

Lecture Course Opens Monday November Sixth

Bohumir Kryl Concert Company First Number

All Students Admitted This Year

The Citizens Lecture Course for the past several years has been a medium through which many of America's foremost statesmen, scholars, social workers, scientists, musical artists, actors, humorists, cartoonists, authors and world travelers have been brought to this community.

day, November 1, 1916. The cost of the season course ticket, good for six numbers, to persons outside of the student body will be same as last year, one dollar and fifty cents.

Bohumir Kryl, the world's greatest cornetist and his two talented daughters, Josephine, violinist and Marie, pianist, will open the course with a two hour concert on Monday evening, November 6, 1916.

Students are requested to remember Wednesday, November 1, 1916 as the day set aside to secure their lecture course tickets.

Trip to Amenia Enjoyed.

Last Saturday the class in farm management made a very pleasant and profitable trip by auto to Amenia where the headquarters of the Amenia and Sharon Land Company are located.

After a brief resting spell they autoed to the farm of Mr. Brown, a shareholder in the company, and a raiser of fancy live stock.

John Anderson Becomes A Beneditc.

Leakage from letters received on the campus is responsible for the rumor that Johnnie Anderson, our famous chief musician for so many years and Dr. Putnam's prodigy, has severed connection with his bachelor friends and has taken unto himself a wife.

The Spectrum and friends at the college take this means of extending their congratulations and wishes for a long and happy life.

Mrs. John Anderson was formerly Miss Anderson of this city. They are now making their home at Morris, Minnesota.

NEW REGULATIONS FOR WRITTEN WORK

Neatness, Legibility, and English to be Considered in Determining Grade.

The committee appointed to devise ways and means to improve the English, neatness, and form of the written work of students, recommends that in determining the grade for all written work instructors shall base not less than 10% nor more than 20% on neatness of manuscript, legibility and English, and that all students whose English, whether oral or written, is seriously below the standard, shall be reported at the end of each term to the Registrar as F in English.

The committee also recommends that a list of the more common serious errors should be published in pamphlet form and distributed among faculty and students that there may be some agreement as to what constitutes poor English.

Before publication this list, which should aim to be representative rather than exhaustive, should be submitted to all members of the faculty.

It should include a list of words commonly misspelled; a list of words often confused; examples of the common violations of grammar; examples of the more serious failures in punctuation; a statement of what should always be expected in respect to organization and paragraphing.

A New Book by Professor Weeks.

"Play Days on Plum Blossom Creek" is the name of a most delightful juvenile book recently off the press, written by a member of our faculty, Professor Arland D. Weeks. This juvenile book is devoted to the doings of a family of bears, whose human characteristics make a strong appeal to the younger folk.

last, from the time the bears sally forth to a picnic till they leave their home on the creek, we can not but be fascinated by the reality that pervades the book.

The style is the simple one of an artist story teller. There is an undercurrent of delightful humor, which occasionally breaks thru the surface.

The college has reason to be proud of each work from the pen of Professor Weeks.

Interest In Chorus Increasing

"Hope of the World" to be Presented December 11.

Considerable enthusiasm is being shown among students who have taken up chorus work under the direction of Miss Grasse. Forty boys and girls have already enrolled for this class, which meets on Tuesday and Thursday at 4:30.

There are no fees connected with the chorus in any way and there are no special invitations issued. Just come at the specified time.

LITERARY SOCIETY CONTEST.

An Event of November 3rd.

The Literary Society Contest will take place on November 3 this year. It promises to be one of the most interesting contests of the fall term, and all three societies, namely: Philo, Athena, and Pythian have selected their plays and are now practicing them.

GET BUSY.

Oratorical Contest Will Soon Be Held.

The Twenty-second Annual College Oratorical Contest will take place on November 24, 1916 in THE LITTLE COUNTRY THEATRE.

Great Increase In Registration

More Registered in Industrial Course During First Day Than During First Week Last Year.

The Industrial courses opened their registration on Monday. From now on there will be a much larger student body in attendance. From the record brought in from the registrar's office on Monday afternoon, the prospects for a record-breaking attendance in the Farm Husbandedry, Power Machinery, and Home Maker's courses during the present year are exceptionally bright.

LIVE STOCK SPECIAL FINISHES TRIP.

Much Interest Manifest At All Points Visited.

The special cattle demonstration team sent out under the direction of the North Dakota Experiment Station finished its trip last Tuesday.

The train was supplied by the Northern Pacific and the schedule was that announced in a previous issue.

