DAVID F. SWENSON VISITS THE A. C.

FILLS PLACE OF CHAPLAIN MOULTRIE MONDAY MORNING.

The members of the student body experienced somewhat of a disappointment Monday morning when they learned that Chaplain Moultrie of Valley City would be unable to speak before the regular convocation. But their disappointment was soon forgotten when it was learned that David F. Swenson, of the department of philosophy of the Minnesota University had been obtained for the morning's address. The speaker had accepted the invitation to speak at a late hour Sunday evening and his address was much appreciated.

The topic of the address was Ideals. The speaker opened his talk by giving an illustration of one of the "clinging vine" type of woman who was so lost in her admiration of Emerson's "Self Reliance" that she could not appreciate the ideal presented. The citizen is so engrossed in his admiration of an ideal that he would not recognize the ideal. One of the greatest dangers of idealism is admiration. Here is where the most of idealism has its beginning and often it gets no farther.

Man, said Mr. Swenson, is by nature an idealist, and one of the first ideals to be recognized is that of morals. If one can say that his enemy is a bad man, he feels that he is justified in hating him. Few men live ac-

CONTEST FOR POSSESSION OF SABER TOMORROW

ANNUAL COMPETITIVE DRILL TO BE HELD IN ARMORY THURS-DAY EVENING.

The annual competitive drill by the five companies of the Cadet Battalion is to come off tomorrow evening. This is a big event in the course of the year's work in the Military department. The drill is put on during the winter term by the five companies and the captain of the winning company is awarded a saber. Adrian Foley, as captain of Company A, won the saber last year and will make a desperate effort to retain possession of the prize during the coming year. The captain and members of the other companies are just as determined that he shall not. The result will be an interesting contest tomorrow evening.

The companies are put through all the formations both as companies and in smaller units. The drill will commence at 8:00 o'clock and every student and friend of the institution is invited to be present. The Cadet Band will be present and will play between drills.

Y. W. C. A. TO HAVE POT OF GOLD BY THURSDAY NIGHT

WILL CARRY ON A THREE DAY
CAMPAIGN FOR THE 1917-18
BUDGET.

WATCH RAINBOW

Support of Students Asked by Girls.

The Y. W. C. A. are waging a three day financial campaign to secure their budget for the coming year. The results of the first day were very gratifying to those in charge, but the pot is not yet full.

The rainbow and the pot of gold will keep the student body informed as to the progress of the campaign. The sum to be raised in this manner is $700. The total budget for the coming year calls for $954, of which the college pays $300. The remainder is to be raised by the association in the present campaign.

As no membership fee is charged the expenses of the association are met each year by a financial campaign. This is the only call for aid made by the association during the year. Of the sum asked, more than half will be required before the close of the college year and the remainder will be needed as soon as school opens again in the fall.

This campaign is being carried by seven committees, each consisting of a director and three assistants. The gifts vary from $1.00 to $25.00 or more. All pledges are payable on or before October 10, 1917. The directors of the committees are Marion Johnson, Rosilla Ladd, Myrtle Wolsted, Margaret Putnam, Dorothy Keene, Irene Haugeberg, and Mabel Wold.

Twenty-eight workers were served a luncheon on Monday in the domestic science laboratory. The pledges from the seven committees amounted to $125. On Wednesday another luncheon was held at which time the ways and means of furthering the campaign were discussed.

The campaign has started brightly. Let everyone interested in the work of the Y. W. C. A. see that the end is also successful.

The band livened the things up at the game on Saturday evening when the Fargo college bunch came over.

MUSIC DEPARTMENT

The closing days of the term will be featured with a short concert and banquet at the Masonic Temple, when the boys appear there tomorrow afternoon to entertain the Masons in a short concert.

The Treble Clef Club deserves great credit for the excellent work done at the Orpheum Theater last Thursday afternoon. It is to be regretted that all the members were not present, but those who took part deserve greater praise as it placed a heavier burden on their shoulders.

There will be a rehearsal of the Treble Clef Club on Thursday at 3:30 o'clock followed by chorus rehearsal. At 5:30 the chapel choir will meet to work on a special number for convocation next Monday morning.

Every member of these organizations is urged to be present.

