STOCK JUDGING CONTEST NEXT SATURDAY

Keen Competition Expected

The students' annual Stock Judging Contest will be held Saturday, March 5th, at the judging pavilion. This contest has grown to be one of the most interesting and instructive features of college work due to the great interest in pure bred livestock taken by the students of agriculture.

Any student is eligible, providing he has not been one of the members representing this institution on the judging teams that have competed at the International Livestock Show at Chicago.

The Animal Husbandry Department is not certain of having prizes to offer, as has been the custom in the past, but may be able to offer one prize, that one being to the high score man in the contest. However, the classification for the prizes will be the same as in previous years, namely for the high score man in the contest on all classes of livestock and the high score men in each class of livestock. The classes will consist of horses, beef cattle, dairy cattle, hogs and sheep.

The limited number of contestants is placed at sixty in order to facilitate proper judging and handling of the livestock. The contest will begin promptly at 8 a. m. All contestants are asked to assemble at that time in the pavilion to receive instructions. Those wishing to participate in this contest, kindly hand in names at once to Professor Thompson or Professor Severson.

There will be two rings of each class of livestock. Fifty per cent will count on the placing of the rings and fifty per cent on oral reasons given, substantiating the placing of the rings.

The contests in the past have drawn quite a number of visitors and it is hoped that this year will be no exception.

The interest in livestock at this institution has each year shown a great increase. Larger institutions in this country have recognized the fact that North Dakota has some real stock men. Due to this increase and also to the increase in the number of students in this department, the students should be furnished with more and better livestock. This institution should have the best livestock in the state, because it sets the standard that others follow; also, the impressions of the ideal type of livestock are acquired here. Therefore we should have the best of stock for the students to see while their minds are being moulded to acquire the proper ideas in this branch of work.

INSTITUTIONAL BANQUET HELD

Message sent to Dr. Ladd

A merry crowd of faculty, alumni, students and representatives of the various divisions of the college gathered in the dining room of Ceres Hall for the institutional banquet on Saturday last. The banquet is an annual occurrence, but it had this year an added significance in that it was also a farewell banquet in honor of our departing president, E. F. Ladd.

Dr. P. F. Trowbridge presided as toastmaster, and created much mirth by his witticisms, some of which were exceedingly spicy.

Dean A. D. Weeks spoke for the faculty and dwelt especially on the theme of real service and productive labor as exemplified in the career of Dr. Ladd. He gave as the mission of colleges and universities the teaching of such service, and stated that if the message were missed, then those institutions might as well shut their doors.

Matthew Tindall acted as spokesman for the students, and came quite up to his usual effective standard.

The alumni were fittingly represented by Mrs. Mary Darrow Wetble, one of the first girl graduates of A. C. She presented many interesting recollections of the college as it once was.

Mr. Totten, chairman of the Board of Administration, was unable to be present, but his place was most ably filled by Mr. Cahill, who explained clearly and vividly some of the difficulties with which the Board has to contend, and also something of the effort the Board is making to secure exactly the right man for our future president.

Dean E. S. Keene, now acting president, closed the evening's toasts with amusing reminiscences of the time when the college was in its infancy and two of its now most prominent men, E. F. Ladd and H. L. Bolley, were young fellows engaging in good-humored, boyish altercation.

The company then adjourned to the Armory, where a reception was held and the remainder of the evening spent in dancing. A message of congratulation and best wishes from the assembly was wired to Dr. Ladd at Washington.

H. S. ALUMNA WEDS

Announcement comes to us of the marriage of Miss Mary Crosby and Mr. G. C. Andert, February 24th, at the Lutheran Parsonage in Moorhead. Miss Crosby is a graduate of the A. M. T. H. S., class of 1919, and since her graduation has been engaged in teaching. Mr. Andert comes from West Bend, Iowa.

The Spectrum wishes the greatest of happiness and success to Mr. and Mrs. Andert.

NEW ELIGIBILITY RULES PROPOSED

The Committee on Eligibility, which consists of Professor Minard, Dean Keene, and Dr. Reynolds, with Registrar Parrott assisting, has made a preliminary report regarding a modification of the rules at present governing student activities. So far the new rules, which are given below, are only tentative, and the Committee will welcome constructive criticism. Here is a very good chance for interested, earnest students to show some effective co-operation.

ENGINEERS STAGE EXCITING SCENES

"Rough and Ready" Their Motto

The Lyceum of Engineers gave its first annual Wild West Carnival and Dance at the Armory on Friday evening, February 25. The members of the Lyceum must be given credit for "pulling off" something new and startling in the line of entertainment. It was really wild and woolly, and reminiscent of the old western days when Alkali Ike and Two-Gun Pete and their brethren herded cattle across our plains and when a brace of guns and a quick draw settled all disputes. Cowboys, rigged up in all the paraphernalia of regular old-style western cowpunchers, complete to chaps, flannel shirts, and six-shooters that occasionally went off with a loud bang, were much in evidence. Even a preacher who carried a book and wore a worried air as they do in movies, was present. Two-Gun Pete, the Texas Kid, and Faro Paul paraded around, flourished guns and gloried in the hardness of their make-up. The scene was complete, even to the la-

KRAEMER'S PETS COP ANOTHER

Team Coached by Varsity Captain Trims Model High.