The attendance was good at all the points and the interest exceptionally good. The farmers are realizing the importance of livestock and are anxious to learn all they can about the business.

Director Cooper suggested at the different meetings that he

Hamline Holds Aggies to a 14-14 Score

WET FIELD PREVENTS FAST WORK BY BOTH TEAMS.

On a field with four inches of slush in which no man could get a good footing, the A. C. and Hamline teams played to a tie score Saturday. The game was marked by spectacular dashes through broken fields, long end runs and well executed passes.

All four touchdowns were the result of long runs through a broken field. The longest dashes by Movold and Eckberg netted 50 yards apiece and touchdowns. Curly's long run in returning a kickoff was the most brilliant feature of the game.

Hamline kicked off at the start of the game. The A. C. opened up with forward passes and rushed the ball to Hamline's 20-yard line.

Movold got Eckberg's punt and ran 50 yards for a touchdown. Movold kicked goal. Score, Aggies 7, Hamline 0.

In the second period Seely started the ball toward the Aggie's goal with a 15-yard run. Eckberg's long kick fooled Hayes and the Aggies were forced to kick to safety.

Following the kickoff line plunges and runs by Seely and Eckberg took the ball to the Aggies' 3-yard line.

thought that it would be a good plan to follow up these meetings with the farmers' institute. He promised to try and secure such institute meeting for the places that made a request for them.

Director Cooper in introducing the speakers called attention to the fact that they were trained and experienced men.

The types of dairy cattle were explained and demonstrated by D. E. Willard while W. H. Peters demonstrated the types of beef cattle.

The cattle stood the journey well. The cows although they have been milking for about a year supplied the commissary with milk. In fact they in a measure paid their expenses. The cows took things very calm and had an eye to business.

In the third quarter the ball seewaxed up and down the field, the Aggies trying passes with little success.

During the last period North Dakota worked the ball to Hamline's 5-yard line. Here the Aggies' quarter apparently became confused and the Dakotans were penalized 15 yards for unnecessary delay.

Hamline made good use of the time that remained and rushed the ball to the Dakotans' 5-yard line but were unable to negotiate a touchdown in the two minutes.

TOO MUCH OPTIMISM?

We hope not, but the way that the second string men have been evaporating from off the football field seems to point that way in spite of the fact that certain conditions should tend to push it the other way.

Now that those not connected directly with the team have decided to come out en masse and lend their support to the best team that has represented the old A. C. for some time past it would seem no more than fair that those who are connected more directly with its welfare should lend even more support.

It seems, tho, that the two annoct go hand in hand like two happy kids to an ice cream picnic. So far this year we have made two teams feed us ice cream out of a silver spoon and the third would have done so had three been plenty of men on the second team to give good hard scrimmage.

Before the St. Thomas game there were forty men out on the field every night. They came out so regularly and so persistently that even Coach Davis was nearly carried away with the spirit of the enterprise. Henceforth and from then on the scrubs gradually began to slink away to some far and remote age, and the uniforms that had been well rounded and plump were flat and ugly as they hung in disgrace in the cold damp lockers.

We certainly enjoyed that ice cream that we got from St. Thomas. Gee, it sure did leave a pleasant sensation when we left the field. It tasted like more. Wouldn't you like to have some? Sure! All right then, get out and fill up some of the vacancies in those uniforms that are holding up their arms and legs in a pleading and coaxing manner. The coach assures us that there will be no shortage in the number of uniforms. Impossible!

The two hardest games of the season are yet to be played. No use denying it. We can say that the dope is in our favor by a margin. IT CERTAINLY IS NOT. The U has won every game it has tried to play this year in its own class! Why they even held Minnesota 47 to 7 and didn't half try! We have won two games and tied the other. We stand to loose the other two unless some one gets out and helps to take the rough edges off of the first string men. Scrimmage is essential if we intend to win the rest of the games this season. Think of the advertising possibilities of a winning score over the Michigan Aggies. Think of the pleasure of rubbing the U's nose in the dust once more and making them eat a downright generous sample of earth. We can do it with a little active co-operation on the part of a few lazy individuals who talk the games over down at the corner store or across the table at meal time.

We've got the Pep, now let's get the Push. LET'S GO.

Get out and rustle,
Get out and hustle,
Help give the first team shape.
We are due for a licking
If we don't start sticking
And draw the first squad around.
Or we'll sure be ashamed
At the blow of the whistle
For "Pep without purpose is Piffle."