The last cadet hop of the term was given on Friday and was attended by a smaller crowd than usual. The music was furnished by the Cadet Band and was much enjoyed. These informal affairs are a great aid in helping the members of the college family to become better acquainted with one another.

Several of the alumni have been around during the past few days, many of them coming in for the last basketball game of the season. Among these was E. A. Horner of Finley. Horner entered the band in September 1906, and became the principal musician the following fall. He was prominent in musical circles for the following three years.

Another former band member to make Doc and the band a visit was T. J. Lough. He, too, is an old timer, having been a member of the band beginning during the fall of '05. He served the band for five years, being the principal musician during the last year. His specialty was the clarinet.

place in the Armory after the demonstrations. At this time the graduates will be presented by Deans Waldron, Keene, and Jenson, and the certificates will be given by President Ladd.

The class this year is composed of thirty young people. One of the significant features of this year's class is that every one comes from North Dakota. No outside state is represented. The Farm Husbandry course is represented by the largest number, eighteen having completed the work for graduation this year. There are five completing the Power Machinery work and seven who have carried on the work in the Homemakers course. The entire program has been arranged so as to give a good idea as to what has been, and can be accomplished by these courses. The demonstration will show the students at practical work. The programs will be made up of numbers by the Industrial Course Orchestra, and the dramatic side of the student life will be represented by the original play, put on "just as Heine wrote it." The graduates have been working hard to make the program a success and they are hoping that the other students and friends will be out in large numbers.

DAVID F. SWENSON VISITS THE A. C.

According to their ideals. This is hard work and requires discipline and sacrifice. Man prefers to admire certain heroes of the past instead. These heroes are heroes in that they were able to make the discipline and sacrifice to live according to their ideals. Because man is loath to make the sacrifice necessary for the living according to his ideals he prefers the admiration of the ideal. The call of the hero comes to the youth, but soon he gets mixed in the business of life, or becomes clever and argues that there is no need in his making the sacrifice so he hires preachers, poets, or lecturers to speak to him about the ideals of life on Sunday. Then he goes out and lives as he sees fit during the remainder of the week. "Preachers of the present day are only buffers between the ideals and the individual." Admiration has become the substitute for the idealism. The arraignment against Christianity during the present war is not an arraignment against Christianity, but against the substitute for Christianity which the citizens have been using; namely, the admiration of Christianity.

Some of the differences between scientific and ethical truths were brought out. One of these was that it required the entire life to attain the ethical ideal while those based on science could be appropriated in a shorter length of time. The ethical truth cannot be appropriated by the successor without the successor having first made the sacrifice and transformations that the discoverer of truth made, while the successor to the discoverer of the scientific truth can adopt the teachings of his predecessor. The way and the truth of the ethical truth are the same while the way and the truth of the scientific ideal are not.

One of the fundamental lies of modern civilization is that the truth is had to discover. There is no great difference between the man who knows a truth and the man who does not know the truth. The great difference comes between the man who knows the truth and the one who lives the truth.

In closing Mr. Swenson said, "The demand of the age is not 'to know', but it is 'to be'".

Undoubtedly several of those who will be leaving next week will want to keep in touch with the affairs of the school during the coming three months. With this thought in mind, the business management has made a reduced price of thirty-five cents to those who desire the remaining eleven issues of the Spectrum for this year. For this price we will send the Weekly Spectrum to your home address every week.

Remember! Remember! thirty-five cents for the remaining eleven numbers, among which will be the Alumni number, the Y. M. C. A. number, and a monster Athletic number.

GOOD LUCK GO WITH YOU

With the close of the present term will come the close of the work of thirty of the A. C. students. They have been here during the past three winters acquainting themselves with the various phases of the work in farm husbandry, power machinery, and homemaking. This year the class of graduates in these three departments will total thirty. They represent several different North Dakota communities and will go back to put into practice the lessons learned in the handling of farm crops, livestock, gas engines, steam engines, and in the art of home making. Each will become a center from which will radiate the influence of life at the A. C. These will in all probability be instrumental in sending numerous other young people of the North Dakota farms to our beloved institution where they may enter upon courses similar to those being completed by these thirty, or upon longer courses.

