CORTRIGHT WANTS 100 MEN PLANS WELL UNDER WAY FOR 1926 PROM

125 TICKETS PUT ON SALE FOR 1926 JUNIOR PROMENADE

LIMIT WILL BE SET ON ADMISSIONS TO PREVENT CROWDING

PRICED AT $3.00

GRAND MARCH WILL OPEN PARTY AS FIRST NUMBER ON PROGRAM

Decoration plans have not been announced by Tom Canniff, who is in charge of the beautification of the armory for the formal of the class of '26.

It has not been decided to announce the decorations or the features which are in charge of Marie Smith. A meeting of the Junior class will decide whether or not these will be announced or held secret until the night of the party.

Dick Hyland is in charge of the music for the party, while Carl Baden of Velva has been placed in charge of tickets as assistant manager.

Tickets for the affair may be secured from almost any Junior and from either Mr. Bairey or Mr. Baden. They are priced at $3.00 and only the limit, 125, will be put on sale.

Plans for the annual formal party of the Junior class that will be held in the armory the evening of April 17 are well under way. The party will open at 8:30 and a half hour of informal dancing will precede the main program which will open at 9.

After considerable deliberation Mr. George Bairey, prom manager, has thought it wise to have the grand march and formal reception as the first number on the program.

Favors for the party will be in the form of the programs which are some of the finest that ever have been distributed at a North Dakota Agricultural college party.

SPANISH WOMAN SPEAKS TO STUDENTS AT MEET

"It is for better harmony between nations that I come here," said Lenora Isabella O de Palencia in his address at the armory last Wednesday morning. "It is my wish that Spain and America may be even better friends than they have been in the past."

Tells of Customs
The senora spoke to us on Spanish legends and folklore. She told quaint old stories, which she did not expect us to believe, as they themselves did not believe them. These legends were illustrated with slides of picturesque Spanish views, to which the stories are attached. "Our legends are like delicate flowers," she said, "they must not be subjected to analysis."

Of the customs in Spain Senarade Palencia gave interesting bits. The young man in Spain who wishes to offer himself to his beloved must call on her family with two friends. He goes through 15 minutes of extreme agony of covert examination on the part of the family and departs, leaving his cane behind him. He returns early the following morning and, if he finds his cane in the street or against the door, knows he is rejected. If not, he is accepted and marries the girl he loves.

The speaker also showed slides of the different costumes worn in Spain. Senora de Palencia is a native of Spain, traveling under the auspices of the Institute of International Education of New York. She is known in England and the continent as a journalist, author and lecturer. She is also the president of the Women's Alliance of Spain.

Jug Has Unusual College Record

George Newgard

BISON STAR FORWARD HAS INVERTED THINGS

MADE VARSITY LETTER AND THEN FOLLOWED WITH FROSH NUMERAL

George "Jug" Newgard, Bison basketball star forward on the 1924 and 1925 quints, holds what is believed by many, one of the most unique records in college athletics, that of earning a varsity letter before receiving his freshman numeral.

Newgard entered school in the winter term of last year, before the North Central conference ruling in regard to freshman participation in varsity athletics went into effect, and at once earned a position on the Bison quint. The conference ruling, stating that a freshman must be in school a full year before being eligible for varsity participation, forced Jug to play football with the first freshman gridiron team in the history of the institution. He performed very creditably, playing one of the wing positions and was awarded a numeral for his services.

With the opening of the basketball season, Newgard was again eligible for varsity participation and reclaimed his forward berth on the Bison quint. Newgard, while not a brilliant scorer, was one of the most valuable floor men who participated in conference play in the court season just closed. Newgard has two seasons of basketball ahead of him which should be brilliant ones if his work the past two seasons is any indication of the class of basketball fans may expect from him. Newgard should also prove to be a valuable wing man on the gridiron team, judging from his play on the yearling eleven last fall.

Newgard performed for Mandan high before entering the Bison school and was picked as all-state forward on several mythical quints and was also given consideration on several gridiron selections, despite the fact that his team was not amongst the strongest elevens.

No K Kol!

