BISON MEET BUNNIES TOMORROW RALLY STARTS BISON ROUNDUP TONIGHT

HUGE BONFIRE RALLY AND PARADE START TONIGHT'S PROGRAM

COLLEGE ROOTERS CLUB IN CHARGE OF INITIAL PROGRAM
THIS EVENING.

CLASS FIGHT ON BETWEEN HALVES

HUGE DANCE IN EVENING TO END ANNUAL HOMECOMING
DAY LIST OF EVENTS.

With the Bison Roundup Homecoming only a few hours off, final preparations are under way for the "gala" occasion. Approximately 5,000 alumni, former students and friends are expected to attend the game between South Dakota State and Bison teams on Dacotah field at 2:30 p. m. tomorrow.

Bjornson First Arrival

Letters have been received every day for the past week at the alumni secretary's office from those expecting to come back for the day. Dick Bjornson, '17, former Bison football captain, arrived in Fargo on Tuesday from Chicago.

A new feature has been added to the big doings when the college rooters club, a recently formed organization on the campus, fosters the first rally and bonfire. Students will each bring a box with them Friday and these will be used to build the huge fire at 7 o'clock this evening back of the Armory. Fred Sorkness, leader of the club, will be in charge of the rally. The Gold Star band, under the direction of Doc Putnam, will furnish music for the pep rally and also for the parade immediately following. Coach Cortright and several others will give short pep talks.

Convocation at 10

A convocation is scheduled for 10 a. m. Saturday morning at which each organization will present a short stunt. A parade will be held at 12:10 with floats, costumes and other marchers. Prizes will be awarded for the best floats and costumes participating in the parade.

At 2:30 the Bison-Bunnie game will take place on Dacotah field, and between halves the annual Freshman-Sophomore class fight will take place. Three footballs will be thrown up and the class scoring the most touchdowns in the allotted time will be declared winners. Numbers in this event are unrestricted, Harry Blakely, in charge of the battle, stating that the class with the most men are apt to win.

Lettermen to Register

Other surprises and stunts are also scheduled between halves and after the game. All former lettermen will register in the varsity clubroom before the game, and will receive a key tag which will admit them to the game, and entitle them to a reserved seat.

A huge dance will take place in the evening, from 8:30 to 11:30 p. m. The dance will be under the auspices of the student commission.

HISTORY REPEATS ITSELF; PIVOT BATTLE PROMISING

History repeats itself!

In 1921 Fargo and Grafton high schools played for the right to claim the state championship. Two centers opposed each other on Dacotah field that Thanksgiving day in 1921, and tomorrow afternoon those same two centers may oppose each other on that same field. Both are now seniors in college. Bert Popowski and Wallace Thompson are the two men who may oppose each other. Both were picked on mythical teams for all-state honors, with the choices about equally divided. To what degree they have improved in college will be told in tomorrow's contest.

On the same team which faced Grafton in 1921 will be three other men who helped beat Popowski's team, Miller, Arnold and Marks having been members of Fargo's 1921 state championship football team. History may repeat itself!

In case West shifts his 1924 all-conference center, Starbeck, into the line again, there will be much interest attached to the pivot jobs, Thompson undoubtedly having shown enough thus far this season to warrant him consideration as a choice for the conference honors as the best pivot man in the loop.

Thompson is already beginning to show many of the tricks which characterized the play of his predecessor, Latimer, pivot man on the first all-conference team, picked in 1922. Latimer had a knack of breaking through the line and nailing the safety man after a punt, and Thompson twice did that last Saturday.

Doubtless the battle at the center post tomorrow promises much.

COULTER SPEAKS TO STUDENT BODY AT TUESDAY ASSEMBLY

SAYS PRACTICAL SCHOOLS HAVE ADVANTAGE OVER OLD TYPE
CULTURAL SCHOOLS.

URGES STUDENTS TO GET IN ACTIVITIES

SCIENCES NECESSARY TO PRACTICAL COURSES HAND IN HAND WITH CULTURE.

