BISON GRAB FIVE GAMES ON TOUGH JAUNT

BISON BASKETEERS BEGIN PREPARATIONS FOR NODAK SERIES

LETICH CREW ENJOY TEN DAY REST PREVIOUS TO ANNUAL CLASSIC—BISON IN NONE TOO GOOD SHAPE.

SPECIAL RATES ARE SECURED

BISON TO START PREPARATIONS WITH LIGHT WORKOUT ON ARMORY COURT THIS AFTERNOON.

Bison basketballers returned from a successful invasion of Iowa and Minnesota where they took five games in as many days.

Cortright intends to send his men on the court for a light workout in preparation for the state classic with the University of North Dakota Flickers the first game of which is scheduled for Grand Forks Saturday evening. The second game of the series will be played at Grand Forks Monday.

The struggle between the two schools is perhaps the most important of the annual struggles between them, at least from the standpoint of the Bison. The Bison in 19 starts this season have not suffered a reversal, and at the present time are heading the list in the standing of the North Central conference basketball race. In order to have a clear title to the loop championship the Bison must win three of the four struggles from the upstarts.

The Bison are not the overwhelming favorites to cop the series that they were earlier in the season, the Nodaks having developed a strong defensive team which is apt to stop the consistent Bison scoring. The Bison are just recuperating from their strenuous trip while the Letich crew have been enjoying a ten day rest.

Fred Sorkness, head of the Bisons, local pep group, announced yesterday that special rates have been received for the Nodak series at Grand Forks. In order to receive one-half fare for the trip it is necessary to secure 200 students. At the present time 125 students have signified their intention of making the trip. This rate gives the students a fare of one and one-third for the round trip, whereas if 200 students decide to make the trip a full fare for the round trip only will be charged, the total equalling one-half fare for both ways.

It is still necessary to have a few more students sign up and all those interested should see Mr. Sorkness at once.

EDWIN BOOTH CLUB INITIATES 2 SUNDAY

Mr. and Mrs. A. G. Arvold were hosts at a turkey dinner, in honor of the Edwin Booth Dramatic Club Sunday, February 14, served in the Log Cabin. Two new members were initiated into the club at this time. Miss Marjory Gullickson, twice winner of the annual declamatory contest, player of the title role in "The College Widow," and the part of Lady Sneerwell in the "School for Scandal," and Robert Sanderson, player of Bub Hicks in the "College Widow," Tony Lumkins in "She Stoops to Conquer," and major parts in one-act plays, became active members of the club.

BISON AD CONTEST CLOSES FRIDAY

CONTESTANTS SHOULD SECURE ADS NOT LATER THAN WEDNESDAY NIGHT SAYS PUTNAM.

The Bison advertising contest, sponsored by the staff of the Bison of 1927, closes Friday, February 19. Students desiring to make an entrance into this contest should make application for a name of a Bison advertiser not later than Wednesday afternoon so as to have ample time to concoct an idea for an ad and to get it in the hands of the staff by 4:00 o'clock Friday afternoon.

It is not yet too late to make an attempt to win out in this contest. Cash prizes of $10.00 for first, $5.00 for second, and $3.00 for third place will be given as awards to the originators of the three best ads. Photographs of the prize winners, together with the prize winning ads will be given feature places in the first part of the advertising section.

The advertising contest is something entirely new in the pages of the year book. It is meant to make the section one of more interest and of more direct appeal to the student body at large. This will be brought about, it is felt, through the fact that the section will be composed entirely of student work and ideas instead of the usual stereotyped form which is seldom read. In this way the advertiser will also reap added benefit.

"Student interest and support should not be lacking in a contest of this type," stated Emery T. Putnam, business manager of the yearbook. "Not only is there a chance for fame and fortune in the contest but also a chance for entertainment and training along the line of advertising."

NOTICE.

Pledges of Gamma Tau Sigma fraternity report to Emery Putnam in the Bison office at 3:45 this afternoon. It is imperative that every one of you be there on time. No excuses will be accepted.

PREPARATIONS FOR MILITARY BALL ARE NEARING COMPLETION

THREE SPECIAL DANCE NUMBERS BY EARLY SCHOOL OF DANCING TO BE FEATURE ACTS OF EVENING.

FEW TICKETS REMAIN UNSOLD

DECORATIONS TO BE CARRIED OUT IN NATIONAL COLORS—MILITARY DISPLAY TO BE FEATURED.

Preparations for the Military Ball are now complete and with the quota of tickets nearly exhausted the ball promises to be one of the outstanding social events of the year, according to William Toussant, the Military Ball leader. A few tickets are left unsold and those who have not as yet procured theirs will be able to get them if they get in touch with any members of Scabbard and Blade, at once.

