- Jan. 29—Morningside at Sioux City.
- Jan. 30—U of Des Moines at Des Moines.
- Jan. 31—Simpson College at Indianola, Ia.
- Feb. 22 and 23—U of N. D. at Grand Forks.
- March 2 and 3—District Tournament
- March 9, 10—U. N. D. at Fargo

January 16-19 Set For Grain Growers

JOHN LEE COULTER IS PRESIDENT; GORDON RANDLETT, VICE PRESIDENT; W. C. PALMER, SECRETARY

The business side of farming will be the theme of the program which is now being prepared for the twenty-fourth annual Tri-State Grain Growers convention to be held at Fargo, Jan. 16 to 19, inclusive, according to an announcement made today by W. C. Palmer, secretary of the organization.

Officers of the organization are now corresponding with some of the leading authorities of the country in farm economics, management, and kindred subjects, and the complete program and list of speakers will be announced at an early date. A number of farm organizations have already signified their intention of holding meetings in connection with the Tri-State event. Tuesday forenoon and afternoon, Jan. 16 and Wednesday evening, Jan. 17, have been assigned to the Equity Co-operative Exchange and these dates have been accepted by the secretary, G. A. Thiel. The Farm Managers' association, of which J. H. Shepperd of the Agricultural College is secretary, will meet Tuesday afternoon, Jan. 16, and Wednesday forenoon, Jan. 17. The Women's auxiliary of the TriState will hold its regular meetings, also the North Dakota Poultry association. A meeting of the U. S. Grain Growers, Inc., may also be held at that time.

John Lee Coulter, president of the North Dakota Agricultural college, was last year elected president of the Tri-State Grain Growers; Gordon W. Randlett, director of the Extension division, is vice-president, and W. C. Palmer, director of the regulatory department, is secretary.

EDWIN BOOTH ELECTS SIX

Since their last regular meeting, the Edwin Booth Dramatic Club announces the election to active membership in their organization the following people: Elsie Skadland, Lillian Thompson, Adolph Norgaard, Charles Wells, Walter Bohnsack and Horace Judd. The initiation ceremony was competed Friday evening in all due solemnity and attention to corrective discrepancies. At that time Horace Judd was elected to the position of Keeper of the Chest.

The Edwin Booth Dramatic Club aims to present one major play each term, the fall term play for this year being "Cappy Ricks;" and has always striven to build up the dramatic department of the Agricultural College.

North Dakota State's Best Stockjudging Team

The North Dakota Livestock Judging Team placed eighth among more than twenty contesting teams from the leading colleges in United States at the International Livestock Exposition this fall, and won first place in the placing of Percheron horses thus becoming the holder of the loving cup given by the Percheron Society of America.

PLEASE!

If the barracks hound who so kindly relieved the editor of his eye shade, scissors, and postage stamps Wednesday will call around again the rest of the office fixtures will be given him gladly if he is unable to provide said articles for himself.

OUR DEBATING TEAM WILL INVADE EAST

FIRST TIME A WESTERN INSTITUTION HAS MADE DEBATING TRIP THRU EASTERN TERRITORY.

JONAS STURLAUGSON

SNORRI M. THORFINNSON

The North Dakota Agricultural College debating team will leave here soon after Christmas for their tour through the east.

On the way east they will stop a day or two in Washington, D. C., then go to Connecticut Agricultural College where the first debate in the series will be held, on January sixth.

Jonas Sturlaugson, a Sophomore in the college of Agriculture and Snorri Thorfinnson, a Junior in Agriculture will make the trip. They will debate the affirmative of the question, "Resolved that the Congress of the United States should enact the Towner-Storling Education Bill into Law," against three colleges, and the negative against two. At East Lansing, they will take the negative of "Resolved that the United States Government Should Own and Operate All Coal Mines within its Borders Within Five Years," against the Michigan Aggies. This is the very first time that one of the western institutions has invaded the eastern states, and from a standpoint of closer relations with the land grant colleges of the east, the trip will be of special interest.