The Preps, coached by Jack Kraemer, decisively trimmed the University Model High School quint at Grand Forks last Tuesday evening by the score of 26 to 11.

The first part of the game was rather even, the score for the greater part of the first half being tied, each team having six points. The Preps' superiority soon showed, however, and they gradually drew away from the Model quint, the half ending 12 to 9 in their favor.

In the second half the Preps found themselves, holding the Model High scoreless until the last minute when Farquier slipped in the only counter for the Model high in this period. The Preps gathered 14 points this period.

For the Preps there were no stars, the whole team playing well, while Couey and Campbell played strong games for the Model quint.

The line-up and summary follow:

MILITARY BALL SET FOR MARCH 18

Open To Students and Invited Guests

The Sixth Annual Military Ball, rival of the Junior Prom in the social calendar of the year, will be staged on March 18th, the last Friday of the winter term. The Military Ball was the conception of Major F. B. Carrithers, the first year of his service as commandant here at the college. Since that time it has been an annual affair, looked forward to with expectancy as one of the big events of the school year. The members of the battalion and band have laid their plans well and assure the students of the college that this year's ball will be equal to, if not better than, the celebrated one of last year.

An open invitation is issued to all students of the Agricultural College, while personal invitations will be sent to friends of the students outside of the school. If you have a friend whom you think should receive an invitation speak to Ogden Brauer or Arvil Chelness of the committee on invitations.

The order of the evening will be the uniform for all ex-service men and members of the cadet corps; for the others, appropriate evening dress. Informal dancing will commence at 8:30 p. m., with the opening of the ball by a grand march at nine o'clock sharp. A tasty luncheon will be served between the hours of ten and eleven.

An admittance charge of two dollars will be made at the door. Guests from outside the college will please present card.

MONTANA STATE LOSES DEBATE

Debating before a capacity house in the Little Country Theatre on Monday last, Ethel McGuigan and Snorri Thorfinnson, intercollegiate debaters for A. C., won a unanimous decision over Montana State College. The A. C. debaters presented the affirmative of the question, "Resolved, that the Chinese Exclusion Act should be extended to include the Japanese." Both debaters did excellent work, and showed the results of the painstaking study which they have given the subject.

Montana was represented by Ray Eckton and Leon Fayers, both of whom put up very good initial arguments, but could not quite compete with the efficient rebuttal of the affirmative.

Theodore Thorfinnson presided, and Judge A. T. Cole, Attorney J. F. Frame, and W. O. Lippit, Superintendent of Schools at Fergus Falls, officiated as judges.

After the contest, a feed in honor of the visitors, was held in the Hayloft.

We Lose to South Dakota.

News comes from Brookings, that our team representing the negative of the same question, lost to South Dakota State College by a two to one decision.

AGGIES WALK AWAY WITH FARGO COLLEGE

A. C. Wins City Title

Before one of the largest crowds that has turned out for a basket ball game in Fargo this year Fargo College went down to their second defeat of the season before the Aggies last Thursday evening, the score being 32 to 8.

A hard fought game was anticipated, but after the first eight minutes of play the Preachers weakened and the Aggies, with every man on the team playing furiously, set a stride that was too fast for Watkins' aggregation to stop.

A half hour concert by the band preceded the battle and "pepped" the Aggie rooters long before the team appeared.

The game was called for 8 o'clock sharp, but owing to the fact that five of the Fargo College men were late the game was delayed about fifteen minutes.

Reis and Van Arnum started the game at forward and Captain Kraemer and Flem at guard. Hildre was center against Duncan. Duncan got the first tip-off and Fargo carried the ball down to their goal, but failed to score. The Aggies then started their old teamwork and scored on a pass from Reis to Flem. Fargo then started a pretty passing game but their teamwork was soon shattered by Kraemer and Flem.

Fargo College used all five of their men on the offensive. The Aggies broke thru repeatedly and a number of field goals gave them a good lead. The first half ended 12 to 3 in the Aggies' favor. During this period Carlson, of Fargo College, missed seven free throws.

Second Half

In this half Severson and Trowbridge replaced Reis and Van Arnum, while Fargo sent in three new men.

Fargo scored first on another free throw. Hildre then rung a field goal and Flem tallied a free throw on a foul on Ulrich. Severson scored next, and Trowbridge followed with another field goal.

Coach Watkins then sent in three new men but they failed to stop the teamwork of the Aggies. Mares was sent in for Hildre and stayed in for the remainder of the game, playing strong at center. Wilson replaced Kraemer and Butte was sent in later for Flem. During the last half Fargo College showed some of their old traditional fight but were not as strong as usual. During this period they made only one field goal which was put thru the ring on a freak shot by Ellis.

The Aggies showed up very well after their strenuous battle with the University on Tuesday. Reis and Van Arnum played good floor games and passed well together. Kraemer and Flem played an excellent de-

ELECTION IN NEAR FUTURE

The annual election of officers of the Young Men's Christian Association will be held in the very near future. The officers will include a President, Vice President, Recorder, President of High School Cabinet, and President of Industrial Course Cabinet.

