Thirty-five girls were pledged to the five social sororities of the campus at pledging services held Sunday evening.

CLOSE OBSERVER KNOWS WHICH "WAY SHE WENT"

Curiosity was rife about the campus yesterday morning as to how "Mary," "Jane" or "Ethel" pledged Sunday night.

To the close observer who knew some of the older members of the sorority it was plainly evidenced as to which way "she" went.

Pledging and silence are over, the long, tedious days of rushing are over, and to see a sorority girl clutching tightly to the arm of a new neophyte is evidence of "the way she went."

BISON ROUNDUP PLAN NEARING COMPLETION

THORDARSON EXPECTS ATTENDANCE TO BE DOUBLED OVER LAST YEAR.

Next Saturday the college will celebrate its first "Bison Roundup." Saturday has been set aside as the annual homecoming for the graduates and former students of the college. In conjunction with the homecoming program the carnival day for the students will be held, this having been changed by the Student Commission from the spring term to Homecoming Day of each year.

May Double 1924 Attendance.

According to T. W. Thordarson, general secretary of the Alumni Association, about twice as many are expected to attend the jubilee this year as attended last year.

The program has not been fully completed, but present plans are to hold a convocation at 10:00 A. M. in the armory, at which time every student organization will put on a short entertainment. The grand parade will start from the campus at 12:30 and all students will appear in "crazy costumes", augmented by a number of floats from various organizations, for which prizes will be offered by the alumni association and the Fargo Booster Club.

Rabbits-Bison Play.

The annual grid battle between the South Dakota State College and the Bison will take place on Dacotah Field at 2:30. Between halves, the Cheerleaders' Club, a new organization on the campus, will have charge of a number of stunts to entertain the crowd during the intermission.

From 5:00 to 6:00 P. M. the alumni of the various fraternities and sororities will meet with their groups at the various chapter houses. The alumni (Continued on page 4)

COLLEGE ROOTERS CLUB IS ORGANIZED TUESDAY EVENING

NEW ORGANIZATION TO CONCENTRATE CHEERING AT ATHLETIC EVENTS

SORKNESS NAMED TO LEAD ORGANIZATION

MEMBERS OF GOLD STAR BAND AUTOMATICALLY BECOME MEMBERS OF CLUB.

A rooters club, similar to organizations found in the larger colleges and universities of the country, is the latest organization to make its appearance on the campus. The new club had its inception last Tuesday evening, when twenty-four students of the college got together and organized what they believed to be a need on this campus.

To Be Uniformed

Fred Sorkness of Fargo was chosen president, and Clyde Challey of Lisbon, secretary of the club. The club proposes to have a special section at every athletic event and to concentrate the cheering, allowing the other students to fall in. The new organization will outfit its members in white pants and white shirts with a yellow and green sash, and the members will all wear a skull cap of yellow and green.

Cheer leaders for the new organization were chosen and Fred Sorkness, Clyde Challey, Art Sailer and Jimmy Stewart were named to act in this capacity. The organization will be at all trains on which athletic teams are leaving and will meet them upon their return.

To Have 30 Members

The club proposes to keep about 30 members at all times, and new members will be added to take the place of those who leave. Members of the Gold Star band automatically become members of the club, and will be eligible to participate in all social functions which the club plans on staging from time to time.

Meetings of the club will be held once every week, consisting of a business meeting and rehearsal. The first public appearance of the club will be made Homecoming day at the football game between South Dakota State and the Bison, at which time all alumni of the institution can see what the new (Continued on page 3)

THETA CHI ALL-FRATERNITY PARTY TO BE HELD FRIDAY

Phi Chapter of Theta Chi will give their all-fraternity party in the armory, Friday evening from 8:30 to 11:30. The dance will mark the first to be given since the new addition to the armory has been completed. Bagrud's seven-piece Royal Orchestra will furnish the music.