After a busy week of steady effort the decorations committee under the chairmanship of Clyde Chaley have announced the predominating effects of the scheme of decorations. The use of red, white, and blue bunting will form the main feature of the decorations. A dome of this material in the center and an entire false ceiling together with a display of military equipment, including army tents, machine guns and howitzers, are to be the main features. Assisting Clyde Chaley on the decorations committee are Donald Andrist, Walter Boerth, Leslie Sherwood, Harold Hulett, and Mercade Cramer.

Three special dance numbers furnished by the Early School of Dancing will be the feature acts of the evening according to Robert Sanderson, chairman of the feature committee. Frappe will be served in the place of the elaborate and clumsy lunches of former years.

Owing to an error in recording last week the name Dr. C. S. Putnam was left from the list of honorary guests, as well as mention of the fact that the deans of all the schools of the college are to be the guests of Scabbard and Blade February 19.

DOC'S GOT ANOTHER SONG, LEARN IT FOR U GAMES

Dr. C. S. Putnam, director of the Gold Star Band, has added another clapping song to the pep song repertoire. According to those in the band the song is a "wow". Doc is desirous of having everyone learn the words to it and make a big splurge of it at the "U" when the Gold Star Band make their annual belittlement of the Band of Quality.

Here are the words, you can clip and learn them before Friday: Watch this dandy team of our go down the floor.

Listen while we yell, for you the Bison roar.

With our rivals yapping, we will all be clapping.

Fighting till the game is won. We will back this team of our to win the game.

Bringing to the Yellow and the Green new fame.

We are never lacking, with our loyal backing,

With a lusty "Yea, Bison!"

L. C. T. PLAYERS' COMEDY TODAY

"SHE STOOPS TO CONQUER" TO BE PRESENTED—AFTERNOON AND EVENING.

A royal matchmaker, her "inkeeper" husband; Kate, "the bar maid"; Tony, her carousing half brother; Marlow and Hastings, misled suitors, will all unfold the humor of English courting for theatre goers this afternoon and evening when Goldsmith's famed comedy "She Stoops to Conquer" is presented by the Little Country Theatre Players. The matinee performance at four o'clock and the evening one at eight are under the direction of the class in play production.

The five-act comedy, which boasts a "run" somewhat longer than "Abie's Irish Rose", has been going strong since 1773. It is all because of the prank of the sotted Tony who meets the two English suitors, directs them to his father's mansion and represents its owner as an inn keeper and his daughter as a bar maid. More modern a play could not be. It is when Marlow says to Hastings: "Travelers, George, must pay in all places. The only difference is that in good inns you pay dearly for luxuries; in bad inns you are fleeced and starved" that Mr. Harcastle's trials begin. Mrs. Harcastle makes a royal match, but it is to be seen how Tony consummates the matter.

"The Rivals," also a five act comedy, by Sheridan will be presented at the Little Country Theatre at a matinee on Wednesday, February 24 and on the evening of the 25 of next week. The Edwin Booth Dramatic club has made this arrangement to avoid conflict with the St. Thomas debate date.

AND THAT'S THAT.

"And if you aren't a traveler, you get no date with me," said the flapper conclusively.

"Why?" inquired he.

"For a rolling stone gathers no moss," she said with an air of finality.

"But," said the diplomat, "he gathers speed."

So they were married.

WINS OVER TIGERS AND MAROONS BOOST HERD LOOP CHANCES

DES MOINES FORCES CORTRIGHT MEN TO FIGHT OVERTIME BATTLE TO GRAB 14 TO 10 VICTORY.

SIMPSON, MACS PROVE EASY

MAROONS FALL BEFORE LOOP LEADERS 23 TO 17—CADETS PROVE TOUGHER THAN A WEEK AGO.

Be it ever so humble there's no place like home! Red Blakely's bunch of Bison basketball bouncers are back in their own pasture after a successful five-day stampede through Iowa and Minnesota, in which the Cortright clan made a clean sweep of five games in as many days.

Simpson college of Indianola was the first Bison victim, and fell hard by a 52-16 score on Tuesday; Des Moines university took a 14-10 defeat at the hands of the herd in an overtime game Wednesday; Morningside defeated Thursday 23-17; Macalester of St. Paul was host to the Bison Friday and was given a sound trouncing, 50-14; and the St. Thomas Cadets entertained the Bison Saturday by donating them a 21-14 victory. The Des Moines and Morningside games were the only loop contests of the tour.