Membership in the Association is open to every man on the campus who signs application. ONLY MEMBERS CAN VOTE. A short time ago an application blank was mailed to every man on the campus. If you have not received this, or have neglected for any reason to sign and return it, get busy at once. Otherwise you may be deprived of the right to vote.

The Association is an all-college organization, and is at all times seeking the best interests of the entire student body and of the school; hence every man on the campus should plan to take part in the election of its officers.

SONQUIST SPEAKS

On last Sunday afternoon Dave Sonquist, of the class of 1914, gave a most interesting talk in the Y. auditorium. He has but recently returned from Siberia, where he was engaged in Y. M. C. A. work. On his way home he spent some time in China with Ray Sweetman, and hence he was able to give his hearers first-hand information in regard to that country, as well as to furnish them with a clear-cut idea of some of the complexities to be found in the Russian situation.

STUDENTS ASK FOR SECOND COACH

Last Wednesday a student mass meeting was held in the Armory for the purpose of drawing up a petition asking the Board of Administration to allow the A. C. to retain a second coach the year around. The meeting was in charge of Hamlet Larson. Coach Borleske spoke most of the period, explaining the reasons set forth in a recent Spectrum and pointing out the need of more and better physical training at the A. C. He brought out the necessity of having a second coach, especially in training a football squad.

The petitions were then circulated, both at the meeting and around the campus, and 650 signatures were secured.

COMPANY A TAKES PART IN WASHINGTON'S BIRTHDAY EXERCISES

Stages Snappy Drill Adding Much to Evening's Program at City Auditorium.

On Tuesday evening, Washington's Birthday, Company A of the North Dakota Agricultural college Cadet Corps journeyed to the Fargo Auditorium where they gave fifteen minutes of close order drill and the manual of arms, as a part of the American Legion's program for the evening. The company, composed of the best drilled men in Company A and a complement from B and C companies, appeared on the floor at nine-thirty under the command of Lieut. Geo. Bohlig. In spite of the immense crowd and consequent lack of floor space, the company executed their close order movements without a hitch, and the manual of arms executed in series brought forth much favorable comment from the onlookers.

Competing against Company A were the Royal Neighbor's Drill Team of girls and a Boy Scout team. A purse of twenty dollars was the award to the team winning first place which was decided by the volume of applause given the captain of each team upon his presentation on the stage. The three judges were either hard of hearing or prejudiced in favor of the fair sex, else we are sure Company A would have taken the first honors, which were awarded to the girls.

LOST IN TRANSIT

Lost in Transit—Six suitcases with prominent identification marks. Finder please return to Miss Florence Isensee, Agric. College.

The above was clipped from the Courier-News "lost and found" columns of last Sunday morning's issue. We understand that this loss has caused great mental perturbation on the part of Miss Isinsky.

We understand that the suitcases contained the following necessary life sustaining contents: powder puffs and powder for same, soap bones, dry crackers, Campbell soup can, beauty glasses (showing signs of hard usage), and miscellaneous items which modesty forbids mentioning.

The outside description (Who'd have thought it?) contains rather familiar terms to those who use strong language, such as !!!?!X!

Anyone finding any articles answering to the above description will confer a great favor by reporting said information to Miss Isinsky.

Later Notice

As we are about to go to press word comes that detectives have located half a truckload of suitcases answering to the above description. Identification pictures have been taken of the same.

Mr. Edward Judd stopped off a few days for a visit with his brother, after which he will leave for Cando, his home. Mr. Judd has been attending the University of Southern Minnesota at Austin. He was a student here in 1917.

mented bar which passed out of existence so recently; the games of chance where the gallant cowboys took their fair partners and played, winning candies and favors for them; and the bally-hoos and barkers, 'n' everything—nothing cut and dried about this dance. No one appeared to be very much bored, or to have a chance to go to sleep, for when the orchestra wasn't orchestrating, the barkers were barking, the bad men growing badder, and the six-shooters shooting.

One of the features of the evening was the old-style western bar, where drinks were dispensed from kegs and bottles. It was made like a regular one, but unlike the old-fashioned bar, the drinks served here were very soft—so soft the bartender could stick his finger in them and did not violate the Eighteenth Amendment. However, in order to secure the proper atmosphere, bottles which once contained the "squirrel pizen" and still retained their original labels were neatly arranged on a shelf in full view behind the bar. Signs pertaining to etiquette and good conduct to guide the behavior of the crowd were tacked on the wall behind the bar. "All guests will notify the proprietor of this here hotel what disposishun he wants made of his remains in case of axident," is a sample. Bar-keep Bohnhoff and his assistants tended bar in faultless frontier manner.

The dance started off with the orchestra playing the "Calculus Blues Foxtrot," ably assisted by a volley from the rough cowboys; jazzed its way thru the "French Curve Waltz"; drummed the dancers over the "Railroad Ties Foxtrot" and the "Thumb-tack Push One-Step"; saxophone to the "Electrical Shimmy Foxtrot"; and wound up a slappety-bang good time with the "Keystone Waltz"; while the cowboys said good night with their gats.