MID-WEST PRESS ASSOCIATION BECOMES A REALITY

AUTHENTIC ATHLETIC DOPE, INTIMATE CONFERENCE RELATIONS, AND PRESS AFFILIATIONS STRESSED; EACH SCHOOL WILL HAVE CONFERENCE EDITOR; EVANS ELECTED PRESIDENT, HERBISON EDITOR OF MONTHLY BULLETIN.

Clean athletics, authentic sport news from every college in the conference, the appointment of conference editors in each of the Mid-West conference colleges to see that reliable athletic news of interest to other colleges is sent out promptly and regularly each week, the fixing of a meeting place and annual meeting, election of officers, the drawing up and adoption of a liberal and reliable press association constitution, and a general round table discussion on points of general interest and immediate attention were the leading features of the meeting held Saturday at the University of North Dakota for the formation of the Mid-West Press association.

Each one of the above points would mean the filling of the paper with an account of the discussion given them individually. Suffice to say that each in its proper position came in for a final and satisfactory place in the Constitution and future activity of the association.

The association is bound to bring us into closer contact and really intimate relationship with each and every institution represented in the conference to date, and if no more than on an athletic basis, alone will give us in the way of returns many hundred times more than represented by the effort each one of us may put into it. Every editor and representative is for it absolutely and it has received the hearty endorsement and good will of the conference officials.

With a good start and no serious obstacles, we expect and will see the Mid West Press Association one of the factors in the success of the conference.

E. Verle Deach, sports writer for the Spectrum, and an enthusiastic student of journalism and sport news is to be North Dakota State's Conference Editor from now on, and will, we are sure, put our athletic program together with that of the conference in the eyes of the public in a manner to reflect credit on him and our institution.

A monthly bulletin will be published by the Mid West Press Association in the interest of the conference. The (Continued on Page 2)

GEO. DEWY, OREGON. AGGIE STAR FAMOUS COACH REPORTS SOON

DEWEY HAS ENVIABLE RECORD AS A COACH IN ALL THREE BRANCHES OF ATHLETICS; BASKETBALL IS HIS LONG SUIT AND HE'LL DEVELOP ANOTHER CHAMPIONSHIP TEAM HERE THIS WINTER TO START THE BALL ROLLING; HAS HAD TRAINING UNDER SOME OF GREATEST COLLEGE COACHES.

FOOTBALL LETTERS ARE GIVEN OUT TO 19 MEN

Varsity football letters were awarded to nineteen men at a meeting of the Athletic Association, Monday evening. Those who will receive their football insignia are: Loss, Robbins, Huil, Latimer, Bruegger, Boise, Duerner, Chaney, Harper, Bohnsack, Rumpeltes, Gunderson, Hicks, Buchanan, Birkhoffer, Arnold, Bridgeford, Utte and Berrigan.

NOTICE

Announcement has been made that the Agassiz photographic contest will be indefinitely postponed at the request of some students who have not had time to prepare their pictures. Bear this in mind if you will and make another try for the prizes being offered you.

PERCY FLEM PILOTS '23 BASKETBALL TEAM

Percy I. Flem is captain of this year's basketball machine which with six veteran letter men back give promise of being the best team A. C. has had. This year finds Fitz playing his last year of college basketball, having been a regular for A. C. the last three years and finding himself a place as all-state guard.

SKATING RINK READY SOON

With the advent of the initial steps being taken to provide a grassy surface for A. C. lovers of the tubes and sticks, and the weather man's promise to give us what we want exactly we can get ready to resurrect that old hockey stick, find our mittens, and tubes and come out some of these nights for an evening of real outdoor sport.

If you don't know how to skate yet, come out anyway. This is the place to learn and fair coeds especially will have no trouble in finding willing instructors at all times.

George Dewey, former Oregon Aggie star and famous coach in Pacific Coast Athletics, will report here soon to assume the responsibilities of Assistant Athletic Director and Coach, according to an announcement made today by Athletic Director Stanley E. Borleske. Dewey will have charge of Basketball at the A. C. While playing on Coast teams he was selected twice on the all-conference basketball eleven and his remarkable record as a coach proves that he can deliver the goods. On the coast he has turned out championship teams in basketball, football and track.

