DISTRICT MEET OPENS TODAY BISON STAFF ANNOUNCES ACE WINNERS

SEVEN GIRLS PLACE IN REPRESENTATIVE CHOICE OF STUDENTS

ANNUAL STAFF PLEASED WITH STUDENT INTEREST IN CONTEST

POLITICS ABSENT

BALLOTS IN CONTEST SHOW LITTLE EVIDENCE OF CAMPUS POLITICS

Twenty-four representative students were announced by the members of the Bison staff yesterday. Seventeen men and seven of the fairer sex are the winners. Athletes showed as favorites in the contest though in many cases they were led by the scholars and forensic students.

SOPHOMORE

JUNIOR

Cy Arnold, Harry Blakely, Byron Hanson, Llewlyn Howell, Ben Rumpeltes, Marie Smith, Edith Skurdall and Edward Yocum.

SENIORS

Philip Boise, Myrtle Euren, Theodore Greenfield, Aubrey Hook, Leslie Narum, Mary Ross, Carlton Rydstrom and Charles Wells.

Nominations were heaviest in the sophomore class with 60 being entered by the students and 41 by the faculty. In the junior class, where the places were the most closely contested, there were 43 nominated as aces.

Contrary to the first announcement the Bison staff took no part in the contest with the exception of the awarding of ites for places. A pleasing feature to the staff has been the fact that there was little or no "framing" in the contest. Only one faculty member confined his selections to his own department, while only two of some two hundred students voted for themselves.

The eight aces in each class find nearly every campus activity represented.

BISON FROSH DOWN FLICKER YEARLINGS

McPHERSON, CAPTAIN HANSON STAR IN A. C. "KID" VICTORY

Bison Frosh basketballers took their second win from the University of North Dakota yearlings at the university armory Tuesday afternoon, downing the upstaters, 21-18.

Nodaks Hold Lead

The Nodak yearlings held the lead for nearly the entire opening session until the visitors cut loose in the final minutes of the period to assume a 14-10 lead at half time. The Nodaks spurred at the opening of the period and knotted the count at 14 all. The Bison scored a field goal to assume the lead again and were never headed from this time on in.

McPherson and Captain Hanson were the most brilliant performers for the visitors, while the defensive play of Moore and Bjorklund was the best for the Nodak youngsters. Watkins, Nodak center, made history by scoring a basket in the fray.

Dick Holzer of Moorhaed officiated.

JUNGLE KITTIES END 1925 FLOOR SEASON

TIGER RELAY TEAM TAKES THIRD IN ILLINOIS RELAY CARNIVAL

By ALLAN M. HOSCHAR

Des Moines, Iowa, March 4.—Special. The Tigers closed the 1924-25 basketball season last week at Jamestown, N. D., losing to the Jamestown college cagers by the score of 31 to 20. Last night's game was the last one on the road trip which was taken last week into Minnesota and North Dakota. The Tigers played five games on the trip, winning only one, that against the University of North Dakota. Of the games played on this trip, those against N. D. A. C. were probably the best, the Tigers losing the first game by the same score that they lost here, and the second by the narrow margin of three points.

Won 6; Lost 10

The season's record of the Tigers shows six games won and ten lost. The Tigers lost four and won four games in the Iowa conference, splitting even with every team they met. In the North Central conference they won two and lost four games. The games lost were to the best teams in the conference, one game to Creighton and three games to the Bisons. The other two games were lost to St. Thomas and to Jamestown. The highest margin that the Tigers have been defeated this year was 12 points, and that game was won by Creighton. Incidentally the Tigers held Creighton to their lowest score of the season, 25 points. All the games the Tigers have played this year have been close, as they have scored 342 points to their opponents 343.

Wrestlers Lose

The Tiger wrestling team was defeated by the Cornell grapplers of Mt. Vernon there last Friday night by the score of 24 to 2. The Cornell men took four matches by falls and two by decision. Cawkins, in the 145 pound class, took the only match for the Tigers.

The Tiger two mile relay team took third in the two mile college relay, at the Illinois relays that were held at Urbana last night. The race was won by Wabash college in the fast time of 8:27 3-5.

With all due respect to the late Noah Webster, the "King of Dictionarians," we cannot take his definitions for an optimist and a pessimist as the best possible means of defining these two opposite types of people.

—BaB—

Our own definition of an optimist, or the plural of the species, is the University of North Dakota basketball team coming to Fargo to play the Bison with the idea of winning two games by overwhelming margins. Our term for a pessimist is the same team going back.

