Mass Meeting Brings Out Strong Favorable Sentiment Toward Pres. Ladd's Campaign for Senate.

A mass meeting of the students of the N. D. A. C. was called on Monday noon, June 7, and several talks delivered by prominent members of the faculty and alumni bodies of the institution; at the end of the meeting a proposal made by one of the students was adopted, that a committee of ten representative students, faculty and alumni be appointed to draw up in proper form the will of the students in regard to the choice of Dr. Ladd as United States Senator for North Dakota. This committee also was empowered to formulate resolutions embodying the reasons for the positive stand taken by the students in regard to the candidacy.

Among the several talks delivered at this mass meeting were some which dealt with the personal side of the life of Doctor Ladd, of his many sacrifices, great and small, when there was the slightest possibility that the welfare of these works for which he was striving, was at

SEVENTEENTH ANNUAL THETA CHI RE-UNION ON TUESDAY

Phi Chapter Convention Scheduled for June 15 and 16.

On Monday and Tuesday of next week, June 15 and 16, occurs the seventeenth annual Theta Chi re-union. The program starts immediately after the close of the Commencement exercises and continues during the full two days. The closing event of the convention being the annual re-union dance as has been the custom in past years. Other features of the two days are to be the baseball game between the actives and alumni of the organization and the annual banquet held at the Theta Chi house. Preparations have long been in the making for this affair and it promises to be as successful as the past affairs of this kind have been. Between sixty and eighty alumni are expected to be present during the two days, several of these answering the call from their homes in the Eastern states. This event, coming as it does at the end of the school year with all the labor and worries of the students over with, will be a fitting grand finale to the year's work for the participating students.

PHARMICS BANQUET

The North Dakota Pharmacy Club held their annual spring banquet on Tuesday evening, June 1, at the Gardner hotel. Professor Sudro acted as toastmaster for the evening and called for remarks from various members of the class. Among those giving short talks during the evening were: Ella Caldwell, Ellen Walker, William Custer, Paul Vauler, and Professor Kimball. Pres. and Mrs. Ladd were among those present.

BETAS DANCE AT CIVIC CENTER

Thursday evening the members of the Delta Phi Beta sorority entertained themselves and their escorts at a dancing party given at the Civic Center, in honor of the three members who are about to graduate. These three members are: Miss Eleanor Pearson, Miss Mabelle Stewart, Miss Mae Dennis. Dancing was enjoyed from nine until twelve o'clock. One of the features of the evening was a dance wherein only the guests of honor for the evening were on the floor. During this dance the girl-graduates were favored with specially prepared gifts for the occasion from their sisters. Miss Ruth Schuyler and Miss Marjory Lieberg were among the alumni present.

Y. W. INDOOR PICNIC HELD

The girls of the Y. W. C. A. enjoyed a very delightful picnic supper in the gymnasium Wednesday evening. This took the place of the annual picnic which is ordinarily held in the country. Plans had been formulated for a trip to Oak Grove but the weather was too rainy to permit this trip.

The Senior Sewing Club held its last meeting at the home of Miss Mabelle Stewart last Friday. During the evening many of those present expressed themselves as to how much good they had received from the work which they had performed in this society besides the work accomplished.

SENIOR GIRLS ENTERTAINED

Miss Lewis and Miss Meadows of the faculty, entertained the Senior girls of the Home Economics course at a dinner at six o'clock in the evening of June 2. The dinner was held in the Model Dining room in Ceres Hall. The class colors of Maroon and Gold were carried out in the decorating of the room and table. Covers were laid for sixteen guests. The Misses Ladd, Sell, Mackell and Blake were among the faculty guests present.

JUNIORS ENTERTAIN SENIORS

Last Friday the class of '21 gave a spread in the Hayloft of the Little Country Theatre, to which the members of the class of '20 were invited. There were about fifty present at the banquet. The Junior-in-Charge was Leila Maxwell, who did her work as well as she has done it in the past on other class occasions which is as great a tribute as can be paid to any work.

CERES HALL

The Misses Hannah Eia and Violet Swanson of Page, N. Dak., were the guests of Alma Anderson and Pearl Swanson during the past week.

Elvira Bergstrom visited her sister, Miss Hattie Bergstrom Wednesday and Thursday of this week.

They told us not to worry,
 Not sit up late, nor cram,
 Nor feel a sense of hurry
 While taking our exam.
 So we felt no sense of hurry,
 Nor sat up late to cram,
 We didn't even worry
 And failed in our exam.