Miss Grace Ross returned the early part of this week from Northfield, where she was a guest at the annual Carleton college promenade. While at Northfield she was the guest of Miss Grace Crowl, a former Fargo high school student who is now at the Minnesota school.

THETA CHIS GIVE FORMAL THIS EVE

RED AND WHITE DOME WILL FORM THE DECORATION SCHEME TONIGHT

Members of the Theta Chi fraternity will hold their annual formal party this evening in the college armory.

Since the founding of the group as a local, Alpha Mu, the chapter has made it a custom to hold the affair in the college armory.

Decorations will be carried out in fraternity colors—holly red and white. A large number of streamers have been prepared to make a complete dome of the play ground of Bison cagers. In all some 5,000 streamers will be hung by Phi chapter in preparation for their party.

REGISTRATION OVER 800 FOR NEW TERM

NEW RECORD AGAIN LIKELY FOR SPRING TERM AT COLLEGE—PARROTT

Registration at the college passed the 808 mark early this week and a new record for spring term attendance seems likely, according to A. H. Parrott, registrar.

Many reasons are given for the increase in third term enrollment, chief among them being the better financial conditions of the state. Others include the fact that the spring is earlier this year than it was last and the farmers of North Dakota will be able to plant their crops with less labor, being able to more evenly distribute the work.

Y. W. C. A. INSTALLS CABINET FOR 1925

The Y. W. C. A. held installation of officers in the "Y" building at 7 o'clock last Sunday morning. Leone Sando, the retiring president, took charge of the services and the following officers and committee chairmen were installed:

President—Alice Dahlen.
Vice President—Doris Stewart.
Secretary—Marion Sorlie.
Treasurer—Beatrice Sjoquist.
U. R. Representative—Althea Reed.
Meetings—Inez Hanson.
Church relations—Geraldine Ewald.
Social service—Ida Anderson.
Social—Eva Wilner.
Publicity—Madeline Parrott.
Finance—Alice Chandler.
Properties—Jennie Grant.
Ceres hall—Robena Wilder.
Missions—Helen Curran.
Music—Constance Melchoir.
Breakfast was served following the installation services.

Notice!

There will be a meeting of the Junior class on Tuesday of next week at 12:45 in the Little Country theater.

Important business will be on schedule, according to Miss Marie Smith, class president, who is calling the meeting.

Plans for the Junior Prom will be discussed.

He Leads Cagers For '26 Season

Harry Blakely

BLAKELY WILL HEAD 1926 BISON QUINTET

BIG "RED" NAMED BY MATES TO CAPTAIN HERD FOR NEXT YEAR

Harry "Red" Blakely was chosen to lead the 1926 Bison basketball quint at the banquet for the team members held last Saturday evening.

Blakely has played the center position on the Bison court teams for the past three seasons and has been one of the most dependable pivot men in the conference. While a clever ball handler, his scoring and defensive ability also rank him high as a court performer.

The new Bison leader has a peculiar knack of passing the ball behind his back in an effort to keep the ball from his opponents and this has oftentimes kept him from being tied up with the ball. Blakely ranked third on his team in conference scoring and was amongst the first ten in the entire conference in individual scoring. "Red" has been one of the main cogs in the Bison offense and has also played the back court a good share of the time where he made a creditable showing.

With as capable a leader as Blakely should prove to be, and with but two of the 1925 quint lost by graduation, prospects for a winning team in 1926 look exceedingly bright at this time. Greenfield and Bechtel are the only losses to the team, but with the wealth of material uncovered on the yearling quint, the 1926 quint should prove equally as strong as the past season's quint.

Those who received their letters for participation during the past season are: Captain Arnold, Captain-elect Blakely, Thompson, Bechtel, Greenfield, Newgard, Miller and Rumpeltes.

Stopped at Jamestown

Phil Boise, four-year football man and a graduate of the pharmacy department, left last week for Williston, where he will be employed by Joe Cutting as a first side kick in the northern man's drug store. Cutting coached at the A. C. three years ago and Phil played football under him. While on the way west he stopped at Jamestown for an indefinite stay.