"Why is it that only those who were to become ministers, lawyers and professors went to college and why generally did not the farmer, engineer and architect attend college prior to 1850?" was a query answered by President John Lee Coulter in an address to students and faculty at convocation last Tuesday.

Practical Courses Opened

"The old type of college was a purely classical and cultural one with no courses being given that opened the way to one interested in agriculture, engineering and other practical professions. Chemistry and physics and other studies were given, but only for the prospective minister or lawyer. The man who might apply scientific knowledge gleaned by such study did not have ready access to it.

"The rising demand for a type of college that would satisfy practical wants, a type that would teach us to do for ourselves, and not merely teach us to minister to the needful, or help in some idealistic way brought about the government's provision for colleges such as ours. To insure against such institutions as the agricultural and state colleges acquiring an exclusive professional state, the founding act provided by law that such courses essential to a rounded education should be included in the curriculum.

"That is why," said President Coulter, "We at A. C. have advantages over all colleges, for we have the practical branches. Yet the sciences necessary to the agricultural, engineering and chemistry pursuits go hand in hand with the classical and purely cultural courses.

THIS GREEN COVERED ONE WOULDN'T STAND HAZING

"Oh! Look at him," cried a coed enroute from the library to her next class.

The "him" in question soon had a bevy of the fair ones about him; watching, as he gracefully scrubbed over the cement walk and then paused at the lawn's edge to await the decision of the hazing crowd. So interesting to the watchers did the green one's activities become that an inveterate Ford car near by almost accomplished a delivery. Whereupon, a bold sophomore grabbed the wretch by the nape of his neck; only to pause to await the spectators' judgment.

With this, again a coed, with an ardor that would befit a Roman at his "thumbs down" functions, chimed in: "Take him up to Mr. Miller."

The ophidian, in all his sinuous beauty, a good two feet of rich green set off by parallel stripes of yellow was borne off to Science hall. While a girl was heard to exclaim, as the snake writhed in midair, "Look at his 'tummy.'" The hapless snake was revealed in all his nakedness.

Gliding out to glimpse October's opal skies, to catch the sunlight of an Indian summer morning; he was surprised. In vain did he play 'possum in the shadow of a car's tire. But fortune had decreed that he should await doom in a reeking cage of the zoological laboratory instead of hibernating in peace.

"What's the charge, officer?" "Fragrancy, sir, he's been drinking perfume."—Toronto Goblin.

MANY VETERANS DOT LINEUP OF WEST'S STATE GRID CREW

REAL BATTLE MAY LOOM IN PIVOTAL POSITION BETWEEN
THOMPSON AND STARBECK.

WELCH AND KELLEY MAY BE IN LINEUP

WEST'S CREW WILL PROVE DANGEROUS DESPITE POOR SHOWINGS MADE THIS SEASON.

Among the hosts pouring into the city for Homedaying day will be Mr. Jack West and his troupe of South Dakota Jackrabbits, an aggregation which will play an important part in the Bison celebration. The Bunnies and the Bison are scheduled to mix in one of the best football games of the year at Dacotah field tomorrow. Coach West has not forgotten his last visit to the Bison stamping grounds in 1923, when his charges were delivered a heart-breaking beating, 14 to 13. And while the Cortright clan rejoice over that recollection, the memory of what the Bunnies did to them in '22 and '24 is not so sweet, for the Aggies were turned back by good sized scores, both times on the Bunnies' gridiron at Brookings.

Bunnies Must Fight

Not only exists this ferocious state of rivalry between the teams but the fact that the Rabbits have made an exceedingly poor start this season. This gives them the idea that they must repel the Bison attack tomorrow or lose their good reputation for the season. For the Bunnies were conference champions in '22 and '24, and so far this season have lost to Buena Vista, 14 to 0, won from Dakota Wesleyan, 7 to 0, and tied the Nebraska Wesleyan gridgers at 3 all, a showing far from auspicious.