DOPE BOX

The Spectrum took occasion at the beginning of this term to mention the fact that there are no sanitary soap dishes or soap provided in connection with the wash-bowls at this institution. We hoped that a gentle hint would be sufficient on this subject since nothing seems to have resulted from the hint we take this occasion to make note of the fact that the present influx of students makes these containers far more necessary than they were even a short time ago. The students who were here early had the advantage of obtaining rooms near the school but those who come later cannot obtain rooms so near and so are compelled to eat their noon meal without being able to properly clean themselves beforehand as the distance to their rooms absolutely prohibits their going to them and washing before eating. We hope there will be no need to make a campaign for the provision of sanitary soap dishes here. The simple expression of a desire for them should be sufficient.

(Received too late for publication last week.)

A strong, stalwart gentleman, recognized by a lazy I brand over his right eye, has during the fall term considered himself a member of the sophomore class, and although he has been gently reminded several times that he is not a full-fledged soph and that he has no authority to paddle his freshman classmates, he has constantly persisted in so doing. The climax came on Friday when about fifteen freshmen met him at the music hall door and with a strong arm proceeded to impress upon his noble brain the fact that HE was a freshman.

After two or three minutes of vain effort he concluded to take his medicine, as all men must, and posed at the music hall door for the aforesaid men to try their luck with their right arms and a water soaked paddle. Byron said it was fine but wondered why his sophomore friends had deserted him.

After the ceremony he was presented with a green cap which he gladly accepted. Thus was Byron Box of Casselton initiated into the class of 1920 and we hope that he will show his sportsmanship by supporting the class loyally in the future.

Murder Will Out.

Larimore Chronicle, Aug. 7th.—The local constable took into custody a suspicious looking character yesterday who gave the name of Thorfinson and claimed to be collecting funds for the Y. M. C. A. at the North Dakota Agricultural College. The arrest was the result of a telegram to yeagmen supposed to be headed in this direction. Thorfinson spent the night as the guest of the town, but was released in the morning as no evidence could be produced against him except his general appearance and his professed vocation.

LIBRARY NOTES

Until further notice, the library hours will be as follows: On Monday—Friday 8-12; 12:30-5; 7-9. On Saturday 8-12; 1-5:30.
The library has been open eight and one half hours all summer for the use of the summer school students, and for the employees on the campus. Although the circulation of books has been small as is expected at such a time, there have been some callers every day. The librarians take advantage of this quiet time to catch up on back work. Some new books have been accessioned and cataloged, labeled and made ready for circulation. Magazines have been tied up for the bindery, store rooms have been put in order, new guide

Movement Being Waged for the Students of Europe

American Students Answering Call for Help

While life in the American colleges seems to run on along in the usual and accustomed manner it is almost impossible to realize the situation that has befallen the students of the European countries now at war. Universities and colleges on the other side of the Atlantic are practically abandoned—except as hospitals—and tens of thousands of the students and professors are in the trenches or held as prisoners within the barbed wire entanglements of the many prisoner-of-war camps.

Stretching across Europe and Asia as far as the Pacific boundary are to be found these Prisoner-of-War camps. The smallest ones contain 5000 men and the larger ones 75,000. In all there are six millions of men, between the ages of eighteen and forty-five, held in these prisons. Only a small percent of them in any country are put to work at steady employment, the vast majority are entirely without occupation for either mind or body.

It is impossible for these men to do much of anything for themselves in the way of bettering their own conditions. They are prisoners in the hands of an enemy country, they are without money, and often times unable to communicate with their own families, and in addition are so harassed by hunger and cold (the greater part of the year) that they become the victims of melancholia, pessimism, and despair.

No one in the world, it seems, was able to do anything for these men, until a recently short time ago when Mr. John R. Mott of the United Students Christian Association of the World succeeded in obtaining permission from all the belligerent nations (Turkey excepted) to send trained secretaries and money into signs have been made, the building has been thoroughly cleaned and now all is ready for the new school year. Never has the work begun with better prospects. In spite of the fact that the industrial courses are later in beginning this year, the library statistics of the past month show that more books circulated this year than a year ago. More books have also been used within the building. There is more serious reference work on the part of the students and less of the tendency to try to have a good time where others are studying.

Among the reference books that have recently been purchased are new editions of the New International Encyclopedia, Webster's New International Dictionary and the American Men of Science. These are all valuable tools that will be much used by the students and faculty.