Fred Byerly is the head of the committee on arrangements, assisted by Wilfield Hurt, who will be in charge of decorations and entertainment. Wilfield Hurt and Jeanette Euren will give an exhibition Charleston dance during the course of the evening. (Continued on page 3)

BISON ROUNDUP NEWS BROADCAST BY WPAK

Wireless Station WPAK broadcast through the ether, 7:30, Oct. 9, college songs, yells, and music by the North Dakota Gold Star Band.

Other features of the Radio program were short talks by Coach I. J. Cortright, Captain Thompson and Cy Arnold of the team, telling of the anticipated football battle between the Bison and South Dakota State to be held on Bison Roundup and Homecoming Day, October 17.

FIFTY COUPLE DANCE AT ALPHA KAPPA PHI PARTY

Alpha Kappa Phi fraternity entertained about 50 couples at a dancing party at the Broadway hall Saturday evening.

The party included rushees, active and alumnae members, and their ladies. Music was furnished by the Collegians. Prof. and Mrs. Al Severson and Mr. and Mrs. George Mayou were chaperones.

James Dusbabek and Earl Olson were the committee in charge of arrangements for the party.

LYCEUM SERIES TO OPEN NOVEMBER 16

JOHN DRINKWATER, ENGLISH DRAMATIST, SCHEDULED FOR OPENING.

The Fifteenth Annual Lyceum Series of attractions which will be presented in the Armory during the season of 1925-26, promises to be one of the finest ever offered to the student body and the general public. From present indications every number on the course will be greeted with capacity houses.

Drinkwater Scheduled.

John Drinkwater, England's brilliant dramatist, poet and essayist, will open the course on Monday evening, November 16. As the author of three notable plays "Abraham Lincoln," "Robert E. Lee" and "Mary Stuart" as well as "The Outline of Literature" he is recognized as the leader of the younger generation of English writers. Mr. Drinkwater is not only an author of note, but also a superb speaker, one who always holds his audience spellbound by the magnetism of his voice and his striking personality.

On Tuesday evening, December 8, the Colonial Quartet, a de Lux organization of genuine artists will give a concert, featuring the harp, cello, violin, organ and piano. The five young ladies who compose the company, daintily gowned and bewigged in the mode and fashion of that period mirror the grace and charm of a romantic by-gone time.

Eugene Laurant, "The Man of Many Mysteries" whom the Chicago Tribune recently classed as a magician of the first water, will present an elaborate and lavish entertainment of maic, mystery, impersonations and music on Thursday evening, January 28. (Continued on page 3)

CORTRIGHT'S CLAN VICTORS IN SECOND CONFERENCE BATTLE

MILLER RUNS BACK PUNT 38 YARDS IN OPENING QUARTER FOR FIRST BISON COUNTER.

MAROONS SCORE ON BISON MISPLAY

THOMPSON, WALL, RUMPELTES AND MILLER ARE BRIGHT SPOTS IN BISON MACHINE.

By Dick Hackenberg

Since the time when "The Covered Wagon" roamed the plains "North of 36" buffalo stampedes have been a minus quantity. But last Saturday 2,000 thrilled football fans sat spellbound while Coach Cortright's herd of eleven Bison rampaged down the field in the third quarter, placed a big Bison back, Ben Rumpeltes, on the scoring end of a touchdown that broke a 7 to 7 tie, and beat Morningside College 14 to 7. The margin was a close one, but it was victory nevertheless, and it proved what the Bison can do when the breaks of the game are against them.

Miller Scores.

It was in the opening period that Claude Miller, Cortright's dashing half, picked a Maroon punt out of the cool October air and sauntered 38 yards for a touchdown. His feat was unchallenged throughout the remainder of the half, and the Aggies retired at the midway mark with a 7 to 0 margin to work on.

