma Rho met at the Gardner Hotel for the annual installation of officers of the chapter Monday.

The following officers were installed: Gilmore Sondreal, noble ruler; Russell Widdifield, secretary; Walter Davidson, treasurer; Craig Montgomery, noble usher; and John Mach, chaplain.

ADMINISTRATION BOARD MEETS HERE

PETITIONS FOR CHANGE IN COLLEGE NAME PRESENTED TO BOARD BY COULTER.

Plans were presented to the State Board of Administration at their meeting held here Friday by Dr. John Lee Coulter, president.

Among the various plans submitted to the board were the finishing of an attic room in the Mechanic Arts building for mechanical training, and finishing of rooms to provide additional space for class work in the barracks and Ceres Hall. A new watermain to provide better fire protection for the campus was amongst other plans submitted to the board. About $15,000 will be expended in making repairs during the summer according to Dr. Coulter.

The members of the board were guests of the Home Economic department at a luncheon in the Log Cabin at noon, and attended a convocation at the Armory in the morning where all of the members gave short addresses.

The Gold Star Band under direction of Dr. Putnam furnished music during the convocation.

The board complimented the basketball squad and coach on their fine record for the season and wished them success in their Kansas City trial for national honors. The players were decorated as champions and awarded sweaters by Dr. Coulter.

Petitions, circulated by members of Gamma Tau Sigma, honorary journalism fraternity, were presented to the board favoring a change of name for the college. The board took the petitions under advisement to ascertain whether or not there is any legal obstacle in the way of a name change.

The petitions were circulated by the journalism fraternity for the first time Wednesday afternoon, and by Friday morning over 500 students had their names attached.

FORMER STUDENTS MARRIED SATURDAY

Miss Pearl I. Hollands, a graduate of the School of Home Economics in 1924, and Wallace O. Berg, a graduate of the School of Agriculture in 1921, were married at the Grace Methodist Church in Moorhead at 7:30 Saturday evening.

After the ceremony a reception was held at the home of the bride's parents Mr. and Mrs. N. E. Eckberg, 721 Tenth Street North, Moorhead.

Mrs. Berg has been an instructor in the High School at Kenmare, while Mr. Berg is now an instructor in the High School at Drake. The couple will make their home at Drake.

CY ARNOLD PROVES STAR IN 17 TO 13 WIN OVER NEWTON

STONEWALL DEFENSE PROVES DOWNFALL OF KANSAS FIVE—McPHERSON IS CO-STAR WITH ARNOLD IN LAST PERIOD.

Kansas City, March 15.—North Dakota Bison and Newton, Kansas, Athletic club staged a somewhat different battle than the previous free scoring contests of the A. A. U. meet, the Dakotans winning the fray, 17 to 13, due largely to the brilliant work of the sorrel headed Cy Arnold, the brilliant defense man finding the net for three field counters in the last half, and along with McPherson, substitute center, carried the brunt of the attack for the winners in the closing period.

Arnold

The Bison trailed for the greater share of the game and came from behind to take the lead at the half, 7 to 6.

Miller found the net for a field goal and two free throws, while Rumpeltes counted on one. As the half was drawing to a close, Arnold counted a double marker to close the scoring for the Dakota Staters.

Arnold Annexes Two.

Arnold's three double markers, coupled with free throws by Thompson and Newgard, and a basket by McPherson composed the total for the winners.

The Northerners had many easy chances under the basket, a large number of them being muffed. The Kansas quint presented a more accurate array of shooters, but the Bison guarding proved to intense, their attempts to break through the defense being repelled repeatedly.

The offense of neither team was spectacular, while the guarding was good, and the fast play maintained throughout kept the game alive.

The lineups and summary follow:

Bison:	fg	ft	pf
Thompson, f	0	1	2
Newgard, f	0	1	3

CLASS SPIRIT.

The spirit of the student body at this institution is far from demoralizing, this having been demonstrated by actions of the students during the past few weeks.

