SENIORS TOP LIST

ARTHUR DEWING TOPS INDUS-TRIALS; WALDE LEADS HIGH SCHOOL

Marie Smith, a junior in science and literature, again tops the ten students for the winter term, according to averages released today by the registrar's office. Her average was 96.9. Violet Flamer was second with 94.2 for the term.

Averages for the winter term were excellent and a feature of the high ten appears in the fact that six of the select number were boys, the first time in many terms that the men had held the lion's share of the positions.

Women Beat Men

Arthur Dewing topped the industrial students with an average of 93.5, while Arthur Walde headed the students in the college model high school with term aggregate of 93.4, one-tenth of a point over his nearest competitor.

The women's average was again higher than men for the under graduates, the co-eds having 81.6 to 78.8 for the men of the school. The institutional average was 79.7 with an undergraduate mark standing at 79.3. Of the classes the seniors topped the list, the upper classmen maintaining a tradition that they lead the rest of the school. Their total was followed by the juniors, while the sophomores were forced to take the last place, the frosh coming in third.

Ags Best Students

By school the Ags had an edge on the rest, although they were closely followed by the home economics department. The pharmacy students, with their many scientific courses and laboratory subjects were in last place. The grades by schools were well bunched with a small margin separating the various departments.

The tabulations follow:
Student grades for the winter term 1925:

Rumpeltes Turns Golfer; Bars Playing on Campus

Ben Rumpeltes, campus commissioner, comes forth today with an announcement that all golfing on the college campus must cease.

Friends of Rumpeltes who have a little inside "dope" see a possible secondary explanation.

On his way to classes before vacation Ben met a fellow golfer on the college green.

The party of the second part was asked by Ben for a shot at the ball and gratefully gave it. "Where do you want me to put it?" says Ben. "By the library," was the answer.

Ben did his best and if you want to see where he put it take a look at one of the south windows of the library.

Possibly he wants to save someone else some money.

ALPHA ZETA HOLDS H. S. ESSAY CONTEST

EVERY HIGH SCHOOL STUDENT
IN STATE IS ELIGIBLE FOR PRIZE

Members of Alpha Zeta, honorary agricultural fraternity, are conducting an essay contest open to all high school students of the state, according to an announcement made today. The subject for the essay is "Should North Dakota businessmen as well as farmers have a college education in agriculture."

Prizes Are Offered

Prizes for the contest will be $15 for first place, $10 for second place and $5 for third place. Any high school student in the state is eligible and the fraternity urges that everyone try for the prizes.

Judges for the contest are President Coulter, Dean Walster, O. M. Fuller, Ralph Nafziger and one other judge yet to be named.

The closing date of the contest has not been set as yet but will be announced shortly through the Spectrum. Murville Peightal and Ted Thorfinson are in charge of the project and all essays are to be submitted to them at the college.

The local chapter decided on the question after considerable discussion and chose the subject and in an endeavor to ascertain the sentiments of the high school students of the state decided on the essay contest as the best way to secure an answer to their problem.

TENNIS COURTS ARE CROWDED ALL HOURS

Tennis is proving a popular game on the campus this spring with the two courts that are in shape being crowded at all hours of the day. For the most part the competitors being co-eds.

In the school ranks are found some of the best women players in the state, Susie Martin, state women's champion, being a senior in the college. She also holds the Fargo city singles and mixed doubles titles and the state doubles championship. Other tennis players of no little note in the school include Grace Bayliss and Ruth Talcott, with a horde of others nearly as good.

Lafayette college in Pennsylvania has added a course in radio to its curriculum.

The graduates of Yale university, if assembled, would constitute a city of 40,000.

CAMPUS BALL LOOP WILL TAKE PLACE OF VARSITY TEAM

LEAGUE NOT DEFINITELY SET-TLED; MAY BE FRATER-NITY AFFAIR

The North Dakota Agricultural college will not have a varsity baseball team this spring, according to an announcement made by Athletic Director Stan Borleske. In the place of the varsity a campus league will be organized and the definite form that this will take has not been decided upon.

Rhos Won Title

Last year two leagues were in operation with various organizations and a faculty team in the running. Theta Chi's nine took one loop, while the Alpha Gamma Rho's took the other and a playoff resulted in a campus title for the Rho's as the result of the pitching of Dick Cripe.