Bison Strike Snag.

After sailing unmolested through the Simpson quint for half a hundred points the Bison struck a snag in the Des Moines gymnasium, where the scrapping Tigers almost turned an otherwise ordinary basketball game into a Waterloo for the Thundering Herd. The Bison were the first to score when Blakely caged the only long shot of the game from the side of the floor. Couchman, Tiger forward, retaliated with a basket for the junglemen and knotted the count. Arnold dropped in a short shot and Dreibellis duplicated to end the first half in a 4-4 deadlock.

At the outset of the second period Blakely made his second shot good to again put the invaders in the lead. And again Dreibellis scored, tying the count. Two baskets by the versatile Tiger forward and two by Claudie Miller ended the contest 10-10. In the extra five-minute period Thompson and Hanson came through with a basket apiece and the Bison took the closest game of the season by a 14-10 count.

Miller Stars Against Tigers.

Claudie Miller is given the credit for the Bison victory on account of his excellent defensive work which broke the Tiger offense in the final minutes of the game and allowed the herd to tally without a duplication of their feat at the other end of the floor. Red Blakely's offensive work was the life of the Bison floor game.

The Morningside Maroons were taken into camp the following evening after a fast game in the Sioux City gym. Cy Arnold was the star of the victory with six field goals. The Bison guard ushered in the Maroon conflict with a basket that originated no mean distance from the net. Hauff responded to the entreaties of the crowd and caged a beautiful one from the

LET'S GO!

Now that a special train has been secured to leave the Great Northern station at 10:00 o'clock Saturday morning, all that remains to make the Bison-Nodak series a success, from a Bison standpoint, is two victories for the Cortrighters and a good representation of Bison students, backed by Doc's Gold Star Band.

The Spectrum wishes to extend its sincere thanks for the student body to the officials of the Great Northern railway who so kindly consented to give a flat rate of one fare for the round trip regardless of the number of students making the trip. Their action in granting this privilege shows that they are backing the college in 100 per cent style.

It is unnecessary to tell the older students of the college who have made the trip to the University before of the good things which are in store for them at the Forks. To the new students, and to those who have never made this trip before, we ask only that you make a determined effort to make the much worthwhile trip to the home of the Nodaks and back your team in true Bison fashion.

Tags are being sold at the present time to raise money for the purpose of sending the band to the games. The band in itself is worth a lot at these games, and Doc personally has more pep than any four students, and possibly if the four outstanding students are not chosen, he has more than a dozen. It would be a shame to leave Doc home because the band could not go, and Doc would feel so downhearted that he wouldn't go if he had to leave his band behind, not because he hasn't the spirit, but we think he would be lost if he couldn't be out there directing his band in their traditional battle with the upstate musical organization. Buy a tag and help a worthy cause. You can miss one show this week in order to help.

The Bisonites are going to the game one hundred per cent and this assures a nucleus of a good rooting organization. There is no reason why there should not be 500 Bison fans at the game Saturday evening, urging the Bison on in an effort to capture their first undisputed conference title. The State Championship in itself is worth winning, but for the first time in the history of the classics between the two schools, there is more than the state title to be fought for.

Let's have a roaring mob shouting "Yea, Bison" on the streets of Grand Forks and in the Flicker gym on Saturday.

Let's have spirit like we never had before.

BIG TEN STYLE.

The Collegian Reporter, student publication of Morningside college, in commenting on the Bison-Maroon game at Sioux City last Thursday says: "Hauff performed in real Big Ten style, getting three baskets for the Maroons."

"Big Ten Style" means nothing to the Bison, for they faced the present leaders in the Big Ten and beat them 16 to 11.

We suggest that the Maroons get away from that Big Ten style and use North Central style, as exemplified by the Bison.

Big Ten Style is "duck soup" for Cortright's cagers.

THAT GAY COLLEGE LIFE.

Students entering Cornell university last fall were required to pay a special tax of four dollars. The proceeds of the tax are to be expended to make Cornell "a more human university." That seems very odd. Most of the complaint that is heard about American universities is that they are too human. It is incessantly charged that too much time is devoted to the social and athletic welfare of the students and not enough to their intellectual development.

The "college boy" of which the country hears is an expensive-looking young man who travels around to football games in a high powered car and reaches into the pockets of his raccoon coat for hundred dollar bills to bet on his team. This specimen, however, is representative of only a small fraction of the students at universities.

For every student going through college in ease and comfort there is another (usually two or three) having a pretty miserable time. His club is a rooming house, his dining hall is a noisy and messy cafeteria, and his refuge is a corner drug store or possibly the library.