NEW BISON MENTOR PLEASED WITH 42 MEN THAT REPORT

SPRING TRAINING OPENED WEDNESDAY AND WILL CONTINUE MONTH

HAS FINE RECORD

TWELVE LETTERMEN HOSTS OF OTHER PROSPECTS IN INITIAL WORKOUT

Ion J. Cortright, newly appointed head of athletics, reported for the spring training period at the college Wednesday and immediately sent his new charges through their first workout.

42 Turn Out

Forty-two men reported for the first practice and "Ion" asked that everyone bring another with him in order that the squad may reach the total of 100 that he seeks.

The new coach is more than pleased with his material and believes that some of the finest physical specimens in the country were on the field in the past few days of practice.

He has recently come from Notre Dame, where spring training is under way and he believes the condition of the Bison to be superior to that of the school of the four horsemen.

Has Great Record

In addition Cortright sees a great football future in North Dakota and especially in the North Dakota Agricultural college. He believes that agricultural colleges over the country are in line for a boom and he wants the Bison to be well up among the boomers.

Notre Dame, Ohio State, Michigan, Wisconsin, Creighton and other universities and colleges known for their athletic prowess are among the schools over which the football teams coached by I. J. Cortright, newly appointed football coach and athletic director at the college, has wins to his credit.

Captained M. A. C.

While Cortright was captain of the Michigan Aggie team in 1910 his team defeated Notre Dame. In 1915, when he was coaching South Dakota university his team lost to Notre Dame by a score of 6-0. Bpt in 1918 he secured a win over the Irish. Ohio State was defeated in 1912 by a Cortright-coached Michigan Aggie team. Michigan and Wisconsin fell victims to the Aggies in 1913.

In 1914 Cortright became coach at South Dakota U and that year his gridiron outfit played Nebraska, one of the strongest teams of the west, to a scoreless tie. During the next two years teams coached by Cortright defeated North Dakota U twice, Creighton twice, Montana once and Morningside and South Dakota State twice each.

The new Bison coach won eight letters while a student. He captained in his senior year both the basketball and football teams. His football playing experience was in four positions—end, quarterback, fullback and half. He played second base and shortstop on the baseball nine.

Cortright will report at Fargo next week to direct spring football practice. He will remain at the college during April, returning again next fall for his first year as director.

AN EXPLANATION

Some comment has been aroused by the failure of The Spectrum to appear on Tuesday of this week. The reason for the non-appearance is this—the spring term this year will be an unusually long one, running well into June.

The paper is running on a narrow margin and with the necessity of extra issues it has been found necessary to cut out the opening publication of the term.

Since putting the paper on a twice-a-week basis costs have gone up over 20 per cent of the original estimates for the semi-weekly and the reason for conservation of the resources of the paper is evident.

GOOD LUCK, ION!

By the time this appears the Bison gridders will have worked for three nights under their new grid coach. He came to the A. C. asking for 100 men to turn out for football. On the opening night 42 were present and the next night a steady increase in numbers was found.

Students will do well to get behind Mr. Cortright with every bit of the power and the enthusiasm that they have. Their new mentor comes here with an excellent record, one that can be found on the annals of any college coach.

At the same time he is a real man, a two-fisted fellow that is willing to get on the field and show the boys that he hasn't forgotten how to play the game. He is also up to the minute in football matters, having been a close student of Knute Rockne at Notre Dame. While in the east he officiated in several large games and has been a close follower of football since he left the Michigan Agricultural college with an enviable record as an athlete and student.

He sees a great future for agricultural colleges and thinks that the A. C. will some day have one of the finest teams in the northwest, not because of his coaching, he says, but because of the type of students that are enrolled here. All he wants is a wholehearted team backing.

Little enough, students; no coach could ask less and be on the job. The next time he calls a rally and wants to see you—come; he certainly deserves your backing from the lowliest frosh to the most dignified senior.

Good luck, Ion!

