

REPORT OF FARM HUSBANDRY
ALUMNI MEETING

Interesting Sessions Held

The Farm Husbandry Alumni held their annual banquet and re-union on the evening of Jan. 17 at 5:30 o'clock. Covers were laid for 33 at the Hotel Annex Banquet parlors and a splendid four course dinner was enjoyed by all who were fortunate enough to be present.

Toastmaster Arneson called upon Prof. Waldron, Dr. J. H. Worst, President E. F. Ladd and Prof. J. H. Sheppard for some very spirited talks. Dr. Worst left this thought with his hearers "Do you work so well that you will enjoy doing it."

President Ladd spoke on the evils of the wheat grading system in use at the present time showing where the farmers of N. D. have this past season donated $9,000,000 of his "feed wheat" profits and of which the ultimate consumer derives no benefit. In Minnesota there are seven grades of wheat purely for technical reasons when 3 grades would be sufficient and come nearer to giving the farmer and consumer a square deal. The mills are grinding this "feed wheat" and making 60 lbs for flour from each 100 lbs of wheat. This flour is not as white as that made from harder wheat but of a better quality.

The president further showed that gambling in wheat and other grains went hand in hand with the grading system. This manipulation does not create wealth but merely makes a few wealthy and countless numbers must simultaneously be made poor. The spread in price of wheat and that of flour is not based on the price of wheat plus manufacturing costs and especially is this true of the "feed grades" with No. 1 Northern at $1.70 per bu. a corresponding price, based on milling value of "Feed D" wheat would be $1.50 for the "Feed D" product instead of 94 cents which would be approximately the price set by the manipulators. Each student and alumnus was urged by Dr. Ladd to be sure his correct name and address were on file at the college to insure receiving the new bi-monthly. The College and the State. The first issue is now on the press. Its aim is to put people in closer touch with the college and to keep the public informed as to results of pure food investigations. Prof. Weeks is to edit the bi-monthly assisted by Professor Arnold, Waldron and Miss Simmons. A. H. Parrott will be the business manager.

Professor Sheppard spoke on the progress made in live stock judging from the days when he attended the Iowa A. C. to the present date. He also touched on the Babcock test as applied to milk products and had high hopes of a similar system being worked out for the grading of wheat. The festivities were brought to a close with a general business discussion and the announcement of the following day's program. On motion which carried it was ordered that space be arranged for in Spectrum to publish the proceedings of the alumni meetings and a copy of said Spectrum be sent to each Alumnus. The cost of sending same was to be drawn from the treasury of the association.

Thursday 10:00 A. M., Jan. 18.
Meeting called to order at Little Country Theatre by Pres. Arneson. Our motion which carried unanimously the officers of the association were retained for another year. They are: Pres. Richard Arneson, Vice Pres. Stein Myrdahl; Secy-Treas. Martin Reinholz. A resolution was passed voting thanks to the officers for their efficient administration.

Motion made which carried that a committee of three be appointed to assist the secretary and act as representatives to get the association in closer touch with the Farm Husbandry seniors.

Pres. Arneson accordingly appointed Theo. Stoa, Wm. Guy and Lloyd Wildfang.

Business session adjourned to permit an address to be made.

Mr. Roy Dynes of the Extension department gave a survey of the work done by his department along the lines of farm accounting.

He first explained the difference between bookkeeping, cost accounting and farm accounts. Cost accounting as applied to agricultural enterprise is at best only a method of getting at the basis of farm management and should be used only by experiment farms. Bookkeeping is a debit and credit proposition requiring complicated entry forms and too much time applied to be practical on the farm. Farm accounts, on the other hand, have been simplified so that with the aid of simple forms, supplied by the extension dept., a farmer can conveniently and profitably keep records of receipts and expenditures. There are pages for taking inventory and each source of income is separately listed so at the end of the year one knows what sources of income is greatest and if any are sources of loss. After allowing a fair percentage on the investment and deducting running expenses of the farm, the balance may be classed as labor income.

