TRIUMPHANT BISON RETURN

GOLDSTAR MUSICIANS PLAY AT CONVENTION THURSDAY EVE. 7:30

WILL DEDICATE NEW MARCH TO MAJOR HARRELL—PUTNAM
COMPOSITION

FIRST SINCE 1914

STAMP AND HANSON WILL PLAY
SOLO NUMBERS FOR GRAIN GROWERS

Doctor C. S. Putnam's Gold Star band will make their first public appearance following the holidays before the Grain Growers on Thursday evening of this week. Several new selections will be played, including the march, "Major Harrell."

Have Made History

After the convocation concert the band proceeded to forget the wonderful things which they had accomplished and went on working up new pieces, including two solos, an overture, and an original selection by "Doc" which is still in the making.

When the A. C. Band played before the college at the convocation on November 20 they were making history. It was the first time in this locality that as many as fifty-four men have played on the concert platform at one time. It is the first time that three of the pieces, The Ballet Suite, Copellia, and Peer Gynt Suite No. 2, have been played by an orchestra or band in Fargo. It was one of the best balanced local bands that have played in Fargo.

Judging from the compliments that "Doc" has received for the band since that time the concert was a great success. It played more smoothly than any local band that has been heard here in years. Most local bands are over-balanced in some respect, but with a lot of good material to pick from "Doc" has worked up a real band. The arrangement, that of the concert orchestra, produces a very good effect. This arrangement and the splendid work in directing, the A. C. students owe to "Doc" Putnam.

Play New March

"Doc" has worked out a new march which he completed during the Christmas vacation. He has called this march "Major Harrell" and will dedicate it to our "go-getter" commandant, major of the 16th Infantry, wearer of all the decorations possible for any soldier to receive, whose energy made it possible for the A. C. to win two gold stars and who is loved and respected by the entire faculty and student body.

This is the first original piece that "Doc" has attempted since his Democracy Triumphant march, written in 1914. He has had little time for original composition since that time and outside of working over a few pieces and making a few arrangements he has done nothing of the kind in the last ten years.

The band has been busy for the last week with practices. They are working up Raymond Overture by Ambrose Thomas, the balance of the numbers of Delibe's Ballet Suite—Copellia, and the accompaniments to two solos. One of these solos is a coronet selection by James Stamp. He will play The Bride of the Wave by Clarke. The other solo, a euphonium solo by Byron Hanson, is the Air D'Herode from the Grand Opera "Herode" by Massenet. "Doc" has arranged a special accompaniment to this piece as it is not published for the entire band.

The band is working especially hard in view of the possibility of a more extended tour than they took last year.

Paul Person is back into the band after an extended absence on account of an infected finger. Another addition has been made to the band, Vernon Halverson, who plays the tympani or as they are more popularly known, the kettledrums.

Thursday's program follows:

March, Major Harrell, (new mss.), Dr. Putnam. Dedicated to Major W. F. Harrell, commandant of cadets, N. D. A. C.

REGISTRATIONS PASS 1100--MORE TO COME

SHORT COURSES OPENING JANUARY 19 TO BOOST TOTAL CONSIDERABLY

Registration at the College has passed well beyond the 1,100 mark and with the opening of the winter short courses January 19 a new record attendance for the College is assured.

Complete compilation of the figures have not been made yet by Registrar Parrott as registration has been continuous during the past week.

Several reasons for the large enrollment have been given. North Dakota's great crop of 1924 seems to be the largest contributing factor in the registration of new students. A number of those entering for the winter term were unable to arrive during the fall due to the lateness of the harvest season.

No comparative figures are available with the University but it is believed that with the influx of students on January nineteenth that the Bison will pass the Flickers in attendance figures.

STEINMETZ HONORED WITH SCHOLARSHIPS

SCHOLARSHIPS TO BE SET ASIDE AS MEMORIAL TO SCIENTIST

Schenectady, N. Y., Jan. 8.—As a memorial to Dr. Charles Proteus Steinmetz, former consulting engineer of the General Electric company, the company has set aside $25,000, the income from which will maintain four scholarships at Union college. The income from this sum will be sufficient to pay the students' entire tuition and laboratory fees.