A CALL TO LEGS

Boys, let's have a track team this year! On the gridiron, in the basketball court, the A. C. is feared throughout the conference. When spring comes, however, everything slows down. We struggle along with spring football, baseball, tennis and track, but don't get anywhere. When basketball season closes we think that athletics are over for the year and go chasing co-eds to get rid of our spring fever. Why not concentrate on track and make it as big a sport as football and basketball? We have a fine, big field, cinder track, and the same coach who made the Bison the terror of the basketball courts. This year we shall have an interclass meet and a dual meet with the "U" besides the conference battle at Sioux City. These meets include both varsity and frosh. The progra minures work and fun for a large number of students.

What do I mean by a track team? A half dozen stars? No. I mean about twenty or thirty men who will come out, work, give competition to the good men and develop some latent talent. "A team is as good as its second team." There is no other sport which gives so great an opportunity to a beginner. One doesn't have to be a giant in size or strength to be a track man. Both Nurmi and Paddock are small. There is an event for every type of man. The fast, nervous man may be a sprinter, the slow, steady plodder a distance man; the boys with the long legs make the jumpers, while the huskies put the shot. It is a sport in which practice is the all-important factor. Form is the biggest attribute to a jumper, while only long training can develop the endurance of a distance runner. So come out; there is room for everyone. You may not make the team this year but in your junior and senior years events may tell a different tale. Let track give you a healthy body and conquer the old spring fever bug. Last, but not least, we must "beat the 'U'."

—LESTER E. DAY.

FOOTBALL VERSUS MARRIAGE

A new question is being discussed in football circles. It has to do with football and marriage.

The tendency of the country's football heroes to join the ranks of Benedicts, of late, it seems, is rapidly growing alarming.

The secret of Notre Dame's success, says a sport writer in The Minneapolis Journal, is due to the absence of women from the campus. "Red" Grange, the Illinois skyrocket and a plain speaking young man, expresses his averse opinion of the so-called fair sex and consequently his audience concludes that that is the reason for his success.

The opposite side of the question, however, has its supporters. Down in Rutgers college, Homer Hazel, a tackle, has proved that it is possible to make good kicks and rock the cradle at the same time. He, to be specific, has six cradles to rock.

The American Campus suggests that the question be settled in a post-season game between Illinois and Rutgers.

Student Opinion

A. C., March 23, 1925.

To the Editor of The Spectrum:

Dear Sir: It gives me great pleasure to see that The Spectrum has recognized my authority at last. It is indeed a pleasure to be designated so handsomely as a "great sage" and "solver of campus difficulties" by the illustrious paper, The Spectrum. You know, sir, that some mean souls said it was all sarcasm? Being, as I am, an admiring disciple of Ibsen, I agree with his statement that it is one and the same thing to be a sage and a fool. So you see that, whether I interpret your statement as sarcasm or not, it counts for just the same. I thank you!

I should like to add to my comment to The Spectrum of two weeks ago. You say in your editorial of March 17 that the students should not be disfranchised but rather given a right to vote. After wading through what I took to be subtle sarcasm, I gathered that the reason we had such a small vote in the recent election was not a fault of the students, because the student commission had never done anything of sufficient importance to deserve a vote. You also go on to intimate that the fault is not with the student commission. After having found all individuals concerned blameless you blame, not the voters, but what they are voting for, not the officers, but the office—the inanimate office.

Well, suppose you are right—it is the office that is to be blamed. Why don't you reduce your case farther and tell us who is to blame for this good-for-nothing office? Whoever the powers be who curb the students in this matter of self government, it does not seem to take very much effort. If the students really wanted something to say I do not see what could prevent them. But the majority of students do not really care for self government. Give them as little work to do as possible, and a chance to gratify their senses and they will be content. For why should students want anything to say when they count muscles more than brains, appearance more than the real, a nimble toe far greater than a nimble mind?

As the "great sage" allow me to tell you that the fault lies entirely with the students. The girls are more to blame than the boys. A man, whom I respect, I believe, more than any man I know, once said that arrogance is a sign of immaturity. That the girls are much more arrogant, more clanish than the boys cannot be denied. The girls of the sorority never put on all-college parties. How could you imagine that they would associate with the riff-raff? What sort of a dance would you have if the girls should make out the programs? I just pity the poor fellow who did not happen to be a faithful hero or a ball-room sheik.