At noon all took dinner at Ceres Hall at tables specially reserved. The afternoon was spent by a general review of the campus and barns. Prof. Peters escorted those present thru the barns and gave instructive talks on live stock, results from scientific breeding etc.

At 7:45 P. M. a quintet picked from the alumni played the F. H. Seniors a game of basket ball having previously issued the challenge. The game was played in good form and regardless of the fact that the alumni were sadly out of practice the score of 16 to five decided the game in their favor.

The Lineup:
Alumni— Seniors—
Stoa ——— RF ——— Foss
Sherdahl ——— LF ——— Leathers
Anderson ——— Anderson
Reinholz ——— C ——— Peterson

Wildfang ——— Frankne
Aamodt ——— LG ——— Neuens
Peterson starred for the seniors making their one field basket and three out of nine free throws.

Sherdahl for the alumni made three field baskets and two out of four free throws. Stoa made three field baskets and Reinholz one field basket and two free throws. The game was very clean one and very closely guarded. The score in the first half was twelve to 2. Hayes reported the games. It is hoped this will become an annual event.

MARKETABLE HOGS IN SEVEN MONTHS

Kenneth Wood Wins Pork Contest

The awards are being made in the North Dakota Pork Production Contest. The winners have produced marketable hogs from spring pigs in seven months.

Kenneth Wood wins the first prize of $50 on a litter of 12 that in 208 days made a weight of 3673 pounds or 223 pounds apiece at 7 months old. Last year he stood second in the contest. Edith Penno wins second on a litter of 8 that at 229 days weighed 2078 pounds or 260 pounds each. Last year she secured first place, but with a larger litter.

Kenneth Wood fed principally barley, skim milk and pasture with some corn and screenings. Miss Penno also fed principally barley, barley, skim milk, and pasture w/th screenings, shorts and bran. Practically all the winning contestants used skim milk and pasture. Corn and barley were the main grain feeds used. Many also used oats, screenings and house slops.

The pigs in the winning litters were from the different standard breeds. A study of the different contests indicates that pigs from all of the breeds do well when farrowed fed and cared for properly. Most of the prize winning pigs were farrowed in the latter part of April. The contest closed November 20th and the pigs were weighed either by a county agent or some representative of the North Dakota Experiment Station.

The contestants were sent circulars of information on pig raising by the Agricultural Extension Department of the North Dakota Agricultural College. Each contestant sent in a weekly report on the amount and kind of feed used. The more ambitious of the contestants sent for bulletins, and wrote to the Experiment Station and consulted with the county agents. In short they secured all the information they could. Their results show that they made good use of the information.

These 10 to 18 year old boys and girls have produced pigs of a marketable age on North Dakota feeds and the returns for the feed is a good deal more than market prices and some of the food was not marketable yet the hogs returned pounds of pork for it.

THE CARELESS WORD

If you are tempted to reveal
A tale some one to you has told
About another, let it pass,
Before you speak, three gates of gold.
Three narrow gates—first, "Is it true?"
Then, "Is it needful?" In your mind
Give truthful answer. And the next
Is last and narrowest, "Is it kind?"
And it, to reach your lips at last,
It passes through these gateways three,
Then you may tell the tale, nor fear
What the result of speech may be.

ANOTHER A. C.
GRADUATE RE-CEIVES RECOGNITION

C. G. Carlson '15, Now in Charge of Consolidated
Schools of Barnes County

One of the speakers before the Tri-State on Tuesday was C. G. Carlson, '15 who addressed the convention on the subject of Rural Education. Carlson had much experience with the rural schools, being in charge of the consolidated schools of Barnes County at the present time, and was well qualified to talk on that subject.