This year it is a possibility that the interfraternity council may take charge of the league and in that event two loops will be inaugurated with a playoff at the end of the regular schedule.

Should this plan not be adopted a campus league similar to that of last year will get under way and a playoff will be held for campus title as was the case in 1924.

Track Under Way

No varsity games have been carded although it is possible that an all-star team will be picked from the campus loop and several of the neighboring colleges be engaged in diamond contests.

The same plan has been found a success at Concordia and is already in operation.

Four sports were thought to be too much for the college to sponsor in the spring; track, tennis and spring football all being under way.

Tennis and track stars will get their chance on May 22 and 23 when they compete in the conference track and field meet at Sioux City under auspices of Morningside college.

The tennis meet will also be staged in conjunction with the conference track contests and prospects are bright for a Bison triumph on the clay courts.

Notice!

Spring fever seems to have claimed the majority of the Spectrum staff. New members are sought for places on the paper and anyone desiring interesting work is asked to put his or her name in the drop box in main.

In addition to the training received the work will also bring the staff members in contact with various men and women on the campus whom they have not met but whom they will find very interesting. Should anyone desire any particular field they are asked to put their preference with the same paper as they turn their name in on. No previous experience is necessary.

All staff assignments will appear on the window in the Spectrum office and should any assignee be unable to get the story they are asked to immediately put a notice to that effect in the Spectrum box.

School Resumes Tuesday Following 2 Day Leave

School was resumed Tuesday following a two day vacation given the students over Good Friday and Easter Monday. Few cuts were reported at the start of classes yesterday, all of the students taking the leave in good spirit and returning to school on the day set.

This year may be a precedent, previous Easters being passed by without a holiday.

The railroads showed the effects of the vacation, trains arriving in Fargo Monday being crowded with students returning to school.

The next vacation that the students will have comes in June with the closing of the school year at one of the latest dates in the past several years.

GOLFING ON CAMPUS WILL BE SUSPENDED

DAMAGE TO COLLEGE GROUNDS
CAUSES EDICT OF COM-MISSIONER

Golfing on the college campus must be suspended immediately, according to an announcement made today by Ben Rumpeltes, commissioner of campus.

In calling the quitting of the campus as a golf ground Rumpeltes does not threaten any drastic action for those found playing the hit and walk game on the college greens, but leaves the students on their honor to take the necessary pride in their school grounds and observe the edict.

Game Was Popular

For the past two or three years one or two golfers of the school have played on a three and four hole course laid out by them in the south part of the campus. Being experts or at least proficient with their clubs they have not done any considerable damage.

This spring brought hordes onto the campus and the result was that when the many novices came out with clubs in a few days the turf was spotted with black marks where the beginners had torn the sod loose.

In view of this it was thought that the best move was to suspend play entirely in order that the south campus may again be a pride rather than a black eye to the school. Baseball and other athletic contests are also barred from anywhere except for the fields provided for the sports back of the armory.

SPRING GRIDDERS ARE LEARNING NEW TRICKS

Spring football is progressing excellently if one may judge from the looks of the charges of Cortright as they go through their antics daily on Dacotah field. A squad fluctuating from 40 to 60 is working out every day and are rapidly getting in shape for hard work.

Already the players have been given fundamentals and also some signal practice is being given. Passing and kicking are being stressed and a number of promising booters are found on the field.

Injuries have not been heavy, the majority being sprained or twisted ankles. Ben Gorder, lineman, is the latest to receive a bad ankle, suffering a bad sprain in work Monday.

Co-eds at Heidelberg university are demanding the right to pay for their own movies and parties. It is rumored that a new dormitory is being planned to care for the influx of masculine students.

SOUTHERN GARDEN IS SETTING OF 1926 FORMAL FRIDAY NITE

ARMORY WILL BE NEARLY RE-BUILT INSIDE FOR THE JUNIOR FORMAL

COLLEGIANS PLAY

TICKET SALE HAS BEEN EXCEL-LENT; A FEW MAY STILL BE HAD

A southern garden will be the setting for the junior promenade that will be given in the college armory on Friday night of this week, according to George B. Bairey, prom manager. Plans for the party are practically complete and with the exception of scattering tickets nearly all of the quota of 125 have been sold.