Sons of General Electric employees, and young men now in the employ of the company will be given first consideration in awarding these scholarships. In case the scholarships are not filled in this way sons of residents of Schenectady will be eligible.

The career of Dr. Steinmetz is a striking example of what great native ability, linked with proper education, can accomplish. The education of this great engineer, though extensive, was secured only through his own indomitable will.

Even at the peak of his fame Dr. Steinmetz always found time and energy to devote to educational work. He was a member of the Board of Education of the City of Schenectady for many years, also serving as president of the board. He took an active interest in the broad educational program of the General Electric company.

As a teacher the doctor was well known through his work at Union college, where the Steinmetz Memorial Scholarship men will study. There he was a professor of electrical engineering for 10 years, and acted as head of that department.

Kate Returns Home

Miss Katherine Schmollen, who recently underwent an operation for appendicitis, is now well on the road to recovery and has returned to her home.

Don Tarbox Back

Don Tarbox, Mandan, has returned to school this term. Don had to leave school in the fall term because of an injured ankle.

JUST BRILLIANT STUFF

---By Ee Ey

The Bison seemed to like the West. Maybe Horace Greeley was right in his advice.

Mr. Fleischmann doesn't seem to like the West. He says, "Go Yeast, young man, go Yeast."

Montana University basketballers say they are willing to try anything once. They did; they tried the Bison once. That's luck.

The Bison say if they had gone one mile further West they would have to get out of the way to let the sun set.

The Creightonian in remarking on Creighton's chances against Minnesota "U" says that they defeated the North Dakota Aggies 39-9. Thanks, Creighton, but they never played the Bison they just heard about us.

Further they go on to say that the Bison were chief contenders against Creighton for the N. C. I. title last year. That's the last time they write that. The "Spectrum" will appear next year with the same phrase with the words "Creighton" and "Bison" reversed.

N. C. I. members are now beginning to fear the Bison as a very formidable aggregation of basket tossers. Then we might say that the Bison are "The Seven Wonders Who Make the Other Seven Wonder."

The Bunnies beat the Bison in football last fall. Here's hoping the Bison don't forget it.

The Bison now have the best chance to cop a conference title they have ever had. It will be the first one for them. Let's start a slogan right now, "BEAT CREIGHTON."

Wonder where we can put the Conference Championship Trophy when we get it? BEAT CREIGHTON.

STRINGENT SENIOR RULES ADOPTED BY 1925 ANNUAL

Seniors—get your material in for the Bison. On January 19 is the last possible date for pictures, summaries and deposit of three dollars to be handed in at the Bison office. The staff is working to get out a bigger and better Bison and they ask the cooperation of all student organizations as well as the Seniors in getting in material promptly. The sooner we can get this material in the hands of the engraver the better work we can obtain and the effort to put out a better book will be distributed so as to bring out the best the staff has to offer.

OPIE REED WILL APPEAR ON LYCEUM COURSE HERE

Opie Reed, famous lecturer and journalist, will make his second appearance at the Agricultural College Thursday evening, when he will appear on the college Lyceum course.

His subject for the evening will be his famous lecture, "Human Nature and Politics." Mr. Reed has delivered the lecture a number of times and before varied audiences but on each occasion the talk has been heartily received.

Students at the college will be allowed admission on presentation of their registration cards. Those not having cards will be charged the customary admission of fifty cents. The lecture will begin at 8:15 p. m.

Notice!

Members of the Junior class are holding an important meeting in the Little Country Theater at 12:40 this noon and the attendance of every one of the class of '26 is urged. Important business of the class will be brought up at the meeting.

Campus Editor Again Gets Spectrum Mention

Again the office of the Campus editor seems to be in a fine position to win the honorable mention for the best and the most copy turned into the Spectrum for this issue. Marie Smith, Campus editor of the paper for Tuesday of each week, wins the Mention week (Knewsy Knoesy Kampus Kolumn—Freshman Party—Eo-Ed Prom.) Who'll win Friday?

PREXY COULTER WILL TALK AT CONVENTION

ANNUAL SESSION WILL OPEN TOMORROW MORNING; PREXY PRESIDES

President John Lee Coulter of the college will deliver the president's address at the opening of the annual session of North Dakota Grain Growers at the Fargo auditorium tomorrow morning.