Mrs. Young of Devils Lake and Mrs. Anderson of Perley were the guests of Mrs. Kelsey last Sunday.

Miss Deworack of the Hall, entertained several members of the faculty at a luncheon Sunday evening.

KNOW ALL YE MEN BY THESE PRESENTS:—

That we, the Girls of Ceres Hall, Agricultural College, etc., being in good health (?) and more or less sane, do make, publish, depose and declare this to be our last will and testament, in the following manner, to-wit:

To Mrs. Randall we leave our cherished memory.

To our successors we willingly bequeath our time-worn excuse, "We missed the ten-thirty car,"—may they use it as well as we have.

To the faculty we leave our good name.

To those who need it Pearl Swanson leaves a smile.

To those who are possessed of the ability to use them correctly Ellen Aagenson and Maxine Salisbury leave their giggles.

To she who wants it, Edith Wehlander assigns her vocal talent.

To whoever desires it Ocena Wall accords her dexterous ability of handling the weighty money matters of the Hall.

Ellen Walker and Nettie Thompson do hereby leave Room 35 fully equipped with cigarette papers (for polishing diamonds) to Edith Jonson and Alma Anderson.

To she who is successful in obtaining it, Verna Ambuehl cedes her drag with Prof. Miller.

To some one who can appreciate them, Minnie Larson leaves her jokes.

Upon herself Anne Lange bestows her interest in athletes.

To all vamp aspirants, Pauline

Hall leaves her nine paints to be divided aliquotly.

To residents of the future, Edith Samuelson leaves her privileges of cutting classes; leaving lights on after ten-thirty; and coming in late to meals.

To humanity we leave, note-books, cribs, chewed pencils, city silverware, dishes, etc., and stray powder puffs.

To athletes to come, we leave our best wishes, traditions and school pep; may they maintain them forever.

Laura Johnson bequeaths her teeny-weeny voice to someone it more nearly fits.

Dolores Smith and Anna Jorgenson devise their privilege of getting in "some way" to Anna Bell Theimer for the summer months.

To the world in general we of Ceres Hall do hereby present a grudge against dormitory commissariats.

AD MEMORIAM.

The time has come, as indeed it must come in the existence of any undertaking of this nature, which depends for its life upon the efforts of an ever changing body of men, when this phase of the life of The Spectrum has come to an end. The life itself will go on without any question of ceasing, bearing implanted in itself, the good or harm that may have been wrecked upon it by those whose hands have swayed its activities during this past period. The lessons learned will be in part, passed on to future editors and their staffs. The advancements and improvements that have taken place, will, as have those of the past, be a source of help to those the ones who are to follow us. The mistakes and errors of judgment and management that have occurred will serve as lessons in the future and thus more than repay the inconveniences which they have brought about. We, of the present staff of The Spectrum, lay down our pens and cover our typewriters with only the regret that we could not have done more and better while the privilege of doing was ours. May the outlook of the future ever be as it is now, exceeding in brilliance the possibilities of the past but never detracting in any part from that past the wealth of traditions and stirring memories which hold it up as a goal and source of inspiration for greater strivings and deeper, closer Aggie spirit which will help us while we are engaged in mastering the trials and difficulties which the greater future will present. Once an Aggie always an Aggie, every man maintaining from the heart out that famous Spirit, as clean, as square, as unquenchable and as utterly unconquerable as it now stands and has stood for years. May The Spectrum ever fulfill its duty of upholding and carrying on this spirit.

CALL FOR YOUR AGASSIZ.

The business manager of the 1920 Agassiz, which has been off the press for the past two weeks, asks that every student who signed up for his or her Agassiz call for them as early as possible at the Registrar's office, in order that he may settle up his books and settle his accounts before the summer vacation begins. The way matters stand at present there is no accurate method of checking up on the finances of the annual and at the same time those funds that are not in, due to the delinquencies of the students in not calling for their books, greatly embarrass the financial situation for the business manager and his assistants. Kindly do your part in this at once and thus help put the finishing touches on a successful annual for this year.

THE CALL FOR THE NEW STUDENT.