CRIBE NAMED HEAD OF STOCK CONTESTS

Preliminary arrangements for the annual student stock judging contest to be held March 14 were made at the meeting of the Saddle and Siroin club on Tuesday evening. Five classes of stock, horses, beef cattle, dairy cattle, sheep and swine will be judged in the contest which will begin at 8 a. m. and continue throughout the day.

Richard Cripe is chairman of the committee in charge of the affair. Other members of the committee are Galen Oederkirk and William Freeman. The following officers were elected at the meeting: Ray Harding, president; Alvin Oederkirk, vice president; George Landsworth, secretary; Raymond Douglas, treasurer, and Charles Fleming, historian.

Notice!

In a meeting of the Student Board of Control of Publications, held recently in the Bison-Spectrum offices, the following resolution was passed by a unanimous ballot.

"That it be the sense of the Board of Publications that the student activity fee be increased to $5.00 a term, $1.25 of this money to go to the Publication Board."

The above resolution is to be placed before the Student Commission for vote at a meeting of this body Thursday evening. If the Commission's recommendation is received on the resolution it will be placed before the student body for vote at the time of the student elections, March 13. The advantages of this increase will be explained, fully, in another issue of The Spectrum.

COLLEGE BUDGET TO BE DECIDED TODAY

HOUSE COMMITTEE WOULD MAKE SECOND CUT OF PROPOSED BUDGET

Appropriations for the agricultural college and for the state university will probably be settled in last minute contests today, the closing day of this session of the state legislature.

The house appropriations committee at a meeting on Wednesday evening recommended several material reductions in the agricultural college appropriations, having cut the state university budget at a meeting on Tuesday evening. The house will probably approve of the majority of these reductions, but the senate in turn are apt to return some of them again.

Cut Budget Report

The committee reduced the agricultural college appropriation to $535,000 as to $548,600 passed by the senate and $565,600 set forth in the budget report. The experiment station was reduced to $255,000 as against $266,900 passed by the senate and $278,200 recommended by the budget board. For the extension division the appropriation was reduced to $65,000 as against $80,000 passed by the senate and $129,061.98 recommended by the budget board.

The committee voted to eliminate $3,600 passed by the senate for the high school department and reduced the appropriation for the department of military science and physical education from $30,000 to $25,000 and for the School of Science and Literature from $140,000 to $135,000.

Publications Knifed

An appropriation of $2,500 for publications and general printing was eliminated as was one of $2,000 for divisional expenses.

The university appropriation reduction eliminates the college of liberal arts building set at a quarter of a million dollars and an armory improvement of $20,000. Several other reductions sliced $283,000 from the bill passed by the senate and left the house bill total at $956,255.

The effects of these reductions could not be made in time for this publication, but the Spectrum on Tuesday will carry a story concerning such in full detail.

BISON SALES REACH 250 MARK, NEED 150

YEAR BOOK PASSES FROM POSIBILITY CLASS TO REALISTIC BOOK

Subscriptions to the 1926 Bison are coming in fairly well but the required 400 copies have not yet been contracted for. At present about 250 copies have been sold. The advance sales campaign among the sororities closes Monday noon, March 9. The Kappa Delta sorority is leading the sales campaign with but a few votes and is followed closely by the Phi Omega Psi and the Sigma Thetas.

With only 150 copies to be sold by the fifteenth, the 1926 Bison no longer is a possibility. A number of students doubtless are intending to buy a book but as yet have not signified their intentions. The staff will continue to work on the book and are sending material to the engravers regularly.

Following the advance sale by the sororities, books may be sold by any student on the campus and as a reward for his effort will receive a copy of the Bison for selling 25 copies. Any student who is interested in such a proposition may see Byron Hanson at the Bison office. The salesmen will clean up the campus and any one who is so unfortunate as not to have bought a book will be approached frequently in an effort to bring the quota of books up to 500. Remember 400 by the fifteenth. Buy your Bison now!

EIGHT HIGH SCHOOL QUINTS TO COMPETE FOR SECTION TITLE

FARGO, WAHPETON LISTED AS FAVORITES TO TAKE HONORS

PLAY STARTS AT 2

TEAMS WILL ALSO HAVE CONSOLATION PLAY FOR LOSING FIVES

Eight high school basketball teams from the first North Dakota district start their annual bid for honors at the armory at 2 this afternoon. The winner of the district title will represent that region in the state tournament to be held at Valley City on March 20 and 21.