There is, however, one thing that this school lack, CLASS SPIRIT. Class meetings here are poorly attended, altho when an important issue is forthcoming the students turn out fairly well.

The laxity on the part of the students in taking an interest in their respective classes cannot be laid on the student. The student pays his class dues when he registers and that is as far as many of them go with respect to class activities. Many of them would not even do this if it were not for the fact that their class dues were collected when they register. Class meetings are dull and dry. There is little or nothing done at most of them, the reason for which is that there is little of anything which interests the whole class accomplished.

If one thinks there is no chance for rivalry amongst classes they should hear students at the University of North Dakota talk of the Carney Song Contest. To think that a little thing like a song contest could arouse student enthusiasm seems absurd, but it has been proven up there that it will. Class rivalry in which each and every student of the class can take part is a thing that creates class spirit. Athletic contests between various classes can never arouse the entire class body to any amount of enthusiasm. To have class rivalry it is necessary to have some form of rivalry which enables all to take part. There are no second Carusos nor are there any Melbas at the University, but still the class turns out in large numbers.

THE STUDENT COMMISSION.

The Spectrum wants to extend its congratulations to those candidates who were successful in Friday's elections. It believes the students have been chosen wisely. There is a big job ahead, that of guiding the student destinies of this institution for the next year.

There are several things which are not just as they should be, one of them the present constitution of the board. Changes occur in a school the same as in any other life activity. The constitution was made to conform to conditions as they existed when the rules were adopted. Changes have taken place since this adoption and many sections within this code are time worn.

To the incoming board falls the responsibility of revising this constitution to present, and to future as far as possible, conditions.

The Spectrum is willing at any time to cooperate with any moves you make, and trust that your administration will be the most successful of the many which have been made.

We have no fault to find with the actions of the outgoing board, but now seems the logical time to make advisable changes, because the new officers will have an opportunity to formulate a new code of rules and observe their workings in a small way before retiring. This will enable them to make these changes and strike them from the constitution if they are found inadequate.

THANKS.

The Spectrum on behalf of the students wants to thank the merchants of Fargo, organizations and individuals who contributed to the fund to help defray the expenses of sending the Bison basketball team to Kansas City.

Perhaps the outstanding donations was that made by the students of Fargo High School. The students of that school contributed about $15, and the Spectrum wants to wish the members of the basketball team of that institution much success because of their kindly interest in the welfare of our team.

WE APPRECIATE your past patronage and solicit your future work. When you think of laundry call the DIXON for service and quality. We darn sox and sew on buttons without extra charge.

Inquiring Reporter

P. J. Hanson, senior in education, argues as follows: "I favor a change in the name of the college which will not give any undue advantage to any one industrial pursuit, as the present name does. This institution has not made a name for itself over the country as a college of agriculture. On the other hand, such schools as the School of Chemistry and the School of Science and Literature, especially thru the department of Public Service, are the outstanding ones, and have made a national reputation. It is true that the experiment station is noteworthy and for that reason our institution might be officially known as the North Dakota State College and Experiment Station. Much talk is now prevalent regarding developing the state's resources, other than agriculture, without intending to check the agricultural growth. This development will have to come as a result of work done in the School of Chemistry and department of geology. We are ready to take a new step in our state's development. Let's give all a fair shake, even to a name."

"The fact that a change of name will bring more students to this school cannot be overemphasized," said Robert Rawe. "A number of students who go to other institutions would probably enroll here, if they knew they wouldn't be called 'cow-collegians.' Fargo is an ideal location for a college. With a change in name, this college would become one of the most prominent schools in the Northwest."

Cy Gorder, agricultural student, states: "Sure, change it! The present name gives outsiders a narrow idea of the courses offered here."

Lester W. Engel, who is taking a pre-law course, presents the following opinion: "The changing of the title of the Institution to State College would make the students taking other courses other than agriculture feel that they were attending a school in which these courses were being given not as a sideline, but as a feature."

