College Summer Course Is Popular Says Prof. Weeks

Last Year's Mark of 300 Will Be Passed is Concurrent Indications Now—Term Begins June 12

Increased interest throughout the country in college summer sessions during the past few years is reflected in an increasing number of inquiries regarding summer courses offered at the North Dakota Agricultural college, according to A. D. Weeks, chairman of the summer session committee. Indications are that the 300 mark reached last year will be passed during this summer's term of six weeks, June 12 to July 20.

"The increase in summer session attendance through the country is probably largely a reflection of the increase in the regular college sessions," Dean Weeks believes, "although the (Continued on page Two)

TO THE STUDENTS OF THE NORTH DAKOTA AGRICULTURAL COLLEGE

Many institutions have set aside a special day from time to time to be devoted to student activities. The purpose of these days is to give students a final opportunity to become better acquainted with each other and it is expected that every opportunity will be taken advantage of for purpose of friendly rivalry in contests and fraternizing. These days also give special opportunity for students to re-affirm their belief in certain customs and institutional traditions. I sincerely hope that from year to year we may be able at our Alma Mater to build up customs, traditions, etc., which will be distinctly of a beneficial type. From day to day we read in the public press of unfortunate incidents at various institutions which have resulted in the imposition of very strict rules that have indeed taken away many of these fine opportunities which otherwise students would have to get better acquainted and to develop the esprit de corps which we all so much desire. To us Gay-Cat Day should be one of the finest days on our calendar.

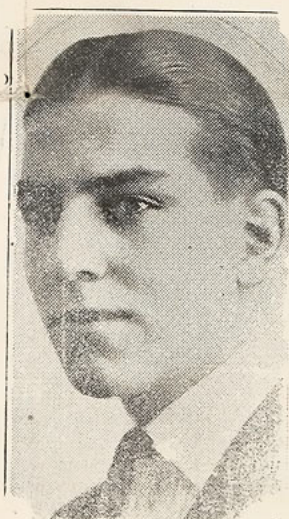

—JOHN LEE COULTER, President.

THE 1924 BISON

Next Friday is set as the date for the distribution of the 1924 Bison, the Junior Class's attempt at editing a year book to chronicle all the big things of special interest to A. C. Students, and in so doing surpass all previous efforts of this kind. In checking over informally the results attained by the staff this year we can tell you that the '24 staff has done just what they started out to do—and you Mr. Student are going to be given a book that you will always take pride in and one that you will want to show everyone else.

Like too many of us, some of you will think the three dollars remaining unpaid of your one dollar deposit towards redeeming the book looks bigger to you than the publication itself. Just stop one minute—think of the value of that same old book to you next summer, a year from now, and ten years and the more from now when your immediate ties with your classmates and college are severed—then look at that little three dollars again. You'll take the book home with you Friday, won't you?

Editor Ostman says he has a few Bisons left over. These may be ordered this week by dropping in to the bookstore and signing up for the same or by buying direct from Mr. Ostman. Unless you work fast you're very apt to be disappointed too—for there are only a few left not already ordered.

WHAT DO YOU KNOW OF YOUR COLLEGE

How many of you students can truthfully say you know the A. C. pretty well by now? How many of you have been thru every building on the campus? How many of you know a little as to what goes on under other departments and the work some other classes are doing? If a high school senior were to ask you concerning some course of special interest to him could you intelligently put him wise?

Every building on the campus is open at all times during the day to student visitors, and their people will be glad to show you around a little and tell you of their work. You owe it to yourself to get acquainted with the institution as a whole a little better for you'll need all the information available if you ever get to be governor of the state, president of the college or a hundred other similar positions which you so often refer to as your goal within a few years. Try our advice a little bit anyway and see if it doesn't bring in a few surprises for you.

GET THAT A. C. BUG

This is the time of the year to boost for A. C. and its many advantages to a freshman, with high school classes by the hundred graduating all over around us on every hand within the next few days or week. How about a little advance work for next fall's Freshman class.

You know the fellows in your own high school back home, don't you? Who out of your old school would make good at A. C. We are going to need men for our football, basketball, track, baseball, and tennis teams next year and the years after, we need men to run our organizations, publications, social affairs and to do original work in the laboratories—in fact all the good men and women we can persuade to come here, and we as students here already will be largely responsible for the classes following us. Can we afford to shirk our responsibilities?