The reporter for the St. Paul Dispatch was surprised to find that North Dakota had anyone who was interested in rural education who had grasped the idea that specialization led to limitation, and made the topic the subject of an editorial which was later copied by the Forum. We reprint the editorial as it appeared in the Fargo Forum:

BROAD MINDED EDUCATORS

The St. Paul Dispatch is surprised to find that North Dakota has some broad minded educators. The Dispatch says:

"At least one speaker before the agricultural specialists now assembled at Fargo has become aroused to the limitations of specialization. 'Country schools, to develop rural leaders,' says C. G. Carlson of Valley City, N. D., 'must have more athletic play, debate, and drama, and less agriculture in their course of study.'

"To find a speaker advising any vocational assemblage that what the vocation needs is less of the teaching of its own craft in the public schools is like finding an ice cream parlor in the Sahara desert. We have heard almost no arguments in the past either for or against vocational specialization in the schools. The desirability of such teaching has not been argued. It has been assumed.

"Now comes an educator to tell farmers that the best farmer or farm leader is not to be developed from an exclusive farm education; that the little farmer girl and farmer boy have human aspirations and will make more capacious farm leaders and farm servants if they learn something more than farming, and if they devote some of their time to something besides work.

"Verily the world does move. Verily our specialists are tumbling into the pitfalls of idleness and frivolity. Either that, or they are getting broad-minded."

We have many more of these broad-minded educators in North Dakota, Mr. Editor. The North Dakota Agricultural College has many men of vision, who are convinced that the great aim of education is not to make skillful peasants but men and women—and they are succeeding.

APPRECIATION WEEK

This Week to Be Devoted to Extolling Merits of N. D.

WHAT IT MEANS TO THE STATE OF NORTH DAKOTA:

It means that 2,000,000 newspapers will be sent out of the state during the week, bearing the glad news of the state's natural resources and prosperity.

It means that 100,000 essays on North Dakota will be written by the school children of North Dakota.

It means that hundreds of preachers will preach sermons extolling the resources of the State of North Dakota.

It means that scores of commercial organizations will hold Appreciation Week dinners with addresses setting forth the greatness of our grand state.

It means that every household in North Dakota will observe Baked Potato Day, Thursday, January 25th, by eating baked potatoes, thus letting the world at large know that North Dakota raises the best potatoes of baking size in the world, and also teaching our own people that the raising of prime potatoes is the only true system.

It means that the eyes of the whole United States will be looking towards North Dakota on this week.

It means a grander and greater North Dakota.

When you contribute towards Appreciation Week you are making an appropriation for yourself and your property.

This is a statewide movement fathered by the real boosters of the sunshine state, where the roses are a pest to the farmers. Every section will be represented in this great movement for a greater North Dakota.

"There is a spirit among mankind to understand, govern, and control. This ambition is the cause of the present war. After this war there will probably be things done that we do not even dream of to-day. Slavery thrived under a flag that represented freedom."

"We may be fortunate if we escape being drawn into this war. But after the war the nations involved may rise up so democratized that they will refuse to be governed by Kaisers, Czars, and Kings not truly representatives of the life and thoughts of the people. The nations will unite to do away with war and to work for the best interest of mankind. If such is the result, war will not have been fought in vain."

"James J. Hill in speaking of his railroad said, 'This system will be here after I am gone.' We may devote our time to piling up large fortunes which will only be dissipated after we are gone, but if we lend our time to building up some thing more substantial it will last long after we have passed away."

STUDENTS

Takes McKenzie's Place At Special Convocation

Dr. J. H. Worst addressed the students of the Agricultural College at a special convocation Thursday morning.

Plans had been made to have Frederick McKenzie, secretary and treasurer of the Canadian Council of Agriculture, also speak but as he is suffering from an attack of the grippe he was unable to appear.

Dr. Worst was greeted with enthusiasm by the students, the greater part of whom were attending the college when he was president.

In his address he compared education to the lens of a kodak which serves to broaden the field of vision of the machine. "And yet many people who have spent their whole life working for pleasure or profit find, after all, that they do not know so very much. Life is like electricity—there is so much about it that we do not understand. When there is something that we do not understand we delve a little deeper into nature."

