Shooting and Tennis Rated as Minor Sports

Indoor Tennis Court Will Probably Be Set Up in Armory; Numeral Rewards Undecided

Rifle shooting and tennis are now listed as minor sports at A. C. as the result of legislation upon the issue at the last meeting of the Athletic board. No final decision regarding the numerals and rewards for those qualifying on Frosh teams was reached, it being decided that it be better to hold the matter over to the next meeting for more detailed consideration.

If possible indoor tennis courts will be set up in the armory. It will depend upon what hours will be necessary for the track and baseball workouts.

FLICKERTAIL ARTISTS OUTPLAYED AT EVERY TURN OF BOTH GAMES

23-16 TELLS SAD STORY FOR FIRST OF SERIES ON A. C. FLOOR; 28-27 AS FINAL SCORE OF SECOND CLASH INDICATES FIERCENESS OF UP-RIVER ATTACK; BISON TEAM PROVED THEMSELVES IN A CLASS BY THEMSELVES FOR CLEVER FLOORWORK—U BASKET SHOOTING EXCELLENT; DUNCAN MADE NAME FOR HIMSELF ON SCORING WINNING BASKET IN SATURDAY'S GAME; STATE CHAMPIONSHIP AND SECOND HONORS IN THE CONFERENCE COMES TO N. D. A. C.

By winning both games from the Flickertails last week the North Dakota Bisons cinched their claim to the state title and won second place in the N. C. I. conference basketball race. Before two of the largest crowds that ever packed the armory, the Bisons proved their superiority over the Flickers in two of the greatest basketball contests ever staged in the state. Intense rivalry featured both contests. The Bisons took the first contest rather easily after getting a big lead at the start. The second contest proved to be the big game with everything at stake for each team, and was won in the last thirty seconds of play. Winning three out of four from the Flickers the Bisons are easily the best team in the state and at least three men have places cinched on the all-state.

Record Crowds Out
The first game, on Friday night, drew a record crowd and words cannot describe the immensity of the battle. Determined to win, the Flickers started out strong but lost their momentum when the Bison offense sifted thru them for four counters in the first five minutes of the game. A (Continued on Page Two)

A ruling has gone into effect that the coach of a state championship team hereafter will receive a letter and swatcer.

M. Euren Will Be New Y. W. C. A. President

Close Competition Marks the Choosing of the 1923-24 Cabinet in Last Week's Election

After a close race in every department of the elections held Friday for the choosing of the 1923-24 Y. W. C. A. cabinet at the college, Myrtle Euren was elected as president; Edna Sommerfeld, vice president; Marian Bender, secretary; and Edith McDonald, Treasurer. Helen Fuller, B'24, was elected as undergraduate representative. The new officers will take the place of the old ones with the opening of the spring and hold office until this time again next year.

Interest in the race for the state high school basketball title will be centered around the state tournament which opens today at the armory. The drawings for the games took place this morning at ten. The games will follow the same schedule as the district meet. Two games this afternoon, (Continued on Page Two)

Baseball Men to Report At Armory March 19th

Many Positions Open This Year and Coach Wants Big Turnout To Make Athletes of.

All candidates for baseball will report at the armory at 4 p. m. next Monday. This is the general call for all men and regular workouts will start immediately after the suits are issued.

According to Athletic director Borleske there are many positions to be filled this year and he is anxious to have a large turnout for the opening workout. Three infield and two outfield positions must be filled this year. A hard schedule is anticipated. We endeavor to make athletes, and to improve them, says Borleske. A man does not have to be finished to try out for a position. Anyone with an interest in the game, who has a general knowledge of it, and who is willing to work should try out and see what they can do.

REPORTERS

WE WELCOME YOU, FELLOWS.

To you, members of the competing basketball teams here for the honor of taking home the state championship, and to you fellows along with the boys to help them out along the side lines we wish to extend our most hearty welcome and bid you make free to impose on our hospitality and good sportsmanship as you will during your stay with us.

You fellows will be going to college next fall or the year after next and that time will necessitate your choosing an institution in which you feel that you might be given the best in the way of personal instruction and study, opportunity for leadership in collegiate activities, and a chance to try out for the athletic teams of a really live up-and-going college that can send out teams to be proud of. With this in mind, we ask that you will look us over as best you can, see what kind of a bunch we are in our everyday behavior, look around and see how we live and study here at the North Dakota Agricultural College. Feel free to ask questions and give us your opinions of everything in general. We are all ready to entertain you and help you pass away your spare time if you'll give us a chance so take this opportunity in making our last acquaintance.

We are glad to have you with us and hope sincerely that you will feel like coming back and seeing us again.

TO YOU, DOC!

So the University band came down to show you up in fine style Saturday. Too bad that the U has to have a "Better band than A. C." as narrated in The Student after the time and conscientious effort spent by you and the boys in learning a few tunes to amuse our visitors with but we are coming with our consolations as fast as we can and hope that you won't feel too bad about the way they drowned us out with that high pitch bass. And besides, we can't all come from the University and maybe they would not let us stay up there anyway so we might just as well keep on having some kind of a band tho we will have to hide it away somewhere during U games. There is still hope for us it is rumored that the bass man has threatened to strike, the drummer has rheumatism, and the other man is thinking of coming down here next fall, so cheer up and don't feel so bad.—An Alumnus of '22.