Let us by all means keep up the appearance of voting, to uphold the good old American tradition of democracy of government, but let us not deceive ourselves that we care to vote.

Yours with pleasure,
EINAR LEIFSON.

APPROPRIATION CHANGES SEEN

MODEL HIGH SCHOOL FRESHMAN YEAR WILL BE ELIMINATED SOON

NEED FOR NEW GYMNASIUM SHOWN WITH INCREASE IN STUDENTS

FUNDS NOT AVAILABLE

ENROLLMENT GROWN OVER 100 PER CENT SINCE PRESENT SENIORS ENTERED

Discontinuance of the freshman high school instruction and rearrangement of schedules and departments are some of the changes necessitated in the curricula at the North Dakota Agricultural college because of the failure of the legislature to provide sufficient funds to carry on the work planned by college authorities and the budget board for the next biennium.

Armory Too Small

"The appropriations for heat, light, power, gas, water and repairs and general administration remain about the same as for the last two-year period," President Coulter explains. "While no extensions are provided the college is in a position to grow as during the past four years."

The appropriation for educational service was reduced about $10,000 under the appropriations made two years ago. In order to meet this cut the first move of the college officials was to eliminate the first year of the practice high school instruction, popularly known as the agricultural and mechanic arts high school. While the number of high school graduates taking college work has increased more than 150 per cent since the present seniors entered college, the number of students taking high school work has already been reduced and further reductions will be made in the freshman high school work in order to accommodate the increasing enrollment of college students.

Because of the rapid increase in enrollment and consequent need for a new gymnasium and armory and the failure of the legislature to provide relief, efforts are now being made to raise funds for an addition to the gymnasium. More room is needed for instructional facilities in physical education and more seating capacity is demanded for basketball games.

The college plans on providing the extra room by building an addition to the armory, the addition to be placed on either the north side or the west end.

Extension Money Cut

"Although the legislature made no appropriation for farmers' institute work for the next biennium, demand for such meetings indicates that people of the state will not be satisfied unless the work continues," Dr. Coulter declares. "Laws on the statute books require the farmers' institute board to conduct institute meetings. The board will therefore probably lay the matter before the emergency commission requesting funds to carry out the law."

"If the commission fails to set aside funds for this purpose voluntary subscriptions may be solicited in the various counties. This was done a few years ago when no other funds were available and the demand was so great that subscriptions were obtained to carry out the work until the next legislature met and made provision for carrying out the statute requirements."

The next important cut in the budget was in the extension division of the college. The budget provided by the state was reduced from $131,200 to $65,000, a cut of about 50 per cent. It is not expected that there will be any cut in the federal funds or the county funds. Considering all the resources of money to carry out extension work, a cut of 15 per cent has been made for the next biennium.

To meet this the college extension authorities have already made some curtailments amounting to about $16,000. Task of further adjusting and reorganizing the work is planned. Present indications are that no counties will discontinue county agent work. Two counties that have no agent at present are discussing ways and means of securing county extension agents. It is planned in these counties to raise the necessary money by popular subscription until the next legislature meets.

Farms To Be Cut

A slight increase in the general college appropriation allowed for a larger repair fund and the construction of a trunk sewer to the river. This would relieve the partially flooded condition of the campus in the spring.

The principal reduction in the experiment station appropriation fund was in the substations and demonstration farms which were cut from $40,000 to $15,000 and from $10,000 to $2,500 respectively.

With respect to these slashes Dr. Coulter says: "The government at Washington feels it is a waste of money to run a lot of small stations. It is more important to concentrate in a few. The substation at Dickinson will doubtless be continued since the soil and temperature are different there and it is desired to keep one main station in the western part of the state. The substation at Williston will probably have to be discontinued. The stations at Langdon, Hettinger, Edgeley and McLeod will likely be turned into branch farms for the purpose of increasing new varieties of stock and seed. The college did not originate the plan for substations and was not in a position to fight for their continuance.