The Maroon eleven kicked off at the start of the third quarter and the Morningside kicker sent the ball soaring to Big Ben Rumpeltes. The Methodist team followed the ball with a vengeance and rapidly bore down on the Bison fullback. It was a critical time and demanded quick decision. If the ball rolled over the goal it meant 20 yards for the Bison. If he caught the kickoff it meant less than ten, for the Sioux City gridders had sifted through the Bison interference. Ben elected to let the ball roll, and roll it did—to within a yard of the line! Knudson, speedy Methodist halfback, fell flat on the ball and gave it to the Maroon invaders with four downs to make one yard and tie the score! For one down the Yellow and Green rallied and held their determined foe to the one-yard line. But there was no stopping Williams, versatile Maroon quarter, and he followed his pivot partner, Bastian, through the Bison (Continued on Page Four)

HOMECOMING.

Next Saturday the students will hold what is now expected to be the hugest celebration of homecoming in the history of the institution. To what degree of success this will be true remains with each individual student, not with one or two organizations, or a dozen or so students, but to every student who is registered at this college

In the spring term of every year one day was set aside for a carnival day, known as "Gay Cat Day." This year the Student Commission has changed the date of celebration to Homecoming Day and have termed the joint celebration "Bison Roundup." This is the first Bison Roundup and it is a chance for every student to get in on something new and contribute something worthwhile to a cause which is for the good of the college.

Each organization is expected to enter a float in the parade, and to put on a short entertainment at the convocation. If each organization and each individual will give full co-operation to the committee in charge, the day should be one long to be remembered by the thousands of old grads who are expected in for the big day.

THERE'S MORE TO COME

To those girls who were fortunate in having been pledged to the campus sororities, the Spectrum extends its best wishes and heartiest congratulations. To you has come a great honor; upon your shoulders has fallen a great responsibility.

Through the next four years it should be your increasing purpose to build your sorority, to make it a power, a power for the good of its members and the advancement of the school.

No organization is any better than its members; each will be just what its members make it, and no more. This is your chance to build, and learn to build with others for the common good.

Try not to overlook the fact, in the elation over your pledging, that not all of the fine girls on the campus are members of your sorority or perhaps of any sorority. They are all coeds, all A. C. students; the school comes first.

But now, for the moment at least, the world is yours. Have a lot of fun. Enjoy the beginnings of the friendships and associations that are to last through four years of school life.

MORE CURIOUS PERSONS.

To show a proper spirit of curiosity is a prime duty of the student. Not the rude investigation of the accidental, but an intelligent study of the unknown is meant. It would be interesting in this connection to ascertain how many students in American colleges are acquainted with three remarkable government movements of recent date and yet of long enough duration to have acquired more than a transitory aspect. They are the fascist rule of Italy, the bolshevist control of Russia, and the late Labour government in England. Too many dismiss the problems that present themselves from these sources with snap judgment of praise or condemnation. Few are interested enough to inquire into the causes, the inter-relation, the aspects, and the results of the political and other forces set in play.

Asiatic countries have literature of standing antedating our own by centuries. In this country it is little known. Here the general mind is prone to not accept that which is not of our own particular culture. Asia has had agitation against accepting Occidental methods and thought. The message of Rabindranath Tagore at the opening convocation of Bombay University strikes a proper note.

"I feel sorely grieved when I find a considerable number of our young men of the present day ready to repudiate Western culture, rendering themselves intellectually untouchable in the civilized community," said Tagore's message. "They ought to know that only the mind that is crudely primitive suspiciously barricades itself against all contact of truth. Man's highest privilege is to be able to claim as his rightful inheritance all that is great and true, appearing in any part of his world, and at any period of his history. Our wealth of culture attains its perfection through its free access to foreign contributions, just as the material wealth of a country reaches its greatness, not merely from what it can produce within its own boundaries, but also from what it can import from the larger world outside."