JUST A MINUTE PLEASE!

We, the Spectrum Staff, crave help just at this particular time of the year, if ever before, and send an s. o. s. call for reporters and special writers from anywhere who will be willing to do just a little bit for us each week or so as the occasion may arise in the way of keeping our sheet full of something you and your fellows will read. Experience, and that kind of stuff is of no great importance to us—all we ask is your willingness to try something and let us help you put it across. It's for our mutual good if you care to make it so. Special stories and features are at a premium with us.

Flickers Outplayed In Both Games Last Week

spurt by the university gave them several tallies but they were unable to overcome the lead and the half ended with the score 14 to 10 in favor of the Bisons.

Second Half Clever

In the second half the Bisons played carefully. By skillful maneuvering they succeeded in drawing up the university defense and then slipped in behind to bombard the basket at short range. The play was terrifically fast. Each team drove in hard. Close guarding featured. The fast moving offensive trio of the Flickers seemed to meet a Bison on every inch of the floor and were allowed very few chances to get set for a try at the basket. Inability to play fast and hard without committing personal fouls seemed to worry the Flickers while the finer points of coaching, as shown by the clever handling of the ball and the nose for the ball, gave the Bisons an advantage and proved that they were a much more finished and superior team. With the Indian sign still hanging over their head, the Flickers emerged from the game on the short end of the score, the Bisons winning by the score of 23 to 16.

Guards Play Brilliantly
The work of Captain Flem, at guard for the Bisons, was easily outstanding in this game. "Cy" Arnold made a fit running mate. In fact too much cannot be said in praise of the Bisons in this contest. They worked together in masterful team play and they fought together in a wonderful manner. A well balanced machine, it showed its worth by its consistency.

Crowd Goes Wild

The second game on Saturday night will long be remembered at A. C. and by the people of Fargo. By 6:45 the armory was full and overflowing. Every corner and every inch of available space was crowded with rooters. Two bands and over 1500 people simply made the place deafening. By eight o'clock they had worked themselves into such frenzy that it seemed if the tension should get stronger the armory would collapse.

Bisons Prove Consistency

The Flickers took the lead in the scoring but the Bisons again proved their consistency by quickly overcoming the lead. It was a hot and fierce struggle every minute. Noise made it impossible to hear and the excitement made it impossible to think. Play was about even but the Flickers seemed to be outclassed for every time that they would toss in a counter the Bisons would step out and chalk up a few more points. The half ended with the Bisons leading with a four point margin.

Last Half a Thriller

The second half was a thriller from start to finish. The real excitement occurred in the last minute of the contest. Two baskets in rapid succession by the Flickers put them within one point of the Bisons. Greenfield tossed in a pretty one from long range and gave his team a 3 point lead. Two more counters by the Flickers put them in the lead with one point to spare. The excitement was simply terrible. With only thirty seconds to go and with the university leading by one point, Jimmie Duncan Bison forward, took a long heave at the basket and sent through a two point counter that won the game for the Bisons with a 28 to 27 score.

Duncan Gets Winning Counter

By tossing in the counter that won the game after having played a hard fighting game for forty minutes, Duncan easily became the hero of the hour. The game was so hard fought and the rivalry so intense that every man that participated on the floor that night is entitled to worlds of praise. Arnold and Flem a guards for the Bisons played wonderful games. Greenfield at forward was the next best forward performer on the floor and got away for a total of five goals from the field. His defensive work was a little weak but on the offense he played in a stellar role. Busdicker and Burkman were easily the outstanding performers for the Flickers and carried the burden of the greatest part of the work for their team. They are two real basketball players and the Bisons found them to be a problem in every minute of the four games this season.

The lineups and summaries follow:

Half Farm Population At Extension Meetings

Magnitude of cooperative agricultural extension work in North Dakota is indicated by figures contained in the annual report of John W. Haw, state county agent leader, showing that 4,779 extension meetings were held during 1922 with a total attendance of 125,591.

Twenty five per cent of the total population of the state is in grade schools, high schools and colleges and universities. That the Extension Division thru its organization of state and county agents is fulfilling the function of an educational institution for the farm population of the state is indicated by these figures on attendance at meetings, which, if allowance is made for duplications, mean that more than half of the farmers of the state attended meetings during the year.

will be a problem to determine which herds to visit and which to pass by." National Show in New York

The National Dairy Show will be held at Syracuse, New York on the week of October 6-13. There will be equally as strong competition in the contest this year and it will take three good men and some hard work to make a creditable showing. Last fall the first team the college sent out won the national contest by a large margin of points in competition with teams from twenty of the best state colleges in the country. The members of the team were Harper Brush, Obert Skrei and Burt Oederkirk. They won possession of three trophies which become permanent property after being won three years. Our college is on its winning streak and has made wonderful showings with other institutions this year in stockjudging, debate and athletics—why not keep the ball rolling?