"The present name does not do justice to the other departments of the school that are just as large or larger," said Gilmore Sondreal, student of agriculture.

NONSORORITY QUINT CAPTURE LOOP TITLE

The non-sorority basketball quint captured the inter-sorority basketball tournament, which has been running the past two weeks. The make-up of the team was Evelyn Morrow and Christine Rud, forwards; Gladys Bockwaldt, Addie Oscarson and Louise Christianson, guards; and Helen Ballard, Ruth Henning, and Myrtle Quam, centers.

A summary of the scores follow:
March 1—Beta vs. Sigma Theta, 10-7; Lambda vs. Kappa Delta, 1-19.

March 2—Phi Pi's vs. Non-Sorority, 12-15; Kappa Delta vs. Theta, 6-9.

March 3—Non-Sorority vs. Beta, 15-12; Phi Pi's vs. Lambda, 26-7.

March 4—Thetas vs. Lambdas, 22-6; Beta vs. Phi Pi's, 12-10.

March 5—Non-Sorority vs. Kappa Delta, 27-8. Sigma Theta vs. Phi Pi's, 4-12.

March 6—Beta vs. Kappa Delta, 27-7; Non-Sorority vs. Lambda, 2-0, default.

March 9—Theta vs. Non-Sorority, 5-17; Beta vs. Lambda, 2-0; default.

March 10—Kappa Deltas vs. Phi Pi's, 7-0.

The girls' basketball team of the North Dakota State College has been chosen and consists of Christine Rud, Grace Bayliss, and Evelyn Morrow, forwards; Gladys Bockwaldt, and Evelyn Blakeslee, jumping centers; Helen Ballard, and Dorothy Stoudt, running centers; and Ruby Oscarson and Marion Trobridge, guards.

EBULLITIONS OF EBONY BLOTT

By Ebony Blott—Himself.
 We laid him down on the couch, and made him as comfortable as we could. His labored breathing caused looks of anxiety to creep over the faces of his friends. Suddenly it seemed as if he wasn't breathing at all, and the premonition of his death stirred us deeply. The tears flowed as freely as water at a temperance meeting. I could see his lips moving—scarcely perceptibly—and there was a pitiful look of entreaty upon his drawn face. "Please"—he gasped, I could barely catch the broken syllables—"Agnes—tell Agnes that I," and here he broke into a fit of coughing. "Tell her I died with her name on my lips—tell her—tell her there was no one but her. "And Myrtle—tell her the same thing!"

If Captain Smith were crying, would that be a Military Bawl?—Contributed.

In picking my all-college basketball team, I have had the unanimous able assistance of Ebony Blott, E. Blott, and "Eb" Blott. With such an array of expert critics helping me, a fair combination is the natural result. And, Oh yes, Mr. Blott helped too. Here is the selection:

Player	Position
The other one	L.F.
Prof. Kuhn	C.
Prof. Hunter	R.G.
R. H. Kramer	L.G.

As is always the case when assuming the responsibility of choosing an all star aggregation, the writer may always be assured of being the object of much derision. Sneering critics will undoubtedly sneer a nasty sneer at my selection, but it is my candid belief, nevertheless, that if this group were properly coached and put to the test, it would take a football team and two umpires to stop them.

The picking of T. Palmerlee and the Other One was a masterly decision. For instance, if the former has the ball, he can hide it under his feet and, pointing meaningfully, say that his brother has it. The opposition becomes befuddled and wonders which is which. As they are engaged in this game, the topic of discussion which is: are they oen and the same, or are they twins—both of them, or maybe they shouldn't have brought that Qt. of scotch with them, Mr. T. Palmerlee shoots the sphere to Mr. Kuhn who cages it with a dangling participle. This ingenious play can be worked on the unsuspecting rivals any number of times.