Dewey has been selected because of his successful record as a basketball coach and also because he has a very good record in football and track. A study of his athletic career shows that he has had training under the following well known mentors:

- Jackson high school—Joel Mitchell of Carlyle—football.
- Purdue—"Pa" Fleming of Purdue—football.
- Purdue—"Wilson" of Illinois—track
- U of Wisconsin—"Tom Barry" of Brown—Football.
- U of Wisconsin—"Hack" Noyce of Yale—Basketball.
- U of Wisconsin—Dr. Hutchinson, Springfield—Training track
- Jackson Y. M. C. A.—Walter Ward Springfield, Training—Basketball.
- Oregon Aggies—Sam Dolan of Notre Dame—football.
- Oregon Aggies—Dr. E. J. Stewart, of Massilon Tigers—Basketball
- U of California—Andy Smith of U of Penn.—BB, FB and Track.

Dewey has coached in three high schools in Portland, Oregon, and has turned out championship teams in football, basketball and track. He coached the football team of the Multnomah Club for one season and developed an eleven which compared favorably with the strongest University teams on the coast. He had charge of Basketball at the same club for three years and he won from all of the best University teams on the coast.

As references he gave a very favorable list including many of the most prominent athletic men in the country and among whom was Fred Bohler who is a member of the National rules committee for basketball.

There is no doubt as to the ability of the new assistant coach for he was selected in preference to a large number of candidates for the position on the merit of his success as a coach in competition with the best mentors on the Pacific coast. It is expected that he will remain here permanently to assist in building up the athletic department as he accepted the position with that in mind, subject to satisfaction of work that he accomplishes.

VARSITY PRACTICE BEGINS

Opening practice for basketball was held last Monday and suits were issued to a total of thirty two men. Six of last years letter men drew their equipment. They are Flem (this year's captain), Trowbridge, Bohnsack, Bute, Crieve, and Wilson. According to the large squad that is out there is going to be a hot race for positions on the varsity and any predictions at the present time would certainly be very uncertain. Aside from the wealth of high school material that will be trying out for the first string this year, there will be a number of experienced players, who have made their college letters elsewhere who will make strong bids for positions. With such a large squad out and a competent coach engaged to whip them into line, prospects for a big basketball season are very bright.

"RAZZING"

Anyone who has spent several years around college knows the tendency of the students to frankness in pointing out faults, tho it is always done in an inoffensive way. Yet there is much real good accomplished by the talks in which a man is "razzed" by everyone present.

Generally the one undergoing the ordeal, if it can be called such takes it good-naturedly and thinks little of it at the time. He is using all his gray matter to think of a "comeback" that will be hot enough to turn the tide of criticism from him to his adversary.

But after he has gone to his room he begins to think, and wonders if there is truth in the statements that were made while the boys were "riding" him downstairs. Little by little light appears and he resolves to correct those faults. And he does, for he knows that they will be harped upon by his friends until he shows improvement.

This general fault-finding, though carried to extremes in these informal talks around the fireplace, is often productive of good results, and many a successful college man will attribute much of his success to the fact that his weak points were so unmercifully pointed out to him time after time that he naturally threw them off and thus escaped the handicap which they would have given him.

BE A SALESMAN

Examinations are here, the term is over, and Christmas is only a matter of a few more days now. You are going home to see the folks and the old bunch and—tell them about A. C.

You probably realize by this time just what a wonderful little college the N. D. A. C. is but why not let your community get in on it too? A few hints dropped around as to our increased enrollment, faculty personnel, buildings, athletic teams, forensics, the best dramatic department in the northwest, the liveliest up and going organizations possessed by an institution of its size, and the A. C. spirit of give and take can do wonders by way of advertising our school. Its you yourself that people will judge your institution by and if you lie down on the job you won't be a bit bigger than your college and your college won't be a bit better than you and your pal are yourselves. It's just what you make it you know and you can't do too much.