GAY CAT DAY

Next Friday is Gay Cat Day—A. C.'s day to cut loose and frolic as young people long to do every once in a while, and a day given us by a faculty who understood students and their best interests. Gay Cat Day has been a cherished tradition now for a good long time, we know it was here when we came here first, and every frosh looks forward to finding out what this day of days is like. Now that the day itself is close at hand, rumor has it that a move is under way to change the name of our unique "Gay Cat Day," and in place of it call it the Bison Frolic, Stampede, Circus, Sunday School or what not—just so it has Bison tacked on to it, the same to be brought to your attention all of a sudden like at convocation and a rising vote taken for the same. All very good, fine work and all that, but knowing that the above is very likely to take place, we would advise you as individual students to think twice before we knock things into the discard in adopting the new. Personally we are strong for the Old Bison Spirit—and like to see it given prominence, but on the other hand we have a hankering for that name "Gay Cat" and would like to think of it as such even after we have passed thru the old campus gate for the last time—but whether you do or not is your own privilege and you owe it to yourself to make known your standing on it.

Whether it be Bison Stampede or Gay Cat—we're for it—it's the big day of the year for our little family frolic and we know it will be just as good under any name. But before we decide anything, lets think it over—what do you say?

Harvey Team Takes First Stockjudgng Contest

and Goldberg, coached by W. W. Barr comprise the winning team and as an award will be given a trip to the National Livestock Exposition held at Chicago the first week in December—the most valuable prize in the whole list of festival contests.

The 10 highest scoring individuals of the 39 entered in the contest, in the order of their standing were as follows: Ceral Kimbal, Crosby, William Hanson, Grafton, Amos Flaten, Park River, Theo. Jorstad, Harvey, Kenneth Goldberg, Harvey, Melvin Anderson, Noltemeier school near Valley City; Everett Knudsen, Grafton Glenn Martin, Park River, Craig Montgomery, Harvey; John Roll, Moddock.

A number of businessmen of Fargo and other points spoke to the boys here for the stock judging contest at a special conference, designed to give these young people opportunity to listen to practical talks on different lines of business. The speakers were: Dean C. B. Waldron of the North Dakota Agricultural college; F. Benz, agricultural agent of the Northern Pacific; A. R. Watkins, city auditor of Fargo; J. G. Halland, Fargo insurance man; M. L. Hibbard, manager of the Union Light, Heat and Power Co. and Dr. Robertson of the Fargo Presbyterian church.

need for continual improvement in the qualifications of teachers may be another cause of increasing summer enrollments."

Some 70 different courses will again be offered at the Agricultural college to teachers who require summer session credits, to high school graduates who wish to complete their preparation for securing teachers' certificates or who plan to enter college in the fall, and to college students who are seeking further credit, state announcements of summer session issued this week.

Teaching training courses in vocational agriculture, home economics and mechanic arts under the provision of the federal Smith-Hughes law are the subject of many inquiries this spring, Dean Weeks said. Besides courses in these three schools others will be offered in botany, chemistry, education, English, history, mathematics, physical education physics, public discussion and social service social and economics sciences, zoology, and French.

Gay Cat Day Program Next Friday to Knock Old College On Its Ear

befitting the occasion, a student vote will be taken on the feasibility of changing Gay Cat to Bison Stampede as a fit title for our gala day.

At one thirty the student body will assemble at the main building and form for our annual parade. Rooter King Greenfield will be in charge and assisting him will be Yell Leader Erick and their assistants. The procession will be headed by the four college class presidents, four high school class presidents, and Stewart's Thousand Dollar Band—(dressed in keeping with a good Gay Cat). Horses and Buggies will be in good standing, but no automobiles prior to 1910 vintage will be tolerated with our files.

On our return from parade downtown, the annual Freshman-Sophomore Sack Rush, bloodier and fiercer than ever, will take place on the football field under the direction of the athletic commissioner. Mr. Boise is also arranging a baseball game between the faculty sharks and a campus team.

The second annual Saddle and Stirrein Jamboree will comprise the evenings entertainment and it will be some bawl. At this time the prizes for the people wearing the winning gay cat costumes will be presented.