Thomas Returns

Levi Thomas who is charge of the local office of the Bureau of Grain Standardization has just returned from a stay of about two months in Washington, D. C. He has been busy helping to arrange the federal grades on wheat and oats, which is being done in connection with the Grain Standardization acts that have been passed by Congress.

Sid Hooper's condition remains unchanged. He eats heartily and plays pool fairly well, but he won't work.

The holders of tickets to the Citizens' Lecture course have two treats coming. Tonight Bohumir Kryl and his two daughters will present a musical program in the Armory, which needs no further treatment at our hands. Bohumir Kryl is considered one of the greatest band directors in the country.

It means that 100,000 essays on North Dakota will be written by the school children of North Dakota.

It means that hundreds of preachers will preach sermons extolling the resources of the State of North Dakota.

The Misses Fuller are natives of England and are now on a concert tour of this country. They have received a welcome from the leading clubs and colleges of the United States are always in demand for return engagements. They have often been the subject of editorial comment by such papers as the Boston Transcript, the New York Herald, and the Philadelphia Ledger, and Harper's Weekly.

It is with no small degree of pride that the members of the committee in charge announce that they have secured these artists for a concert engagement. They will appear in the costume of the early Victorian period and the accompaniment of the Irish harp. This number of the course comes next week on Thursday. Keep the date open!

USE IT, IT IS YOURS

One of the most frequently visited places on the campus is the Library. Probably there is no other place which is used so frequently in the preparation of lessons, debates, or for pleasure. At almost any time during the day one will find that it is filled to its capacity with those who are doing reference work, or reading the home papers, or reading some of the late magazines. This is especially true during the winter months when there are so many students here.

In order to better accomodate those who desire to use the Library arrangements have been made to keep the Library open during the noon hour and until six o'clock instead of closing as has been the custom during the past. The sole reason for this change is to make the Library serve the needs of those who use it better. This change has necessitated considerable change in the duties of those in charge and has been made at a sacrifice. Therefore, we would urge those who have been asking for such a change to make use of the Library in order to show that the change is appreciated. We have been informed that the change will be discontinued if there is not sufficient use made to warrant the extra work. So if you were sincere in asking for the change, do your share in showing that the change can be made of use to those who use the Library.

As noted in another column of this issue the members of the college family and those who hold tickets to the Citizens' Lecture Course will have the privilege of hearing some of the best in music in the next two numbers.

Tonight, in the Armory, Bohumir Kryl and his two daughters will appear. These artists are so well known that they need little comment. Their performance on their respective instruments is little short of marvelous. A real treat will be enjoyed by all who attend.

Then on next Thursday evening, the Fuller Sisters will be here and give a recital of the old folk songs of England, Ireland, and Scotland. These sisters have the highest of recommendations from the numerous clubs and organizations which have had the pleasure of hearing them, as well as from the press of the country. They are natives of England and appear in the costumes of the early Victorian period. Their performance lacks the artistic finish which is given so frequently on the stage, but their rendering of the old songs is simple and can be enjoyed by everyone.

Either of these numbers is alone worth the price of the season ticket to the course and we urge upon each and every student to do his utmost to be present at both of these numbers.

In glancing over some of the material which was handed in for the freshman issue of The Spectrum, we ran across the following:

What motive brought you here? the fashion? amusement? the hope of getting help to aid you in getting wealth? or did you come in order to develop your character and fit yourself for helping others? Which motive do you like best?

These short questions suggest a text for a sermon to one who gives them thought. A more serious attitude on the part of many, and a more thorough understanding of the reasons which lie back of our sojourn here would undoubtedly be of much advantage to the individual students and to the student body as a whole. More and more are we being forced to realize that it is our duty to make the most of our opportunities here, that in a short time we will be forced to leave these favorable surroundings and get into the real problems of life. Then it is that we will be able to appreciate all that has been done that our stay here might be as profitable as possible and at the same time as enjoyable as can be.

So we would say again, think these questions over and then with all justice to yourselves and everyone else concerned do your duty as it seems plain before you.