The North Dakota Agricultural college will be well represented on the program. All of the officers of the association are members of the staff or station here. Other officers include Dean Walster, Gordon W. Randlett, director of extension work, and W. G. Palmer of the publications department.

Another Bison representation on the program will be the Gold Star band under Director Putnam, who will furnish a concert on Thursday evening. The band will dedicate a new march composed by Dr. Putnam and dedicated to Major W. F. Harrell.

BOLLEY-MAYOUE GO TO RUST MEETING

CONFERENCE OPENS MONDAY
PLANS FOR 1925 WILL BE OUTLINED

Dean H. L. Bolley of the Department of Biology, and George Mayoue, United States Department of Agriculture associate plant pathologist, left Sunday evening for Minneapolis, where they will attend the annual conference for the prevention of grain rust.

13 States Represented
The session of the conference will be held Monday and will be followed during the remainder of the week with a conference of the Plant Pathologists of 13 Northwest states on the subject of plant diseases.

Included in those at the conference will be as many governors of the various states as are able to leave the respective capitals where legislatures are in session.

The president is Ralph Budd, president of the Great Northern Railway. The secretary is Harrison Fuller of the Chicago chamber of commerce. Discussion of the work done in rust prevention during the past year and plans for the campaign of 1925 will make up the major part of the work of the conference.

Mr. Mayoue was accompanied by Ed Yocum, representing the Fargo Forum and Tribune.

"Y" CAGE TITLE TO BE DECIDED SOON

The fall term basket ball tournament that was held by the Y. M. C. A. ended in a triple tie, which is to be played off this week.

The three teams which are tied for first place are the Engineers, the Independents and the "Y." Other teams which were entered in the tournament were the Tappa Keggs, High School, Freshmen, Barracks Club and the Farm Husbandry.

A regulation basket ball was furnished by the Y. M. C. A. as a prize for the winning team in the tournament. The three teams that have tied for first place have been undefeated and the play-off games should prove interesting to the partizans of the various teams.

MONTANA VARSITY IS ONLY TEAM THAT GETS BEST OF BISON

DEWEY'S TEAM ARRIVE WITH NINE WINS IN ELEVEN CONTESTS

PLAY STATE FRIDAY

THREE COAST CONFERENCE
QUINTS LOSE TO DAKOTA
TRAVELERS

By EUGENE FITZGERALD

But a handful of students greeted the victorious Bison eagers returning from their Pacific coast tour Saturday night on N. P. 4 after beating the best that the West had to offer in college and independent basketball circles.

Start in "Little 8"

The Bison open their conference season against West's South Dakota State quint at Brookings in a double-header on Friday and Saturday evening. The Bunnies were not very far up in the conference standings last year but they usually have a formidable aggregation which should be feared by any team.

Last year West had a quint which was one of the most impressive passing teams in the N. C. I. loop. The Bunnies were unable to make their shots consistently and this led to their downfall in many of the contests which they engaged last year.

Dewey will leave on Great Northern train No. 10 Thursday nite with the same squad which made the trip to the Coast.

Win 9 of 11

The Bison scored nine wins out of eleven starts, the Montana University quint being the only team to blur the Bison record by scoring a single point win over the Dakotans in the only game played with the Western quint. The Washington State College crew was the other team to hand the Bison a defeat in a two game series in which the Bison succeeded in breaking even. According to reports trickling into the Spectrum the officiating was not at all what it might have been at the Montana school. The Bison were forced to play after making a 500 mile jump from Portland to Missoula. Missoula papers reported that the Bison looked like the better of the two teams and favored them to win a second match should they engage in another contest.

Thompson and Greenfield were the surprises of the trip, both doing better work than was expected of them on the trip as a whole. Greenfield, while a consistent scorer the past two years, played a much improved game over that displayed in the past. Greenfield was high scorer of the trip, making over six baskets in every game he was in with the exception of two. Greenfield was used only in the second half of two games, but even in these he succeeded in getting more than his quota of the points.

All Show Improvement

Thompson, playing his first year of basketball last year, as a guard, was shifted to center and forward this year and proved beyond a doubt that he will be a dangerous man on the scoring end of the play this winter.