Students will greatly assist these in charge by bearing these instructions in mind; especially the information of and during the parade, students should take care to follow out the directions of Ring Leaders Greenfield and Erick. Attention is also requested to the notice by herd leader Coulter asking that class clashes be kept on a friendly basis and thereby avoiding accidents such as have happened in other schools due to unwarranted hazing.

Yours in the Bison Spirit—"The N. D. A. C. Student Commission."

College Women Must Be at Monday's Convocation

convocation hour and in all probability a constitution and by laws will be adopted for the Woman's League, an organization to include every woman student in the college. Tentatively speaking, a board of twelve will be named to compose a woman's senate representing various groups, such as sororities, girls living in the dormitory an others. The senate is to meet once a month to consider matters of interest to college women.

At a luncheon Wednesday noon, six girls were elected to membership in the senior girls honor society, planned with Mrs. Myrtle Gleason Cole, dean of women. This society will act with the dean as a sort of advisory committee and plans on increasing its membership in the future slightly. Those named included Lillian Hoveland, Violet Erickson, Edna Sommerfeld, Verna Owens, Olga Grah and Hedvig Sand.

Maj. Lull Commends Cadets For Splendid Showing

tinguished rating from the War department, Maj. Chas. E. T. Lull, senior member of the board, called off the remaining program of examination scheduled for Monday afternoon, saying that it was evident to the board that the A. C. unit was thoroughly trained in every department of their military instruction.

The statement was made at the close of the morning's examination which opened with a review at 8 a. m., when the battalion in full field equipment passed before Adjutant General G. Angus Fraser, reviewing officer, at double time. This was followed by inspection of arms, pitching of pup tents and laying out of field equipment.

Praises Freshmen

In a statement to officers of the A. C. unit and faculty members of the college, Major Lull commended the splendid showing made by the cadets in every department of work. He paid a personal compliment to the freshmen class, which he said was outstanding in its work, when it was considered that these men were taking their first year of military instruction.

Major Lull with Capt. William E. Bergin, junior member of the inspecting board, accompanied by Lieut. Col. C. H. Muller, officer in charge of R. O. T. C. activities for the Seventh corps area left for Grand Forks where they inspected the University of North Dakota unit Tuesday and Wednesday.

The silver cup offered by the college military department to the company adjudged the best all around company of the battalion was awarded by the board to Company A. commanded by Cadet Captain Frank Leakey.

student body and faculty. The books will be distributed in connection with the convocation hour Gaycat Day next Friday, is the announcement made by Art Ostman, editor of this year's publication.

Thru the cooperation of several up and going staff members, the goodwill of the student body and the financial interest taken in the book by downtown business people the heads have an annual this year to give us surpassing anything in this line hitherto—even putting the 1923 publication in the shade considerably thinks its editor. Several new additions in the way of feature sections, color plates, design, paneling, binding, and even the tone and arrangement is blended together in such a way to make you wonder why it all wasn't that way in previous years.

Thru the foresight of the business manager several copies of the book were ordered in addition to the subscription list to take care of a few of the stragglers sure to arise every year. These copies may be had only thru signing up for the same at once and the editors are firm in their statement that no additional copies will be printed to meet demands of tardy individuals. This was necessary to insure a financial balance of some kind.

To those who have receipts for deposits on their books, the 1924 Bison will be delivered at eleven forty-five Friday morning, on payment of the balance. You are the biggest gainer this year we know—for the book is worth many times its pecuniary value set.

Teachers Lose to Bisons In Second Intercollegiate

5 to 2, in one of the prettiest exhibitions of clever ball on Dacotah field for some time.

Jimmy Duncan was in fine form and pitched airtight ball and but for errors on the part of his teammates would have scored his second shutout of the season. The Teachers succeeded in getting men on bases in every inning, but Duncan tightened up in the pinches and should have gone thru the game without a tally being registered against him.

Lindblom hurled good ball for the Teachers, allowing but two earned runs. His teammates failed to take full advantage of the misplays of the Bison infield and poor baserunning robbed Coach Prueha's nine of several chances to score. The Teachers threatened in the first inning after Pugh had struck out. Storms bit a single and reached third on two passed balls by Wahl. Duncan tightened up and struck out Greiner and McDonald.