The December number of the American Magazine of Art, published at Washington, D. C. contains the following editorial under the caption "Art in North Dakota". As will be seen by reading the article it seems to express some surprise that work of such a nature should be found in an institution like the Agricultural College, but considering that this is an eastern publication we do not wonder so much. The article itself is as follows:

There is an agricultural college in North Dakota which is carrying on an interesting and valuable work to extend both the knowledge and the appreciation of art. The work there is peculiar to a new country, and those who have it in charge consider their mission as two fold: first, to try to cultivate in those who want to go back to the farms an appreciation of all things beautiful and an ability to beautify their surroundings, with the belief that this fuller life will keep them on the land; second,

High School.

HIGH SCHOOL DEBATE

Two to one in favor of Hesperia was the decision of the judges in the Hesperian-Castalian debate held last Friday evening in the Little County Theatre. The Hesperian is the high school boys' literary society and the Castalian is the high school girls' literary society. The question debated was, "Resolved, that the United States should abandon the Monroe Doctrine." On the Hesperian team were Leland Smith, Lloyd Wildfang and Clarence Olsten. They argued the affirmative side of the question. The Castalian team which consisted of Esther Heidner, Margaret Putnam and Freda Hultberg upheld the negative side. Arguments of both sides showed much study of the question. Points of the rebuttal clashed well and were at times spirited. Two or three of the speakers were rather independent of the time-keeper, Amy Euren, but were soon called back to their seats.

Walter Baumgartel of the Public Speaking department coached both of the teams. The presiding officer for the contest was William Mortenson, high school class of '16. While the judges were making their decisions Dora Dighton gave a piano number. There were more students from other departments of the college than there were high school students in attendance. Two or three of the teachers of the high school showed their interest by attending and we were glad they came.

Clarence Walter, high school class of '09, a brother of the Walters now in high school was one of the former students at the debate.

HIGH SCHOOL PARTY

On last Saturday evening occurred the annual high school party. The high school students with their invited guests made up a party of about 200, which comfortably filled the armory. Comments heard gave the impression that the affair was thoroughly enjoyable to all. A five piece orchestra, generous with encores, furnished an excellent program of dances. Harold Pederson called for several figure dances. Tables of games were arranged for those who did not care to dance.

Principal and Mrs. Smith, and Prof. and Mrs. Schlichting were patrons and patrons for the evening.

Between the game tables and the dancing floor was a netting decorated with pennants. Pennants were also used for decorating the balcony. During the dancing frappe and wafers were served from the corner table.

OTHER HIGH SCHOOLS

Lidgerwood High School defeated Fargo High by a unanimous decision in their debate on the Swiss military system. Lidgerwood advocated the adoption of the Swiss military system in the United States while Fargo tried to show that it should not be adopted. The debate was held in Fargo last Friday evening. It was one of the preliminary debates in the series supervised each year by the state university. The system is one of elimination the last two surviving teams holding the final debate at the university.

HIGH SCHOOL BOY'S CLUB

At a recent meeting the following committees were selected. Program committee: Dean, Arndt and Walter. Refreshment committee: Zenus Sanford and Vernon Ladd. Constitutional committee: Peterson and Lattimer. As Revine Lattimer did not return a new member must be chosen for the constitutional committee and also his place as reporter and advertiser must be filled. Lattimer went West at the beginning of the winter term.

LOCAL COLOR

Where were the literary society pennants during the high school debate?

Word was recently received from Arthur Byles. He is located at Pinto, Mont., and is doing very well.

Grace Kotchen could not return to school this term owing to ill health.

Ricka Strand is teaching this winter.

Grant Hicks has gone back to Oklahoma.

Ravine Lattimer has gone to Utah.

Desdemona Archibald is now located at Billings, Mont.

Howe Anderson went no farther from school than Fargo where he now is.

Park Tarbell has returned from a term are Donald Staley, a brother of Carlton Staley, and Lieffson Sigmund from Bowden, N. D.