Every institution of learning depends for its existence upon available new material and upon the getting of this material as new students. A state institution of the nature of the A. C. has more possibilities in the new students which may be gained than has the ordinary endowed or more or less private school, in that the greater the number of students, the greater the worth and use of the institution and the better the equipment for the instruction of these students. There is no limit to the growth of a college of the nature of ours, whereas in the other forms of schools there is as a rule a limit and usually a very low one placed on even the number of students to be admitted in one year, while the amount of equipment is constant. One might say that this latter policy would tend to bring about a higher quality of a student body and possibly a higher standard of scholarship besides permitting of more individual instruction and a better system in governing the students. These conditions, however, we find are not fulfilled in practice. The student body is rendered more cosmopolitan and thoroughly representative by the influx of all types while the standard is kept up by the automatic elimination of the unfit through their own inability to keep up with the required pace, that the normal man who is in school for business. The facilities for instruction grow apace with the student body and are only improved by increased numbers, in our state institutions. The systems used in handling the students are necessarily of the most democratic, impartial and practical nature, teaching the student to rely upon himself and his own efforts and as much as possible upon his own judgment, guiding and correcting only when necessary and then with due firmness, thus building men as active, able forces and not as mere useless human storehouses of absorbed texts. Thus it may be seen that there is no reason why a student should not give a state institution equality with, if not a preference over, the less practical and usually more expensive, endowment school, when he is planning his college work.

Our position as a leader of the state schools in North Dakota cannot be assailed. In proof of our strength of student body we cite this year's athletics wherein we were state champions in two major branches of sport, football and baseball. Our student body in itself is as representative of the state as may be found, as was shown by statistics of the past winter which reported students from every county, save two, in the state. The school spirit of the North Dakota Agricultural College cannot be matched among even our several neighboring states. Our campus is famous as a true beauty spot of the state and the buildings which grace it as well as their equipment have no peers in the state. The Chemistry department is known nation-wide as one of the best in the country. The Agricultural courses are receiving offers for graduates of from two to three thousand dollars per year. The Engineering department is recognized and in good standing with the best of our schools. In short, we are THE science school of the Northwest. This for our science work, to which we may well add the justly earned fame of our Public Speaking, Education and Home Economics departments which stand out as leaders in their respective lines.

These facts which have been brought out in the above paragraphs are placed there for the purpose of showing you: first, the need of new students; second, a bare few of the arguments to bring back, as a new student, every eligible man you set eyes on this summer. This will up-build your school, your state and your friend; through these, directly and indirectly, yourself. Start in the day you get home while your spirit and pep is strong and keep it up till you get back here in the fall for a new start, always the call of, "A. C.! A. C.!" Bring it into the life of every person you can, with never a backslide or a loss of faith in the old State College.

stake. These instances could not only be found in abundance which affected his school life; but also in his great work for the purification of North Dakota's food, that her babies might stand a better chance to live and her men be mightier, that the natural healthy environment might not be set at naught because the poverty of her people left them an easy prey to the poisons of cheap canned goods shipped in from the canneries of unscrupulous manufacturers. It was in the latter field of work that we first find the Doctor coming to the front as a great public benefactor. Altho he was, officially only a disinterested college professor who owed no debt to the people of the state which he had at this time only recently adopted, he turned his whole great chemical knowledge and hundreds of precious days of the time that he might have used to up-build his own personal fortunes, to the great work of cleaning up North Dakota's food supply. At this work he spent the years he has been at this school, those years which are the best and most valuable of a man's life, at the same time he carried on the work of instructing the students that came under his care in the Chemistry department. These students were cared for with the same painstaking thoroughness that a father would give to a single child. The lessons and lectures which were delivered were not cut and dried as those of a mere commercialized tutor are, but were given with the purpose of pressing each student forward, the dull as well as the brilliant, with the greatest possible rapidity, but still with the great thoroughness and the same true knowledge of the subjects that gave the Doctor his foundation for the great work which it has been his fortune to have the ability to perform. On account of the appointment of Dr. Ladd to the Presidency of this institution, the classes of the past few years have not had the privilege of receiving instruction under his care, but in spite of his many worries and ever pressing duties, he has ever been the wisest, most patient and kindly counsellor and advisor that the students could have had. No matter was so trivial as to be unworthy of his attention, if it pertained to the welfare of his students. No matter has been so great, no question so complex, that he could not press immediately to the heart of it and give satisfaction and justice to the parties involved. Thruout the Doctor's years of association with the school, the state and the nation, no slightest blot or fault has appeared to mar his record. He stands in his place in the ranks of the greatest men of this state, as a man who has risen thru sheer dominance of personality, never having swerved from the path of stern right regardless of the provocation. No bribe or inducement, however great, and it is common knowledge that they have been many, has been great enough to induce him to mitigate the punishment of a wrong-doer or to overlook even an apparently insignificant evasion of the law he helped to bring about and has been so potent a factor in maintaining in their true spirit and utility.