Newgaard, while never a consistently heavy scorer, succeeded in getting the Bison off to a good start in several of the games through his superb floorwork. Newgaard always played a strong floor game and usually succeeded in caging a few pointers. Newgaard is content to play the floor and let his mates get their name on the score sheet, but when the occasion offers itself "Jug" usually drops one through the hoop for a counter.

Rumpeltes, the only member of the squad to go to the Coast who was not a letterman of last year, displayed some good work in several of the games and proved that he will be a valuable utility man in the pinch. Ben is a good defensive player and can be used at guard in case of necessity. On the Coast trip Dewey used him at a forward or placed him at the pivot post, where he gave a good account of himself.

Staff assignments will be posted in the window of the Spectrum office. (Follow the Spectrum Arrow.) They will be posted in plenty of time in order that stories may be thoroughly covered for publication. Failure to follow an assignment and turn it in is "Jipping the Student Body of news they deserve. When you said you'd work on the staff we took you seriously. Remember positions on the staff are now gotten by service on the paper. Thank you.

WHERE DID IT GO?

Several years ago a series of propaganda in the Spectrum brought into existence a series of rules governing student activities. A point system was adopted and it was supposed to be in force from then henceforth.

We are unable to uncover at the present writing the exact schedule but we wonder if it would sanction such an attachment as—Athletic team, President of Student Commission, President of Fraternity, Major Positions on two publications. Would it?

Hardly. It is no reflection whatever on the person referred to. He or she must be a leader. But at that it is a poor system at its best that allows one person to lead all the while.

If we haven't the leaders, then college is a fine place to develop that characteristic. Anyone can follow. It is the leading that is the problem. Why not spread things a little bit? No doubt many can be found who will arise worthily to the occasion if they are but given the chance.

Let us have a point system—enforce it. The faculty would no doubt remedy a number of evils with such rules adhered to.

And all this about a dead body brings to mind two other things. Our literary societies, our press club—are they in the same grave with the Point System?

HOW COME ATHLETES!

It seems that there is a letterman's club on the campus. It seems that it is here in name only. It seems that the president has had considerable difficulty in rounding up the wearers of the N.D. when it came time for a meeting. That is hardly school spirit. It isn't even a selfish organization. spirit. It's apathy—worse yet.

Lettermen are the first we hear from when the school spirit is lax—that is if the coaches don't get there first. School spirit is a broad term. It may be made to include a number of things. Certainly attendance at meetings is one of them. A Letterman's club is one of the biggest organizations on a campus. They should be alive and a potent factor in activities. They should at least attend their meetings.

Set an example, you N. D. men!

GAMBLING ON THE GAMES

By Burdette Graham

They were both well dressed and apparently well fed. There were no corns on their hands that caressed the easy chairs in which they sat nor did any wrinkles show up on the well powdered brows. They were jelly-beans of the first water.

"I have twenty-five bucks on the game with ——— tomorrow and I have a hunch that it is a good bet," said J. B. number one.

"I could only get twenty and had to give odds at that," was the reply of J. B. number two.

Now let's consider this species of college animal. They do not spin, neither do they weave. Their time is spent in loafing through college. They go out to the games and occasionally make a practice to see how the team is progressing. When the big games come along they place their money where they think the best chance of winning is. Supporting the old college, college spirit is what they use for an excuse.

On the other hand there are some hundreds of men who go out to the athletic field every afternoon. They put on dirty, damp football clothes and go through all of the hard training, take all of the hard knocks of the game. Three to four hours every day are given to practice and at night they slip in to their rooms so tired out that study is a task. They give all they have for the college and receive in return not one cent.

Leave out the moral equation and traditional religion. The man who wins money on the game is a parasite. He leaches his way through college on the excuse that he is supporting the team.—Copyright, 1924, Collegiate Feature Syndicate.

MANY IMPROVEMENTS NOTED IN BARRACKS

Many improvements made in the comforts of the men who room in the Barracks were brought to light by the report of the Barracks Club affairs made by the secretary of the organization, M. C. Anderson, at the last meeting.