Have you noticed how the boys from the U in your home town talk university and have their people doing the same thing? They do it and get away with it. It's time we were doing likewise only just a little bit more of it than the other fellow.

There are millions of talking points for us—get busy and make them acknowledged facts.

WHY?

Many of us have been wondering of late just what material difference it makes to the world at large whether we have the privilege of taking reference books from the college library to our rooms at night where we have access to our typewriter, paper, advice, and peace and quiet in making detailed reports of some dried up correlation work requiring five or six hours of concentration, or spend the same amount or more of time with the same book in the library study rooms with nothing much to work with, and the necessity of skipping classes, basketball, or important engagements that we may comply with the wishes of the powers that be behind the library and the prof who delights in seeing us suffer at the same time.

If some one can explain to the satisfaction of all concerned why a monopoly of the book in the daytime is more justifiable than the same at night when no more than one might use it anyway, he will surely be given a hearty vote of thanks by what now consists of some forty "would but can't be" offenders.

OUR DEBATING TEAM

In ten days A. C. sends her debating team on a trip the like of which has never been attempted before by any institution west of the river; and in a clear cut instance gives example of the way the North Dakota Agricultural College is fast coming to the front in the rank of Collegiate "who's who."

Our team consisting of Snorri Thorfinnson and Joe Sturlaugson is one of which we may be justly proud for as promoters of the forensic element in our circles they have had no equals in the history of the institution and from past experience have proven themselves of the mettle that makes winners everywhere, every place, and every time—no matter what the tentative decision may be.

In the past and to a large extent still, the student who exemplifies intellectual advancement has not fully appreciated debating as a sport to compete in as well as to watch. It really requires stamina, fast thinking, intelligence, and good sportsmanship to make a winning debating team and in reality a debate is a fiercely fought battle of wits and brains furnishing as much amusement and interest as any athletic battle.

As to our forensic warriors, we want to say that we are for you every time and want you to know that we are proud to have you represent A. C. in your line of endeavor.

THAT YELLOW SHEET

There appeared in divers parts and places of our campus and city Tuesday evening an anonymous yellow sheet neatly folded and typed in student fashion containing thereon a collection of bunk, warped humor, and general phrases and rumor intended to queer certain students and their affiliations without the author having to go thru the inconvenience of coming out in the open and showing his hand.

While probably not immediately connected or linked up with the editorial page of the Spectrum, it does warrant a little comment and discussion. Truly a snake in the grass who hasn't the stamina and backbone to come out and fight fair but relies on the promiscuous circulation of such stuff in gaining his end is no object of student admiration and respect. When there comes a time when it becomes necessary to make public certain things the sponsor of said publicity can find many channels already fixed for his convenience by faculty and student bodies of his alma mater.

Secrecy is a fine way of cracking an individual or society—providing you can find suckers to believe in the sincerity and integrity of a backbiter who doesn't possess the first principle of manhood sticking by your statements and letting the world know who, why, and what you really are and stand for.

Come again,—ye editor of the yellow sheet—just a few more times and you will find just where and how much of a figure you cut around A. C.

TRULY TOMMY KNOWS ALL

Of late none other than the famous Thomas Edison, mechanic inventive genius, and self-appointed philosopher on any and every thing has advanced his opinions of college students as a whole, the basis on which they and their institutions stand, and as a final, overwhelming, supposed to be a knockout to us all—conclusion to his elaborative attempts at proving his point, springs on us another of his (in) famous efficiency charts or set of trick intelligence questions. All of which is very nice—and makes good reading and comment for the general public.

We can admit readily enough that Thomas is—as he himself boasts—a self-made man; and as such yield him all honor which his constructive works afford him, but we are inclined to think that like most self-made men he worships his creator and plasters up numerous holes in his propoganda with a thick coat of self-conceit.

Altho Edison claims that college men object to a job with much work, show no imagination, have few or no suggestions to offer the world, that if one amounts to anything at all he needs no college education to broaden himself, and that we have now too many lawyers, doctors, literary men, etc., statistics still prove that ninety per cent of college men are successful and rise to prominence, and those in position to know best maintain that our college students possess the very qualities that Tommy denies them.