"The demonstration farms will be gradually eliminated and the county agent and extension workers will take their place in spreading the gospel of better farming."

PRIZE OFFERED FOR BEST CLUB MEMBER

$25.00 WILL BE GIVEN TO CLUB MEMBER WITH BEST SHOWING

A trophy valued at $25 will be offered each year to the North Dakota farm boy who makes the best showing in boys' and girls' club work, according to an announcement made by Harry E. Rilling of the North Dakota Agricultural college, state boys' and girls' club leader.

The trophy is offered by the alumni members of the chapter of the Alpha Gamma Rho fraternity at the Agricultural college.

From each county in which club work is carried on the name of one boy will be submitted before Nov. 15, and the judging committee will then select the winner. Members of the judging committee will be the state boys' and girls' club leader, the president of the Alpha Gamma Rho fraternity, and an alumnus of that organization.

All contestants must be engaged in at least their second year of club work, and no member can win the trophy a second time. Points to be considered in selecting the winner, according to Mr. Rilling, will include:

"Quality of work based on inspection, records, letters and other information furnished.

"Attitude of member toward his work, club meetings and club organization.

"Progress made by member as a result of club work.

"Quality of original record kept by the member during at least the last year."

MCKINLEY COLLEGIANS RECEIVE HIGH PRAISE

Three members of the North Dakota Agricultural college are in receipt of high praise as the result of a recent voyage that they took on S. S. McKinley.

The fellows from the school that played in the orchestra under the name of "S. S. McKinley Collegians" are Earl Olsen, saxophone and manager; Hugh McMath, drums, and Jimmy Stamp, cornetist.

While on the tour they visited in Japan, China and the Philippines and returned to Fargo last Sunday.

The letter received by Dr. Putnam follows:

know that the North Dakota Agricultural College Orchestra of the S. S. President McKinley voyage 70 are in truth a credit to your college. The music was very good and was appreciated by the passengers, the Seattle Chamber of Commerce Commission to the Orient and the ship's crew. I believe this office can speak for the entire ship's compliment by saying that "the boys" are to be commended on rectitude of conduct, sobriety, neatness, ability and observance of the ship's rules.

I hope in the future that all orchestras that "sign the articles" will be of the same caliber as those from your college; if so, we need have no doubt that all will be entirely satisfied.

Sincerely yours,

J. S. KNOWLES,

Purser, S. S. "President McKinley."

STATE HAS NEW FRUIT VARIETIES

Plants from all corners of the earth may be seen in the horticultural greenhouse at the North Dakota Agricultural college, says Prof. A. F. Yeager, college horticulturalist. There are many varieties of plants, such as roses, grapes, almonds, plum and peach trees from all parts of America and foreign countries, each one having something especially interesting about it.

Has New Roses

New varieties are developed in the college greenhouses. These new varieties combine the good qualities of the imported plants and fruits with the most desirable characteristics of the North Dakota strains.

From the large, delicious Japanese plum and the smaller, hardier North Dakota native plums were developed new varieties which are large and yet hardy and pleasant to the taste. Some of the new plums measure more than two inches in diameter, Mr. Yeager reports. The Japanese plum formerly could not stand this climate but the crosses grow well under North Dakota conditions. Similar crossing and breeding have brought about new strains and varieties of grapes, apples and many other fruits. A California white wine grape is now being crossed with native strains of grapes in the greenhouse.

The plant which was the result of a cross between a yellow Persian rose and the French rose is in full bloom and of a beautiful peach color which is not often seen in a rose. The petals are very large. "The interesting thing about this plant," says Mr. Yeager, "is that the yellow Persian rose is very hardy in North Dakota so this cross may result in a fine new variety of rose for this section of the country."

HAVE YOU BOUGHT YOUR NEW ENSEMBLE?

Fashion favors the Ensemble for most occasions and one's wardrobe, to be complete, must have one.

First, it is a smart frock, either of plain or fancy material. Next, it is a fashionable coat which may be worn with any dress. Then, it is a most charming combination of coat and frock together in the form of an Ensemble suit.

A beautiful and most complete showing at Black's.