Coach West has molded into his aggregation a galaxy of stars, the majority of them veterans of one or more seasons. Captain Kelly, all-conference half, and Welch, quarter, were injured in the Buena Vista game and their presence in the lineup against the Bison is uncertain. Starbeck, all-conference center in 1924, has been shifted into the backfield this year. If Kelly should start the game, however, it is thought Starbeck would regain his post at center, against Captain "Wad" Thompson, Bison pivot. This should decide the picking of the all-conference center of '25, since Starbeck is the only real challenger of Thompson's right to that honor. Ekern, Rabbit tackle, has blocked a punt in every game thus far this season, and will certainly bear watching in the Bison tussle. Eggers has the end position to look after, and does a pretty fair job of it. He is a demon at nabbing passes, and is credited with being the best end the Bunnies have had in years. Seely was all-conference guard in '24 and has been keeping up his pace of last year in an admirable manner. Parmeter, at full-

BISON ROUNDUP.

The Bison Roundup is a chance to corral the Bison spirit, to roundup the A. C. enthusiasts, to lasso the attention of the colleges of the country. While the Bison stampede tramples roughshod over South Dakota State on Dakota Field we should be branding the city, the state, and the entire section with the enthusiasm of the school. We have to make an impression that won't wear off.

Last Gay Cat Day was a flop, nobody denies that. We have to redeem ourselves. The writer saw, two years ago, a celebration that took in every student and drew in thousands of outsiders. This was Hobo Day at Brookings, a school no bigger than ours, a school no better than ours, but a school that can turn out a hundred and one per cent to celebrate. Every student was in costume, every student in the parade, every one a Brookings booster. Can't we equal that?

Of course we can—if we try. We'll show them—the ones who question and don't believe—that what the Bison sets out to do the Bison does, and does right. The Bison Roundup comes tomorrow! Ride 'em cowboy!

DON'T FORGET TO VOTE.

The annual election of class officers is being carried on in the Registrar's office today. As a good citizen votes, so does a good student. You are expected to vote.

Invariably the first person to set up a howl over the outcome of an election is the one who did not vote. If you don't vote today, don't come around in a few days or a few weeks and complain about the way things are being run. No one has any right to complain about the way a thing is being done if he did not do his share toward remedying the thing. You are expected to vote and vote intelligently. Forget politics of any kind for the day and vote for the one you think is best qualified for the office. If you do not vote intelligently you may as well not vote at all.

A good citizen is expected to vote, and as a good student show your loyalty by casting a vote today. If you had no right to vote you would complain, but you have a right to name who you wish to be your leader. Take advantage of what our forefathers fought for, the right to name their rulers. Remember, VOTE.

THE RALLY.

This evening at 7:00 P. M. the newly organized club of rooters are holding a rally, at which a bon fire will be the gala feature. This rally is the opening number of the Bison Roundup program, and upon the attendance depends the success or failure of the first Bison Roundup.

Fred Sorkness, leader of the rooter organization, has asked that each student bring a box to school today in order that the bonfire may be as big as possible. You are expected to bring one, and also you are expected to put yourself out a little to get one. Let's show some real spirit, a few hours before Homecoming Day, at least. Many old grads are coming back, and these same grads were here in days when they had real pep, and surely they must expect the school to have increased in spirit a little. Let's get out and show them that. Get in the parade tonight, and also tomorrow morning.

Costumes are to be the main feature of the Saturday parade. Dig up some old clothes somewhere, but even though you can't dig up some, be in the parade, if you have to go in there with a pants leg rolled up, get in the spirit, anyway.

The present students are the ones who can cause the ultimate success or failure of the Bison Roundup. The gala day in the spring was a failure, and it has been changed with the idea of putting it over with a bang. The rally is tonight and its up to you. Let's have a real rally, and a real Bison Roundup. Let's show the Fargo people that there are a few people that they perhaps did not know were around. Here's our chance to put the Bison on the map.

CADET HOPS.

The large and enthusiastic crowd of dancers that attended the first Cadet Hop of the season was a great encouragement to the men in charge. These hops, sponsored each year by the Scabard and Blade, national military fraternity, have become through the years, a campus tradition.