Music Highly Praised

Music for the party will be furnished by the S. S. McKinley Collegians, an orchestra that has recently completed a successful tour of the Orient with Oriental Steamship company. Three of the orchestra are members of the student body and according to the ship with whom the boys sailed their work was the best of any of the orchestras that have been taken on some 70 voyages with the S. S. McKinley.

The color scheme for the biggest social event of the year will be carried out in pink, green and white, the armory being nearly transformed with varied colored streamers and ferns, palms and pargolias. A flowing fountain will be one of the features of the decorations.

The feature of the evening will be a colonial dance given by John and Annette Remington, who will be attired in colonial costumes.

Build Tea Garden

A tea garden of a veritable forest of palms will form the setting of the refreshment table and at this place the refreshments will be served throughout the evening. The lights for the garden will consist of "spots" and large pom-pom lights of green and pink. The fountain will be a part of the garden.

The armory will be changed with pergolias and pillars that are to be part of the May festival and that are being completed so that they may also be used for the juniors for their promenade.

The party will open at 8:30 and a half hour of informal dancing will be in order. Promptly at 9 the grand march, the opening number of the program, will be held and will be led by the prom manager, George Bairey, who has chosen his sister, Aurelia, as his partner. Second in the line of march will be Miss Marie Smith, class president, with her escort.

Party Closes at One

The patrons and patronesses will also be in the line of march and will include President and Mrs. John Lee Coulter, Prof. and Mrs. A. E. Minard, Prof. and Mrs. H. L. Bolley, Prof. and Mrs. A. H. Parrott, Prof. and Mrs. W. F. Sudro and Mrs. Myrtle Gleason Cole. The formal program will be continued until 1 a. m.

The frappe tables will be presided over by a group of six of the younger girls in the college circles, but these have not been chosen as yet.

George Bairey is prom manager, and others who have helped to arrange the party are: Carl Baden as assistant prom manager; Earl Griffith, floor manager; Thomas Williams, finance; Alice Bender, patrons and patronesses; Edith Skurdall, refreshments; Thomas Canniff, decorations; Richard Hyland, music; and Edward Yocum, publicity.

Attendance is limited to 125 couples and there has been a ready sale of tickets for the event.

WHY NOT REPAIR THEM

With the coming of spring the campus booms with the usual spring sports. Tennis is the most obvious of the minor activities and the past ten days have seen the two tennis courts on the campus more than crowded. A need for more is pertinent.

Behind Ceres hall are a number of good courts if they were repaired. Considerable work was done on these courts but they have never been completed. If they were in shape a large number of students would be given an opportunity to learn the game as well as to get some wholesome activity. The base is there. Why not repair them?

A GOOD MOVE

An announcement is carried in today's Spectrum of an edict issued by the campus commissioner to the effect that all golfing on the campus must cease.

The move is an excellent one and with it should come other effort, to beautify the college grounds. Last year Bison students who made the trip to the North Central conference press meet visited three of the conference schools and could not help but remark that their own grounds had an easy margin on any that they saw.

No penalty is attached to the announcement. Students are left on their own honor to do everything that is possible to beautify the appearance of the college.

The observance of the law is not mandatory but rather a matter of school spirit. It should be observed by all.

Stevens Finds Many Kinds of Birds Already In Fields

SECRETARY OF NORTH DAKOTA ASSOCIATION TELLS OF VARIOUS VARIETIES MAKING EARLY SEASON APPEARANCE IN NORTH DAKOTA

By O. A. STEVENS

The weather remained favorable all last week in spite of our suggestion that a change might be expected. The signs of spring were, as a result, considerably ahead of the average. Fully opened flowers were noted on the elm trees April 6. This is the earliest record except March 28, 1910, although in three other years since that it has been April 10 or 11. The fifteen year average is April 20.

A trip last week added both ruby-crowned and golden-crowned kinglets to the list of arrivals. A kingfisher was seen over the river. Song sparrows were fairly common but are not yet here in full numbers. Vesper sparrows, one of the next to be looked for, were not seen. The brush piles along the river bank were watched closely for fox sparrows which should be here. None were definitely identified.