During their stay here we hope that they have not gained information or learned lessons which will be used to the detriment of their neighborhoods and of themselves. The endeavor of the faculty has been to inculcate those lessons which will aid in making farm life more attractive than ever before. Their labors should be easier because they will be able to understand why they perform certain routine labor. They should be able to get more out of life than the mere dollar which they may ring from the soil. They should have grasped the idea that the greatest need of the rural districts is that of a more fully rounded community life. The elements of this they have been shown through the different efforts of organization and through their plays and debates.

But we would not be surprised if some of these thirty young men and women should have come to the conclusion that there is still more that they should know and that a few of them will return again next fall to enter upon a four year course in agriculture, engineering, or home economics. If any should decide to follow this course they will find a ready welcome. They will find that there is not, after all, such a great difference in the relations of the college students and that of the industrial students. They will find that there will be friends who will be willing and glad to assist them over the hard places when they come to them. Their stay for four years will be just as pleasant as we hope their stay during the past three winters has been.

Therefore, the Spectrum takes this opportunity of wishing these who are now completing their regular industrial courses good luck in whatever they may do and we will be glad to hear of your progress during the coming days. If you can see your way clear to return for another course, we will be glad to welcome you again among us.

So we say, "Good Luck Go With You".

Of the total enrollment at the University of Washington over one-third are freshmen while 150 are graduate students.

During the coming term several of the regular staff of the Spectrum will be leaving or will be too busy to fill their places as usual. Further, there will be those who will desire to get somewhat acquainted with the issuing of a school paper in order that they may do the work next year. Therefore, we are asking that there be some assistance from some of those who think they would like to do work on the Spectrum but who in the past have put it off for different reasons. The present staff will be glad to assist any who want to "get next" to the business in any way that they can. The Spectrum office is always open and we have a typewriter which may be used by those contributing to the paper. Other helps will be supplied as needed.

The coming issues will afford a good opportunity to any who want to test their ability along this line. If you have the least desire to become acquainted with the newspaper game, which we can assure is a fascinating one, we would like to become aware of the fact and we will be only too glad to do anything we can to help any who want help. See about it now. There is considerable time in which to get ready for the next issue.

The annual Alumni Issue of the Spectrum which was to have come off at this time has been postponed until April 4. At that time the alumni have promised an unusual paper. They deferred the issuing of their paper until a later date in order to accommodate the regular staff. Watch for this coming issue!

Following regular custom of the Spectrum, there will be no issue next week. The staff will be busy with the term exams and the students will be too busy to read. Therefore the next issue will be the Alumni Issue, April 4th. Walter Baumgartel is the editor.

SOCIAL DOINGS

The next All College party will be given on the evening of March 31, when the annual April Fool party will be given.

Mabel Stewart entertained twelve A. C. students at her home at an informal dinner party Saturday evening. The decorations were suggestive of St. Patrick's Day. Later the guests attended the basketball game.

The members of the Phi Upsilon Omicron sorority were pleasantly entertained Saturday afternoon, by the Misses Dorothy Price and Adelaide Laurie in the former's room in Ceres Hall. After a business meeting a delightful lunch was served in the Y. W. C. A. room. The Misses Neth, Kathryn Ferguson, and Marie Kirk were guests for the afternoon.

The Misses Mary Gibbens, Helen Lewis, and Irene Haugberg constituted the committee in charge of the luncheon which the members of the Delta Phi Beta sorority enjoyed Friday afternoon. The luncheon was served in Mary Gibbens' room. The committee selected to have charge of the luncheon next week is composed of Louise Rusch, Mae Howe, and Genevieve Kelly.

The club women of Fargo and Moorhead were the guests of the Round Table Club in one of their annual social affairs given in Mrs. Rindlaub's studio last Friday afternoon. About 150 women responded to the invitations. The entertainment feature of the afternoon was an illustrated lecture on Pictorial South America by Mrs. W. B. Hancock. The lecture was followed by a studio tea during which Mrs. Ladd and Mrs. Bracelin presided at the tables. The lunch was prepared by the girls of the home economics class, who also aided in the serving.

The visit to the studio was of great interest to the guests as they had the opportunity of viewing the art exhibit which has been open to visitors during the past two weeks. Mrs. Rindlaub added to the interesting features of the exhibit by pointing out the differences in the work of the three art institutions represented.