In the early days of fall they have been the finest method of introducing the students, of breaking the ice of reserve, of forming new friendships and laying the basis of college spirit. Spirit comes only through knowledge of and friendship with the others in your school. The afternoon dances serve this end, if no other.

Whether or not these hops are to be a weekly feature throughout the entire school year is entirely dependnt on the manner in which they are supported. As long as Scabard and Blade incurs no loss and is able to attract a good sized attendance each week, that long will the hops continue.

No dance price could be fairer, the nominal charge of twenty-five cents is to met expenses only. The military group has no money-making purpose in sponsoring them, but is only carrying out a campus tradition of years. With the students' support these dances will be financially sound and self-supporting. As long as that is true, they will continue. It's all up to you.

International Live Stock Exposition to Be Best Ever

THREE HUNDRED THOUSAND PEOPLE EXPECTED TO ATTEND 1925 SHOW.

The annual roundup of the forces and products of agriculture of the North American continent will be staged at Chicago from Nov. 28 to Dec. 5, when the International Live Stock exposition celebrates its 26th anniversary. According to Secretary-Manager B. H. Heide, the show this year will surpass any of its illustrious predecessors. Over 10,000 blue blooded cattle, sheep, swine and horses and more than 5,000 samples of choice grains, small seeds and hay are expected to compete for the $100,000 offered in prizes.

The National Boys' and Girls' club congress will be held as usual in connection with the exposition. Eleven hundred champion juniors from 45 states will attend and take part in many varied contests for national titles and supreme honors of the year in club work.

Organizations to Meet

A brilliant entertainment featuring a spectacular horse show program will occupy the arena each night and every hour of the day will be packed with a wide range of educational and social events. Over 30 national agricultural organizations will hold their annual meetings during the exposition, at which the leading figures in the basic industry will be present and take part.

Recently discovered improved varieties of crops will be gathered together from the different agricultural experiment stations in a special exhibit and displayed for the first time to the general public. The U. S. department of agriculture and the state agricultural colleges will stage educational exhibits of interest to everyone. Auctions of live stock, sight seeing trips around the metropolis, judging contests and many other interesting events will vie for the visitors' limited time. Everyone, old and young, urban or rural dweller, will be benefited by a trip to Chicago and the world's greatest agricultural show the first week in December. Reduced fares to the exposition will be in effect on all railroads and it is estimated that 300,000 people will attend.

CONFERENCE BITS

Saturday's Homecoming game with South Dakota State will be the crucial test for the Bison.

The Bison will be able to make a stronger showing with Augustine off the injured list. The big half has been missed in the Bison play.

When the whistle blows for Saturday's game, one of its outstanding features will be the play of Captain Thompson, Bison pivot man and Starbeck, who is center for the Bunnies.

ALUMNI TO LAUNCH HUGE DRIVE

PLANS EXPLAINED AT ALUMNI BANQUET IN ARMORY TOMORROW

PLAN CONCEIVED BY N. D. GORMAN DURING PRESIDENCY OF ASSOCIATION.

PLEDGES ON HAND AMPLE FOR WORK

CORRESPONDENCE COURSES WILL BE CONDUCTED FOR NORTH DAKOTA FARMERS.

With pledges on hand more than sufficient to guarantee the fulfillment of a two year program of service to the college and its former students, the A. C. Alumni and Former Students association today is preparing to launch a drive for a greater association.

Complete details of a plan, which has as its goal a powerful organization with every alumnus and former student a life member, will be unfolded at the alumni banquet and business meeting on Homecoming day, Oct. 17. Under the direction of a field secretary who entered upon his duties Oct. 1, an intensive campaign has been started which will have as its ultimate goal a fund sufficient to guarantee the perpetual existence of the association, the publication of a magazine devoted solely to the interests of A. C. alumni and former students and the creation of a $10,000 student loan fund for worthy students at the college.

To Form State Units

Other plans soon to be put into operation include the completion of a list of all alumni and former students of the college, the formation of county and district units throughout the state through which the people may be informed of the purposes, aims and results of the North Dakota State college, a speaking campaign by the secretary and leaders of the various alumni units, co-operation with all college forces to inform the people of the state concerning work at the institution and assisting alumni in securing employment in their respective lines of work.