Vesper Sparrows Seen

Vesper sparrows were reported from Jamestown March 31 and Wahpeton April 2; fox sparrows at Argusville March 30; song sparrows at Wahpeton April 2, Argusville March 28, Flaxton April 3. Golden-crowned kinglets were reported also from Wahpeton March 29, Argusville March 30 and Grand Forks April 2. Brown creepers evidently are traveling too. The writer noted one first on April 1 and they have been observed at Wahpeton March 29 and Jamestown on March 31. Still other early reports of mourning doves have been received from Jamestown and Grand Forks, but they are not at all common at the present date (April 8).

Chestnut-collared longspurs were reported from Jamestown March 29, Arnegard March 30, Carrington April 3. These birds which are so characteristic of the western plains seem less common in the Red River Valley, although they are found also in western Minnesota. Sometimes they wander as far east as the Atlantic coast. Unlike the Lapland longspur which seeks the open Arctic regions for its nesting, the chestnut-collared is at home on the prairies from Kansas to southern Canada. Over most of North Dakota it is a familiar bird of the roadside, easily distinguished from the other sparrows by the conspicuous black breast of the male.

Nebraska Sends Dates

A correspondent from Lincoln, Neb., sends the following dates at which some of our early arrivals reached his locality this year: Mallard, Feb. 20; bluebird, Feb. 20; sparrowhawk, Feb. 28; grackle, March 16; killdeer, March 15; redwing blackbird, March 5.

Some others which we shall expect soon he reports as follows: Phoebe, March 7; chipping sparrow, March 29; martin, March 27. His list of about 85 species seen since Jan. 1 contains so many birds which are regular or irregular winter residents in that region that it is a little hard to say whether many of the records represent regular migration or simply irregular wanderings.

Of our birds of this time of year, few are more characteristic than the song sparrow. They have always been recognized as notable songsters of the sparrow tribe. In the quieter parts of the city at least, they are frequent visitors to the hedges and bushes where we may hear in the spring their pleasant songs and characteristic call notes.

In appearance the bird is a rather ordinary streaked sparrow with much reddish brown on the breast and sides. There is a wedge shaped spot at each side of the throat and a large irregular spot in the middle below these.

Song sparrows are found all over North America and the higher parts of Mexico. In the east they nest in southern Canada, the northern states, and as far south in the mountains as North Carolina. In the west many slightly different forms occur which are more restricted in their distribution. We know that people of certain districts acquire peculiarities of dress or of speech. In a similar way the western song sparrows of different districts have slightly different appearances.

About twenty of these geographical races have been described, the desert ones being smallest and palest, the Alaska ones largest and darkest. Some authors consider the birds of the Turtle mountains in North Dakota to be recognizedly different from the common eastern form.

BISON PRACTICALLY COMPLETE

LAST OF COPY TO BE FINISHED THIS WEEK END--SCHLIPF

BOOK WILL CONSIST OF 11 SECTIONS MAKING 194 PAGES IN ALL

SATIRE IS GOOD

ADVERTISING IS IN HONOR ROLL FORM; FINANCES OF BOOK GOOD

The last of the copy of the 1926 Bison will go to the printer and engraver this week end, according to Stewart Schlipf, editor. 194 pages of pictures and stories will be ready for publication at that time. Every effort is being made to have the books ready for distribution by Gay Cat Day, May 25.

Has 11 Sections

The staff has been hurrying the work for the past week and very little copy is still unwritten. The first proofs from the engraver have also been received.

The actual makeup of the book is certain now. It will consist of 11 sections, each devoted to a particular branch of the college activities. They are the Introductory section, Administration, Classes, Athletics, Military, Activities, Bison Life, Organizations, Women, High School and Industrial and Satire.

Included in the introductory section are eight pages of scenic pictures of beauty spots of the campus. These are arranged with two pictures on each page. The administrative section includes a writeup of each school of the college and snapshots of the instructors.

The Bison Aces are featured in the class section along with individual pictures of the members of the graduating class and the under class officers. Every Bison team and sport receives attention in the sport section, together with cuts of individual players and the coaches.