The Bisons scored in the first after Bute fouled out to Storms. Stewart hit for two bases and scored on two passed balls by Storms. Anderson singled and stole second but the side was retired before any further damage could be done.

In the second Lindblom and Williams struck out but Edwards hit for two bases. Aldrige grounded out. Anderson to Lund. The Bisons went out in order in their half of the frame.

The Peds succeeded in getting a man to third in the third frame after Nybakken had struck out. Pugh singled and went to third when Duncan threw out Storms at first. Greiner struck out, retiring the side. The Bisons failed to get a man to first in their half of the third.

The Teachers tied the score at the start of fourth when McDonald was safe at first on Anderson's error. Wahl's error sent in McDonald to third and the score was registered on Anderson's second error of the inning. Errors by Williams and McDonald allowed Hicks to score the tally that again put the Bisons in the lead.

The Teachers came back with another tally in the fifth, singles by Nybakken and Pugh and errors by Lund and Wahl allowing Nybakken to cross the base. A single by Bute, a stolen base and a single by Stewart gave the Bisons the long end of a 3 to 2 score which the Teachers were never able to overcome.

In the sixth the Bisons made the game safe by scoring two additional runs. Anderson was safe on McDonald's error and went to second on Hick's single off Williams glove. Both men advanced when Meldahl was out for kicking a bunt which he had laid down. Roberts struck out but Lund came through with a single to right field, scoring Anderson and Hicks.

Ter eight thirty as providence will permit.

Full dress is the order—anyone not in gala gaycat attire will find himself outside on his ear—(oh yes there is a committee of huskys to tend to this end of it)—and girls are urged to come whether they find themselves a Romeo or not—its for everyone and everybody with a little life left in him.

Chaperones? Here they are: Prof. and Mrs. Cap. E. Miller, Prof. and Mrs. E. J. Thompson and Prof. and Mrs. J. H. Shepherd.

As to arrangements, a real old barn dance without the barn is the general idea predominating in the scheme of decoration and fittings—everything to be complete from the smallest calf to pitchforks and hayshutes. The refreshments will be well in keeping with the days requirements and will be in no wise skimpy as to individual allotment.

The music has been arranged to satisfy old and young alike—the orchestra having already promised to be in full dress for the evening with a new line of music composed specially for ending the most successful day of merriment taking place at the A. C. In closing, the club has only this to say—"Don't miss it—you'd never score up a good alibi afterwards to square yourself."

Many Saw The Architectural Display Of The Past Week

Small Homes and Drawings of Prospective Public Buildings Drew Keen Interest of Spectators

Several hundred people from over North Dakota and the city took special pains to visit the architectural exhibits of homes and public buildings shown at the open house of the Architectural department in the engineering building last week, under the supervision of Stanley A. Smith and A. R. Melander of the department.

Drawings and renderings by North Dakota architects, an exhibit of 24 drawings and plans from the Architects Small Homes Service Bureau of Minneapolis, and an exhibit of work done during the year by students of design at the college were on display. Keen interest was manifested in the drawings of prospective public buildings such as the new Elks home, the new Plymouth Congregational church, new high schools at Sherwood and at Jamestown, N. D., by the following architectural firms of the state: Keith and Kurke, Braseth and Houkum, W. D. Gillespie, and Shannon, Boyd and Boyd.

Practical, well designed small homes of four to six rooms were shown in the small homes exhibit. Student work included drawings of public buildings, fraternity houses, a few residences and the prize winning design for a practical North Dakota courthouse in a contest among students in junior design this year.

A. C. Debators Take Popular Decision from University

economic obligation to the veterans. He argued that the soldier's pay was very low compared to that of civilians during the war and pointed out how the soldiers came back to changed conditions and could not fit in to old jobs at once.

George Fraser, opening the debate for the negative, argued that the government was under no moral, legal or economic obligations to ex-service men, that the soldiers had simply done their duty as citizens and should not put a price on their patriotism.

Charles Wells, closing the affirmative argument, argued that the government was financially able to pay a soldier bonus and then presented four different methods of taxation, income tax, excess profit tax, luxury tax, sales tax, and also the interest on the allied war debt, each of which was more than enough to pay the bonus.