The scientist, curious enough to perform the experiment to determine the result, is an agreeable figure. Quick is he to delve into the mysteries of new subjects that make appearance. For himself his researches are for knowledge. That his findings are so often misused is hardly to be charged against him. It is his attitude to his work that is the desired element and one that could be well followed in all problems that college and life offer. Wholesome curiosity is the stimulus for the scientific mode of investigation.—Hamline Oracle.

Sears-Roebuck Foundation to Conduct Essay Contest

STUDENTS IN ANIMAL HUSBANDRY COURSE ELIGIBLE FOR COMPETITION.

Students of animal husbandry in the College of Agriculture in the North Dakota Agricultural College and in the agricultural colleges west of the Mississippi are offered cash prizes by the Sears-Roebuck Agricultural Foundation, for the best essays on "The Most Valuable Live Stock Lesson I Ever Learned," according to an announcement by Samuel R. Guard, director of the Foundation. The first prize is $50; second, $25; third and fourth, $10 each; and fifth, $5. The winning essays will be published in the "Stock Show News," which is issued daily by the Foundation, during the American Royal Live Stock Show at Kansas City.

Limited to 300 Words.

The essays are to be confined to 300 words, and must bear a postmark of not later than November 1st. The judges will be, the general manager of the American Royal, the editor of the "Stock Show News," and the director of the Sears-Roebuck Agricultural Foundation. The object of the contest is to bring out, in an interesting way, the live stock lessons that are of the greatest practical value, and to discover just where the animal husbandry student gets his real live stock training. Ideas will count for more than literary style and appearance.

Professors of animal husbandry in the various colleges, are co-operating with the Foundation in bringing the contest to the attention of the students. Manuscripts should be addressed to Samuel R. Guard, Director, Sears-Roebuck Agricultural Foundation, Kansas City, Missouri.

BISON FROSH BEAT SCIENCE 20-7

YEARLINGS DISPLAY DAZZLING OFFENSE IN SEASON'S OPENER

GEORGE HERMES' 102-YARD RUN FROM KICKOFF IS FEATURE OF FROSH VICTORY.

SCIENCE THREATS IN LAST QUARTER

BUTE TEAM SCORES ITS LONE COUNTER AS RESULT OF A FUMBLE IN THIRD PERIOD.

By Eugene Fitzgerald.

A 102 yard run of a kick-off for a touchdown by George Hermes, Bison frosh half, featured the win of Doc Catlin's yearling gridders over the Wahpeton Science eleven here Friday, the Baby Bison emerging from the fray victorious with a 20 to 7 margin.

The yearlings opened the scoring in the first quarter after six minutes of play, when Basset punting from behind his own goal line, booted the ball into the waiting arms of George Hermes who ran the ball back for a touchdown from the Science 34-yard line. He missed a drop kick in the try for the extra point. The next score came in the following period as the result of a pass from G. Hermes to Hoster, which placed the oval on the five-yard line. G. Hermes made three at center and Peschel went over on a sneak. G. Hermes made the extra point with a drop kick.

On the next kick-off, Hermes dropped the ball and it rolled behind his own goal. He snatched the oval up and ran past the entire Wahpeton team for a touchdown. Al Hermes dropkicked for the extra point, which ended the scoring for the Bison.

Engh Fumbles.

Five minutes after the third quarter started, Engh made a try at the line and fumbled on the Bison 48-yard line. A. Nelson, picking up the ball and running for a touchdown. Kahl made the extra point with a place kick.

A forward passing attack late in the last quarter earned the first down for the Scientists. Three times the locals carried the ball within the 20-yard line and lost it twice on downs, the wonderful booting of Al Hermes putting the ball in mid-field. Early broke up the last rally of Bute's eleven by intercepting a forward pass and running it back 15 yards before being downed.

For the Frosh, George Hermes' work was outstanding. Al Hermes did a brilliant job of punting, getting off many high spirals which gave his ends ample time to reach the safety man, who was dropped in his tracks many times. Cy Peschel handled the team in faultless style and used each play to good advantage.