As to his mental tests, efficiency questions, education, etc, we will take them in all due seriousness and in return give him a set of questions we have at our command that we may determine just how much stock we are to take in Mr. Edison and his advances. (Can Thomas Edison answer these?:)

1. Are inhabitants of Mars annoyed by college yells?
2. In what year did the battle of Broiled Baby Lobsters take place?
3. If a small boy wins ten marbles in one day, and it takes four eggs for a certain cake, how long will it take a cross-eyed cricket to lick a cock-roach with a cork leg? Why?
4. Which way is up? Down? Does a smile proceed from the northeast or southwest corner of the mouth?
5. What noise annoys a noisy oyster?
6. At what age does a man become childish? How old are you, Mr. Edison?
7. What mathematical trick would you utilize to convince a dean that nine unexcused absences are really three excused ones? If any?
8. What famous quotation appears on page 367, Volume LLV of the annual report of the Smithsonian Institute? Who was Thomas Edison? Why?

Spectrum Editor was chosen as editor of the Association Bulletin, and, with the help of his conference editor and the conference editors of the association, will endeavor to put the thing across in the same spirit and aims prompting the formation of the conference.

Charles Evans of the University of North Dakota, was elected president for the coming year, Roy Justins of Morningside, vice-president, Lee Larson, of South Dakota State, Secretary and Treasurer, and Herbert W. Herbison, North Dakota State, Editor of the Monthly Bulletin.

South Dakota State was chosen as the place for the second annual meeting of the association, to take place the day before their Hobo or homecoming day. A meeting of the college representatives will be arranged for also during the track meet at Morningside this spring.

Putnam, Harrell and Stanley Borleske will pour.

The holiday colors will be used in the home decorations. Red candles, evergreen and baskets of gold and silver fruit will be used on the tables in the dining room.

Christmas trees with colored lights will be the main decorative touch at the armory.

Cc-Eds Will Have A Varsity Quint for '23

Athletic enthusiasm has prevailed the ranks of the coeds at the North Dakota Agricultural College to such an extent that 50 candidates are out to make the women's basketball team, and are reporting daily for practice, according to Glade Latimer, manager of the team.

A series of class games will open the season, and an official women's quintet to represent the college will be picked from among the stellar performers on the Freshman, Sophomore, and Upper Class teams. The schedule for the winter is being arranged and games are already assured with the University of North Dakota, Concordia College and Ellendale Normal school.

"The Seasons" Is Prof. Allen's First Book

"The Seasons" is the first book published by C. A. Allen, A. B., English instructor in the Science and Literature department now on sale at the A. C. Bookstore. A brief outline of the work, as it is, might be given as follows:

"This poem presents high ideals with a beautiful description of nature and its scenery. These vivid pictures are typical of any rolling timbered region in northern part of the United States. The activities of man are left in the background except where harvesting changes the appearance of the landscape. However, during the maple sugar season man becomes an observer of the life of the season.

"The four seasons of the year are followed thru with suggestions from the phenomena of nature vividly described in pleasant and inspiring language. The spirit of Easter, of Christmas, and the Ideal of Democracy are eulogized. The poem ends with a conclusion summarizing in clear and vivid language the beautiful pictures portrayed.

"This poem is an ideal gift book, in good taste on any occasion. It may be good taste on any occasion. It may be author himself.

Buckeyes Leading In Volley Ball Tournament

MUCH INTEREST SHOWN BY THE FACULTY MEN; OVER THIRTY GAMES PLAYED TO DATE

With the last game of the tournament to be played today the Buckeye team with Professor G. E. Miller as captain has cinched first place on the tournament and will be honor guests at a banquet furnished at the expense of the losing teams. The hottest battle at present is between the Illini, Boiler-makers, and Wolverines who are at the bottom of the list and contending for membership on the K. P. force which was agreed to be composed of members of the losing team.