Waps Are Vets

Competition in the first district is more keen than in other years as Fargo and Wahpeton have strong teams, either of which stand an even chance of winning. Fargo defeated Wahpeton recently by a close margin which is an indication that the southern team can down the Midgets should the Wops draw the easier teams entered. Hope usually has a strong quint and have given the Fargoans the toughest tussle in the meet the past few years. Tower City and Casselton have impressive looking records, victories having been scored over many of their district rivals. Fairmount's record includes wins over teams in northeastern South Dakota. Milnor and Lisbon may make trouble for some of the teams which stand only an outside chance to win.

Wahpeton's big chance for district honors lies in the fact that they have a veteran team, every man on the quint having played at least three years. Tournament play is somewhat different than season play and the team that is able to stand the going the best in a tournament stands the best chance to cop. Wahpeton with a veteran team stands the best physical chance to win, while Fargo's clever offensive and defensive machine gives that team a chance.

Play begins at 2 this afternoon and 7:30 this evening with the semi-finals tomorrow morning at 10. The finals consolation play will begin at 7:30 tomorrow evening with the final game scheduled for 8:30.

As a member of the Bison Booster Association, and as an active alumnus, "Bill" is well known on the campus, and his continued interest in the "Y" is to be appreciated. Mr. Williams was active in "Y" work while on the campus, as a member of the Student Cabinet, a delegate to the Geneva convention from A. C., and as a member of the association quartet.

The other members of the Board of Trustees are Robert B. Reed, president; Dr. John Lee Coulter, Walter L. Stockwell, F. D. Angell and Professor I. W. Smith.

Flickers Again Bison Worry

Once again the local classic of the year is scheduled for the near future. On Monday and Tuesday of next week the Nodak cage performers will take the floor in the Bison Armory.

The Bison have already cinched the state title, but that is not all that they want. They will seek to take the entire series of four games from the upstate five, something that has never been done before.

On the front page is carried a definition of an optimist and a pessimist. The idea is a bright one but a suggestion might be made that an optimist is a person who expects to have an easy time with the "Normalites."

Since the first two games the Flickers have improved considerably, and there is no reason why they shouldn't with the room there was for it, with hopes to take a single game of the series.

In all it will be a fight from the word go; every student must back the team to the limit. They've gone through a hard year with an excellent record and will try to add the climax on Monday and Tuesday. Back the team, but of all things—BE A SPORT.

THEY'RE OUR GUESTS

Today and tomorrow it will be the good pleasure of Bison students to have as their guests the basketball players from eight towns in North Dakota. These lads will be competing in play for the first district title. If they win they will go to Valley City to the state tournament.

These players will be seeing the A. C. for the first time in many cases. It is the duty of every student to see that every single player and coach who comes here is given the best possible impression of the Bison school, her spirit and her classes. Fraternities can do a great deal by having the lads for meals at the various houses.

In all it is a great opportunity to spread the gospel of the Bison student—the story told in the Alma Mater song—The Yellow and the Green.

Students will do well to refrain from taking part in the rooting, the best attitude being a nonpartisan one.

Good luck high school players, we regret that there is but one first prize offered instead of eight. May the best team win the right for a chance at the state title.

WE NEED ACTION

"We are not put into this world to sit still and know; we are put into it to act."

This quotation from the address of Woodrow Wilson on his inauguration as president of Princeton university is one of the best texts for service that has ever been uttered, one of the best rules for life that could be made. While it concerned particularly the service of a university, its application is broader than that. It applies to all service; it applies to the everyday things of life as well as to the particular and greater things of life. It is a rule not merely for education but for conduct.

It implies that the man who is fitted to give service must give it. If he can serve and does not serve then he has failed in his duty. If he knows what should be done and does not do it or lead others to do it, then he is untrue to his responsibility. What good is knowledge if it is not used, and used, not for him who has it, but for mankind?

To "sit still and know" but not to do may be applied to one's own neighborhood. The man who knows that something is wrong, whose knowledge fits him to correct that wrong and yet who does nothing is derelict. The man whose knowledge might do great things, or might help only in small degree, yet who does not use that knowledge, might better have none for all his knowledge is wasted.

Ability, knowledge must not be selfish. Each man owes a duty to his community, his state and his country. The world needs a greater sense of public service, a wider use of all knowledge. Any good that anyone can do is needed. Knowledge used in service is of far greater value than knowledge used merely in selfish competition.—Robert A. Hamilton.