The line play of Mike Sullivan and Ralph Smith was good enough so that the Scientists tried but few plays through their side of the line. Jud Fisher's work at center on the offense was good, not a bad pass being chalked against him.

Bassett and Kahl were the mainstays of the Science back field. Kahl gained consistently through the line. He was ably assisted by A. Nelson and Fordyce, who opened large holes in the Bison forward line. Lineup and summary follows:

George Hermes demonstrated by his work he will make a good running mate for Claudie Miller next year.

His 102 yard run was nothing short of sensational, the fleet halfback out-running the opposition from the start.

Al Hermes did a nice job of booting, while Peschel showed that he will be a hard man to stop next year.

Smith, Sullivan, Blair and Fisher will give many of the varsity men a run for a line berth on next year's squad, as they demonstrated Friday.

North Dakota rolled up a bigger score against Jamestown than did the Bison, which should prove that they will be dangerous this year, even more so than last year.

But then North Dakota was playing their third game, while the Bison were opening their schedule, a fact which must be taken into consideration.

Of course, one can always figure West's crew dangerous no matter what their previous games have been.

State seems to have a hard time to win a game, Nebraska Wesleyan, heretofore considered a weak sister in the loop, tying them, 3-3.

South Dakota rolled up a nice score against Dakota Wesleyan, which proves that the Coyotes will figure as one of the strong loop teams.

Cortright uncovered a new star in Saturday's contest, in Adolph Wall. Wall broke through the line several times and spilled the runner for a loss.

One thing about Wall's playing is that he can be used anywhere on the line and do a good job of it.

Rumpeltes didn't wait for anyone to come to him after the Maroons scored and demonstrated beyond a doubt that he intends to end his football days up in a blaze of glory.

Miller, Arnold, Rumpeltes and Thompson will have to be given serious consideration for all conference berths if they keep up their present pace.

Kneeshaw had little chance to display his ability Saturday; he displayed enough at Creighton that the coaches at their conference will have to place him in the running for a tackle berth on their team.

Arnold was in none too good shape Saturday, but being as he is the only veteran pilot in the loop, and is plenty good even though bothered by injuries, they must think twice before placing a pilot ahead of him.

forward wall for a six-point tally. Williams drop-kicked for the extra point and tied the score at 7-all.

Bison Start Rampage.

This unlucky setback did anything but dishearten the Cortright clan. The Bison machine immediately launched an offensive against the invading eleven that was impossible to stop. Miller and Rumpeltes circled the ends, bucked the line, and smashed off-tackle for consistent gains. Arnold, Miller, and Mach tossed passes to each other for a considerable amount of yardage. An exchange of punts now and then broke the march of the Aggies toward the Morningside goal, but Miller out-booted his adversary and finally the ball was placed in possession of the Bison herd on the three-yard line. It was only fitting and proper that Ben should be given the first chance at carrying the oval over the Maroon goal. And he certainly did take it over! The big Bison charged low, spilling Methodist tacklers all over the field in his mighty plunge over the last white line that meant victory for the N. D. A. C. crew by a 14 to 7 count, for Ben did things up brown by place-kicking the extra point.

Many Stars Shine.

Miller and Rumpeltes were the outstanding Bison of the afternoon. Miller's sensational runs have earned for him a reputation in the North Central Conference equal to Grange's fame in Big Ten circles. Rumpeltes' plunging was always good for a gain, his fighting efforts to place his team in the lead in the third quarter being one of the features of the game. Adolph Wall and Captain Thompson were the line stars. Wall was placed at tackle at the outset of the game but was shifted to end near the close. His ability to nail the Maroon backs was uncanny, and many of the losses chalked up to the Methodist backfield may be attributed to Wall. Thompson broke through the line several times on punts and nailed the Maroon safety in his tracks just as he caught the ball.

The Maroon bright lights were Williams and Means. Williams handled his team at quarter in a faultless manner, while Means, right end, was a constant worry to the Bison squad.