The latest scores available show the teams in the following rank: Buckeyes, Gophers, Maroons, Boiler-makers, Illini, Wolverines.

Much interest has been shown by the faculty in volley ball this year and the thirty games of the tournament along with occasional practice has made their "adry dozen" very pleasant to take indeed.

The personnel of the winning team is as follows: Prof. G. E. Miller, Captain, Dr. H. L. Foust, Theodore Thorfinnson, Prof. H. D. Long, Prof. F. C. Householder, and Professor W. G. Couey

They will be the honor guests at the banquet to be given at the Y within the next few days.

College To Help With Annual Poultry Show

Educational features and demonstrations will be stressed this year at the twenty-ninth annual poultry show of the North Dakota Poultry association to be held on the lower floor of the Fargo auditorium January 15 to 19, according to an announcement by O. A. Barton of the board of directors. The show will be held during the sessions of the Tri-state Grain Growers convention.

Culling and grading demonstrations exhibits of dressed poultry, an enlarged turkey show, an exhibit of poultry feeds and an exhibit stressing the value of culling the flock an selecting breeding stock are included in special features supplementing the display of poultry breeds. E. G. Roberts of Ft. Atkinson, Wisconsin, will again judge the stock exhibited at the show.

EBLING HEADS GLEE CLUB

Claude Ebling and Phil Balsley were elected President and Business manager, respectively of the North Dakota Agricultural College Glee Club Tuesday noon.

Besides election of officers and outlining in general the year's activity, the club have actually scheduled meets with the University of North Dakota and Jamestown college to take place in the coming winter and spring terms.

At present the personnel of the club does not exceed eighteen and with a quota of twenty five songsters allotted us Doc is anxious to have every man in school try out his vocal powers at his earliest convenience.

"THE MAN WHO CAME BACK"

At the Orpheum William A. Brady's production of "The Man Who Came Back," dramatized by Jules Eckert Goodman from a short story by John Fleming Wilson, will be the attraction, with Robert Armstrong and Peggy Allenby in the principle roles.

In the story young Henry Potter has been sowing his wild oats and spending his money recklessly; he is called to account by his father. The father warns the son that all allowances will be stopped until he makes a mark in business. Young Potter goes to a notorious San Francisco resort, where he falls in love with Marcelle, a concert and cabaret singer, who dislikes the nature of the life she has been led into, and declares her longing to return to better surroundings. Potter realizes that the girl has fallen in love with him at first sight, and asks that she return with him to New York, but Marcelle rejects his proposal. Agents of the elder Potter are sent to watch the young man, and it is decided that his mode of living must terminate. To accomplish this they drug him and send him to Shanghai, China. Looking for liquor after his arrival he enters an opium den, where to his dismay, he finds Marcelle, a confirmed dope fiend. The girl confesses to Potter she followed him to Shanghai and gradually became addicted to the drug. Here he wo lovers agree to leave for other parts and begin life anew.

The young couple, happy and contented, go to the Potter Pinery in Honolulu. Here a sister of young Potter visits them and tries to prevail upon him to forsake his young wife and go back with her to their father. He refuses and Marcelle, believing she stands in the way of his future happiness, pretends to have again taken to the drug habit, in order that he will leave her. But this fails to turn her husband against her; she admits that she has been shamming and tells him to go to his father, saying she will follow. He insists that she accompany him and so they journey back to New York, where the elder Potter welcomes the young couple rejoicing in the fact that his son was able to "come back."

SPECIAL COURSES

Business Training, Draftsmen and Builders, Farm Husbandry, Homemakers, Power Machinery. THIS COLLEGE offers to the young people of this state an education which is thoroughly in line with modern thought and demands. It spends no time on dead languages or such subjects as are of little practical value. It aims to fit young men and women to think and investigate for themselves; to deal intelligently with the social, agricultural and industrial problems of the day.

THE LABORATORIES are thoroughly equipped, and the instructors are specialists in their line. Exceptional advantages are offered in chemistry, physics, botany, literature, mathematics, engineering, and the social, economic and political sciences.