Bertha Schneider has returned to school after a year's absence.

Other old students returning after being absent for various lengths of time are Frances Golberg, Clarence Olsten, Alice Flamer, and Peter de Boer from Pollock, S. D. who was dangerously sick with pneumonia for nearly a year.

Oliver Finstad a former student in the High School is this year attending the State School of Forestry at Bottineau. He will return here next year to finish his high school work.

Gudrun Thorlakson is attending school in Minneapolis this year.

Anna Oddson who has been teaching school has returned to the high school here.

FROM EXCHANGE

"O Cromwell, Cromwell! Had I served my God half so well as I have served the king, he would not, in my old age, have deserted me." —Shakespeare's Cardinal Wolsey.

Gilmour Dobie must have a kindred feeling with the great Cardinal. After having served his employer all too faithfully for these many years, after having accomplished for his university what no other coach did for any university, after having been lauded to the skies as the greatest of his kind, after having voluntarily announced his retirement, then to receive from his university president a parting kick as one whose ideals of manhood are too low for such a lofty atmosphere, is indeed a poor reward for the all too faithful service rendered.

It must be admitted that from his first appearance on the ground with a goodly number of eastern players who had followed him to the far west, there have been rank outsiders who have looked with questioning eyes upon the university's athletic policies.

The eyes were opened wider when dictatorial methods and unsportsmanlike and selfish schedules followed each other in quick succession. But since the scholarship and manhood of the student and the athletic policies of the institution are to be determined rather by a faculty than by an athletic coach, and since Dobie had been always obedient to the faculty's decisions, and since for nine long years the university folk—faculty, students and alumni—seemed to glory as much in their great coach as in their victories, the outsiders had come to think that in matters of this kind they were right.

Between the game tables and the dancing floor was a netting decorated with pennants. Pennants were also used for decorating the balcony. During the dancing frappe and wafers were served from the corner table.

THIS COLLEGE offers to the young people of this state an education which is thoroughly in line with modern thought and demands. It spends no time on dead languages or such subjects as are of little practical value. It aims to fit young men and women who can think and investigate for themselves; who can deal with social, agricultural and industrial problems of the day.

ATHLETICS

FORMER A. C. ATHLETE DEAD

Chas. Grant Buried Monday

Charley Grant, a former football and baseball player at the Agricultural College, died at his home in Fargo last week of pneumonia and was buried on Monday.

Grant was prominent in athletics here for two or three years leaving about four years ago. His major lines were football and baseball, having played both positions under former Coach Reuber.

WAHPETON DEFEATED

A. C. Wins Onesided Contest 38-12

The Wahpeton Science Quint were the victims of the Agricultural College basketball team in a onesided game played last Wednesday evening. The outcome of the game was at no time in doubt, although the visitors played well for the first few minutes. But the strain soon began to tell and they had to slow down.

The first half ended 20 to 9 and the visitors failed to make additional field goals in the second half. Hauser, Wrighton, and Heidner were the point getters for the A. C., while Snyder was responsible for 8 of Wahpeton's 12 points. Movold and Peterson played exceptional guarding games, preventing several baskets.

The lineup and summary follows:

Wahpeton—Pos. A. C.—
Ripperton—F. Movold
Snyder—F. Wrighton
Lium—C. Hauser
Brete—G. Peterson
Beling—G. Heidner

Subs—Wahpeton: Holthusen for Lium. A. C.: Ebling for Wrighton.

Field baskets: Snyder 1, Lium 4, Brete 1, Movold 1, Wrighton 5, Hauser 8, Heidner 4, and Ebling 1.

Free throws—Snyder 6.

Time of halves—Twenty minutes.

Referee—Pete Tierney.

AGGIES ANNEX ANOTHER GAME

Trim Jamestown College 53-17

Last Monday night the A. C. quint stowed away another victory at the expense of the Jamestown College aggregation. A rather broken line-up was used by the Aggies, due to the fact that "Dutch" Hauser was able to play only a few minutes—eight minutes to be exact—during which time, however, he connected for a total of five field baskets.