The students of the North Dakota Agricultural College feel it to be the greatest privilege of their careers to have the opportunity of supporting their President, Doctor E. F. Ladd in his Senatorial campaign not only in spirit but in every other way in their power as well. The infinite good that will result to the nation and the great credit that will be reflected upon the state by the election of this man to the Senate makes this support their duty to these bodies as well as the natural fealty which they accord to this man, Dr. Ladd, who has so long held the place of fatherly advisor and true friend.

Alumni Appeal

This greeting to the Alumni Association carries something of uniqueness. A chance is given to convey certain ideas which one hopes may find fruitful ground for development. The writer has been asked occasionally: What is the Alumni Association doing? Why does not the Alumni Association do more than it has done? May one observe that that Alumni Association is the most democratic of institutions. Its taxing power is of the very mildest, dependent upon the generosity of the taxpayers. The income from written appeals in reality does not pay for postage and clerical help. In this case a pure democracy does not seem to function and there is no money in sight to develop even a benevolent oligarchy.

Let us face the situation with frankness, the conditions as they appear to exist. The Alumni of the Agricultural College do not show so deep an interest in the institution as is shown generally by college and university graduates. This unfortunate condition has its most serious reaction upon the College. The causes have not been analyzed,—evidently no one has given the matter much thought. It is a problem which demands careful attention. Graduates must remember that their Alma Mater was an important factor, in the success that has become theirs. It may be too late to attempt to reform the graduates who have gone forth. But there is a missionary field with the oncoming graduates. With proper guidance and instruction future classes will graduate carrying with them a knowledge of the obligations due their Alma Mater.

At the coming commencement, the College and the Alumni Association desire to welcome home all former graduates. A visit to the earlier scenes will awaken memories, mostly pleasant, and old acquaintances can be revived. It is hoped that conferences can be held to study the problems and difficulties which beset the Association at the present time. Make your return one of the year's events. Send a card to let us know of your intention to be here.

CLARENCE JENSEN ALL-STATE PITCHER

Jens has no peers among the hurlers of the three states in any field. He demonstrated his phenomenal ability in previous seasons but this season of 1920 has been the crowning one of achievement. His work with the Aggies for this year gave evidence of a promise of a future that is practically unlimited in possibilities. No man in the collegiate batting lists of the state can stand up before Jens' fire without being almost sure of retiring without having touched the ball. Jensen was elected captain of the baseball team for 1921 at a meeting of the letter men held last Tuesday.

AGGIES HITTING AVERAGES FOR 1920 UNUSUALLY HIGH

Statistics Show Goodly Number of Hard Hitters.

Fargo Forum: The North Dakota Aggies, state college baseball champions for 1920, hit the ball hard, according to averages released recently. Hunter tops the list with an average of .450, while Gass is second with .424. Five regulars hit over .300.

The Aggies did not lose a game, winning two from Concordia, Moorhead Normal and Ellendale and one from the University of North Dakota and Fargo College. A challenge was sent to St. Thomas, but the latter team had disbanded. The Aggies scored 103 runs to 20 for their opponents.

Only three men—Movold, Hanson and Peterson—will be lost by graduation this spring. Letters for 1920 have been awarded to Movold, Gass, Sage, Stewart, Johnson, Benchoff, Hanson, Borderud, Jensen, Peterson, Kramer and Thorfinnson.

Student, June 4.—The Varsity took revenge on Concordia, Monday, for the drubbing they had received Saturday at the hands of the Aggies and walloped them 8 to 1 on the Concordia diamond.

Kaimin, June 4.—Another victory for the Bruins was chalked up on the board last Tuesday when Mt. St. Charles was defeated 6 to 1 in a game that was closely contested. This game brings Montana a notch nearer the state championship.

Messenger, June 1.—St. Olaf failed to take advantage of its opportunity to cinch the conference baseball championship when she lost to Hamline last Saturday by a score of 8 to 6.

Ind. Coll., June 1.—In an exceedingly close and exciting meet last Saturday State College defeated Yankton on State Field by a 75 to 42 count.

Messenger: The St. Olaf track team swamped the "Mac" cinder and field team on Carleton's track last Monday.

A proposal to change the rules of football so the length of a game will be regulated by the number of plays instead of by time, will be considered at the next meeting of the football rules committee. The plan, advanced by Harry R. Coffin, a Harvard graduate, is said to have the indorsement of Walter Camp, Percy D. Haughton and others prominent in the sport.