Classify Activities

The military section has pictures of all the military instructors and the cadet officers. There is also attention devoted to the cadet companies, the rifle team and the company sponsors. Doc Putnam's Gold Star band is included in this section under the activities section are grouped the debaters, actors, journalists and special events of the year, such as Gay Cat Day and Homecoming.

Twelve full page panels of snapshots contributed by the various fraternities and sororities constitute the Bison life section, which will prove of special interest to all the readers. The formal pictures of these sororities and fraternities together with all other campus organizations are included in the organizations section.

Finances Are Good

All women's activities, such as sports, women's senate, Ceres hall, etc., find a place in the women's section. The high school and industrial courses have a 1 page section all to themselves. Here are found the individual pictures of all the high school and industrial graduating classes, as well as the many activities of these departments.

Finally there is a real satire section, with lots of pictures and cartoons, a worth while contribution to the fun of the campus.

The book will be bound in a stiff brown leather cover with a gold nameplate, thus presenting a very attractive appearance. Two pages at the end will be devoted to the honor roll of local merchants who by the contribution have made the publication of the 1926 Bison a possibility.

The sales have now reached something over 300. Byron Hanson, business manager, predicts the book will be a financial success.

IOWA WILL START NOVEL LAW CLINIC

HAWKEYE STUDENTS WILL DIAGNOSE PATIENTS AS MEDICS DO

Iowa City, Iowa, April 13.—A law clinic, patterned somewhat after the medical clinic, has been instituted in the college of law at the University of Iowa for the benefit of practicing attorneys and law students.

The scheme will be put into effect during the summer session, it was announced today. There will be two terms, the first lasting from June 18 to July 22 and the second from July 23 to August 26.

"Patients" Treated

In this clinic laws will undergo "treatment" just as patients undergo treatment in a medical clinic. Lawyers who wish an insight into practical law problems, can take it out on the dog here before attempting to handle cases for their clients, with, of course, vast benefit for the clients.

Problems of advanced practice, examination of abstracts of title, income and inheritance taxation, office practice, advanced Iowa practice, public utilities, insurance, partnership and municipal corporations will be discussed in as many different classes. The college's law library of 38,000 volumes will be at the service of the students.

Dean Henry Craig Jones has secured Attorney James F. Ryan of Davenport, Iowa, to lecture on income and inheritance taxation problems, and Attorney A. A. Zimmerman of Waterloo, Iowa, to lecture on examination of abstracts of title.

COLLEGE GIRLS GIVE UPSIDE DOWN AFFAIR

Last Saturday night, April 3, Miss Gladys Bockwaldt and Miss Ruth Wilder were hostesses to a group of thirteen girl friends at their rooms in Ceres hall.

Everything was done upside down, including the welcome, which consisted of a "Goodbye, I'm glad you had a good time, come again," and the farewell, "I'm so glad you came, won't you come right in and make yourself at home?"

Refreshments of apple pie a la mode and coffee were served on the floor in the hall, knives with the pie and forks with the coffee, while the combatants sat on cushions face to face on either side of the hall. Even the place cards were written backwards and the games played were begun at the wrong end.

In fact everything was backwards, except the guests, who proceeded to have an extraordinarily good time in spite of all.

ily in favor of the editorial in question.—The Editor.

To the Editor of the Spectrum: What is the purpose of the Student Opinion column? How many students will contribute their opinions on a matter for publication in this column if they know that their theories will be picked to pieces in editorial comment?

In the last issue of the Spectrum appeared an editorial denouncing the beliefs and theories of a student on the campus. Because those theories did not jibe with those of the editorial staff, the writer was invited to set sail for Russia. Is such a personal attack in accord with the avowed policy of the paper as expressed at the top of the front page: "Boost the Best; Question the Worst; Knock Nothing."

Like any other paper the Spectrum reserves the right to make any comment whatever on any opinion article. From what staff members can learn of student opinion the majority were heart-

HAVE YOU BOUGHT YOUR NEW ENSEMBLE?

Fashion favors the Ensemble for most occasions and one's wardrobe, to be complete, must have one.

First, it is a smart frock, either of plain or fancy material. Next, it is a fashionable coat which may be worn with any dress. Then, it is a most charming combination of coat and frock together in the form of an Ensemble suit.

A beautiful and most complete showing at Black's.