Club a Year Old
The residents of the Barracks organized a club last year, with the point in view of securing more comforts and advantages as well as a better spirit. Through this organization they secured a portion of that building to use as a club room, which has been fitted out with reading tables and a sufficiency of chairs.

Finding that a club room alone did not satisfy their needs the boys have since managed to obtain a number of other improvements. Among these is a telephone, which according to some of the boys, is the busiest one on the campus outside of the one at Ceres Hall. In order to receive full benefit from this utility it has been made a capital offense for any Barracks inhabitant to answer the phone and fail to notify the party called for.

Daily Paper at Hand
Daily papers and a generous supply of magazines are always to be found on the reading tables.

A piano has been installed and since its installation there have been bi-weekly practice sessions by the Barracks orchestra. In addition to several impromptu programs by the orchestra they have been prevailed upon to render a musical addenda to all of the club programs. In fact, the interest of the Barracks bunch has been so aroused over the musical part of the programs that they have ordered song books, which will be in use at future meetings.

Another line of endeavor that held considerable interest for the Barracks club was the basket ball team which they entered in the Y fall term tournament.

"ITS THE BERRIES" FRUIT ONE DAY—JELL THE NEXT

Fruit picked on Dec 31 and made into a tart, pleasing jelly on New Year's day!

The scene is laid, not in California, but in North Dakota. One of the actors in this realistic play is A. F. Yeager, horticulturist at the college. The other actors are Mrs. Yeager, his wife, and the several college officials who sampled the jelly.

Mr. Yeager's part consisted in picking the fruit and in having the faith that it would make a palatable spread for bread. Mrs. Yeager's part, while not a speaking one, was nevertheless important, for she it was who washed the fruit, cooked the jelly and poured it while still hot into the little glass containers. The rest of the act is carried out by the faculty members who ate the jelly.

The chief props in the play consisted of the mess of red cranberries that were the chief ingredient of the jelly. Mr. Yeager picked the fruit from a high bush cranberry.

An "unkindness has no remedy at law," let its avoidance be with you a point of honor.

Honor students in the military department of the North Dakota Agricultural college will be eligible for commissions in the United States Marine Corps this spring, according to word received by Major Harrell from John A. Lejeune, Major General Commandant.

The Commandant's letter says in part:

"In reply to your letter regarding vacancies to be filled in the grade of Second Lieutenant in the Marine Corps, I am pleased to state that in accordance with the custom of previous years it is again the desire of the Secretary of the Navy to fill a number of existing vacancies from among graduates of the 1925 classes of the Distinguished Military Colleges. As the North Dakota Agricultural College has again achieved the "distinguished" military rating, members of the 1925 graduating class of that institution are eligible, provided they have the scholastic and military attributes and pass the required physical examination."

Montana Varsity Only Team That Gets Best of Bison

Arnold, Blakeley and Miller played consistent ball on the whole trip and that should be enough said about this trio of performers. Blakeley was handicapped on the trip by a badly cut eye and got in but a few of the games. Blakeley's presence in the game gave a punch to the Bison offense and did much toward winning the latter games of the trip. Blakeley succeeded in breaking into the scoring column quite consistently whenever within shooting range of the goal.

Miller performed in his usual brilliant style with a flashy dribbling attack which many try to emulate but few can succeed. Miller also scored his quota of the points. Arnold, the most reliable and consistent man to ever don a Bison uniform, was the only member of the team who put in every minute of every game. Much credit is due any performer who can play 11 games in 15 days and always succeed in upholding his share of the burden. This task was performed by Arnold who was undoubtedly under a great physical strain, but nevertheless "Cy" proved that he was equal to the occasion by stopping the best scorers that the Bison faced and at the same time score numerous points from a guard position.

A brief account of the outcome of the trip is given as follows:

I

There's a college we all hail true,
In Eastern Dakota plains,
Where the very songs and learning
E'er shall mould our zeal.
Tis a joyful home in youth days,
In knowledge all may increase;
Yes, we'll hail our masters too and e'er
Hold strong for old A. C.

II
Thru the Freshman year to Senior,
Exams and vexing hazine rules,
Strong we carry on and thru to
Fulfill our land's call!
Dear old N. D. A. C. stately,
In memry we'll prize esteem,
And we nobly treasure all friends
And joy days at fair A. C.