The choosing of Mr. Kuhn showed fiendish cunning. Although, outside of jumping at conclusions, this gentleman has rarely participated in athletics, he would be indispensable to a crack organization. If the opposition be dumb, in the thick of the fight, He could diagnose "The theory of atomic pathology," thus making of them numb and utterly lifeless. If the opposition be bright, they would become so engrossed in his deductions that they would take him outside and buy him an ice cream cone while the home team shot baskets.

Mr. Hunter's ability as a guard need not be questioned. With his sarcasm, the other team would fold up like an accordion. And that's that.

R. H. Cramer is standing guard, and that is exactly what I'll have him do. Right before the game is called, I'll have him waltz up to the middle of the floor, and let the opposition almp his Herculean muscles. He will then, with much grace, kick a full grown radiator out the upstairs window after which he will scrowl fiercely and resume his position. If I have any knowledge of Psychology whatever, I contend that the game will be forfeited to us. What better team could anyone want? Of course it's all in the coaching.

Looplights

By Josephine Hosch.
 Grand Forks, March 17.—Three new innovations in sports will make their appearance on the campus of the University of North Dakota, according to present plans of Coach Davis which include varsity cross-country, intra-mural track, and intra-mural tennis for the spring calendar of 1926.

Dual intercollegiate track meets will be staged, the N. D. A. C. being invited to engage the Nodaks on the morning or May 22, and one of the Minnesota conferences scheduled for a track meet with the Nodaks on the morning of May 15.

Intra-mural track at the University as well as intra-mural tennis will depend upon the demand for it.

In the latter part of April the regular schedule of intra-mural baseball will get under way but it is expected that there will be plenty of practice before that time.

Kittenball, which was introduced last year under the auspices of the Y. M. C. A. will be continued this year and Ray Anderson, who is one of the leading golfers in the state and a student at the University, is promoting the formation of a University golf club.

Grand Forks, March 17.—Edmund Boe of the University of North Dakota has been given a place in the first team of the All-North Centra Conference basketball team by Ed Yocum, sport writer at the University.

Mr. Yocum states that he fully realizes that the selections are his own opinion together with what other opinions he has been able to gather.

With the unexpected turn of the season in mind he names the following two teams his choice for a mythical pair of clubs.

- First Team.
 Brown, Creighton, forward.
 Hauff, Morningside, forward.
 Blakely, N. D. State, center.
 Arnold, N. D. State, Guard.
 Boe, N. D. University, Guard.
- Second Team.
 Wild, N. D. University, forward.
 Means, Morningside, forward.
 Redfield, S. D. University, center.
 Miller, N. D. State, guard.
 Dreibelis, Des Moines, guard.

Honorable mention should be given the following, according to the North Dakota scribe: Hammerickson, Veigel, and LaVoie, of North Dakota; Thompson, of the Bison; Ekern and Sorbel, of State; Himman and DeKlotz, of S. D. University; Hancor and Bastian of Morningside; Toay and Barnes, of Des Moines; and Ryan, Haley, and Fogarty, of Creighton.

Lim'rick Contest

The closing lim'rick of the year proved uneventful. None were killed, and there were only two intimidations. Conjecture as to what Ebony was going to buy for his sugar were manw and varied. But here is what the judges thought would be the most appropriate thing for him to purchase:

Our Ebony thought 'twould be fine,
 If he'd write a wining last line.
 Said he "With that money
 Ah'd jus' buy mah honey—
 A book of my lim'ricks divine."

Jay Bryant thought he might just as well end the lim'rick season right bagging the last contest, and so he did against pretty stiff competition. The contest was close, and though Ebony had no book of lim'ricks, the last line was voted the best. Jay also received consideration with: "A Bison, what could be as fine?" Tom Regan created some sort of reaction on the judges with "A big feed so that we can dine" while Dick Hackenberg scored with "Some candy to keep her from crine", which was probably as true to life as any.