In closing the direct argument for the University, Samuel Aandahl argued that the bonus would be too much of a financial burden to the people of the nation and that the ex-service men did not need it.

In rebuttal, the university team did not attack the various methods of taxation presented by the affirmative so the argument centered on the moral, legal and economic obligations of the government to ex-service men. Howell gave a spirited and logical rebuttal, especially in refutation of Fraser's argument that to pay a bonus was to put a price on patriotism.

Following the debate various persons in the audience questioned the debators on various phases of the debate. This was the second debate this year between the two teams on this question. In the first debate the teams had opposite sides, the university defending the bonus.

Macalaster Cinder Men Here Saturday for Dual

our first and only dual track and field meet this year. The outcome will be one for us to guess at as little can be said of our team's caliber other than the past performances of a few of them. Macalaster has been in two meets already this year and comes practiced up for a win or lose.

Track is and has been a slow game for some reason or other here and the student body is the only thing to blame. Coach Dewey says a track team has to be developed, it cannot be made in a year and unless a college will keep thirty men or more out in faithful training every night it cannot hope for much but the short end of things. Any college man with ordinary health and physique can, with two years training get himself in letterman caliber if he will—and that is what we A. C. men must bear in mind from now on.

Coach reports a squad of nine faithful pluggers who are out every night and ready for the meet. Out of this number eight must be selected to go to the conference meet in June.

Breaks Cost Bisons First of the Des Moines Series

ated on second base, Evans of Des Moines hooked onto one of Bagrud's slants for a home run, bringing Knox in ahead of him. Knox had previously scored Kidd who had walked after two were away.

The Bisons were far from disheartened by this turn of events and by consistent playing of heady baseball tied the score in the first half of the seventh. Then came the turning point of the game in the last half of the seventh. Rime of Des Moines found Bagrud for a single and Kidd's bunt advanced him to second. With Knox, Tiger cleanup hitter at bat, Roberts of the Aggies misjudged a high fly in left field and Rime romped home with the winning run. The Bisons scored their runs in the second, third and seventh innings. Esslinger of Des Moines stopped a Dakota rally in the eighth which threatened to break up the game, when with two down and runners on first and third he made a sensational catch of a long drive into right field.

Bagrud pitched great ball for the Aggies and deserved the victory. He held the hard hitting Des Moines team to five scattered hits and fanned ten men. In only one inning, the first, did Des Moines college more than one hit. The Bisons found Hanson for six hits and only four invaders died on strikeouts. Spectacular support on the field saved him on several occasions. Gass, slugging infielder from North Dakota led his team in hitting with two doubles in five trips to the plate.

SOUTH DAKOTA UNIVERSITY WINS DUAL MEET FROM JACKS

Brookings, S. D., May 14—South Dakota university last year winner of the North Central conference meet, showed that they will be dangerous again this year, by handing their rivals, South Dakota State a 69 1-2 to 56 12 defeat in their annual dual meet here Saturday.

State was followed by a jinx. Stout conference and state pole vault champ being forced out of this event with a bad ankle, and Martin, low hurdler, falling over the last hurdle with an easy victory in sight.

Schutte of State, broke the only state record by throwing the discus 128 feet, 9 inches. Other good marks were set by Clark, university, running the 220 in 22 2-5 seconds, and Schutte getting the shot put 39 feet, 9 inches.

What is Your Score?

Exercise for health? Of course we do. But down in our hearts we know that the thrill lies in our proficiency—in making the best score and in landing the biggest string.

What don't we do to give ourselves that thrill?

We pinch our pocketbooks for clubs, tackle, gear, equipment—all in order to increase our proficiency. Yet, if we stop to think a minute, we know that in golf, tennis, fishing, hunting, motor-ing—any outdoor pastime—defective eyesight will spoil our form and take the edge off our enjoyment.

We sigh for Roosevelt's guns—when we should be thinking of his glasses.

Even if you already wear glasses, have your eyes examined. Many who need special lenses for outdoors aren't aware of it. Perhaps another prescription would improve your game immensely.

To judge your distances, put stinging in your strokes, land the fish, bag the game—to get from outdoors the thrill that outdoors owes you—have your eyes examined without delay.