A new feature is the tray on the Rotunda table with cards ready for list of wants. If you know of some good book that should be in the library—a work that will not be short-lived, a work that will appeal to those taking different courses and will be of future use fill out one of the cards and hand to the librarian. Although our budget for general reading books is small, we shall be glad to present the list of titles suggested to the book committee and consider your wants.

The Rotunda table also contains an interesting collection of publishers' announcements, new magazines, lists of new bulletins, etc.

Although the rise in the cost of paper necessitates our purchasing some of the much-read dailies, you will find that we have not cut down the list. However, it may be necessary to drop some of the periodicals. A few have decreased in standing and others are not read by enough people to warrant the purchase.

DAIRY LABORATORY MANUAL AND NOTE BOOK—By Prof. E. L. Anthony. 15 illustrations. 72 pages. $vo. $0.60.

Among the new ideas that have been advanced for making student's notes of greater permanent value many find expression in Professor E. L. Anthony's "Dairy Laboratory Manual and Note Book." The manual contains complete directions for performing about forty exercises in the dairy laboratory as well as forms for the student to use to record the data and observations of each exercise. The book contains a splendid chapter on Dairy Rules and a section devoted to practical dairy arithmetical problems. Fully illustrated and attractively bound, the manual marks a distinct advance in methods of note keeping.

these camps, not merely to give physical relief, nor to administer charity, but to give to the prisoners a word of hope, encouragement, and cheer by organizing their life in such ways as to help them occupy themselves both in mind and body and thus solve the problem of the long weary days and nights.

A Work of Statesmanship
Just what will be the result of this splendid program of service to these six millions of men, no one can state, but it may well be predicted that through this expression of American college men and women (for the women are fully as active in providing aid for this work as are the men) hundreds of thousands of the future leaders in the new Europe will be won to the great principle of the brotherhood of men and peace among nations.

American student bodies in the colleges both East and West are sending offerings that bespeak their concern for the welfare of their European brothers. The Colleges of Wisconsin, Iowa, and Illinois are sending offerings that amount on an average to ten dollars per student. The students of the South Dakota Colleges are sending offerings this week of an amount written in four figures. In the United States more than a quarter of a million dollars will go forth to help carry this work to the ten thousand prison camps of Europe. Most of this will be given by men and women students who, in order to give, have scratched from the list of expenses, which they formerly thought necessary, one or more items, and sent their equivalent in money as a part of their college's offering. A. C. men and women and North Dakota students at the University will also join in this nation wide expression to the students of war-stricken Europe.

HIGH SCHOOL.

All boys in the high school are invited by Hesperia to attend the meeting of the society on Friday evening at eight o'clock. The meeting is to be held in the Hayloft. This is on the third floor of the Administration building.

Irate principal: "My boy, I have, fooled with you long enough. My patience is exhausted. I shall go and see your mother this evening about you."

Wayward student: "I wouldn't, if I were you. Dad's waiting with a shotgun for the man that comes to see mother."

Several of the high school boys were husking corn for the college Saturday morning. It is delightful when a bunch of the fellows can get together and have such a sociable time.

Has your class organized? Some students have spoken about having a high school entertainment of some kind soon. Then the majority may not care about it. Let's get together in class meetings and find out where our classmates stand on the different propositions that will soon be up to us to decide.

Another fellow thought it would be good to have a football game with the freshmen and juniors against the sophomores and seniors. His plan was not to practice for it, more than a night or so to learn a few signals. No football tog would be necessary, old clothes filling the bill well enough. It struck those who heard it as an easy stunt with a good bit of fun in it.

Our Diet.

One fundamental principle is that he diet, considered for any reasonable length of time, must supply a great variety of chemical substances combined in different ways for the "structural" needs of the body, and also must supply it with energy-yielding substances with which it may perform internal and external work. It seems apparent that a varied diet, reasonably generous in amount, is more likely to meet the body needs than one restricted or unvarying in its make-up or scant in quantity.

Explaining Ingratitude.

The general cry is against ingratitude, but the complaint is misplaced; it should be against vanity; none but direct villains are capable of willful ingratitude; but almost everybody is capable of thinking he hath done more than another deserves, while the other thinks he hath received less than he deserves.—Pope.

DEAN RECEIVES RECOGNITION.

Professor Bolley Reminded of Football Days.

Receives Season Ticket for All Games.