Candidates Take Dairy 1

All candidates for the dairy team should enroll for Dairy 7, a Junior subject, scheduled to meet on Tuesday and Thursday at 11 a. m. and on Tuesday at 2:55 p. m. The afternoon period will be judging. Underclassmen who wish preliminary work for next year may take the afternoon work.

Team Picked This Spring

Since the team must leave before the fall term opens it will be necessary to select the team at the end of the spring term. Professor Dice says the team will receive mileage and pullman fares so the expense to the team will be no higher than if the show was held at St. Paul or Chicago. Here is the chance of a lifetime fellows—are you going to take it?

Eighty-Five Dollars Was Net Proceeds of "Variety"

Over 400 People Attended Despite L. C. T. Conflict—Program one of Novel Features

More than 400 people attended the Variety Program put on by the College Christian Association, in the College Armory, Wednesday, March 7.

The purpose of the Association in giving this Entertainment was to obtain money to help send delegates to the Geneva Conference next June. A total of $150 is needed and about $85 was realized from this entertainment. Every number on the program was good. The Musical numbers were exceptionally well received. The N. D. A. C. Glee Club, Miss Betty Sheldon, Soloist and the Dan Davis quartette (Baritone Soloist, Mrs. De Haven, Soloist and the Dan Davis quartette each received hearty encores. Miss May Bohlig's reading of "The Minister" was well received.

Walter Winkler, colored artist at the piano drew his share of the applause.

Seven well known members of the institutional staff appeared on the stage in the "Faculty Revue." Those members of the staff not present whose counter-parts appeared in this act missed the treat of their lives. Every person taking part in this part of the program performed exceptionally well.

The feature of the program was "Chaney and His Chalk." On the subjects of Love, Domestic Felicity, Prohibition, Social Etiquette and other timely topics in imminent importance, Chaney is an infallible authority. At any rate he held the unwavering interest of his audience for half an hour, as he showed the Pictorial Potentialities of Things in General.

Thanks are due to all who helped to make the evening a success.

MAY ROBSON APPEARS IN "MOTHER'S MILLIONS"

"Mother's Millions" is the catching title of May Robson's New Comedy which comes to the Orpheum on Mar. 20 and 21.

"Mother's Millions" was written expressly for Miss Robson by Howard McKent Barnes and the part of "Harriet Breen" which Miss Robson plays is giving her an opportunity of showing the public that she missed her calling when she began playing comedy instead of tragedy.

"Harriet Breen" is a financier of the first water, her life has been spent in the busy mart of stocks and bonds.

She is conceded to be one of the richest women in the world and the smartest.

She buys and sells everything from a railroad to a garden plot and makes money on everything she touches but she is not understood—not even by her own children.

Her motto is "help people to help themselves"

Deach Says--

The State high school tournament will feature the week end athletic program. It should be remembered that the 56 athletes who will appear in uniform at this meet are the prospective college athletes. A large proportion of them will enter college as soon as they have completed their high school training. It is the duty of every student to take an interest in them. Remember that we as hosts must be impartial. Each team is to be given an equal chance, each team will be shown the same consideration.

N. D. A. C. Bisons are state basketball champs. That is certain. There seems to be some trouble in the matter of deciding whether or not Des Moines is ineligible for the conference title. At any rate they haven't played with four conference schools and until they have it doesn't look as they are going to push Creighton off the top and right now we still have second place. No matter how many they put ahead of N. D. A. C. we'll still be one notch ahead of the university—another thing that's decidedly certain.

One conference editor says that the S. D. university team is the joke of the conference. They certainly deserve more credit than that. They put up two admirable scrappy games against the Bisons. It was evident that they were a team of youngsters. They were light and inexperienced against the older varsity quints in the conference, but they are fast and if they stay together for three more years no one will need wish them luck.

Look out for a dark horse in this coming tourney. Some of these favorites are liable to get bumped right smack on the nose in some of the preliminaries if they think that only two teams are in the running.

affirmative side of the question being upheld for the University by George Fraser and Sam Aandahl, and the negative side by Charles Wells and Llewellyn Howell for the Agricultural College.

The debate was in the form of an open forum, following the debate members of the audience were allowed to question the debaters and a secret ballot was taken on the merits of the question based upon the personal opinions of the individual and not upon the merits of the debate. The debate itself was a non-decision affair, there being no judges to weigh the material and points presented. In the open forum debate and ballot, however the people declared themselves in favor of a soldiers' bonus. The vote as made was two to one for the question, considering the fact that the audience was composed of mostly ex-service men and people who are in sympathy with the question.

The University was very cordial to the visiting debaters, entertaining them royally during their visit there; the crowd attending the debate was very small but appreciative. J. F. T. O'Connor of Grand Forks presided at the debate.

A return debate is to be held at the A. C. sometime in April, the same question to be discussed, but the schools taking the opposite sides.