During the rest of the game Peterson performed at center and got away in good style. Ebling, Elliott and Wilson, used at various times at Peterson's guard position, all showed promise of considerable basketball ability.

Capt Movold was the heavy score getter of the game with a total of seventeen points to his credit. His floor work was also of a high order. Heidner performed first at guard and later at forward. Both positions looked alike to him and he totaled twelve points. Wrighton, at the other forward job during the opening period, contributed five field baskets, some of them from difficult angles. Ebling scored twice and Peterson and Elliott once apiece.

The Jamestown boys put up a good brand of basket ball and fought every inch of the way. Badger, at forward did the majority of their scoring. Their center also played a fast and aggressive game.

The lineup and summary follows:

A. C.—Pos. Jamestown
Movold—F. McLeod
Wrighton—F. Badger
Peterson—C. Trammell
Heidner—G. Harmon
Ebling—G. Wanner

Substitutions: A. C.—Heidner for Wrighton, Hauser for Peterson, Elliott for Ebling, Wilson for Heidner.

Field Goals—Movold 7, Wrighton

5, Hauser 5, Heidner 6, Ebling 2,

Elliott 1, Badger 4, Trammell 1,

Harmon 2, McLeod 1.

Fouls—Movold 2; Harmon 3.

Referee—Tierney.

NEW COMMISSIONER CHOSEN

Bjornson Now Commissioner of Athletics

At a meeting of the Student Commission on Monday evening "Dick" Bjornson was chosen to fill the place on the commission left vacant by the departure of Stanley Abbott.

The reports for the fall term were presented by some of the commissioners present and the others are to be given at the regular meeting next Monday evening.

Interesting and Otherwise

"Bunk" Harris, a former student and athlete at the A. C. is in town renewing old acquaintances.

Student manager Dodds, to use a war term, retells his home town of Wheaton. Sometime in the 35 below zero future, he is going to chaperon a bunch of Coach Davis' near hopefuls to that town, there to engage the native sons in a game of basketball.

"Gink" Gorman of McCanna, a former football, basketball and baseball star at the A. C. was a campus visitor last Saturday and Sunday. Gink is now "farming by note," being manager of the McCanna Farming Co.

Leon Hayes tells us that he has a girl.

We Will Fit You With Correct Glasses

Most people do not know that correctly fitted glasses not only give you "Better Sight," but they also "preserve" your sight.

If you have trouble with your eyes, or objects don't look clear to you, better come in and have your eyes tested. You may be wearing away your sight and not know it—later it may be too late.

We are experts in this work and will serve you honestly in goods and prices.

It is no doubt true that many of our creameries are not operating successfully because of inefficient management and lack of systematic accurate accounting.

The college wishes to call the attention of the creamery operators and others interested to the fact that this is your college and is endeavoring to be of service in the upbuilding and development of the dairy interests of the state. You can assist us and those interests by putting us in touch with those men of your community who are interested in creamery work, and by giving this matter consideration and publicity.

There are about 70 creameries in North Dakota, some of which require the services of from 6 to 10 men, and it is through their efforts, or those who follow them, that these creameries will succeed or fail. For further information, please communicate with J. R. Keithley, Professor of Dairying, Agricultural College, North Dakota.

Very truly yours,
J. R. KEITHLEY.

Among the speakers who are located at the college here are: J. L. Tompkin, J. H. Sheppard, and W. H. Peters, who is Secretary of the association. Mr. Peters has proven himself a very able secretary in securing all these men on the program.

The membership has increased four fold in the last two years. There is a remarkable increased interest shown in better Pure Bred livestock. The foregoing statements are evidence that the system in vogue in this state in years gone by is rapidly giving way to a farming method in which livestock is involved to a very great extent.

Cheating Your EYES?

From a sense of false economy or as a result of pure, inexcusable thoughtlessness, you may be deferring the wearing of eye-glasses — the one thing needful to your now defective sight.