In every large university in the east there are thousands of students who only see the gay side of college life from a distance. Some know it only from the novels they read.

Cornell will expend the fund raised by the special tax to organize a pleasant social life for students who have no clubs, no motor cars, no doting daddies to ease the course of their university education. If the money is well expended, it is possible for Cornell to make another notable contribution to the advance of education in the United States.—The Rutland News.

Inquiring Reporter

"Those elected are popular with a certain class of students, and not popular with a majority of the students," says Gordon Lee, vice president of the freshman class, in commenting on the Bison Ace section of the annual. "Enough don't vote to decide the real aces."

"Red" Blakely, Bison Ace in last year's contest said: "It is possible to pick out the leaders in class activities by looking through the different departments of the annual, therefore an election of aces is not necessary. Popularity contests do more harm than good."

"The contest may be an inspiration for freshmen," said William Morrow, senior, "to take part in activities at this college in which girls can take part and thus place themselves in the limelight," he lamented. "The contest is undemocratic."

Lester Shermerhorn, Kappa Psi: "The election of the students for this section is largely a question of who controls voting. Fraternities and sororities usually 'swing' these elections. Those elected are not always the most representative. The faculty would have a better estimation of the students' worth."

Art Schmitz, radio station broadcaster opines: "Eight students are chosen from each class, which should be enough to represent that body." He concluded broadcasting with, "The contest creates interest."

Eddie Shea remarked forcefully: "It teaches students to vote. Campaigns should be made to get more to vote at these elections. If we neglect voting now, what kind of citizens will we be when we get out of college?" he finished with a flourish.

"It doesn't do much for the uplift of the college," said Wad Thompson with his meanest look. "It might help a few individuals, while others may receive more harm than good."

"Llewelyn Howell, Bison Ace, states "It doesn't do much good, outside of making the aces more self conscious, and giving their fraternities and sororities a chance to brag about them in the presence of rushees. But I do have a notion that they widen the breach between fraternity and non-fraternity and sorority and non-sorority women, which is, to say the least an undesirable result."

"Where are you from?"
"Charleston."
"Oh, dancer, eh?"
"Yeh, where you hail from?"
And the wise one answered not. He was from Crookston.

TAPPA KEGG QUINT HOLD LEAD IN CAMPUS TOURNEY

Campus league play on Tuesday and Thursday of last week resulted in wins for the Chemistry club, Kappa Phi, Gamma Rho, Theta Chi, and Tappa Kegg quints.

In Tuesday's play the Chemistry club made their debut downing the Delta PIs, 18-13. Wangen and Grieve were the high point gatherers for the Chemists, while Chadwick did the best work for the engineering quint.

In Tuesday's play the Chemistry club quint won their second victory in as many starts, downing the Kappa Psis, 15-11. In the second contest the Kappa Phis came from behind in the fourth quarter to grab a surprise victory from the Alpha Sigma Tau five, 24 to 19. The Alpha Gamma Rho five sprung the biggest surprise of the tourney by downing the Delta Sigs in an overtime game 18 to 14. The Sigs had previously downed the Kappa Phis 18 to 14 after the Phis had handed the Gama Rhos an overwhelming defeat 32 to 11.

In Thursday's games the Theta Chis broke in to the win column by downing the Delta Phis 15 to 12. The Sigma Taus received their second setback of the tourney, the Gamma Rhos turning back the Taus 28 to 23. The Tappa Keggs kept their slate clean by downing the Chemistry club 39 to 19, the Keggs experiencing little difficulty in winning.

The standings of the league follow:

Lim'rick Contest

Never was a contest more close than the last one relative to our popular basketball, star "Jug" Newgard. The judges couldn't have disagreed more if they had all belonged to the same family. This was the result, however, when the smoke of battle had been dismissed:

An eye for the basket has "Jug",
Who cages them in neat and snug.
Ten times out of nine
You'll see Newgard shine—
He's good if he don't start to slug.

By Stewart Schlipf who, in winning this contest, made it two to his credit for the month. Let be understood right here and now that the above last line is no slur on "Jug's" excellent, clean playing. The judges made it clear that the line won because of its cleverness and meter rather than the thought in it. Stewart wrote another last line that received praise from the judges in "He's bit by the basketball bug." New contestants walked off with the rest of the honors, though all of the last lines were good. Morris Svendsen received the support of one of the judges with "As forward or guard he can hug," as did Robert Billings who presented "Like immortal Poe's Gold Bug." Mercade Cramer won the judges' applause with "He'll string the 'U' out on a rug."