Dean Bolley has received a communication from the Department of Physical Education, Purdue University, transmitting with it a book of season tickets admitting holder to all games played by the University, the same accompanied by a neat, gold enameled pin bearing the letter "P." The letter contains the following sentence: "This coupon book and the little letter is presented to you in recognition of your devotion to the University and your past service as an athlete. The University hopes that you will use the book as often as possible." Professor Bolley does not expect to be able to attend any of the games this year. He is, however, particularly pleased to receive this thoughtful reminder of his football days at the University where he was one of the original organizers of the Purdue First Football Team, the first team to organize for the present form of game west of the Allegheny Mountains.

Professor Bolley played four full years on the team, two years as end, two years as quarterback and one year as quarterback and captain. In those days they were not in the habit of giving any sweaters or any blankets or an letters—all the boys ever got was a good scolding now and then from a Harvard coach or a Yale coach as the case might be. As for their suits, they bought them complete including sweaters and all the necessary equipment and were only too glad to do so in order to stand for a place on the team. So while the letter did not come in the old days Professor Bolley is particularly pleased to receive this recognition at this time.

Great Cross-Country Race.

Last Saturday morning occurred the great cross-country race, from Fargo to Amenia. The only entries were Thorf, the notorious yeggman and Fjord, Speed Thomas and his Lizzie, and a professional jitney driver with a broken down Rambler. The Farm Management class was carried as ballast. Altho scheduled to start at eight, the race was not on until 9:30. The Yegg got away for a three mile start when the judge wasn't looking. Speed Thomas was handicapped by engine trouble and did not get going until the professional jitney driver was half a mile away. Seven miles out of Fargo the Rambler started rambling around in circles and Speed Demon Thomas passed it in a cloud of dust. Three miles from Casselton Lizzie coughed and fainted dead away. The supple-spined Rambler came up from behind, ran a circle around Lizzie, and darted off for Amenia. A dash of water in the face brought Lizzie back to earth, and she picked up her skirts and hiked, finishing second to the Yeggman. In spite of all this excitement, no arrests were made for exceeding the speed limit.

U. N. D. DEFEATS MACALESTER

Wins Rough Contest by One Touchdown.

In one of the roughest football games ever staged in North Dakota the University succeeded in defeating Macalester at Grand Forks on Saturday.

The only score came in the third quarter when apass from McKay to Helmky, placed the ball on its way to the goal. McCarty and Fingerson took the ball the rest of the way and Helmky kicked goal.

The game was marred by roughness. It had the characteristics of a combined prize fight and wrestling match. Robertson of Macalester had a leg broken, Himmler had three ribs smashed, and Fingerson sustained a sprained ankle.

This is the first game played by these two teams for five years.

Two Hundred Rooters to Forks

STUDENT SPECIAL AN ASSURED FACT—MUCH SUPPORT NEEDED ON PART OF STUDENTS.—BAND WILL BE CHIEF PEP PRODUCER ON COMING TRIP.

At the commission meeting last Monday evening definite arrangements for the Grand Forks special which will convey the Aggie and Fargo rooters to the U game were completed. In order to insure a complete success of the special it will be necessary that approximately two hundred rooters accompany the train on its journey north. A special car will be set in for the down town rooters and it is possible that the band will have a special car for their instruments and other luggage.

An advance agent will go to the Forks on Friday evening to arrange for hotel and other details for the bunch while in the up state town. If satisfactory arrangements can be made at one of the hotels the entire body will march directly to the hotel where they will make headquarters for the day.

The train will leave Fargo on the G. N. R. R. at 7:45, Saturday, arriving at the Forks about 10:30. Dinner will be served promptly at 12:15 and a mass meeting or rally will be held in the dining room immediately after dinner. The game starts at 2:30 so there will not be much time after dinner to get someone in.

Second Team Notice.

Football practise is still set for 3:30 on every day. Coach is lining up some games for the second team but was very much surprised last week when he couldn't find the scrubs.

There will be a game with the University second team on November 4. Valey City Normal, Moorhead Normal, Fargo High, and Moorhead High may also be played if enough men to make a team show up.

There are now plenty of uniforms for everyone.
The first team needs a strong second team to buck up against every night. A strong second team means a strong first team. There is five times as much fun in a scrimmage as there is in watching it from the sidelines. Come out and enjoy the fun! Its free!

N. D. A. C. vs. Michigan Aggies.

BIG GAME BETWEEN TWO TEAMS TO BE PLAYED AT E. LANSING.

Next Saturday, the relative strength of the N. D. A. C. and the Michigan Aggies will be determined by a contest to be played at East Lansing, Mich. Michigan lost its first game of the season on Saturday when they were defeated by Michigan University, 9-0. Our team is anticipating a real battle when they meet the Wolverines next week and are busily engaged in perfecting their plays.

