ANNUAL COMMENCEMENT FRIDAY SEVEN LETTERS AWARDED BISON ATHLETES

FULLER ONLY FROSH ATHLETE TO RECEIVE '28 TRACK NUMERAL

BRIDGEFORD RECEIVES FOURTH
TRACK LETTER, TOTAL
IS NOW EIGHT

DEWEY TO KANSAS

NARUM AND WRIGHT LOST TO TENNIS TEAM THROUGH GRADUATION

With the awarding of letters to members of the track and tennis teams, athletic activities for the school year are practically at a close.

Four Get Tennis Letters

Trackmen to receive letters were Harry Bridgeford and Lester Day. Les Narum, Ed Wright and Dick and Ernie Stoudt, the tennis quartet that placed Bison colors in third place at the tennis meet in Sioux City, were recipients of letters as a reward for their work.

Ted Fuller was the lone freshman to receive a track numeral, as a consequence of his first place in the conference telegraphic meet for freshmen held recently. Fuller won the high hurdles in the remarkable time of 15:4, which is faster than the official conference record. Leier and Zeisler, who were eligible on first reports of the freshmen meet, were found to have not placed when corrections for the meet were completed. This leaves Fuller the only frosh track numeralist. Besides his track numeral Fuller has also won all the numerals it is possible for a freshman to acquire, having captured a football numeral last fall for his services as center on the gridiron squad, and a basketball numeral for having performed as forward and guard on the court quint during the past winter.

Three Get Last Letters

Narum, Wright and Bridgeford are gathering their last monograms as members of Bison athletic teams, the trio all being seniors. Bridgeford in acquiring his last letter brings his total to eight, the Larimore boy having won four in track and a like number in football. Bridgeford has been placed on several all-state grid teams and has also dabbled successfully in basketball and baseball. He holds the state collegiate pole vault record jointly with Noble Martin, the pair having done the record breaking in 1922. Bridgeford will have charge of athletics at the Detroit, Minn., high school next year.

Tennis was recognized for the first time as a conference sport this year. The Bison tennis team showing at the meet held in Sioux City was good, Narum and Wright being turned back in the semi-finals of the doubles by Des Moines. Coach Dewey will be forced to replace this pair for next year's meet.

The scheduled return match with the University of North Dakota tennis four has been cancelled because of bad weather. As the Grand Forks school has closed for the year it was found impossible to arrange a meeting at a later date.

Narum to City Finals

Les Narum, premier player of the Bison team, has advanced to the finals in the city tennis tournament, the meet being held up on account of bad weather.

Track prospects for the coming year are not exceptionally luminous. The addition of Fuller to the squad next year will give Dewey a high hurdler with record breaking powers. Ted ran the high sticks in 15 4-5 in the freshman meet and with a performance

CONGRATULATIONS!

In the "Student Opinion" column of this issue appears something which many students have wondered why the editor did not undertake long ago, namely that of protecting himself against the "Yellow Dog," who have as well "razzed" the student commission and other organizations on the campus.

The purpose of a college paper is not to correct the ignorant errors of a few know nothing cynics who are too "yellow" to have the courage of their own convictions. Not enough can be said in contempt of one who goes about in an underhanded fashion, criticizing in a demoralizing manner things which they know nothing about.

This school is not the only one which is subjected to such things, for daily papers throughout the state carried a story recently on the scandal sheet put out at our sister institution, the University of North Dakota.

The university authorities carried on an investigation for a few days and then turned it over to state authorities. At the present time the alumni of that institution have contributed $200 as a means of running down the publishers. We congratulate the university and all those who are taking part in running down these parasites.

Einar Leifson, author of the item in the "Student Opinion" column, has been a consistent contributor to this column and has at times been severely criticized for his opinion. At least he has enough backbone and the courage of his own convictions to sign his name to things which he believed in. The Spectrum takes this method of congratulating you, Mr. Leifson, and right or wrong, we admire you for being a man.

MORE CONGRATULATIONS

Within the next ten days, eighty-three students of this institution will go from its class rooms into the world to put into practice that which they have acquired while here.

May you, each and everyone of you be as big a success in your chosen work, or bigger than you have in college. You are to be congratulated for your stick-to-itiveness in acquiring an education, which has for many of you been a hard battle. We ask that you go out into the world and uphold the traditions of your alma mater and always feel welcome to pay it a visit.