After lengthy deliberation of the worthy judges who seemed to take delight in making the contest close, it was decided that Jay Bryant again wrote the best last line of the month. The others in line for the $2 which Jay carries away were Stewart Schlipf and Althea Reed. This leaves Jay and Walter Hoster in the running for the $15 and the honor of being the limerickiest limerick scribblers on the campus. However, there is still plenty of time for anyone to receive all this money and an individual picture in the Bison by winning next month's series, which will conclude the Bison contest for this year.

Here is Jay's $2 limerick:

Three cheers for Fitzgerald, our boss!
Round whose form there gathers no moss.

"I like him a lot,"
Said Ebony Blott
His pen gives the Spectrum its gloss.

Here is the first one of the last series. Look it over and decide to win the prizes with your last line. It concerns a popular football and basketball star, who is due for a lim'rick in his honor:

We know a young fellow named 'Wad'
Of the Bison basketball squad.

He has his own way
Of winning the day—

game was a good one, and had our players a better chance to practice, and been given the encouragement they were entitled to receive from the side lines, we could have won it. But why give details about a game when the students were not interested enough to be there! The Forum found this game worthy of considerable space. The people back of the Leonard team were loyal enough to come thirty-five miles to see the game. Yet, we could publish the names of the loyal members of our school, for by actual count there were only twenty-five of us at this game. TWENTY-FIVE out of one hundred and fifty! Think of it! A man once said that the trouble with the students of this school was that they expected to be entertained, and were not willing to contribute to the entertainment themselves. But this man was wrong. The truth is this: the students are not even willing to turn out to high school activities to give a few energetic people a chance to entertain them. If this seems like the razzto you, you have interpreted it correctly.

Convocation Last Week.

Convocation Wednesday afternoon as opened with the singing of old-time songs. Prof. Iverson was the speaker of the afternoon. His theme dealt with the choosing of a vocation, tho it appeared for a time as if it might deal with the choosing of a husband. He said in part, "Everyone is entitled to a fighting chance." Within the next two or three weeks another convocation will be held, at which a businessman from the city will speak.

The Hi-Y Party a Success.

"Not Wanted: A Wife," a short one-act play was put on by three high school boys and was the most interesting number of several very good selections on the program at the Hi-Y party last Friday night. The only thing about this play we did not understand was how Lewis Beals managed to time the dog's barking with the announcement of his hearing wedding bells. Supt. Iverson closed the program with a short talk on the importance of cultivating the ability to be self-entertaining. Interesting games were played for a time after which lunch was served.

Dancing Party Saturday Evening.

The next issue of the Spectrum will carry details about a high school dancing party to be held in the Armory next Saturday evening. This will be the first party of the kind this year, and with a large number of people who enjoy dancing, this party should be well attended.

Dear Ebony: Perhaps you will be interested in the radical resolution I have just made. I have vowed that if the Bison win the conference, I will read your column every issue.

MUSS B. DUMM.

Dear Muss: You must be a glutton for punishment. You are a loser either way. It wont be very pleasant for my poor column though, if the Bison come through.

side brining the count back to par. This riled Cy's sense of humor and he proceeded to take up a commanding position near the center of the floor and drop two neat shots through the atmosphere within the hoop. Newgard and Hancer, Maroon guard, broke even on a couple of foul shots when Cy informed the world in general and his team mates in particular that he wanted the ball. He got it and two more high arching shots split the net giving the Bison an 11-4 margin. Blakely and Arnold on the one hand, and Hauff on the other kept the nets hot until the period ended 16-9. Maroons Rally.

The Maroons started the second half with a spirited rally that sent the score to within one point of the Bison, 18-17. McPherson made a free throw increasing the lead to two points. The Methodists started things rolling by another spurt, but superb guarding kept the Bison out in front. Then Captain Blakely swept down the floor with a nice goal that put the Bison four points ahead. In response to an encore he repeated the act for the benefit of those who came late and the game was over, 23-17.

Hoot McPherson led the herd in the stampede over Macalester with seven baskets and a free throw for a total of fifteen points. The Macmen took the lead at the start of the game but after the herd started thundering there was no doubt as to the outcome. Cortright kept the regulars out of the game until the final minutes in order to save them for the Tommy struggle Saturday.

Cadet Defense Tight.
The Cadets showed the Bison a tighter defense than they exhibited to Fargo fans a week ago, and as a result the herd was allowed a meager 21 votes for victory. But the Bison were tighter, and the Tommies were left behind with 14 counters. Blakely, Thompson and Arnold were the outstanding actors of the game. Both teams were stale as a result of a hard week's schedule.