Graduates from Approved High Schools are admitted to the Freshman class. Board and Room $6.25 to $7.50 Per week.

WRITE TO THE REGISTRAR FOR CIRCULARS, CATALOG, AND ADMISSION BLANKS

Collegiate, High School and Business Courses start September 25, 1922. The special and industrial courses open October 16, 1922

WITH OTHER SCHOOLS

The Normanslag is a new organization of the Norwegians, at central Wisconsin College, Scandinavia, Wisconsin.

The University of Minnesota now offers a course in religious instruction for students desiring to enter the ministry. A Congregational preacher will teach Christian doctrine from a liberal standpoint, an Episcopalian, a Presbyterian, and Jewish Rabbi will lecture on various subjects. Rev. Wendell of the U. L. C. (merger) applauds the new venture, while the Norwegian Synods' "Herald," asks what authority these people have for "invading the university with their religious teachings."

Campus Comment

Do your Christmas cramming early--the nerve to pull him out. (Five $$$'s and costs.)

there are some good shows coming.

Ralph Nafziger is back from a visit to the wilds of Chicago this week.

Don't forget the event of our final ter examinations Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday, December 18, 19 and 20.

Well anyway, the hide is back on Johns nose again now and the collar styles have changed.

The Athenian Literary Society announces the election to membership of Althea Reed, Helen Johnson and Doris Stewart.

"It's the little things in life that tell," said Glade as she dragged her kid sister from underneath the sofa.

The Delta Phi Beta preps presented the chapter house with a Victrola at the regular meeting held last Monday evening. Won't we have moosick now, eh, what?

The Misses Amy Euren and Ida Diller Alumnae and active representatives of the Phi Upsilon Omicron fraternity here, are in Chicago in attendance at the annual national conclave being held December 2, 3, and 4.

The happy man is the one who is doing the thing he wants to do, making the thing he wants to make, and becoming the thing he wants to become.

Oh—Trowbridge, that's the reason—quoth Abbie on finding a certain fair Ceres coed crossing off her slip at 10:20 Friday evening—(Honestly, it really did happen.)

"New Ag. Building??—Ho! Ho! Ho! (Well we had a cut of the new Ag. building alright but the 'bloomin' thing got mixed up with old Francis on us and the editor was too sleepy to tell the difference in the dark—All due apologies etc.)

Marriage of college students--the exception in American colleges--is common in Russia, it is revealed in a study of Russian students on the part of the American Relief Administration.

"No lights in the house, dodged one chair and fell over another in bumping head on kitchen table"—states Matt in summarizing the process by which he derives his shiner and sundry blemishes resultant Monday morning.—Not so bad for a kid to do.

Fisk—(after the first twenty blocks Saturday night): "Are you tired of walking?"

His sweet young thing "O goodness yes—"

Fisk—"Alright, then, let's run for a while!"

Ben McCaul and Burt Oderkirk have returned to their happy homes and Phi brothers from the International. Burt is suffering somewhat from being kicked in the leg by a steer but is managing to drag himself around nevertheless.

Cy Mergens is thoroughly convinced that there is nothing else that can cause a fellow more grief than a Ford. Cy broke his arm while cranking the 'bloomin' jit and then the thing very mysteriously disappeared from its abode behind the house and as yet has not returned.

—This happened last spring (you see a friend of Pats' happened in yesterday and we just got it all. The gist of it is as follows): For hours they had been together on the front porch. The moon cast its tenderest gleams down on the young couple who sat strangely far, far apart. Pat sighed, she sighed. Finally, "I wish I had money, dear", Pat said, "I'd travel." Impulsively she slipped her hand into Pats; then rising, she sped into the house.

Aghast, Pat looked at his hand—in his palm lay seven cents.

Captain and Mrs. Evans entertained members of the Scabbard and Blade Tuesday evening at dinner. Everybody reports the captains cigars as being first class smokes.