CAN YOU IMAGINE PEOPLE ROBBING THEMSELVES?

Think this over, think of your folly and then—think of us who will gladly furnish you—at small profit—the very kind of glasses a correct and thorough examination proves that you may badly need.

Market News of the Week

JANUARY 24, 1917

EGGS—dull. No likelihood of Dick Bjornson addressing the general populace in the near future. We believe them to be a good buy, however, as the extemporaneous speeches in Public Speaking will soon begin and there will be a consequent rush for missiles of various sorts.

PADDLES—The bottom has dropped out of the market due to the closed season on Freshmen and the fact that there are few initiations scheduled.

GIRLS—Bid—Trip to the Garrick. Asked—tickets to the Orpheum. Little trade due to the wide margin between bids and offers. Bears are breaking the market because of the cold weather and strict dormitory rules. There will probably be little action until spring when the snow melts off and the grass is green.

GUNS AND AMMUNITION—Brisk demand by treasurers going out to collect dues.

The class in Public Speaking organized itself into the "North Dakota Association for the Advancement of Science". Last week there was spirited competition when the election of officers took place. Andrew Challey was selected for president. When the ballots were counted speculations was rife as to the significance of one ballot marked "Mrs. Challey". However, it was decided to keep it all in the family so it was counted for Challey male.

Esther Woldy says that while it isn't proper, it's often necessary to hold hands with the young man you've only met once. And it is sometimes necessary to kiss old friends good-by.

Social Doin's

The Pythians met in the lecture room at Ceres Hall Wednesday noon and elected officers for the winter term. The following people were elected:

President—Lillian Hanson
Vice President—Adelaide Laurie
Secretary—Eva Craig
Treasurer—Marie Kirk
Rosilia Ladd was appointed chairman of the program committee.

The Delta Phi Beta Sorority held their regular meeting at the home of Marjory Lieberg on Saturday afternoon. After the business meeting a pleasant social time was enjoyed and refreshments were served.

The Misses Lylith Rusk and Minnie Sorenson were hostesses to the members of the Phi Upsilon Omicron Sorority at the home of the former last Saturday afternoon. Luncheon was served after a short business meeting and an enjoyable social time followed.

The Social Service Committee of the Y. W. C. A. entertained at a delightful tea which was served in the parlors of Ceres Hall on Saturday afternoon and to which all colleges women were guests. It was the second of a series of such events to take place during the winter term under the auspices of the Y. W. C. A.

The members of the Alpha Kappa Phi Fraternity entertained at a very enjoyable dancing party in the Armory last Friday evening to which the freshmen were guests. A red rose, which is the fraternity flower was given to each of the members and chaperons upon arrival and the decorations carried out the fraternal colors of scarlet and black. Sidney Hooper, Percy Beals, William Stewart, George Mayone and Martin Hagen were the committee who made arrangements for the party. The young people were chaperoned by Prof. and Mrs. Keene, Dean and Mrs. Bolley, Coach and Mrs. Davis and Lieut. and Mrs. Carrithers.

Y. W. C. A. NOTES

Miss Ina Johnson was the speaker at the weekly meeting of the Y. W. C. A. held last evening in the gymnasium of Ceres Hall. Miss Johnson is connected with the English department of Fargo College, and she is a very active worker in the Y. W. C. A. field. Special music was also a feature of the evening.

The meeting of last week consisted of a song service, with a special reading, "When We Cremated Sam McGee", by Freda Hultberg.

The meeting of last week consisted of a song service, with a special reading, "When We Cremated Sam McGee", by Freda Hultberg.

The subject for Saturday's tea is "Books". Miss Mable Wold will lead the discussion.

It is hoped that a large number of the women of this college will avail themselves of this opportunity to spend a delightful and profitable hour each Saturday afternoon.

Matt Thorfinson has finally sold his touring car, and announces he'll patch rubber boots at reasonable rates.