FARGO COLLEGE WINS SECOND GAME FROM THE AGGIES

A. C. UNABLE TO KEEP PACE
THROUGHOUT THE ENTIRE GAME AND LOSE IN LAST FEW MINUTES.

SENSATIONAL SHOOTING

WATKINS' SUBSTITUTIONS IN LAST FEW MINUTES GIVES COLLEGE NEW LIFE.

An enormous audience saw the Aggie basketball team play and lose their last game of the season on Saturday evening when they met Fargo College. The game was fast throughout, but the A. C. quint was unable to maintain their pace during the latter part of the game. This fact, coupled with the fast work of the F. C. squad, spelled defeat for the Aggies in the last few minutes.

The game was fast from the start and during the first quarter neither team seemed to be able to show much advantage over the other. Hauser was the first to find the ring for a counter. Fargo College followed soon after with one point on a foul. Until the last few minutes of the half the scores were about even, but then Movold and Heidner broke loose and increased the Aggie total to 18. The score at the end of the half stood at 18-13.

The second half opened with a burst of speed on the part of the A. C. quint Hayes, Movold, and Peterson tossing the ball into the basket before the opponents could find out what was happening. Then the Fargo College bunch took new life and soon their score began to climb. Keye tried his hand at shooting the fouls and rung for points three times straight. These, coupled with the shooting of Thomas, Sim, and Lane increased the score until it stood 27-26 in favor of the Aggies. From then until the final shot the game was a fight. Just before the time-keepers called a halt, Thomas again found the basket giving F. C. a one point lead. There the scoring ended, the final being 28-27.

The game was featured by the long shots of Movold and the consistent work of Hauser. Heidner at the other forward position counted twice, as did Hayes. Movold and Hauser were totaled with four baskets each and Peterson increased the total two points. The guarding of Hayes and Peterson was close at nearly all stages of the game. For Fargo College, Sim and Keye were the big men. Sim and Thomas were tied in the number of counters, each having three to his credit. The fast floor work of both these men was largely responsible for the outcome.

This is the first time that the A. C. has had to take the lower birth in the state championship race in basketball for a long time.

The officiating was close at all times, although the number of fouls called was comparatively small.

The summary:

A. C.	Pos.	F. C.
Movold	f	Peterson
Heidner	f	Keye
Hauser	c	Thomas
Hayes	g	Lane
Peterson	g	Sim

Substitutes: Overby for Peterson.
Field goals: Movold 4, Hauser 4, Heidner 2, Hayes 1, Peterson 1, Sim 3, Thomas 3, Keye 3, Lane 2, Peterson 1.

Free throws: Movold 3, Thomas 3, Keye 3.

Referee: Lynch.
Umpire: Tierney.

DRAMATIC CLUB PLAY PLEASURES LARGE AUDIENCE

THREE PERFORMANCES GREETED BY LARGE NUMBER OF STUDENTS AND CITIZENS.

The winter term play of the Edwin Booth Dramatic club, "The Rejuvenation of Aunt Mary," was given at three performances last week. The first came on Friday evening and was greeted by a fair audience. On Saturday afternoon and Saturday evening larger audiences were present, and greatly enjoyed the production.

The scenes of the play are laid in Aunt Mary's home and in the Brunnett residence in New York. Aunt Mary is a wealthy spinster, whose nephew has caused her considerable trouble by his scrapes. The play opens at a time when he is on his way to her home to explain some of his latest escapades and has been caught in a storm. Others, among whom are some of Jack's friends, are also caught in the storm and seek shelter at the home of Aunt Mary. At this time Jack becomes acquainted with his chum's sister, Betty Burnett, and this starts a little love tale which is completed in the later acts.

The second act in New York and Aunt Mary comes to visit Jack, who is reported to be ill. On her arrival in the city she is greeted with some reports of Jack's trouble, but this is forgotten when the boys start to show Aunt Mary some of the joys of the city. Aunt Mary is fascinated by the life and after her return to her home in the country the old life fails to satisfy and she longs for Jack, Granice, and the joys of the city.

In the final act the scrapes into which Jack has had a part are cleared up and some of the deceptions which were a part of the visit to the city are cleared up and the play ends with the young couple happy and with the promise that Aunt Mary will go to the city where she will purchase a home.