A.C. Home Ec. Grads Make Fine Wives; Don't Quit

GRADUATE OF SCHOOL HAS NEVER BEEN DIVORCED; STARTED IN '90

"It's the cooking! Good pancakes are powerful arguments against divorce." declared a mere man when informed that not a single divorce had resulted from the marriages of the graduates of the Home Economics course. The course was started in 1890 and many of the students in home making have since married. But not one of the nuptial knots has been untied.

Believed Record

In a day when there is one divorce to each eight marriages in the United States such a record as that made by the Home Economics graduates cannot but claim attention. But good cooking isn't the only answer assures Miss Alba Bales, head of the Home Economics course.

"Most people immediately say the good cooking our girls can undoubtedly do is the cause of their successful marriages," says Miss Bales, "but, while it is a great asset, cooking is something that might be learned after marriage."

"Our course does far more than teach a girl to cook. It prepares her for her married life and for her new role of household manager, so that when she does marry, she begins with a clear foresight of what it means and what she will have to do, and she faces her problem with a training and knowledge that may spell success."

Have Practical Training

"After the honeymoon and the excitement are over, there is always the practical future of home making stretching before the young bride," declares Miss Bales. "Our girls are not at a loss in that period; they know what to do and how to do it. They have been taught how to make a budget and spend the household money carefully and wisely; how to make the home attractive; how to care for children; how to be hygienic, and, of course, how to cook. In other words, they learn how to be efficient."

Besides the fact that the Home Economics girls are trained to become efficient wives and mothers, the range of subjects they study and the nature of their course brings them naturally to a thoughtful contemplation of the value of a good man and husband, according to Miss Bales, and they are more apt to choose suitable mates, with whom to begin the adventure of marriage.

This tendency, together with their competence in the home after marriage, shoos the divorce bugaboo away from their doors. It is the practical application of William James' advice, given in an address to Wellesley college 20 years ago: "Young ladies, the object of your education should be to enable you to know a good man."

Have Varied Courses

"The Home Economics department that has been established here for years is designed to train domestic science specialists," stated Miss Bales. "We now have a general course that answers a long felt demand. In this course, a girl may be registered and may major in any other school on the campus, and yet obtain all the good that our course can give her."

"She does not want to become a domestic science teacher, and therefore does not need the more specialized course; but she can get the practical training that will enable her to enter her home when she is married with confidence that she will not fail to be efficient and successful in her new environment."

BISON MEET NODAKS MONDAY

FLICKER CAGERS TO END 4 GAME SERIES HERE WITH DEWEY 5

TEAMS PLAY TWO CONTESTS MEETING MONDAY AND TUESDAY

NODAKS HAVE CHANCE

UPSTATERS HAVE IMPROVED SINCE BISON SERIES; NOW HAVE TWO WINS

By EUGENE FITZGERALD

Nodak and Bison cage quints open the second block of their four game series in the Bison Armory on Monday evening with the second contest scheduled for Tuesday evening. Both games will begin at 8 p. m.

Nodaks Are Optimistic

Reports from Grand Forks are of the opinion that the Nodaks stand a wonderful chance of copping one game. Nodak supporters point with pride to the fact that their team was able to come through with a last minute win over Morningside at Sioux City Monday night. They also claim that the team Houser has banded together was inexperienced at the start of the season and the training the youngsters have gained will stand them in good stead when they tackle the Bison in the final series. This reasoning seems to be logical in that the Nodaks are admittedly a better team at this time than they were at the start of the season when prospects looked rather dubious.

Wilde has developed wonderfully since the start of the season and was the only Nodak to score from the field in the final game at the university. Loughin has been a steady performer all year at a forward berth, but his injury in the Bison game makes his possibility of starting in the coming series more or less of a gamble. Edwards was the star of the Nodak squad on the recent southern trip and will bear watching in the coming series. Edwards carried his burden of the scoring in the Bison series at the northern school and is the best long shot artist of the northern squad.

Nodak Captain May Start

Miller and Arnold are a little better in their positions than Houser can boast of although Busdicker is a powerful defensive player and a dribbler of note, while Viegel is the most consistent scorer of the Houser crew. Captain Olson, a good defensive man, has been starting many of the recent contests, and may start one of the games in the series here.

Newgard, Greenfield and Thompson as a trio are better performers in the forward positions than any trio Houser has on his squad, although individually his leading performers will rank close to the Bison scorers. Should Greenfield hit the stride he maintained in the early season games the Flicker guards will find themselves responsible for a lot of points going through their net.