The team will leave over the N. P. on Thursday and will be gone until the following Monday. This will be one of the longest trips ever taken by a football team of any school in the state.

Fargo College Wins From Wahpeton.

Fargo College succeeded in winning from Wahpeton Science by a score of 14-6. The wonderful work of Simms on both the offensive and the defensive work was the feature of the game. Too much off side play prevented the totalling of a large score for the boys from the hill. Penalties aggregated over 200 yards were placed against them on the most of these were for offside. The team showed a little improvement over the preceding games.

Very Ancient British Grave.
An ancient British stone-flagged grave has been discovered near Greenlaw, Scotland, consisting of four large, flat stones. It contained only a little fine dust. The dimensions indicate that it belongs to the period when men were buried in a sitting position.

List Ye Seniors to the Voice Of The Dead.

Four whole weeks we, the class of '18, have waited patiently for the would-be-illustrious class of '17 to show some of the ordinary signs of life. At last it has come like an amoeba striking blindly towards some imaginary enemy, the blustering class of '17 has launched forth a challenge. O SENIORS, you spoke too SOON and too LOUD for the class of '18 had not yet been buried.

Hark ye! O SENIORS, and tremble as you hear. THE MIGHTY JUNIORS do hereby accept your challenge to a game of football, terms to be arranged by a joint committee consisting of two members from each of the interested classes.

We trust, O CLASS OF '17, that you will be one of the interested parties even after ye have heard the voice of the Dead.

EXCELLENT PARTY GIVEN BY FRESHIES.

Sophs and Spectrum Staff Well Entertained.

To the class of 1920 must be given the credit, which is their due, for providing a most entertaining and enjoyable party Saturday night. The decorations, carried out in black and red were simple and effective.

A well organized program consisting of piano and vocal solos, reading and quartet selections provided entertainment from eight until nine o'clock. There then appeared upon the stage a big bass drum and several accompanying instruments and performers. A program dance carried out in a gay and youthful manner proved the popular mode of entertainment. Dancing continued until 11:30 after which little cakes and ice cream miraculously disappeared from behind the table.

The freshies proved to themselves, the sophs and the Spectrum staff that the class of '20 has not only school spirit but "class pep" and individuality. These were the distinguishing features of the entertainment and the genial atmosphere will not readily be forgotten.

The patrons and patronesses were Dean and Mrs. Bolley, Dean and Mrs. Keene.

What Others Say

A great amount of excitement has been caused in newspaper life in America by the advent in the war zone of what has been termed a "tank." This new instrument of warfare has been likened to an immense caterpillar which is able to smash through forests, creep over breastworks, trenches, and shell craters, and one writer has stated that, were it headed toward the Flat-iron building of New York it would pass thru this building without suffering any impediment to its progress. The best picture of this formidable instrument of war that we have yet seen was recently published on the front page of a local newspaper. The cut for this picture was evidently obtained from a photograph and without doubt is a correct description of the "tank." However, we are somewhat sceptical regarding the authenticity of the dimensions given in connection with the picture. According to the dimensions given, the British have a steel fort as high as a small elevator and about five or six times as long. This is mounted upon wheels which lay their own track before them as the contrivance moves along. It furnishes its own power for propulsion.

The truth of the matter is, however, that it is nothing more or less than the Holt Caterpillar farm tractor with a tank shaped steel protective covering over it. Now we have seen some mighty big caterpillar tractors but nothing as large as has been described. The track has been described as being of such a size that were an ordinary sized man to stand up beside it he would reach but half way to its top. We have seen about as large caterpillar tractors as are made but if one of these machines was to bump into the Flat-iron building we should just as soon be in the building as on the tractor. And that track. The largest we ever saw was of just sufficient height so that a fellow could stand up beside it, rest his elbow on the top, cup his chin in his palm, and be in a comfortable position to swap yarns. Of course one of these machines would probably look mighty big to a fellow in front of it, especially if its equipment of rapid-fire guns was all going at full blast, but, as to its reported immensity, well, we are from Missouri.

Objected to Common Term.
"Billingsgate" is an accepted term for vituperative language. A speaker in a political club wished to vary this expression in chiding an opponent, and criticized him for using "fishmarket language." Thereupon another member rose and protested against this phrase. "I have been a fish dealer for thirty years," he said, "and have never heard any bad language used in my business. The fish business is a respectable one, and should not be the subject of a slur."