Under the arrangement for a permanent funding of the Alumni association one-half of the total amount collected is to be set aside as a permanent fund to be loaned to deserving students the income of which can be used for current expenses by the association. The remaining one-half of the fund will accrue for current expenses to be used after the expiration of two years when the present pledged fund will become exhausted.

Gorman Conceived Plan

The greater A. C. Alumni association had its origin during the presidency of N. D. Gorman, acting state county agent leader for North Dakota. Mr. Gorman realized the potential possibilities in a well organized and properly directed alumni body as a powerful factor in boosting the college and selling it to the people of the state. With the ardent co-operation of Dr. J. L. Coulter, president of the college, and Prof. Edward H. Jones, present president of the Alumni association, steps were taken to put the plan into action.

Confident that a loyal response would be the answer to their proposal, A. H. Wipe, an A. C. alumnus, was put in charge of organization work last May. A minimum of $5,000 for a two year program was set as the goal to be reached by Oct. 1. Through the energetic efforts of Mr. Wipe the amount was oversubscribed before the time limit, the response from alumni and former students throughout the state being far greater than was anticipated.

Thordarson Secretary

T. W. Thordarson, a member of the graduating class of 1916, is the new secretary of the organization's executive committee. Mr. Thordarson is a veteran of the World War, served with the A. E. F. in France and was a commissioned officer for 18 months.

For two years after his discharge from the service he held the position of advertising manager with the St. Paul branch of Montgomery, Ward & Co. He spent a year with the N. P. railway promoting a colonization program in the northwest, since which time he has been in charge of the North Dakota rehabilitation work for U. S. Veteran Bureau agricultural trainees.

A portion of Mr. Thordarson's time will be used in conducting the newly organized correspondence courses of the college. These courses embrace an educational program that will bring the North Dakota Agricultural college to the very doors of the farmers and their wives, to country businessmen and others interested in securing the helpful information disseminated through this medium.

Dr. Coulter in announcing these courses, said, "They will be made a part of the great movement at the present time looking forward to the building up of a better balanced system of diversified farming." Many of these courses will be given for regular college credit insofar as those who apply are college graduates. A small tuition fee will be required but expenditures for text books will be small, inasmuch as most of the studying will be done from government, state and college bulletins supplied free of charge.

FROSH LEAVE FOR PARK REGION GAME

SWEENEY MAY BE SHIFTED TO HALF; ENGH WILL HOLD WING POSITION.

Doc Catlin and 20 of his Frosh grid-ers left this morning for Fergus Falls, where they meet the Park Region Luther college team in the annual homecoming battle for the Fergus Falls team.

Eng May Be Shifted

Doc has pushed his charges hard during the week in an effort to overcome some of the weaknesses which showed themselves in the Wahpeton Science game last week. Sweeney, who was used in the latter part of the game at halfback last week, showed to good advantage and may start today's contest at a halfback berth. In case Sweeney starts, Marty Engh will be shifted to a wing position, which is his forte. George Hermes will start at one half, Al Hermes at full, Cy Peschel at quarter, with Howell and Calkins in reserve for the signal calling job.

Hooster or Early will be started at one end, with Engh at the other extremity, Sullivan and DeSautel at tackles, Blair and Smith at guards, with the pivot position held down by Fisher. McArthur, Elerding, Tronnes, Jones, Bryant, Narum and Johnson will be carried as reserves.

CLASS ELECTIONS ARE BEING HELD TODAY

POLLS IN REGISTRAR'S OFFICE OPEN FROM EIGHT TO FIVE O'CLOCK.

Annual election of officers to lead the four college classes for the year are being held in the registrar's office in the Administration building today from 8 to 5 o'clock.