Blakely is a better performer at the pivot position than Boe, who handles the same place for the Nodaks. Boe outscored Blakely at the university, but "Red" was off color in his shooting, although his defensive work more than offset the numerous near counters he made. The fight between Blakely and Boe promises to rival in interest that staged between Blakely and Art Busdicker the past few years.

Bechtel, Rumpeltes and Bridgeford may see service in the series. McDonald and Jackson will do the officiating in both games and admittance will be the same as for all games; students in the west entrance and cash customers in the east door.

BISON-FLICKERS MEET IN DEBATE THURSDAY

OPEN FORUM SYSTEM WILL AGAIN BE USED BY RIVAL ARGUERS

Debating teams from the University of North Dakota and the North Dakota Agricultural college will participate in a dual debate on Thursday evening, March 12.

Use Open Forum

The question for debate is: Resolved that the constitution should be so amended as to give congress power to overrule by a two-thirds vote decisions of supreme court which declare acts of congress unconstitutional. The affirmative team, composed of Robert McEwen, Hjelti Thorfinnson, Fordyce Heilman, will compete at Grand Forks, while the other, Burton Anderson, Allen Mortenson and James Parkinson, will uphold the negative in the Little Country theater.

As in the West Virginia debate held a short time ago, the open forum style will again be in vogue.

Dates of additional debates have also been announced. Carleton comes here on March 16, and a girls' debate is being arranged for with like teams from Macalester and the University of North Dakota.

FRED BIRCH '06 TELLS OF MILLION DOLLAR BAND

On March 2nd, Fred Birch of Great Falls, Montana, visited the college on his return from Tampa, Florida, where he has been spending a few weeks of combined business and pleasure.

Fred is an engineer of '06 and is a part of the S. Birch & Sons organization with offices at Fargo and Great Falls. He reports having seen Harold Bachman and his Million Dollar Band at Tampa, where it has played throughout the entire winter season. This band is one of the survivors of the war and is largely a North Dakota organization. Harold Bachman is the leader and Myron Bachman his brother, is manager. Both are from the N. D. Agricultural College. It is one of very few successful professional concert bands in business. Three of the Bachman band are former Sousa musicians.

The Million Dollar Band is known throughout the south and is a favorite in Florida. It has played at Tampa and Palm Beach through the winter seasons since the war. Fred says that the Million Dollar Band is not only a successful musical organization, but it makes a success financially.

WREN MEETS FAVOR OF PACKED HOUSE

"The Wren," the three act comedy by Booth Tarkington, given by the Little Country theater players the evening of March 4, combining a clever play by the inimitable Tarkington and an able cast, scored the hit predicted for the production.

Dorothy Greene as Seebly and Myrtle Euren as Mrs. Frazee gave several musical periods that were very enjoyable, while Constance Melchoir as Mrs. Freehart, Walter Boerth as Cap'n Olds, and Aubrey Hook as Francis were bright spots in the play, who contributed clever characterizations.

Dean Minard Sees "Things"

Everything from blizzards to spring rains have made appearance in Fargo the last month, and now Professor A. E. Minard reports that he saw that perky little harbinger of spring, the robin, lingering about President Coulter's residence Thursday morning. If the small prophet, arriving two or three weeks early, has come to stay, he must have an authentic hunch about spring, and one and all now have an excuse to get spring fever.

PREPS DEBATE MORRIS HIGH ARGUERS TODAY

"Resolved, that Legislation Conforming to the Principles of the McNary-Haugen Bill," is the question to be decided by Morris high school, Crookston high school and the A. M. A. high school in a triangular debate this afternoon and evening.

Edith Finwall, Lewis Beals and Leonard Patwold will uphold the affirmative end of the argument here against Crookston at 4 o'clock in the Little Country theater.

At Morris, Richard Randlett, E. Woolsey Pease and Alfred Bordeleau will endeavor to show that the "Baby Bisons" can debate in the same winning manner as their big brothers do. The debate should be of interest to every one, as it is concerned not only with the question of fixing the price of agricultural produce, but also touches on many economic problems of the day. Students will be admitted upon presentation of their registration cards.

An Exciting Evening

Here are four of the WGY Players (the world's first radio dramatic company) at a thrilling climax that almost turns sound into sight.

Tune in, some evening, on one of their productions. You will be surprised to find how readily your imagination will supply stage and setting.

WGY, at Schenectady, KOA, at Denver, and KGO, at Oakland, are the broadcasting stations of the General Electric Company. Each, at times, is a concert hall, a lecture room, a news bureau, or a place of worship.

If you are interested to learn more about what electricity is doing, write for Reprint No. AR 391 containing a complete set of these advertisements.