The object is to overcome the wide variation in the number of plays in contests directed by different officials and to prevent a team which is leading from delaying in order to

FLOYD BORDERUDE ALL-STATE CATCHER

Borde is without a doubt the outstanding catcher of North Dakota for this year. No prettier sight has been witnessed on the diamonds of the state than catcher Borderude watching his man till he got too far on the way to second to turn back and then whip the ball to Gass with the speed of a bullet and catching his man with a goodly distance to spare. The remarkably small number of stolen bases chalked against the A. C. gives testimony as to the accuracy and speed of the Borderude "peg."

consume time. Mr. Coffin advocates a 40-play period, with tries for goals after touchdown, and penalties for fouls not counted as plays.—The Collegiate World.

Y. M. C. A. PLANS SUMMER WORK

For the first time in its history, the Y. M. C. A. plans to carry on through the summer months. This is one of the many indications of the growth of the Agricultural College. Provided a number of men sufficient to warrant enroll for the summer term, and at present the outlook is very good, the building will be held open for service to the men.

The hours at which the building will be open will be from 12:30 to 1:30; 5:00 to 6:00 and from 6:30 to 10:00 with an additional two hours in the morning if possible.

A room directory will be maintained. Already rooms have been listed to accommodate eighty men for the summer school. The employment bureau will be maintained. At this season of the year there are many calls for work. A summer "get-acquainted" social will be held to enable the summer students to get acquainted and to develop a little more of the school spirit.

The men in charge of the building will be Wm. P. McKinstry and Wm. Barr. All facilities of the building will be at the disposal of both students and faculty of the summer session.

Further Elucidation Needed.

Dr. Hugo Ribbert of Bonn, Germany, in a book "Death From Old Age," tells that the way to stay young is to keep going. In other words, if you run around fast enough Old Nick will not be able to catch you. This is good advice, so far as it goes, but it is not all the answer.

"Pieces of Eight."

The piece of eight was the old Spanish plaster or peso, now called a dollar, thus known throughout the Spanish Main in the days of piracy, because it was divided into eight reals. It was a silver coin worth $1.

PROFESSORS

Now that our school year is nearly over
And finals will soon be here,
We think of our various teachers and profs
With feelings of dread and fear.
Week after week, thru spring's balmy days
We have studied the lessons they taught
And now as we leave, will they flunk
us,
And let all our work go for naught?
In this school, our profs vary greatly
As they do in all the good schools.
Some are as lenient as kittens
And some are as stubborn as mules.
Some profs are "slightly" sarcastic.
And some are as sweet as can be,
While some never smile, it is not their style
To thus brighten humanity

TEACHERS AND SALARIES

In an address delivered recently before the eighth annual meeting of the United States Chamber of Commerce, Homer L. Ferguson, retiring president of that organization, called upon the business men of the United States to give their active and earnest support to the movement to secure a wage consistent with present costs of living for America's school teachers.

Mr. Ferguson pointed out that the standard of education in our public schools is being hit hard by reason of the fact that thousands of men and women are deserting the teaching profession for lines that offer more attractive compensation.

"Teachers and preachers—and both come within the same category—are so far under-paid at this time that they are only able to make as much in a month as the ordinary laborer makes in two weeks, or even less," declared Mr. Ferguson.

"Years of study are necessary to prepare teachers for their vocation, and a high certificate of character is required. And, yet we wonder about the spread of socialistic ideas when those who teach our children know that under the beneficent plan of education in our great country they are paid one-half of what they ought to make under present conditions.

"Now, we cannot expect them to grow wildly excited about the great benefit of a capitalistic form of property owning and operation of industry, unless we as business men perform the duty which we owe the teachers of the United States to see that they receive a reasonable compensation for their services. And if our taxes must be increased, for heaven's sake, let them be increased for the noble men and women teaching our children; for the people who are giving their lives to an honorable service."

COMMUNITY WORK.

The Y. M. C. A. has always stood for service. Last fall after the building was opened we saw that there was a certain line of work in which the Y could be of real service. The small boys of the college community have always taken an interest in college activities. We saw that in order to prevent the small boys from over-running the building at all times that it would be best to set aside a certain evening of each week for the entertainment, development, and recreation of these boys. This plan was put into operation as soon as the gym floor was ready. The work has been successfully carried on one night each week.

The work lasted for about one hour and a half and consisted of fifteen minutes of group study, and the remaining time spent out on the gym floor. The study consisted of moral and ethical problems which directly concerns the boy. By requiring each boy to attend both sessions we have