Participants in the former contests will find the final results in next Friday's Spectrum. The monthly winner and the grand prize winner will be announced. It is thought probable also that the Bison will publish a group picture of the weekly winners, so those included in this classification should be on the look out for further announcement regarding this.

"Sheep are coming to be a more and more important part of the livestock industry of North Dakota," according to Geo. Landsverk, "because of our abundance of sheep feed and the heavier and more lusterous crop of wool produced in a cold and dry climate such as we have." Mr. Landsverk, in a summary of his thesis on "The Production of Sheep" before a group of the faculty in room 210 of "Ag" Hall last Wednesday, gave a brief history and survey of the sheep industry as it is today and probably will be in the future from the production and marketing viewpoints.

Following this, another student, Raymond Douglas, who is doing thesis work in Animal Husbandry, gave a summary of his work on "A Brief Survey of the Production of Beef Cattle." He, also, traced the breeds thru their history, told some about their production and marketing, and set forth reasons why beef cattle promise to become more numerous in North Dakota; especially if the European Corn Borer continues to spread, it will so damage the Corn Belt that the industry must look to the northwest for feed.

These were the first of a series of such thesis summaries to be given as part of the requirement for credit, according to Prof. E. J. Thompson in charge. Before the war when livestock was booming, there was much incentive for work along this line which ceased with the depression following the war. However, the industry is again starting to flourish and as a result, there are the first works of this kind for a numer of years. Another group of thesis summaries will be given next Wednesday.

ANNUAL JUDGING CONTEST

Student Opinion

The Y. M. C. A. ballots had a questionnaire attached to which a great many interesting replies have been made, according to Eric H. Thomsen, the general secretary.

Opinions were expressed that some students did not join the Y. M. C. A. because of the prejudice "against the conditions which prevailed in previous years." Another wrote "Give student members more authority; not so much backward faculty suppression." One suggests "To get support for the 'Y' something will have to be done to make it all-college instead of only a certain group frequenting it."

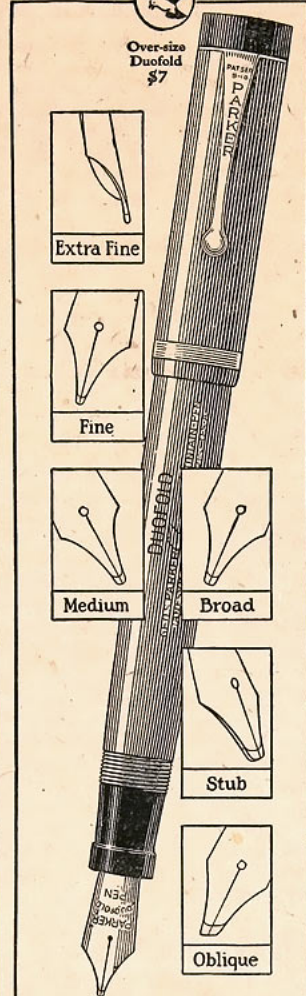

"It is quite apparent," said "Tom", "that these fellows have not spent enough time in the 'Y' to find out what it is all about. The 'Y' is an all-college association in the strictest sense of the word in which everybody may participate if they will take the trouble. Whatever may have been the conditions of the past, there has been no effort whatsoever on the part of any faculty member to influence the policy of the association at any time since I got here last fall. The faculty members have contributed this year three times as much money as the students and in return merely reserved the hour from 5:00 to 6:00 p. m. for the volley ball league, which would seem a very modest return.

"The fundamental trouble seems to be that the student body in general does not realize that the controlling factor in the student Y. M. C. A. is the student opinion. It is for you as students to bring your influence to bear on the policy you want to create within the Y. M. C. A. If you care to make it so, it is literally a YOUNG Men's Christian Association, not an old men's club. And if you do not want to exert your leadership, you cannot blame the faculty members if things do not happen the way you would like to see them happen."