Phi Omega Pi Hold Kitchen Shower for 2 Alumni Members

NOVEL STUNT IS CARRIED OUT IN GIVING PRESENTS TO YOUNG LADIES

The Phi Omega Pi sorority gave a kitchen shower Wednesday evening for two of their alumni members, Miss Viola Larson of Hendrum, Minn., who will become the bride of Oscar Jordheim of Fargo, and Miss Hilma Hoffman of Fargo, who will become the bride of Jack Kramer of New Albany, Ind. Miss Larson will be married on June 30 and Miss Hoffman late in August.

Colors Are Pink and White
The shower was given at the home of Miss Mary Klinsman, 1122 Ninth St. S. The shower was carried out in pink and white. Every gift was wrapped in white tissue paper with a pink ribbon.

To the strains of Lohengrin's wedding march, two girls entered the room each carrying a large white box. On each box were lighted candles forming an aisle to a flower arch. Under the arch were the bride and groom, two kewpie dolls.

Refreshments were served consisting of a four layer wedding cake, heart shaped sandwiches, heart shaped ice cream and candles, upon which were written the names of the two young women and their fiances.

All A Are Former Students
Both couples are former students at this institution, Mr. Kramer being a member of the Theta Chi fraternity and is now in charge of athletics at New Albany, Ind., high school. Mr. Jordheim is a member of the Alpha Kappa Phi fraternity and is connected with the city engineering department.

Student Opinion

To the Editor of the Spectrum:
Circulating about the campus has appeared, as far as I know, three editions of a publication entitled the "Yellow Dog." There are a certain class of people which most of us have little respect for. They are of the type who say a lot after, but never during a meeting, who are veritable independent lions in private but invariably side with the majority in public. I am tempted to classify the editors of the "Yellow Dog" with such people. Perhaps I am mistaken.

Can there be any other reason that a person does not express such opinions as those of the "Yellow Dog" openly than that of cowardice? It may be that intolerance of minority opinion is directly responsible for this condition. However this may be, it can only be remedied by open and fearless expression of minority opinion. Such secret expression of opinion fosters blackmail and slander. The college community should certainly not be a place to foster such methods.

May we in the future find all students with opinions to express with the courage to back them up?
EINAR LEIFSON.

To the Spectrum:
The question of military training in colleges was brought up in the Spectrum some time ago, and as it is always a topic of interest, especially to students, it is worthy of further discussion. I may say at starting, that I do not hold with the idea that appears to be current in some circles that students should not do any thinking on vital topics until after graduation.

Service in the military forces of this country in time of war has rightly been considered a patriotic duty of every citizen, with the exception that conscientious objectors are relieved from actual combat duty and members of certain occupations may be exempted. During the past history of this country, military force has been sometimes the only method whereby the safety of the people could be secured. With the passing of the Indian as a serious enemy, and the civilization of our neighbors, together with a different attitude on the part of the great nations of the world toward war, armament is no longer our only protection, nor even the chief means. In some cases a soft answer turneth away wrath, but in any case a policy of fair and square dealing together with a little cooperation will go further toward maintaining national peace than an entirely selfish policy backed up by the mailed fist.

In discussing any topic of this kind it is well to remember that government exists for the benefit of the citizen and not the contrary. With this in mind, the right of any citizen to disagree with any governmental policy is obvious. Physical force is at best a poor and makeshift method of settling disputes, national or otherwise, and it appears to me to be illogical and foolish to brand anyone unpatriotic who would attempt to substitute other methods.

If anyone objects to compulsory military training, as at present maintained in this school and others, that is not necessarily unpatriotic, but is entirely in keeping with the American tradition of only voluntary military forces in time of peace.
J. C. ELLICKSON.

It's the truth, men, the brims are wider, which is going to make that old straw look sort of "sheepish" mixing with the new bunch. On top of that—the crowns are slightly higher, so fellows, about all there's left to do is to come down for one of the new ones.

Original Poetry

THE INEVITABLE
Now 'hat time for parting is drawing near
I find I love you even more my dear
Than I can tell.
The time that we have spent together
I find has grown more dear and better
With each passing day.
Little words that carelessly, perhaps
were said,
Are now a treasure, constantly being fed
By rich imagenings.
Questions and answers which meant
so little then
Are my dearest treasures as now again
I turn them over and over.
The little promises you made me half
in jest
Are now preserved in my living breast
With zealous care.

By and by I fear that time will take its toll;
The cherished memories will to forgetfulness be sold
And you will die.
And each day I live with sorrow will I hear the knell
Softly echoing through my heart. It is the bell
Of a memory that is dead.
Going, going each and every day
When will they all be gone, I pray
And I'll be free?
Hush! What do I hear—an echo?
Ding, dong! It is in my heart I fear.
Good-bye, my dear.