Speaking of sad, sad stories, one of the saddest is the near drowning of Hilman Kjolrie last summer, while besporting himself in the pond at Bismarck Labor Day. The button came off his bathing suit and the poor cuss was nearly gone before anyone had Louie Jorgenson dropped in on frat brothers at the Rho house over Sunday.

THETA CHI GIVES DINNER PARTY
 Theta Chi fraternity entertained rushees and alumni at a six o'clock dinner at the chapter house Sunday evening.

S. & B. GUESTS OF EVANS
 Members of Scabbard and Blade Fraternity were guests of Captain Evans at five course dinner Tuesday evening.

At a meeting of the Athenian Literary Society on Thursday evening, the members enjoyed an Old Fashioned Musical in place of the regular meeting. The room was decorated like an old fashioned sitting room, and the president and secretary in costume greeted the members and then welcomed in the persons who furnished the evening program.

A pipe, said to be the first ever smoked by a white man and which is claimed to have been the personal property of Sir Walter Raleigh, English nobleman, is on display in the window of the Topic Billiard Parlors this week, on Broadway. The pipe was brought here by a representative of neastern tobacco firm, the owners. It carries insurance to the amount of five thousand dollars.

The pipe, in itself, is a curious piece of workmanship, said to have been fashioned by the Indians living on the east coast before the time of the white man in America. It is fifteen inches high and is apparently fashioned from the foot of a tree. At the top of an upright hollow tube, the mouth-piece extends out at an angle. Farther down a large bowl is attached and the whole is mounted on a stand and while on display is covered with ass.

HAYLOFT FESTIVITY SCENE MON.
 The class in Public Discussion held their annual banquet in the Hay Loft, Monday evening. The Home Economic department furnished the food for the occasion, and the decorations, menus, music and toasts were arranged by the members of the class.

BEARDSLEY TALKS TO SADDLE AND SIRLOIN
 The third monthly meeting of the Saddle and Sirloin club went off in fine style Tuesday evening, with a program of talks, movies, music, with Beardsley, dairy efficiency expert, as the speaker of the evening. An informal gathering followed in the hayloft at which coffee, apples and doughnuts disappeared with alarming rapidity.

ALPHA KAPPA PHI ELECTS
 The Alpha Kappa Phi fraternity announces the initiation into active membership of Philip Fitzgerald of Fargo, and Cyril Mergens of Fairmount, North Dakota.

A. K. P.'S HOLD STAG
 An informal "stag" party was held for a number of the new men at the Alpha Kappa Phi fraternity after their all-college party in the armory Friday evening.

COMMUNITY MEETINGS HELD
 Community meetings to adopt a program of agricultural extension work for the coming year are being held in 33 counties of North Dakota this month with the co-operation of the county extension agents, according to E. A. Willson, state supervisor of extension methods.

NORTH DAKOTA'S BEES BUSIEST
 North Dakota bees do more work and less buzzing than any other bees in the country as evidenced by the fact that this state leads the United States with an average of 157 pounds of honey produced for each colony or hive of bees in 1922, according to figures received from the bureau estimates by A. L. Webster, entomologist here.

SPECTRUM GOES THIRD
 The Weekly Spectrum, official publication of the students of North Dakota Agricultural College was awarded third place in a student paper contest held in connection with the Midwest Press Association meeting Saturday at the University. First place was given The Student, of U. N. D., and second place to the Industrial Collegian, S. Dak. State. Judging was done on a basis of style, makeup, content, collegiate representation, and this year's and last year's work.

BETAS' BAZAAR GOES O. K.
 Delta Phi Beta sorority report having had a very successful bazaar last Saturday, and their dancing party given in the evening went off in fine shape with every one enjoying himself immensely.

LITERARYS STAGE PROGRAM
 Castalian and Hesperian literary societies held a joint meeting in the Y. M. C. A. Wednesday evening, at which time an enjoyable program was given by the members and connected faculty members

MAJOR HARRELL HOST TONITE
 Major and Mrs. W. F. Harrell will be hosts to the officers of the R. O. T. C. at a six o'clock dinner tonight by way of extending their good will and friendship over the holidays to the major's prodigies