The entire play is filled with humorous incidents. Louise Rusch as Aunt Mary and Lynn Huey as Jack took the leading parts. Their acting was good throughout. The part of Lucinda, whom Aunt Mary has raised and who has acted in the capacity of maid to Aunt Mary made a hit with the audience with her acting. The part was taken by Marie Huey. Marjorie Lieberg, as Betty, who is also the maid Granice, played a diffi-

DATES FOR EXAMS AND SPRING TERM
SCHEDULES POSTED

REGISTRAR PARROTT IS GETTING READY FOR NEXT TERM'S
WORK AND ASKS AID OF STUD-ENTS.

The posting of the dates for the examinations for the winter term and the placing of the schedules for the work to be offered during the coming term remind us, if we have not already been reminded, that the close on another term of the school year is at hand.

According to the announcement of the Registrar the dates for the winter term exams are Tuesday, Wednesday, and Thursday, of next week. The regular schedule will be carried out as usual, the eight o'clock exams coming in the morning of the first day, the nine o'clock exams in the afternoon, the ten o'clock exams in the morning of the second day, the eleven o'clock in the afternoon, and the exams of the afternoon classes coming on the last day.

Following this there will be a short holiday for those who are to be here during the spring term. The regular classes for the spring term will start on the 26th.

Accompanying the posting of the dates for the exams has come the posting of the schedule for the spring term work. Those who are planning on being here this spring are urged to consult this schedule and to get registered before the exams in order to be ready to start when the term opens. The advisers will have time to help in arranging courses at this time and all are asked to attend to these details at once.

The winter short course students left for their homes during the latter portion of last week and during the first of this week. Their exodus leaves a vacancy. But we are hoping that they got only enough of the college to make them desire to return again next year and to enroll in one of the industrial courses or in the regular nine month's course.

GROSS LEAVES FOR NEW POSITION
Will Have Charge of Paint Laboratory in Factory of Ind. Paint Company of Chicago.

Herbert Gross, who was a graduate of the chemistry department of the college a year ago last June has accepted a good position with a paint manufacturing company in Chicago. Herb left the early part of the week for his new position with the Indiana Indestructible Paint Company, whose laboratory he will have charge of.

For the past year and a half Gross has been employed in the laboratories at the college and has become familiar with the work in a paint laboratory. He goes to his new position fully qualified to fill it with credit. Gross has been a familiar figure in college circles for the past six years. He entered from Fargo High in the fall of 1911. He soon became connected with the band and the orchestra, serving as a private during the first two terms and then being promoted to the position of corporal. Since his graduation he has helped in both the band and the orchestra, and while he will be missed, his friends unite in wishing him success in his new work.

The annual Y. M. C. A. election occurs on Friday. The candidates for office and the amendments to the constitution are posted on the Bulletin Board.

Dr. Craighead, commissioner of education for North Dakota is visiting at the college. Dr. Craighead is here to coordinate the college courses in accordance with the recommendations of the survey report.

Maurice Adams, formerly a member of the class of '17, was a visitor in the campust during the post week. Adams has spent the past two years in Montana, dividing his time between a claim and working for the Great Northern.

The date of the A. C. F. C. game was marked by the return of several of the A. C. alumni. The Spectrum reporter saw the following among the crowd Saturday or on the campus Monday: Joe Dwire, Wm. Cockburn, Florence Lane, Homer Dixon, and T. Q. Benson.

The first forerunners of spring are appearing. Although we do not claim to be in the orange belt, we have already some green grass. The route of the heating mains between the various buildings is marked by streaks of green. It will not be long before our early tulips and narcissi will be appearing in the beds between the Engineering and the Administration buildings.

The A. and M. T. seniors have chosen Esther Heidner and Peter de Boer to prepare the class prophecy, and Ingval Bjerkan to write the class poem. Other parts of the commencement program will be announced later.

The Spectrum is in receipt of an Avery catalogue issued for the current season. The catalogue contains the specifications of all the models of the Avery tractors and other threshing machinery. In addition there is a supplement showing the different models of road machinery handled by this company.

The catalogue is illustrated with drawings and with photographs. These with the reading makes the catalogue interesting even to those who are not contemplating the purchase of some of the Avery products.