The freshman class is naming a president, vice president, secretary and treasurer; the sophomores a president, vice president, secretary-treasurer, and one member to the board of publications. Three members nominated at the junior class election have been eliminated because of lack of necessary hours. The juniors are naming a president, vice president, secretary, treasurer, and two members to the board of publications. The seniors are naming a president, vice president, secretary, treasurer, and one member to the board of publications. No one was nominated at the senior class meeting, consequently no names will appear on the ballot for a member to the board of publications. Seniors may, however, vote for any member of the class for this position.

Two students have been nominated for the position of Commissioner of Public Speaking, to fill out the unexpired term of Thomas Rae, who failed to return to school this year.

Allen Keltner, Commissioner of Elections, is in charge of the elections.

East Seeks Teacher

"Only recently, a prominent eastern school sought the services of one of our professors who might have become the head of a department in some branch of agriculture. Colleges are beginning to realize the importance of research in such fields as agriculture, the profoundest and oldest of professions."

President Coulter urged that in the pursuit of a practical education, the social and self-expressive side of college life be not neglected.

"If you were only to gain the acquaintance of a large number of students and were to fail otherwise, you would benefit," said he. "Get into the school activities, learn the college songs and yells; be a good sport and you will gain by it," was his promise.

back, is a consistent plunger and a smashing defense man. His chief glory is smearing the offense of the opposition. Schweinfurt, a new full-back, is speedy in skirting the ends and his weight carries him through the line with equal ease. Carlisle, who will probably start at quarter, is a crafty pilot, shifty, and a clever open field runner.

Bison Ready

Coach Cortright has been putting his men through stiff practices during the week and will have every member of the team in uniform waiting for the starting gun. The Bison crew realizes that in the Jackrabbits they have one of the toughest teams in the conference to battle and that they must play a superb brand of football to beat so crafty a team.

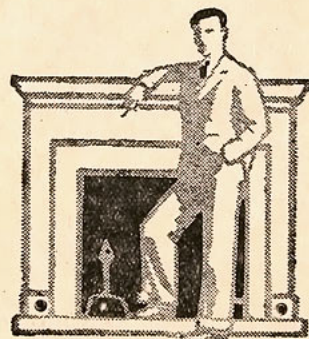

The probable starting lineups are as follows:

Bison	Pos.	Bunnies
Newgard	LE	Malmer
Wall	LT	Cornell
Baillie	LG	Murray
Thompson (c)	C	Reinecke
	C	Popowski
Keltner	RG	Seely
Marks	RT	Ekern
Tilton	RE	Eggers
Arnold	QB	Carlisle
Miller	LH	Starbeck
Augustine	RH	Schweinfurt
Rumpeltes	FB	Parmeter

Thompson's play to date shows him to be of a caliber for "all-conference" choice at the center job.

More than once did he smear the Morningside offense and it was only the Maroon's good fortune that kept one of their passes from sticking in the big center's hands.

The Maroons get their crack at the Bluejays tomorrow. Creighton should have her hands full for Saunderson's men showed they had a defense, and a few tacklers as well, in the Bison game. The Jays are away from home this week.

A FRESHMAN'S LAMENT.

My heart is filled
With forebodings.
I can eat,
But only when I
Force it down
With a trip hammer.
Only last night
I stared a
Prune in the Face for a
Half hour,
But to no avail.
I can sleep,
But my slumbers
Are distorted
With dreams
Filled with evil
Faces and hideous
Countenances.
Everything
Seems to haunt me.
Yesterday,
As the shadows of darkness
Were falling,
A best friend
Spoke to me
Cheerfully.
I gave a cry
Of fear, and
I ran
Home
With bated breath.

I went right to Bed, and hid my Head under the
Covers, where I
Spent another
Night in
Abject terror.
I don't even
Write to my Girl,
For what good
Are girls when
You are gone from
This world, and can't
Appreciate them.
It isn't the Handwriting on
The wall that I see.
The hand is there
All right,

But in it is
A huge bludgeon
Which tradition calls
A paddle.
I am too young
To die.
I am afraid
Because
I am a Frosh,
And Saturday is Gaycat Day.
My heart is filled
With forbodings.
Everett Wallum.
